

Big Enrollment Anticipated In All 4-H Clubs

The 4-H Club enrollment in Knox County for the club boys has all indications of being greater than any other previous year, according to R. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

To date a total of 235 boys have signed up for 4-H activities. Dunkle predicted that the present success of all 4-H Club members feeding beef calves will stimulate membership considerably since the eight boys showing calves at Wichita Falls won $334.43 in premiums and sold their calves for $2,771.50 making a total of $3,106.93.

The other activities for 1946 are the planting of new varieties of combine grain sorghum seed, of which has been secured from an Experiment Station at Manhattan, Kansas. This new variety is known as Midland, and is particularly well adapted to climatic conditions in this area, according to J. R. Quinby, Superintendent of Chilled-to-the Experiment Station. 4-H Club members of Knox County have been instrumental in developing and increasing the more desirable varieties of grain sorghums into the County in the previous years. These new varieties included Bonite, Early Hegari, Chinch Bug Resistant Milo, which have proven very desirable and high yielders for Knox County.

4-H Club members increasing these varieties have sold seed into 27 different states and even into the Dominion of Canada.

The 4-H Club members will also introduce a new variety of black-eyed peas this year, which have proven, by the Experiment Stations, to be a stringless, high yielding variety, known as the Early Wilt Resistant, Ramshorn. Enough of the black-eyed pea seed has been secured to distribute to about fifteen 4-H club members in the county, who will distribute this seed within their communities next year, if this variety proves to be satisfactory.

The new variety of combine grain sorghum and black-eyed pea seed will be distributed to the 4-H club members at the next regular club meetings, which will begin on schedule March 18 through the 22nd.

A schedule of the club meetings are as follows: Monday, March 18th.—Munday, Rhineland and Vera; Wednesday, March 20th.—Truscott, Gilliland and Benjamin. Thursday, March 21st.—Goree, Union Goree and Sunset; Friday, March 22nd.—Knox City.

Cub Scouts Hold Pow-Wow, Training School Monday

An interesting meeting of the Cub Scouts was held last Monday night when a pow-wow and training school was held.

This meeting was under the direction of Mr. Baker of Seymour, area field executive, who instructed the boys on how to use their hands and ability in useful projects. This also proved to be an instructive and constructive program for den mothers and den chiefs, as well as the Cub Scouts.

Local Scout leaders are urging parents to lend their cooperation to this movement. Encourage the boys in their scout work in the home and keep posted on the accomplishments they are making.

After his discharge, he returned to his former position at the Graham Mill and Elevator Co.

"I feel that I am well qualified to make the citizens of Knox County a good tax assessor and collector," Bumpas said when making his announcement, "and I am seeking election solely upon my merits and ability."

"If elected to this office, I will be found doing my best to perform the duties in a courteous and efficient manner, and I earnestly solicit your consideration, vote and influence in the coming election."

"You'll see yourself, your friends and loved ones 20 years ago," Mr. Williams said. "You'll see all the school kids who are not school kids any more. You'll see the latest in ladies hats. You'll see some people who are not with us any more."

"Of course, if you are not 25 or 30 years old, you will not remember anything about Munday in those good old days, but you'll see your mother and dad when they were kids."

"Mothers and fathers will enjoy it, and so will the kids! This will be shown with our regular program at no extra cost in admission."

Patterson Out For Another Term As Knox Judge

The Munday Times is authorized this week to place the name of J. C. Patterson, present County Judge, in its columns as a candidate to succeed himself to that position.

"Carl", as he is known, needs no introduction to the voters of the County and he still prefers to be called by his first name, as he says, "I feel like a person knows me, when he calls me by my first name" and in talking with him about his announcement, he further stated, "That when I first offered myself as a candidate for County Judge, I told the folks that I would be found working at the job and that promise has been kept, as was evidenced by untiring work of the judge during the emergency rationing program."

Judge Patterson has been an untiring worker on the "farm-to-market" road system of the County, as well as other improvements for the betterment of the County, and has been very cooperative with the other organizations of the County in seeking worthwhile projects for Knox County.

The Judge asks your support on his past record as an official, and pledges himself to "let no stones be unturned" until the proposals which have been approved by the State Highway Department are completed.

"I will try to see as many voters as possible," stated Judge Patterson, "but in case I should fail to see you personally, I ask your support in the coming primaries, and assure you that it will be my desire to carry on the things that have been started which are incomplete at the present time."

Personnel from the tax collector's office in Benjamin will be here all day next Saturday for the purpose of issuing car license tags for 1946. Seeing Eye Dog Of Runt Ledbetter Dies In Ft. Worth

Word comes from Fort Worth that J. C. (Runt) Ledbetter and his seeing eye dog—once familiar sights on the streets of Munday—are no more, for Runt has again lost his "eyes."

The dog which guided Runt's footsteps for several years, died of a glandular ailment at Fort Worth, and she is a big loss to her master. She had been the "seeing part" of Runt's life for almost seven years.

Runt expects to go back to the Seeing Eye Institute as soon as he can and there become owner of another seeing eye dog.

