Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

I contributed, but I did very reluctantly!

It all came about when the movement was started last week to have the months' accumulation of dirt and sand cleaned away from our curbs.

A visitor to our town made considerable gripe about how dirty it was—as have other visitors—but this particular one had something to do with insurance and indicated he would recommend that our fire insurance rate receive a considerable hike because the dirt and trash, and papers, and stuff, and so forth had just about made the town the biggest fire hazard hereabouts.

Then the move was started to clean up the curb on one block of our business district—the block from and including the bank west.

The general idea was for each business house in that block to contribute 50 cents a week to the clean up idea, and a colored boy was detailed to keep that block clean for five bucks a week.

Well, every inch of every block needed the same treatment, so the idea spread to other blocks. Then negro bucks, who'd about run out of jobs because cotton chopping was over with, kinda kept the idea moving.

But some of them wanted to do it for the neat little sum of six-bits an hour!

A happy, or unhappy, medium was decided on, and the cleaning process continued. All firms, we reckon, kicked in four-bits—we shelled out $1.25 to have space in front of three places on our street cleaned—and the curbs were cleaned in front of all business houses.

Then on around the city hall square it went until all curbs were practically free of sand, dirt and trash. And brother ain't it looking nice? Hope the pavement don't bust open from being exposed to the sun!

As we said in the beginning, some paid the half a buck rather reluctantly. They knew they got their money's worth, alright, and time had proved to them that this was about the only way the cleaning up was gonna get done.

"But what are we paying taxes for?" they asks. "Why can't the city do it? What goes with the money we pay in taxes? Them's potent questions, friends, but the answers ain't here in this newspaper office!"

Then they figures some more. Fifty cents a week runs up to $26.00 a year. Multiply that by the number of business houses in the town, and you'll find how much it'll cost to keep the curbs clean. And it won't reduce your taxes none, come tax paying time!

But if it's gotta be done that way, most everyone will do it, so they say. Any improvement in the town's reputation would be worth that. But does it have to be done that way?

And if it does, wonder if we get our tin cans hauled off more often by using the same method?

There are a Zillion, more or less, questions that could be asked—but we don't have the answers to these either. Neither do you, nor does the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, Rotarians, or individuals of your City Council.

But a little huddle with the city council, in a special session if necessary, would be a good start toward finding the answers.

If we must plank down our four-bits a week, let's do it through the city and have some central head responsible for the cleaning deal. Then we could eliminate the six-bits-an-hour negro with his borrowed broom and shovel!

But, gee whiz, gosh all hemlock! Let's don't let our streets get in such a mess again!

Friendship Baptist Church Revival To Open On Friday

The annual revival meeting on Friendship Baptist church at Hefner, six miles north of Goree, will begin on Friday night, August 22, and continue through Sunday night, August 31, it was announced this week.

Rev. Harvey W. Graham of Harlingen, Texas, will do the preaching for the revival, and a good meeting is expected under his leadership.

R. T. Guthrie, pastor of the church, extends a cordial invitation for everyone to attend all the services.

JOE S. CLARK BUYS GULF SERVICE STATION

Joe S. Clark announced this week that he has purchased the Gulf Service Station, located just west of Hotel Yarbrough.

Mr. Clark stated he will continue to handle good Gulf products, do washing and greasing, fix flats and render other services to the motoring public. He invites you to trade with him, assuring you that your patronage will be appreciated.

The driver who killed himself and also the driver of another car in this shambles had stubbornly persisted in driving when he was fatigued after too many hours on the road. As his car came over the bridge, his weary brain blanked out for a split second, his hands relaxed on the wheel. His car grazed the bridge abutment, skidding across the road, and crashed into an approaching automobile. Motorists for their own safety, and for the sake of others on the road, have no right to drive when overtired. National Conservation Bureau safety specialists advise: don't wait until you are tired; pull off the road at intervals; drink a cup of coffee, take a few moments' rest.

E. W. Harlon Dies August 13 In Arkansas

E. W. Harlon, former resident of Knox county, passed away at Eureka Springs, Ark., at 5 p. m. August 13. He has been in ill health for three months.

Mr. Harlon was born near Alexander City, Ala., on June 9, 1861. He was married to Miss Lizzie Lee on October 27, 1882. He united with the Baptist church in young manhood, and served as a deacon and clerk in his church for many years.

60 4-H Club People Attend Encampment

Sixty Knox County 4-H Boys attended the Annual 4-H Encampment at the City Park in Seymour, Thursday and Friday, August 14 and 15th. Each school in the county had representatives present.

Upon arrival Thursday afternoon the boys registered and got acquainted, and organized a soft ball team. A game with the Baylor county boys resulted in Knox Co. winning with a score of 5 to 4.

Following the softball game, the boys were allowed to go in swimming in Seymour city pool free of charge. After the dip in the pool, the boys ate their supper and then relaxed while they watched an open air movie, called "Hands Across the Border." This film, shown in technicolor, gave a view of the 4-H trip made by outstanding 4-H boys into Old Mexico and all over Texas. Joe Ed Sweatart, a Knox county boy, was shown as making this trip.

In a general election, following the movie, the following county 4-H officers were elected:

Fred Lewis Greshaw, president.
Buddy Greshaw, Vice-president.
Merle Tackett, Secretary.
Jerrill Barnett, Reporter.
Baseball, swimming and demonstrations were the main feature Friday. Johnnie McGaughey, as captain of the 4-H rope making team, demonstrated how to make rope and made two calf ropes from an old ball of biner twine.

