FIRE PREVENTION WEEK
Calling on the nation to join in a concerted effort to prevent fires, President Truman has proclaimed the week beginning October 5 as Fire Prevention Week.

In his proclamation, the President said: "I earnestly request every citizen to eliminate all possible causes for destructive fire in his home and place of business." That plea goes to the heart of fire prevention. The many organizations whose business it is to fight fire are doing a magnificent job, and their efforts have been brought to a peak of intensity this year. But they cannot do much without public support. The nation cannot provide an army of fire prevention experts to inspect every home and business building, correct dangers, and see that they stay corrected. All the authorities can do is to tell us how to prevent fire—and after that it is up to the individual.

If anyone doubts that fire prevention has assumed the stature of an emergency condition, he need only look at the statistics. During the first six months of 1947 alone, fire losses in the United States reached the staggering total of $369,276,000—and that does not include the major portion of the Texas City disaster. Loss of life has shown a similar increase. In most homes a very small expenditure of time and money will eliminate the common hazards—and no investment can produce better returns.

HIGHER WAGES FOR WHAT?
Reports of new demands by the United Mine Workers Union on the soft coal mine operators, involving higher wages, more overtime, and other benefits, make one wonder how long competitive industry can survive if operating costs are continually jacked up.

The principal cost of mining coal is labor, and any further wage increases will naturally find their reflection in the price charged the consumer. Coal is in direct competition, as a fuel, with other sources of energy such as oil and gas. The industrial users of these fuels, who absorb the bulk of the total production, naturally seek that which they can buy most cheaply. If the cost of any fuel rises out of production to its competitors, its markets will inevitably diminish—and employment will diminish with it.

The worker's zeal for money is understandable. But higher wages will certainly not benefit him if there are fewer jobs—or if the purchasing power of each dollar in the pay envelope continues to go down. No group of workers has received greater gains than the coal miners. And to continually demand more, regardless of the economic consequences to the industry, is hardly the part of wisdom.

In the long run, the worker's productive power must largely determine his wage. That is true in all industry. We can have lower prices with higher wages only as production per worker increases.

American foreign traders, according to a Wall Street Journal article, continue to enjoy excellent

THOSE PRICE TAGS
Don't look to your retailer to put into effect the major price reductions that people are always talking about and which never occur.

Retailers, large and small, dealing in every kind of commodity, have fought one of the most aggressive battles against price inflation. They are on the firing line—they get every consumer complaint and have an intimate understanding of consumer economic problems. They have used every weapon in their arsenal to hold price increases to the minimum.

But that arsenal is limited. Retailers must pay the going price for goods at wholesale. Like all other business, they must carry heavily increased overhead, in the form of higher wages, rents, taxes, supplies and everything else. They must earn some kind of profit or go down to the wall. What they have done is to cut their unit profits to a low figure, and kept down expenses to the limit of their ability. That has saved American consumers untold millions of dollars, and will save them millions more in the future.

Retailers will reduce prices if—and when—wholesale prices and the unavoidable costs of running a store come down. Competition, which grows stiffer every day as more and more goods are produced and the "easy money" dwindles, will take care of what. That price tags on the goods you buy are an honest reflection of today's conditions. Your retailer is not a magician—but remember that he is doing a fine job in providing you with what you want at the lowest price now possible.

business. Exports in March reached a total of more than $1,304,000,000—15 per cent above the preceding month. Our imports, by comparison, were up only 3 per cent and were valued at $434,500,000.

Practically every exported item has shown an increase—cotton goods, nylon and rayon, steel, electrical machinery, cars and trucks, wheat, coal, etc. The world's appetite for American commodities is enormous.

A boom in exports of all kinds is scheduled beginning July 15, when England will relax present controls over the pound. The entire United Kingdom will be involved, and tremendous sums will become available for purchasing in this country. Some think, however, that the boom may not be as great as is forecast, on the grounds that Britain will not be able to indefinitely stand so heavy a drain on her supply of dollars.

Housing is as scarce as ever in New York. Example: One landlord asks—and is sure he can get—a premium of $1,500 for letting a vacant $110-a-month apartment in Brooklyn.—Wall Street Journal.

