Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

See whiz! At the strawberries!

That's the expression that went through our mind a few weeks ago, when we stepped out of the car and into Bill Spelce's garden.

We saw a little patch of strawberry vines that had strawberries in every stage of production, from the purity-white blossom to the ripening fruit.

We examined the plants. On them were little 'uns, and big 'uns—some nearly ripe enough to eat, and some just beginning to turn a reddish hue.

There had been some ripe ones, but Mrs. Spelce gathered them that morning. She probably had a premonition that we were coming to visit the patch.

We accompanied Postmaster Lee Haymes to the scene. In fact, it was on his invitation that we first knew there was a strawberry growing in Munday. Since then we've heard of quite a few.

Directly we took our eyes off the strawberries, and saw Bill working away, back of the house. We hollared at him, and he comes out into the garden and gets to talking.

It's not very hard to get Bill Spelce to talking, especially if it's about gardening.

He tells us all about how he cares for his strawberries—how he plants blackeyed peas among them to sorta protect them from the hot sun; how he covers them with straw in the heat of summer and then pours the water to them; how he keeps them covered in winter to keep them from freezing, then scratches back the straw and gathers fresh strawberries for Christmas dinner if he wants them.

We remarks about the rest of his garden—and Bill talks some more. We're soon convinced that Bill is quite a gardener, and knows his business.

Take spinish, for instance. You can have it all, so far as we're concerned.

But Bill grows spinish! He had some two or three rows that were just as pretty as any you'd see of the same age down at Crystal City. "It sure did look pretty," Bill says, "until my wife got here and pulled out them two rows to can them."

Yeah, Mrs. Spelce had been canning spinish—us to the most useless form of human labor a person could do!

You probably guessed it. We don't like spinish. And we say that with all due respect for Bill and his wife, as well as all those who live around Crystal City, the spinish capital.

So what? We don't want to look like Popeye, anyhow!

But that's not all. Bill had other things growing, too. It kinda appeared like he was following a live at home program.

There were several beds of asparagus, some beans, and peas, and corn—all further advanced than ours—and a nice flock of White Leghorns in the chicken yard, a milk cow in the lot, and lots of other evidence that Bill didn't aim to starve to death.

Bill tells us how his chickens never fly over the fence and bother his garden, or his neighbors. When one gets out, they catch it and clip one of its wings. Pretty soon they learn they've been clipped and can't fly out; then they quit trying.

He shows us where he's got a gate at every convenient place. He doesn't believe in doing a lot of useless walking just to get from one enclosure to another. He just picks out the gate that's most convenient, and goes through it.

He tells us other things, too; how he's got beautiful box elders instead of the paradise tree, etc. (Continued on page Four)

Cotton Fertilized With Airplanes

Latest trick in South Plains agriculture is fertilizing cotton by airplane.

Lubbock County Agricultural Agent D. W. Sherrill, who believes there is something new happening every day in West Texas farming and ranching, reports that a demonstration was held recently in that county to see how airplane fertilization goes.

The demonstration took place on the L. J. West farm, 12 miles southwest of Lubbock. About 50 people watched a ship from a local flying service dust a cotton field with 4-12-4 fertilizer. Sherrill says a stiff breeze interfered with operations a bit, and the fertilizer did not settle as rapidly and evenly as it should. There may be cotton fertilized free for miles around. If the method pans out as effective, however, you can bank on West Texas farmers taking to it fast, the county agent says.

Already airplanes are being used widely to spread cotton defoliant and insecticides.

Country Club To Set Tourney Dates

Ray Holcomb, president of the Munday Municipal Country Club, has called a meeting of club members for 8 p. m. today, Thursday, for the purpose of deciding on the dates for the club's golf tournament.

The meeting will be held at the Mahan Funeral Home. The dates and other particulars of the tournament will be decided on, and all members are urged to be present.

Methodist Annual Conference Being Held In Amarillo

The annual conference of Methodist churches comprising the Northwest Texas area convened in Amarillo on Wednesday of this week, and will continue through Sunday. Appointments of pastors for the new year will be read during the closing session of the conference Sunday.

This has been a 7-months year with Methodist churches, since the conference dates were moved up from November to May at the annual session last year. This was thought more convenient, as pastors making changes may move their families during the school vacation months.

Rev. and Mrs. Don Davidson left this week to attend the conference. Others expected to attend a portion of the sessions, at least are: Rev. J. R. Bateman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coughran, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell, Lee Haymes, and possibly others.

Broach Visits Implement Factory

Fred Broach, Jr., of Munday spent several days the week of May 18 in Minneapolis, Minn. and Moline, Ill. visiting the home offices and the various plants of the Minneapolis-Moline Power Implement Company and conferring with officials of the company.

With over 60 other farm implement dealers from Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, he observed first hand the production methods of the huge Minneapolis plants of the company and discussed with company officials and engineers the production outlook for the coming year on farm machinery.

Following the Minneapolis conference, he spent the latter part of the week in Moline, Ill. observing work carried on there and discussed with officials the problems of meeting the unprecedented demand for modern farm equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts returned home Wednesday night from San Antonio, Corpus Christi and other points where they had been vacationing for about three weeks.

