

June Is Promotion Month For U. S. Savings Bonds; Knox Quota $37,500

"Back Your Future" is the self-interest theme of the Treasury Department's June promotion of U. S. Savings Bond sales, which opens today (June 6th), D-Day anniversary, and runs through July 4th.

This is now classed as a bond drive, but a promotion of bond sales to help keep down inflation. It is a drive to inform the public of the importance of buying bonds in order to hold their stake in the government and build a good future. It was stated.

The dollar goal for Texas is 33 million dollars in E Bond sales. Only series E, F and G savings bonds will be available.

The entire effort is centered around three main points: 1. Self interest—you backed the attack, now back your future; 2. An anti-inflationary move; 3. Keep the national debt spread.

Knox County's quota during the Savings Bond promotion period is $37,500.00. It's rather light quota, but everyone is invited to have a part in putting the county over. Invest your money in your government!

Quite a bit of interest is being shown in the school, which is expected to soon be set up for this county.

N. S. Kilgore Announces For District Clerk

N. S. Kilgore, district clerk of Knox County, Wednesday authorized the Munday Times to announce his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary. Mr. Kilgore's statement to the voters follows:

To the voters of Knox County: Inasmuch, as I am not financially able to make an active campaign over the county for the office of District Clerk, I take this method of asking your support in the forthcoming primary.

The office pays a small salary and does not justify the expenditure of the money necessary to make a county-wide campaign. I do not assume, fellow citizens, that because I received the appointment to this office, that I have a preference right to the place—the right to select public officials rests with the sovereign voters of the county. I am familiar with the duties of the office, and during my occupancy of the office, I have been at my desk every day. If you elect me, I shall strive to give you the service which you have a right to expect.

Cordially Yours,
N. S. Kilgore.

Hopper Poison Made Ready For Knox Farmers

The Knox County Commissioners Court through the cooperation of the county agent and the Federal Government have completed arrangements for distribution of poisoned grasshopper bait to farmers in Knox County who are having difficulty with grasshoppers. The bait station will be open at the Benjamin gin, June 3rd.

This grasshopper bait material will be distributed to farmers in quantities needed at the Benjamin gin, which is located 1-2 mile west from the court house.

There will be only a slight cost for the bait and for the syrup and peanut hulls that are added for filler and flavor.

Farmers are cautioned to use extreme care in placing this bait material in fields where it can be reached by livestock. The best method of distribution is by sowing it broadcast; so that each flake of the peanut hulls will fall separately and not in lumps. No losses of livestock has ever been reported where proper distribution was made, and where necessary precaution was used in keeping it in a safe place, not accessible to livestock before distribution in the field.

Mr. D. V. Gilbert, of Benjamin, will be in charge of the local mixing station, and will make a special effort to serve all farmers needing the bait material. Mr. Gilbert may be contacted either at the gin or at the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Simpson of Chandler, Ariz., are here for a visit with Mr. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Simpson, and other relatives.

J. C. Shockey And J. W. Rice Are New Owners of Plant

Announcement was made this week that J. C. Shockey of Baird and J. W. Rice of Austin has purchased the interests of T. E. Kuykendall and Fred Schroeder of Abilene in the Munday Locker Plant, and have taken over management of the plant.

The change was made effective on Saturday, June 1, at which time Mr. and Mrs. Shockey assumed management of the locker plant.

One of the newest and most up-to-date plants in this section, the Munday Locker Plant was established and constructed by Mr. Kuykendall, Mr. Schroeder and J. R. Taylor and was opened here the latter part of last year. About six weeks ago, Taylor sold his interests in the plant to his partners.

Both Kuykendall and Schroeder have expressed their appreciation for the cooperation given by people of this area, both in establishing the plant, and during the time they have been connected with its operation.

The new owners have made a special study of the operation of locker plants, and assure the people of this area that every service will be rendered by the Munday plant.

Mr. Shockey, who will serve as manager, graduated from Texas A. and M. College in 1938, and was connected with the Extension Service of the College since that time, with the exception of the time spent in his country's service.

He was first employed with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at Mineral Wells, and later served as assistant county agent of Brown County. He was then transferred to Callahan County as County Agent. Entering the service April 1, 1943, Mr. Shockey served 30 months, then returned to Baird two months ago to take up his former position.

