Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

"Pigs is pigs." There was a story, or a book, written about that one time.

But we had pigs right out on the city lawn last Saturday. Little ones, big 'uns, and middle sized ones.

Some boys went over some of them with curry combs, sprucing that hog hair up so it looked nice and shiny. And some of them had their toe nails manicured. County Agent Carpenter was the chief manicurist.

There was a lot of 82-cent-ham and bacon out there Saturday, but, shucks, we couldn't buy the trimmings from the toe nails. Have another note coming due!

The occasion was the combined 4-H Club-F. F. A. swine show, and a nice show it was. Some of the pigs were the Sears-Roebuck Foundation pigs, and their pigs is pigs!

Prospects are that some of those pigs will be sizzling in the frying pan one of these days—but we're getting off of that subject. We're downright hungry!

Talk about people being here a long time. Well, we're getting older and wiser in that respect.

Folks can brag about how long they've been in business here, in the same location, and what-not, but so far as we know H. P. Hill has them bested for being on the same job for the same firm.

We got it from a round-about, but authentic way, that Harvey Hill has been about his duties at the Munday cottonmill for over thirty-five years.

Of course the business has changed, managers have changed, etc., but those changes didn't make a heap of difference for Harvey Hill. He stayed on regular, and he's still pretty regular, except for some vacation time and sick leave.

And we imagine if things hadn't changed from what they were when he started, Mr. Hill wouldn't still be there. Changes mean progress, and progress means less monotony on the job.

Anyway, there's been lots of cottonseed hauled in there, and lots of cottonseed meal, cake and hulls, and cotton insect poison, etc., hauled out since Harvey Hill started on that job.

Then we mustn't forget R. C. Spinks, formerly of Vera now of Goree.

The report came to us recently that Rolla Spinks has lived in Knox county longer than anybody whose still living in the county. That's a right heap spell, too.

Spinks came here in the early 1880's—and that's over sixty years ago. He was right smart of a young'un at that time.

We've heard him tell about how he and his daddy would come to Munday. Then when they got ready to go home, they'd head the wagon and team right out across the prairie to Vera. No roads to follow, no fences to get in the way, and it was nearer taking a direct course.

And the wild deer and antelope, etc., would become frightened at their approach and scamper on to safety. They was the pioneer days, when people lived by the rugged method.

Mr. Spinks dispensed the mail at Vera for years and years having retired about a year ago. At some period of his life, he became versed in the art of concocting and dispensing drugs, too, so when Uncle Sam retired him as Vera's postmaster, he moved to Goree and again took up the pharmaceutical art, this time at Rogers Drug Store.

Few men, and women, have been "fetched up" in and around Vera that R. C. Spinks don't know about, and can tell you all about. He most always generally has a good word for each and every one of them.

He's been a member of the Ma-

Moguls Take Easy Victory From Tigers

The Munday Moguls hit their stride after a scoreless first quarter or last Friday night to take an easy pre-conference victory from the weaker Rule team. The game was played on the Rule field.

Rule opened up the first period with aerial attack that threatened to be potent, pushing down to the 15-yard stripe and again inside the 20, when their drives were halted.

After breaking up the passing, attack, the Moguls took their stride to push over four touchdowns. The weaker Rule team could not penetrate the Mogul line for any great gains.

Starting on their own 18-yard line in the second quarter, the Moguls marched down the field and put Swain over from the three-yard line late in the period. Billy Bouldin converted from placement.

In the third quarter, Bouldin scored again after a 61-yard march. Try for extra point failed, but a short while later, Bouldin passed to Moore from the Rule 36-yard line for the third counter. Again the try for point missed its mark.

The final Mogul tally came in the fourth period, when Swain smashed through the line, and steamrollered over the secondary defense to wind up the 60-yard sprint across the goal stripe. The extra point try was wide.