C. R. Elliott attended a meeting of the Production Credit Association in Stamford on Wednesday.

Last Rites For Judy Reid Are Held Sunday

One of the community's loveliest, most precious flowers was plucked at nine o'clock last Saturday morning, when the Death Angel called for little Judy Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace O. Reid of Munday.

Judy had undergone a tonsillectomy at a Wichita Falls hospital on Friday and seemed to be getting along nicely when complications set in. Death was attributed to respiratory paralysis.

Born at the Knox county hospital on July 29, 1940, Judy was six years, nine months and 25 days of age. Although a child, Judy had endeared herself to all the community with her ever-present smile and lovely disposition. Her death was a shock to everyone.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Reid, and her little brother, Jimmy; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reid of Munday and Mrs. M. M. Morgan of Greenville, and the following uncles and aunts: Alvin and Harvey Reid and Mrs. M. H. Brumley, Munday; Miss Juanita Reid, San Angelo; Jim and P. E. Morgan, Greenville; R. S. Morgan, Fort Worth; Clarice Boyer, Ola Cook and Condie Morgan, all of Greenville.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist church at 3:30 last Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. H. Albertson, who was assisted by Rev. Don Davidson. Burial was in the Johnson cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

A lovely arrangement of beautiful flowers sprays banked the church pulpit, attesting to the love and affection which the community held for this innocent child.

Palbearers were Dave Crockett, Chan Hughes, Leland Hannah, C. W. Powerll, Joe Bailey King and D. C. Swindle, Judy's schoolmates served as flower bearers.

The entire community extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved parents and relatives.

Pierce Farm Home Destroyed By Fire

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce, on the Partridge farm north of Johnson cemetery, was destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. Members of the Munday Fire Department went to the home, but were unable to obtain water to use the fire truck.

The flames broke out in the top of the building, according to reports. No one of the Pierce family were at home at the time, and neighbors were able to save just a few minor articles.

The loss was partially covered by insurance, which was carried on both the house and furnishings, but the amount was enough to cover only a small portion of the loss.

TO RELATIVES FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harpham and daughter, Claire, spent the week end in Dallas, where they were held Saturday on account of the death of a relative, Tommie Jones, who died suddenly Saturday morning. Mr. Jones had visited in the Harpham home on several occasions and was known by a number of local people.

Assures Future of Farming

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — Effective mechanization definitely assures the future of farming. Shown above in action is the New Bale-o-Matic, an automatic hay baler that performs the complete operation, a long stride in the best use of cost-reducing, time-saving machinery. Minneapolis-Moline, it picks up the hay, ties it into firm oblong bales in slices with two steel wires, while hay is under compression. Size, density and weight of the bales is automatically determined and counted, and the only manpower necessary is the tractor operator.

Thar She Blows!

"Thar she blows" is a familiar phrase among those aboard whaling vessels, but not used very much in Munday. She could have been used last Friday when that air compressor "blew its top" out in the storage room of Reeves Motor Co.

The safety valve went haywire on the compressor; someone turned it on and then got busy. The compressor just got too full of air. There was an explosion, and said machinery went right through the top of the building, scattering debris here, there and yonder.

People in that vicinity began making a quick getaway. An air drom, or something, hit in the middle of the street and struck a model A Ford; the driver kicked it out of the way and went on about his business.

No one was hurt; quite a bit of excitement was created, but little damage was done, except that Jim Reeves is in the market for an air compressor and needs some repairs to his roof.

Farm Labor Program Aids In Wheat Harvest

Knox County grain growers will have available the Farm Labor Program again this year to assist them in securing combines, combine operators, tractor drivers and regular labor.

This service will be available through the County Agent's office at Benjamin, Texas.

J. B. Kidd, Supervisor for this district, has been receiving reports of this county's needs for some time, and he in turn has contacted combine operators throughout the central portion of the nation. The County Agent's office has received visits and phone calls from many owners in Texas, as well as other states. In all, 70 combines with operators, have been requested to arrive in the county around June 2nd. Some are already standing by for harvest, expecting to begin around June 3rd.

Grain growers who wish out-side combines and have not already made arrangements for same, may leave their name with J. M. Carpenter at the Benjamin Court House.

Electra was selected as the next convention site for the West Texas Firemen's Association. Members selected Electra as the convention city at closing sessions of the spring convention held in Seymour last Thursday.

Seymour firemen were host to a big fried chicken dinner for visiting firemen Thursday evening at the Seymour park.

Olney placed first in the horse race, and Electra was winner of the water polo contests.

Principal speaker for the spring convention was Olin Culberson, railroad commissioner and secretary of the State Firemen's Association. Other program numbers included a demonstration of magic by Ralph DeShong of Wichita Falls.

More than 100 firemen and their wives attended the convention. Included in those from Munday were: Mr. and Mrs. John B. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Couch, Mr. and Mrs. John Lemley, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stodghill and H. B. Stubblefield.

IT'S A BOY BABY!

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Jungman of Vernon are announcing the arrival of a son, who was born on Friday, May 23, at a Wichita Falls hospital. Mother and little son are reported to be doing nicely.

GOES TO GORMAN

Mrs. A. J. V. Johnson left last Saturday for Gorman, Texas, where she will spend the summer visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Davis. Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Johnson took her to Gorman, returning home Sunday afternoon.