Mr. Rice plans to be in Munday from time to time, but will not be active in the management of the locker plant.

The new owners plan to add to the facilities of the plant, and stated Wednesday that an order has been placed for 200 additional lockers. These will be installed as soon as they arrive.

"We will have several types of containers for frozen fruits and vegetables available for you, and we will be glad to help and advise you on various things you will want to place in your locker box," Mr. Shockey said. "We want to know each of our customers personally, so we invite you to come in and get acquainted."

STARVATION OVERSEAS CAN BREED ANOTHER WORLD WAR

The Emergency Food Collection on behalf of UN-RA gives each of us the privilege of contributing money, food in tin cans, or both, to the people of starving and war-mangled countries.

It is a privilege, and from a common-sense viewpoint it is imperative. Those now somehow survive a long period of starvation become warped, not only in body.

The old will die, mercifully for them; but the young will struggle to live, filling their bloated stomachs with grass, roots, garbage, anything...

In order to live they will lie, steal, or murder, for self-preservation is a primal law.

It is to the young that we look for world peace, unity, and orderly government; but people who have always been hungry are not interested in ideals. Eventually they will be interested in another war. If we feed those who now starve we may well be protecting our own children and grandchildren from the burning bomb, the shattering guns, the slow or sudden death.

Look at it another way; if you have seen a starving child, imagine one. Then look at the child you love. Will the contrast help you sleep nights?

Centuries ago it was ordered by a compassion that knew neither race, creed, or color, "Feed my lambs." Can we afford to ignore this plea knowing we are all children of God?

Give in His name—in the name of all humanity!

THREATS WILL NOT HELP

When the West Coast developed an incipient smallpox epidemic, health authorities and the medical profession moved with astonishing efficiency. Vaccination of hundreds of thousands of persons and prompt isolation of known cases soon put a stop to spread of the disease. Alertness of this kind on the part of medical authorities is so thoroughly taken for granted that not a word of comparison for the doctors was discernable. Rather, at the very moment that this age-old scourge appeared and nothing prevented it from sweeping the entire population except prompt action from the medical profession, there were a number of sentors down in Washington scoring the medical profession as selfish and behind the times because it opposes Federal domination of medicine.

This lack of appreciation for the benefits brought to all the people by science and the medical profession, is amazing. Naturally, there is room for improvement, and improvement is coming along continuously in standards and extent of care. But one thing is certain. The manner in which political pressure has put a time clock on the physician's desk, with the plain implication that he must produce the perfect medical system by five o'clock tomorrow or submit to government dictation, is going to help no one.

HOPE REBORN

The United States is destined to eat less in the near future, in order that other countries may have a little more food. Far from hurting the health of the nation, medical spokesmen say it will do us good. In fact, the health magazine Hygeia, a publication of the medical profession and a recognized authority in its field, declares that "this cannot possibly harm the average American citizen. Indeed it is likely to help him, since overweight after middle life is recognized as one of the important causes of abbreviated longevity." It then gives some practical suggestions for diminishing the consumption of wheat and fats, such as one-piece sandwiches, buck-wheat cakes for breakfast, the substitution of fruits and other desserts for pastries and cakes, broiled instead of fried meat, and bread and jam without butter.

The wholehearted manner in which our people have expressed a desire to share food with other nations, is encouraging. It is the mark of a reviving civilization.

EIGHTY YEARS OF SERVICE

In a day and age when it is very hard to find agreement on any of the current problems and the air is filled with controversy it is a pleasure to note that the National Board of Fire Underwriters has celebrated its 80th anniversary. Here is an organization that for eighty years has been devoted to saving life and property from destructive visitation of fire. The efforts of the National Board have reached into every county in the land. Its trained investigators have probed the ashes of unnumbered buildings seeking out the lethal secrets of fire. These same investigators explore buildings that have never felt the scorching breathe of destruction, in an effort to forestall tragedy. The National Board does not limit its life and property saving activities to field investigations. It is responsible for endless laboratory research in which thousands of appliances and materials are tested for safety and fire resistant qualities. It is also responsible for the development or model ordinances that have been adopted in thousands of communities and serve as guides to municipal authorities in every section of the country.

No one can measure the value of the National Board of Fire Underwriters any more than the value of human life can be measured. And it has saved untold thousands of lives let alone property whose material worth runs into astronomical figures.