The lineups:

F. F. A. Chapter Names Officers For New Year

The Munday chapter of Future Farmers of America met on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock and reorganized the chapter for the 1947-48 school term. Officers were elected as follows:

Troy Lee Lowrance, president; Scotty Ponder, vice president; L. C. Searcey, secretary; Garon Tidwell, treasurer; Billy Joe Brown, reporter; Royce McGraw, sentinel; J. M. Fields, historian; Danny Ponder, parliamentarian, and Earl R. Ponder, advisor.

Members present were very enthusiastic and eager to do worthwhile things. They asked permission to go into the election of an F. F. A. sweetheart at once. Permission was given, and plans were formulated for allowing the chapter to select a candidate. Candidates and their campaign managers are as follows:

Carolyn Bowden, Gene Grown, Betty Hendrix, Jessie Ford and Dick Swope; Burna Dean Suggs, M. J. Fields; Patsy Morrow, Homer Lowrance.

Campaign managers are to appoint their assistants and begin their tasks of getting votes for their favorite candidate. Votes will be one cent each. You may cast as many votes for your candidate as you desire.

In addition to the honor of being F. F. A. sweetheart a handsome prize will be given the winning candidate. Money collected during the race will go to help support the local chapter.

Other plans for helping finance the chapter were approved as follows:
1. Concessions at ball games and at the noon hour.
2. Subscriptions for magazines and newspapers.
3. Donkey basketball game.
4. Forty-two party.
5. Sale of Munday Mogul tags.
6. Awarding a Thanksgiving turkey.

The boys are showing much interest in agriculture and are anxious to start their projects. They must do several jobs under the supervision of their advisor, so if you have any of the following work to be done, they will be glad to have you call by and talk with them.

Fireboys Plan Check Here For Fire Hazards

Members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department plan to make a through checkup of fire hazards in Munday during fire prevention week, October 5 to 12, it was stated Monday.

This move is following the usual custom of making an annual checkup, then making recommendations on ways and means of reducing the possibility of a disastrous fire in Munday.

This is also in cooperation with the national movement which came about as a result of the president's conference on fire prevention. The above dates are designated as National Fire Prevention Week.

The cooperation of the entire public is requested in this movement, in that they follow out recommendation made for reducing local fire hazards.

Local Players Offered Shot At "Pro" Baseball

St. Louis—When the baseball tryout camp opens at Fair Park, Seymour, and City Park, Stephenville, later this month, scores of boys in this vicinity will have an opportunity to take their first step toward getting into professional baseball. The St. Louis Cardinals, who will conduct the camps, are on the lookout for many new players to supply their minor league clubs for many more seasons to come.

All players who believe they have what it takes to become a professional baseball player are urged to attend. Work-outs at Seymour will be held at 1:00 p. m. Friday, October 10, and 10:00 a. m. Saturday, October 11. Those at Stephenville will begin at 10:00 a. m. Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 13-14. They will consist of regular drills in running, fielding, hitting and throwing. There will also be actual games played, during which the pitchers will get a chance to show their stuff.

C. A. "Runt" Marr and Fred Hawn, veteran Red Bird scouts, will put the players through their paces. Every boy in camp will have an excellent opportunity to show what he can do at his particular position, and every move will be closely watched by these two experienced professionals of the National Pastime.

Players should bring their own gloves, baseball shoes, and uniforms if they have them. Those who are signed to contracts will be reimbursed for all expenses incident to attending the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Patterson Sr. were in Rotan last Saturday to be with Mr. Patterson's brother, who is ill.

Stamps Quartet To Give Program At Goree School

The Stamps Allstar Quartet will appear in a concert program at the Goree High School Auditorium on Monday night, October 8th. This is the second appearance of the Quartet in Goree. If you did not see their other concert, this is your chance to see their good clean program of gospel and secular songs, some comedy and some grand piano playing. Ask anyone who saw their other concert if it is worth your money.

The Primary Department of the Methodist Church of Goree is sponsoring this program to secure money for re-furnishing their Sunday School room. It is a very worthy cause—come and help them out.

