

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., June 7—Immigration laws are full of holes and are poorly administered. Many thousands of folks are now slipping into this country who have no right to be here. On top of all of this, great pressure is now being put on Congress to pass the Straton Bill to let in 400,000 refugees, i. e., persons now in the DP camps of Europe. This bill is supported by one of the most rancorous, powerful, and well financed lobbies ever known. A lot of the preachers of the country have been fooled by this propaganda and have endorsed this program. This Sunday I will appear at a Pennsylvania roundtable in Philadelphia on a radio debate on the subject, "Should Our Immigration Laws be Relaxed?" My answer, of course is a positive NO.

The House this week completed action on the Tax Bill and the labor Bill. The Labor Bill passed in the House by a vote of 320 to 79. The bill as finally passed is a much weaker and a much milder bill than the one originally passed by the House. Its strength and usefulness will largely depend upon how it is administered.

Here are a few of its principal provisions and objectives:

1. It prohibits the closed shop but permits the union shop where agreed to by a majority of employees in a plant. The bill yields the State Jurisdiction to legislate on the subject.
 2. It attempts to ban jurisdictional strikes and boycotts.
 3. It undertakes to restore freedom of speech to employers, which has been virtually prohibited by the Wagner Act.
 4. It bans featherbedding, such as Potrillo engages in.
 5. It outlaws strikes against the Government.
 6. It prohibits political contributions by unions as well as by banks and corporations, and requires unions to make annual financial reports.
 7. It attempts to prohibit Communists from holding office in labor unions operating under the Act. (There are now at least 9 big CIO unions that are Communist dominated.)
 8. It prohibits a check-off of money from a workers wages for union dues unless the worker gives his consent in writing.
 9. It gives the President authority to speak through the Attorney General an injunction to prevent a strike affecting the national health and safety of the people. The injunction would expire after 75 days. The President may then report the situation to the Congress with a request for additional legislation to meet the crisis.
 10. It defines unfair labor practices by unions as well as by employers. Heretofore unions could not, under the Wagner Act, do anything that would constitute an unfair practice and were not even required to bargain in good faith.
 11. It permits suits for damages against either side to a labor-management contract for breaches of contract.
 12. Employers are no longer required to bargain collectively with foreman, and any welfare funds provided by contract must be administered jointly by employer and union.
 13. It attempts to regulate picketing and to prohibit violence to employees going to and from work during a strike.
- Unfortunately for the laboring people and for the general public, the new bill does not attempt to curb monopoly over human labor as now practiced by certain labor leaders. Therefore, the new law will have but little effect upon the

The new labor bill was enacted over a bitter opposition from those who believe labor unions should be above the law and not subject to the same laws that other organizations and other people are. SUMMER ENSEMBLE

THIS smart miss is ready for a round of summer activities. She's wearing a white dirndl skirt and matching bolero jacket of Avisco spun rayon. Sterling Hastings, Miss Lavene Counts Marry On Sunday

Sterling Hastings of Vernon and Miss Lavene Counts of Munday were united in marriage at 9:45 last Sunday morning in a quiet home wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Counts.

Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Munday Baptist church, read the double-ring ceremony. Attending the bride was Mrs. O. A. McBrayer of Dallas, while her husband, Rev. McBrayer, attended the groom. Only members of the family and close friends attended the wedding.

The bride wore a powder blue dress with white accessories.

Summer Beauty Is Found By Peek Into Cotton Bag

Memphis, Tenn.—Introducing a fresh decorative sparkle for summer into the home is a simple matter for lucky housewives who know how to sew with cotton sacks, according to Mrs. Roy Bollinger of near Memphis, Tennessee. Energetic Mrs. Bollinger saved almost $225 through using sturdy feed sacks for her summer re-decoration project.

Starting with the living room and applying her novel sewing ideas all the way to the back porch, she used a total of 175 bags saved for the purpose. To get enough of the same design for certain rooms, she purchased empty sacks with other women about the community.

The Bollinger living room is an unusually attractive sack-decorated spot, with soft and summer floral prints used for the curtains. Pleasing contrast is provided through the use of 12 unbleached sacks for covering the couch. Two of the print sacks are required for cording.