Yes, it is a pleasure to observe the birthday of an organization of this character. It would be a great tribute if in some manner the country could recognize the occasion by pledging redoubled vigilance in the war against fire.

WHERE A LITTLE IS A LOT

Hard work is no stranger to the farmer. He knows that what you get out of a job is based generally upon what you put into it. Most farmers, knowing the amount of effort it takes to have a successful farm, buy insurance against rain, hail, or tornado damage to their buildings and their crop.

But the farmer, like the city resident, cannot protect himself or his family by any known means against a disease, infantile paralysis, which again is on the march in the United States.

However, while no means of prevention or cure of polio have been discovered, much can be done in the way of treatment, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis points out.

Treatment of infantile paralysis is expensive. Should someone in your family be stricken, the cost of prolonged treatment might sweep away your life savings were it not for the fact millions of farmers and city dwellers voluntarily support the annual March of Dimes—sole source of National Foundation funds.

Through such contribution multiple services await whenever polio may strike in any county of the nation, for National Foundation chapters are ready to aid infantile paralysis victims regardless of age, race, creed or color.

There is no insurance against polio; but there is assurance that no infantile paralysis victim need go without aid because of lack of funds.

That indeed proves a little can mean a lot.

BOYCE HOUSE

How to avoid falling hair; Jump quickly to one side.

To keep a horse from slobbering; Teach him how to spit.

In time of danger, what is more to be desired than presence of mind? Absence of body.

Tell a woman who is trying on shoes that one foot is larger than the other, and you have lost a sale; but tell her one foot is smaller than the other, and you have gained a customer.

Getting around over Texas:

When the First National Bank in Cisco was re-modeled, the side door opening on to the alley was eliminated. It was through that door the Santa Claus robbers marched out, using bank customers and members of the bank's force as shields, during the battle that cost three lives, back in 1927.

And the pole near the jail in Eastland from which the Santa Claus later was hanged, is still standing.

A tribute to our teachers, entitled "Builders", written by an unknown author:

A builder builded a temple; he wrought it with grace and skill, Pillars, groins, and arches, all fashioned to work his will.

Men said when they saw its beauty, "It shall never know decay. 'Great is thy skill, thy fame shall endure for aye."

A teacher builded a temple with loving and infinite care, Planning each arch with patience, laying each stone with prayer.

None praised his unceasing efforts; none knew of his wondrous plan.

For the temple the teacher builded was unseen by the eyes of man. Gone is the builder's temple, crumbled into the dust.

Low lies each stately pillar, food for consuming rust.

But the temple the teacher builded will last while the ages roll. For this beautiful unseen temple is a child's immortal soul.

EMERGENCY FOOD COLLECTION EXPLAINED

The plan for Texas rural women to process and ship surplus home grown products in cooperation with the national emergency food collection has been announced by Maurine Hearn, vice director for women and state home demonstration agent for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. "Food conservation is just as important as it was any time during the war," Miss Hearn said, "and, judging from inquiries received from many Texas Counties we believe the plan will meet the approval of 4-H Club girls and home demonstration club women throughout the state."

All products must be canned under supervision to be accepted by UNRRA. Canned foods should be put in No. 2 tin cans. Processing time tables found in Extension Service publications B-101, B-88, C-223 and C-224 should be followed. Any of the following canned foods will be accepted: meats, including chicken; ranch style pork and beans; concentrated vegetable soup; grapefruit juice; English peas, field peas, corn, snap beans, sauerkraut, tomatoes, and fruits. Counties who have no surplus fruit and vegetables to can may ship dried peas or beans in bushel size cotton or burlap bags.

Containers of home canned foods should be marked before processing to identify the contents. A

Her Thoughtfulness Helps to Save Food

In support of UNRRA's plea to use wheat-substitutes so that this country can fulfill its promise to help feed starving Europe, pretty Shirley Nelson serves a loaf of oatmeal bread. And to avoid waste, she takes a tip from her baker and wraps the loaf in waxed paper to keep it fresh and moist. Housewives are urged to conserve food and use wheat-substitutes until Europe's wheat can be harvested.

recommended method is the use of a rubber stamp and special ink. Cans processed by club members or others under supervision may carry the Texas 4-H Pantry Label with the name of the product typed or legibly written with water proof ink on each label.