Please buy advance tickets from Mrs. Carver at school or from Mrs. Billie Hutchen if at all possible as the sponsor makes a greater percent from advance sales.

ORDERS THE TIMES TO HOUSTON HOME

A letter from Mrs. Wallace Harbert of Houston came Thursday morning, ordering the Munday Times to her address.

My husband and I are both natives of Knox County, she wrote. We have been in Houston six years, but still own our home in Benjamin. It still is, and always will be home to us.

Sleeping Sickness Among Horses In County Reported

Sleeping sickness, which annually takes a heavy toll of horses in the United States, has been reported for the first time this year in Knox County.

The first attack has appeared in the north part of the Sunset community. This disease, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, is transferred by means of flies and mosquitoes, and may be carried some distance in this manner.

The department recommends control by vaccination prior to infection. This vaccine should be administered by a licensed veterinarian, practitioner or authorized veterinary official.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cloud are proudly announcing the birth of a son, who arrived at the Knox County hospital on Sunday, September 28. Mother and little son are reported doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hood and two sons of Galveston came in Sunday for a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Hood's mother, Mrs. Dave Eiland, and with other relatives and friends.

Kelly Johnsons To Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

A couple who came to Knox county 58 years ago, and still single people, will observe their golden wedding anniversary next Sunday, inviting all their many friends in this section to visit them when they hold open house.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Johnson, beloved pioneers who live about three miles west of Munday. Mr. Johnson came here from Johnson county in 1889, and the children state that Mrs. Johnson came to Knox county at about the same time. She was a native of Stephens county.

These young people were united in marriage on October 3, 1897, in Knox county, the marriage rites being read by Elder Burns, father of John Burns, who still resides in this county.

Following their marriage, they set up housekeeping in a half dugout on the land which members of the Johnson family still farm. This was their home until a residence was later constructed.

The old dugout was torn away only last year, being the last pioneer structure of its kind in the country.

Because everyone is busy gathering cotton crops of the county, the Johnsons decided to hold their golden wedding anniversary celebration on Sunday, October 5, instead of Friday, their anniversary date.

Open house will be held at the Johnson home from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, and all old friends of the family are especially invited to visit them at this time. Open house is held for all who desire to call on them, and these pioneers will be happy to receive you.

Prizes Of $61 Awarded In Pig Show Saturday

The junior hog show which was held on the city hall lawn in Munday last Saturday was very successful. There were some very good hogs shown, and people seemed to be well pleased with the show.

Sixty-one dollars in prize money was distributed for the first, second and third places in each division, as follows:

Senior sows—Garon Tidwell, first, $5; Jessie Smith, second, $3; L. C. Searcey, third, $2.

Junior barrows—Troy Lee Lowrance, first, $5; Lowrance also won second prize of $3.

Junior gilts—Jerrel Tidwell, first and second prizes of $5 and $3; Joe Bailey Roberts, third, $2.

Junior boars—Garon Tidwell, first and second prizes of $5 and $3; Joe Bailey Roberts, third, $2.

Each boy was given one dollar for each hog entered in the show, with a total of 23 hogs being entered.

The first and second place boars in the show are for sale. If you need some good young boars, see Garon Tidwell soon.

In addition to the prizes named above, the boys with the 4-H gilts (Sears Foundation pigs) received additional prizes.

The show was sponsored by the Senior Chamber of Commerce, and 4-H and F. F. A. leaders expressed their appreciation for the splendid cooperation given by the sponsoring organization.

Moguls To Open Conference Play At Throckmorton

Coach Billy Cloud's Moguls will journey to Throckmorton next Friday night to open their conference schedule with the Throckmorton Greyhounds.

Since this is an important game for both teams, a record crowd is expected to fill Throckmorton stands. Many Munday fans are expected to accompany the team to the host city.

