

Dr. Pepper Boys Returning Next Monday

Double-Header Game At Local Gym

The Dr. Pepper basketball team of Dallas, which put on such a good show and did almost impossible feats with the basketball here about two weeks ago, is returning to Munday for another game next Monday night.

Dr. Pepper's bunch will be pitted against the powerful Crowell team this time, and they are expected to have more trouble than when they played the local all-stars.

Crowell has lost one game this year, out of the near twenty they have played. They tangled with the powers of Abilene Christian College's team in a three-game series recently, and won two of the games, dropping their only game of the season.

Monday night will feature a double-header, it was announced here Wednesday. The Munday Independents will open the play with another well known team.

It will be an exciting evening for basketball fans, and everyone is invited to come out.

Determined to make Texas a national bulwark against invasion of the foot and mouth disease from across the Rio Grande, Gov. Beauford Jester's first days in office saw him call for, and receive, emergency action by the state legislature.

When Gov. Jester signed an emergency appropriation bill he set in motion a program engaging full resources of all available state agencies, and supported by all allied interests.

Realizing that such a program required full support from the national government, Gov. Jester immediately laid the problem before authorities in Washington, including President Truman, with an urgent request for quick action intended to forestall an epidemic which would result in "an economic loss of millions of dollars if this disease gains a foothold in Texas."

Without waiting for assistance from Washington, all Texas agencies have been thrown into the critical fight against the threat of disaster to the nation's livestock industry.

Goree To Close Up And Follow Team To Abilene

You won't do much business in Goree on Friday afternoon of this week! Goree has produced a winning basketball team, and Goree merchants are "closing shop" almost 100 per cent Friday afternoon to accompany the team to Abilene for the district playoff.

Their first game is slated for 3:30 Friday afternoon at the McMurry College gym, at which time the Wildcats will play Burkett, Coleman county, district 24 winners. If they continue to win, the Wildcats will be slated in games for 9:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 8:00 p. m. Saturday.

The Goree Wildcats defeated each team in the north half of District 12-B in the recent round robin tournaments held at Benjamin and Sunset. This entitled them to a three-game playoff with Woodson, winner of the south half, for district honors.

The first game was played at Woodson, and the Wildcats took a 15-25 licking. But the picture brightened when the Woodson team came to Goree, at which time the Wildcats romped on to a 26-17 victory.

The third and deciding game was played on the neutral court at Throckmorton last Friday night. The Wildcats were out for victory, and downed Woodson this time to the tune of 23-19.

They came home with the beautiful District 12-B trophy, which promptly went on display at Carl Dry Goods show window.

Soon the loyal Goree fans began a movement to close the town up for the regional play, and business and professional people signed almost 100 per cent to close at noon Friday and go to Abilene.

James C. Carver is coach of the winning Wildcats.

"BUYER'S MARKET" RETURNING

In a recent issue of Nation's Business, Vergil D. Reed writes vividly on the subject of "Retailers, Get on Your Toes!" Mr. Reed's thesis is simple but important—the buyer's market is rapidly returning, customers are becoming choosier, are thinking in terms of more and better goods and service for their money. Furthermore, he says, "Mass production is inescapably dependent on mass distribution and aggressive selling of more goods at lower prices. The job retailers do will determine largely both the degree of future prosperity we attain and its stability. Soon production will catch up with accumulated need for goods. When it does, the retailer's job will begin in earnest."

The progressive retailers of this country, chain and independent, are well aware of this trend. New innovations in displaying and marketing goods are being planned and tried. Stores are expanding their stocks of merchandise, to make sure that the maximum number of potential buyers will find what they want. Salespeople are being trained once again in traditional standards of courtesy and good service. Manufacturers' lines are being scanned critically, as buyers search for the best possible quality at the lowest possible price.

On the basis of the last available figures, something like 75 per cent of the retail business of this country is done by independent stores, 21 or 22 per cent by chains and the rest by minor forms of retailing. It is not expected that these proportions will show any particular change. But competition will get keener in all fields—and the merchant who wants his share of the business must get on his toes and stay there. The consumer is boss—and American retailing will spare no effort to see that his needs and desires are met.

JOB-DESTROYING TACTICS

Labor must realize that its future welfare depends upon prosperous, producing industry. Broke industries, depressed industries, don't provide steady jobs at high wages. Yet some of labor's present policies are a direct threat to industrial solvency.

The suits instituted by CIO unions to get retroactive "portal to portal" pay are an extraordinary example of this. These suits will total $500,000,000 and perhaps substantially more. Entirely aside from the legal aspects involved, it is clear that, if all the demands are granted, many companies will be driven into bankruptcy, and many more will be seriously crippled—and forced to drastically curtail operations, purchases and expansion plans. That is the surest of all roads to depression and unemployment.

It is reported that Congress will act on the "portal to portal" problem—perhaps by limiting the time for which the back pay claimed can be awarded. But that, necessarily as it is to the preservation of our industrial structure, does not make the attitude of some labor leaders any less dangerous. These leaders are clearly out to milk business of every possible cent—regardless of the consequences to the country.

Once we forget that a man's earning power must be based solidly upon his productive abilities and enterprise, we are paving the way for depressions and economic dislocations on a terrible scale. That is the real issue underlying the CIO's incredible policies.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH

Within the near future, Congress will begin considering a number of proposed measures designed to improve the public health. And when that time comes, certain definite principles should be kept firmly in mind.

