G. W. Russell, a resident of Knox county for over 30 years, passed away last Monday evening at Carlsbad, New Mexico. He had been in poor health for some time.

Mr. Russell came to Knox county from Baylor county in 1911. He was engaged in farming here for many years, retiring some three years ago. About two years ago he and Mrs. Russell moved to Carlsbad, New Mexico, to make their home.

Born in Malvern, Ark., on January 31, 1873, Mr. Russell was 73 years, 9 months and 25 days of age.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. G. W. Russell of Carlsbad, New Mexico; three sons and four daughters, who are:

He is also survived by 15 grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Funeral services were held from the First Baptist church in Munday at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor. Burial was in the Johnson cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of local arrangements.

Mrs. Sanders Of Haskell Passes Away Tuesday

Mrs. Fred T. Sanders, 61, of Haskell and former resident of Munday, passed away at the Haskell hospital at 1 a. m. Tuesday, following a heart attack.

A prominent church and club woman, Mrs. Sanders was the wife of a Haskell gin operator and U. S. government weather observer at Haskell. She was born in Mason county January 1, 1885 and moved from Munday to Haskell in 1905. She was a former member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church of Haskell.

Funeral services were held from Haskell Methodist church at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Jordan Grooms, pastor. Burial was in Willow cemetery at Haskell.

Murray, Canyon; Oswald Cole Rule; Harland Hester and Gayden Post, Fort Worth, and five grandchildren.

Cotton Insurance Offered Farmers

Federal crop insurance on the 1947 cotton crop is now being offered for sale to every cotton farmer in Texas. State Director B. F. Vance of the Production and Marketing Administration has announced. Insurance contracts will be signed in county ACA offices.

Under the 1947 insurance plan, farmers are being offered a wider choice on the amount of insurance they can buy. Coverage may be made for as low as 40 percent of the average yield and as high as 75 percent Vance says.

All-risk insurance, which protects the crop against any unavoidable hazards, goes into effect when cotton is planted and continues until it is ginned. The amount of insurance increases as the crop grows, because more costs have been incurred and the crop is worth more to farmers, Vance explains.

"Demand for all agricultural products promises to continue at high levels and no farmer can afford a crop failure when protection can be bought cheap. Crop insurance will help bridge the financial gap if losses occur," the PMA official states.

Representative Of Vets Administration To Visit Munday

L. T. Nance, contact representative of the Veterans Administration, serving out of the Childress office, was here one day last week and announced that he will visit Munday on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. He will be at the Red Cross office from 1:30 to 4:45 p. m.

Mr. Nance offices in the courthouse at Childress. He made the following statement:

"It is our purpose to interview veterans and their dependents on such matters as pensions, insurance, hospitalization, education, on-the-job training, and other rights and benefits.

"Veterans keep your National Service Life Insurance. You cannot afford to lose it. You may reinstate your lapsed insurance policy by paying two monthly premiums. In event of your death, you may now have your insurance payable to your beneficiary in one sum, and three other optional modes of settlement. Be sure to inquire about the provisions of the insurance act of August 1, 1946."

Will C. Grant and Mr. Roberts, both of the Lone Star Gas Company's office in Dallas, were here last Tuesday, meeting with old friends and attending to business matters.

Local 4-H Club Leader Named On Tractor School

Jim Paults, local 4-H leader and farm operator on the Legue ranch, was selected this week to attend a tractor maintenance clinic for adult 4-H leaders to be held at College Station, on December 10, 11 and 12th. This clinic is being sponsored by the Texas Extension Service in cooperation with the Agricultural Engineering Department of Texas A. and M., and the Stanolind Oil and Gas company, according to J. M. Carpenter, local county agent. The Stanolind Oil and Gas Company through the national committee on boys and girls club work will pay the expenses of the 4-H club leader.

Knox county was selected along with Young county from district 3 to send leaders to this course. The aim of this course, for leaders, is not only drill them on the subject matter, which should be relatively easy for tractor operators, but to teach them to teach 4-H club boys.

Principal topics to be covered during this three day program include the following:

1. Training opportunities for local volunteer leaders.
2. Information, training aids and a program of daily services in farm tractor operation and maintenance.
3. Awards in recognition of individual achievement to stimulate the formation of good habits in maintenance of farm machinery.