Food must be packed in shipping containers and shipped freight collect to the National Shipping and Warehousing Officer, Emergency Food Collection, 100 Maiden Lane, New York, 7, New York. More detailed information about collection and shipping can be obtained from the local county home demonstration agent.

ATOMIC ENERGY MUST COMPETE

Walter Janssen, chief of the metals and minerals branch of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, has released some down-to-earth figures for the dreamers who see atomic energy doing all the world's work.

"It is entirely possible," Mr. Janssen says, "that one day atomic energy may find application as a source of heat for the production of steam or hot gases and of mechanical and electrical power. But even if this utopian thinking we do have to come down to earth and think in terms of how much it will cost and whither will come the uranium."

"It has been computed that, in order to compete with 8-cent fuel oil, the comparable price per pound for U-235 would be $20,000 and in the case of gasoline at 30 cents a gallon, the price would be $75,000.

"Furthermore, uranium is far from abundant. Although widely distributed through the earth's crust, the known deposits of economic worth are remotely located from refineries and markets."

Charles and Kenneth Baker attended the rodeo performance of the Santa Rosa Roundup in Vernon last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. S. A. Bowden and Chester Bowden visited with relatives in Comanche County over the week end.

INSURANCE — REAL ESTATE & LOANS

Austin, Texas.—Some timely advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports during summer months was released from the State Health Department today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It was pointed out that in view of prevailing travel difficulties, vacation pleasures are apt to be limited to excursions and picnics at nearby lakes, rivers, and ponds of unfamiliar depths and currents, and without the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted; "nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety, through carelessness or thoughtlessness, are disregarded."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming in safety: when swimming, be alert and careful of unknown depths and currents; at least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water; upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore and call it a day; if you become chilled, leave the water immediately; do not enter the water when overheated; learn to float, this is most important; never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun; never swim in water that may be polluted. Swimming close to or even a few miles below sewage outlets is inviting the possibility of acquiring disease.

"Excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contributed much to a healthy, happy normal life, which is always desirable," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these excursions from our

"Each day brings them a little closer to solving the ultimate riddle of 'where is oil' and finding this vital and elusive product."

So says Eugene Holman, nationally known oil executive and geologist.

New Churches Born in Odd Spots

Famine Threatens Millions With Disease and Death In War Europe

When I was a child in the Middle West of these United States, I used to gouge the center out of my slice of bread and eat the crust. This habit my father would rebuke and my mother grieve over.

"Some one may be hungry for that good bread which you are throwing away," said my father.

"The child only likes the crust," defended by indulgent mother.

Millions of Americans, even in low-income brackets, have been reared that easy way. Pampered by our land of plenty, we have never known what it means to be without bread and plenty of it. That must be why it is such a ta upon our well-fed imaginations to understand what starvation actually means.

It means the gnawing fangs of death through the insides of your being. It means the belly, ironically swollen of its emptiness, becomes twice, instead of half, its size. Imagine the legs of your children becoming pipe-stems, as their stomachs become balloons, their eyes dark caves, their faces maps of misery.

That is part of what starvation means, along with the death of hope, the flight of joy, the dark emptiness of body, mind and soul.

If only we could (and we can and must), translate into our imaginations, understanding of this anguish which, except for the grace of God, might this hour be draining the life-strength of our own near and dear ones!

America, may you never know, from personal experience, the torments of hunger. But America, try to comprehend them, in order that the quality of your mercy may impel you to action.

America, just a few air-hours away, big heads on little, spindle-legged bodies, are lolling as they approach death by starvation. Starvation, mind you. Lack of bread!

I once knew a scientist who declared that one of the most unbearable sights conceivable to him, was the spectacle of a fat man eating a chocolate Sundae. Likewise, waste, such as gouging out the heart of a piece of bread, must become unbearable to us! Americans, try, within this blessed land of ours, to comprehend the anguish that lie outside it. French, Chinese, Greek, Russian and Dutch, just as much as it hurts in English.

First, make a generous money gift to the Emergency Food Collection, for central buying in large quantities means more food per dollar—more food for them. But give food in cans also.

Don't let your pantry-shelves groan, except in protest for the cans of food you permit to remain on them, when they could be salvaging human lives aboard.

Americans who have never-known hunger, give to those who are dying of it!