Win National Model Building Honors

Eradication Of Mesquite Practiced In Armstrong

Mesquite is taking over big areas of the Panhandle, but Armstrong ranchmen are doing something about it. A number of ranchmen, according to County Agent Charles O. Reed, Jr., have tried chemicals, oil spray and hand-grubbing. The Hedgecock Estate has just finished grubbing 700 acres, a large part of which had a thick stand of mesquite.

Eradication work has been stepped up since a contractor equipped a crawler-type tractor with a shopmade mesquite grubber which is attached to the bulldozer arm. The attachment is only two feet wide with small cutting side arms that pull or cut the mesquite below the crowns.

Reed says 3000 acres have been cleared with this equipment since spring. A 100 percent kill has been obtained on mesquite ranging from sprouts to trees 12 inches in diameter.

Under ideal conditions, the native grass on tight land slides over the cutting blade. Very little of the grass is dead and on land cleared last spring, the loosening of the ground let more water soak in so that the grass is green and in good condition.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Rain-Making Scientists Have Not Considered All The Angles Yet

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek probably is worrying ahead of time, but he may have a point in his letter this week.

Dear editor: While ordinarily you'll find me in the lead mentally anyway when it comes to progress, of the kind that eliminates unnecessary work and I don't mind sayin' after years of experimentin and resistin and continuous deep-thinkin I have discovered most work comes under that category if you just leave it alone long enough, there is one piece of news lately which has me disturbed.

I was readin in acopy of Abilene paper which drifted down the creek this mornin and lodged against a snag right in front of where I was sittin and a man that ain't got enough ambition to bend over and pull in a newspaper when it's in reach in front of him ain't got enough ambition to endorse a government check and which I pulled in when I got around to it where scientists themselves instead of crack-pots is now experimentin with rain-makin tests and in several instances has produced rain by scatterin dry ice in the clouds.

Now understand I never have stood in the way of progress, bein perfectly willin to let it flow around me without raisin no fuss as long as it didn't disturb me, but I have been wonderin if them scientists have taken a practical view of their rain-makin? Have they considered what it will mean to be able to produce rain?

You take me right now. A good rain every week would be fine for my Johnson grass and the two Jersey steers I'm fattenin out for the market, but my neighbor across the creek cons ideas it outrageous to be wishin for a rain when his cotton don't need it and if it rains will blame me, as though my wishin was what done it. But under the present system it ain't really possible to put the blame on anybody.

However, if them scientists start producin rain anytime they get the price of a sack full of dry ice and a airplane handy and a customer, they're gonna take their lives in their own hands. Say for example Moody Johnson west of Munday wants a rain on his young cotton and hires a rain-makin outfit and it rains and some runs over on Raymond Reeves east of town who ain't got no young cotton at the moment and the last thing he wants is a rain on his open bolls. It ain't no business a peaceful man would want in.

Or right in town, which I ain't no expert on, but say Bill Speelce needs a rain on his fall turnips and Mrs. Whatsername is gettin ready for a lawn party, and the former hires a rain-maker.

I tell you, they better leave that rain business alone, or else get it perfected so they can handle it from a hose and direct it only where it's ordered. Personally, I ain't interested in the rain-makin franchise in this area.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Bumper Corn Crop Predicted For Texas

Texas farmers will produce an extra 6 million bushels of corn this year.

The six million bushels will come through increased yields from acreage planted to hybrid varieties, according to E. A. Miller, extension agronomist at Texas A. & M. College.

His reasoning is as follows: The U. S. Department of Agriculture has estimated that there are 1,100,000 acres of hybrid corn in Texas this year. That's 36 percent of the total corn acreage in the state; an increase of almost 50 percent over the 1946 acreage.

And three-year tests run by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in 15 corn-growing areas of the state showed that the top hybrid corn varieties averaged nearly 30 percent higher yield than the better open-pollinated varieties.

The 2,224 farmers and 2,063 F. H. Club boys who conducted corn demonstrations in 1946 had similar increases in yields from hybrid, county agents have reported.

Actually, Miller says, the increase in the total yield for the state will probably exceed six million bushels because most of the corn hybrids were planted on the richer soils, where the 30 percent increase will amount to considerably more than the five and a quarter bushels per acre increase based on the 17 1-2 bushels average for the state.

