

Munday Wins 7-6 From Anson Tigers Friday

Johnny Spann squared off and booted the pigskin squarely between the uprights here Friday night in a play that spelled victory for the Munday Moguls, as they played the District 11-A defending champions, the Anson Tigers, in one of the most exciting games of the season.

The Moguls won the decision by the close score of 7 to 6.

After almost an entire period of scoreless battle, the Tigers started off with a bang by intercepting a Munday pass in midfield and working the ball down to scoring position. They had gained first down and goal to go as the first quarter ended. Three plays afterward, Sampson carried over for the Anson counter, and Weldon Day's kick for extra point was wide.

The half ended Anson 6, Munday 0, as the Moguls were battling to even the score.

Coming back fighting, the Moguls put up a stiff battle in the third period. The Moguls blocked an Anson punt and later recovered an Anon fumble to keep the Tigers deep in their own territory. A pass from Billy Boulding to Joe Spann placed the locals in scoring position. Clifton Swain bucked the line to go over on the third play.

Then's when Johnny Spann booted the extra point that decided the contest.

A feature of this interesting game was that three quarters were played without a penalty. In the fourth period both Munday and Anson drew a 5-yard penalty. Munday led in first downs, 9 to 5. The game ended with the Tigers desperately trying to gain another tally and remain in the conference running, but the Moguls held grimly on to their 1-point lead.

Starting lineup were as follows: Anson—Owens and Sprayberry, ends; Ray and Pittman, tackles; Caman and Guthrie, guards; Curtis, center; Day, Rodgers, Sampson and Cassey, backs.

Munday—Joe Spann and Haynie, ends; Moore and Yarbrough, tackles; Caldwell and Tidwell, guards; Green, center; John Spann, Bouldin, Montgomery and Brown, backs.

CABINET HARMONY ESSENTIAL

The issue created by the speech of Secretary Wallace in which he expressed views on the international situation at great variance with those of Secretary Byrnes, goes beyond the question of who may be right and who may be wrong.

No nation can help shape the policy of the world unless its responsible officials present a united front. The problems faced by Mr. Byrnes in his constant clashes with the Russian delegates are extremely difficult. And, if the world was permitted to believe that he lacked the backing of his President and colleagues in the Cabinet, his position would be untenable.

Mr. Wallace could not remain in the Cabinet and speak purely as an individual. Whatever a Cabinet officer says will be weighed, analyzed and dissected in all the foreign offices of the world. It is significant, the day following the Wallace speech, the controlled Russian press headlined his views, praised them to the skies—and intensified its attacks on Mr. Byrnes.

Precedent, based on solid realities, dictates that when Cabinet officials are no longer able to agree with the Administration, they resign, as Mr. Wallace was forced to do. In this most crucial time, the welfare and security of the nation cannot be served by weakening the ground under our State Department which is charged with the vast responsibility of representing our nation in working for a permanent peace.

WHO WILL OWN THE COAL MINES?

Return of the soft coal mines to their owners is again being delayed because John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has apparently decided to demand what amounts to virtual control over the industry.

No question of wages is involved. According to the United States News, Mr. Lewis' current demands involve the following:

1. For many years, agreements have contained a clause pledging the unions not to strike during the life of a contract. Mr. Lewis now wishes to eliminate this.

2. Before the war, Mr. Lewis seemed to be glad to sign two-year agreements, and neither party could demand changes until that time elapsed. Mr. Lewis now wishes a quick-reopening clause, which would permit him to reopen negotiations on a month's notice.

3. They heavy demand for coal has made it necessary to operate on a six-day week basis. Mr. Lewis desires a five-day week. In this connection, it is interesting to note that miners receive time-and-half for the sixth day, and their weekly paycheck comes to $75.25.

4. The miners' welfare fund, every nickel of which is contributed by the operators, was to be administered by a three-man board made up of company and union representatives and a neutral chairman. Mr. Lewis now wants the fund to be controlled by the union alone.