Each boy reported an enjoyable trip.

L. W. Chamberlain Suffers Stroke At Lubbock Home

Condition of L. W. Chamberlain, who suffered a stroke at his Lubbock home on Wednesday of last week, continues very low, according to reports from his bedside Tuesday.

Mr. Chamberlain, who is 87 years of age, is a pioneer resident of this area and father of Knox County Clerk M. T. Chamberlain. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain moved to Lubbock a few years ago.

Marvin Chamberlain spent the latter part of last week at his father's bedside, was home for the week end, but returned to Lubbock Monday. Slight hope is held for Mr. Chamberlain's recovery, according to physicians at the hospital where he is undergoing treatment.

Word was received here that Mr. Chamberlain passed away early Thursday morning. Funeral services will be held at Lubbock Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

Quite a few Munday people plan to attend the funeral.

TO PRESS CONVENTION
Aaron Edgar, publisher of the Munday Times, left Thursday afternoon for San Angelo to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Press Association. He accompanied O. C. Harrison and Gene Carter of the Baylor County Banner, Seymour, on the trip.

RETURN TO MUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Herring of Wichita Falls have returned to Munday to make their home. Mr. Herring has accepted a position with the Hughes-Dayton Implement Co., new J. I. Case dealers for this area.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Smith and children plan to leave this week for Springtown to spend a portion of their vacation with relatives.

The cotton leafworm is not known to survive the winters in the United States. New infestations are started each spring by moths that fly in from the south and lay their eggs on cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Smith and children plan to leave this week for Springtown to spend a portion of their vacation with relatives.

Mechanized farming has enabled United States farmers to produce a third more with 10 per cent less today than during World War I.

Methodists To Open Revival On Friday Night

Announcements about the Methodist revival, which begins in the local church this week, reveal of least two unusual things about the meeting.

In the first place, the revival starts Thursday evening at eight o'clock with an hour of singing. The evangelist, Rev. E. L. Yeats of Seymour, will not be present for this sing-song, but Mr. Grady Morton, also of Seymour and well known in the Northwest Texas Conference, will be present to outline his plans for the singing in the meeting. He is to lead this phase of the services.

The men of the church are asked to come thirty minutes early, at 7:30, to arrange seats and complete improved facilities for cooling the house.

All people of the community who love to sing are urged to present Thursday evening for this initial song service.

The second unusual feature about the plans is the fact that on Friday evening at eight o'clock, Rev. Yeats will preach in his first service a sermon to the boys and girls. This will be boys' and girls' night, all boys and girls in the community are invited. Their names will be placed on a number of balloons that are to be released during the meeting, bearing the Gospel Story, to see how far they will go and who will return them.

Friday evening at 7:30, the Booster Band services will begin, and will be held each day for the boys and girls. At the same hour Youth Service will be led by the pastor.

Much work is being done by committees for a real welcome to all people of the community—in advertising, ushers' work, transportation and comfortable conditions in the building.

Methodists are manifesting a conviction that ten days of unusual services are before them. An ad in this week's issue of the paper gives other details about the services.

Munday Boy Helps Combat Blaze At Kingston, Jamaica

Navy men from the destroyers USS Waldron, English and Haynesworth were lauded for the "swift and efficient manner" in which they helped combat and bring under control a half-million dollar blaze at Kingston, Jamaica.

A letter praising the sailors was sent to secretary of State George Marshall by Malcolm P. Hooper, American Consul General to Jamaica.

Raymond E. Phillips, pharmacist mate, first class, of Route 1, Munday, Texas, was a crew-member of the Waldron, docked at Kingston for a two-day liberty when the fire broke out, threatening the offices of the American Consulate General. Upon request for assistance from Kingston and nearby St. Andrews the Navy organized fire control squads from the three warships.

Evangelist

Rev. Yeats is a pastor-evangelist of unusual ability and his messages will be thoroughly enjoyed by all who hear him. A meeting of unusual interest is expected under his leadership.

On August 23 go to the polls and vote "yes" for the College Building Amendment.

Remember the crowded conditions of our 16 state colleges last year.

Remember the thousands of GI's and other deserving young men and women who were turned away from our colleges because these colleges lacked building facilities.

Remember, if this amendment is not passed no other plan is proposed for the relief of these colleges.

And remember that passage of this amendment will not cost tax-payers a single additional penny. The amendment re-allocates the state ad valorem taxes; it does not create any new taxes.

Knox County Is In Given Area For Wheat Insurance

Knox county has been included in the area in which the government will offer growers crop insurance on 1948 wheat, according to an announcement made Monday by the agriculture department.

Wheat insurance on this year's crop was offered growers in more than 1,200 counties of the U. S., and Monday's announcement included a list of 200 counties.

The last Congress directed that the program be restricted to an experimental basis in not more than 200 counties for the immediate future.

Texas counties granted insurance are Collins, Castro, Deaf Smith, Denton, Floyd, Grayson, Hale, Jones, Knox, Rannels, Swisher, Taylor and Young.

MUNDAY CONTINUES TO BUILD

Evidence of Munday people's faith in the future of the town and community is shown by the building activities now under way, or being planned.

Several new business houses and residences have recently been completed, and a number are now under construction. Among them are:

The new brick building that will be the new home of the Farnall House; the remodeling of the Williams building, just south of the Times office, which will become a new theatre, and plans that are going forward for building a home for the Chevrolet agency.

