Wrong number!

Those are the two most irksome words we can hear over the telephone, especially if they're spoken to us on press day, or on Wednesday, the day before press day.

Lately, Wednesday has been more "press day" with us than has Thursday, because we're running the press more—working harder, trying to make press day easier.

Well, last Wednesday we're up on top of that old press, just ginning away, with visions of getting through without having to come back that night. The telephone rings.

Another ad, we think, and where are we going to put it? We stomp the brakes and stop the press, cut off the motor, climb down off the press, grab a rag to clean our hands, and start heading for the telephone. By the time we reach the front office, we have up so much speed that we almost go on through the plate glass window.

"Times Office," she says, with as much solicitation as possible in our voice. Then we listens for someone to tell us to come get their ad. What do we hear? "Wrong Number!"

We ves back and starts Old Betsy, the press, again. But before we get very far along, the old telephone rings again. We goes through the same operations as hereinbefore mentioned, and a different voice gives us the same answer. "Wrong Number!"

Trouble is that we can't blame anyone for the incident. The person doing the calling surely don't want our number, or we would have heard something besides "Wrong Number". The operator didn't give her customer the wrong number intentionally, because that just meant more work for her.

It's just one of those things—but the only thing that can make us quite as sore is for someone to call and then hang up before we can get up front to answer the phone!

While we're on the phone subject: Everyone will possibly agree that our present telephone system is out-of-date; that our old coffee-grinder system belongs with the horse and buggy days. But there's a lot of "personal service" that goes with our type of system.

We agree that we need something, possibly better equipment. But we wouldn't trade our present system and Jo Strickland for one of those small-town dial do-dads that're sometimes coming unbidden and leaving the town without any telephone service at all for an entire day!

You can't dial one of those hick-eyes and tell it "I'm trying to locate Mr. So-and-so. Will you try to get him for me?" or "I'm going to be at such-and-such a place if someone calls for me."

You can't get messenger service, or have the operator call a "near-by" when you're using the little-town dial. And you gotta use your directory more, instead of imposing on the operator. So we guess it's better to "grind coffee" than to "finger the dial" and not grind anything!

We think Jo Strickland has done a mighty fine job of giving service during all these years, considering what she had to work with, the help shortage, etc. She'd do a better job with better equipment, but what kind of equipment do we want, if we could get it?

When are they going to start the paving project?

That's a question that's being propounded quite frequently these days. We voted bonds to do some street paving, and ain't no paving work started yet. Wonder where the hitch is?

We learned a little bit about the "hitch" last Saturday. It's the question of drainage.

There's a strip of country that extends some five miles southwest (Continued on page five)

Fireman Send $50 To Texas City Relief Fund

The fire alarm sounded Monday afternoon; firemen rushed to the city hall, but the fire truck didn't budge out of its tracks. She won't start, we think, and it's about time we got that new truck.

But she wasn't supposed to start this time. The alarm was to call firemen to a special meeting to discuss the Texas City disaster. The meeting resulted in the local fire department sending $50.00 to the Texas City relief fund. Lives of nearly all Texas City firemen were lost in the explosion, and the two Pentecuff boys were former Munday residents.

Other contributions have also been made locally to the Texas City disaster relief, but names of all contributors are not available.

Consumption of Cotton

Austin, Texas—Cotton consumption in Texas remained steady during March, recording only a fractional February-to-March drop, according to Bureau of the Census reports analyzed by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The 16,979 running bales consumed fell 5 per cent short of the March 1946 level. Consumption of cotton linters remained firm, reporting a slight gain for the month with a total of 1,531 running bales. This was 39 per cent below consumption for the same month last year.

The Jaycees Are Now Ready!

It's nearly here—the date for the cleanup drive to begin in Munday! The Jaycees are ready—are you?

The Jaycees voted at a recent meeting to again sponsor a cleanup drive in Munday, and plans are now under way. They have been promised the cooperation of city officials, and they need yours, too.

The dates are tentatively set for May 12-17, so the time is nearly here. The Jaycees need proclamation from the Mayor, setting this week aside as cleanup week, and they've been promised this official proclamation.

So get ready to clean up around your premises, your alleys, your vacant lots, your trash burners, etc. Trucks will haul off everything that can't be burned.

This should be the biggest and most successful cleanup drive ever held here.

Bumper Wheat Crop Prospect For This Area

Barring unforeseen difficulties and complications, due to weather and other things that hit wheat at the maturing season, Knox county and all of this area will reap another bumper harvest this year. This prospect extends to all of this section of the country, covering many counties of the wheat area.

Recent cloudy, damp weather has made farmers fear a siege of rust in wheat. Some rust has been reported, but as yet, very little damage has been done.

Knox county has an estimated acreage of 61,000. With prospects considered excellent at this time, the yield this year is estimated at from 20 to 25 bushels.

