

Henry Grimes Dies Suddenly Last Monday

Henry Houston Grimes, well known in Munday and surrounding area, died suddenly at his home west of Weibert last Monday afternoon at about one o'clock. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Grimes was converted and joined the Baptist church in Munday in 1934. He did active work in the church as long as his health permitted. In 1937, he completely lost his eyesight, but regained a small portion of his vision a year later.

The family moved to Memphis, Texas, in 1919, and in 1920 Mr. Grimes moved to Knox county. He lived in and around Munday the remainder of the time, except for five years he lived in Littlefield.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. H. H. Grimes of Weibert; two children, Helen Birdine, Melrose, N. M., and Henry Grimes, Jr., Weibert; four grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. I. C. Grimes, Memphis; four brothers, Roy and Jess Grimes, Memphis; Luther, Santa Maria, Calif.; and Elmer, Stockton, Calif.; two half-brothers, Willie Long, Memphis, and Isaac Grimes, Paris, Texas; five sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Long, Stockton, Calif.; Mrs. Eddy Beard, Littlefield; Mrs. Viola Jenkins, Memphis; Mrs. Ruth Jenkins, Littlefield, and Mrs. Ollie Jackson, Buckeye, Ariz.

Red Cross To Begin Drive On March First

March 1st will mark the opening of the 1947 Red Cross fund campaign in Knox county. Prepare now to make your contribution to this local and international cause.

You are all acquainted with the vast services rendered by the Red Cross during the years of war. It is only natural that most of the wartime services be discontinued and that the great emphasis now be placed upon the local community programs. These programs are now being developed and refined to provide many services, such as the teaching of first aid, home nursing, home nutrition, accident prevention and disaster preparedness, which are directed toward the well-being of the community itself.

Knox county has consistently gone over its goal in previous years. Your cooperation and generosity will insure that continued record and the attainment of a successful campaign.

Conservation Supervisors Show An Increased Interest In Soil Conservation

Taxes Become Delinquent On February 1st

Notice is given by tax collecting agencies for Knox county, the City of Munday and the Munday Independent School District that all unpaid taxes become delinquent Saturday, February 1.

Many citizens have paid their taxes during recent months, some paying early in order to take advantage of the discounts offered for early payment. Still others have paid since the first of the year.

It was also pointed out that poll taxes must be paid by February 1, 1947, to entitle citizens to vote in whatever elections are held this year.

Penalties and interest will be added to all delinquent taxes on February 1, it was stated.

You have one more day—Friday, January 31—in which to pay your taxes and avoid this penalty and interest.

Champion Steer Touring Country

"Royal Jupiter," $14,490 short-horn steer recently purchased from Oklahoma A. & M. College by Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., is making a tour of the nation.

The champion steer is traveling in a special built truck, and carried with it is the water and feed to which the animal is accustomed. The truck is air conditioned with large plexiglas windows and venetian blinds. The steer stands on a floor of Fomex rubber to cushion him from the jars of the road.

"Royal Jupiter" is being shown in Vernon on January 31 and in Stamford on February 1. He will probably pass through Munday enroute to Stamford on February 1, and may stop here for a short while in cooperation with the local Firestone dealer store, Blacklock Home and Auto Supply.

Winston Blacklock, manager, has notified the county agent of the showing, and in event any boy who is raising a club calf for this year's show would like to go to Stamford for the showing, the local Firestone dealer will pay expenses of each boy who goes to see the champion.

New Subscription Rate Now In Effect

Ever-increasing costs of materials, supplies and newsprint used in publishing The Munday Times was given as the primary cause of the higher subscription rate which went into effect on January 1, 1947.

These higher costs were absorbed locally as long as possible, and when the publishers decided they must of necessity advance the subscription rates, The Munday Times became one of the last papers in this area to announce the advance.

The rate which now applies to readers of the Munday Times is $2.00 per year in Knox and adjoining counties. The rate of $2.50 per year applies to all subscribers who reside beyond 50 miles of Munday.

Readers, who pay more for everything else they buy, have conformed cheerfully to our advanced rate in most instances. Only two or three objections have been registered.

American Legion To Lay Foundation For Legion Home

Some progress is being made on the new American Legion home in Munday, and Legionnaires report that they are ready to "pour the foundation" for the new building.

Oscar Spann has been employed to be in charge of the work, and Legionnaires labor is wanted on the foundation and other work. It has been agreed to assess each Legionnaire three days of labor, or $20.00. This is expected to raise around $3,000, either in labor or money.