Clover Being Planted As Help To County Soil

Hubam and Madrid Clover is being planted in the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District this year. Fifty acres have already been planted in several conservation groups in different parts of the district as a part of a coordinated conservation program.

Hubam and Madrid Clovers are good soil improving and grazing crops and as well as a good cash crop. Clover seed is scarce and hard to buy at this time due to its popularity in other sections of Texas. Trial plantings of these clovers in the League Ranch last year showed considerable promise and additional plantings are made this year.

Several farmers cooperating in the district program are planting Weeping Love Grass at this time. Love Grass has proved exceptionally good in this locality. Approximately 200 acres will be planted this year by farmers in various conservation groups.

The Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District assisted by the Soil Conservation Service technicians are helping farmers get these soil building and grazing crops started.

"TAKE IT EASY"

Smith-Doxey Cotton Service To Be Offered

COLLEGE STATION. — Free cotton classification and market news service as provided under the Smith-Doxey Act will again be available to organized cotton improvement groups in Texas, John L. McCollum, southwest area cotton branch manager, USDA Production and Marketing Administration, Dallas, has announced.

Applications for the service should be filed as soon as all members of the group have planted their cotton but not later than July 1 for counties lying entirely or for the most part east of the 100th meridian and July 15 for those entirely or for the most part west of the 100th meridian, F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, has pointed out.

The 100th meridian passes between Sweetwater and Abilene and a little to the east of Childress, San Angelo and Eagle Pass.

Instructions and applications blanks may be obtained from county agricultural agents or from PMA branch cotton offices at Abilene, Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Galveston and Lubbock.

Applications will be processed and approved by a committee headed by Mr. Lichte and the classification and market news service will be provided by PMA. Since about 15 days are required to process applications after they are received, early filing by groups well in advance is required. Late applications, however, will be accepted until August 1 from the East Texas area and until August 15 from West Texas.

About 45 per cent of the 1945-47 cotton crop for Texas was classed under the Smith-Doxey program for 1,055 groups made up of 95,773 farmers who planted 4,844,658 acres, Mr. McCollum said. This compares with 55 groups, 1,754 farmers and 89,433 acres during 1938, the first season the service became available.

IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST

The importance of cotton in the American economy has never been more apparent than at those times when cotton's future seemed blackest and when cotton farmers gave serious thought to entering the competition for livestock and grain markets.

Today the cotton situation presents brighter aspects than at any time in history insofar as the rest of the country is concerned. New cotton markets, undreamed of a few short years ago, are fast becoming realities because of accelerated activities in exploring the potentialities of the versatile white fiber and the cottonseed.

Through the National Cotton Council and other agencies, research and sound promotion activities have been undertaken that are creating new cotton products and consumer acceptance for them.

Flameproof cotton insulation material, stain-end-waterproof plastic coated cotton fabrics, unspun and non-woven cotton cloth are new uses which offer markets to more than a million bales of cotton a year.

Although the uses mentioned above are only a starter, they are indicative of what can be done with and for cotton. If through these and other new uses, the cotton farmer can find an adequate market for his cotton, he will cease to constitute a serious threat to farmers in other states whose crops he can produce abundantly and at low costs.

The cotton farmer and the entire cotton industry should be applauded and encouraged in their aggressive program of research and sales promotion. The continued success of this program is of vital national interest.

A WEEK TO REMEMBER

Today the world is face to face with mankind's worst enemy—hate, says the Laymen's National Committee, in outlining its program for National Sunday School Week, April 8 to 14. "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Prov. 22:6.

In seeking the widest possible support for Sunday School Week, the Committee has asked the President of the United States and the governors of each state to cooperate in some appropriate manner. Mayors throughout the country will be asked to pay tribute in 15-minute radio addresses. One or more feature radio programs participated in by outstanding talent, are contemplated. Chambers of Commerce will be asked to display the National Sunday School Week posters in cities throughout the land. The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls assist. Editors, columnists and commentators aid in the national movement, while many corporations help create interest through their radio programs. Ministers, fraternal and service organizations and feature writers will seek to popularize this worthy cause and urge parents to encourage their children to attend Sunday School during National Sunday School Week.

While such an occasion is not a cure-all for current disregard of Christian principles, by many adults as well as children, it is a step in the direction of tolerance and good will toward all mankind. Never in the history of the world was it so important that every individual accept his responsibility for making the future in which we must live, better instead of worse. Sunday School Week is a place to start.

Then there was a sailor who got stuck on a bar and it took four MP's to get him home.

HELP THEM TO LIVE

Persons over 65 and under five years of age account for nearly three-fourths of the accidental deaths in the home every year! Two out of three killed in this group are people who are past the 65-mark.

From these figures, declares the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives; it is obvious that infants receive more care at home than do the old folks. And it must also be clear to all of us that grandma's and grandpa's have many of the physical handicaps characteristic of age, and that they certainly need as much surveillance and care as we give the little tots.

Many of us who avoid accidents will grow old one day, and we should practice some of the safety measures now that may protect us later.

GIVE, OR ELSE

One of the most difficult jobs is to show how all of us, whether we work in factory, field or office—whether we are presidents of corporation or unknown hands on a production line—have almost a life and death interest in who bosses basic industries. The kind of government we live under is determined by the answer to this question. If government owns and runs industry, it will eventually own and run the people. Economic security will hinge on the brand of the individual's politics.