This is the largest wheat acreage in the country's history, and production is expected to far exceed any other year, according to Doyle G. Thomas, AAA Administrator.

Most of the wheat is headed out, and prospects for a bountiful harvest were never brighter.

Knox Singers To Meet Next Sunday At Knox City

The Knox County Singing Convention will be held next Sunday, May 4, at the Baptist church in Knox City, it was announced here last week.

An effort is being made to revive the pre-war interest in the singing convention, and all singers in this area are extended a cordial invitation to attend. The program will begin at 2:30 p. m.

A good program of songs, special numbers, etc., will be held and you'll enjoy the good singing.

Out Of Funds, Checks To Vets To Be Delayed

The Veterans Administration announced Tuesday that it will be unable to send out monthly checks which were due Wednesday, to more than 2,780,000 veterans receiving unemployment or educational allowances. Funds which Congress appropriated for that purpose are exhausted, it said.

Additional funds for this purpose are carried in the deficiency appropriation bill now before Congress, and the delay is expected to be of short duration.

The payments have been averaging $260,000,000 or more a month. VA asked that veterans refrain from writing or appealing to it regarding the delays.

Veterans in schools on the job training receive up to $65 a month if unmarried, $90 a month if married. Qualified veterans who are unemployed receive a maximum of $20 a week for 52 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Ratliff were visitors in Fort Worth over the week end.

Mrs. Cloudis of Abilene is here this week, visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cloudis and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Seacey.

Bond Election Is Asked To Add Hospital Rooms

A petition was started last week, and is continued to be circulated this week, throughout Knox county asking the Commissioners Court to order a bond election, in the amount of $50,000, for the purpose of enlarging and improving the Knox county hospital.

Members of the hospital board are circulating the petition, and their purpose in asking for the election is to add 20 more rooms to the hospital to care for that many more patients. It has been known for several years that the capacity of the hospital has been too small to take care of the patients taken there for treatment.

When the required number of names are secured, the petition will be presented to the Commissioners Court. This will possibly be done at the court's May meeting. The proposition stated in the petition is as follows:

"Shall the Commissioners Court of the County of Knox, Texas, be authorized to issue the bonds of said County, in the total principal sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) to mature serially within any given number of years not to exceed fifteen (15) years from the date thereof, bearing interest at the rate of not to exceed two and one-half per cent per annum, and to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal thereof at maturity, for the purpose of enlarging, improving, and equipping the existing County Hospital, to-wit: erecting, equipping, enlarging and repairing all necessary buildings for the use of said County Hospital, and for all other necessary buildings for the use of said County Hospital, and for all other necessary permanent improvements in connection therewith, pursuant to authority conferred by the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, particularly Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution, and Chapter 1, Title 22, and Chapter 5, Title 71, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925."

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Albertson and daughter, Virginia Ruth, left on Thursday of this week for St. Louis, Mo., where they are to attend the Southern Baptist Convention. They will be gone approximately two weeks.

Mrs. Albertson received her B. A. degree from Washington University in St. Louis 35 years ago. Her graduating class has been holding a reunion every five years since that time, and she plans to attend the reunion while away.

In addition to attending the convention, this will also be a vacation trip for the local Baptist pastor and his family.

DON'T SHOOT THE PIANO PLAYER!

There was once a sign in a famous frontier saloon which said: Don't shoot the piano player—he's doing the best he can."

That would be a good slogan to apply to your retail store operator in those days of whirling dervish prices and variable qualities.

All of us gripe about the fact that a basket of groceries that used to cost ten dollars now runs to twenty, or more, and that the old dollar-ninety-five shirt carries a three-fifty price tag. But that isn't the retailer's doing—and he doesn't like it any better than you do, because it limits sales and irks the consumer. His unit profits are no larger than they used to be—and in many cases are smaller. And it also isn't his fault if he can't supply just what you want when you want it. Stocks are by no means complete as yet, but they are being built up fast in most lines.

The retailer's fine work during the war should not be forgotten. Long before government price control, the retail industry, voluntarily held down prices and did a fine job of it. They fought profiteering and hoarding. They divided scarce goods as equitably as possible among their customers.

That kind of public spirit still dominates retailing. And the consumer should realize that it is keeping prices lower and qualities higher than they would be otherwise.

Federal statisticians have just figured out it costs $605.35 a year to buy clothes for a family of five. The sum on the right of the period is used for father.