The Moguls have been going through stiff workouts and scrimmages this week, under the direction of Coach Cloud, and they're expected to be in good shape for the game. They realize that Throckmorton has a strong team, and they'll not enter the play with over-confidence.

Throckmorton is in pretty much the same condition as Munday, in that they have a good first team but weak in the substitution department.

Fans are expecting to see one of the most interesting and exciting games of the season when the Moguls and Greyhounds match wits Friday night.

WIRE RECORDER WILL GET YOU IN A MESS

A new Webster wire recorder was being pranked with at Melvin Strickland's Tuesday. We saw the discs turning, but didn't see any apparatus for recording your voice.

Melvin got to talking to us, and we talked back, and finally got ourself into a big mess.

Directly Melton switched a button and reversed the discs, hooked a little wire up and started the discs to turning again. And out came our voice, plain as day, repeating everything we'd said.

That wire was not larger than a piece of thread—but it'll contain a lot of embarrassment if you're not careful of what you say.

Melvin says the thing's for sale. If you want to have a lot of fun, buy it and hide it away in your living room, then invite your neighbors in!

HOME FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Atkinson and daughter, Dixie, returned home the first of this week from a seven-weeks vacation trip to the northwest and into Canada. They also visited Washington, Oregon, and California while away and reported a very enjoyable trip.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Powell are proud parents of a son born last Friday morning, September 26 at the Knox County Hospital. John Earl, as the boy has been named, weighed 7 lbs. and 4 oz. Mother and little son are reported doing fine.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

October 5 to 12 has been designated as National Fire Prevention Week, and members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department are cooperating. A checkup of fire hazards is being planned, and every individual is asked to cooperate in reducing fire hazards in Munday.

The president's recent conference on fire prevention revealed the following problem:
The rising fire waste in this country with its tremendous sacrifice of life and destruction of property is a staggering national problem.

The loss of life resulting from such fires is appalling—with an estimated average of 10,000 deaths annually for the past 10 years.

The property loss has steadily increased since 1934, reaching a total of $561,487,000 in 1946, and it now appears that unless prompt action is taken to reduce this needless waste the figures for 1947 will be much greater. Actually the losses for the three months of 1947 approximate $193,862,000.

Even a nation as prodigiously endowed with natural resources and with the wealth and economic stability of the United States cannot continue to absorb, without permanent impairment, the prodigal loss year after year of a half-billion dollars in irreplaceable material resources. In an era such as the present, when there is a universal scarcity of nearly every commodity needed to feed, clothe and shelter not only our own people but the starving and war-torn world about as well, the destruction becomes not only more tragic but completely inexcusable.

ANOTHER SHORT FALL

Present indications, from pretty weather to fast gathering processes, are that Knox county will experience another short fall this season.

Dry, hot weather caused cotton to open prematurely, and the dry, warm and windy weather of the present is making it continue to open.

Crews of cotton pickers have come to the County to help the farmer gather his crops. Some of these crews are large enough to gather almost 20 bales per day, and it doesn't take them long to go over a large field of cotton.

All of which is good for the farmer, but not so good for the merchant who has goods on the counters that cotton harvest hands buy.

Fast gathering and pretty weather make for better grade and staple in the cotton, but it takes a few rainy days, and chilly ones, to cause the merchant to prosper by the influx of labor.

Which is best? We don't know.

FRANKENSTEIN, THE MONSTER

Many people in a democratic country have a tendency to scoff at the old battle cry to preserve the free institutions of a nation. This attitude waters the roots of despotism.

In an effort to shift individual responsibility to

WHAT THE CONSUMER WANTS

At various times polls have been made of consumer needs, desires and eccentricities. And the answers show why there is plenty of room for all kinds of stores, from independents to chains, and from gigantic department stores to little specialty shops.

One segment of the consuming public is primarily interested in price. It compares the prices of competing retailers and always goes where the most is offered for the money.

Another segment is interested in certain trademarked brands, and buys only in stores which carry those it favors.