The telephone stool was skirted with a gay print sack of the same design as the curtains.

Among other household decorations completed by Mrs. Bollinger are chair backs and table cover for the breakfast room, curtains and dish cabinet cover in the kitchen, bedspread and curtains for the bedroom, bathroom curtains, sewing machine cover, book cabinet curtains, and various chair covers.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Vernon, where Mr. Hastings is connected with the Cameron lumber yard.

TEEN DATE

HERE'S a summer dress that will please the teen-ager. It's made of broadcloth in Avisco rayon, which means that it has a lustrous sheen. To add to these virtues, it's washable and inexpensive, too. The ruffled neckline, small puffed sleeves, and gathered skirt give it a pleasing softness.

TERMITE KILLER

Pentachlorophenol, a chemical used widely in the treating fence posts against insect damage and decay, is killing termites in farm buildings for Lipcomb County farmers.

Charles Imke, Follett Community farmer, treated two buildings with 35 gallons of five per cent pentachlorophenol last February.

A recent check-up by Lipscomb County Agricultural Agent E. M. Gossett, Jr., showed a complete kill as far as he could determine. The county agent plans future inspections to see if the material will keep the termites down over a period of years.

The pentachlorophenol was applied with a spray developing 30 pounds of pressure, which was enough force for good penetration, says the county agent.

Mrs. W. M. Mayo visited with relatives in Amarillo the first of last week.

Veterans' News

Nearly 879,000 dependents of 567,000 deceased veterans of all wars and peacetime service are receiving compensation and pension checks from the Veterans Administration at the rate of over $32,900,000 a month, VA reported this week.

More than 45 per cent, or 396,900, are dependents of deceased World War II veterans. Of these, all but 3,525 are receiving compensation as the result of service-connected death of the veteran.

Another 41 per cent, or 363,000, are beneficiaries of deceased World War I veterans. Only 96,000 of these receive benefits resulting from service-connected deaths. The rest are being compensated in cases of veterans deaths which did not result from service in the armed forces.

The rolls also include 78,000 dependents of deceased Spanish-American War veterans, 19,000 from the Mexican War, and nearly 20,000 dependents of veterans who died in peacetime service.

The Veterans Administration, forecasting a record school enrollment this fall, is urging veterans to get busy right now and line up their school plans for next fall.

This is especially important for those veterans who may be going to school for the first time under the provision of the G. I. Bill.

They should apply for a certificate of eligibility at the nearest VA office. This certificate will be required of them before they can enter their school.

Since most schools have a quota for veterans, it is wise for veterans to make arrangements with schools now so that they may be assured of a place in classes starting next September.

Veterans already in training, who plan to attend a different school this fall, must obtain a supplementary certificate of eligibility.

These can be furnished by the nearest VA office or by the VA training officer at school or college. This certificate is the basis for payment of tuition, fees, supplies and the subsistence allowances to the veteran.

The foresighted veteran also will make an effort to line up housing and other personal arrangements at the school of his choice, VA said.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. Can I go to school under the G. I. Bill while I am taking on-the-job training under the Act?

A. Yes, you can go to school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill) while you are taking on-the-job training if the school course is determined to be related to the on-the-job course. The government will pay your tuition.

Q. Will the government pay for tools and other equipment while I am taking on-the-job training under the G. I. Bill?

A. Yes, if the tools and other equipment are necessary for successful pursuit and completion of the course of training and is required by all trainees.

Q. I have been told that my pension will be reduced in 60 days. What can I do to prevent this reduction?

A. You may submit additional evidence to show that the reduction is not warranted.

Q. Must I show that I have had experience in business to get a guaranty of loan for business purpose?

A. The law provides "that ability and experience of the veteran, and the conditions under which he proposes to pursue such business or occupation are such that there is a reasonable likelihood he will be successful."

Meet the boss!

MEET BABS BROWN, the Boss. We don't mean Mister Brown's boss, either. We mean our boss—and a very nice one, too.