Misses Mary Jo Arnold, Naomi Hampton and Trudy Jane Coffman visited with Miss Naomi Jean Miller in Stamford on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Damon Lewis and Mrs. Frank Moore of Houston, and Mrs. Russel Doran of Odessa, Mrs. Norman Koenig and son, David, of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Ola Frazier, Mrs. Joe Pace and Mrs. Joe Kelley, all of Haskell, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beavers over the week end.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all our friends in Munday for their kindness and patronage during our stay in Munday.

Water Problem Is Discussed By Benjamin C of C

The Benjamin Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting in the District Court room May 28th, at 8:00 p. m. with thirty-seven present.

A very interesting discussion was held concerning activities pertaining to the new water supply for Benjamin, and a report from the Mayor, A. E. Ball, was very encouraging toward securing some one to test the well, and to dig two additional wells which will be located on the O. D. Propps farm east of Benjamin. Mayor Ball also told of the difficulty concerning transportation troubles with the railroad and the picking up of the water cars at Knox City. The mayor also urged everyone to be economical in the use of the water as a few in the town were inconsiderate as to its use, and carelessness in many instances has resulted in an enormous waste of water by faucets being left open and no one being at home when the water was turned on.

Miss Joan Galloway was elected sponsor for Benjamin, and is to participate in the sponsors contest at the rodeo, which is to be held in Stamford during the early part of July.

Mr. Bob Harmon, of the Magnolia Petroleum Company favored the Chamber of Commerce members with a very interesting movie film that was of an educational nature, and the picture stressed the importance of soil conservation. The picture also gave views of farm scenes that are common in other states, especially Texas. Mr. J. V. Jones, of Knox City, accompanied Mr. Harmon to Benjamin, and assisted in the showing of the picture.

The next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be June 11.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR TESTERS

COLLEGE STATION.—A training school for testing supervisors of Dairy Herd Improvement Associations will be held at Texas A. and M. College, College Station, June 10-14.

Persons interested in attending the training school should notify J. W. Davis, assistant dairyman, Extension Service, College Station, Texas. This training school and another held recently at Plainview will help qualify more men for testing work in the state.

College training is desirable, but not essential to the success of a tester, Davis said. Supervisors should be of good character have a real interest and practical experience in dairying, and should be capable of keeping neat and accurate records.

Millions of children in Europe and Asia are starving or near starvation point. They are doomed unless we heed their cries. Gifts of money, or food in tin cans, to the Emergency Food Collection will save lives! Give today!

Starving people are depending on you for their very lives! Every dollar you give the Emergency Food Collection will help the starving in liberated lands. Give generously—now!

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.

The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of starched clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—

But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.

Electric service—ready and willing round the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.

Name Texas Head Of State Chicken Breeding Program

Appointment of F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultryman of Texas A & M College at College Station, Tex., as state chairman of the Chicken-of-Tomorrow Committee opens the way for Texas poultrymen to compete with breeders from other states in the nationwide effort to produce better meat-type chickens. Goal of the three-year breeding program is to develop a chicken which will yield at least 10 percent more meat in relation to bone structure, said D. D. Slade, Lexington, Ky., chairman of the national committee, in announcing Beanblossom's appointment. The breeder who produces the best example of a meatier bird will receive a $5,000 cash award from A & P Food Stores, whose officials initiated the program. Other awards will total $3,000.

Objective of both the Texas and national committees is to stimulate production of meatier chickens that will grow more economically, Beanblossom said, in announcing plans for the contest. The hatching date for this state has been set for the week of May 12 to 17 inclusive. The birds will be judged when they reach the age of 14 weeks in August.

"The contest is open to every poultryman," Slade said, "but it will require more than just the selection of an outstanding bird and sending it in to be judged. Each breeder must start with from 100 to 200 baby chicks of known origin and develop a strain or type of chicken that can be reproduced in commercial quantities. Only by such a program of development can poultrymen assure the nation's consumers that chickens of the future will be the source of superior meat."

Quarter Horses Will Be Shown At Cowboy Reunion

The American Quarter Horse Association again accepted the invitation of officials of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to hold an "Official" American Quarter Horse Show at Stamford, Texas, in connection with the Rodeo on July 2, 3, and 4.