Amid the controversy over the resignation of Interior Secretary Ickes, a news commentator noted that Ickes was not in the good graces of Administration political leaders because he had not "played ball" in the collection of campaign contributions from the employes in his department. For this he should be commended. It was reported that "other departments" much "kicked in" $20,000 to $30,000.

Here is a minute sample of what government in business would mean. Suppose the leaders of the Democratic or Republican party could go to five hundred thousand coal miners, a couple of million transportation employes, hundreds of thousands in the oil industry, and other millions in other basic industries, and say, "give, or else," which would be done under government ownership. It would simply mean that the party in power would stay there, entrenching itself and growing more corrupt and ruthless as the years went by. Utter, political oppression would come to the people in the end.

Such tragedy must not happen in this country. Our people must remain independent to express their opinions at election time. To do that, they must keep American industry free of political domination, not for its sake, but for their own.

We could eat olives until we looked like a sting of bees.

Grandad's Tub Safer Than Modern Bath

One of the diarists in Queen Elizabeth's time wrote: "The Queen hath built herself a bath where she doth bathe herself once a month, whether she requires it or no."

Although the old Romans and Greeks rivalled Hollywood in the size of their swimming pools which they called "baths," it appears that the society folks of the Elizabethan era were not overly concerned with what even their best friends accepted in polite silence.

We have come a long way in personal hygiene since that time, and the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives, warns that the modern bathroom is one of the most dangerous rooms in the most dangerous place of all—the home.

Three contributory factors, frequent usage, dangerous equipment, and complete privacy, give full play to accident occurrence in the bathroom.

A few of the most common hazards lurking in the bathroom which kill and injure people each year include electric shock due to the high conductivity of water, poisons from the medicine chest, falls on slippery surfaces.

Safety specialists advise: Keep your hands off electric fixtures while bathing, keep lethal medicines under lock and key, use a rubber mat to prevent skidding in the tub.

GAS

Overwhelming choice for running modern kitchen

This decided preference is not surprising when one considers the homemaker prepares in one year about 1,000 meals. This represents at least 1,500 hours' work in her kitchen. So she has reason for some pretty definite ideas. She demands efficiency, speed, comfort, beauty and economy. She knows from experience gas meets her requirements. These are some of her actual statements: "I like gas for refrigeration . . . it's much quieter." "I'd rather have a gas range than any other kind." "Gas equipment is inexpensive to run . . . but I'd insist on it at any price because it works so much better."

Kitchen for Outdoor-Indoor House

This New Freedom Gas Kitchen design features a special "quick service" window for sending food to patio. It is called "indoor-outdoor" kitchen because it adapts itself to service in the dining room, too. It's a kitchen that can turn out big meals with little effort on owner's part. Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., March 8.—After about two years of study, the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress made its report to the Congress this week. As usual, the meat of the report is contained in the recommendations. None of these recommendations become effective, however, unless bills or resolutions in pursuance thereof are introduced and approved by one or both houses of the Congress, depending on whether the provisions of the resolutions are applicable to one or both houses.

Among other things, the Joint Committee recommended that the Senate's 33 standing committees be reorganized into 16, and that the 48 standing committees of the House be reorganized into 18. It further was recommended that House and Senate rules define clearly the jurisdiction of each reorganized committee so as to avoid overlapping and duplication and conflicts of jurisdiction. Committee chairmen would be required to report promptly all bills approved by the Committee, and seek a rule to bring them to the floor for consideration. Committees would be authorized to employ four staff experts in its special province, and such employees would not be dismissed for political reasons, under the recommendations.

Better budgetary and fiscal controls were recommended, through changes in the procedure of the appropriations committees, discontinuance of indefinite appropriations, discontinuance of the transfer of funds between agencies and departments, etc.

One important recommendation was that the Congress provide for a regular recess period at the close of each fiscal year, to insure the regular recess period at the close of each fiscal year, to insure the return of Members to their constituencies at definite intervals each year. A good many years ago the Congress was in recess several months each year, and Representatives and Senators could return to their homes, see their constituents, and learn their views and opinions at first hand. For the past several years the Congress has been in almost constant session, recessing only for very short periods which have not allowed the Members much time to be in their districts.

Like any other activity or business, the Congress can work more effectively if its flow of work goes smoothly, and it has proper equipment and personnel with which to perform its duties. It must be remembered that the executive departments and bureaus spend more on their publicity and public relations sections than it costs the nation to maintain the entire legislative branch of the government.

According to Army figures, over 750,000 returning veterans want to be farmers when they get out of uniform. The U. S. Bureau of Reclamation is now prepared to tell them where to go—out West. Some reclaimed land in the western states will be irrigated, and some 100,000 farms thus created. Some of these farms eventually can be had free by those meeting homesteading requirements, as they will be on public lands.

Veterans will get preference, with two years' war service counting toward the three-year residence which is required for establishing the homestead ownership. Only a few farms will be ready for occupancy this year, more in 1947, and still more later. The farms expected to be opened this fall will be in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, and Wyoming. Among other things, homestead applicants must show they have enough cash, machinery, livestock, or other assets to have a chance for success.