5. Mr. Lewis demands that his union be made the bargaining agent for mine foremen who are the representatives of the mine owners on the job.

If the demands of Mr. Lewis are granted, about the only right the mine owners will have left is that of spending their money in ways the union approves. Have we reached the point where a union head can, with no official opposition, demand the subjugation of a great industry?

Looney: Now I want one of you fellows to explain to me why it's important not to lose your head at any time. Blooley: Well, you'd have no place to put your helmet.

FIRE KILLS MORE THAN WAR

Since 1920, more Americans have lost their lives by fire than in all the devastating battles of World War II, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. In the last decade, 100,000 victims have been claimed by fire, and 170,000 more have been seriously burned, many of them disfigured for life.

Fire Prevention Week will shortly be observed. During that week and during every other week the American people can effectively prevent fire by following a few simple rules. Ninety per cent of all fires, big and little, are preventable. The National Fire Waste Council offers these suggestions to the homeowner and business man:

Check from the cellar to attic for rubbish—and get rid of it. Check heating systems. Keep ashes in metal containers and shield fireplaces with screens. Don't smoke in bed, and keep plenty of ash trays handy. Don't clean your clothes at home with flammable agents. Never bring gasoline into the house for any purpose. Keep matches away from children. Replace frayed electric cords and defective electric appliances.

There's nothing difficult or costly about these rules. And their observance would save this country thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property every year. The big job of fire prevention simply consist of all of us doing little jobs regularly and conscientiously.

STABILIZING WAGE DOLLARS

Writing in an official AF of L publication, William Green recently urged the 7,000,000 members of his organization to "stabilize their wage dollars by helping to increase volume of production which can wipe out scarcities and the danger of runaway inflation. An accompanying cartoon drives this thought home with its caption: "Bring prices down by producing the goods!"

If Mr. Green is able to make this message felt he will be doing a signal service for all the American people, as well as union labor. For, as the New York Herald Tribune puts it, "Here in the simplest terms is the fundamental answer to the whole problem of inflation—production." There are, of course, other factors involved, such as excessive government spending which in itself is a strong inflationary influence. But production is at the root of everything.

Our industrial potential is the greatest on earth by a wide margin. We have, in addition, a superbly efficient distribution machine to take the goods to the consumer once the factories produce them. Retailers, led by the big chain organizations, have been a frontline defense against unavoidable price increases. They have led the war against the black market. But, until adequate production is resumed, their work can be only partially successful.

Price control by government, at best, is but a temporary and incomplete expedient. Rising prices are the symptoms of inflation—not the cause.

HIT OF TEXAS FAIR

PEPSI COLA'S SKY BALLET—One of the most breathtaking spectacles of the 61st State Fair of Texas, at Dallas, October 5 through October 20, is Pepsi-Cola's Sky Ballet. It is performed from an altitude of one hundred and twenty-five feet—with no nets! See it twice daily, just across from the Foods Building, at 2 and 7:30 p.m.—admission free!

when someone drops in a nickle, the tune is announced and, if you want to hear it, you have to put in a nickle, too. If you don't want to hear it, you just eat your food—if any.

Will Beauford Jester name Sen. James Taylor as his successor on the State Railroad Commission? Both men are from the same county. There are 253 other counties in the State.

If the elderly are having a hard time getting by on an average of 80 cents a day—and they are having a hard time, too—what would their plight be if the ceiling of $35,000,000 had been only about half that—which Taylor tried to make it?

The recent State Democratic convention ignored the Governor-elect's campaign pledge to remove the ceiling and pay the $40 a month in full. In view of the action of the platform makers at San Antonio in giving the old folks the run-around, if the new Governor appoints an arch-enemy of old age pensions to one of the highest offices in the State, then the elderly and their friends—who helped provide a large part of Mr. Jester's vote in both primaries—might begin to wonder about things in general. Mr. Jester courageously carried the banner of the old folks high during the campaign and they are counting on him.