Hospital Bond Vote Carries By 10-1 Majority

Voters of Knox county signified their desire for a larger and better equipped county hospital last Saturday when they went to the polls and voted overwhelmingly for the $50,000 hospital bond election.

On the basis of incomplete returns Saturday night, with the vote complete in seven out of the nine voting boxes, the count was 552 for the bonds, as shown against 52 negative votes. This is believed the largest majority in which any county-wide bond election ever carried.

The extremely crowded conditions at the hospital during recent years will be taken care of to some extent when an addition is made to the hospital building, this being the chief purpose of the bond election as pointed out by doctors and members of the hospital board. Some 20 additional rooms are planned for the hospital, repairs will be made and new equipment installed.

No new taxes are planned as a result of the bond issue, it was explained. It is proposed that the new bonds begin maturing in 1955, when the old bonds are retired, so that only interest will be payable on the new issue until that time.

Hospital board members pointed out that only a few months have passed in which the hospital did not turn some money into the county treasury in addition to paying its operating expenses, building a nurses' home adding 10 rooms out of hospital earnings.

Donkeys Knew Who Would Win All The Time!

Jaycees And Country Boys Battle Mules In Ball Game

A bunch of longeared donkeys, who were named after radio and movie stars and comic strip characters, gave the Munday Jaycees and the Country Boys plenty of trouble last Tuesday night in the first donkey softball game to be staged locally.

The donkeys looked dumb. The score came out three to two in favor of the Jaycees, but all eighteen players will probably agree that the donkeys got the best of them.

There's no question about who won in center field. E. B. Littlefield, the Jaycee; Jerry Nix, the country boy, and Frank Sanatra, the donkey, played that position. There was no ball playing there, though, because Frank kept the boys busy trying to stay astride his back. Two players would ear Frank down, and Jerry or E. B. would mount him—but they wouldn't stay long!

The base-running donkeys were such famous characters as Olive Oil, Wimpy, Van Johnson and Judy Garland. We think Jaycee Charles Baker was riding Van Johnson when he hit home plate for the winning score in the bottom half of the last inning.

Fred Broach, Jr., and L. B. Patterson, Jr., were a little bit ashamed of themselves—such boys riding on such small donkeys—but (Continued on page Four)

Les Jameson Sole Owner Of Goree Hardware

The partnership of Les Jameson and H. L. Moore in the Goree Hardware was dissolved on May 10th, when Mr. Jameson purchased the interests of Mr. Moore in the firm. The partnership had been in operation for about 18 months.

Mr. Jameson invites the continued patronage of all the firm's customers, and promises them every service possible. He will continue to handle a stock of shelf and builder's hardware, Fairbanks-Morse pumps, home appliances and other merchandise. The firm will also continue its plumbing service. Mr. Moore has not announced his plans for the future.

THE NEW COUNTY ROAD LAW

One of the relatively few constructive measures enacted by the 50th legislature is entitled the Optional County Road Law of 1947. It provides that a county may create a county highway department, to administer the county road system as a unit, instead of, as in so many counties now, allowing each precinct to look after its own roads separately. No county is required to adopt the new plan, but any county may do so by vote of its citizens. The commissioners' court conducts the department, if the plan is adopted, with a county road engineer employed to supervise construction work.

In most counties, under the old laws, the precinct was the unit in road matters. This often resulted in disregard of the needs of the county as a whole, and in wasting of available funds on construction projects of slight value to the general public. The new law takes cognizance of the fact that a road must go some where in order to justify its construction; it also recognizes that competent technical service is needed to obtain proper value for the road money that is spent.

The plan probably will be voted down in many counties where elections are called, because of local jealousy. But the counties that adopt it and sincerely try to make it function will, we believe, find that it makes for more good roads, serving more people, for less money.—Wichita Daily Times.

YOUR LIVING COSTS

The high cost of food—which recently touched a record level—still holds an important place in the headlines. Reports of consumer resistance have come from all parts of the country. Government officials have been considering possible remedial measures. And retailers, whose prosperity depends upon a large and stable turnover, are definitely concerned.

The public should understand the position of the retailer in a matter such as this. He is literally caught in the middle—between high wholesale prices on the one hand, and consumer demand for lower prices on the other. He is without control over wages, the prices paid farmers, taxes, and everything else that enters into the final selling cost of food. What he can do is to hold down his own cost of operation to the limit, so that prices increase may be as small and as few as possible. And that is exactly what nine out of ten retailers are doing.

A recent report of what happens to each dollar spent by the consumer in one of the country's principal food stores tells the story. Of each dollar sale, less than one solitary cent remained with the store as net profit. All the rest went for overhead and purchases of one kind or another—for buying goods, for rent, for salaries, for taxes, etc. This system's operating costs are the lowest consistent with running an efficient, attractive store. It is obvious, in other words, that the retailer is not the reason for

FIRE HEEDS THE DISASTER ROLL

W. E. Mallalieu, General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, has called upon all sections of industry for better compliance with safety standards, in order to prevent such disasters as the fires and explosions which razed Texas City, killing hundreds of people, injuring thousands, and causing an enormous property loss.