First, nothing must be done that will prevent people from choosing their own doctor. This is basic in sound medical practice.

Second, medicine must not be regimented. The doctor must never be dominated by a government official—required to look to some bureau for his livelihood.

Third, we must avoid the mistake of forcing people to pay for a specified medical service whether they wish it or not. Voluntary prepaid medicine is one thing—compulsory tax payments for a service individuals may not desire is something very different.

Fourth, we must confine Federally-financed medicine to care for the needy, so far as treatment of the individual is concerned. It is a proper public service for the taxpayers to underwrite medical care for those honestly cannot pay for it themselves. It is not a proper service to finance it for those who are perfectly able to pay for it.

Fifth, administration must be accomplished at the local community level—not at the Washington level, with its inevitable wasteful and inefficient bureaucracies.

The goal should be to preserve private medicine—and at the same time to help the indigent. This can be done with a minimum of expense—and without creating still another ever-expanding Federal bureau with an enormous payroll.

Annoyed movie-goer (to man in next row): "Excuse me, but we can't hear a word."

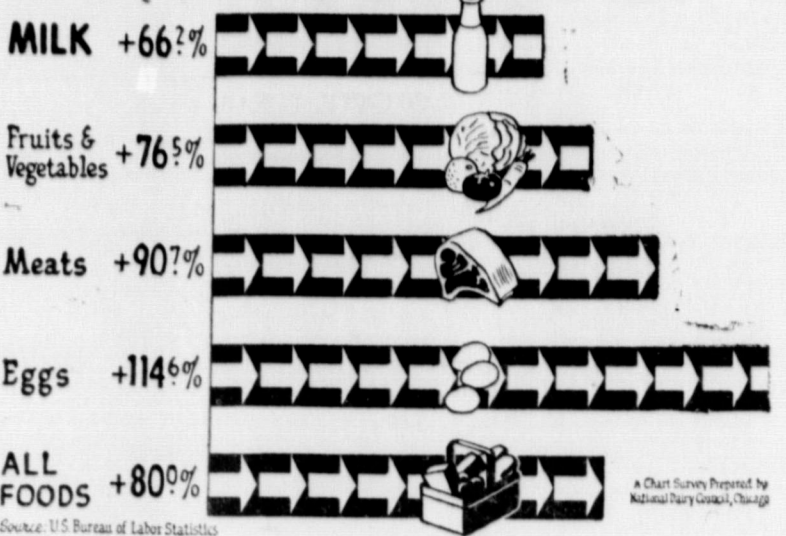

Man: "And is it any business of yours what I'm telling my wife?"

Then there was the rookie who saw three stars on a staff car and walking up to the stern-faced man setting in back, congratulated him on having three sons in the service.

A farmer who had spent his life in the country, retired and moved to the city. On the first morning in their new home, his wife said: "Well, Pa, it's about time you started the fire." "Not me!" he replied, nestling down deeper in bed. "We might as well start right now getting used to all the city conveniences. Call the fire department!"

YOUR MONEY GOES FAST in Today's Food Market

% INCREASES of Retail Prices over Base Period 1935-1939

These latest figures show, according to the National Dairy Council, that the housewife has an 80 per cent harder time in sticking to her home food budget than she did before the war. Money goes fast—foods cost 80 per cent more. But, the Dairy Council adds, "it is gratifying to note that milk—which does more for good nutrition than any other single food—has risen 13.8 per cent LESS than the average for all foods during this period of high prices."

Texas, with its 254 counties stocked with a larger number of cattle, sheep and goats, swine, turkeys, chickens, horses and mules, has only about 300 veterinarians engaged in private practice.

All of us have run across some little poem or article whose sentiment struck us as being of such an appealing nature that we have clipped it out and kept it.

Your columnist never thought that anything which he might write would be worthy of such regard, but a few days ago an old-time friend, J. LeRoy Arnold of Eastland, pulled from his outfit a clipping that was yellow with years, having appeared in the paper when I was editor there about 1922. Perhaps you would like to read it!

"Seize the moments as they pass. Fill them with kindness and service to others, with courtesy and consideration for those with whom you come in contact, cost no matter, yet they often win a loyalty and devotion that all money could never buy. And, besides, they will mean happiness to you; your heart will glow with the satisfaction of having something worth while."

"Not all of us can aid in reforming a nation and uplifting the condition of a people. Not all of us can write poems that will elevate man's mind or compose music that will flood the soul with harmony, or preach a sermon that will turn mankind's thoughts to noble themes. Not all of us can write a novel that will touch men's hearts with sympathy nor can all of us lead an army that brings liberation to a land."

"But with our gifts and capacities we can—in our sphere, whether large or small—do something to make people happier."

"What will it avail you, in the

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington D. C.—This is being written on George Washington's birthday. According to the calendar in effect at the time of George Washington's birth, he was born on February 10. The more one studies the life of the Father of our Country, the more one admires his wisdom and character. In front of me at this time is a thirty-nine volume set of the Writings of Washington. This gives some idea of the voluminous nature of his activities.