An important meeting of Lowry Post No. 44 of American Legion will be held on Tuesday evening, February 4. At this time the labor situation on the new building will be discussed. All Legionnaires are urged to be present.

The Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, with headquarters at Knox City, at their last Board meeting compiled the accomplishments for 1946. Their annual report showed that 298 farmers and ranchers made applications for technical assistance in soil and water conservation on 248,625 acres. Approximately 200 farmers and ranchers comprising 139,275 acres have joined the District in Soil Conservation District movement, comprising 37 soil conservation groups, and are well on their way toward completing a coordinated soil conservation program which will in time contribute to permanent agriculture.

This annual report also showed accomplishments for the District. Farmers and ranchers cooperating in the District have turned into the following accomplishments by major practices; 12,685 acres of contour cultivation; 1,639 acres of contour crops which include mostly legumes, vetch, peas and clovers; 18,337 acres of crop residue management, this practice includes leaving stalks and stubble on or near the surface of the soil to assist in controlling erosion; 412 miles of terraces; and 30,200 linear feet of diversion terraces built.

A large number of farmers have planted soil improving crops of Madrid and Huban clover, Austrian Winter peas and hairy vetch. To give some idea of how the practice is growing—560 acres were planted in 1945 on a trial basis and 1,639 acres were planted by District cooperating farmers in 1946. Many of the farmers applied phosphate to the legumes.

Weeping Love Grass is now being grown very extensively in the District. In 1944 the District Board furnished enough seed for 2 acres to two farmers for seed production. This year there are over 200 acres of Love Grass planted. Love grass does well on blow sand soil and has been found to be very good grass to tie down sand dunes and to overseed badly eroded areas. Farmers are finding this crop to be a very profitable crop for seed production.

District Supervisors wish to point out that range land is receiving attention as well as cultivated land. Ranchers cooperating in the District program have built 15 stock ponds for water distribution and better distribution of grazing of rangeland. 26,228 acres have been properly stocked or range grass stands improved, thereby controlling erosion and increasing production. 222 acres of range land and retired land have been overseeded to native grasses and love (Continued on Page 8)

Improvement Of Poultry Is Aim Of Local Move

Leland Hannah, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced R. D. Atkinson, chairman, Jim Shockey and E. B. Littlefield as the committee in charge of placing into operation a Poultry Improvement Project for Munday and its trade territory.

The plan is to go into effect this spring when baby chicks will be distributed to 4-H and F. F. A. boys of the vicinity, who express their desire to enter the contest and are selected by the committee. Boys selected will receive, through the committee, a local merchant as a sponsor. The sponsor will help finance the boy's project and the boy in return must contact the merchant prior to receiving the chicks and make a periodical report to his sponsor on how the chicks are progressing. Upon completion of the project, the boy will show 1 cockerel and two pullets in a contest, from which he will receive the prize money. These three chickens must then be given to the committee for sale at public auction, to anyone wishing to purchase them for breeding stock. Only chicks from highest quality, Registry of Performance flocks will be used.

Harvey Lee, City Secretary, who has offered his assistance in the program, announced that he will have the forms for applications ready this week.

Prospective sponsors have announced their intention of doing all they can to help the boys.

4-H club boys should contact J. M. Carpenter, County Agent, and F. F. A. boys should contact Mr. S. D. Martin, Vocational Agricultural Agent.

LUXURIES VS. NECESSITIES

An authority on large-scale merchandising recently made this sage observation: "At the end of the first world war consumers seemed to have money to purchase all the luxuries and then they complained they could not afford the necessities. That seems to be the situation today," he cites the case of a woman who recently bought a very expensive fur coat—and then complained bitterly at an increase in the price of soap which could not add more than five dollars a year to her living expenses.

There are signs that this "silk shirt" attitude is diminishing. A good many are beginning to realize that spendthrift policies are not good for either individuals or the nation. And it is to the credit of retail merchandising that, for the most part, it is not trying to encourage reckless spending—nor is it attempting to profit unduly by charging all the traffic will bear.

The chain stores long ago announced a policy of holding prices to the lowest possible level, whether or not governmental controls existed. The majority of independent stores have pursued a similar policy. And the inexorable laws of competition are taking care of the occasional merchant who wants to exploit the unwary purchaser. Under the competitive system, prices find their own natural level, whether that level be high or low. In any event, it will be the level established by costs and conditions of the time.

BAD MEDICINE

"Socialized Medicine—Bad Medicine for you!" That is the title of an extremely effective article by Michael Wright appearing in Better Homes and Gardens.