Several residences have been completed recently, a number are under construction, but there's still a clamor for places to live. The housing shortage won't be eliminated for many months to come.

YEA TEAM, YEA TEAM, FIGHT!

Soon the cry of "Yea, Team, Fight!" will be echoing from the stands of every football stadium in America, and Munday will be drawing her portion of the football fans.

The first game for the Moguls is less than a month away, and our first game is a home game against Coleman.

This brings to mind the fact that many repairs and improvements are needed for our athletic field. These should have been made long ago, but certainly something needs to be done before crowds begin to throng in for our ball games.

The Munday Jaycees have made efforts to improve the field and have called attention to the dilapidated condition of the fences, etc., but very little has been done.

It's time now for some quick and effective action.

IT'S GOOD TO SEE THIS EDITORIAL

The editor of The Munday Times received a long letter a few months ago, in which a Dallas advertising firm gave him a severe going over about his remarks about gyp advertising. The writer minced no words, but made no reply to our letter to him in which we also called a spade a spade.

In August issue of the Texas Press Messenger, official voice of the Texas Press Association, appeared an editorial on comic strip advertising which wins our approval. We're passing it on to our readers:

Many Texas publishers are having a headache because of comic strip advertising. In some cases the over-eager salesmen leave the impression that the cost of the mats will pay for the space in the newspaper even though there is some fine print deep in the contract that says the advertiser must pay the newspaper for space used.

Some of the basic faults of these strips are: (1.) They are poor comics in the first place. (2.) The cost of the strip is often as much as the cost of

A CLEANER TOWN, NOW

Munday is taking on a cleaner looking aspect during the past ten days, cleaner than she's been in many, many months.

This was due principally by Munday's businessmen, who woke up to the fact that our town was the dirtiest little place in this area. Dirty because we'd let it get that way, by neglect, and by waiting to see if the city officials wouldn't do something about it.

Our streets become all messed up with dirt and trash, and papers, and cans and bottles, gradually, and we're here every day won't particularly notice the mess it's getting in because it comes about so gradually.

But visitors to our town do notice. When they hit a town as dirty as our town has been a feeling of nausea comes over them. If they're looking for a new location, they'll bypass Munday because of its unkempt appearance.

If Munday is to maintain its present position of being the best little town in this area, she must be cleaned up and kept clean. It'll take the efforts of every individual, every officer and councilman, but it can be done.

Through artificial insemination, it is possible to breed 75 to 100 cows from each service of a bull.

Sheep raising was one of the earliest of man's land occupations. There is evidence that prehistoric men knew how to weave garments from sheep's wool.

space, thereby doubling the advertisers bill. (3.) The strips are often sold to firms to which they are not applicable.

More defects could be pointed out; but on the whole the results have been unsatisfactory to the advertiser, and the experience has not been profitable to the publisher. Some Texas publishers are meeting this situation by notifying all advertisers that they will furnish illustrations and copy at no extra charge.

The solution points once again to the need for having your advertising rates high enough to give real service to the advertiser, and then giving it—by circulation coverage of the trade territory, reader interest in the paper and constructive and continuous assistance to the merchant.

This editorial is not to discount the effectiveness of good cartoon advertising. Gladiola Flor has a splendid one running in many Texas papers; but it should be noted that the art work and the copy are top notch. The same could be said of others that run in the colored comic sections of many dailies. They are good and they are producing results.

But there are some that are being sold in this state that are not good, and The Messenger believes that publishers should be alert to the problem.

Contest Winner "Brands" His Prize

A pioneer of the auto industry, hunted throughout the nation in a contest to discover the oldest Chevrolet truck in America, turned up, appropriately, in the possession of a Montana homesteader. The venerable vehicle, vintage of 1918, was still serving Rancher Leslie A. Storey, of Jordan, Mont., whose ranch lies 18 miles from a typical "last frontier" town. The award for owning the oldest licensed and operating truck was a new Chevrolet "advance-design" model, which Storey "brands" here with his distinctive Circle Heart brand. It was presented to him by J. W. Burke, manager of Chevrolet's truck department, as Mrs. Storey and Montana cowgirl Merle Spears (right) look on. Nearly 7,000 old-time Chevrolet trucks were entered in the contest won by this vehicle, which was one of 384 built by the division in 1918, its first year of truck production.

"Why, the city's got a payroll as long as a lariat rope," a fellow told us the other day—and he could be quoted if necessity demanded it.

If they'd get a little more work out of the money spent, this man thinks, we'd have our curbs cleaned regularly, our cans hauled off regularly, and the town cleaner generally.

What would you think if you went to Fort Worth or Dallas and found those cities as dirty as our town has been? Well, neighbor, don't think for a split second that the city folks don't think along the same lines when they come to our town.

A town can be kept just as clean as a city, if we'd all set in to do it. Let's do it!

By way of explanation, these thoughts are not entirely those of the "krumbler", but bits of ideas gathered in our rambles about town. So if it makes somebody mad, it's still what folks are saying and thinking.

If we'd all get mad enough to clean up our town and keep it clean, it would be worth while—and how!

PLENTYFUL FRYERS

Chicken dinners can be on the family menu often now. They're plentiful and priced reasonably, says Myrtle Murray, home marketing specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

The wholesale prices of fryers are now below the last OPA ceiling. In fact, says the specialist, they are back to 1926 price levels.