Baptist Group Served Dinner Monday Night

An enthusiastic group of young church workers, including members of three Sunday school classes and the "Singspiration" group, enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner at the local Baptist church annex last Monday night.

The young people hold their "singspirations" regularly, and this event was a highlight of their church activities. They receive much inspiration from the meetings.

The delicious dinner was prepared and served by the following ladies: Meses. B. L. Blacklock, W. H. Albertson, D. C. Swindle, J. J. Keel, and Miss Leona Keel.

D. C. Swindle acted as toastmaster for the program. A girls' quartet composed of Carolyn Bowden, Virginia Ruth Albertson, Mary Lou Nelson and Elizabeth Smith made a great contribution to the program with their songs. Piano selections were rendered by Mr. Merle Jenkins, band director in the local schools, and the program was concluded by an inspirational talk by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Albertson.

Forty-eight young people and eight adults enjoyed this banquet.

Bonds Sold For Paving Project

Bonds in the amount of $50,000 which were voted in a recent city-wide election for the purpose of paving and drainage projects for Munday, have been sold to a San Antonio firm, it was stated this week.

The bonds have been printed and were received here Monday for the Mayor's signature.

It looks like things are shaping up for paving and drainage work in Munday. However, as stated before the election, this work will not be started until material and labor becomes available.

Local Schools To Have Holidays

Supt. W. C. Cox announced Tuesday that classes in the Munday Public Schools would be suspended on Wednesday afternoon of this week, and will reconvene next Monday morning.

Thursday and Friday will be observed as the Thanksgiving holidays by the local school. This is a custom that has been followed for a period of several years.

Besides giving the students a welcomed holiday, this arrangement also gives teachers an opportunity to visit relatives at home for Thanksgiving.

Scientific Research Looks for Cure

Tuberculosis has resisted efforts of scientists to find a drug which will cure tuberculosis, but the scientists refuse to be discouraged. Medical research hopes one day to conquer this deadly disease. Christmas Seal funds help finance medical research.

Farm Committee Elections Are Slated In County December 5th

Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee, today issued a final appeal to farmers to attend their local farm program committee elections. These elections will be held on December 5, 1946, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., at the following places:

Gilliland, AAA office; Vera, school building; Goree, W. W. Coffman's office; Rhineland, Union gin; Munday, P. C. A. office; Sunset, school building; Knox City, legion hall.

Three regular committee members and two alternates will be chosen in each community. A delegate also will be elected to the county convention, which later will choose the county committee of three members.

"Farmers have a big voice in national farm programs through the farmer-elected committeemen system," Mr. Partridge said. "A good turnout will show that they believe in this way of running the programs."

"The coming year is sure to bring new reconversion problems, and the committeemen will have heavy responsibilities. By casting their ballots, farmers can make sure that the men administering the programs are the men most familiar with local needs. We hope that every eligible farmer will take time to vote."

MRS. HART SUFFERS STROKE LAST MONDAY

Seymour Judge Dies Of Shotgun Wound Tuesday

A verdict of death by suicide was returned by Justice of the Peace Claude Fancher of Seymour in the death Tuesday at 4:45 p. m. of Robert Jones, 53, judge of Baylor county. Jones was killed instantly by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun which hit him in the temple as he stood behind his parked car in the Seymour city park.

Parkkeeper Jess Knight who summoned a physician after the shooting, reported that he was walking through the park when he saw Judge Jones step from his car. Thinking that Jones was having car trouble, Knight approached but before he reached the automobile, he heard a gun fire. Rushing to the spot, he found Jones slumped behind the vehicle, the gun by his side.

Jones had reported borrowed the gun to go duck hunting.

One of Seymour's most prominent residents and a native of Baylor county, Jones had served as county clerk 12 years and as county judge six years. He was defeated in the recent election in a race for representative of the 113th district. A deacon in the First Baptist church and choir leader for many years, he was also active in civic affairs.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Jack Jones and Mrs. Bob Farr, both of Seymour; two brothers, Taylor W. Jones of Dallas and J. D. Jones of Austin; two sisters, Mrs. Burnett Jones of Van and Mrs. Ira Anderson of Plano.

Funeral services were incomplete Wednesday morning.