His organization, he said, "will do everything in its power to meet the challenge of fire in this age of increasingly hazardous chemical compounds. For this we are speeding up our research into industry's fire problems."

"But we call on all industry, management and workers alike, for wholehearted compliance with all safety standards that are or may be promulgated." The American Red Cross has stated that fires are responsible for more disaster relief calls than all other causes, including tornado, hurricane, and flood, combined. Furthermore, fire is often a contributing factor to loss of life even in floods and tornadoes. It has become one of the greatest killers—even as it is one of the greatest destroyers of property.

No community and no home is safe from fire. Eternal vigilance is necessary. The ghastly disaster at Texas City, like the hotel fires of last year, should have focused the attention of the entire country on this terrible menace.

HEALTH SIGN

Two excellent examples of the intensified efforts of retailers to do something constructive about the price problem have recently appeared.

A retailers' organization whose membership is largely made up of stores dealing in merchantable lines, recommended that stores pledge buyers to seek out and eliminate over-priced goods; that they pass on to consumers intact any price reductions obtained; and that they apply the same price economies to their own operations that they are now demanding from suppliers.

In the food field, one of the country's largest chain systems announced that it can and will contribute to reducing the cost of living by immediately dropping retail prices on existing inventory when wholesale prices go down; that it will attempt to further reduce the in-between costs of distributing foods; and that its policy will be extremely small profits based on a large volume of business. In this connection, it pointed that its net profits were one and one-third cents per dollar of sales in 1946.

Retailing, of course, is but one segment of the economy and many basic costs are completely beyond its control. But the fact that it is devoting its resources to the price problem is one of the healthy signs of the times.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Want to Run a "Collective" Farm?

Was reading the other day about the "collective" farms they have in certain countries. It seems the folks who run them have plenty of help . . . good hours . . . and the best equipment.

Sounds pretty nice—till you learn that the "farmer" doesn't own his land, or even farm it, in our sense. He takes orders from the state; produces whatever they want him to produce, at prices they set. Even his off-hours are spent according to state regulations.

No, that would never go here. We're willing to work hard, but we like to farm the land our own way, put our own value on the crops, and relax as we like—if only with a temperate, companionable glass of beer.

From where I sit, collective farming may produce results. But the American way—freedom to work and relax as we see fit—is what makes this country a great place to live. So let's not change it!

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., May 23—The House this week passed the Navy Appropriation Bill. The Navy requested $3.5 billion, or approximately 11 per cent. Our peacetime armed services are notoriously inefficient. The Army and the Navy could both do a better job on much less money. Friends returning from overseas theaters give authentic reports of the waste of manpower and duplication of efforts by both Army and Navy. The Army has sent hundreds of civilian employees abroad with no jobs for them when they get there. But they will keep them as long as possible, even if they have nothing to do but shine some officer's shoes.

The House this week also passed the so-called "Wool Bill". In 1942 we had 49,807,000 sheep in this country. We now have 32,542,000—a drop of 35 per cent. In 1942 we produced 459,073,000 lbs. of wool. Production has now fallen to 300,000,000—a reduction of 35 per cent. In 1946 this country consumed over billion pounds of wool.

up these units cannot be surpassed by that of any other group of men. We must therefore feel that the Gold Star Mothers and Fathers of over five hundred of these boys who fell in battle for this country have a tangible stake in the America for which their sons died. It is the least that a grateful Republic might offer—this tendering to them the opportunity of becoming citizens of the United States.

"In behalf of the two million overseas veterans who are members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, I urge your subcommittee's early and favorable consideration of the bill, H. R. 3305. Should the subcommittee decide to hold hearings on the bill, I would appreciate your affording a representative of this office an opportunity to testify in behalf of the bill."

This week, our subcommittee on Immigration favorably reported this bill. I know of one Japanese mother who had four sons in the American Army. Three of them died in battle. Under the proposed bill she and several hundred others would be eligible to apply for naturalization.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Editor's Note: The following letter from W. H. Coursey was received a few days ago:
 Botkinburg, Ark.
 May 25, 1947

Another letter from the folks in the Arkansas Ozarks. We notice in the Times that Knox county has us skinned on rain fall. Fish haven't got to coming to the house by themselves—we have to go to the creek after them.

We haven't had any heavy rains this spring. Plenty of light ones for moisture. Things are backward, as it has been so unusually cold, and the nights are still cool enough for a fire in the fireplace.

Understand you had more hard cold in the winter than we did. We had you country folks-bested, for we had plenty of good fires.

So far our crops are looking fine. Plowed corn the second-time. But everything planted and up but soybeans; 40 acres of good oats.

I have been asked by several to write to The Times again and tell some more about the country. Well, where I live is 24 miles northwest of Clinton, county seat of Van Buren county, in what is known as Archey Creek Valley. The creek is a nice size stream of very swift, clear water from springs in the mountains. This valley varies in width, laying between the mountains and creek; land is good and smooth level, most clear of rocks, and when you get to my house you can't see how you came, or how you will get out, as it looks like you are surrounded with high mountains.

When I moved here, I thought I was hid from the rest of the world but our dear kin folks have found us.

Since I last wrote, I learn we are going to get a good gravel road down the mountain, and better mail and school service.