Washington this week has had a great many Texas visitors, many of them stopping here on their way to and from the National REA meeting in Buffalo, New York. One of these men told me he got in a taxicab in Buffalo, told the driver to take him to the particular hotel where the meeting was being held. The driver asked if he was from Texas, and receiving an affirmative reply remarked, "There certainly is a crowd at that Texas meeting." Actually every state in the nation was represented.

Among the Texans who visited my office this week were Mr. C. C. Freeling of Oklahoma, Mr. T. E. Craddock of Seymour, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schoolcraft of Vernon.

Attention Farmers!

We now have 3, 4, and 5-row stalk cutters built and equipped with 30 inch blades at $25.00 per reel.

Due to the steel strikes, scarcity of steel and advance prices on all future shipments when available, they will be considerably higher.

Therefore, if you are contemplating needing a stalk cutter you had better act now, while you can still take advantage of the old prices.

We do blacksmithing, electric and acetylene welding, also disc sharpening.

We are using old pre-war grader blades for pointing your points since the regular pointing steel contains no tungsten metal and incidentally I have a blacksmith that knows his stuff and how to make them last you much longer.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

TED: "Clem and I were wonderin' what you thought of that new movie about the chronic alcoholic, Judge. Understand you saw it before we did."

OLD JUDGE: "Well... it's true most of us never see a case as extreme as that in real life because they are so few and far between. But it does point out one thing... chronic alcoholics are abnormal people and we've got to change our ideas about how to help them."

CLEM: "In what way, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "We've got to realize that excessive drinkers are suffering from more than a craving for alcohol. According to psychiatrists and medical men at one of our great universities, the alcoholic is a sick person. The study of hundreds of cases shows he is suffering from some physical, social or emotional condition... just as in the case of that poor chap in the picture. Fortunately, they represent only a very small percentage of those who drink."

TED: "Is anything being done to really help these folks, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Yes... a great deal in clinics throughout the country. And with the cooperation of the beverage distillers who sincerely want their product used only in moderation."

More Sugar To Be Produced Due To Research

More sugar will be produced in the United States in 1946 and subsequent years, and production of domestic sugar will be more efficient and economical, all as the result of research conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture during the past year.

The research, as summed up for us by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, has dealt with four different fields of sugar production:

One, controlling weeds that interfere with the sugar cane plants. Use of 2-4-D in controlled amounts cut down the vigor of alligator weed but did not harm the cane. Flaming was necessary to control Jonsson grass.

Two, developing improved varieties of sugar beets. One new variety, improved U. S. Number 22, is resistant to curly-top disease and is adapted to the Lubbock-Plainview area of Texas.

Three, the application of hybrid vigor to sugar beets. Scientists have whipped the problem of producing beets with the male-sterility factor and this makes possible the production of hybrid seed. Sugar beet producers may soon be able to make use of hybrid vigor just as growers of two-thirds of the corn crop are already doing.

And four, . . . and of especial interest to South and East Texas farmers, . . . the development of sorghums of large size and high sugar content. New kinds of sweet sorghums have been collected in Ethiopia and India and are now being tested and improved. USDA scientists hope some day to be able to announce a variety of sugar sorghum which will take its place with sugar cane and the sugar beet.

UNRRA Sends Nails To The Finns To Nail Down War-Ruin Of Nazis

HELSINKI.—It's still true. For want of a nail, a kingdom can be lost.

Finland today needs millions of nails—500 tons of nails for buildings and boats. To make rapid rehabilitation of the country possible, UNRRA will supply them.

In Finnish Lapland, where the Nazis left a broad trail of destruction, the principal means of transportation is the rowboat. Long water routes are the arteries of traffic in Lapland—everyone must travel along them and everything must be transported by boat. Every village has its boat-makers and raw materials, but no nails. Meanwhile, to provide overland transportation in Lapland, UNRRA is shipping 100 new trucks procured from the United Kingdom.

Lack of nails has also impeded the building of even temporary shelters, which are urgently needed to replace the 20,000 structures destroyed by the war. Before the erection of buildings can even begin, the 500 tons of building nails are needed.

UNRRA's limited program of $2,500,000 for Finland is designed to bring aid to Lapland and surrounding areas of northern Finland, where most of the devastation is concentrated. After concluding an Armistice Agreement with Great Britain and the Soviet Union, Finland engaged in intense warfare with the Nazis, who carried out the most ruthless destruction of the entire northern countryside.

Almost the entire 180,000 population of Lapland had to be evacuated to Sweden and to southern part of Finland. Most of these have been returned home and are busy rebuilding their country. A major part of the UNRRA program involves welfare services and basic building materials for these people.