The USDA has estimated that 71.4 percent of the nation's corn acreage is planted to corn hybrids. The Corn Belt states now have from 90 to 100 percent of their corn in hybrids.

LOOK

I have an excellent farm for sale. 160 acres with practically all in cultivation. Only 2 miles from town. First class improvements. Plenty of water. Good barns and garages, wash house, storm cellar. Just what you have been waiting for.
J. C. Harpham

The agronomist believes that the acreage of adapted corn hybrids in the state will continue to show a year to year increase until almost all of the open pollinated varieties have been replaced by the higher producing hybrids.

Mr. and Mrs. Wick Wyley of Wellington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Cunningham over the week end.

Mrs. R. H. Bowden and son, Robert Lynn, returned home last week from Houston, where they spent two weeks with Mrs. Bowden's sister, Mrs. T. A. Miller. While away they also visited in Galveston and Texas City.

Denton—Miss Marguerite Jane McLeroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. McLeroy, Monday, became the bride of Claude Arthur Richardson Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Richardson, Knox City, August 29, in the Little Chapel in-the-Woods, Texas State College for women. Minister Standley Shipp of the Church of Christ, Knox City, officiated.

The vows were taken before an altar banked with baskets of white gladiolas and asters, and a large basket of white mums before a background of palms and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white satin designed with a sheer yoke in an off-shoulder effect outlined with tracings of silver beads and seed pearls, long sleeves which tapered to points over her hands, and a long fitted bodice. The very full skirt, gathered at the hip-line swept into a graceful train.

state-wide drouth might have been broken.

Anyway, we'd hate to be the one who pulls the strings, pushes the button, jiggles the do-dad, or manipulates the gadget that makes it rain. We'd be in trouble up to our neck all the time.

Back yonder some three weeks ago, when it looked like our rain order would be filled in grand style, we heard a person say: "Boy! I sure hope it don't rain now. I've just got through poisoning cotton. The poison would all wash off, and all that work and expense for nothing."

So you see, if man controlled the rain, what he'd be up against. There never was a rain that came exactly when everybody wanted it, and in the amount they wanted.

Oh, well! We got our curb cleaned week before last, and our cans hauled off last week, so every thing would be nearly what you call hunky-dory—if it'd just rain!

Come and help us outline our program of work for the fall months.

We must speak a word of appreciation to all who helped us make our revival a success. Many of our people were so faithful. Some postponed their vacations, some attended every service, morning and night, some left business and work to attend, some took their cars and brought others. We are grateful to the people of other churches who came and who responded to the altar calls and helped with your prayers, singing, and in many ways. We appreciate the dismissing of the services at the Baptist church in our favor. We appreciate those who helped with the piano, the prayer service, lending us equipment, leading in children's services and also the valuable help of our local newspaper. To all we are saying "God Bless you and make our combined effort strong enough to absorb & overcome the indifference and the positive evil of so many influences that move in our community life."

Letter From China

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

IT COST $7,000 for my friend So Tin Wong to write me from Canton, China. He wanted to explain that it now takes 5,000 Chinese dollars to buy one meal for one person. Mr. So philosophizes that it isn't how many dollars one gets, it is what he can buy with these dollars that really counts. Do you wonder that Mr. So has decided to leave China, if he can, and go abroad?

Mr. So wants to leave his native country, even though he makes several thousand dollars a day. Mr. So's trouble is inflation. It is so bad that his wages will not permit him to live in China and care for his family. The value of the stamps that brought me his air mail letter, amounting to $7,000, would make the $5,000 meal worth only two-thirds of the value of the postage. Certainly, Mr. So was not discussing a very extravagant meal.

THIS CHANGE has taken place since I was in China in 1925 to 1936. Then one American dollar, according to the rate of exchange would buy only three or four Chinese dollars. While we do not have that kind of inflation in this country, America is actually moving slowly in that direction. It is said that the American dollar will buy less, right here in America, than at any time since Abraham Lincoln was president.

Although American workingmen have the highest wages that they ever earned, they are complaining that they cannot buy much with those dollars. From 1920 to 1940, when American dollars had purchasing power, an American workman could buy an automobile and could buy a home. Today he can probably buy neither, yet he has far more dollars than he had then. Inflation does not help working people. It burdens them.