I have been asked what we grow for a money crop—feed, and put it to cattle and hogs. No cotton at all. The most independent place I have lived. Everybody raises everything and cans it, put it in a cellar, kills plenty of meat, and goes to mill for meal.

Just a short time back my brother and wife visited us from Fort Worth about a week. His wife asked me if I didn't go to the store. I asked her if she was getting hungry. She said, "Heavens no. Me and my wife killed four good hogs and canned about 500 qts. of almost everything to eat, so you can see we can live on $5.00 a month."

Everyone should take a trip on Highway No. 65 from Little Rock to Springfield, Mo., and get a real eye full of beauty.

We had our son, W. W. Coursey, and wife and Mr. Handel Butler to visit us from Goree the first of this month.

Yours truly,
 W. H. Coursey.
 P. S.—Think we country people should take more interest in our country paper.

Fellowships and scholarships with a combined total of $10,000 were awarded to University of Texas students recently by the board of regents. Four advanced fellowships of $800 were awarded; four $400 fellowships and 11 $400 scholarships. All were for the 1947-48 session.

'Train of Tomorrow' Takes the Rails

A "TRAIN OF TOMORROW" that is packed full of mechanical marvels, new-as-tomorrow interior decoration and many postwar features for the comfort and safety of passengers, has just been launched by General Motors, its designer, for a six-month exhibition tour of the country. Powered by a GM Electro-Motive Diesel locomotive, the cars are of an entirely new design, permitting an Astra Dome stop each (see above) for unrivaled view of landscape, and a depressed car floor beneath, resulting in low floor levels in every car. (Below) Among the first to enjoy a meal in the luxurious Astra Dome-Diner were Alice Faye and Phil Harris of movie and radio fame.

Activities of The Colored People

The service was grand last Sunday at West Beulah Baptist church, with the pastor present, also Rev. J. T. Taylor, pastor of Scott Chapel, and his members. On Monday night, Pastor Washington taught a Bible class. Members are being added to the church.

On Thursday night through Saturday night, Mrs. F. Jamergon, district field worker, and her helper, Mrs. Green, missionary of Abilene, will be at the Church of God in Christ. Everyone is invited to attend these services. Pastor C. Roberson will be at his post Sunday.

James Edward, who is serving in the U. S. Army spent three weeks with his parents, Mrs. Elvora Hendric. He left last Friday morning for California to spend a few days with his uncle, Bob Lee.

Marion Phillips Now Enrolled In A. C. C., Abilene

Marion P. Phillips of Munday, an ex-service man, is now enrolled as a freshman student in Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas, where he is majoring in the field of Petroleum Engineering.

He is one of 815 students going to Abilene Christian College on the G. I. Bill, according to the college Registrar's office. The Abilene institution has an enrollment of 1440 students from 25 states, the District of Columbia, and nine foreign countries.

Eighty-six per cent of the veterans in Abilene Christian College are members of the Church of Christ, and six per cent belong to other religious groups.

The most popular major field chosen by Veterans is business administration, with Bible a close second. Vocational choice of these men range from farming and ranching to geology, journalism, and electronics.

The average veteran was in the service two years and nine months and nine per cent served more than four years.

Farmers Plant Love Grass; Good For Sandy Land

Among District Cooperators who have planted Weeping Love Grass in the Wichita Grasses Soil Conservation District this season are: D. H. Persons, 2 acres; T. A. Holcomb, 15 acres; Dick Varnell, 5 acres and S. W. Hutchens, 15 acres.

This grass has proven very successful on the sandy land of the district, and more of the grass will be planted as seed become available. It is a fast growing grass when once established, and capable of furnishing a lot of grazing at a time when needed most in the sandy areas. It makes good grazing by the fifteenth of March and will remain good until Sudan grass comes on, and even later. It is also good pasture after frost and will be good up into the winter, giving the sandy land farmer more of a chance of having green pasture the year around.

Some of those who are going to plant Love Grass yet are: Joe Fletcher, L. B. White, John Clemmer, and Scott White of Rochester; and Earl Watson, J. C. Saunders, and S. D. Jones of Knox City.

The Soil Conservation Service technicians are assisting in getting the grass planted.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Jones of Grand Prairie spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jones of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Arnold of Goree.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Kemletz of Stamford visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

Kracker Krumbs—

Directly he gets to bragging on Munday and Knox county.

"People say certain things won't grow here," he says. "Why we can grow anything in the world we want to, if we'll tend to it like it ought to be tended to." And his garden just about bears out that statement.

Well, the P. M. and I left pretty soon, after spending a pleasant thirty minutes. We took our chicken feed on home and started counting the days until those little chicks began gracing the dinner table.

Then we looks at our garden. If it wasn't a sorry mess!

Anyway, Bill has promised us a start of strawberries next fall, when he has to thin his plants out.

Duties and powers of Texas officials are outlined in a publication just issued by the Bureau of Municipal Research at the University of Texas. Lynn F. Anderson and Wilford D. Webb, research assistants, prepared the material. Copies may be obtained from the Bureau.

Miss Helen Haymes, who attended McMurry College in Abilene, came in last Tuesday to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes.