Special courses for a group of 10 Latin-American school teachers being sent to the United States by their governments will be offered at the University of Texas for six weeks beginning Feb. 4. Ralph Long, assistant professor of educational psychology, has announced. Courses will be offered in English, American history and literature. The program is sponsored by the United States' State Department, and the Office of Education.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer
of Texas

Austin, Texas.—That the inclusion of proper foods in the daily diet plays a very important part in the maintenance of good health was stressed in a statement issued this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"One of the most dreaded of all diseases, pellagra, is caused entirely by not eating the kinds of food which would insure a properly balanced diet," Dr. Cox said. "The public is prone to overlook the serious nature of pellagra. At best it is an uncomfortable and unpleasant disease, but aside from this, there is one possible result that can be very tragic. All too frequently pellagra leads to serious mental disturbances," Dr. Cox warned, "and in some cases, actual insanity."

According to the State Health Officer, pellagra is known as a disease which is no respecter of persons. There is danger of pellagra striking at any age and either sex when the diet is consistently faulty.

To make sure that the diet contains the proper pellagra preventive elements, it should include daily plenty of pure milk, some fresh, lean meats, and as many fresh vegetables, especially green vegetables, as possible. Tomatoes and whole wheat bread are also very valuable and eggs contribute their share to pellagra prevention, as do all varieties of fresh fruits.

Joel Morrow underwent a major operation at a Wichita Falls hospital the first of last week, and has been very ill for several days. Reports from his bedside this week are to the effect that he is improving.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and crowd granular phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

Aged Assistance Costs Taxpayers

Old-age assistance in Texas this year will cost State taxpayers nearly three times as much as the "ceiling" predicted by sponsors of the aid plan when it passed the Legislature in 1935, the Texas Research Institute points out in a report issued this week.

The report is a factual study of the cost of ten years of old-age assistance in Texas.

When the first pension law was enacted, its sponsors said annual payments would not exceed $9,000,000 from State funds. This year, the Institute points out, the aged people of Texas will receive $25,400,000 from State funds.

Total cost to State taxpayers of ten years of old-age assistance has been, in round figures, $155,000,000 the report declares. The cost has skyrocketed, according to the Research Institute, because the original idea of old-age assistance has been transformed into a system of old-age pensions. The policy of "granting assistance to people who are not needy has resulted in less funds for those who are in need," the Institute states.

Figures show that 452 out of every 1,000 Texans sixty-five or older are receiving assistance, while the national average is but 210.

Misses Frances Yates, Jean Herring and Joanne Parks of Wichita Falls spent the week end visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Yates of Goree. They were present for the family gathering in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hill Allen on Sunday, March 10.

MOM'S BACK IN THE KITCHEN

Yes, she's back at her old job of home-making—that 24-hour-a-day job with no overtime pay.

Mom learned a lot about electric service during the war. She found that stitching up a cruiser and stitching up a curtain are both done more easily and quickly when electricity lends a hand.

And when home-making had to be sandwiched in after war-plant hours, Mom learned that the touch of a finger-tip brought her a dozen willing servants for the cost of a candy bar.

Mom's back in the kitchen. And electric service—always ready, dependable and cheap—is there with her, making her tasks easier, her life more comfortable. Service like that just doesn't happen. It takes hard work and good business management. The men and women in Mom's electric company—and yours, too—make it possible.

Homemaking Girls, F. F. A. Boys Make Trip to Fort Worth Fat Stock Show

Last Friday at noon, the homemaking girls departed for Fort Worth in one of the school buses. The girls were happy, thrilled and excited at the opportunity to visit the fat stock show.

Our destination reached, we unpacked our bags and went to a nearby cafe to eat. Leaving there, we went to the rodeo grounds, where we sat a three-hour show packed full of excitement. After that we attended the carnival, riding the various kinds of fun and breath-taking equipment. Here we stayed until closing time, when all went to their rooms.

Saturday morning found us up bright and early. Most of the girls walked to town. Some stayed in town to shop, while others shopped and returned to the carnival grounds to try their luck at winning kewpie dolls, canes, pins and pennants.

At 4 p. m., all homemaking girls and F. F. A. boys met at the same place for departure for Munday.

We began our journey home, with our suitcases and all available space on the bus packed full. Many had blisters on their feet, shoe soles worn out, red faces from sunburn, and that tired and exhausted look from so much fun and loss of sleep.

When we arrived in Munday, we found our parents waiting for us. The following girls attended the rodeo and stock show:

Doris Wayne Phillips, Florene Mitchell, Virginia Albertson, Jo Nell Mullican, Marilyn Bowden, Charlotte Williams, Gloria Smith, Carolyn Bowden, Maurice Patterson, Peggy Dee Clough, Martha

Nell Bullington, Ethelena Simpson, Bernice Stubblefield, Geraldine Bogs, LaRue Johnson, Gwyna Lee Smith, Ruth Browning, Marie Stodghill, Virginia Yates, Mary Pearl Massey, Edith Frost, Frances Nance, Marjorie Michalik, Yvonne Morris, Jean Ratliff, Margaret Partridge, F. F. A. Sweethearts, Carolyn Hannah and Frances Hallmark, and the club sponsors, Mrs. Frances Baker.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer
of Texas

Austin. — "Immunization is superior to all other means of communicable disease control because immunity becomes part of oneself and is always there as a defense against certain diseases."