Mr. Wright describes how socialized medicine works in Britain, where a single, disinterested doctor will dispose of as many as 40 patients in two hours. He points out that in most communities there are agencies, clinics and hospitals that provide free or low-cost care for the needy. He observes that under socialized medicine, where there is no direct cost to the patient involved, hypochondriacs will swamp the doctors whether there is anything wrong with them or not, thus depriving people who really need treatment of the proper attention, and discouraging the physician. Then, in conclusion, he lays down in words a philosophy that should be the solid foundation for medical care legislation and policy.

"A person who needs help should have it," he writes. "But not in manner that will tear down the quality of medical care to the rest of us."

"Not in a manner that will destroy private practice."

"Not in a manner that will destroy the voluntary hospital system."

"Not in a manner that will give one man control over medical research and education."

"Not in a manner that will bind the physician to political slavery."

There can be no more effective argument against socialized, regimented, or bureaucratized medicine than that. Let the nation remember it.

The Russians have always been vastly impressed with American know-how. One American mechanic who worked in a watch repair shop in Berlin said a Russian walked in with a clock under his arm and requested, "Please take this apart and make wrist watches out of it."

TO SERVE THE PUBLIC

The most compelling argument in favor of laws which would permit unification of the nation's transportation system, is the public interest. Colonel J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, touched on this when he said: "The justification of any transportation system lies in its service to the public. Unification... must ultimately and properly be adjudged upon the basis of its possible public service rather than in the light of its effect upon the number of separate operating units of some particular type of transport."

The essence of unified transportation is it permit any agency of transport to utilize whatever kind of carrier is best suited to the desires and needs of the shipper. A railroad, for example, should be allowed to operate air and truck lines if by so doing it could render better service. The air and truck lines, on the other hand, should be allowed to enter the field of transportation by rail. All carriers would be regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission which would protect both the public and the competing carriers from monopolistic or unfair practices.

At the present time, various laws, regulations and policies stand in the way of the operation of multiple-type transportation systems. As a result, transportation coordination is now impossible except to a limited degree—as in the use of motor vehicles by railroads to make door-to-door delivery of some classes of freight.

Coordination, therefore, must be preceded by enabling legislation passed by Congress. If that is done, the way will be paved for providing the public with the best and most flexible kind of transportation possible. The goal is maximum service with maximum economy. The beneficial effects would grow throughout the years.

STARTING A NEW CYCLE

Just as a political revolt corrects governmental extremes in reform legislation, so does an economic revolt—depression and price and wage collapse—see to restore economic balance. It is, however a costly and dangerous method. The remedy is not to be found in writing more laws but in correcting old laws. It is to be found also in honest and fair administration of the laws—David Lawrence.

The Texas Public Schools

Article III
Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles pertaining to the Texas Public Schools which have been prepared by the Texas State Teachers Association:

Education in the United States is a big business. Out of a total population of more than 130,000,000 people, some 30,000,000 are children of school age; 930,000 teachers are employed, many other thousands are janitors, bus drivers, clerks and general maintenance employees. What about Texas? Out of our 6,500,000 people, 1,500,000 are children of school age between 6 and 18. 46,000 teachers, 4,500 bus drivers, 6,000 janitors, and a large number of clerical employees, cafeteria workers, etc. are employed.

Public attention is focused today on the public schools in the United States to a degree never before witnessed in the history of our country. The exodus of teachers from the classrooms to cause general alarm throughout the nation. It should create alarm, for all superintendents throughout the nation will tell you that the situation is grave.

Since 1941, 350,000 teachers in the United States have left the classrooms. They do not intend to return under present standards. This mass exodus of teachers from the schools has created the most dangerous shortage of teachers in the history of our country. Some of the vacancies have been filled by new graduates, and many more by old teachers coaxed out of retirement. The gap, however, shows no signs of improvement.

In Texas, the situation is in many instances even worse. One out of six teachers in the state are rated as sub-standard in qualifications; 10,000 teachers are in their present job for the first time; 1500 emergency certificates will be granted this year in order to get "someone" in the classrooms. 2,400 classrooms have enrollments of 40 pupils or more. Since 1941, forty per cent of the teachers in Texas have quit; more than 7,000 members of the Teachers Retirement System of Texas during the school year 1945-46 signed under oath a statement that they were quitting the teaching "profession," and withdrew their deposits when school opened because they could not get a "teacher" to take the job. Out of the tens of thousands of students in Texas colleges and universities, fewer than 10 percent are preparing to be teachers.