During recent weeks I have received numerous letters from Home Demonstration Clubs in our District complaining of, (1) discriminatory freight rates, and (2) the tax on oleomargarine. In both these matters our section of the country has long suffered economic discrimination. Many contend that oleomargarine is healthier and better than butter. Still the dairy industry has been able to maintain a heavy tax on oleomargarine—10 cents per pound if colored, and lesser tax if uncolored, together with a federal tax of $50 per year per store handling oleomargarine. Ninety-eight percent of oleomargarine is made from cottonseed and soybean oil. In the last session of Congress a bill to repeal this discriminatory tax was defeated in the House Committee on Agriculture by one vote. All Republicans voted against this tax repeal. Most Republicans also have opposed freight rate equalization. Most of them come from sections which feel they have a vested interest in this unfair discrimination.

On my desk at this time are two letters from Wichita Falls illustrating how freight rate inequalities hurt our area. The Wichita Engineering Company recently bid on 350 maintenance stands for the Army Air Forces at Dayton, Ohio. The Wichita company bid $1689 per unit; this was $105 per unit under any other bid. Yet the contract went to a Chicago firm because of a cheaper freight rate. A letter from the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce points out how our city probably lost a Piper Aircraft Corporation plant because of the freight rate differential. Plane parts can be shipped from Lock Haven, Penna., to Los Angeles, Calif., for only 2 cents per hundredweight more than from Wichita Falls to Los Angeles, which is one-half the distance from Lock Haven to said west coast city. This is true even though in hauling freight from the Pennsylvania town it is necessary to use two locomotives through much of the mountainous country.

Congress this week passed a bill authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to cooperate with other countries, especially Mexico, in the eradication of the foot and mouth disease, which is now raging below the Rio Grande.

The House passed this week a resolution to cut the annual budget for the current fiscal year from $37 1-2 billion to $31 1-2 billion. Unfortunately this devolved into something of a partisan issue. Congressman Frank Wilson of Dallas and myself were the only Texas members voting for this reduction. Some contend that if this reduction is carried out it will reduce appropriations for the armed forces below the point of safety. This reduction, however, can be carried out without reducing military appropriations below $10 billion. Many members feel that the armed services, by a little efficiency, can maintain their present forces easily on $10 billion. The British, while maintaining 1,087,000 men in their armed services are doing

How to Improve Your View

NOT all of us are so fortunate as to have windows overlooking the sea or the rolling countryside or the boulevards of a great city. There is no need, however, to lament the absence of a window with a view. You can add interest to any window—quite easily and inexpensively.

A few small plants will improve the appearance of any window and enliven any room if they are strategically placed. Get easy to care for varieties, such as English ivy, Philodendron, cactus and Chinese evergreen and put them in colorful pots.

Shelves of double-thickness glass about five inches wide and long enough to rest on brackets at each side of the window can be obtained. The hardware store will probably have both the glass and brackets.

Two or three of these shelves—the number should depend upon the size of your window—will support your favorite plants in the best possible light both for growth and appearance.

Small china or pottery ornaments in bright colors may be added to fill out the shelf space, but, remember, too many articles will result in clutter which will defeat your purpose of making the most of the source of natural lighting in your home.

so on a budget of approximately $3.6 billion. The British will spend this year $3,500 per man on the armed services, while we will spend $6,800 per man. Our current budget is about four times as large as any budget prior to the war. Many of us feel that while the national income is around $160 billion per year (our largest pre-war income was around $80 billion) we should make substantial payment on our national debt of $260 billion. Tremendous savings can be made in reducing some government agencies and the elimination of others. Many of the agencies in Washington could perform better services with half the employees they have now. Retrenchment is always painful. Sometimes the doctor's knife must be cruel in order to be kind. Unless we maintain the economical security of this country we will forfeit all of the things for which we have fought two wars.

Ardello Spelec spent the latter part of last week in Wichita Falls, visiting with his wife and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith of Seymour spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith.

Animals Are Chief Means of Spreading Foot-Mouth Disease

The outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico, with its resulting threat to the United States, has caused USDA officials to repeat the warning that this livestock plague is highly infectious and spread chiefly by animals.

The next most common carrier of infection is persons who visit infected premises, the officials say. A third source of danger comprises infected vehicles and products of various kinds, including garbage that contains fresh meat.

These conclusions are based on evidence obtained from October, 1914 to May, 1916, in the most widespread outbreak of the disease in this country. At this time more than 172,000 animals in 22 states and the District of Columbia were infected. Probable sources of infection were determined in more than three-fourths of the cases.

During that major outbreak approximately 1,600 herds were brought to be infected by animals brought onto the premises from infected stockyards, stables, or pastures. In a few cases dogs and other small animals were identified as carriers. A total of 672 herds were infected by persons. Other known sources of infection that accounted for 411 of the remaining cases were infected stock cars, contaminated feed and drinking water, infected highways, and miscellaneous causes.

Mrs. E. N. Felty returned to her home in Celeste, Texas, the latter part of last week after spending several days here with her father, R. B. Davy, and with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDonald and three daughters of Wichita Falls visited with friends here last Sunday.

Joseph Borden, who is attending Hardin Junior college in Wichita Falls, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Borden.

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a beef—whether it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at those friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

You can Bank on Cotton

This is true literally and figuratively, for over a period of years cotton has provided greater cash returns per acre than any other crop the Southern farmer grows. He knows cotton is more dependable even under adverse weather conditions. The present world wide demand and good prices guaranteed by the government mean that he can bank on cotton in 1947.