M. L. Wiggins was a visitor in Fort Worth and Dallas over the week end. In Fort Worth, he visited his brother and family, Dr. and Mrs. John Wiggins, and he attended the Texas-Oklahoma football game in Dallas.

Farm Bureau Gives Support To Roads Amendment

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation today announced adoption of a resolution supporting the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment to be voted upon in the November 5th election.

Bill R. Smith

So he's an electric eel, so watt?

All right, then, he really isn't an eel at all, if you want to be technical. His name's Electrophorus (Gymnotus) Electricus—Jim for short. He's a South American cousin of the carp and catfish. Maybe Jim does pack a wallop of 600 volts when he's hungry or annoyed (and he has a shocking temper)—BUT—

You bet he can't. He's not usefully eel-ctrified. Frankly, you'd better flip a switch if you want convenient, dependable electricity—all you need—at low cost.

And speaking of low cost—did you know that the average family is getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago? That's no accident—like Jim and his temperamental voltage. Folks in this company have done a good job under sound business management. That's why your electric service is lower in cost—and higher in efficiency—than ever before.

Veterans' News

Aliens who served in the Armed forces of the United States during World War II have less than three months left to qualify for quick citizenship under the Second War Powers Act of 1942, the Veterans Administration warned this week.

The act expires on December 31, 1946, and affects all aliens who enlisted or were inducted into the service before December 28, 1945.

Recent reports indicate approximately 100,000 service-men and veterans have failed to take advantage of the right to obtain American citizenship as provided under the Act.

Those affected are not required to file the customary declaration of intention, need not have lived in the United States for any specified time, are not required to speak the English language or meet educational tests.

Honorably discharged aliens who wish to take advantage of the law should apply to the nearest office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service or inquire at their VA office.

Six thousand books—all brand-new—are on their way to war veterans in the 11 Veterans Administration hospitals of the Southwest. Roy E. Eury, Special Services director for VA's Dallas Branch, said both fiction and non-fiction obtained from the Army being distributed among VA hospitals in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. These books will boost the number of volumes in patients' libraries to nearly 50,000 Eury said.

During September, patients in veterans hospitals in the tri-state area checked out 10,140 books and showed a strong preference for fiction, or "escape" reading.

One book-loving veteran at the Legion, Texas, hospital set some kind of a record, reading 1,500 books during his two-year stay at the tubercular hospital.

Approximately 8,100 children in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, whose fathers died as a result of World War II service, are receiving monthly compensation benefits, VA reported this week. Throughout the country, about 90,000 children are receiving these.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does the veteran's right to obtain government guaranty or insurance on loans continue indefinitely?

A. No, but guaranty or insurance may be had when obtaining a loan if within 10 years from the officially declared termination of World War II, so the right will continue for a long time.

Q. What will happen if loan payments are not made?

A. That will depend upon the terms of the loan, the attitude of the lender and the laws of the State where the veteran and security are located. If payments are not made when due the loan is in default and the lender may take such action as is provided in the loan agreement and is permitted by the State Law and by the regulations for guaranty and insurance of loans.

Q. Are there any charge for guaranteeing or insuring loans?

A. No, and commission, brokerage or similar charges may not legally be made against the veteran for securing a guaranteed or insured loan. Of course, customary out-of-pocket fees usually borne by borrower, such as appraisal, title examination fees and other costs and expenses incident

Peckproofing Laying Houses

AUTUMN is the time when the poultryman moves his flocks from range into the laying house. Many authorities advise that pullets not be housed until at least 10 per cent of the birds are in production. In any event, moving the flock indoors presents several problems that must be dealt with successfully in order to show a profit.

In addition to seeing that the laying house is designed for efficient handling of the pullets, the flock owner should also provide a peckproof interior. Chickens with their habit of pecking at anything can soon mar the bases of walls and around their roosts, the pitted surfaces affording ideal hiding places for germs and parasites to multiply.