These conditions are not common to country schools only. Cities are hit just as hard. Their populations have grown rapidly and beyond the school facilities available. Many cities operate a part of their schools on a double shift basis; many classrooms stand during the class period; teaching aids are scarce for the requirements in many instances.

Low pay is the chief reason for such conditions as now exist in the Texas public schools. In Texas, there are approximately 43,500 classroom teachers. Their average salary last year according to pay records in the State Department of Education was only $1493 a year. The "take home" pay for a single teacher, after withholding taxes and five per cent deposits to the Teacher Retirement System, was only 111.35 a month or $25.70 a week, or $3.67 per day. This will not even buy food; pay rent; and buy decent clothes; much less take care of many other necessities of life. The beginning pay in practically any field of employment today is far greater.

What is Texas going to do about the situation? Are the people willing to pay teachers more? It takes money to do the job. Money means taxes. We just as well face the issue in the very beginning. If the salaries of Texas teachers should be increased an average of say $750 each, the cost would be $34,500,000. This is exactly what will be asked of the Legislature of Texas convening January 14.

The Texas State Teachers Association will request the Legislature to provide for a beginning minimum salary of $2,000 for a teacher with a Bachelor's degree; $2,200 for a teacher with a Master's degree, and $2,400 if the teacher has 6 years of college work. For the first 12 years of experience, an annual increase of $54 per year will be requested. Local school districts under the Association's plan can supplement salaries if they desire to do so.

To make this increase possible, a per capita apportionment of $55 will be needed instead of the present apportionment of $35. Additional appropriations for the state schools will be needed making the total increases in state school expenditures approximately $35,000,000 annually.

A part of the increased state per capita apportionment for the school year 1947-48 will have to come from a direct appropriation from the General Revenue Fund of the state. This is permitted under the state constitution by an amendment adopted in 1918. Following the adoption of this amendment, Governor Hobby in a message to the legislature recommended an appropriation from the General Fund of the state to the Available School Fund. The appropriation was made by the legislature in 1919. In his message to the legislature recommending this appropriation, Governor Hobby said: "It is gratifying beyond measure to witness the enthusiastic interests of the people's representatives in that cause which concerns more than any other future of our State. The civic glory of Texas was assured when the pioneer law makers and the early patriots and the early settlers founded the best and highest grade educational system the State's resources would permit. And now, when the resources and the natural wealth of our state are shown to exist in an abundance never dreamed of before, it is fitting to make the large provision for a comprehensive system of education beginning at the bottom and going all the way to the top."

Governor Hobby further said: "The adoption of the amendment to the Constitution on November 7, 1918 authorizing the legislature by appropriation from the general funds of the State to meet such deficiency as may exist for the support of the public schools of the state for a term of not less than six months, makes it possible to bring the common schools of Texas up to the standard of the highest in the Union."

Are these requests out of line with what is being done in other states? The record says no.

Be Quick To Treat "Bronchitis"

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

By Congressman Ed Gossett
Washington, D. C.—The press and radio of late have ballyhooed a so-called settlement of the bitter controversy between the Army and the Navy over the so-called merger or unification of the armed forces. While the high command has tentatively agreed with the President on a so-called unification the matter is far from settled. Simply to have a Secretary of National Defense in the President's Cabinet, and him Secretaries for the Army, the Navy, and the Air Corps, is not unification. The subject will continue to be debated and discussed both on and off the record, and Congress will probably make a good many changes in the so-called agreement.

Many examples of the need for some unification especially in theatre commands could be cited. In the Okinawa campaign some forces were under General MacArthur, a thousand miles to the south in the Philippines. Others were under Admiral Nimitz, a thousand miles to the east on Guam. The strategic air forces were under General Spaatz who was a thousand miles away. Mac-

Arthur reported to General Marshall, Nimitz reported to Admiral King, While Spaatz reported to General Arnold, all in Washington. It is said that the so-called Island Commander actually lacked authority to discipline traffic violators under other branches of the service. Even on tiny Johnson Island with barely enough room for a single air strip, the Army and Navy each maintained its own exclusive personnel and service depots.

Some few months ago I flew with a Major in the Army to Meecham Field in Fort Worth. The Navy personnel at the field refused to service his plane. In far away posts such as Iceland and Alaska, the Army specifies one color and weight of underwear for its men while the Navy specifies a different weight and color, requiring the maintenance of separate supply depots by the separate forces.

The Army and Navy often maintained intelligence service during the war. Efficiency, to say nothing of economy, requires some unification.