TOO OPTIMISTIC

Americans are an optimistic lot. Most of us apparently figure that misfortune may come to the other fellow, but not to us. That, at any rate, is one way of accounting for our incredible laxity in regard to that great destroyer, fire.

We pride ourselves on being humanitarians—and we permit fires that destroy more than 10,000 lives every year in the most horrible manner possible. One of our principal current problems is the shortage of building materials—and so we carelessly allow some $600,000,000 worth of virtually irreplaceable property to go up in smoke in a twelvemonth. We talk about our clean, modern homes—and we litter them with the debris that is staring point of a large proportion of dwelling fires.

Here is inexcusable prodigality. Rich as we may be, we can't afford that waste—and, financial values to one side, all the dollars on earth can't replace a single life. It is literally true that fire is more destructive than war—and fire is an enemy with whom we can sign no peace treaty, but we can lick him.

Every American must know the simple precautions that will prevent most fires—proper upkeep of heating and electrical equipment, care of inflammable debris. We all know what we should do and it is up to us to proceed accordingly.

A DIRTY LITTLE TOWN

Don't the town ever clean up its streets?

This query was shot us from a visitor from San Antonio last Friday.

"I've traveled over 26 counties to the south and west of here during recent months," he said, "and Munday is the dirtiest d-- town I've seen anywhere. Why, there's so much dirt at the curbs of your main street that it looks like just a narrow strip of pavement down the center. Why don't they hire a negro buck to clean them up? Why don't they tax each business house so much for this purpose? Why don't they hang the mayor?"

All the time he was making himself to unpopular with us, we entertained the idea of saying that nobody here sent for him—and if he didn't like our town, he could leave any time he got ready.

Then we got to looking around. Munday really is a "dirty" little town. And that's the kind of impression we made upon one stanger in our midst!

Do not forget that an honest, wise zeal, a lowly, triumphant trust, a true heart, and a helping hand constitute man, and nothing less is man or woman—Mary Baker Eddy.

Just in proportion as a man becomes good, divine, Christ-like, he passes out of the region of divorcing into the region of benevolent activities.—Horace Mann.

SECURITY FOR FARM FAMILIES

Cash income of American farmers this year will be the highest in history, nationally speaking, what are farmers going to do with this bumper harvest of extra cash? Spend it on scarce goods at high prices, or salt it down against the inevitable day when the long green won't be so plentiful, but will get you more for a dollar?

Farm folks take pride in their common sense. There's only one common sense answer: PLAY IT SAFE. Save all you can while you've got it to save. And be sure to put it in a barn that can't blow down in any financial storm that may come.

The Department of Agriculture already is warning of a possible drop in farm income next year. A recent bulletin of the American Bankers Association's Agricultural Commission says: "Gross farm income remains high—but production expenses are increasing, so farmers need to be prepared for a net income which may be materially reduced. Previous experience, following World War I, indicates that when—prices in general start to recede from wartime high levels, the prices of farm products drop faster and farther than the prices of things that farmers buy."

This ABA bulletin shows no waverage prices for farm products compare with the 1910-14 average as 100, a peak of 204 at the end of the first World War, dipped to 125 in the 1921 slump, climbed to 155 by 1925 then tobogganed to 70 in 1932-33. Translate those figures into terms of farm mortgages foreclosures by the hundreds of thousands and cash-hungry farmers by the millions and they point their own moral. A farmer needs a financial reserve; it's just as important to him as good land, livestock, buildings and equipment.

The best reserve he can build up is a little bale of U. S. Savings Bonds. They spell security for old age, sound sleep o' nights, better education for the children, better buildings and equipment for farming living and living and, always, funds to fall back on in case of need. The ABA bulletin advises bankers to "encourage farmers to retain their U. S. Savings Bonds and other liquid assets—A strong reserve will enable farmers to buy needed material and equipment when available and well also provide a cushion against a drop in farm income."

Phosphorus Used To Prevent Creeps

Lacking phosphorus enough in their feed, cattle may develop nutritional diseases the most common of which is known as "creeps." For a remedy, scientists recommend phosphorus compounds dissolved in the drinking water or mixed with feed. Bonemeal fed in a self feeder is a convenient way to supply phosphorus. For prevention there is a third and indirect method of improving the phosphorus supply fertilizing ranges and pastures with a superphosphate.