This is the statement of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who adds: "Immunization is the best and most effective means of protection against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox, whooping cough and typhoid fever." According to Dr. Cox the ages that are best for immunization of children are: for diphtheria and tetanus, 9 to 12 months; Schick test, 6 months later, re-immunize if immunity has not been established; smallpox, 6 to 12 months, re-vaccination at 6 to 12 years; whooping cough, 6 to 12 months. Tetanus or lockjaw is not common, however when it does occur it is usually fatal. The tetanus germ gets into cuts, scratches, abrasions, and particularly deep wounds, so that it has always been an important problem of public health as well as military medicine.

Other ways to fight disease are through good sanitation measures. The provision of safe water supplies, the pasteurization of milk, the supervision of food and other precautions have in many communities reduced typhoid fever to a minimum. Isolation and quarantine have their place and are extremely valuable, but none of them has the quality of immunity, of being a part of oneself, and consequently always available.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gafford visited with relatives and friends in Coleman over the week end.

Travis Lee and Winston Blacklock were visitors in Wichita Falls last Sunday.

Jack Mayes and Doris Dickerson were business visitors in Fort Worth last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pendleton and little daughter, Jan, visited with friends in Haskell last Sunday.

Texas University To Offer Course In Creative Arts

Austin.—How can small towns of Texas be made more attractive to the veteran, the recent university graduate, and other young people who want economic happiness and security?

This question will be the basis for serious consideration by young teachers of arts in Texas high schools and colleges this summer, when a two-month course on "Creative Arts in the Community" is held at the University of Texas.

Sponsored by the American Institute of Architects and the Carnegie Foundation, nine $100 scholarships will be awarded to teachers and major students for the course, Hugh L. McMath, associate professor of architecture and chairman of the committee, has announced.

"It is the purpose of this course on 'Arts in the Community' to bring out the natural resources of each community, and to offer guidance to the leaders of the community by making the towns attractive not only physically, but also culturally and economically," Dr. Archie N. Jones, professor of music education and member of the committee, said.

"We are neither promoting nor seeking superficial improvements in towns and communities by superimposing plans and ideas on them," he added. "We want the students who take this course to go back to their communities and be leaders in helping make the basic, fundamental improvements in the town by stimulating the citizens' pride in having such improvements."

"Those taking the course will be given practical, realistic suggestions, and will have an opportunity to hear some of the finest and best known personalities in the arts."

SPREADER ADAPTED FOR SEED SOWING

Plans for a barrel-type lime and phosphate spreader distributed by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service have been modified so that the device can be used as a Bermuda grass seed sower. The adaptation was made by a Franklin county farmer, J. M. Whitten of Route 2, Mount Vernon, under the direction of L. M. Hendley, now Delta County Agricultural agent.

The spreader can be used for distributing as much as five tons of lime per acre.

Frank Overturf of Amarillo, state secretary of the Farmers Union, was here the latter part of last week to attend the Farmers Union meetings at Munday and Rhineland. He visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rice over the week end.

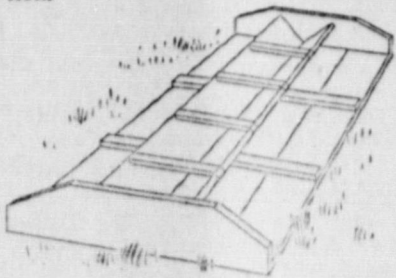

Everett Stunz of San Antonio was here last week and was accompanied home by his wife and little daughter, Judy, who will make their home in San Antonio.

Platform Hog Troughs

If your pigs go after their trough feed with rough and reckless greed, as most good pigs do, you can be pretty sure they are doing their part to increase your income. Watch out for the listless pig with the delicate appetite.

These rough feeding habits, however, do cause difficulties when movable troughs are used. Farmers usually have to stake down the troughs to prevent the pigs from pushing them around. Often it is difficult to remove the stakes and this discourages frequent moving of the troughs to promote sanitation.

Given a choice, hogs prefer cleanliness to filth and mud. Every hog raiser is urged to keep his feeding and housing quarters clean.

The design of a movable trough which is easy to relocate is shown in the illustration. This trough is built with a platform of boards which extends out far enough so that the trough is held in place by the weight of the pigs when they step up to feed or drink. No anchor is necessary. The platform boards are held firmly together by cross braces and by end pieces of board which extend the width of the platform. The trough is of the usual size and construction, with the platform built to fit.

Served Right, Frozen Fruits Retain Flavor

Serving is the important factor in enjoying frozen fruit at its best, says Miss Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Otherwise, loss of flavor texture and shape is apt to result.

First of all, serve it at once with only slight thawing. If the fruit is to be cooked, thaw just enough to separate the pieces. If it is to be served raw, leave it just a little icy.

Thaw just the amount of fruit, you will use at one meal. If this means breaking a package, Miss Lawrence suggests keeping the unused portion well wrapped and frozen and storing it in the freezer.