Mr. Jno. C. Burns, Executive Secretary of the American Quarter Horse Association, and Mr. R. A. Brown, Director of the organization met with officers of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to work out the prize list and other details of the show this week. Mr. Burns stated that in addition to the regular cash prizes offered, the association would offer, for the first time, a trophy to each of the first place winners of the open Cat Roping Contest, and the Cutting Horse Contest, provided the stallion, mare, or gelding winning the contest is registered in the Stud Book or Registry of the American Quarter Horse Assn.

Roy Arledge, Chairman of the Quarter Horse Committee mailed entry blanks and prize lists to breeders in the Association this week. A record entry is expected from breeders over the nation.

Grand champion Stallion of the 1945 show was "Star Deck" owned by Mr. A. I. Hunt of Tulsa, Okla. Grand Champion Mare was "Punkin" owned by Mrs. Helen Michaels of Eagle Pass, Texas.

"Wild Bill" Elliott, popular cowboy movie star is expected to attend the Texas Cowboy Reunion again this year. Elliott is a quarter horse enthusiast, and last year purchased "Smokey" Waggoner from Carl Smith of Stamford.

Several entries have already been received, according to the Chairman, Roy Arledge, and he reminds breeders that June 20th is closing date for accepting entries.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nelson of Pasadena, Texas, visited with relatives here over the week end.

Radar Experiments Slated In August

Austin.—Radar experiments will be conducted along the Texas coast near Corpus Christi in August, Dr. E. W. Hamlin, director of the University of Texas radar research project, has announced.

Plans for the experiment were formulated recently when a group of navy, army and coastguard officers and civilian scientists and technicians met at the University. Exact location of the tests has not been decided.

The University has a $162,000 contract with the Navy's Office of Research and Inventions, in ultra-high-frequency radio research.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gogans of Lubbock spent the week end visiting their children, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Belcher and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Belcher and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Owens, teachers in the local schools during the past year, left Saturday for Moran to spend the summer months, visiting with relatives.

HIGHWAY TRAVEL GROWING

One of the big jobs facing the United States is that of building more and better highways, according to L. S. Wescoat, chairman of the Committee on Highways of the American Petroleum Institute. "Average peacetime use of gasoline per car has increased 50 percent since 1920," says Mr. Wescoat. The average mileage per car now exceeds that of 1941 and new automobiles soon will be flowing into the traffic stream. "Safer, more efficient highways, of increasing usefulness to America, must be built."

Bonnie Workman of Dallas visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Branch last Saturday night. He is a brother of Mrs. Branch.

Kenneth Whittemore, who has been attending A. C. C. in Abilene, is here to spend the summer months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whittemore.

Mrs. Erin McGraw and daughter, Mrs. Orman Moore, were business visitors in Abilene last Monday.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Attorney General Tom Clark was scheduled to make a Memorial Day address at Vernon on May 30, and also to receive an honorary degree at that time from Texas Technological College. At the invitation of the Vernon arrangements committee I was to introduce Mr. Clark on that occasion. I had arranged to fly down with the Attorney General on the night of the 29th, and to fly back to Washington the night of the 30th. Luckily for the Gossetts, Mr. Clark was compelled to cancel his trip. On the morning of May 30 our third daughter, who was scheduled to be a second son, arrived at Garfield Memorial Hospital. The young lady, Mary Melissa, weighed in at eight and a third pounds. Mother and daughter are doing well.

Those of us who have worked long and hard for some control over labor bosses are hopeful President Truman will sign the so-called case bill, which was sent to his desk this week. Briefly, the bill would do these things: (1) Set up a new and badly needed federal mediation board with limited powers. (2) Outlaw extortion of money from farmers hauling their produce to markets. (3) an exclusive union administration of welfare and similar funds financed by an employer. (4) Exempt supervisory employees from the scope of the

FARM NEWS

(This is the first of twenty-two articles that will appear in this newspaper on the need for soil conservation, the amount of soil conservation being carried out, crop insurance, commodity loans, marketing quotas and other programs of interest to farmers.)

The end of the war and of the necessity for all-out production sounds a note of caution for farmers to take inventory of their most important capital asset—their land. Unless we conserve the productivity of our farms we will jeopardize our future strength and prosperity.

Huge wartime requirements for farm products cut sharply into our precious reserve of soil fertility. In spite of gains in conservation farming both before and during the war, the end of the fighting reveals a net loss in the fertility of our land. Millions of acres were overcropped and overgrazed to get the farm production which hastened victory.