There are many areas in the United States where the natural phosphorus supply is low, according to W. H. Black of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Some of these lie along the Gulf Coast and the eastern seaboard. A strip low in phosphorus supply extends from central Texas to well up in to Canada. In this mid-continent strip the phosphorus deficiency is increased in periods of dry weather which check the ability of range plants to extract enough phosphorus from the soil to supply the needs of the west and of the horned frog, who will be a legend centuries from now, have been written. They are in a new book, "Cowtown Columnist," of which the author is one Boyce House.

The volume contains the cream of eight years' "columning" for this and many other papers and five years' broadcasting about Texas history, adventure, romance and legend.

There are first-hand stories which were obtained from J. E. Cooper, long-time editor of the Williamson County Sun, who knew the famous gun-fighters, John Wesley Hardin and Ben Thompson, personally. In the book, Tom Bendy of Eastland tells about the time he disarmed Hardin, who was credited with killing 40 men; and Sterling Price Buster tells about his friend, Bob Ollinger, the last man that Billy the Kid killed.

I was lucky enough to discover an unpublished poem by O. Henry, too and it is included.

Did you know that the first man in the history of the world to fly was a Texan?

And that the last battle of the Civil War was fought in Texas, weeks after Lee's surrender?

That Old Spanish Fort actually was an Indian fort and the scene of a big battle when Spain ruled Texas?

And that Texas used to have camels?

The only monument erected by Southerners to the memory of Union soldiers is in Texas?

Besides all these stories, "Cowtown Columnist" tells about Harley Sadler, famous tent-showman; Big-foot Wallace; the "White Indian"; Capt. Bill McDonald of the Texas Rangers; Sam Bass; Cynthia Ann Parker; the trial of the Indian Chiefs at Jacksboro; wolf-hunting and famous wolves; of how J. R. Couts, single-handed, shot it out other colorful Texas events, many of which never before have been published in any book.

The indirect method of fertilizing with phosphate usually improves the yields as well as the quality of forage, Black points out. But in extremely dry areas the added yield of forage and increased beef may not pay for the fertilizer. In Texas the Bureau of Animal Industry in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the King Ranch is experimenting with phosphate fertilization of range areas to find out how much increase in yield results from application of phosphate and over how many grazing seasons an application of fertilizer will continue to improve forage and beef production.

Di-sodium phosphate fed in self-feeders or dissolved in the drinking water has also proved satisfactory as a means of controlling and preventing phosphorus deficiencies in range cattle. Black suggests that as the chemical market gets back to normal after the war the cattlemen are likely to find the mono-ammonium or mono-sodium phosphate salts more economical sources of phosphorus than the di-sodium salt for use in watering tanks. During the war these salts were short in supply.

Veterans News

The Veterans Administration will provide the most modern facilities to aid deaf and hard of hearing veterans, according to an announcement this week by VA's medical director.

The program is designed to aid these veterans in rehabilitation, economic independence and adjustment to society and their own communities.

Dr. Norton Canfield, Associate

Professor at Yale University, will be in direct supervision of the program. Dr. Canfield was closely connected with the hearing program of the Army in the Surgeon General's Office during World War II.

There are already 36,000 veterans of World War II who are ear casualties. About 12,000 veterans of World War I are still receiving compensation because of deafness. VA anticipates that there will be about 300,000 veterans in need of attention due to impaired hearing, with in the next 20 years.

Special rehabilitation centers for the deaf and hard of hearing will be set up throughout the country at strategic locations. Here, veterans will be trained and provided with the latest in hearing devices. Veterans who wish to assign their terminal leave bonds to the Veterans Administration as payment on their GI insurance should get the necessary assignment forms from the nearest VA office.

Although VA does not issue the terminal leave bonds, under the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946, the law authorized VA to accept the bonds as insurance payments.

When a bond is used for insurance premium payments, it must be assigned in its entirety, VA said. Any balance above the amount necessary to make the desired payment will be credited to the veteran's account and will be used to pay future premiums unless otherwise requested.

Questions And Answers

Q. Does a veteran who is going to school under the G. I. Bill have to report money he earns through overtime work?

A. The veteran must report those wages received for the standard work period of the establishment where he is employed, including overtime work customarily scheduled. It will not include occasional overtime beyond the standard work period of the establishment.