Debate still goes on behind the scenes as to the wisdom and procedure of our various trials of war criminals. Two friends just back from Germany this week tell me they fear we have made martyrs and heroes a lot less some leading Nazis in the matter of their trials and executions.

In a leading magazine of this week I find this statement: "Republicans, like Democrats, have their minds on the voter and on the votes. More union members vote than do employers. More people have low incomes than have larger incomes. More local enthusiasm and votes can be had for continued streams of dollars out of Washington than for a check to the dollar flow. What Republicans might like to do, and what they will do, when one eye is glued on November 1948, are two very different things."

There is more truth in this than one likes to admit. Congress is moving much too slowly in the matter of labor legislation and also in the matter of reducing government spending and in balancing the budget. Our national income for 1946 was $164 Billion. This is more than twice our income in any year before the war. Out of such an income we certainly should be able to balance the budget and pay something on our tremendous debt. During 1946 we sold goods and service abroad in the amount of $15 Billion, nearly four times the amount of any year before the war. We also spent 7 Billion abroad which is twice the amount of any pre-war year.

Back in 1940 I was the author of the first amendment enacted by Congress for the discharge of Communist from the public payrolls. This week Secretary of War Patterson very properly sustained the dismissal of five communists from the public payrolls.

All five were former employees at Aberdeen Proving Grounds. All were officials in the local United Public Workers Union (CIO). Some 40 employees have recently been discharged from the State Department on grounds of questionable loyalty. The public payrolls should be purged of all communists and fellow travelers.

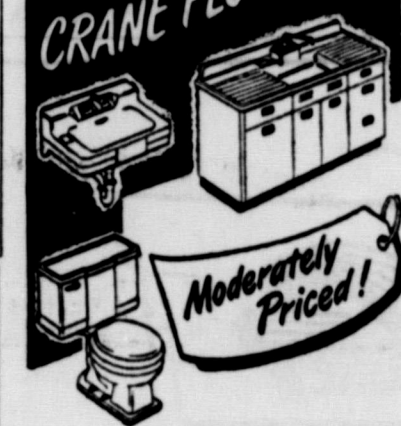

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—"Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable diseases from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of the knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is true that tuberculosis no longer is first on the list of killing diseases, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having reduced to fifth place in Texas, it still is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied. Treatment of the early recog-

U. S. D. A. Laboratories Carrying On Research To Develop Synthetic Fibers

Each of the four Regional Research Laboratories of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is working to develop or improve a synthetic fiber from a different agricultural product. These fibers are not intended to replace natural fibers. Research men believe these synthetics may have qualities that will improve the natural fibers when the two are mixed.

All these experimental synthetic fibers are low in "wet strength." Many will understand that term by recalling that wartime rayon stockings needed to dry 48 hours because they tore so easily when wet. One research objective is to find ways to increase wet strength. The Southern Laboratory has a new fiber, Sarelon, from peanut protein—of a light cream color and a texture reminiscent of both silk and wool. In heat-insulating and moisture-absorbing properties it resembles wool. It shrinks little and dyes well.

A fiber called zein, from corn protein, appears suitable for blending with wool for knitting yarns and woven fabrics. Zein is being produced experimentally at the Northern Research laboratory.

nized case is essential. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives.

"When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all of the other members of the immediate family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up by physicians of known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

This fiber has a rich creamy appearance and a dry strength almost equal to wool. The time required for spinning and finishing zein fibers seems to be less than for other protein fibers. A commercial company is preparing to produce zein fibers on a pilot-plant scale.

At the Western Laboratory, chicken feathers are under test as fiber material. Feathers, as is true of wool, hair, hoofs, and horns, are composed largely of a fibrous protein called keratin. Chicken-feather fiber has been produced experimentally. Its chief weakness is "low wet strength." Feathers are a waste product available in quantity. Industrial utilization of part of the feather would be beneficial. Chicken-feather keratin

by BURTON WILLIAMS

Be Ready for Fire
FIRE is an unwelcome visitor at any time but it can be doubly disastrous if it catches its unwilling host poorly prepared. A few simple fire-fighting tools within easy reach will frequently mean the difference between a minor damage and a major loss.

If at all possible, there should be a fire extinguisher in every large building. A rain barrel filled with water and stacked with buckets is a good protection. Maintain a tool rack containing implements such as pitchforks, shovels, rakes, axes, ropes and wire brooms. Include a flashlight and first aid materials. Have at least two ladders which will reach the roof of the highest building always available. A strip of 12-inch belting attached to a seven-foot wooden handle makes a useful tool for beating out flames.