Fryers are popular because they are adaptable. Served hot or cold, "country fried" or French fried, the plentiful young birds fill the menu bill.

Over 2 plump fryers weighing not very 2 1-2 pounds are tops for broiling, and the heavier fryers, weighing around 3 1-2 pounds lend themselves best to roasting, braising or fricasseeing.

However the housewife prepares them, fryers are excellent eating and they are a good buy, says the marketing specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Jackson left Thursday morning on a vacation trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., & other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Busby and family and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Busby and son of Abilene spent several days here recently, visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Busby, and other relatives.

Sam Salem left last week for Dallas for several days' visit with Mrs. Salem and their children.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Offers To Furnish His Unpaid Bills As Proof That Prices Are Too High

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has offered to help the Attorney General of the United States with his investigation of high prices, but we doubt he'll get anywhere with it. Dear editor:

I read in a copy of the Fort Worth paper which my neighbor had been using on his tractor seat to keep the sun from getting it too hot while he went to the house to get a drink of water Monday afternoon where the Attorney General of the

United States has heard prices is too high and has set out to investigate the matter.

Now I don't want to horn in on somebody else's job, and I don't suppose no investigation I made would be scientific, but if the Attorney General wants to save time and money I believe I can help him out, at a reasonable price.

I don't know what method he will use, but it probably will involve a lot of travel around and checking up and require a lot of help and cost the government a lot of money, which I am in favor of if it will reduce prices, whereas my method will get the same results and won't cost the government much more'n one Senator's stamp bill for two or three months durin a election year.

For several years now I been savin some of my grocery and drygoods and hardware and miscellaneous bills, in fact, I really don't need to save em as I get new ones every month coverin the same old ones, some business men bein more optimistic than others when it comes to the delicate matter of my credit standin, and if Attorney General Clark really wants to find out right away whether prices is too high or not, I will send him my batch of bills if he will agree to settle for em.

Just to give some indication of how things are now and how a man can't stand up under the load, I can show the Attorney General for example a bill I owe for 75 cents for three pounds of round steak I bought in 1937, and right alongside it a bill I owe for 2.40 for three pounds of round steak I bought month before last. What I would like to ask the Attorney General is if a man can't pay for two-bit steak, how in thunder can he pay for 80-cent steak? And it ain't just in the meat line. I got unpaid bills in all other lines, drugs, plow points, hame strings, ice cream, overalls, dried beans, light bread, etc., provin for the record as they say in Washington that things is too high, and have been for years.

If the Attorney General wants to save some money, I will turn over to him all my unpaid bills for the past ten years and he can have his investigation done up in one package. You may even have a personal interest in this as I think I remember seein three or four duns from you in them bills. Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Bulletin On Cotton Insects Is Being Distributed

College Station—A new bulletin, entitled "Cotton Insects," has just been published by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service and has been distributed to county Extension Service offices for use in cotton insect control.

The bulletin No. B-154, is authored by Charles A. King, Jr., associate Extension entomologist, and gives the life history, description and control measures for the major insects—leafworm, boll weevil, bollworm, red spider, flea hopper and aphid. The publication contains color illustrations showing exactly what the insects look like in different stages of development, and how the damage of the insects shows up on the cotton plant.

Due to the limited quantities available, the publication is aimed at the present time at county agricultural agents, vocation agriculture teachers and other farm workers who are attempting to do cotton insect control work, says the author. However, he urges all cotton farmers who are interested to contact their local county agent to get the benefit of the information in the bulletin.

Through a loose binding arrangement, the publication is put together so that additional information or changing recommenda-

Harold B. Payne, Julia Anne Marlow Married August 16

Miss Julia Anne Marlow and Harold B. Payne were united in marriage on Saturday, August 16. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. D. Marlow and the late Mr. Marlow of Haskell. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Payne of Goree.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the presence of the immediate families in the home of the bride's mother in Haskell. Officiating was the Rev. James E. Hurrell, pastor of the First Methodist church of Haskell. Mrs. Orb Coffman of Goree, an aunt of the bride, presented the wedding music.

The bride wore a street length dress of brown crepe, fashioned with a draped skirt and with matching accessories. She carried a white prayer book, topped with white gardenias.

Miss Hortense Marlow attended her sister as maid of honor, the groom's brother, Wayne Payne, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Haskell high school and attended North Texas State College at Denton. The groom was graduated from high school in Goree, and served two years in the Merchant Marines.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Goree.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Gore of DeLeon visited Mrs. Gore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green, last Friday.

COLOR SYMPHONIES

Every bride treasures the lovely, fragile lingerie in her trousseau. Each article was selected with thoughtful care and each delicate pastel trimmed with wisps of lace and embroidery will require just as much care to keep it fresh and new looking. So here are a few suggestions on how to keep it lovely.

Dainty lingerie should never be allowed to soak or it won't be dainty long, and never wash your these and those in hot water, nor use strong, harsh soap. Instead a lather of mild chips or flakes in lukewarm water is best for fine lingerie materials. Handle the articles lightly, swishing them around through the suds. Vigorous rubbing pulls the seams, tears the lace and weakens the fabric as well. But do give extra attention to the hem and straps since these two receive the hardest wear.