The remedy is a peckproof material such as asbestos cement board, which is well suited for this purpose because its smooth, hard surface cannot be pecked. The board, moreover, is easily cleaned by hose or brush. It will outlast the building and consequently eliminate the nuisance of replacing pecked boards. The entire interior can be finished in this way, making it ratproof as well as peckproof, or the asbestos boards may be used to line the lower wall and protect areas behind nests.

thereto may be charged against the veteran by the lender.

Q. Are there any circumstances under which the guaranty may exceed 50 per cent of the loan?

A. Yes. Where a Federal agency has made, guaranteed or insured, or is to make, guarantee or insure a loan for any of the eligible purposes and the veteran needs a second loan to complete the purchase price, the second loan may be fully guaranteed if:

(a) The amount involved is not in excess of the veteran's guaranty.

(b) The loan is not in excess of 20 per cent of the purchase or cost.

Q. May several veterans use the guaranty to acquire property jointly?

A. Yes, but the total amount guaranteed may not exceed 50 per cent of the loan or the total entitlement for guaranty of the veterans, whichever is lesser. No loan may be guaranteed or insured by a Federal Agency.

Old Man Weather is blamed for a great many things, but how responsible is he for automobile accidents? According to the Texas Safety Association, most crashes occur not on a rainy or foggy day, but in clear weather. When roads are wet and slippery, and driving seems to be dangerous, we have a tendency to slow down and redouble our alertness. As a result, accidents are relatively few. But when the weather is clear and the pavement dry, we are tempted to speed—and it is speed that kills. When you flout speed laws, Death rides the fenders!

Reasons Cited For Shortage Of Meat In Texas

COLLEGE STATION.—There's a good reason why so few livestock were marketed during September, and why there's hardly any meat in local markets now.

Roy Snyder, meat specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, explains that the current meat shortage is partly due to the large number of livestock that was marketed during July and August, when price control was out of effect. During those two months, the meat specialist says, much livestock was marketed that would have been on the market this fall.

For 1946 as a whole, United States Department of Agriculture meat men have estimated the meat supply to reach 148 pounds per person by the time the year is out. Last year the supply was 138 pounds per person. Even though this year's meat supply may be about the same as the record supply in 1944, consumers will still be unable to buy all the meat that they would like to buy at ceiling prices.

Still another answer to meat shortage question lies in distribution. Our meat distribution is now very uneven, making the shortage much worse in some areas than in others.

Want a Vacation from Marriage?

Alvin Blake went south on his vacation, for some fishing, and left his Missus to enjoy a vacation from the corn-cob pipe, clothes in a heap, and solos on the harmonica.

First few days, Martha enjoyed it—house neat and quiet, top back on the toothpaste, no morning mess from Alvin's midnight snacks (Al's partial to a bit of cheese and beer at bedtime).

Come the end of the week, she began to fidget; couldn't even read the Clarion, it looked so unsmugged; didn't have any appetite with nobody to cook for. She was about to wire Al, when he barges home a week ahead of time, and she almost cries for gratitude. ("Felt the same way myself," says Al.)

From where I sit, those differences of habit and opinion—whether they have to do with corn-cob pipes, a glass of beer, or playing the harmonica, seem mighty trivial when you're separated. And they are, too!

New Pointers On Skin Loveliness

Fall time is complexion time on every smart woman's beauty calendar.

Fun in the sun is healthful, but by summer's end many an over-exposed skin has acquired a rough, leathery look and a certain amount of deeply imbedded impurities that demand extra cleansing and care.

Especially with feminine fashions this season highlighting skin loveliness (accented with daringly décolleté gowns, costume motifs, and even with the new-toned, smart tweeds) milady doesn't dare expose a complexion that looks a little muddy from a tan that did not take evenly, or last!

A quick, freshening change-of-FACE is the keynote of the modern facial masque created by Dorothy Perkins. Mildly bleaching as it purges, this masque helps restore a blush of youthful beauty and a smooth, refined look to the skin.