These extra demands upon the land are illustrated by the tremendous expansion of soybean plantings in the Midwest, of peanut acreages in the South, and of cattle numbers in the West.

Technical improvements in farming and unusually favorable weather during the war have covered up the actual effects of these severe drains on our soil.

New and improved varieties of seed, together with increased use of lime and fertilizer, practices to conserve moisture, and other beneficial measures during the previous decade, helped to bring about big increases in crop yields.

Average yields of principal crops one-fourth greater than average during the war years, 1941-44, were yields for the predrought period, 1920-32. Since 1941, corn, one of our basic crops, has yielded better than 33 bushels per acre on the average, compared with a 1930-39 average yield of about 23 bushels.

But the increased yields themselves, while important to meet emergency demands, have taken a heavy toll of plant-food elements from the land. This is serious, for the minerals contained in crop and livestock products come from nutrients in the soil. Mineral-poor diets cause poor bone-tissue development and prevent both animals and people from obtaining full physical and mental vigor.

Our full development, therefore demands largely upon the food we eat, the quality of which is determined by the kind of soil which ever settled until it is settled right.

For the government to continue to take over industries in which strikes have been called, and to settle them on the strikers' terms is simply to add insult to injury. Apparently John L. Lewis got more than even he expected. Of course we all know who will eventually pay the bill—the consumer.

ACP PROGRESS.—Farmers have carried out a record volume of soil-building and water-conserving practices during the last 4 years. Reflecting this, payments to farmers and ranchers for practices under the 1944 agricultural conservation program were the highest on record, $293,867,000. These payments were 37 per cent greater than the 1943 payments, and five times as much as under the first conservation program in 1936.

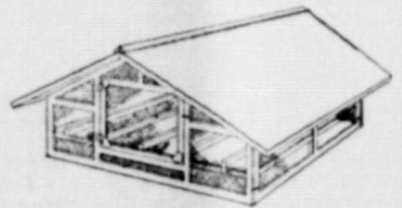

At the same time, we have followed generally a policy over the years of reducing the rates of assistance for practices. This stretches the available money over more acres and assures maximum performance from these funds. Preliminary estimates are that the volume of practices performed in 1945 will be larger than in 1944 although the funds available will be about the same.

The 1944 AAA program helped farmers carry out needed conservation practices on nearly 3.5 million farms. Improved farming methods are thus being encouraged on farms which embrace nearly 75 percent of the Nation's cropland. The number of farmers and the area of crop-

Range for Pullets

MANY farm flock owners are reducing the cost of raising strong, healthy pullets by putting them on clean range as early as possible so they can get the full benefits of good pasture and sunshine. This practice has increased the demand for portable range shelters which are light and easy to move and economical to build.

One type of inexpensive range shelter which is adapted particularly to farm flocks is shown in the illustration. The frame of this shelter is 6' 6" x 6' and is made of 1" x 2" lumber, with five 2" x 2" posts. The roof is made of two pieces of asbestos cement board, each of the standard 4' x 8' size.

The walls and floor are covered with poultry mesh and the floor should be of welded mesh wire. Sacks or canvas may be added to protect the young birds against storms. The wood frame should be painted but the asbestos cement board roof needs no preservative treatment.

Moving and storage can be simplified further if the structure is built with a hinged roof and front, rear, sidewall and roost sections to be fastened together with hooks and eyes.

land covered by the program decreased slightly between 1943 and 1944 because the funds appropriated by congress for the 1944 AAA program were used almost entirely for conservation practices. Under previous programs some farmers cooperated only in the economic phases of the program.

U. S. Savings Bonds Still Remain Widely Popular As Thrift Medium

U. S. Savings Bonds have retained much of their popularity with the American people as a thrift medium, even though sales have dropped sharply from the wartime levels with the disappearance of the special buying influences which these bonds enjoyed throughout the war and in the recent Victory Loan Drive.

This popular acceptance is indicated by a study of the latest U. S. Treasury data on the progress of the Government's bond sales campaign since the first of the year. The conclusion is based on the figures for February and March, leaving out January since that month's results still showed the effects of the Victory Loan Drive.

Sales of E-Bonds alone, according to these figures, are running at the rate of $4 1/2 billions a year. For the three series of Savings Bonds—E, F and G—the current annual sales rates are approximately $7 1/2 billions. The E-Bond total alone is a very large figure for a single savings medium in peacetime, and to this must be added the substantial purchase of F and G Bonds by individuals.