Q. I am taking training under the G. I. Bill and am working at night for which I receive the usual 10 per cent differential. Do I have to report this differential to the Veterans Administration in making a report of my income?

A. Yes. Both the base pay and the 10 per cent differential would be included as wages in determining the rate of subsistence allowance payable and accordingly must be reported by the veteran and the employer.

Q. Can my subsistence allowance be apportioned in event my wife and I decide to operate?

A. Yes. The subsistence allowance is subject to apportionment on the basis of 70 per cent to the veteran and 30 per cent for the wife. Further apportionment may be made in the case of children.

Q. Is a veteran following a course of vocational training entitled to a vacation during the time he is in training?

A. Yes. A leave of absence may be granted but not to exceed 30 days in any consecutive 12 months.

Q. Will subsistence allowance reduced during the leave of absence or vacation of the veteran?

A. No. The veteran will be considered as pursuing his course of vocational rehabilitation while on vacation and will be paid accordingly.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Lesson In Conservation

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, chatting over a glass of beer—when the talk turns to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Judge Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far bigger problem when it comes to conservation—and that's preserving our democratic way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

From where I sit, the Judge is right. All America's great resources, our abundant natural wealth, are lost the minute we lose the right to work them as free people in a free land!

Whenever you see or hear of an encroachment on our rights—whether it's the right to free speech, or the right to vote as we see fit, or the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in licensed, law-abiding places... watch out!

Drivers Told To Ease 'Er Up In Freeze-Up

Sixty-five per cent of all traffic accidents in four typical snow belt states last winter occurred on snowy and icy road surfaces, the National Safety Council reports. In many of the snow belt states, more than 25 per cent of year-around traffic accidents happened on such surfaces.

The Council in launching its annual campaign for safe winter driving, cited the fact that winter hazards annually cause an increase in death rates varying from 24 to 53 per cent higher than the summer rates in the northern half of the nation.

Engineering studies made by the committee on winter driving hazards show that principal causes of high winter accident rates are inadequate traction and poor visibility. Both of these factors can be controlled to some extent, the Council pointed out.

The committee made the following suggestions to drivers in its campaign to cut the winter accident toll:

1. When starting out, get the "feel" of the road by trying your brakes while driving slowly and when no other vehicles are near.

2. On wet, snowy or icy roads, reduce your speed so that you can stop in time if faced with an emergency. Remember, you may find icy spots on bridges or shaded sections of an otherwise clear road surface.

3. When you have to stop, apply brakes lightly and intermittently. Jamming on brakes may lock them and throw the car into a dangerous skid.

4. Keep windshield and windows clear of snow and ice outside, and fog and frost inside.

5. Use tire chains on ice and snow. They may reduce braking distances as much as 40 or 50 per cent and provide needed "go" traction. They are no "cure-all" but they are indispensable under severe snow and ice conditions.

6. Although synthetic rubber tires are now about equal to natural rubber in wear and braking abilities on dry concrete, they do not provide as good stop-and-go traction on snow and ice. Use greater precaution with them.

Sunset Club Has Meeting Nov. 21st In Wyatt Home

Mrs. Gill Wyatt was hostess to members of the Sunset Club on November 21. The president conducted a short business session.

Mrs. W. E. Peck gave a report of the last county council meeting, and Mrs. T. J. Partridge reported on the party at Trascott which the ladies attended on Thursday.

The club voted to have a bake sale soon, at which time cookies, dressed hens, butter and whipping cream will be for sale at the home of Mrs. Wyatt. The Christmas party was also planned, and the ladies will entertain their husbands with a buffet supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hicks on December 19.

Pencil and paper games were led by Mrs. L. Womble. Refreshments were served to the following:

Mmes. T. J. Partridge, Charlie McAfee, W. E. Peck, Jerry Nix, Joe B. Roberts, Dee Perry, R. M. Almanrode, Bob Jarvis, Don Davidson, L. Womble, Bob Hicks, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be December 5 in the home of Mrs. Don Davidson.