For all types of skin, application of the masque at least once a week is essential to help stimulate circulation and tone the complexion by thorough purging of make-up remnants, deep-seated dust, and dead skin flakes. While it absorbs excessive oily secretions, this masque is mild enough to be used on dry skins without irritating.

Ideal time to apply the masque is just before the bath. Mix a small amount of water with the cream, to the consistency of rich whipping cream. Smooth it over

Soil Conservation Being Practiced On Truscott Ranch

Proper water and salt distribution is one of the best ways to assure more even grazing of range land. The Big 4 Ranch northwest of Truscott is a cooperator in the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District. J. D. Smith is manager of the ranch and with the assistance of Soil Conservation technicians, is putting into effect a coordinated Soil Conservation program.

Four new tanks have been constructed in areas where permanent water has not been available before. Salty locations are placed away from the water and will be moved from time to time to insure grazing away from the watering place. A system of deferred grazing will be carried on in connection with Sudan grass in fields to give the more desirable grasses a chance to seed and spread. Mr. Smith realizes that stock will graze out the more palatable grasses first and leave the less palatable grasses, and is taking these measures to improve his range land.

In addition to the range program, there have been about 16 miles of terraces built on the cultivated portion of the ranch. Chisel plowing is being practiced to aid on holding the water, and Austrian Winter Peas planted for a soil improving crop.

There are three "light" rules for safer night-time driving—from the Texas Safety Association: One—see that all lights are kept working and in proper focus; two, hold down your speed so that you can stop within the distance your headlights reach; three, lower the beam for the other drivers you meet, whether they are as courteous or not. The owl and the pussycat can see better at night—but you can't. SLOW DOWN!

TREAT SEED GRAINS NOW TO PREVENT SMUTS NEXT HARVEST

Farm and ranch reports coming from various parts of Knox County indicate much loss of grain crops in the past from smut, seed rot and blight. Smut often decreases the yield of wheat by five bushels per acre. At the present price of wheat this is very expensive.

As a precaution to keep these diseases under control, all seeds, including wheat, barley, oats, and rye should be treated with 1/2 ounce of New Improved Ceresan per bushel before planting. A good method is to treat the seed in an oil drum or barrel that has a tight fitting lid and arranged so it can be revolved on an axis.

Cotton Growers Of Plains Facing Heavy Handicaps

COLLEGE STATION. — High Plains cotton growers each year lose money because they can't have their cotton harvested before the first frost.

Superintendent D. L. Jones and Agronomist H. D. Lynn of the Texas A. and M. Agricultural Experiment Station No. 8 at Lubbock say that this condition may be remedied if cotton farmers will accept three recent developments—power driven cotton strippers, stormproof cotton and chemical defoliation.

The experiment station men point out that only half of the Plains cotton is harvested when the frost comes around November 4, the 35-year average frost date. Since Plains farm units are large, the grower must depend largely on migratory labor to pick his cotton, and when frost and colder weather set in, the labor moves South, leaving the cotton farmer "holding the sack".

Obviously, the answer lies in harvesting the cotton faster, and that's where the three recent developments figure in.

Power-driven strippers will allow the grower to harvest his cotton just as soon as it is sufficiently mature, Jones and Lynn predict. In connection with mechanical stripping, chemical defoliation would kill the leaves of the plant in late October, and allow harvesting without having to wait for frost to defoliate the plants. The third development, storm-proof cotton, will prevent losses that growers usually suffer by late-harvesting cotton with normal bolls. The normal bolls flare open at maturity and many of the locks either fall to the ground or string out and collect trash. Stormproof cotton locks are pinched at the base of the boll and stick firmly to the hulls, preventing losses incurred by growers when fiber falls to the ground and strings out.