Differences Between 3 Series
F-Bonds are essentially like E-Bonds except that the term is longer—12 years against 10 years for E-Bonds—and the accumulative interest rate to maturity is about 2.53 per cent as against 2.90 per cent. Series G-Bonds have a 12-year maturity and pay 2 1/2 per cent interest annually—an attractive return in these days of abnormally low investment yields. As a result, G-Bonds are being widely bought by thrift institutions and other non-bank investors as well as individuals, and their total sales currently are up to more than a third of all Savings Bonds sales, a much higher ratio than prevailed during the war. A recent sampling check by the New York Federal Reserve Bank disclosed that the majority of G-Bond purchasers in its district were individuals.

The current annual sales rate of the three series of Savings Bonds is about 50 per cent under the wartime high. The decline for E-Bonds alone is even greater. Such declines, however, are no surprise to Treasury and other authorities, particularly in view of the unevenness of economic conditions since the end of the war as a result of reconversion, industrial strife and other factors.

Same Trend as Savings
As a matter of fact, the drop in Savings Bonds sales is roughly in line with the decline that is taking place in the over all savings rate of the American people from the abnormally high wartime ratio of about 25 per cent of spendable income. The more normal individual saving ratio in peacetime is about 10 per cent of spendable income.

Economic developments since V-J Day also explain much of the increasing redemptions of Savings Bonds, which hit a new high in March. This rise in redemptions is particularly pronounced in E-Bonds, which are being cashed in greater volume than they are being sold by the Treasury. But authorities regard such a development as inevitable also in view of conditions and the mass nature of E-Bond ownership.

However, the excess of E-Bond redemptions over sales was more than made up by the high sales of G-Bonds in February and March and substantial sales of F-Bonds. The redemption rate of these issues is still relatively low. As a result, the total sales of the three Savings Bond issues exceeded the total amount cashed in.

Factor of Debt Distribution
The widest possible public purchases of Savings Bonds and the retention of those now owned are of fundamental importance to the objective of a broad distribution of the public debt, and at the same time help to maintain the current ratios in the ownership of Government securities as between the banking system and non-bank investors. The banks currently own about 40 per cent of the national debt, and this situation represents a major factor in the current inflation problem. Indications are that the Payroll Savings Plan continues to be the backbone of E-Bond sales, as it was throughout the war when it was responsible for about 60 per cent of all E-Bond sales.

Emblematic of peace in a peace loving nation, and quietly reminding that dairying is America's greatest industry, the poster pictured above has been chosen as the symbol of June DAIRY MONTH for 1946. It's a familiar scene, as American as the Stars and Stripes. A herd of cows, peacefully grazing over green fields, cows that never heard the roar of hostile guns, that never saw the ravages of war. Such a scene, somehow, symbolizes the American love of peace, home, and good eating.

Rat Control Is Promised Thru New Chemical

A synthetic chemical discovered and developed under wartime secrecy promises to give farmers more satisfactory rat control than they have ever had, according to J. E. Poore, assistant district agent for the Rodent Control Service. Known as antu (chemically, alphanaphthyl-thiourea), this new chemical is more poisonous to the Norway or brown rat than to other animals.

What every farmer wants to know about a rat killer is whether it will kill rats and also whether it is safe to use.

Extensive tests of the heavily rat-infested areas of Baltimore showed effective clean-ups in treated areas, usually within 24 hours. And no sign of rats appeared for a long time after the clean-up campaign was finished.

During the 18 months that these extensive tests were carried on, no toxic symptoms attributable to antu were observed in the voluntary workers or the 700,000 inhabitants who came in contact with the poison in spite of the fact that at times the antu baits were handled carelessly.

Tests show that antu is relatively harmless to chickens. Plant-eating animals are not harmed by antu, but it is toxic to hogs, dogs, and cats. This means that baits containing the poison should be properly distributed so they will not be eaten by these animals.

An important feature of antu is its effectiveness as a tracking poison. Rats will get a lethal dose by stepping in it and licking their feet.

Antu straight will be available only to professional exterminators and to manufacturers for processing with suitable bases, so as to provide well balanced preparations which will be more effective and economical than antu straight.