Ironing pretty underthings is satisfying when you see the fruits of your labor; however, ironing, too, must be done correctly for best results. For instance, iron with the grain of the material, and be careful that the iron is not too hot if your particular make does not have a gauge to regulate the temperature for individual fabrics. Iron slowly, particularly around lace so that the tiny threads will not be torn. And don't forget that satins and lace should be pressed on the wrong side.

When after long wear lingerie becomes faded from frequent launderings, remedy this by tinting with all-purpose dye. Fresh, sparkling color can give these faded fabrics a new start with a promise of much longer wear. Remember, though, that these days it is very difficult to distinguish between real and man-made fabrics, or in other words rayons from silks, etc. So use an all-purpose dye which is guaranteed to work on all materials! When tinting remember, too, that colors appear darker when wet and they will be lighter after ironing.

Aubrey Roden In Navy Crew Fighting Jamaica Blaze

Navy men from the destroyers USS Haynesworth, Weldron and English were lauded for the "swift and efficient manner" in which they helped combat and bring under control a half-million dollar blaze at Kingston, Jamaica. A letter praising the sailors was sent to Secretary of State George Marshall by Malcolm P. Hopper, American Consul General of Jamaica.

Aubrey L. Roden Jr., seaman, first class, of Route 2, Munday Texas, was a crew-member of the Haynesworth, docked at Kingston for a two-day liberty when the fire broke out, threatening the offices of the American Consulate General. Upon request for assistance from Kingston and nearby St. Andrews, the Navy organized fire control squads from the three warships.

The Haynesworth and its two sister ships were in the midst of a Naval Reserve training cruise when they docked at Kingston for a brief respite. Two years ago these three destroyers were in Japan for the signing of the Japanese surrender documents.

Texas Colleges Would Benefit By Amendment

A thirty-year building program for Texas Colleges would be authorized by voters on Saturday, August 23, if they vote for the college building amendment to the Texas Constitution.

The amendment proposed to levy the 5-cent unused portion of the presently authorized 7-cent state property tax for Confederate pensions to be applied to a 30-year building fund for the 14 state colleges other than A. & M. College and the University of Texas.

At the same time, the amendment, if adopted, reduces the 35-cent general property tax to a maximum of 30 cents.

It will not increase ad valorem taxes, it will give Texas the finest system of state-operated colleges in the nation, and it is the most important development in higher education in Texas during the past 25 years, proponents of the amendment say. The amendment has received the endorsement of Governor Beauford Jester.

Colleges which would benefit and the amounts they would receive are as follows:

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Education of the public to the value of diphtheria immunization has resulted in lowering the incidence of this dread disease, but Texas still had over 1500 cases of this preventable disease last year according to records in the Texas State Department of Health.

"It is a generally accepted fact among public health authorities," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said, "that any community may control its death rate from diphtheria. Immunization has been proved a safe and effective preventive measure. Whatever immunizing treatment has been extensively used, diphtheria has steadily decreased.

"The most forceful weapon in the control of diphtheria is prevention through immunization, rather than cure of the disease after it has developed. Children can be protected against diphtheria by the use of what is known as toxoid. Young children are particularly susceptible to the disease. Accordingly, as soon as a baby is six months old, the parents are advised to take it to the family physician and have it immunized—protected, by the use of toxoid. Older children in the family who have not had the protective treatment, should be immunized also, and this should be attended to now before the school season begins. This immunizing is absolutely safe to administer; there is only a slight local reaction, and practically no constitutional or troublesome after-effects. It confers a life time immunity in the majority of cases. To be certain that immunization is complete, however, the child should be taken back to the physician six months after the toxoid was administered, and given the Schick Test.

"It is within the power of the parents of this state, cooperating with their physicians and public health departments, to eliminate diphtheria from Texas."

cipe is hard work, which is the recipe in just about any other field.

Hard work plus patience. For example, "Cub Reporter" is based on experiences and observations of the chronicler while breaking into the newspaper game back in 1916, and the two years which followed.

The idea of writing the book came about 1927. My mother had written a letter from Memphis, Tenn., and enclosed clippings telling of the death of C. P. J. Mooney, editor of the Commercial Appeal.

After the work of getting out the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News was done, I sat at my desk, slowly read the clippings and then mused as twilight descended. The determination came to write about Mr. Mooney, my first editor, and the glorious crew of reporters of "the old C. A."

Years went by. Slowly, subconsciously, the project took form. Frequently, I thought of the undertaking but it had not matured. This, like the aging of certain beverages in the wood, is a process that can not be hastened. There is no substitute for time, its sifting, its mellowing, its hallowing.

One day, a pen was dipped into ink and the writing began. The slower method of pen-and-ink gave a thought, a scene, an individual the full chance to unfold; it is the details which make a man or an event come to life on paper. An early 50,000 words in ink—than revision, then typing it off on the machine changes of words, adding of touches as the task went along—and task it was, slow and hard.

And so "Cub Reporter" was written—30 years after the happenings had taken place, 20 years after the idea of writing the book was born.

The whole project was done without a thought of whether the book would sell a single copy. It was something I had to do—something I wanted to do, a tribute to the memory of a great man, a salute to the forever perished days of glorious youth.

Lone Star Gas Makes Plans For Further Growth

An optimistic outlook for the growth and development of Lone Star Gas Company's territory was voiced last Saturday by President D. A. Huley of Dallas in announcing a five-year, $40,000,000 program of extensions and additions to physical properties on the company's system. This amount has been allocated for construction and equipment to support natural gas service over a system comprising 325 towns and cities in Texas and Oklahoma, one of which is Munday.