B. M. Haymes of O'Donnell spent Monday and Tuesday with his brother, Lee Haymes, and other relatives.

The Texas Safety Association reminds motorists that the horn has but one purpose—to warn. An incessantly screaming, tooting horn can confuse a driver so that he takes unnecessary chances and performs unreasonable acts. ## Funds For Polio Campaign Asked In November Drive

DALLAS.—Plans for the 1946 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis campaign, which will run from November 18 to December 7, are proceeding rapidly, according to George F. Francisco, Jr., Houston, state chairman. The Texas quota is $150,000.

The state campaign is being conducted by counties, with a separate quota for each county. Chairmen are being selected for the individual county campaigns.

Funds from this campaign will be used to send nurses to Minneapolis to train as Kenny technicians, and to eventually build a Kenny clinic in Texas, so that Texas victims will have access to the best known treatment of this dread disease.

Anyone wishing to help in this campaign is asked to contact the Texas Headquarters, Driskill Hotel in Austin, Texas.

Meat On Hoof Is Featured At Dallas Fair

DALLAS.—Thousands of pounds of steaks on the hoof were sold in auction today in connection with the junior livestock show at the State Fair of Texas, bringing record prices, which experts termed approximately double those of a year ago. Sold at the show were 137 fat steers, averaging 48 cents a pound; 118 fat hogs, averaging 32 1/2 cents a pound, and 72 fat lambs averaging 36 cents a pound.

These prices, according to officials, were the highest offered anywhere in Texas this year. About 1,200 persons attended and took part in the auction, which Ray Wilson, chairman of the junior livestock and agriculture committee, termed one of the most successful ever held at the State Fair. "All of the boys who exhibited in the show went home happy with the top prices their animals brought," Wilson said, "and almost each one indicated he would be back again next year." Wilson gave much of the credit for the sale's success to Texas business men, who, he said, exhibited splendid cooperation in bidding high prices for the animals shown.

Grand champion steer, a 760-pound Hereford, sold for $2.60 a pound. It went to Burris Feed Mills, Dallas. Reserve champion, a 780-pound Hereford, was bought by Nathan Adams, Dallas banker, for $1.50 a pound. After the purchase, Adams donated the steer to St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Also a Dallas hospital was a champion steer bought for $1.05 a pound by State Fair president R. L. Thornton.

In the fat hog class the grand champion, a Duroc barrow, sold for $2.00 a pound, while the fat lamb division was topped by the sale of the 80-pound champion for $6.25 a Grand champion fat hog was owned by Duane Boenig, Converse; champion fat lamb by Dittmar Rawlings, Marfa, and grand champion steer both were owned by Ronny Fee Colorado City. Livestock officials declared this was the first time of which they have knowledge that one exhibitor has copped both the grand champion and reserve champion simultaneously in a major fair.

FIVE ABUNDANT FOODS THIS MONTH

COLLEGE STATION.—Foods that are in abundance this month in Texas are potatoes, onions, fall apples, pears and celery. B. F. Vance, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, states that these foods have been designated by economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture as being abundant in Texas during October. He urges wide use of the foods in the School Lunch Program. A similar list will be provided all school lunch sponsors each month. Vance says, so that foods in large supply can be purchased and used. If any of the abundant foods listed are not in stock in any community, sponsors should note this fact on their monthly report. Some of the dishes that may be prepared using the October abundant foods are stew, apple salad, potato salad, mixed fruits, baked potato, panned apples and onions, potato soup, Apple Brown Betty, scalloped or creamed potatoes and baked apple.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN.—Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyeache, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

"The eyes of any person, whether young, middle-aged, or older represent one of the most priceless of bodily possessions," State Health Officer asserted. "To take care of them promptly and properly is a responsibility which never should be sidestepped."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey King, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hicks and Mrs. A. E. Womble spent the week end in Dallas, visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hightower and attending the Dallas State Fair.

Wayne Blacklock, who is attending Texas University at Austin, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock, and other relatives.