In the thawing process, leave the fruit in its sealed container if possible. Fresh air destroys fresh flavor. Thawing in the refrigerator takes six to eight hours. Two to three hours should be allowed to thaw at room temperatures. If you wish to speed up the process, place the package in a dish under cool running water and the fruit will thaw in 30 minutes to an hour. Once frozen fruit has been thawed, it should not be re-frozen. Re-freezing decreases the good flavor and robs the fruit of some of its nutritive value, says Miss Lawrence. If you must hold it as a left-over, heat it briefly to prevent further loss to the eating quality and store it cold. Even in the refrigerator it will lose some of its fragrance and flavor.

Miss Ann Atkeison returned home last week from a visit to Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo. She was accompanied home by her sister, Dixie, who has been employed in a Colorado Springs hospital. Dixie will visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Atkeison.

Miss Latrice Parnell of Weatherford spent the week end with her aunt, Miss Jennie Montandon.

Mrs. W. M. Mayo and grandson, Jackie Mayes, visited friends in Weatherford and attended the fat stock show in Fort Worth last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rayburn and little daughter of Knox City visited relatives and friends here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shackelford visited Mrs. Shackelford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, several days last week before leaving to Mr. Shackelford's new job as depot agent in Lockney, Texas.

You aren't getting machinery, Mr. Farmer, because...

have taken the place of

PRODUCTION LINES!

...so don't blame your Implement Dealer!

YOUR implement dealer had planned and expected to have his display floor filled with new implements and tractors weeks ago. And we had planned to make them—had told our dealers and our farmer customers they would have new equipment and plenty of service parts for the 1946 spring work. And we had hoped to sell these machines at no advance in price.

Real Production Had Started

When the war ended, our organization bent every effort to increase production, with the result that in the last months of 1945 machinery was being built in very substantial quantities. Here are a few figures:

ITEM	PRODUCTION
	NOV. 1945	DEC. 1945
Tractors	7,271	7,432
Combines	2,345	2,526
Cultivators	3,482	3,308
Hay Loaders	209	982
Plows	6,185	6,702*

*Plows are made in our Canton and Chilton Works, which are not on strike. January production was 7,747 plows.

Both your dealer and we were encouraged by this production picture at the turn of the year. But the strike changed all that. As you know, the CIO United Farm Equipment & Metal Workers of America called a strike in ten of our plants, on January 21, 1946.

What Is The Strike About?

Wages are a basic issue. At the time of the strike, Harvester employees were among the highest paid workers in American industry. When the strike began, the average hourly earnings in the ten plants, not including overtime, were $1.15½. If present wage proposals are adopted, this figure will become $1.33½ per hour.

When the strike began, negotiations were broken off by the Union on the issue of compulsory union membership. The Company has no desire to weaken the Union. It recognizes certain reasonable needs of the Union. But the Company does oppose compulsory unionism. It feels strongly that an employee's membership should be a matter of his own choice.

Material Costs and Price Relief

Wages and materials are the great costs of operating our business—together they consume all but a few cents of every dollar the Company takes in. Wages are obviously going to be high—and nobody knows just how high material costs will go.

In the face of rising costs of materials, the Company does not see how it can pay the wage increases recommended by a Government fact finding board until it has definite and satisfactory assurance from the Government that reasonable price relief will be granted to the Company within a reasonable period of time. This matter is of such importance that it will not be discussed here, but will be covered by future advertisements devoted to both prices and profits.

Speaking for our dealers and ourselves, we can assure you that no customer is more eager than we are to resume production. We are doing and shall continue to do everything in our power to bring about a fair settlement as soon as possible.

Miss H. Pruitt Is Home Economist For Gas Company

Appointment of Miss Harriet Pruitt as home economist in Lone Star Gas Company's Abilene division of distribution, which includes Munday, has been announced by M. L. Bird, division superintendent. She succeeds Miss Cara Lee Gist who has been assigned similar duties for the gas company in Dallas.

Miss Pruitt will be available for consultation on food preparation and menu planning and she will tell how to receive the most economical use from gas appliances, Mr. Bird said. She will also be a source of information on how to produce balanced meals at minimum cost and will counsel with home builders planning modern kitchens. Her headquarters will be in Wichita Falls.

A native of Itasca, where she graduated from high school, Miss Pruitt attended Hillsboro Junior College and received her degree in home economics from North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. She joined Lone Star Gas Company's home economics department in September, 1944, and prior to that time was head of the home economics department at Seymour High School. She is a member of the Methodist Church. Her hobbies are collecting old coins

Miss Lula Davis of Dallas has been added to the staff of the University of Texas Bureau of Industrial and Business Extension Training, James R. D. Eddy, director, has announced. Miss Davis will conduct training courses for employees and owners of Texas restaurants, working in cooperation with the Association of Restaurants and Cafes of Texas, and the State Board of Vocational Education.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Eiland returned home last week from Lamona, where they visited with relatives for about three weeks.

A Want Ad in The Times Pays

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

"Pioneers" by Rose Jasper Nickell of Lubbock:
Say you can't see nothin', stranger, in these vast an' rollin' plains?
Just a mess a' flattened country that you're pleased to call remain?"

Well, now that's just your opinion based on what you think is true:
But it ain't the way I see it; every day there's something new.

It's a big, big country, stranger, with capricious kind o' ways—Wind an' sand an' "northers" mixed with balmy sunny days.