Among reasons for these huge expenditures, Mr. Huley explained, are construction of new distribution plants, extensions to established distribution systems, purchasing of new equipment, building of transmission lines to bring new sources of gas supply, construction of compressor stations and expansion of other facilities to meet demands for service in a rapidly growing territory.

"Lone Star Gas Company operates in a territory that is showing a remarkable growth", he said, "and our company is supporting that growth by going ahead with a long-range program of expanding and improving facilities to meet increasing needs of natural gas service by domestic, industrial, and commercial users. Even without such growth it is necessary for a gas utility to constantly reinforce its facilities to meet the fuel requirements of established customers under normal conditions."

Specific items in the 1947 program include a pipe line under construction from the Cumberland field west of Durant, Oklahoma, to increase delivery of gas to Denison, Sherman, Paris, and other towns and cities in Northeast Texas.

The gas supply for towns in the company's San Angelo area will be strengthened by six-inch gathering line from three wells in the Eden field southeast of San Angelo. The line extends from Eden to Miles where it connects with the company's general transmission system.

A loop line is being constructed from a point south of Dallas to a point between Rockwell and Greenville to strengthen the gas supply for a number of towns extending east of Dallas, including

Mr. and Mrs. Sied Waheed and children of Lubbock visited relatives and friends here over the week end. Mr. Waheed has just returned from a month's visit with relatives in Syria.

Miss Helen Haymes returned home last Sunday from Big Spring, where she spent a week with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Nobles.

Greenville. A major gathering line is being built in Young county to bring additional gas supply from gas fields to the Lone Star transmission system.

A new compressor station is under construction at Trinidad to boost the gas supply for Dallas, Fort Worth, and other distribution plants through existing parallel 16 and 20-inch lines from the East Texas gas fields. The new 3,200-horse-power station is designed to handle 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. The company is also planning enlargement of its compressor station at Pueblo in West Texas to conserve gas otherwise wasted in oil production.

FIXING UP the HOME By Diane Greeter

How About Steak Tonight?

THERE'S really nothing quite as good as a well broiled steak. This method of dry heat cookery brings out the finest taste. The results should be enough to whet the dearest appetite.

Broiling, while considered by many to be a fine art, is really very simple. There are many schools of thought; some say salt added before cooking causes loss of juice; others produce fine steaks by making a paste of salt and smearing it over the steak so thick the crust has to be broken off.

Whatever your method, be sure you have a good hot flame, with the steak nesting about two or three inches under it. If your broiler is connected to a thermostatically controlled oven, leave the oven door open so that the flame will not turn down.

A gas flame does the best job of broiling if you don't have the coals of an open campfire. The gas consumes the broiling smoke, keeps the kitchen cleaner and provides the quick, sharp heat needed. You can have a modern gas range wherever you plan to live. Outside the city you can use L.P. Gas, the modern gas fuel that is delivered in bottle-like steel cylinders or by tank truck. Consult the dealer in your community.

Grade Improvement Offers Extra Profits To Producers, Council Says

Memphis, Tenn. — Additional cotton profits are within the reach of every Cotton Belt farmer through grade improvement, according to the National Cotton Council which urges growers to plan now to pick their seed cotton while it is dry and to keep it clean of trash.

The difference in price between high-grade and low-grade cotton is too great to go unnoticed, the Council points out. Extra cotton cash can be gained with the same crop by extra care in picking seed cotton and transporting it to the gin.

The Council recommends that farmers try to pick seed cotton while it is dry as possible, keep trash out of cotton both in picking and handling, pick cotton before it is damaged by exposure to the weather, and keep good cotton separate from lower grades.

"In spite of the heavy weevil infestation and adverse weather conditions in many parts of the Cotton Belt, hard-working growers are doing a magnificent job in bringing this year's cotton crop to maturity," said Claude L. Welch, the Council's production and marketing director.

"Cotton Belt farmers richly deserve every cent of profit they can make from the 1947 cotton harvest and grade improvement is one means of reaping maximum benefits from cotton.

Principal factors determining cotton grades are color, leaf trash other foreign matter, and ginning preparation.

At the beginning of the harvest season, unpicked cotton usually is of high grade, bright in color, and carries no great amount of leaf. Cotton left in the field very long after the bolls open becomes darker and dull in color as a result of exposure, thus lowering the grade.

Spinners are concerned over the presence of foreign matter in cotton, since there is much less waste to cotton containing little or no foreign matter. Plant leaves, motes, seed coat fragments, and sometimes sand and dust also lower the grade.

Cotton should be picked and ginned as dry as possible. Ginning seed cotton when wet or damp tends to lower the value of the lint by one or more grades.

Good grade cotton is in great demand the Council said, and every pound produced this fall can be used in one of cotton's numerous markets.

The ginners and the warehouseman share indirectly with the farmer in the profits from bringing better grade cotton to the gin.

Trash and other foreign objects in seed cotton are responsible for most gin and warehouse fires, which in 1945-46 imposed a $12,000,000 burden of loss and damage upon the industry.

Cleaner cotton will mean less danger of cotton fires breaking out, and a corresponding decline in gin and warehouse losses.

Training School Held On Shortcuts In Making Clothes; Agents Attend

Have you ever wondered how clothes are made in a factory?