Sound odd to you? Well, it isn't. It's a solid fact that your electric light and power company is owned by a lot of people like Babs Brown—and Bob Brown—yes, and yourself.

Housewives, doctors, teachers—industrial workers, craftsmen, farmers—mechanics and milkmen—people from all walks of life have put some of their savings into electric companies such as ours. They're the direct owners.

But there are countless indirect owners, too—and many of them have no idea of their stake in the electric industry. They are the people who have savings accounts or life insurance policies—and that means nearly everybody. It works like this: When banks and insurance companies accept your money they must invest it safely, wisely. And because business-managed electric companies have a long record of faithful public service, much of this money is invested in utility companies on physical property installed and dedicated to the public's service. So you, too, are probably one of our bosses.

New Tractor Tire Sheds Mud

Latest contribution to post-war farming is this scientifically designed tractor tire developed by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company. The curved, Triple-Braced traction bars shed mud like a plow share. In tests and in actual service, the new Champion Ground Grip tire has proved to be unequalled in pulling power, self-cleaning and long service. The curved connected bars also improve riding comfort by eliminating the jolting caused by old-fashioned tread designs. A. M. Pronshinske, Arcadia, Wisconsin, points out the new features of the Firestone tire that make work easier and cheaper in the operation of his 720-acre livestock and dairy farm. 4-47-1

Locker Plants In Texas Increasing

College Station—Texans are now using the facilities of almost 500 frozen food locker plants in the state.

As of November, 1946, there were 403 locker plants in the state according to a survey made by Roy W. Snyder, meat specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. More recent figures show over 500 plants operating, says Snyder, although a few of that number are meat-curing concerns that cannot be classed as law.

Issued this the 23 day of May A. D., 1947. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Benjamin, Texas, this the 23 day of May A. D., 1947.

actual food locker plants.

"We have had an enormous increase of locker plants here in Texas", Snyder says. One or more plants is in operation in 210 of the state's 254 counties. The only sections of the state in which the plants have not spread rapidly are in extreme West Texas—the Big Bend country—and East Texas. The answer to the West Texas condition, says the meat specialist, is large ranches and scattered population. He believes that East Texas counties are just "a bit slow in starting", but that the plants will spread over that portion of the state in time.

Some families look upon a locker plant as a luxury rather than a good investment, says Snyder, but a good locker can be a contribution toward the family's balanced home food supply.

Secretary Anderson Makes Comment On S. D. A. Appropriation Bill

The Department of Agriculture Appropriation bill reported out today by the House Appropriations Committee directs a sharp cut at the interests of the American farm family and the general welfare. The greatest harm is done through attacks on the conservation program, the price support program, and assistance to veterans and small farmers. While I appreciate the need for economy, the Department already had reduced its personnel and budget below pre-war levels. The number of full-time employees in March of this year was more than 10,000 below March 1940. The Department of Agriculture is now operating on a budget nearly 375 million dollars smaller than in 1940. The cuts now made by the House appropriations Committee represent an additional reduction nearly 37 per cent below the amount available this year. If Congress followed the recommendations of the committee it would in effect be saying to farmers: "The policy legislation on the books means nothing; you have to fight for your rights every time an appropriation bill comes up." The committee action nullifies or drastically restricts the effect of several national farm policies which Congress has adapted and to which both major political parties have pledged continuing support. Thus is raised a fundamental issue which the farmers and the people of this country recognize as being out of keeping with the times in which we live and the situation in which the problems of our agriculture involves world-wide considerations.

Because farmers are now, in the words of the committee, "self-reliant," the Committee proposes to weaken the farmer-operated conservation program this year and bury it next year. Debate and voting records on the Department's 1947 appropriation bill, when it was before the House on March 8, 1946, indicated clearly that Congress committed itself to a 300 million dollar agricultural conservation program for the current calendar year. The Committee action would cut that about in half. This is the first time it has ever come to my notice that a committee of Congress has recommended to the Congress a violation of its own contract. The Department was authorized to set up the 1947 ACP program on a 300 million dollar basis. Representatives of the Department, through farmer-elected committeemen all over the nation carried that assurance to the farmer. I still believe the Congress will not repudiate its promise and repudiate the actions it directed the Department to take. I intend to urge the Congress as strongly as I can to restore this item to 300 million dollars.