GASOLINE FOR 3,000 YEARS

If it is possible to imagine a state of affairs in which all of America's petroleum and natural gas reserves were exhausted, the country could still get all the high quality gasoline it would need for 3,000 years from only half of our estimated coal reserves. This remarkable announcement is contained in the current issue of The Lamp, which is published by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The story points out that the highest estimate of domestic gasoline consumption yet made, that for 1965, is slightly more than 1,000,000,000 barrels a year. Our commercial reserves of all grades of coal amount to nearly 3,200,000,000,000 (trillion) tons. Assuming that half that would be available for synthesis into motor fuel, coal represents a potential gasoline reserve of 3,700,000,000 barrels.

For commercial reasons, The Lamp says, synthesis from coal has so far been a long range project. Synthesis from natural gas is farther advanced at the present time, and the quality of the product is equal to premium-grade conventional gasoline. And the process also provides a cheap source of a variety of industrial alcohols such as methyl, ethyl, propyl, butyl and amyl.

MEETING FIRE'S THREAT

The President's Conference on Fire Prevention, which will meet May 6-8 in Washington, D. C., has a series of specific objectives.

It will study building construction, operation and protection, with a view to finding means of eliminating present dangers.

It will consider the wide field of fire prevention education, with particular emphasis on instructional aides for schools and colleges.

It will analyze the adequacy of fire-fighting facilities and personnel, and make recommendations for needed improvement.

It will explore the broad question of laws and law enforcement as they relate to fire prevention and fire safety.

It will recommend a plan for obtaining organized, aggressive public support of fire prevention activity in all its phases.

It will establish a program for continuous research with respect to fire, which will provide information on which laws and regulations can be based.

The Conference will mark the start of the most intensive drive against the fire menace ever undertaken. President Truman called it to meet a grave and immediate emergency. And it can do its job only if it receives the widest possible public support.

THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST FIRE

On May sixth to eighth, a conference will be held in Washington, D. C., which will be of direct and personal importance to every person in the country. It will be a national conference on fire prevention—and it has been called by President Truman to meet a grave emergency.

In attendance, there will be officials of the Federal government, the states, and municipalities, and representatives of business, the professions, and civic and service organizations of many kinds. It is hoped that the largest possible representation of interested parties will appear and that officials from every state will attend.

The conference will have several purposes. It will, first, create a wider recognition of the need for more adequate standards of building construction, and the firm and impartial enforcement of building codes and fire safety ordinances. Of equal importance, it is hoped that it will develop a vitally-needed sense of the personal responsibility that must be shared by every citizen if our terrible fire toll is to be reduced.

Loss of life and destruction of property by fire must come down. That is the basic theme of the coming conference. Its work will be in the interest of us all.

A masterpiece of oratory was the eulogy by James G. Blaine on the martyred President, James A. Garfield.

Great in life, he was surpassingly great in death. For no cause, in the very frenzy of wantonness and wickedness, by the red hand of murder, he was thrust from the full tide of this world's interest, from its hopes, its aspirations, its victories, into the visible presence of death—and he did not qual. Not alone for one short moment in which, stunned and dazed, he could give up life, hardly aware of its relinquishment, but through days of deadly languor, through weeks of agony that were not less agony because silently borne, with clear sight and calm courage he looked into his open grave.

What blight and ruin met his anguished eyes, whose lips may tell what baffled, high ambitions, what bitter rending of sweet household ties! Behind him a proud, expectant nation, a great host of sustaining friends, a cherished and happy mother, wearing the full, rich honors of her early toil and tears; the wife of his youth, whose whole life lay in his; the little boys not yet emerged from childhood's day of frolic; the fair young daughter; the sturdy sons just springing into closest companionship, claiming every day and every day rewarding a father's love and care; and in his heart the eager, rejoicing power to meet all demands. And his goal was not shaken.

His countrymen were thrilled with exultant, profound and universal sympathy. Masterful in his mortal weakness, he became the center of a nation's love, enshrined in the prayers of a world. But all the love and all the sympathy could not share with him his suffering. He trod the wine-press alone. With unflinching front, he faced death. With unflinching tenderness, he took leave of life. Above the demonic hiss of the assassin's bullet, he heard the voice of God. With simple resignation, he bowed to the Divine decree.

As the end drew near, his early craving for the sea returned. The stately mansion of power had been to him the wearisome hospital of pain and he begged to be taken from his prison walls, from its oppressive, stifling air, from its homelessness and its hopelessness. Gently, silently, the love of a great people bore the pale sufferer to the longed-for healing of the sea, to live and to die, as God should will, within sight of the heaving billows, within sounds of its manifold voices.

With a wan, fevered face tenderly lifted to the cooling breeze, he looked wistfully upon the ocean's changing wonders; on its far sails; on its restless waves, rolling shoreward to break and die beneath the noon-day sun; on the red clouds of evening, arching low to the horizon; on the serene and shining pathway of the stars. Let us think that his dying eyes read a mystic meaning which only the rapt and parting soul may know. Let us believe that in the silence of the receding world, he brow the breath of the eternal morning.