Govt. Is Sold Out of Cotton On CCC Loans

Right now the Commodity Credit Corporation is sold out of cotton. This, according to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson in an address before the National Cotton Council of America in their ninth annual meeting at Galveston, Texas.

Government holdings and cotton under loan in 1944 amounted to 7 and one half million bales and since the CCC was organized in 1933, it has made loans on over 31 million bales.

Producers have redeemed nearly 22 million bales and still have loans on 100,000 bales of 1946 cotton. Of the remainder, the CCC has pooled for producers 2,600,000 bales. In addition to its lending activities, CCC has bought nearly 3 million bales to support the market. Thus, the Corporation has had the task of disposing of more than 12 million bales.

Secretary Anderson pointed out that the most remarkable feat of all was that the CCC had taken in more money for the cotton it has sold than is paid for the cotton. The Government has supported the market and still, through December 31, 1946, has made $189,000,000 while doing it.

This is proof enough that the Government Commodity Loan system is sound and practical. The best thing of all about the CCC Program is that all along the way it helps the cotton farmer. Helping the farmer aids farm economy and in turn helps the national economy.

The loans enable cotton farmers to market their crop in an orderly manner and protects them against the disaster of price failure.

Mr. Anderson remarks continued stating the objectives of the Department of Agriculture cotton programs. He said, "We have been working toward some of the same objectives as those stated in the charter of the National Cotton Council: Increasing the export and world consumption of U. S. cotton and improving the social and economic condition and welfare of the people of the Cotton Belt."

"As a result we have today the most definite forward-looking program of research for cotton and Southern Agriculture the nation has ever had. We have cleared the decks of Government-held cotton. And, more important to the future, we have regained about half the wartime loss of cotton exports—a significant beginning toward regaining a satisfactory export market. In doing this we have helped to reestablish peacetime industry in several wardevastated countries, helped to increase the world supply of badly needed cotton textiles, helped reduce the world surplus of raw cotton, and helped materially to open up the well-spring of world trade. It so happens that our program has

Announcement was made Thursday morning of the marriage of Lamoine Blacklock and Miss Johnnie Maud Hendrix, well known young people of the Munday area.

The marriage vows were taken at Sherman, Texas, on December 8, 1946, with the Rev. H. W. Thompson, associate pastor of the First Baptist church of Sherman, reading the marriage ceremony.

Mrs. Blacklock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hendrix, who reside north of Munday. She attended the local schools, and for some time has been employed in the Munday office of the Texas Highway Department.

Mr. Blacklock, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock, was reared at Munday and is a graduate of the Munday high school. During the war he served several years in the U. S. Coast Guard, and saw service in the Pacific and in Japan. Following discharge, he accepted a position at the Baker-McCarty dry goods.

The young couple are making their home in Munday.

Chiropractic Bill Passes Committees

Austin—Recognizing that the chiropractic profession has a legal place in Texas, the public health committees of both houses of the Texas Legislature have approved and recommended the passage of a chiropractic licensing bill.

Supported by the Texas State Chiropractors Association and the Texas Chiropractic Research Society as part of these organizations' program to give Texas complete health freedom, the identical bills, known as Senate Bill 79 and House Bill 40, will now be studied by the two legislative chambers.

Under present laws, the chiropractic practitioners have no legal status in Texas. If the licensing bill is passed by the Legislature, the public will be given the same protection in the field of chiropractic as now offered by the licensing of physicians, surgeons, osteopaths and other professions.

The measure, as passed by the legislative committees, calls for the licensing of chiropractors (the same as for other professions), and sets up an examining board that will assure the public of competent service from a qualified chiropractor. Under the bill, the chiropractors of Texas would be prohibited from the use of drugs and surgery, limiting them to the human spine.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Strickland and children of Fort Worth and Miss Loma Rae Clark of Waco visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

The first step to successful farm forestry is combining it with regular farm operations.

New Employment Program Will Aid Local Workers

A special employment program to aid Munday workers and employers engaged in rural industries was announced today by Mr. W. R. Donathan, TUC District director, for the Abilene district.

Mr. W. H. Donathan said that the program would make the necessary labor available to employers of rural industries on a planned basis and help workers engaged in peak farm season activities most nearly attain "year round" employment. Rural industries include processing of all agricultural products.

"We hope that this program will prove of value to employers in securing the workers they need at once and thereby preventing loss of raw products subject to spoilage, reducing overhead personnel costs and loss of production time," Mr. Donathan said. "Our plan should also be of service to the worker by shortening the time that he is between jobs and enabling him to maintain a higher annual income."

This special rural industries program conducted by the State Employment Service is designed to assist communities in organizing and planning for the handling of peak seasonal labor in rural industries by making the greatest possible use of the local labor supply and reducing unnecessary immigration of transient labor, Mr. Donathan said.

"This is a part of the overall Texas State Employment Service program and employers and workers in rural industries will receive complete benefits of all service offered by the Vernon local office," Mr. Donathan said.

Visits are now being scheduled to Munday employers in rural industries, Mr. Donathan said, in order to get labor requirement estimates for the 1947 season and to explain how the Texas State Employment Service can assist them in getting labor and in placing their workers when laid off at the end of the peak seasons.