A Solid I WANTED to buy a Economy new automobile this year. But when I found that it would take in the neighborhood of $2,000 to buy even an average car, I decided to have my old one overhauled and get along with it. However, the overhauling cost half as much as it used to cost to buy a new automobile. It's hard to tell, under inflation, whether one is wise or foolish.

If we would like to increase inflation and have more dollars in our pockets but be able to buy less with them, then we should encourage a high federal budget, high federal taxes, and still higher wages. All these things have an inflationary influence on our economy. If we want a solid economy, where dollars will buy more and we can actually live better, then we must do these things:

- (1) Work for lower taxes, which would leave more in the purchasing stream and would stop discouraging investment in new industries and new tools for workmen.
- (2) Oppose the high budget with extravagant federal spending, and
- (3) Work for stable industrial relations. Industry, labor, agriculture, and all other American groups should understand these facts. With shoulders to the wheels we must work for a stabilized America that can lend stability to a confused world.

Have been getting so many invitations to speak and it costs to jump around over the state and my work suffers back in the office, so your columnist has had to begin to make moderate charge (depending on distance) for speeches. We appreciate what we have to pay something for, as a general rule. Speeches made recently or soon to be made include: National Peanut Council; National Editorial Association; "ladies' night" of numerous civic clubs; annual dinners of the Chamber of Commerce in Lampasas, Tulla, Nocona and Schalenburg. Then the high school commencement addresses range from Pecos to Augustine with Bastrap, Midland, Santa Anna and Roscoe between.

Seen "The Johnson Story" yet? It's a mighty fine picture. Johnson wanted to get close to his audience, he wanted to see their faces, and he lived to sing.

Johnson sang because he wanted to—because he had to, because of some insistent demand within him, just as a bird sings or a flower blooms—because that is what the bird or the flower was created for.

A visitor in Hannibal, Mo., met an old-timer and asked him, "Did you know Mark Twain?" The nat-

Fritz Kreisler was going to give a concert and the newspapers wrote up the $50,000 Stradivarius he owned. On the night of the concert, he came out and gave a number superbly. He bowed again and again at the applause; then held up the violin and the audience applauded the instrument; then he snapped the violin into a dozen pieces. It was not the costly "Strad" but just a violin he had picked up for $5. It's not the instrument but the artist—brains, fingers and soul expressing itself through the instrument—that is most important.

September 8 Set As Deadline For State Fair Entries

Although the State Fair doesn't open till Oct. 4, the deadline for Junior Livestock Show entries is Monday, Sept. 8.

The deadline for Palomino and Quarter Horse entries is Sept. 15. Altogether livestock premiums this year will total $59,020, one of the largest amounts ever offered at the State Fair.

Entries in the State Fair's poultry show will be accepted up to Saturday, Oct. 4, opening day of the State Fair. Hens to be entered by Sept. 26. Deadline for Junior Poultry Show entries is Sept. 30.

Changes Made In Auto Title And Registration Law

Austin—Changes in title and registration laws made by the Fiftieth Legislature will sooner or later affect all of motor vehicles, Texas Highway Department spokesmen say.

A number of these new laws become effective September 5.

After that date, for example, the Texas Highway Department will be required to charge a fee of $1.00 for assigning motor numbers to new or reconditioned motors. A similar fee was ordered for serially incident to the practice.

The growing practice of installing new and rebuilt motors, some bearing no identification number, demands a strict accounting of both motor and serial numbers on vehicles to assure valid titles in the name of rightful owners.

Now laws outline a procedure giving maximum protection to legal owners of all motor vehicles. When motors are exchanged, the vehicle owner must apply promptly to the Texas Highway Department for a correction of his certificate of title. Otherwise the title to his vehicle is clouded because its motor does not correspond to his title, an awkward situation to handle when he tries to sell his car.

If the new or reconditioned motor bears a manufacturer's number it should be used. If it is blank, as many are nowadays, the purchaser must apply direct to the Texas Highway Department at Austin for an assigned number.