FIXING UP the HOME

By Diana Greator

Handy Drinking Straw Container
IF YOU HAVE young children you may know how useful drinking straws can be in making the necessary health-giving beverages, milk and fruit juices, attractive to youngsters.

Here is a novel suggestion for a handy container which will please the children and, at the same time, keep these helpful drinking tubes within easy reach.

Take a seven-inch-long section of a cardboard mailing tube—the kind calendars come in—from one and one-half to two inches in diameter. Into one end of it fit a disc cut from soft wood about one-fourth of an inch thick. Fix the disc firmly in place with glue.

Cover the tube with bright paper or paint, put a handle of cord or leather in place and "presto"—you have a miniature quiver such as our first Americans—the Indians—used for their arrows. Daddy's golf bag can be duplicated in the same way.

The "quiver" or "golf bag" may be hung near the dining table where the youngsters may have the fun of extracting their own drinking straws, or near the refrigerator where straws are used for between-meal snacks.

Commencement exercises for the 1947 graduating class will be held in Behrens Chapel Monday night, June 2.

Lee Haynes, W. C. Cox and G. B. Hammett were in Seymour last Friday to attend the bedside of Mr. Foote, superintendent of the Bomarton schools, who is undergoing treatment in the Baylor county hospital.

When 100 pounds of shelled corn are harvested and shipped to market, 15.5 pounds of nitrogen, 1.5 pounds of phosphorus and 4 pounds of potash leave the farm, too. These are valuable fertilizers that need to be replaced.

STRETCHABLE COTTON

Snug-fitting, set-in slipcover made of a new stretchable cotton fabric is examined by Talley Wright of New York. The National Cotton Council reports that the fabric—made without use of rubber—can be stretched out of shape, but always snaps back into place when released. It's also being used for sportswear and other garments.

Hoppers Hatching; Farmers Urged to Start Control

Farmers of the state are being urged by the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service to start control measures against millions of grasshoppers that are hatching now.

Entomologists of the Extension Service say that poison bait put out now to kill the young hoppers can prevent a lot of damage to the state's row crops. Grasshopper infestations were large last season and the hatch this spring points to another big year for the insects.

An early start on grasshopper control in being encouraged now because the insects, at present, are young and easy to kill; they are bunched together now after the hatch and therefore very little bait will kill them; and they are still on the edges of fields and have not, as yet, done any damage to row crops.

According to information received by the Extension Service from the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine office at Waco, grasshopper surveys show that the insects have shown up in large numbers in the following counties: Erath, Jack, Archer, Wichita, Clay, Wise, Denton, Dallas, Collin, Hunt, Kaufman, Ellis, McLennan, Falls, Robertson, Brazos, Burleson, Washington, Austin, Bastrop, Gonzales, Karnes, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Hays, Travis and Williamson.

The Extension entomologists say that most all counties have grasshopper bait on hand, and that farmers may contact their county agricultural agent for help in getting the bait and putting it out.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hutchens of Fort Worth visited in the home of Mrs. Hutchens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Redwine, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week, and also visited his parents at Goree and other relatives in this area.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—"It is an unfortunate fact that some people are willing to risk their health—possibly even their lives—by prescribing for themselves and taking a drug that they have read about somewhere and which has been termed a "miracle drug"; states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Although such drugs as penicillin, streptomycin, thiouracil and sulfa drug have been of great value in combating diseases that have heretofore been very difficult to control, nevertheless, they can be very dangerous products in untrained hands. They were never intended to be used promiscuously for self-medication," the State Health Officer asserted.

If a pharmacist refuses to sell a particular drug and explains that it cannot be supplied without a physician's prescription the would-be purchaser should not become provoked. That pharmacist is giving sound public health advice and is also complying with the law. The State Health Officer declared that self-medication is never advisable, and even "miracle drugs" should be taken only when a doctor prescribes them.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Layne and little son of El Paso came in the latter part of last week for several days' visit with Mr. Layne's mother, Mrs. Addie Layne, and with other relatives and friends.

O. D. Dillingham and O. C. Williams of Abilene were business visitors here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brice Dobbs and family of Dallas visited with relatives and friends here over the week end.

Why Is It Coming?

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

MANY OBSERVERS are of the opinion now that the nation may expect a considerable business recession by August or September. It is expected that this recession will be reasonably severe and might last for six months. Some expect it to bring bankruptcy to a good many businesses that are weak financially, create unemployment, and maybe interrupt production seriously.

President Truman is so much alarmed that he is asking industry to reduce prices of commodities in order to help cushion the expected recession. Fears are that it might develop into a real depression. In view of our huge national debt and the fact that we must maintain a high national income, this prospect is rather serious. Naturally, we are asking ourselves: "Why must it come?"

Price ITS ON THE WAY because everything is entirely too high. Homes are too high, manufactured goods are too high, food is too high—everything is too high. People are refusing to pay the prices. They are going to continue to refuse until something is done about it. Now, why do not the industrialists just immediately lower prices until there would be no talk of depression?

That's impossible. Prices are regulated by costs. In manufacturing a price is charged that covers the cost. Big item in cost is usually labor, which averages 35 or 40 or 70%, and as much as 85% of a finished article. Now the laborer. When the war was over the President's Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Henry Wallace, recommended that in the automobile industry wages could go up 30% without increasing the prices of automobiles at all.