Employers who have seasonal layoffs can help reduce their Unemployment Compensation tax rate by notifying the Texas State Employment Service at the earliest possible date of planned reductions in force so that these workers can be placed in other employment with the least possible loss in working time, Mr. Donathan said.

Quick Way to Make Drapes

HERE'S a quick and easy way to put drapes, without brackets of any kind, on that troublesome window that has defied all your plans. Buy the drapery material as plain yard goods, selecting a pattern that will go well with the rest of your decorative scheme. Purchase sufficient extra material to make two or three large loops, about two to three inches wide and six inches long.

The loops can be shirred, pleated or made plain, as you wish, but they should be padded out with some other material to give them firmness. Small brass or plastic rings can be obtained at the local ten cent store and sewn near the top of the back of the loop. Ordinary picture hooks can then be placed in the wall or window frame at the corners and center and the loops placed on these hooks.

Then draw the drapery yard goods through the loops and arrange in soft folds at the sides and across the top of the window. The length can be either just below the sill of the window or down to the floor.

The ends of the material should be hemmed. Make the last hem after you have arranged the new drape on the window, to be sure it is the right length.

REGRIFERATOR RULES

Whether the family refrigerator is one of the newest models or an old one, a few simple rules of care will lengthen their serviceability.

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home management specialist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests several good rules to follow:

First, place the refrigerator level in a cool spot - away from sunshine, radiators, and the kitchen range.

Keep it at the right temperature - between 40 and 50 degrees F is best.

Follow directions for defrosting exactly. Never use anything sharp to chip off frost or loosen ice-trays.

Keep every part clean. Do not neglect the rubber seal around the door, the condenser, or, in an ice refrigerator, the drain pipe and trap.

When repairs are needed, have them made at once by an authorized service company.

Single copies of "How to choose and use your refrigerator," a new booklet giving detailed directions for both selection and care, may be had free by writing to the office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Mrs. Joe Jackson, Jr. and Mrs. Joe Jackson, Sr., of Santa Rosa, New Mexico, and Miss Mary Jackson of Wichita Falls visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren last Sunday.

Miss Janie Spann, who is attending T. S. C. W. in Denton, and her roommates, Miss Patricia Peery of Dallas and Miss Mona Allen of Medena, spent the week end with Janie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann.

Charles Quinn of Fort Worth spent the week end here, visiting with O. H. Spann, Jr. The two were college roommates and buddies in the service.

Veterans' News

A new drug, choliriquine, discovered and perfected by U. S. doctors and research chemists, promises new advances in the treatment of malaria, a Veterans Administration consultant has reported.

Dr. Edwin S. Kagy, tropical medical specialist from Tulane University, discussed the new drug during a conference of VA doctors and consultants in Dallas.

"Choliriquine is much more effective than drugs formerly used and lacks the toxic effects of quinine and atabrine," Dr. Kagy said. For the Pacific veteran who returned to the United States without signs of tropical diseases, the doctor had a cheerful word.

"The chances are very slightly that these veterans will become ill as a result of their tour of duty," he said.

Recent graduates of nursing schools can be hired immediately by the Veterans Administration even though they may not have received their state registration numbers, VA has announced.

The nurses will be given temporary appointments pending successful completion of state board examinations, VA said. Permanent appointments will follow. The starting salary is $2644.80 per year. VA's only requirement for new graduates, pending examinations, is a letter from the school they attended, certifying that they have satisfactorily completed the nursing course.

The number of veterans hospitalized by the Veterans Administration reached a new all-time high near the end of January, VA reported.

The report disclosed that a total of 119,845 veterans were receiving treatment at VA hospitals and homes and in non-VA hospitals under contract to VA. Veterans with service-connected ailments are given top priority for VA hospitalization, but veterans with non-service-connected disorders are hospitalized only when beds are available and if they say they cannot afford treatment in other institutions.

Questions and Answers
Q. Will Veterans Administration guarantee a G. I. loan for a boat that I can use during my vacation and for taking occasional fishing trips?
A. No. Loans for pleasure purposes cannot be guaranteed or insured by Veterans Administration.

Q. For what terms of years can a guaranteed loan be made?
A. Payments must be such that the veteran will repay his home or business real estate loan within 25 years, a farm loan within 40 years, and a non-real estate loan within 10 years.

Q. Is there any way that I can get Veterans Administration to deduct my National Service Life Insurance premiums from the monthly disability compensation check mailed to me each month?
A. Yes. You may go to any VA regional office or to a contact office and fill out a form which will authorize Veterans Administration to make the deduction from your compensation check.

Q. I want to change the beneficiary on my National Service Life Insurance, but I don't want the old beneficiary to know about it. Am I permitted to do this?
A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his N.S.L.I. at any time without their knowledge or consent.

Q. I recently lost my job and can't meet the payments on my G. I. guaranteed home loan. Am I entitled to get the readjustment compensation provided by the G. I. Bill?
A. Yes, you are entitled to readjustment allowance. Your home loan has no bearing on your right to unemployment compensation. You should apply to your state unemployment service to receive readjustment allowance.

At least eight million boys and girls will get meals this year under the National School Lunch Program, the Production and Marketing Administration estimates.

Wages and Prices

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

ABOUT fifteen months ago Mr. Henry Wallace, then Secretary of Commerce under President Truman, asserted that wages in the automobile industry could go up 30% without prices of cars going up at all. It wasn't true, as all informed people knew at the time. But the statement tended to gain public support.