It's the home of he-men, mark you, sturdy, forward-lookin', tired, An' of strong courageous women standin' bravely by their side.

True, it ain't no soft-like Eden; but I've always found in life

That the things we value great-est, more or less we gain through strife.

An' they strove, these early settlers, strove with drouth an' blizzard-sleet.

But just cast your eyes about you; plain they never knowed defeat.

O, they's down sometimes, I grant you; but you see they did not stay;

If one plan went all "kerfluey" then they tried some other way.

Always workin' uncomplaining' at the heavy load they packed;

In their lonely little dugouts love supplied the things they lacked.

Set the pattern for the future that proved bigger than they knew.

Blazed the trail for high achievement (open roads for me an' you).

So just take your hat off, mister; join me in three rousin' cheers

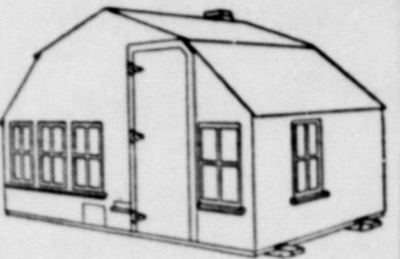

For the folks that made this country, patient fearless Pioneers.

Rat-Proof Brooder Plans
A RAT-PROOF portable brooder house that can be constructed economically with materials that resist weather and wear and afford a high degree of fire protection has won the approval of many poultry raisers. The design may be of interest to the thousands of farmers who are planning new quarters for their chicks.

The plans call for a 7 x 13 foot structure with a gambrel roof, to accommodate about 300 chicks, the maximum number recommended in one brood. The roof, sidewalls and finish floor are made of large sheets of one quarter inch asbestos cement board. This rock-like material cannot burn and will not wear out, rot, rust or corrode. Rats cannot gnaw it. Lumber is used in making the skids, framing and subfloor.

This type of brooder insures a dry, warm, well-ventilated shelter that can be kept sanitary. Asbestos board has a smooth, hard surface which repels water and is easy to hose down. The structure can be moved readily to new ground.

Free copies of the plans may be had by writing to the Asbestos Farm Service Bureau, 221 North LaSalle St., Chicago 1, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Albus, Wanda Reeves, Charles Albus and Alvin Bellinghausen attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth last Monday. Charles Albus and Alvin Bellinghausen reported to Dallas Tuesday morning for induction into the armed forces.

Cattle Brands Of Texas Wanted For Archives

Austin. Books in which cattle brands were first registered in Texas—now no longer in use because of a Legislative act—are being sought by the Texas State Historical Association for preservation in the University of Texas Archives.

Two years ago the legislature voided all existing county brand books, and decreed that all cattle brands must be re-registered in each county by October 1, 1945.

Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, acting director of the Association and an associate professor of history at the University, wrote to county officials asking that the books be sent to the Association for permanent keeping.

Uvalde county has been the first to respond, he reported. Two leather-bound, hand-written books with records dating back to 1856 have been received from County Clerk H. H. Carmichael.

"These books should be kept in the University's archives not only to preserve the historical value, but also to aid in research and study," Dr. Carroll said.

Rain Falls On Monday Night

A light rain, which, although short of what was needed for this area but welcomed by everyone, visited this area last Monday night. Coming after a day of strong winds which moved the sand about considerably at times, are rain served to settle the dust and give needed moisture to crop lands.

Estimates are that around 2 inches more rain is needed for grain crops and to place farm lands in excellent condition for 1946 crops. Records of H. P. Hill, local U. S. weather observer, showed that Munday received 29 inch in Monday night's visitation.

Rainfall this year is nearly an inch short of last year's precipitation, according to Mr. Hill's records.

White's Auto Store To Open

Plans for opening a White's Auto Store in Munday are now under way, and it is expected the store will be opened sometime next week.

The store will be located in the building of Warren's Hardware and Furniture Co., and will be owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren and their daughter, Mrs. Joe Duke.

White's representatives are expected here the first of next week to install fixtures and stock, which were purchased by Mr. Warren this week. A portion of stock of the present firm will be added to the new stock, it was stated.

Much of the present stock needs to be moved out, however, and Mr. Warren stated Tuesday that a special discount of 15 percent is being given on all items now in stock.

Deaton Green of Seymour was here the latter part of last week, visiting with friends and attending to business matters.

HERE FROM UVALDE

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crump of Uvalde, Texas, spent Tuesday evening and Wednesday here, visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner. Mr. Crump is a brother of Mrs. Tiner, and this is the first time they had seen each other in five years.

C. R. Elliott was a business visitor in Stamford last Friday.

Ardelle Spele visited with his family in Wichita Falls over the week end.

Around 2,500,000 new and permanent jobs towards the goal of full employment for the U. S. can be created if the nation carries through an adequate nation-wide forestry program, according to Lyle F. Watts, chief of the U. S. Forest Service. Watt said that at present the nation's forests directly or indirectly provide about 3,750,000 jobs.

Treeless Iceland will some day have extensive forests of Sitka spruce from the Chugach National Forest in Alaska, if plans of the Iceland Forest Service work out. Test plantings have indicated that the species is well suited to Iceland.