Still another segment places service high on the list of its requirements. It wants delivery of goods to the home, the charge account privilege, a very liberal policy in exchanges, etc., and it is willing to pay the added costs that these and other services entail.

Under the free competitive system—which is the American system—there is a store to meet every kind and character of consumer commodity is stocked, and a long list of brands is offered. If one store can't meet some buyer's standards, another store down the street will. And every merchant who keeps up with the times will get his share of the business. American retailing is geared to serve the varying wishes of the 140,000,000 Americans who patronize it.

AN EXAMPLE OF "ECONOMY"

A great deal of publicity attended the recommendation of a House committee that proposed expenditures for government power projects be substantially reduced. Just what happened is illustrated by the following quotation from an article by John P. Callahan in the New York Times:

"Of nineteen Army Engineer Corps power projects, approved for construction at a cost of $93,831,000, at least five of them were granted more than the amount sought in the budget request. One of the largest is the flood control project at the Fort Randall reservoir in South Dakota. Here, a request was made for $6,500,000. The House recommended a cut of $1,000,000, which not only was not sustained in the Senate, but was increased to $9,000,000, or $2,500,000 more than originally sought by the War Department."

government, many ignore the principles by which freedom lives. H. W. Prentis, Jr., expressed that sentiment very clearly in a recent statement which said: "Whenever men have endeavored to transfer their economic responsibilities to the shoulders of other fallible men calling themselves government, they have eventually reared a Frankenstein monster that has turned and devoured their political, intellectual, and spiritual liberty."

The more a government controls its people through strangulation of individual opportunity, the more active becomes the monster of oppression.

On the general subject of relief for the war-stricken countries:

The war has been over for more than two years. They have soil and sunshine and manpower—the United States has no monopoly on these assets. It seems to me that we should taper off on relief and send such things as seed and plows, so they can go to work and shift for themselves.

The Book of Books says that men shall eat bread in the sweat of his brow—and those people should begin to eat their bread in the sweat of their own brows instead of in the sweat of the brows of the American taxpayers.

That, in essence, is what we understand the Marshall Plan to be.

Your columnist felt highly flattered when an invitation arrived to speak to a convention of several hundred physicians from 11 states in Galveston. And then I found out that they are psychiatrists—and I don't know now whether they want to hear me or study me.

But that does remind me of the time that I said something rude to a friend and was sorry the next moment and his retort made me sorer. He had served in the Army in World War I and he wrote a letter to a newspaper, complaining at the food in the training camp. The letter was published and the military authorities were going to discipline him. But somebody said, "Maybe he's crazy" so they held a hearing, found him to be sane and then sentenced him to k. p. duty for three weeks.

Well, several years later, he and I were having an argument and, though we were friends, the discussion got a little heated and he implied I was not very intelligent. I said, "At any rate, I never have been tried for lunacy." He said, "Well, I have the advantage of you—I never have been tried and was found to be sane."

And I couldn't think of a comeback to that.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh
"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements . . . but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us? . . . the chance to be close to our families and neighbors . . . children sharing in the chores . . . working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends . . . the companionship of man and wife, untroubled by distractions of the city . . . the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit, the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.

TIME TO FEED ALL THE TIME

Once upon a time, only a few years ago, most of our farms here produced only one or two classes of livestock. Feeding was necessary, in those days, only part of the time, usually in winter months.

Times have changed, though. Now, most farms have a balanced livestock program with beef and dairy cattle, sheep and hogs producing income the year 'round. It pays these farms to carry on a year 'round feeding program with a supply of Cottonseed Meal, Peanut, or Soybean Meal on hand to supplement home-grown grains, roughages and pastures.

Right now is a good time to "lay in" your protein concentrates to insure a supply every time you need the added profit that well-balanced rations bring.