At least the statement helped gain public toleration for a long strike, which ended with about a 20% raise in wages. But even then the OPA was immediately convinced that increases in prices were made necessary. Little by little OPA raised the prices on cars until it had granted an average increase of 22%. In short, for a 20% increase in wages for auto workers the public was required, by OPA, to pay 22% more for cars.

Identical NOW THE auto workers are asking for another raise of about 25% in wages. Some labor leaders are maintaining that wages in general can go up about 25% without increasing prices. Mr. C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, asserts that such a raise will put prices of cars up by 25%. Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of the board of General Motors, also declares that wages cannot be raised without raising prices.

From last year's experience the public will quite readily understand that if wages go up again, prices must also go up. This leaves just one real issue. Is it to the interest of workers and the rest of the public for prices to keep going up and up? If another raise in wages is granted, only to be followed by a still greater boost in prices, workers will be no better off. In fact they, and all the rest of us, will be worse off. Higher prices will finally cause buying to drop off. Then jobs will begin to decrease, leading to unemployment and finally to depression.

A Sound Method THERE IS a way for everybody to gain — both workers and the general public. That way is for management and workers to cooperate to increase production so effectively that goods will become plentiful and prices will go down.

The workers will have the equivalent of a real raise in wages because their present wages will buy more food and clothing. All of the public will benefit in the same way. This is sound economics. But for wages to keep going up and up, only to be followed by prices going up and up, is unfortunate for workers and everybody else.

If we want to destroy the American economic order and force our country into state socialism, that is the way to do it. Fifteen months ago many wondered seriously if Henry Wallace believed that wages could go up 30% in any industry without prices going up. Many now wonder if any informed people really think wages can go up 25% without raising prices. If we try it we will again learn the hard way.

tein grazing. The soil conservation workers do not expect the price of seed to remain so high for long. Matter of fact, cheaper seed would speed up the big job of restoring the semi-waste sand land.

Just how long the love grass will hold up with out being re-seeded remains to be seen. Cape says as the plants get older they lose some of their color and it is his opinion that some commercial fertilizer will be needed.

He also believes that love grass will fit into a rotation with row crops. After land has been in the grass five or six years, it could be returned to cultivation and would be much higher in fertility. Such a plan is followed quite successfully in the Corn Belt as farmers work grasses in rotation with row crops just as farmers in this sector follow cotton with grain sorghums or corn.

So far, all of the love grass has been planted in regular width rows and at the rate of one pound per acre. That provided a good stand when there was sufficient moisture and not too much competition from weeds and grass.

The local SCS workers are trying quite a variety of grasses on the range in an effort to find something that will fill the gap between small grain pasturage in the winter and native grass pasturage in the spring.

There have been trial plantings of crested and western wheat grass and Canadian rye. The Canadian rye actually is a native as it has been found along creeks and in well protected places.—Abilene Reporter-News.

- Cut and elevate one ton of silage
- Grind 100 to 500 pounds of grain, depending on kind and fineness of grinding
- Shear 25 sheep
- Saw one cord of wood
- Turn a grindstone for 3 hours
- Pump 1,000 gallons of water

'Wonder Grass' Earns Name In Sands of Knox

Knox City—The widely publicized "wonder grass" of the sandy land belt—African weeping love grass—no only is proving a splendid cash crop for Knox farmers, but promises to bring back into production land that has been virtually abandoned.

The quick-growing grass has shown its fondness for the loose sand of this sector—much of which has long since lost its productive fertility. Charles Cape, conservationist for the Knox City office of the Wichita-Brazos soil conservation district, says there are great possibilities.

Charles Schumacher of Rhineland and A. L. Ressel, who lives three miles west of here, were the first to grow the grass and they have already "cashed in" on the high price of $4 per pound for the precious seed. Schumacher produced 160 pounds of clean seed with a germination test of 97 percent the past season and Ressel had 80 pounds of clean seed.

They started their projects in 1944 with two pounds of seed secured by the soil conservation service. Each planted an acre and got a good stand, and the harvest was made in June, 1945. The tiny love grass seed were mixed with cracked grain sorghum seed at the rate of one pound to 10 and planted with an ole team style planter.

With the larger stock of seed, Schumacher increased his acreage to 20 and in 1946 harvested 160 pounds. He cut the love grass with a broadcast binder and then hauled the bundles to Munday to combine the seed.

Ressel mowed and raked his love grass and still got 80 pounds of seed.

In addition to getting a seed crop, Schumacher also got a hay crop, baling 400 bales from a 20-acre field. He has been selling the hay for $28 per ton.

Virtually all of the seed produced have been sold locally and the acreage had grown to more than 200, with Paul Russell of Rochester being the leader. He has planted a 100-acre abandoned field in the deep sand belt to love grass.

Others making love grass plantings include: S. D. Jones, J. C. Sanders, S. W. Hutchens and Herman Gammil.

Some of the growers who made plantings last June were able to gather a light seed crop in September. And that was achieved in face of a serious summer drought and late August rain that did little good. Only .61 of an inch of rain fell in July.

Cape and F. P. Mika, soil conservation service workers at Seymour and formerly of this area, believe that fall plantings may prove more successful. There is less competition from weeds and blowing winds aren't as bad in the fall.