The committee action would also cut administrative expenses to an extent that would make the program ineffective and would have the Congress commit itself against continuing the program next year. Because of wartime damage to the soil, we should reemphasize, not reduce, the effectiveness of the conservation program. We in the department cannot favor a death warrant for the farmer-committee system which served the nation in combatting depression, which turned the tide against soil destruction and which geared farm production to the requirements of war and the reestablishment of peace. These farmer elected committee, which have their authorization in the agricultural Conservation Program carry a great many responsibilities including vital duties in price support operations. They represent one of agriculture's greatest assets.

I am equally concerned over the practical effect of the bill's provision depriving agriculture of the use of Section 32 money which is to nullify both mandatory and permissive price supports on perishable commodities such as fruits, vegetables, milk, poultry and potatoes. Section 32 money has always been the sole source of funds for price supports on most perishable to public institutions and school lunch programs, and to divert commodities to industrial uses. Section 32 monies are used to prevent any avoidable waste of commodities acquired by the department in carrying out price support policies ordered by the Congress. This means that even if other monies were available to support prices of commodities ordinarily supported with Section 32 funds, the government would have no means of preventing waste of perishables it acquired and would thereby face a practical block in its price support work.

In citing this as a period of short production and unusually high prices in which there is no need for Section 32 funds, the committee overlooks the problem we have been having with potatoes, with dried milk and with some fresh vegetables. It overlooks the real possibility of early difficulties with citrus fruit. If raisin producers, for example, should encounter a surplus problem in 1948, the only way they could get help would be through Section 32 funds.

The cotton growers will not overlook the fact that it was Section 32 funds that made it possible to clear the decks of government owned cotton. The export subsidies for cotton from Section 32 funds have totaled more than 111 million dollars in addition to nearly 40 million dollars in export subsidies paid out of CCC funds. But to effect this cost, the government made a profit of more than 190 million dollars on cotton. And what is more important, growers do not now have to fear the price-depressing effects of a surplus hanging over the market. The cotton export program really did a job and is one example of the effectiveness of the use of Section 32 funds.

The department has a good record of turning back Section 32 funds not required for current operations. The total turned back in $280,000,000. I therefore see no reason for the committee to make the determination that the funds should not be available simply because they might not all be needed.

The committee's action on the Farmer's Home Administration severs any hope that many veterans had, or that many tenant families had, of becoming farm owners in the year ahead. It strikes out farm tenancy loans and cites inflated land values as the reason despite the fact the land purchased by borrowers under this program averages only $3 per farm more than a year ago. All these loans are made on the basis of long-time earning capacity of the land. In the light of the repayment record on these loans we regard it as a false economy to wipe out these self-liquidating loans.

The bill also reduces by one-third our estimate of 90 million dollars for production and subsistence loans on the grounds that plenty of bank credit is available. No production and subsistence loans are made to farmers who can obtain suitable credit from banks and other proper sources. The needs of veterans are forgotten in the bill as are the many small farmers who still have low incomes while agriculture generally is prospering. The loans to them are largely self-liquidating.

The bill cuts the school lunch funds down from the 75 million dollars originally authorized this year to 45 million despite the recent action of Congress in providing in the second deficiency bill funds to go beyond the 75 million appropriation for the current fiscal year. Such a cut is not consistent with the action of the whole Congress.

There are many additional items of doubtful economy but I must protest at once these cuts. This is not a controversy between the committee and the Secretary of Agriculture. Rather it is between the Appropriations Committee of the House and the often expressed will of the Congress itself. I feel that the Congress will continue its bipartisan support of established farm programs.

1. Insist that a person presenting a check properly identify himself as the person entitled to that check.
2. Before accepting the check, ask yourself this question: If this check is returned because of a forged endorsement, can I locate the forger and recover my loss?
3. Insist that all checks be endorsed in your presence. If a check is already endorsed, ask that it be endorsed again, then compare the writing.
4. Require all checks to be initialed by the employees who pay out for them who approve such payment.