YOU NO LONGER GET A 'LIGHT' BILL
IT'S A SERVICE BILL TODAY!
The old-fashioned "light" bill, like the surrey with the fringe on top, is a thing of the past. Electricity for lighting is only one of many items represented by your electric service bill. Today, in most homes, you're likely to find two or more electric appliances in every room—many homes have a score or more. That's why your electric service bill can no more rightly be called a "light" bill than a "refrigerator" bill.
The cost of a kilowatt hour of service to residential users has decreased one-third in the last 14 years.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says He's An Expert On Veto Power, Being Vetoed All Of His Life

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek claims he's an expert on the veto, only in reverse, as his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: Bein in the same boat with you and the editor of the Dallas News and not knowing too much about the true international situation or what the price of cotton is gonna be next week or how high the price index is or what an index is in the first place or what my wife will think of next, I ain't too sure if I know what I'm talkin about, which ain't particular disqualification for writin for a newspaper, but it seems to me, judgin by the papers I been pickin up out here on Miller Creek lately, that one trouble with the United Nations work is that about the time practically everybody agrees on somethin, Russia turns up with a veto and the meetin breaks out in a squabble.

Now I ain't no authority on no international veto, but if it's anything like the veto power I been subjected to out here all my life, it's an outrageous thing and I know what I'm talkin about.

In fact, as I view the matter, too many people has had too much veto power over me for years now, at the bank, at the grocery store, drygoods store, drug store, meat market, lumber yard, cotton yard, stock yard, in my own home, in fact, about the only time I can call to mind when I have some veto power myself is when I'm deciding whether to throw my Jersey steer one or two blocks of Johnson grass hay and when I'm decidin who to scratch on a ballot, with the results in both instances sometimes bein a Russia veto over me the rest of the time, and I would like the rest of the delegates to the United Nations meetin to know I sympathize with em. I don't know what to do with Russia anymore than Truman does, but I for one think we ought to take her veto power away. Russia ain't no better than me. It won't hurt her none, she just thinks it will. Look at me.

that they acquire of themselves are factors which operate to develop attitudes and behavior conducive to health, happy and successful living.

Schools alone however cannot enable children to attain all the desirable goals of individual and community health. Considering the magnitude and multitude of the diverse and continuing efforts that must be made to satisfy the health needs of children, it is fortunate that many people and groups, in addition to schools, are greatly interested in promoting health. Parents have a prime responsibility.

Physicians, dentists, nurses, health officers, social and welfare workers and their official organizations, such as medical, dental and nursing societies, health departments and voluntary health agencies are all rightly concerned with health activities in their communities.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Every school should have a definite school health program. Situations such as, the kind of drinking water, arrangements for the school lunch, the lighting, seating, ventilation and cleanliness of the schoolroom, and the personal practices of the teachers and children are the bases of the school health program, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Every school has tremendous opportunities to promote the health of its pupils and of its community. From early childhood to early manhood and womanhood, most children are enrolled in schools and are under the supervision of school staffs for a substantial part of the day for approximately half of the days of the year. The conditions under which they live in school, the help which they are given in solving their health problems, the ideals of individual and community health which they are taught and the information and understanding

Feed The Land; Fatten The Crops

College Station—"Feed the land and fatten the crops." That's a slogan that E. A. Miller, Extension agronomist of Texas A. and M. College, would like to see in operation on every farm in Texas.

Winter legumes can be planted, says Miller, as soon as there is enough moisture in the soil to work it.

Legume seed that has been inoculated has produced the best crop of green manure, Miller says. Proper seed inoculation is a necessary phase of legume-growing, if the producer wants to get the most benefit from his winter crop.

Fertilization is just as necessary, says the agronomist, in areas where soils and rainfall will make good use of the fertilizer. On the better types of Texas soils Miller recommends 200 to 400 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate per acre, or its equivalent, while on light, sandy soils and old fields, it will take 300 to 400 pounds 0-14-7 commercial fertilizer per acre to get the job done. In the timbered section of East Texas, the 0-14-7 application is especially important.