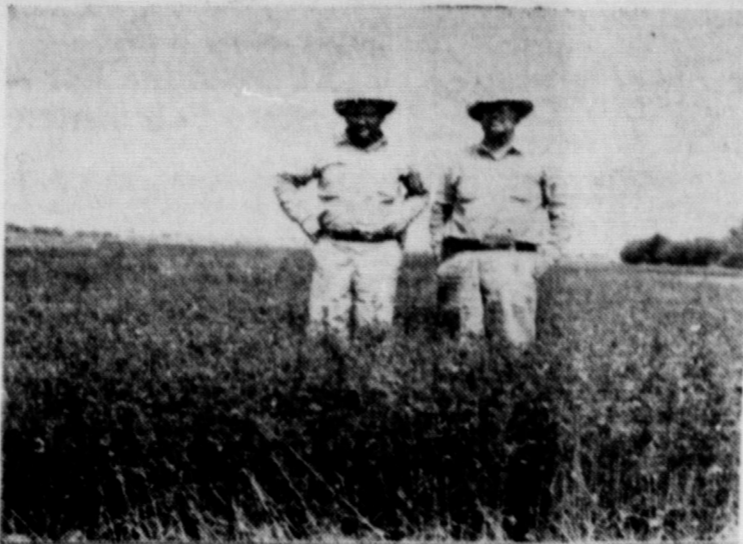

Forms for this application may be obtained from any county Tax Collector's office. It is illegal to stamp any number on a motor other than a number assigned by the Highway Department.

A new service has been provided for Texans who wish to take delivery on a new vehicle at the factory or from a dealer in another State. Temporary license plates for the exclusive use of buyers while driving their new car back home are now issued under another of the Fiftieth Session's new laws.

Suggested by Highway Department officials for the convenience of purchasers wishing to drive their new car back from the factory, the new law eliminates many thorny legal technicalities formerly incident to the practice.

Temporary plates, good for thirty days, can now be secured without delay at the County Tax Collector's office, and carried to the factory or other out-of-State delivery point. The owner may secure certificate of title to his new car and regular registration plates after returning to Texas.

Men in the above picture are J. B. Haun and Mack Fisher. This is 126 acre field of Madrid Clover planted March 3, 1945—picture taken in May of same year.

In January, 1941, Mr. Paul Dunkel in charge of the Denton County Experiment Station gave Mr. John Elliott of the Frisco Community enough Madrid Clover seed to plant five acres. This is a bi-annual plant.

In its first year Mr. Elliott not only grazed 20 heads of cattle, but had a hay harvest on this five acres of Madrid clover of 5 1/2 tons. In its second year Mr. Elliott grazed it with 20 heads of cattle up to March 10th, and then allowed it to seed. (The second year of this Madrid clover is its seed year). It produced 1784 pounds of seed which Mr. Elliott sold for 40 cents a pound or a return of $142.00 per acre. From this modest start Mr. Elliott is harvesting seed from 110 acres while the neighborhood farmers are harvesting seed from 984 acres in 1947 with the yield being about 500 pounds Madrid Clover seed per acre. It is estimated that in the Frisco Community that in excess of 2500 acres will be planted in the spring of 1948.

Madrid Clover has been certified as the clover legume of all the clovers, not alone is the value of this crop its seed yield, but it has been proven that any follow-up crop, whether wheat, oats, corn, cotton, or any small grain, it produces from 25 to 40% more yield after the clover crop.

Here in the Frisco Community, Madrid Clover has been planted on all types of soil, white rock, poor eroded land, sandy soil, and deep black land. The plant has thrived and has improved the land wherever it has been planted.

There has been an association formed of Denton and Collin County growers, named Certified Madrid Clover Growers, with headquarters at Frisco, Texas. The association will mail to anyone desiring it a pamphlet about Madrid Clover, and anyone interested in soil conservation and improvement of his land will do well to investigate this profitable and beneficial crop.

The information in this report has been brought to the attention of this paper by Mr. Larry O'Bannon, manager of the Frisco Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. O'Bannon states that this is not a seed selling proposition, but an effort to help farmers or a good neighbor policy.

Harold P. Green Completes Training At Naval Center

Harold P. Green, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Green of Munday, Texas, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., and has been advanced to seaman, second class.

Recruit training is the sharp break between civilian and Naval life in which the new Navy man learns the fundamental principles of a sailor's life.

In the course of his training the recruit is taught seamanship, Navy customs and terms, basic ordnance and gunnery, signaling and navigation. He learns proper diving and swimming, life saving, and shipboard fire fighting.