B. F. Goodrich Silvertown

The better the tire, the faster it sells... that's why we've had such a hard time keeping the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown in stock. There's extra demand because these tires are built with a wider, flatter tread that spreads the wear over a wider area. The cords are of an entirely new and stronger type with more of them, with greater resistance to "road shock." It's a proven tire of extra toughness and durability with millions of test miles on police cars, taxis and special test cars behind it. These features make it the tire that's well worth waiting for.

Good Roads Amendment Receives Support of State Political Leaders

AUSTIN.—An important step toward establishing a sound financial policy to provide for the farm-to-market roads and primary highway needs of Texas was taken here Monday when the State's road leaders launched a campaign on behalf of the Good Roads Amendment to the Constitution.

Approximately 500 advocates of better roads for Texas heard Governor-Nominee Beauford Jester, Lieut. Governor-Nominee Allan Shivers, Congressman O. C. Fisher, San Angelo, State Representative Neville Colson, Navasota, and John S. Redditt, Chairman of the State Highway Commission will address the huge kick-off rally and urge the adoption of the Good Roads measure in the November 5th General Election. Col. Ike Ashburn, Houston, served as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers and other outstanding personalities present.

Jester, whose campaign platform stressed more and better roads, declared, "We face a critical need for more farm-to-market roads, a need we propose to meet. The roads Texas needs cannot all be built in a day. And if they were all built today it would not be long before the normal growth of Texas and the obsolescence of our road system would require still more roads."

"We must," the Governor-Nominee asserted, "recognize the fact that road building is a continuous, never-ending operation which must be planned and financed on a long-range basis if our road system is to approach the minimum needs of a growing Texas."

Jester said that Texas cannot realize the greatest value from its road funds until revenues are stabilized and agencies can effectively plan more than a year ahead. "The Good Roads Amendment," he asserted, "has been proposed not in the spirit of distrusting some future Legislature's motives in diverting road funds to some purpose other than roads—but rather in the spirit of trusting the people by giving them the opportunity to vote on the disposition of their own road user taxes, and to assure that the financial policies the people shall approve by their vote will not be changed without their full knowledge and consent."

Author of the Good Roads Amendment, State Representative Neville Colson told the gathering that schools and roads are of paramount importance to Texas. The only woman in history of the House of Representatives to successfully sponsor an amendment to the State Constitution, Mr. Colson declared that the Amendment not only will advance Texas in roads but also in the cause of public education.

"Transportation is the key to a successful rural school program but Texas cannot have an adequate school program until we construct an adequate road system," the Representative from Grimes and Montgomery Counties charged. "In my studied opinion, roads and schools go hand in hand and head the list of the peoples' needs."

Lieut. Governor-Nominee Allan Shivers, sponsor of the measure in the Senate, recalled, "During the war, mobility on the home front meant mobility on the battlefield. War added to road deficiencies at home. Construction virtually stopped. To meet the needs of postwar traffic is a huge job—and this traffic is mounting faster than roads can be built to serve it. I am convinced that Texas will never have a well planned system of paved state and farm roads unless we establish a sound, permanent financial policy."

Congressman O. C. Fisher, San Angelo, member of the House Roads Committee explained the effects of the amendment upon Federal Aid Acts a penalty for those states which divert these funds to non-road purposes. Passage of the Good Roads Amendment will guarantee that Texas will never be subjected to this penalty.

Chairman of the Highway Commission, John S. Redditt, warned that the welfare of Texas demands a sound rural economy. "High on the list of measures that must be taken to nurture a sound rural economy is a better system of farm-to-market roads," he said. "By stabilizing road finances, this Amendment will be the greatest forward step of our generation toward the development of an adequate road system for Texas."

Among the other dignitaries who participated in the program were Sid Caillavet, president, County Judges and Commissioners, Bun Raley, Rural Letter Carriers' Association, Mayor Joe Jenkins, Amarillo, president, League of Texas Municipalities, George Butler, chairman, Board of Insurance Commissioners, Senator Pat Bullock, chairman, Senate Education Committee, Harold Gaulrapp, Master, Texas State Grange, and J. E. McDonald, Agriculture Commissioner.