Let's Face The Facts!

We've heard a lot about "enormous dammed up purchasing power." There is no such thing. Actually, the honeymoon is over. We must now meet the issue squarely.

A great many authorities on economics concur with President Truman's recent statement that "prices have gone out of sight, and must come down." We agree thoroughly.

The prices of marble and granite memorials are too high. Wholesalers and quarriers are predicting even higher prices this spring. Be that as it may, we contend that prices of all commodities are out of line, and as a pioneer in our field of business we are taking the attitude that someone must take the initiative regarding sensible prices. Why shouldn't we set the pattern? Therefore, henceforth, that is our policy.

We have an exceptionally large stock of finished memorials in attractive designs and of finest grades marble and granites. We have more in transit.

All of our prices are taking a drastic cut. This is not a sale. It is just good business. We are now enjoying our forty-sixth year of this community's good will and liberal patronage. We appreciate it. We believe that a smaller margin of profit on a larger turnover is to our mutual advantage. Don't you?

MEMORIAL DAY IS MAY 30th

We invite you to call at our display located two miles east of Vernon on the Wichita Falls Highway or contact our representatives in Munday, Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Hathaway. We suggest that you make your selection early before the choice designs are gone. Remember, the prices are greatly reduced.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., April 25—As this is being written the House is debating the Interior Department Appropriations Bill. The bill as reported slashed budget recommendations for the Interior Department by 47 per cent, reducing the amount from $295,000,000 down to $156,000,000. Several agencies within the Interior Department were entirely eliminated, including the Oil and Gas Division, the Bureau of Reclamation, the Bonneville Power Administration, the Southwestern Power Administration, the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the Geological Survey, the Bureau of Mines, the National Park Service, the Fish and Wild Life Service, were all substantially reduced. While friends of each agency will work hard to restore its appropriation, the bill will probably pass with substantial reductions.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs is an agency which, in my opinion, should be shortly liquidated. This bureau has one employee for each five Indians in the nation. More than twice as much money is spent on the Bureau of Indian Affairs than it costs to run the entire Legislative Branch of the government, i. e.—the Congress and all of its employees. If the Indians were turned loose they would doubtless soon become assimilated and merge into the general population, to their benefit.

The Senate is still debating the tax reduction bill which passed the House some weeks ago. On the theory that misery loves company, we might point out that the Income Tax in England is twice as high as the Income Tax in America.

Numerous squads of CIO members are now working the Capital in opposition to labor legislation. Notwithstanding their efforts, it is certain that Congress will soon pass a bill making a number of changes in existing laws. In Washington there is much speculation on what the President will do with such a bill, whether he will sign or veto it. Most members of Congress feel that the public interest requires that we break up big organized labor monopolies and that we also break up big organized industrial monopolies. Both forms of monopolies are doing great damage to the interests of the consumer and the public generally. Since we no longer have price controls, all increased labor costs and other costs are simply passed on to the consumer. It was easy for Big Steel, a monopoly, to increase the wages of its 800,000 workers by 15 cents per hour, for such increased cost is simply added to the prices paid by the consumer.

About 70 per cent of the cost of automobiles is labor cost. An agreement will soon be made substantially increasing the wages of the one-and-a-half million automotive workers. This will be added to the cost of the commodity. Unorganized workers, farmers, school teachers, white collared workers, and so on, are particularly interested in this matter since they are affected when prices continue to rise.

Hearings on the labor bill brought out many absurd practices which any legislation passed will seek to eliminate, such as jurisdictional strikes. Jurisdictional strikes are not strikes over wages, or hours of work, or conditions of work, but over which union will do a certain job. One serious occurrence in a war industry over which two unions would deliver the coccolata to the plant. The matter of boycotts and sympathy strikes is also serious. Many examples in the hearings where the Teamsters Union had refused to haul, or permit others to haul, goods and equipment from non-union shops. A woman in California was unable to market her turkeys because they were not plucked by union pluckers. Milk was destroyed in one locality because union teamsters had not hauled the fodder on which the cows were fed.

An absurdity concerning who does what is illustrated by a personal experience. We live in a village of 225 apartments here in Washington. The village is owned by an individual and is maintained, of course, by union workmen. Some time ago two men came to the apartment and did a five minute job of caulking a few cracks in the tile bathroom. Mrs. Gossett asked them to make similar repairs in the tile kitchen. To this they replied, "We only work in bathrooms." This is carrying specialization a little too far.

In my opinion a great majority of the members of organized labor would, themselves, like to get rid of abusive practices. Good wages and reasonable profits are in the public interest. But when too much is paid for too little, the consumer gets it in the neck.

News From Boy Scout Troop

The Boy Scouts of Munday are planning an amateur play, or program, some time soon. If anyone thinks he has talent, he will please come to the Munday school auditorium on the night of this program.