Postal Receipts Higher In Texas

Austin.—Postal receipts in 57 Texas cities in October increased 20 per cent over September, according to reports compiled by the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. While October normally shows an increase over September, this year's rise was unusually good, being exceeded only twice in the last ten years. A year ago, October receipts increased 22 per cent over September, and in 1944 between the same months the increase was 20 per cent.

The rise over last month was statewide, with only 3 cities out of the 57 showing a decrease. The largest increase was in Brownsville, with 96 per cent.

In comparison with a year ago, October receipts were up 1 per cent.

FIXING UP the HOME By Diane Greeter

KEEP KITTY HAPPY

THE companionship of a cat or kitten in the home is sometimes marred by the animal's destructive habits. Cats have a natural urge to keep their claws very sharp and a fine oriental rug or a good heavy piece of upholstery material makes a very fine sharpening surface. It is a little hard, however, on the furniture.

Give kitty a good sharpening post and a training course and your troubles are over. You can make one of these "clawing posts" very easily with a piece of 4" by 4" lumber about 18" long, a piece of old carpet large enough to cover the post and a handful of catnip. You will also need, as a base, a piece of one inch board large enough for kitty to sit on when clawing.

Nail the post to the center of the base, tack the carpet neatly on the post with the catnip inside the carpet and the job is done. Then, every time kitty puts a paw threateningly toward a chair or rug, scold him and take him immediately to his new toy. If he is watched carefully for about a week and punished each time he errs, he will soon give up his destructive habits.

If you have little room for a post with this large base, put a hook into the top and hang it in a corner of the kitchen.

Messages are brought with the purpose of giving strength and guidance to those who want to be of service in Kingdom Building. Visitors are always welcome and there is more time for visiting and fellowship in the evening hour than in the morning worship.
The program is the effort of our church to minister to you and your spiritual life. We can do only this much and the use you make of it is your responsibility. Balance Urged In Farming For Cotton Belt

Editor's Note: This is the 4th of a series of articles, "Better Balance in '47," published as a service to farmers and stockmen.)
How much cotton to plant in 1947? With favorable prices and the acute need for cotton and cottonseed products, it will pay most cotton belt farmers to plant a larger proportion of their adapted land in cotton next season than they have in recent years. How much to increase will depend on the land, available labor and equipment, and other factors, varying with each farm.

In 1947, many farms can use cotton to secure cash dividends from their soil conservation program. These are farms where much of the best cotton land has been given a rest in recent years. Soil-building crops have improved the fertility of this land. It is now ready to "pay off" in the form of higher yields per acre, at a time when high lint and seed yields also promise to have high market value. Many of these farms will decide that 1947 is a good year to bring cotton back into their crop rotation.
Livestock feed requirements will also be an important factor in determining cotton acreage on many farms. These farms have increased their dairy or beef herds or other livestock production, or plan to do so next year to take advantage of favorable prices. They have grass and grains, but need more protein to use these feeds efficiently. Supplying cottonseed meal and hulls, increased cotton production offers these farmers essential feeds as well as added cash income. Cotton is the "balancer" these dairy and livestock farms need most to round out their farm program.

Turkey meat consumption is becoming less seasonal, as a larger proportion of birds are being consumed in the "off-season"—February to August.

Farmers in the U. S. spent about 4.3 billion dollars for the operation and maintenance of power and machinery in 1945.

Frozen Food Lockers Gaining

The number of frozen food locker plants in the United States increased 1,561 between July 1945 and July 1946, bringing the total to 8,025 the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Eight previous annual surveys have each shown an increase, but last year's is much the largest. The information compiled by K. F. Warner, the Department's extension meat specialist was from reports of State extension services and the Farm Credit Administration.
The 8,025 plants contain about 3,266,000 individual lockers and provide storage for almost 1 and one fourth billion pounds for about 2,500,000 families. Approximately three-fourths of the locker patrons are farmers. In July 1946, Iowa had 655 frozen food locker plants more than any other State. Others leading in this food-storage development are Washington, 495; Wisconsin, 473; Illinois, 450; California, 438; and Texas with 402. The remaining States have widely varying numbers. The survey showed many new plants are under construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Guffey and family were visitors in Rochester last Sunday.

Carl Mahan of Abilene was here two days last week, visiting with friends attending to business matters.