There is little to worry about insofar as cold weather is concerned as the love grass planted last fall was able to withstand the nine below zero weather this year.

The love grass develops a large root system, which virtually ties up the soil and prevents water runoff. Aside from being a money crop and soil-saver, the grass fits into the livestock picture nicely, providing an abundance of high pro-

If you had never seen this done, you might be afraid to try it. The lower man in the picture is holding a piece of cotton batting, less than three inches thick, against his face while the upper man directs the 1800-degree blast of a blow-torch against it. The lower man is quite safe, though, because he is demonstrating the flameproofing and insulating quality of cotton insulation. He keeps cool and the insulation doesn't catch fire!

ANOTHER DISCOVERY

Perhaps you never realized it, but you have a "servants' entrance" in your house—in fact, you have several! They are your electrical outlets, of course, where you plug in your household appliances—your electric washer, your vacuum sweeper, and all the others that add so much to the comfort and convenience of your everyday living.

There, at the inlets, ready and waiting, is your electricity—a servant who's never late, never tired, working around the clock—around the calendar—and at such low wages! Actually, your electricity comes to you today at the lowest price in history.

Technical research and sound economic policies by business managed, tax paying electric companies have brought the cost of electricity steadily downward, until today the average family is getting twice as much electricity for its dollar as it did fifteen years ago!

FARM NEWS

PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

In a speech on January 30, 1947, Grant Thompson, assistant director of the Department of Agriculture's Field Service Branch stated that conservation of the Nation's land and water resources is the responsibility of all its citizens.

"The important task of looking after the land and water resources of our farmland demands the attention and support of 141 million people, the entire population of this country," he said, "for the boys and girls who play in city parks have just as big a stake in the Nation's soil as the boys and girls who are raising prize livestock for county fairs.

"The bottles of milk set on the city family's doorstep every morning and the meat on the city dinner table come from one place—the soil. The price and continuous supply of that milk and that steak depend on the productivity of the soil that produce them."

Thompson pointed out that farmers are now putting six times as much lime on their land as they did 11 years ago when the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) began. But he added that the 25 million tons spread in 1946 is less than half of our "carefully estimated national needs."

Discussing the annual cost of the ACP to United States citizens, Mr. Thompson said, "If we break down the share that goes for harvested cropland, we find that the people are contributing less than $1.00 per person to help farmers take care of the land that produces nearly all of their food and much of their clothing . . . less than the cost of 7 gallons of gasoline."

One of our most enthusiastic supporters of soil conservation is Mr. Ernest Beck of the Vera community. Last fall he seeded 500 pounds of Austrian Winter Peas and applied superphosphate to them. This week he secured approval to construct terraces on both of his places and he also advised us that he wished to construct an earthen dam.

Mr. Beck served on the county committee for a number of years and farmers of his community still contact him for information concerning the program.

The life of the Commodity Credit Corporation as an agency of the United States expires on June 30, 1947. Furthermore, legislation requires that CCC obtain a Federal charter before June 30, 1948, if it is to continue as a U. S. agency. CCC has been the principal agency through which price support operations on farm products have been carried out by the Government.

Last year the north part of the county took the lead on the terracing program and terraced more than the rest of the county combined. This year it is not that way. The Goree community has taken the lead and from all indications they will keep it through out the year. However, the Vera and Sunset communities are constructing a greater amount of terraces than in the past, and will give Goree some stiff competition.

This office is considering a plan to establish part time offices in Munday and Knox City. If put into operation, a designated day each week would be spent in each place. The main office in Benjamin would be kept open by a skeleton force. This plan has the approval of the District Field Officer and it will be discussed further with the County Committee at their next meeting. In the meantime we would like to hear from farmers and businessmen concerning the

Costliest Picture Ever Made

More than $7,000,000 was spent making and advertising David O. Selznick's super western movie "Duel in the Sun" which was selected by Louella O. Parsons as one of the three best pictures of the month in the January issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. A record total of $5,285,000 was spent in making the picture and to date more than $2,000,000 has been spent advertising it. Shown above are Jennifer Jones and Gregory Peck, leading lovers of the picture.

Social Security May Be Extended To All Workers

Extension of coverage under old-age and survivors insurance to all gainfully employed workers is probably the most significant of the Knox county area of the recommendations of the Social Security Board in its eleventh and last annual report, Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Administration said today.

In July of 1946 the Board was abolished, its functions transferred to the Federal Security Agency, and its organization designated as the Social Security Administration. The current report, required of the Board under the Social Security Act, is for the fiscal year 1945-46, and was submitted to Congress February 11.

Mr. Tate pointed out that the recommendation of extension was based upon ten years of administrative experience, which had demonstrated the feasibility of extension of coverage to the groups now without the protection of the program. Persons not at present able to earn protection under the program include those engaged in agriculture, employed in domestic service, non-profit organizations and Government service, and those who are self-employed. In this area farmers and other self-employed persons are the largest of these groups.

In addition to protecting the groups not now covered, the extension of the program would reduce the number of persons who lose their rights to benefits by shifting in and out of covered employment.

Mr. R. R. Jarvis of the Sunset community was in the office this week and requested an approval for the maximum amount of terraces that he could construct on his place. Mr. Jarvis stated that even though his allowance would not allow but 58,866 feet, he would complete the system even though it would be necessary that the remainder of the cost would come out of his pocket.