The amateur may sing, dance, play guitar, piano, etc. The program altogether is what you might call a contest to see which person has the most talent.

The first place winner will get $5; second place, $3; third place, $2. Admission will be 15 and 25 cents.

Anyone with talent may try; also anyone with nothing to do that night should come and see it. We are sure you will enjoy it.

Tell all your friends about the amateur night, and keep posted for the date of the program. It costs the performers, or amateurs nothing.

SAVE SUGAR FOR CANNING

Easy on the sugar! There will be no sugar stamps issued for home canning this year.

As consumers start using the sugar made available by a new 10-pound stamp April 1, the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service cautions that the sugar bought with the new stamp will have to take care of both home and canning needs. No stamps labeled specifically for home canning will be issued this summer.

Miss Gwendolyn Jones, Extension food preservation specialist, explains that this situation does not mean that each consumer will get less sugar this year. Actually, each person will get 30 or 35 pounds this year in comparison with only 25 pounds last year. In the past, the OPA issued stamps

Under the board's new system, each stamp is worth ten pounds instead of four or five, but no canning stamps are available. We Got to the Fish Fry After All

That community fish fry was sure a great success. There were plenty of appetizing extras, and Will Dudley did a right wonderful job of frying the fish—soft and flaky inside—brown and crisp around the edges.

But we didn't get to go. The missus was tired after working in the yard, and we just didn't want to leave her.

Then how did we know the fish was so good? Because the folks didn't forget us. They sent Skippy Henderson over with two steaming covered plates of fish, and a pitcher of cool, sparkling beer. And we finished them off in front of our own fire.

From where I sit, that's one of the things that makes our town so nice a place to live in: a spirit of share and share alike. That plate of fish and glass of beer weren't just great eating, they were symbols of the thoughtfulness that makes for better living!

of town, so we're told, that drains into our town and right through town. Unless that water can be coaxed to run someplace else, then there ain't much use of spending money on paving.

It's quite a problem to our mayor and our councilmen. They allow as how money spent on paving would be wasted if the paving has to stand under water during hard rains, and then buckle up and ruin from getting soggy-wet underneath.

They'd like to divert the water away from town instead of into town. But it's going to take some work, and some planning, and some talking, and some figuring to do that. Your help and cooperation along that line would be appreciated by our "city fathers."

We learned, via grapevine, that a local civic organization is about ready to sponsor a clean-up drive. Are you ready?

Unless the whole town gets ready at the same time, a clean-up drive ain't gonna do as much good as it should oughta do. Let's all begin to commence to start to get ready—now!!

Training Meeting Of H. D. Agents Is Held April 22, 23

A two-day training meeting for Home Demonstration agents was conducted at the Wichita Valley Farms Community House by Mrs. Myrtle D. Negy, Agent for District III, on April 22 and 23.

Attending the meetings were agents from Archer, Baylor, Childress, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Motley, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger and Knox counties.

Each agent contributed information and ideas that the women of her county had found particularly useful. Those present participated in the work-shop type of program by giving and cooperating in these demonstrations. Among these were included points on the making, use, and storage of dress-forms, how to re-cover lamp shades, better use of kitchen storage space, and the sampling of some biscuits that had been baked and canned in January.

Plans for the District 4-H Girls Annual encampment were gotten under way. Committees were appointed to work out location, program, food, hand-craft, and other plans. Exclusive use of the Baptist Encampment grounds at Ladders has been secured for the last week in May. Each county will bring two 4-H Club sponsors and one girl from each active girls club in the country.

Another important feature of the program was the report on the new time table developed for the canning of meats, fruits, and vegetables. This information is now available in your local Home Demonstration office in Benjamin.

Opportunity knocks for the cotton grower to cash in on cotton in a big way in 1947. The acute shortage of cotton goods, livestock feed, vegetable oils and fats can be remedied only by greater production. This means a vast market for cotton and cottonseed products. It means strong prices for a long time to come. Farmers will do well to plan a substantial part of their farm program around cotton for high returns.

What Is Management?

Management is as old as the hills. There is nothing complicated about it at all. It is a natural function of human society. A man and a woman marry, set up housekeeping, and raise a family. Both are managers.

They manage as they buy a home, educate the children, plant a garden, pick out a car, a refrigerator, a piano. A hundred decisions a day around the house are management decisions.

Management occurs at all levels in government, charity, education, lodge. It is the plumber with his helper, the elevator starter, the superintendent of schools, the master of the grange.

But in America, management probably has had its most scientific application in business.

Business management, even before World War I, helped build up a volume of production surpassing that of any other nation. In World War II, the results were even more spectacular. America outproduced all other countries combined.