Spiral IF THAT COULD have happened in the automobile industry, of course, it could have happened also in many other industries. Labor was encouraged to demand a 30% boost, which they were told should bring no price increases. The facts, however, were on the other side of the fence. After an 18% cent increase was granted auto workers, and even before OPA died, automobile prices had to be increased an average of 22%. Other industries granted similar raises and prices went on moving upward.

Labor soon realized that it had lost all its gains in the higher costs of living. When we get far enough from the present problems to size them up more accurately and when a correct history is finally written, it will probably be explained that wage boosts in the fall and winter of 1945-46 were more than any other one thing were responsible for the inflated prices that followed. This is what now threatens to make depression inevitable.

If our government could have found in 1945 enough backbone for a firm stand against increases in wages and prices, urging instead a high productivity, to get the nation back on its feet as quickly as possible, then the present feared depression would have been mere talk. But when the general inflationary rise by prices came, all thinking people agreed that finally a depression would probably come. We may get back to a reasonable level that way, but even yet we could use a much better way, which this column will outline next week.

Price Reductions, Longer Guarantee, Given On Tires

P. E. Conner, Western Auto Vice President in charge of merchandise, today announced important price reductions on Davis Tires distributed by Western Auto Stores and Western Associate Stores.

"In spite of slightly higher costs" says Mr. Conner, "we are reducing prices on our Davis Deluxe and Davis Safety-Grip tires. This is one of Western Auto's most important contributions to President Truman's anti-inflation program. We also believe our tire price reduction program is economically sound because if American car owners can continue to drive their cars at the present rate, the less of profit will be taken care of by increased tire purchase."

"We have also lengthened the guarantee period on our Davis Safety-Grip and Super-Safety tires" said Mr. Conner. "This reflects the important improvements that scientists and manufacturers have been able to make in the quality and construction of Davis Tires."

In an interview, A. A. Smith, Jr., owner of Western Auto Associate Store said, "While Mr. Conner's announcement caught me completely by surprise, I'm glad that I am in position to pass these savings and other important benefits on to the people of this trade territory."

COTTONSEED PRODUCTION

Austin—Cottonseed crushed at Texas mills in April slumped 22 per cent below the March level in an expected seasonal decline, according to Bureau of the Census reports released by The University of Texas of Business Research.

When seasonally-adjusted the index of crushings shows a 32 per cent drop was smaller than is usually experienced at this time of year. Between March and April last year cottonseed crushings dipped 44 per cent.

Crushings also stand 17 per cent above the April 1946 level to total 22,876 tons, although the index stood at 54.7 in April compared to 100 for the pre-war years 1935-39.

April receipts at mills in the State soared 143 per cent above March receipts and were seven times greater than in April of last year.

Stocks at the end of April stood at 26,831 to snag 30 per cent below March stocks. However, the end of the month saw stocks 24 per cent above those left on hand in April 1946.

Milk production per cow in the United States for 1947 is likely to set a new record for the third consecutive year, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

This growing feeling of responsibility for the conservation of natural resources is being taught not only in schools and by the press, but by the churches as well. It is, for example, a springtime emphasis of the Year of Stewardship cultivation of the Methodist Crusade for Christ.

Retail Credit Course Slated At Haskell

A ten-hour course in Retail Credit Procedures for merchants and employees of Haskell, Rule, Rochester, O'Brien, Weinert, Sargent, Munday and Stamford will be conducted at Haskell beginning June 2, according to the Haskell Retail Merchants Association and the Chamber of Commerce. It is the 19th Texas city to be included this year in the Distributive Education training program offered by the University of Texas Division of Extension in cooperation with the State Board of Vocational Education. The course is to be taught by Mr. A. D. Faries, Training Specialist of the University's Extension Division. The course has been acclaimed by merchants throughout the state as a most practical and interesting study of current and future retail credit problems.

Mr. Faries pointed out that credit business which hit a new lot during the war promises to rise rapidly as scarce merchandise returns again to the retailer's shelves. He stated a community co-operative study of local credit problems is extremely important at this time.

The topics to be included in this course are as follows: Current and future problems in credit; credit applications; credit interviews; investigating and evaluating the applicant; rejecting the applicant; accepting the applicant; store credit policies; credit sales promotion. Credit letters; collection procedures.

The only cost connected with the course is a $1.50 enrollment fee which is used to help defray the costs of instructional materials. The course will be conducted each evening from 7:30 o'clock until 9:30 o'clock on the following dates: June 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6th.

A University of Texas Extension Division certificate will be given to those who complete the course. YOU DON'T—Stay first unless you are best. First every year for 32 consecutive years—Good-year Tires, Reeves Motor Co.

FIXING UP the HOME

Try Persian Limes for Flavor

THE OTHER day, as I was quarantining a beautiful, green, juicy Persian lime, I realized that many homemakers are not acquainted with the goodness and usefulness of this little known and delightful member of the citrus family. It is not at all like other limes. It seems to be a cross between a very sweet lemon and a bottle of rare, sweet perfume.