FIXING UP the HOME

Hot Water is an Easy Luxury
ONE feature that the modern homemaker will certainly not ignore in planning a new home or remodeling an older one is abundant hot water. The value of hot water in protecting health, furthering comfort, and shortening hours of household work is well understood by home economists. The easy and obvious means of supplying the home with abundant hot water is an automatic gas water heater which will deliver water at desired temperatures and in desired quantities at the turn of a faucet. Modern methods of fuel distribution make this indispensable household tool available all over the country. In the cities, utility gas provides the perfect fuel for water heating because of its cleanliness, speed, and economy both in cost and in space required for the heating unit. In the suburban or country or farm home, liquefied petroleum gas—"bottled" or "tank" gas—give the same service and are supplied by dealers whose delivery systems blanket the nation, leaving no home more than one mile from a scheduled route. It should always be remembered in selecting a heater, that need for hot water varies with the seasons, the number in the family, and other factors. A heater with capacity exceeding the greatest expected demand is a wise choice. It will insure uninterrupted satisfaction.

Because the answer to a question like that is complex, it is easy for people to pick up mistaken impressions. For the sake of the record, let's take Mr. A-C apart and see who he really is.

WHO IS CAPITAL?

Capital doesn't wear a silk hat at Allis-Chalmers. "Capital" consists of 23,100 stockholders who own an average of less than 110 shares each. Mr. Capital might be a grocer, a farmer, a widow, a school teacher, or YOU. He might be a company employee in the office or shop or an officer of the company.

No one individual or family owns more than 1/5 of 1 percent of the total stock of Allis-Chalmers.

This is an example of democratic ownership distinctive in the history of large corporations.

WHO IS LABOR?

The man who works in the shop is spoken of in the newspaper as "labor."

Actually he may be a part of Management by reason of some suggestion he has made to improve a process or a product.

Actually he may be a part of Capital through ownership of company stock.

The fact that he works with his hands makes him no less a part of Allis-Chalmers than the man or woman who works at a desk. The terms "Capital," "Management," and "Labor" are indefinite and overlapping. Many a man who works in the shop is actually a part of all three groups.

Introducing Mr. A-C

Who then is Mr. A-C? He is a combination of 23,100 stockholders, 25,000 employees, and more than 10,000 suppliers.

He symbolizes a company in which no individual or family owns more than 1/5 of 1 percent of total stock.

His is a company which contributes something to better living in nearly every home in America—in supplying machines to grow and process food, generate electricity, pump water, build roads, produce building materials.

Quite somebody, Mr. A-C! It takes the right hand, left hand, head, heart and pocketbook to achieve such results. No one part of him can do the job alone.

Sister Kenny To Visit Texas In December

Austin.—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famous Australian nurse, and an exponent of a new and quite successful method of treating infantile paralysis will pay Texas an official visit during the first week in December, according to advices received here by George C. Francisco, Jr., of Houston, chairman of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation. A state campaign is now underway to raise the Texas quota of $150,000 in the annual campaign for funds to keep the Kenny method of treating polio on the upward path.

State Headquarters here at the Driskill Hotel announced that the tentative schedule for Sister Kenny in Texas would be Dallas, December 4; Houston, December 5; San Antonio, December 6, and Fort Worth, December 7.

She will confer with county chairman, members of the Texas Executive Committee, and workers in the campaign while she is in the state, according to State Headquarters here at the Driskill Hotel.

It was reported here at State Headquarters that more than thirty Texas counties have already passed their quota. Mr. Francisco made a statewide appeal for funds and said that contributions could be mailed to State Headquarters. Plans of the Texas Committee are to use funds in sending graduate nurses to Minneapolis for training as Kenny Technicians and to make the Kenny treatment of polio available to every victim in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene W. Harrell and daughter, Natalie, left Tuesday afternoon for Oklahoma City to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Harrell's mother, Mrs. Parkhiser, and with other relatives.

DAIRY AUTHORITIES AGREE

"It is generally recognized by authorities on dairy feeding that dairy cows will not produce a maximum of milk unless protein is supplied in sufficient quantities"—Mississippi Experiment Station Bulletin 401.

"Sufficient quantities" of protein are not available for dairy cattle of this section, today, chiefly because of reduced cotton production.