By 1941, the value of an hour of work in terms of the staple necessities of life, bread and butter, had so been raised that an American could buy from two to eight times as much as a man in Europe. This didn't just happen. Neither the men and women in industry nor the money in industry can be effective without good management. Nothing else is so important to the workers' welfare, the investors' welfare or the public welfare.

Sweetwater To Conference May 2 On Development

Sweetwater—Third of a series of conferences by West Texas development committee set up by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to work with rail lines serving the area in probing and nationally advertising its industrial assets and opportunities, will be held this week at Sweetwater, with officials of the Santa Fe system.

E. L. Buelow of San Angelo, chairman of the West Texas-Santa Fe committee, has summoned the 116 members of his group to assemble at Sweetwater's Bluebonnet hotel Friday at 10 o'clock. An all-morning session will follow with the representatives of the three Santa Fe lines traversing West Texas. Two of these cross as Sweetwater.

The discussion is expected to center on the vast production of agricultural and other raw materials in the 55 counties served by the Santa Fe that can be turned to account industrially. Also to be taken up will be a proposal for comprehensive industrialization surveys to be made jointly by the railroad, chambers of commerce in the towns it serves, and the regional chamber. Two of the six industrial groups already have had their kickoff meetings: the West Texas-

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—A good old fashioned spring house cleaning in every city and community in Texas would do a great deal toward furthering good health in this state, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who said in Austin today, "From a practical standpoint the old adage that 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness' is still well worth emphasizing."

A general clean-up program of state-wide proportions with the objective of bettering health conditions for our citizenship should include the surface cleaning of streets and alleys, proper drainage or fill-in of low areas, cleaning all parks and playgrounds and the clearing of weeds and rubbish off of vacant lots.

"The destruction of mosquito breeding places and rat harborage, the proper disposal of garbage and trash and the general cleaning of all premises will be," said Dr. Cox, "of inestimable value in helping to keep down summer health hazards such as dysentery, typhoid, and poliomyelitis. Good housekeeping and ordinary sanitary measures require the prompt removal of all waste matter in and around yards and homes in order to abate the danger of such diseases, and insure good health protection throughout the state."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that many dangerous diseases are filth-borne, and the only possible way to control them is to eliminate the insanitary conditions responsible for their spread.

Veterans News

More than 6,000,000 of the 14,447,000 World War II veterans have applied to the Veterans Administration for education and training benefits, VA reported this week.

Veterans seeking these benefits by states included: Texas, 228,805; Mississippi 76,728; and Louisiana 51,780.

Of the 2,604,000 on-the-job or in educational institutions on April 1, Texas accounted for 154,313, Mississippi for 33,098 and Louisiana for 36,076.

VA estimated that 2,560,000 World War II veterans have been granted certificates of eligibility but have not yet entered training or educational courses for reasons of their own.

Men and women who served in World War II are enrolled in 25,000 colleges and other educational facilities and are taking on-the-job training in 365,000 factories, farms and offices.

Educational facilities being utilized in VA's Dallas Branch Area included 1,534 in Texas; 1,469 in Mississippi; and 887 in Louisiana.

Factories, farms and offices approved for veteran training in the same Southwestern area numbered 31,608 for Texas; 11,233 for Mississippi and 6,666 for Louisiana.

Veterans attending school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill) who plan to continue their education this summer in a different school should apply immediately for a supplemental certificate of eligibility, VA warned this week.

VA said it is necessary that applications be filed with VA well in advance of the end of the spring semester in order to insure receipt of the certificate by the veteran before he enrolls in a different school.

A veteran may obtain an application from the registrar, veterans' coordinator, or training officer at the school he is now attending, or from any VA office. Applications should be sent to the VA Regional Office having jurisdiction over the school the veteran is now attending. Veterans cannot be admitted to a new school without the certificate.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. I am an honorably discharged World War II veteran, and would like to know of what benefit is a guaranteed loan if I purchase a home under the G. I. Bill?

A. The guaranty provides or increases the security you have to offer for a loan by the amount of the guaranty; it tends to induce the lender to lend more nearly the full purchase price of the property and to give you a better rate of interest, and finally 4 per cent of the amount guaranteed is paid to the lender by VA and is an outright gift to you.

Q. My wife and I plan to purchase a $9,000 home. We are both World War II veterans. Can we acquire the property jointly and so increase the amount which may be guaranteed?

A. Yes, you may acquire the property jointly, but the maximum guaranty may not exceed 50 per cent of the loan.

Q. I have a G. I. loan on my home and would like to know if I can have the loan extended?

A. Yes, you can have the loan extended if the lender is willing to give you more time, but the extension must provide for complete payment of the loan within the 25-year maximum period provided by law.

Q. What is the largest amount I can borrow under the G. I. Bill and still have the loan guaranteed?

A. There is no limit on the amount which can be borrowed under the G. I. Bill. The limitation by law is on the size of the government guaranty and not upon the size of the loan.