Containing all the vitamins and minerals found in other citrus fruits, the Persian lime has, besides, an aroma and piquancy of flavor all its own. There is nothing quite like Persian lime marmalade, for instance, and it is as simply made as other marmalades. Lime pie, too, is a favorite in our family, and our guests have never failed to ask me for the recipe.

The bright green of the lime makes it an attractive—as well as savory—garnish for fish, oysters, dressing and salads. And if you are among those who like a slice of lemon to bring out the flavor of your tea, try a quarter of Persian lime instead. It will bring a gentle breeze of the tropics, faintly scented with exotic blossoms, as well as a new taste sensation to your tea table.

Free Elections
By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

EVER PAY any attention to your newspaper reports of trouble encountered in the smaller European nations concerning free elections? The former satellites of Nazi Germany, and the present satellites of Soviet Russia, are finding the ideal of elections incompatible with those political doctrines that have been foisted upon them. Such insane foolishness as having the masses go to the polls for honest and secret voting, they say, is reserved for the decadent democracies.

These classless and enlightened denizens under benevolent socialist governments (that's the picture drawn up for consumption of peoples still ruled by despotic capitalists) do not of course value the power of the vote. They do not know what a workable factor of democracy the vote is. Not having permitted the will of the people to develop through free speech, a free press, and free elections, the fetters of ruling classes are likely to remain.

Example, NO NATION can have free elections, while at the same time it tries to artificially discipline its labor force and foster government management of industry. Recent events in Britain give point to this statement. It was evident to me while in England last August that the nation was in for trouble. Absenteeism of workers in coal mines had risen to about 25%, and this was reduced to 18% only in January, when the coal famine was already a reality. Productivity remained inexplicably low.

Because there was a lack of national discipline, that is, the normal self-discipline common in America's industrial workers, coal was not coming from the mines. Parliament was afraid to discipline the miners to get coal. Parliament feared results at the next election. This explains why the labor government calmly watched the coal crisis develop, step by step, fully aware that it was coming.

Keep On NO COUNTRY can Electing promote government management of industry, as England is trying to do, and maintain discipline of labor along with free elections. Stalin has the first two, in good measure, but he is not troubled with elections. Free elections under present conditions in Russia would have little meaning. They are a risk that the Soviet ruling class could never assume.

We in America have found that the best type of discipline comes from incentives found in the ambition to get ahead. When a man knows he can better his lot and is not afraid to try, the best kind of self-discipline is the result. The lowliest immigrant can become a great inventor. An assembly line worker can plan to own the factory, and can do it honestly. Things like these have happened too often to go unnoticed.

If we want to keep high efficiency, with the highest possible wages and an increasing standard of living, we must keep private ownership and private management of the tools of production. Holding to these things in a free market and cherishing the freedoms of speech, assembly, and press, we shall have little fear of dictatorship. Free elections would not permit it.

Dayane A. Parker To Receive Degree Monday Night

Abilene—Duyane A. Parker, son of L. A. Parker, Benjamin, will receive his Bachelor of Arts degree from Hardin-Simmons university this spring, Mrs. J. A. Beard, university registrar has announced. Parker, veteran of 5 & one-half years of Navy duty, will receive his degree for work done in Bible and English.

Before the war Parker was on the Cowboy football and basketball squads and a member of the Ministerial Council for two years. Since returning from service he has once more pursued his studies along the religious lines. After graduation he plans to attend the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

Commencement exercises for the 1947 graduating class will be held in Behrens Chapel Monday night, June 2. Edward F. McFaddin, associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court, will deliver the commencement address. McFaddin is a past District Governor and Director of Rotary International, and was formerly assistant Attorney General of Arkansas. McFaddin, who graduated from Hardin-Simmons in 1913, will speak on the topic: "Watchmen, What of the Night?"

Baccalaureate services will be held on Sunday night, June 1, at the First Baptist church, Abilene. Dr. Stewart Newman, H-SU alumnus and present registrar of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary, will preach the baccalaureate sermon. His subject will be: "Sharing our Way."

Donkeys Knew!

the mules gave them just about all the trouble they wanted.

Only thing wrong with Winston Blacklock was that his feet were too close to the ground when he got astride his mount. But the donkey fixed that—soon all of Winston was on the ground.

Mose Wiggins said it would be worth the price of admission to see him ride the donkeys. If anyone paid for that purpose, he got cheated, because Mose didn't ride 'em!

A large crowd that almost filled the stands and overflowed onto the playing field assembled to see the fun—and they had plenty of it. None of the donkeys were injured, but the players got around rather stiffly next day.

The loud braying of the largest of the donkey herd that was tied up in the corner of the football field urged his donkey friend on to victory!

TIP TO GARDENERS

Here's a tip to vegetable gardeners, coming from horticulturists at Texas A. & M. College. Time has rolled around when second plantings can be made on black-eyed, purple hull and crowder peas, okra, squash, and corn. Boosts that tomatoes need now, the horticulturists say, are, first, a side dressing of commercial fertilizer—a small handful to each plant—and second, a thorough arsenical spraying to prevent worm damage.

Doesn't look like a man has much freedom if it's against the law to laugh, does it? What this old world needs is more laughs. With all the high prices, high taxes, strikes and world problems, they ought to pay a man a bounty for laughing.