Protection should extend to the materials used in constructing the buildings. Fireproof materials, such as asbestos cement shingles and sidings, will minimize the danger of fires from windborne sparks and other external causes. Asbestos cement board, used for interior walls and ceilings, will help limit a blaze to the area in which it started.

also can be used in making excellent plastics. Casein fiber, known for years, is being improved at the Eastern Laboratory. Research there has developed a continuous-process for manufacture of casein bristles to substitute for imported hog bristles used in brushes. This process is more economical and yields a fiber more uniform than former methods. A commercial firm is interested in making casein fibers by the new process.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam Hackney Reports on the U.S.A.

Sam Hackney and the missus just returned from a trailer trip around the country. They're tired, and glad to be home, but mighty impressed with what they saw.

As Sam reports—every section has something different; a different way of talking; different tastes in food and drink; different laws and customs. But bigger than all these differences is the American spirit of tolerance that lets us live together in united peace.

"Of course," says Sam, "you run into intolerance from time to time. Individuals who criticize another's right to speak his mind; enjoy a glass of beer; or work at any trade he chooses. But those are the exceptions—and we're even tolerant of them!"

From where I sit, more of us ought to make a trip like the Hackneys—to realize firsthand how America is bigger than its many differences... how tolerance of those differences is the very thing that makes us strong.

At The Churches

CHURCH OF CHRIST

"And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it. . . . And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne." Using the inspired words of John, as recorded in Revelations, the sermon to be delivered during the morning hour of worship this Lord's day will present a picture of you standing before the great white throne. The sermon for the evening worship will be based upon this message found in Joshua: "Achan took of the devoted thing."

The Church of Christ extends a sincere invitation to you to join us in worshipping and serving God. Bible study, 10 a. m.; morning worship, 11:45; young people's meeting, 6:30 p. m.; evening worship, 7 p. m.

May the Lord guide your feet to His assembly this Lord's day.
Robert Gordon Clement, minister.

"SO YOU DON'T LIKE TEXAS," by Virginia Spencer in "Holland's—a Texas magazine":

This is your first trip to Texas, you have been here a few weeks and you are more than ready to go home. Texans are all right, but you just cannot get along with them. The facts are, they get into your hair, and you are annoyed because you let them.

You have been taught that if a thing needs to be done, then do it right now. Texans are a little different. They reason that if you wait until tomorrow or next year, maybe you will not have to do it. It usually works out that way, especially if there is somebody like you around all fired up to do it right now. Which is all right with Texas.

A native Texan would rather sit down and talk it over than get the job done. He likes to talk, and after he has told you his family history, he sits back expectantly, eager to hear you tell yours. If you fail to reciprocate, you are not friendly and, therefore, queer. After patient prodding if he still gets no results, he diagnoses your case. You are just a damn Yankee, which means that you hail from somewhere north of Red River. Lots of "furriners" from up north are real folks once you get to know the; but they are all a little "standoffish" at first.

To you, the "furriner" from up north (which may mean that you are from Kentucky or California) Texans seem nose. It isn't that you have anything to hide, but you wonder why anyone should be interested in things which are strictly, none of their business.

There is only one way you can ruffle the easy going Texan. Ruffle him? You will make him fighting mad if you persist in it. That one thing is to try to change him, to teach him to become like you. He does not want to be like you. He confidently expects to live to put flowers on the graves of people like you, and he usually does. He reasons that if you don't like this country, you can go back where you came from. And sure enough you do.

Or maybe you don't. Possible circumstances detain you a while longer, an unwilling guest, in friendly Texas. What happens?

THERE'S A DEMAND FOR OUR . . .

Baby Chicks

Our customers are being booked far ahead on orders for baby chicks.

Due to heavy demand for our hatches this season, we urge you to book your orders now. You are assured of getting your chicks earlier this way. They may not be available if you wait until you are ready for them.

We have a supply of Red Chain feeds, chick brooders, feeders, water founts, poultry remedies and other needs.

Munday Sanitary Hatchery
Carl George, Mgr.

Do you continue trying to change Mr. and Mrs. Texas into perfect composite of Messrs. and Mesdames Massachusetts, Main, Michigan, and Montana? No, you realize you might as well try to change the miles of grassy plains into a range of snow-capped peaks.

So you admit, a bit grimly perhaps, that Texans are Texans and that is that. And since you cannot change them, you must make the necessary adjustments to get along peaceably with them. But how? The answer is simple. Be yourself and allow them to be themselves. Do your job as it should be done when it should be done, and let their jobs go unless that interferes with your own work. In that instance, you may prod the native gently, and if he does not respond, then do your job and his too. He will smile tolerantly and think you are a sap.