COTTONSEED PRODUCTION

Austin—Cottonseed crushed at Texas mills during March fell a 15 per cent loss from March 1946 and a 50 per cent decline from February of this year, according to Bureau of the Census reports released by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The Bureau's index of cottonseed crushings, seasonally-adjusted, dropped only 25 per cent from February to March, since half of the slump was a seasonally-expected dip. This brought the index to 41.6 from February's 55.5. Based on the average of 100 during the years 1935 to 1939, this means that crushings have failed to come up to the half-way mark of pre-war production.

Receipts at Texas mills totaled 4,679 tons in March for a 10 per cent gain over receipts in March 1946.

Stocks at the end of March, also on the downward trend, totaled 38,448 tons to show a 3 per cent dip below March 1946 stocks and a loss of 39 percent for the February to March comparison.

S. O. S. TO HOMEMAKERS

College Station—The housewife's kitchen, for many months to come, is the consumer's only hope for more soap and other commodities in which fats and oils are used.

According to B. F. Vance, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, the housewife, with the used kitchen fats she saves and sells to her butcher, is the only individual who can help bridge the gap between supply and demand for fats and oils. Vance states that the nation's supply of fats and oils are almost exhausted now, 1947 production will be short and imports will be below normal. This situation can result in a serious shortage if housewives don't answer the call for help.

Every pound of kitchen fat that a housewife can save is greatly needed, Vance says. He is urging all homemakers to take a can of fat to the butcher when they shop.

United States agriculture is the largest private business in the world. In 1946, it turned out about 25 million dollars worth of commodities.

In their soil improvement work, Texas farmers applied 100 times as much lime to their land in 1946 as they did back in 1943.

Lower Rio Grande Valley tons to shipments in 1946 amounted to 10,200 carloads.

The common "pill bug", which rolls itself into a ball when disturbed, often causes damage to ornamental plants and shrubs by feeding on the roots. Five per cent DDT dusted on the plants and in the soil will control the pest.

Have Your Planting Cottonseed

Keingas Delinted

Recleaned, Graded and Treated With Ceresan At The Munday Kemgas Plant

This method is recommended by the Texas Experiment Station and the USDA for controlling the germs of cotton diseases on seeds and insect pests in seeds; saving chopping expense; reducing losses from root rot; improving and hastening germination and increasing yields.

Kemgas Delinted Seed Are Planted With Corn Plates At the Rate Of 5 To 7 Pounds Of Seed Per Acre.

Tractors plant more per acre as there are few stops to refill with seed and no fuzz and trash to choke planters, cause skippy rows, and delay planting operations while the boxes are being cleaned.

Kemgas delinted seed come up quicker and grow off faster enabling cultivation a week earlier.

mary school there, then went to Conception, Mo., and to Subiaco, Ark. He took his theological work at Subiaco Abbey and was ordained on May 28, 1922.

His first duties after his ordination were as assistant prefect and teacher at Subiaco College, 1922-1927; he was then called to Corpus Christi for two years and spent the following year in missionary work. He was pastor at Holy Family church in Nazareth, Texas, from 1930 to 1933, and pastor at Saint Joseph's church, Paris, Ark., until 1942, when he went to Muenster as pastor, remaining until he was transferred to his present station on Oct. 1, 1945.

While serving as pastor of Sacred Heart, a three hundred family parish at Muenster, he distinguished himself not only as a priest but also as a citizen and friend. During his brief pastorate at Rhineland he won the admiration of his parishioners. Some of the notable accomplishments during his tenure at Rhineland are: The modernization of the Sisters Home, installation of a loud speaker system in the church and the introduction of the envelope budget system in the parish. Primarily, Father Thomas is interested in the spiritual progress of his flock. He is most solicitous in administering to and comforting the sick. Through his efforts all parish societies were organized or reorganized, each of which functions as a potent entity for good in the parish. That spiritual and material progress has been made is attested by the annual parish report of 1946.

At this time Father Thomas is jealously engaged with plans to resume work of completing the interior of the Rhineland church.

Wherever his duties have called him he was distinguished himself not only as a priest but also as a friend and a citizen. Many notable improvements have taken place under his pastorage and are lasting memorials to his energetic efforts.

Father Thomas is a good mixer, an eloquent speaker, and an excellent financier. He is most solicitous in his care for the sick and is an ardent lover of flowers and landscaping. Much of his leisure time is spent in beautifying church and school grounds where he is pastor.

Love Grass Is Being Planted In This Area

Weeping Love Grass is being planted at a fast rate by Wichita Brazos Soil Conservation District cooperators, being assisted by Soil Conservation Service technicians of Knox City. In addition to the farmers that already have some grass planted and are planting more, the following is a list of farmers that are trying the grass for the first time: Joe Mathis, Junior Mathis, T. A. Holcomb and Carl Wheeler all of Judd; Dick Varnell, Knox City; N. M. Henderson, Munday and Harry Beck, Vera.