. . . IT TAKES PROTEIN TO MAKE MILK

Increased cotton production next season is the only way to insure supplies of cottonseed meal needed by dairy Cattle and other livestock.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN.—Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, and whooping cough has yet been developed for its prevention or control. We do know, however of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health

Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows, or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these centers and spreads it to the others. Oftentimes a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguard against this disease are to have each child examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once, and if he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followed.

Bright Spot Seen For Home Builders

Waco—One bright spot in the building industry's production picture was reported today by Frank Stevens, executive vice president of Wm. Cameron and Co., Wholesale, and it is good news for people in Texas and adjoining states who are building or planning to build garages. The 100,000th Berry Aluminum Garage Door has just rolled off the assembly lines of the Berry Door Corporation at Wayne, Michigan.

"Building 100,000 doors in a little over a year is something like a miracle in the face of today's material shortages and production difficulties," Mr. Stevens commented. "It is a challenge to the entire building industry. This remarkable production has made it possible to walk into practically any lumber yard in the country and get a garage door without delay. What other building product can equal this record?"

Mr. Stevens pointed out that the Berry Door is produced almost entirely by war veteran labor, and that the firm's 39-year old president, Glenn Berry, is a veteran. More than 80 per cent of the employees of the firm saw service in World War II.

The adoption of wartime techniques, engineering principles, and material is given a big share of credit for the establishment of the outstanding record. The use of aluminum itself, in the large quantities demanded by the door, was made possible by the tremendous expansion of the country's aluminum manufacturing capacity during the war. Roughly, four million pounds of sheet aluminum have been required in the building of these 100,000 doors.

The Berry Door is marketed exclusively through wholesale and door jobbers, Mr. Stevens said, and its retail distribution is accomplished through local lumber and building materials dealers. This is one building product that is plentiful.

Polio Called Jekyll-Hyde Foe of Man

BY EFFIE ALLEY,
Noted Woman Journalist.

In times to come infantile paralysis doubtless will be known as the disease with the double nature, the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the medical world.

First described in 1840, it managed for nearly a century to show the generations of hardworking doctors and research men who studied it, only one side of its personality. It posed—and posed successfully—as a disease which worked on the spinal cord and on that alone.

As such, it was invulnerable. It could not be attacked. No real treatment was possible.

And none would be possible today had not the keen eyes of Sister Elizabeth Kenny, intrepid Australian nurse, surprised this killer and cripple in another guise.

Found at Work

She discovered it at work—not in the spinal cord, where it was inaccessible—but in the muscles, where it could be fought and routed.

This in essence is the whole difference between the old, orthodox idea of polio and the newer, hopeful concept of Sister Elizabeth Kenny.

Medical scientists studying the disease in the usual way, by microscopic examination of dead tissue, saw disintegrated motor nerve cells and diagnosed paralysis.

Sister Kenny, the woman and the nurse who worked with living, suffering patients, quite naturally saw something else. She saw tender, painful, knotted muscles and diagnosed muscle spasm.

Both, of course, were right for infantile paralysis is the disease with a double identity.

The only trouble was that most doctors, knowing so well what took place in the spine, believed that everything took place there. Not knowing that the muscles were sick in and of themselves, they failed to treat them in the acute stage and hence got a great deal more paralysis among their patients than there was any need for.

Prove Theory

It has since been confirmed by many inquiries attested by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that true paralysis occurs at the maximum in only about 20 per cent of the badly affected cases. All the rest—pseudo-paralysis, deformity, muscle weakness—is due to muscle spasm.

Doctors were amazed at this idea and yet, seeing Sister Kenny restore function to muscles they had been sure were paralyzed, many were convinced the Australian nurse "had something." Bearing witness to this, Dr. Alfred Deacon of Canada, said:

Retail Sales On Upswing In October

Austin—Independent retail stores in Texas had a sales increase of 4.2 per cent over September, compared with an increase of 16.2 per cent for the same period in 1945, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. The statistics were compiled in cooperation with the bureau of the Census.

Sales of all types of apparel combined showed a decrease of about one per cent. The greatest month-to-month increase, 10 per cent was in sales by women's specialty shops. Men's and boys' clothing stores continue to make larger gains than any other type of clothing stores included in the report. They reported a rise of 7 per cent during the month, with an increase of 5 per cent over October 1945.