Hottest Facts About Fires

During 1940-41, U. S. fire losses exceeded the $400,000,000 damage done by the German incendiary blitz on England during the same period.

Each year the U. S. loses the equivalent of a full strength infantry division through deaths by fire: 10,000 persons killed annually. The non-fatal burn casualties would decimate the equivalent of several more divisions.

The Coconut Grove fire in Boston killed 492 persons. This loss of life was greater than that suffered by American troops in the invasion of North Africa.

There are more than 650,000 fires in the U. S. annually.

Fire each year burns over forest lands equal in area to New York State.

Nearly 1,000 fires occur in homes daily, averaging about $500 per loss.

A single fire recently left 140 Long Island families homeless. Two months later so few of these families had been able to find homes that New York State had to requisition apartments for them.

Nineteen per cent of all home fatalities are caused by burns. And for every fatality, many more persons are permanently disabled or scarred.

Mrs. Dorothy Mae Fisher and little daughter have returned home from an extended visit to various points in Oregon and California.

Mrs. Bernard Stodghill of Wink, Texas, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rogers, over the week end.

Mrs. J. W. Medley of Haskell and Mrs. Frank Ford of Weinert visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren last Sunday.

FIXING UP the HOME

CHEST UNDER WINDOW

ONE of the charms of old houses is the bay windows found in them and the window seats that provide a view of the outdoors in sunny or rainy weather and a place to sit alone with one's thoughts. The small size of the average modern house or apartment makes a bay window impossible but the space below a window may be used advantageously to capture some of the charm of the houses of the last century. A cedar hope chest veined in woods to harmonize with the other furnishings of your room, may be banked with pillows or topped with a colorful cushion to become a window seat. Thus, you will make use of space that would otherwise be wasted. And, in addition to the beauty and extra seating space given your living room, you will have increased storage space of the best possible kind for your woollens and furs.

The rich fragrance of red cedar wood is the best of all weapons against the menace of moth damage. The aroma, so pleasant to human beings, paralyzes moth larvae so that they are unable to eat. Consequently they starve to death leaving fine fabrics and furs untouched. The airtight construction of the modern cedar hope chest is a guarantee against damage from dust as well.

Dr. Newsom To Give Emergency Radio Service

Dr. Robert L. Newsom, WKOW, Munday, Texas has been selected to set up an organization of local amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communication in time of disaster, it was announced today by Communications Manager F. E. Handy of the American Radio Relay League, national association of radio amateurs.

Dr. Newsom's assignment, which carries the title of Emergency Coordinator, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in his community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of normal station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations using self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment are needed.

Dr. Newsom, as ARRL Emergency Coordinator, will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions. His duties also include liaison planning with the local chapter of the American Red Cross and other relief agencies, as suggested in the working understanding the ARRL Emergency Corps has with the national headquarters of the American Red Cross and other agencies. Liaison will be established also with local protective services, such as fire and police departments.

In announcing the appointment, Handy pointed out that radio amateurs have traditionally had the responsibility of being in constant readiness to offer assistance in time of need with ham-acquired skill, emergency-powered transmitters and a wealth of community spirit. "When sleet storms disrupt telephone and telegraph service, or floods isolate whole communities," the League's Communications Manager said, "it is amateur radio that comes to the rescue with operators and self-powered equipment, often as the sole agency able to transmit messages calling on the outside world aid for the stricken community."

"To be prepared for this function requires not only a highly organized program of preparedness locally," Handy continued, "but hams outside the disaster area must be prepared to act as outlets and relay points for emergency traffic. Planning and organization are necessary in either eventuality, and that is the job Dr. Newsome is doing for this area."

The War Emergency Radio Service, the Communications Section of the Office of Civilian Defense, was widely supported by radio amateurs during the war. This agency was terminated by the Federal Communications Commission on November 15th last. This returned the far-reaching responsibility for emergency communications to the nation's hams.