With your drive, your success in Texas is assured. At the height of that success, you take a trip back home. You rush out to see an old friend, to give them the glad hand. The first fellow you meet seems a bit cold, not half as glad to see you as you are him. It could not be that he is jealous of your success. No, impossible. He must be worried about something. Perhaps you were not sufficiently interested in him and his business. Should you look him up again, ask some friendly questions?

You meet some other friends, and they are all alike, lacking in warmth and friendliness. None of them have done as well as you, doubtless due to the stiff competition in that country. But they should not resent your success. No, jealousy was not the answer. But what?

Disappointed in your vacation, you return to Texas, and feel a glow at the prospect of getting back into the old harness. Your Texas friends and acquaintances welcome you back, give you the glad hand; they say they missed you, ask interesting questions, hope you had a nice trip. You are grateful for their interest, flattered by their warm welcome.

Alone, you ponder. What was the matter with the old friends back home? Don't you know? They are the way you used to be. You are a Texan now!

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration has ruled officially that President Truman's recent proclamation ending hostilities has no effect on most laws administered by VA.

Official termination of the war rather than the end of hostilities establishes the deadline for benefits under both the GI Bill (Public 346) and rehabilitation of disabled veterans (Public 16), VA said.

After the official end of the war, VA may guarantee loans up to ten years from that date, start veterans in education or training up to four years, and pay readjustment allowances up to two years.

Disabled veterans training under Public Law 16 face no specific deadline but they must complete their training within nine years after the end of the war.

Non service-connected death and disability rights will be accorded only to those who served between December 7, 1941 and the date of the President's Proclamation, December 31, 1946, VA said.

The VA ruling specified that wartime rates of compensation will continue to apply to service-connected disability and death cases for members of the armed forces until official termination of the war.

Automobiles for amputee veterans of World War II, as provided by Congress, are being delivered in the Dallas Branch Area at an increasing rate, VA reports this week.

Dealers delivered 180 cars to veterans during December, compared to 144 in the three previous months. By month-end 324 veterans had received cars costing the government $509,321.

Disabled veterans already certified eligible for cars included 554 in Texas, 162 in Louisiana and 122 in Mississippi. More than 100 applications are pending.

Under present regulations, the deadline for reinstating lapsed National Service Life Insurance is February 1, 1947, VA reminded veterans this week.

Questions and Answers
Q. Since my discharge from the armed services, I find that I am suffering from a chronic ailment. Am I entitled to anything in the way of compensation or pension because of my disability?

A. Chronic disease causing 10 per cent or more disability within one year from separation from active military service is presumed to have been incurred in, or aggravated by military service. Your service must have been for a period of 90 days or more, part of which was war time service. However, a finding of service connection may be rebutted by evidence showing previous existence of presence of a new ailment which affects the chronic disease.

Q. I was wounded in action in World War I and have a service-connected disability. Can Veterans Administration change my rating from service-connected 20 per cent to non-service-connected total disability at age 65?

A. A World War I veteran receiving compensation for partial disability due to disease or injury incurred in service who's rated permanently and totally disabled for pension purposes, is awarded the greater monetary benefit, if his claim is otherwise appropriate. If the service-connected disability subsequently becomes even more disabling and represents an additional benefit, the payments can be made on that basis.

Q. I have two dependent children. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a nonservice-connected pension?

A. If you believe you are permanently and totally disabled, you should communicate with the Veterans Administration regional office having jurisdiction over your address and forward to that office VA Form 8-526b, together with evidence of your condition.

Q. My son was killed in World War II. He had designated his two sisters as beneficiaries if his G. I. insurance. One of the sisters passed away recently and I would like to know if I have any rights to her insurance benefits?

A. If his sisters were jointly designated beneficiaries or if each sister was specifically designated contingent beneficiary of the other then the death of one sister the other sister would get the share of the one who died. However, if the designation is not joint or each sister was not designated contingent beneficiary of the other, then upon the death of one of the sisters the remaining installments would be paid according to law, National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940 and you may have some rights.

February 15 is the final date for paying fees to participate in University Interscholastic League music events, Rodeny J. Kidd, acting director, says. Fees for all other League competition were due Jan. 15.

Senior News

The Senior's are really industrious with their themes and poetry. Our term theme is on the life and works of an English writer. We have our outlines and are really trying to get our themes in.

We ordered our diplomas today, which took a nice part of our class money, but we are glad to do anything to get out of high school, for good.