Thirty-five acres of Weeping Love Grass, one acre of Yellow Beard Grass and five acres of Sand Love Grass have been planted on the P. O. Large farm located about 8 miles northwest of Knox City. The planting of these grasses is only one practice for establishing and maintaining a coordinated conservation plan.

Weeping Love Grass has proven itself pretty well in this locality and more and more farmers are anxious to obtain seed and get this grass started.

serve as Secretary-for-the-day. The theme "Let There Be Light" was carried out through the days program, as representatives from counties reported the achievements of their local Home Demonstration Councils in five main phases: Education, Marketing, Recreation, Legislation and 4-H.

Dr. Joe Davis Is Here

Dr. Joe Davis, practicing physician for 40 years, but now a rancher in the Boerne area, was here the first of this week, visiting old friends and looking after his property interests here.

Dr. Davis practiced medicine here for a number of years, and moved to Boerne to engage in ranching and quit practicing. He was "drafted" by the people during the war, however, and practiced in Boerne for over three years.

He has again retired to his ranch, where he is content to "jiddle" around and raise a few cattle and hogs. Dr. Davis met many of his old friends while here.

President Calls For National Conference On Fire Prevention

Fifteen hundred public officials and representatives of a large number of important business, civic, service, women's and farm organizations will meet in Washington, D. C. on May 6, 7 and 8, to attend a national conference on fire prevention called by President Truman to develop a practical program for a country-wide drive against the fire menace.

Under the chairmanship of Major General Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, the Conference will bring together responsible federal, state and municipal authorities and experts in all phases of fire prevention and protection.

President Truman will address the opening session on Tuesday morning May 6.

Six committees have been making preliminary studies of the underlying causes for the present excessive loss of life and property by fire and of ways and means for reducing them. Their findings will form the basis for recommendations of the Conference.

Working under the general supervision of W. E. Reynolds, Commissioner of Public Buildings, Federal Works Agency and chairman of the Conference Coordinating Committee, these committees have been functioning for the past three months.

The Honorable John C. Knox, United States District Judge, Second District of New York heads a committee on Laws and Law Enforcement which is largely composed of prominent lawyers. It has explored the question of State laws that will provide minimum standards of regulation for fire safety and facilitate the adoption of municipal ordinances that will augment these minimum standards. The legality of so-called retroactive features of laws and ordinances pertaining to fire safety has also been carefully studied.

A committee on Fire Prevention Education under the chairmanship of Dr. Harry Byrd, President of the University of Maryland has been making a survey of instructional facilities on fire safety in elementary and secondary schools, colleges and universities.

Major General William J. Donovan, former director of the Office of Strategic Services is chairman of a committee on the firefighting services studying the personnel training and equipment of the fire departments as well as rural and forest fire fighting facilities.

Building operation, construction and protection has been under review by a committee headed by Alfred C. Fuller, President of the Fuller Brush Company, Hartford, Connecticut.

A committee on research concerning scientific development and human behavior as applied to fire safety has been working under the chairmanship of Woodward H.

Brenton, banker and manufacturer of Des Moines, Iowa.

W. Walter Williams, business and civic leader of Seattle, Washington, heads a committee on Organized Public Support which will develop plans for implementing the recommendations of the Conference throughout the country.

"We have laid a solid ground work for the Conference by appointing committees of experts to study specific phases of the problem", General Fleming said, "and based on the gratifying results which followed the President's Conference on Highway Safety a year ago, we are confident that we will succeed in drafting a program that will assist in overcoming the fire menace."

Local Fishermen Take Annual Trek To Ft. McKavett

It used to be May 1—opening of the fishing season each year—that local fishermen would frequent the banks of the San Saba River, on the Tom Tolbot ranch, near Fort McKavett, Texas. Now they go when the fever hits at the first signs of spring.

The fever hit last week, and a long about Wednesday the local group started heading toward the San Saba. Others joined them later in the week. They pitched camp at the old favorite spot, where some of them had gone for more than 20 years.

Included in the group are: M. F. Billingsley, J. L. Stodghill, Leland Hannah, Dick Atkeison, Henry Atkeison of Haskell, and the camp cook, Jess Gardley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spann and Mrs. J. L. Stodghill were there during the week end, returning home Monday night. Dave Mouldin of San Antonio and others joined them at the fishing spot.

Those who returned home reported just about such weather as we had here last week—heavy cloudiness with light showers—just the wrong kind of weather for fishing. "If it's pretty there now, they're sure dragging them in," they said.

The remainder of the group are expected home the latter part of this week.