The County Home Demonstration Agents of District III found out at a special meeting in Vernon on August 12-13-14, 1947. This was a special training school, directed by Mrs. Myrtle D. Negy, District Agent. The teacher was Mrs. Clyde Herd, designer for Lorch Manufacturing, of Dallas. Fifteen agents from District III Dickens and Mrs. Aubrey W. Rust attended, including two new agents: Miss Lee Ann Williams, sell, Cottle County. Among others present were Miss Dora R. Barnes, Clothing Specialist, from Extension Service, Mrs. Katie Pruitt, County Home Demonstration from Jefferson County. Knox County represented by Eugenia H. Butler, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The purpose of this school was to demonstrate a number of shortcuts that are used in factory sewing that will save the housewife many valuable minutes in sewing, and enable her to make a sturdy, well-constructed garment at the same time. Some of the time saving methods Mrs. Herd used were:

Cutting out three child's dresses at once that could be trimmed so that each will have an entirely different appearance, a quick and durable method of attaching a convertible collar entirely by machine, a short cut to machine threading, marking darts and seamlines, a new method of ripping by using scissors, a time saving way of putting in a zipper and attaching a cuff to a sleeve.

Another phase of the school was pattern alteration. Agents worked in pairs to fit a basic pattern, work out a dress design, and construct a dress from it, using as many short cuts as was possible and practical.

The agents appreciated that Mrs. Herd was willing to give her time to this school, and were very

Farm Labor Program Being Changed In '48

College Station—The farm labor program of the Texas A & M. College Extension Service will continue in full force until the end of the year, Cesar (Dutch) Hohn, state supervisor of the program, has announced.

The program has been operated by the extension Service under Congressional authorization since the spring of 1943 when the acute farm labor shortage demanded emergency action, but will revert to the Texas Employment Commission on January 1, 1948, Hohn explained.

"There will be no let-up in the educational work now being carried on with both laborers and farmers," the farm labor official declared. "The Extension program throughout has been an educational program designed to bring about better understanding between laborer and producer so that they might better realize that it is to their mutual interest to cooperate fully.

The Extension Service has always felt that if the right understanding existed between laborer and producer, there would be no necessity for an agency to do placement work since placement would take care of itself, Hohn declared, pointing out that the Extension program was based on the idea of getting correct information to the workers and farmers alike.

The 50 farm labor reception centers, spotted at Strategic points throughout the migrat areas of the state and built cooperatively by communities and the Extension Service, will become the responsibility of the communities, Hohn said, adding that he sincerely hoped the communities would continue to maintain the centers either on their own or in cooperation with the employment commission. The centers provide migrat families with cooking and sanitary facilities and a place to spend the night. Prior to the launching of the farm labor program, no such facilities were available glad to have the opportunity to work under her. From the things learned there, we hope to be able to make sewing easier for many women in District III.

FIXING UP the HOME By Diane Greeter

Make Most of Shelves SMALL kitchens should be designed as carefully as the galley on a small yacht, where space is at a premium. Every little part of your cupboards should be fully utilized, every nook and cranny developed into a place for a particular object or tool of your kitchen work.

A set of dishes, for instance, is usually spread out over the largest shelf or the different sizes are stacked one on top another, making it necessary to lift one stack to get at another. That is inefficient. Dishes and glassware, spices and other small objects can be properly stored by putting in special shelves which can be built by anyone who can use a saw and hammer. Nest them like this:

Spices will take up a lot of room if you are a spice user. Little racks hung on the inside of the cupboard doors will take care of this problem and leave the shelf open for other, bigger things. Notice the cup rack in the back of the shelves above? It has a few small pieces of quarter inch dowelling nailed along the shelf near the front. This keeps the cups from sitting down flat, allowing air to circulate around them. Cups will not "sweat" when turned upside down on this shelf.

Veterans' News

Automatic increases will be paid effective Sept. 1 in the minimum allowances received by the more seriously disabled veterans enrolled in educational and training courses under Government sponsorship, Veterans Administration announced today.

The increased rates, which will be reflected in September checks received on or after Oct. 1 were voted by the last session of Congress and signed into law by the President.

VA said the law requires no action by disabled trainees entitled to the higher rates because of the automatic nature of the increases.

The new law provides that a veteran enrolled in a course under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16), whose disability is rated at 30 per cent or higher, will receive $115 month if he has no dependents, and $135 if he has one dependent.

The old law allowed $105 and $115 for the same two categories; but, while these rates are superseded by the new schedules for the more seriously disabled, they will continue to apply to veterans with disabilities rated at less than 30 per cent.

The new law also raises the amounts authorized for additional dependents of veterans with disabilities of 30 per cent or more. The additional allowances for one child is increased from $10 month to $20, and the previous allowance of $17 a month for each additional child is raised to $15. No change is made in the $14 monthly allowances for a dependent parent.

The new law does not change the basic provisions for awarding payments to disabled veterans pursuing a course of training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. These provisions are:

While a veteran is in training and for two months after his employability is determined, he receives a subsistence allowance of $65 a month if he has no dependents, or $90 a month if he has one

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

A. The maximum is four years; however Veterans Administration may extend the time if factors in any case warrant an additional period for rehabilitation.

Q. Must a disabled veteran go to a vocational school or may he go to a liberal arts college, a high school, or similar institution under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A. He may enroll in any VA-approved educational institution or training establishment offering the course of training which VA has found he needs to insure his proper rehabilitation in line with his own desires.