The senior boys are now taking business arithmetic, instead of economics. Those guys were really glad to get into something a little easier.

Junior News

The Junior class started practice this week on "Listen to Lester" a three act comedy. We hope to present this play by the 14th of February. The most important act that will take place that night will be the giving away of six pair of nylon! Tickets on these nylons can now be obtained from any member of the Junior Class and one ticket will only cost 10c.

We have lost two members of our class since mid-term. They are Jonnie Mae Ely and Bobby Joe Fitzgerald. Jonnie Mae moved to Seymour and Bobby Joe moved to Goree. Goree not only gained one of our class mates this year but gave us one in exchange. He is Jerry Jones. We are glad to have Jerry and wish Bobby Joe and Jonnie the best of everything.

Freshman News

We are glad to have Joy Jones back with us today after a few weeks of illness.

Our term themes are expected to be in Wednesday. We are all wondering if ours will be one of those late ones.

The Home Economics girls cooked two days last week. The food turned out pretty well.

We are looking forward to the games which will be played here Friday and Saturday. Refreshments will be sold. We are planning to play Monday, Tuesday night and hope to win.

The boys had a 4-H meeting Tuesday.

Sophomore News

Does anyone happen to have any extra work they would like for us to do? With a twenty page theme on our hands we just know we will have time to do it without grumbling.

We are glad to welcome our new coach, Mr. Bledsoe, to Sunset. He also teaches civics, economics, and history. We all think he will be pretty good to get along with.

We are having a time in Home-making class. Each girl is to pretend she has a certain amount of money to furnish her kitchen with when she get married. $500 dollars seems like a lot of money to Audrey but she is wondering how for it will aid her in buying her kitchen equipment. Some rich boy around here isn't wanting to get married is he?

4-H News

The 4-H boys will sell sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts, pie, hot chocolate, milk, and cold drinks all day Saturday and Saturday night, also. From The Texas Capitol

by
 Rep Claude Callaway
 114th District

Texas really and truly had a great day in its capitol city Tuesday last week, and the day was perfect for the inauguration. The ceremonies were beautiful, and with the benefit of the loud speaker system even those who could not see could hear. There was a tremendous crowd in the city from all over the state. There were also many visitors and dignitaries from the Republic of Mexico. At the inaugural balls held Tuesday night the Texas population was intermingled with couples from Mexico and it was easy to see that Mexico and Texas were on excellent terms.

We could hear people everywhere expressing themselves as proud of both their Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers made a brief speech following his inauguration that proved to us who know him and who have been closely associated with him that he is an even greater and bigger man than we had known him to be in our association with him. Gov. Jester, keeping his word to the people, in his brief talk still said that he would keep down the middle of the People's Path in not going to the extreme one way or the other, but interested in Texas, its people, and its problems. One could tell from the spectators that Texans had confidence in Beauford Jester. However, we could hear the expressions and see in the faces of the people that there was something saddening about the loss of the great Coke. It seemed that everybody regretted very much to see him go out of the capitol and would regret more if he should retire to private life. It was also easy to hear everybody comment on every corner about the Attorney General who had been inaugurated a few days before. I will have to admit that when you visit in the attorney general's department you can easily see that there is a feeling of country friendship overshadowed with the dignity and respect of the office and the precision of clockwork. It makes you feel that we really are truly have a great man in our attorney general—Price Daniel.

In the legislative halls, both House and Senate, every indication is that this will be a session of many controversies with many big problems confronting us. However to this date there has been very little real legislation accomplished because there is not much that can be done until committees have been appointed. The announcement of committees will have been made by the time you read this, and Gov. Jester will have given his message Jan. 28. After this time both houses will be down to business. Such questions as to what will be done for a Negro school are discussed in both houses, and it is going to be certain legislation at this session, I feel sure. Other measures such as restricting the state as to the legislative, judicial, and senatorial districts is one of the top subjects. It looks as if the gasoline tax refund has reached a volume of $12,000,000 per year and many of the members will want to reallocate this fund. It would place a four-cent tax on all agriculturally-used gasoline. However, it looks at this time like there is a growing sentiment to put one cent tax on gasoline for farm-to-market roads instead of the four-cent tax.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and daughters visited with relatives in Wichita Falls on Tuesday of last week.

Miss Annette Phillips of Denton spent the week end here with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holder Jr.

Lyndal Partridge, who is attending N. T. A. C. at Arlington, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Partridge.

Mrs. S. E. McStay returned home last Sunday night after spending several days with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dee McStay and son, John, of Vernon.