Upon completion of his training the recruit is assigned either to units of the fleet or to a service school for specialized training.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disordered kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS

All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration has announced it will extend compensation payments to veterans who have been discharged from VA hospitals with arrested pulmonary tuberculosis but who need more time at home in which to recover sufficiently to take a job without endangering their health. The new plan permits payments to those veterans on a totally disabled basis up to two years from date of discharge from any VA hospital while they remain under close medical supervision. Previously, the payments were reduced by 50 per cent within six months of the veteran's discharge.

Under the new plan, these veterans will be examined every six months. If the examination indicates they are unable to resume employment safely, doctors will certify their findings so that VA may determine whether to continue full compensation payments for an additional six months.

VA expects this plan to result in better control of arrested pulmonary tuberculosis among veterans and thus reduce the necessity of hospitalizing them again.

The Veterans Administration will establish diabetic clinics in all its Regional Offices in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi as the result of an experiment at Dallas which indicated large savings to taxpayers and improved treatment for veterans afflicted with this disability.

The "pilot" project was initiated at Dallas three months ago to provide periodic out-patient treatment for service-connected diabetics instead of putting them in already over-crowded VA hospitals.

VA said one of the biggest advantages of the clinics is that they enable diabetic veterans to continue working to support themselves and their families. With our clinics, hospitalization of from 9 days to 1 month each year would have been necessary in most cases.

Clinics will be established at Waco, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock, New Orleans, Shreveport & Jackson. The Dallas clinic will continue to function.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. If I get a guaranteed loan under the G. I. Bill, does the government pay any part of the loan for me?

A. Yes, Veterans Administration pays the lender, for credit to your loan account, an amount equal to 4 per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan.

Q. I understand that the government will guarantee up to $4,000 on a business loan. Is this correct?

A. It is correct if the business loan is for the purchase of business real estate property, but if the loan is for non-real estate property, the maximum guarantee cannot be more than $2,000.

Q. My husband is a World War II veteran and often becomes suddenly ill because of malaria. How far where do I apply for hospitalization for him?

A. You should see your nearest VA contact representative or apply at a Veterans Administration regional office or hospital. In an emergency call the nearest VA office, collect.

ply at a Veterans Administration regional office or hospital. In an emergency call the nearest VA office, collect.

Q. How is the length of entitlement for education or jobtraining calculated and does a year of entitlement mean a school year or a calendar year?

A. Under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill) an eligible veteran is entitled to education or jobtraining for a period of one calendar year, plus the time he spent in the armed forces between September 16, 1940 and the official end of the war. The total period of education or training may not exceed four calendar years. Time spent in ASTP or Navy college training is excluded.

Be Safe-Get Larger....

Butane Tanks

To be safe during winter months, you are urged to get larger butane tanks and store your winter gas before cold weather. Get tanks large enough to store your entire winter supply.

The heavy demand on refineries producing butane gas makes it impossible for them to produce enough during winter months. Heavy consumption in winter makes a heavy burden on them, and on your distributor.

Come in—let's talk over the advantages of adequate storage tanks.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today issued a warning against the danger of malaria following the heavy rainfall, which has finally broken the drought in many sections of the State.

"Malaria will remain a major health problem as long as breeding places are accessible to the female Anopheles mosquito," Dr. Cox said. "Every householder should make sure that there are no tin cans, broken bottles, or other types of rubbish on his premises that will hold water and offer breeding places to this enemy of good health."

Dr. Cox pointed out that in our practice of mosquito control, we are sometimes like the man who locked the stable door after the horse was already stolen; we are content to wait until all our premises are swarming with mosquitoes before we bring ourselves into active warfare against those recognized agents of malaria transmission.

Dr. Cox further stressed the importance of conserving the public health and preventing the spread of disease in our present crowded housing condition, and he also emphasized the fact that malaria is one of the more debilitating diseases, often causing its victim to lose weeks or even months from his regular employment or from school attendance.

Said Dr. Cox: "The best cure for malaria is prevention. Make sure your premises are free from any stagnant waters in which may breed the female Anopheles mosquito that transmits the disease."

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko indicates his 11th use of the veto as he turns down the American plan for a United Nations border commission in Greece aimed at curbing repeated Balkan "threats to peace and security."