Do you expect to draw payment on the contour farming practice in 1947? If you have not already done so, get your approval.

IT'S EASY TO FOLLOW THE ROW

...IF YOU LOOK AHEAD

The new Allis-Chalmers Model C Implements are mounted on the tractor, well forward and ahead of the driver's seat. You can aim them like a rifle down the row.

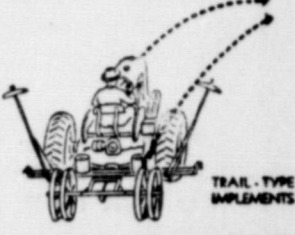

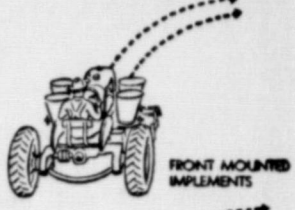

Particularly in planting or cultivating on the contour, you find out what a tremendous advantage this is. FRONT-MOUNTED IMPLEMENTS follow the curve, unlike trailed implements which characteristically tend to cut the corners.

This is an advantage, too, in turning at the ends. Front-mounted implements follow the row nearly to the fence.

Fertilizer attachments are also up front, easy to watch. Handy dual levers control the depth of right and left gangs, independently of each other. A convenient and efficient Hydraulic Lift operates at a finger's touch.

LOOK AHEAD in comfort. "Foresight is easier than Hindsight," the Allis-Chalmers way.

Highlights Of District Club Work Given

Highlights of 1946 home demonstration work in Extension Service District 3 in Northwest Texas were recently released by Ruth Thompson, former Extension district agent.

District 3 Extension Service is composed of a block of 20 Northwest Texas counties bordered on the west by Motley, Dickens, Kent counties, and the East by Montague and Wise counties.

In this area, Miss Thompson reports that home demonstration club women were particularly outstanding in home improvements. As a direct result of club work, 703 kitchens in the homes of these women were remodeled. In addition to kitchen improvement, 1466 other rooms in District 3 rural homes were improved, and 133 sewing machines were put in better working order due to home demonstration training.

Clothing work came in for a big share of attention, Miss Thompson reports, as District 3 club women and girls reported making or remodeling over 25,000 garments, as well as 381 hats and 1,642 accessories, chiefly purses. More than 5,000 garments were reported at home. In foods work, the women of this area prepared and stored in freezer lockers 278,800 pounds of meats, fruits and vegetables; they also grew 6,444 home gardens and planted 1300 fruit trees and 3500 berry vines.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Weaver and children of Seminary Hill, Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Weaver and children of Wellington, visited their mother, Mrs. D. B. Weaver, Sr., and other relatives here over the week end.

C. A. Eiland of Lamesa was here the latter part of last week, visiting with relatives and friends and attending to business matters.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, pneumonia caused approximately 2,460 deaths during the past year in Texas, a total which is entirely too high. This disease is most prevalent during the winter and spring months.

Pneumonia caused by a germ called the pneumococcus, which many of us have lurking in our throats ready to start trouble, when our resistance to it is lowered. We can keep up our resistance by avoiding undue fatigue and unnecessary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather sufficient wraps should be worn to protect us. Keeping the temperature of our homes as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is not to neglect a cold, for the common cold often results in pneumonia when neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home, and call his physician for advice if temperature persists or the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has disappeared.

The successful treatment of a pneumonia case often depends upon starting treatment very early. That is why a physician should be called at once when pneumonia is suspected. A patient may really have beginning pneumonia when he thinks it is only a cold. If the physician's advice is sought, he will have an opportunity to start treatment early if pneumonia is present, or develops in such cases.

Research To Aid Farmers In Bigger Crops

Austin—Texas is literally being washed away, and eventually depleted grasses must be replenished to save the land, a University of Texas scientist says.

Dr. W. G. Whaley, director of a new project tentatively known as the Plant Research Institute, and an associate professor of botany, said that a study of grasses of Texas will be undertaken by the Institute after other projects are well under way. An aerial eviv of Texas shows the tremendous losses of soil, and the need for conservation of grasses, he said.

The Institute is an enlargement of the Cotton Investigation and Research, which is supported by a grant from the Clayton Research Foundation.

The new Institute will help Texas farmers grow bigger and better crops, and will have a program of fundamental developmental studies, he said. A working nucleus will be material and equipment used since 1935 in research on cotton. Corn will be the first crop for experimentation in the expanded program, and from there the Institute will progress to other crop plants important to Texas.

"We plan to take plants of known hereditary constitution and examine their development morphologically and physiologically, under different environmental conditions," Dr. Whaley said. "In this way we can contribute to basic knowledge of plant development."

Greater traction gives you more work out of your tractor when it's equipped with Goodyear Sure-Grip tractor tires, and test prove that you can do an ordinary six days work in five when the going is really tough, the secret is Goodyear's scientific O-P-E-N-C-E-N-T-E-R tread design that decreases slippage, increases bite and pull, cleans itself as it rolls smoothly over the ground.

"You don't stay FIRST unless you are best, First ever year for 31 years."

Goodyear "Solution 100" increases your drawbar pull, and reduces working time, you do more WORK with the same cost and time, with Goodyear's Sure-Grip Self Cleaning Open-Center tractor tires.