Miss Hattie Lucile Paxton of Huntsville and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Paxton of Haskell visited with friends here last Friday.

or more dependents, in addition to his disability compensation. In case the compensation pays the allowance do not total $105 or $115 for those with disabilities of less than 30 per cent, or $115 or $135 for those with disabilities of 30 per cent, or more, an additional sum is paid to make up the difference. The sum is further increased if there is more than one dependent.

The veteran in job training may retain whatever wages are paid him, but if his salary plus his subsistence allowance exceeds the wage of a beginning trained journeyman, VA will reduce his subsistence allowance proportionately.

If the veteran-trainee is enrolled in school, his tuition & fees are paid by VA, and his books and supplies are provided by VA. If he is enrolled in on-the-job training, VA provides the necessary tools.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
Q. How does a veteran apply for readjustment allowances?
A. A veteran must present his original service discharge or separation paper, or if that has been lost or destroyed, a certificate in lieu of or a properly authenticated copy of such paper. He must file an application on Veterans Administration Form 4-1332. An initial claim is usually filed at the same time the application is made. This claim indicates whether the veteran is unemployed, partially employed or self-employed.

Q. Does Veterans Administration help the disabled veteran get a job after he finishes his training?

A. Yes.
Q. What is the maximum length of training a disabled veteran can get under Public Law 16?

Now everyone can afford the best!

GET MORE for your old tire
PAY LESS for your new tire
...get the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

WHILE most everything else has gone up, one important product has stemmed the tide of rising prices. Tires. And B. F. Goodrich was the first tire maker to bring you these savings below prewar levels.

But price is only the first of many ways B. F. Goodrich tires cut your costs. You get more mileage than you've ever known before from the new, wider 'road level' tread that runs flush-to-the-road giving the tire more road contact, equalizing the strain, reducing wear.

You get more safety from costly accidents because greater road contact means more rubber to grip and stop. And the scalloped, tooth-edged ribs fight side-slip and skidding. Finer, sturdier cords and more of them add strength to the cord body to resist damage from pounding and danger of blowouts.

On top of this, you can get a big allowance for your present worn tires. For instance, your old tire and $12.95 will buy you a new 6.00-16 Silvertown that outwears prewar tires.

ELECTRICITY HASN'T GONE UP

It takes a lot of dollars these days to buy most of the items covered in the family budget—food, clothing, housing, etc. Spent for electric service, your dollars actually go further than before. This is true in spite of the fact that costs of operation and maintenance have gone up and up with almost everything else, except the hire of money.

Living costs continue to increase, yet the average cost of a kilowatt hour of service to residential customers has decreased 32.6 per cent since 1933.

Texas Leads In Move To Increase Cotton Uses

Bryan—Texas leads all other cotton-producing states in the number of ginners, cotton merchants, and cottonseed crushers supporting the cotton industry program to increase cotton consumption, George G. Chance, Bryan, chairman of the Texas Unit of the National Cotton Council, announced today.

Mr. Chance said that 886 of Texas' 2,180 cotton gins already are supporting the Cotton Council's program of research and sales promotion for the 1947-48 season. The Texas total is almost twice as great as that for the remainder of the Southwest combined.

Of the 168 cotton merchants in Texas, Mr. Chance said that 44 per cent have joined in the Council program. He also pointed out that 46 cottonseed crushing plants are supporting the Council—more than the combined total of crushing mills which have to date agreed to back the industry program in the seven states of the Mississippi Valley.

"Texas has built an enviable record for itself by taking the lead in the cotton industry's program to build new markets for cotton lint and seed," Mr. Chance declared. "The cooperation pledged the National Cotton Council by Texas cotton men thus far indicates that our state is fully aware of the necessity of backing cotton's fight against its competitors."

The Texas chairman said that during the past decade conducted an unceasing program on behalf of the 15,000,000 people of the cotton industry. He said this program already had accomplished much toward holding and enlarging cotton's established markets and building new ones.

"As excellent as Texas' record is, the cotton interests of the state have indicated that they will continue the campaign for greater support of the industrywide program until every cotton producer, ginner, warehouseman, merchant, cotton spinner, and cottonseed crusher join in the battle to assure cotton's future," he continued.

"The success of this program involves the prosperity and the very existence of the cotton industry. With the united support of every member of the industry, cotton cannot fail."

New Patrolmen Are Needed By Highway Dept.

Austin—The Department of Public Safety is now accepting applications from qualified young men to fill the 200 additions to the Texas Highway Patrol made possible under new appropriations voted by the recent Legislature.

Examinations will be given sometime in September, Director Jomer Garrison said. The first of four schools of 50 men each will begin about Dec. 1.

"We are already receiving a lot of applications," Garrison said, "but many of the applicants cannot qualify. Our standards are high, as they necessarily must be." Garrison said prospective patrolmen must be between 21 and 35 years old, not less than five feet eight inches in height, weigh not less than two nor more than three pounds for each inch of height, and be in perfect physical condition.

Candidates also must have lived in Texas at least a year and have at least a high school education or its equivalent. Those tentatively accepted on the basis of competitive examinations must stand thorough character investigation before being appointed.

Garrison urged qualified men to write him at Austin for application forms.

The Department of Public Safety also announced that examinations are being given in Austin each Tuesday and Friday until September 1 to fill about 20 office positions.

Misses Patsy and Betty Matthews have returned home from a two-weeks vacation trip to Corpus Christi and other points. They visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bickham in Calallen while away.