To give farmers an idea of what they can expect in the way of increased yields through planting winter legumes, Miller quotes some results chalked up by Texas A. and M. College Agricultural Experiment Stations. Fertilized and inoculated hairy vetch increased the yield of cotton more than 100 pounds per acre on sandy land at experiment substations at Nacogdoches and Tyler. At the Temple Experiment Substation, cotton following hubam sweet clover which was harvested for seed and then turned under, made a five-year average of 315 pounds of lint, compared with 165 pounds on land where cotton was grown continuously without clovers. Losses from cotton root rot were also reduced greatly by the clover.

Miller labels winter legumes growing one of the biggest steps in the current Seven Step Cotton Program which thousands of farmers are carrying on in Texas. The Seven Step program, a balanced cotton farming plan, includes "soil improvement", and inoculated, fertilized legumes, turned under preceding cash crops, is a money-making soil improvement step.

The agronomist is urging Texas farmers to obtain their legume seed, fertilizer and inoculant and be ready for legume planting when soil moisture permits.

The "Camel" Method
By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

ONCE THE CAMEL gets his head into the tent, he soon has his entire body inside. This old saw lends itself to some modern applications, but it fits none better than the current English situation. Socialism is indeed like the camel; it does not stop at part-of-the-way measures. To put it into a good old Southern expression, it's simply "whole hawg or nothin'."

A striking feature of the British "Crisis Bill" which recently became law in that country, was a clause giving government the authority to take possession of any industry which it might produce inefficiently managed. Actually, what this means is that no industry in England is safe from government confiscation. The threat will always be present, for the excuse of "inefficiency" could be trumped up at any time.

Invading FOR FIVE YEARS I The Tent have contended, in this column and in public addresses, that no country could operate successfully with a "half-and-half" economy. If it's partly government managed and partly private enterprise, pretty soon Socialistic schemes end up to invade and take over. The present English government is proving my contention. It's the old "camel" process.

England is a country that long has been known for devotion to the freedom of individuals. Yet, within two years after she started her program of nationalizing major industries, it was found necessary to pass a law giving the government power to seize any industry it may choose on the ex-use of "inefficiency." There's a lot of leeway there. An industry might be inefficiently managed from the viewpoint of production, or even from the viewpoint of non-cooperation with the government.

Control ANOTHER striking feature of the Crisis Bill, as reported by Associated Press, was that it gave the government power to call both men and women where to work and what to do. This includes women from 18 to 40 years of age who have no children under 16, and men from 18 to 50 years of age. This loss of freedom of individuals has been unthought of heretofore in English speaking countries.

It is my earnest conviction that England avoided this conscription of her industry and her people just as long as possible. These steps must have been taken reluctantly, for she long has championed all the freedoms that we hold dear. There is only one conclusion to be drawn: these dangerous and drastic steps cannot be avoided under a government managed economy. Once the camel's head is in, there's no keeping him out of the tent.

Every free American must take this as warning. If we want freedom to work at the job we choose, where we choose, and to bargain for our wages—then we do not want a government managed economy. If we want the right to own property and to operate a business for what profit there is in it, then we must stay shy of government managed economy. The British experience tells the story.

JUST CRUMBS

NADINE BUTLER
 Why, great master minds from Sunset are asking, does the affirmative side of a debate always win?

Debates have been in full swing for the past week in the junior-senior English classes. Observations have been made by fellow students as to who possesses the most effective minds.

Merle Tackett showed a very good sense of humor the other day. (We hope that it was a sense of humor that tempted him to come up with such a remark) when we were debating on the question as to the supremacy of English literature which is American literature. Merle's remark was something of this character. "I think America literature surpasses English literature because we have funny books!"

I wonder how Shakespeare would feel, if he knew that his great tragedies were being compared with funny books of today?

SPORTS NEWS

by Billy Cammack
 The Sunset Eagles met the Goree Wildcats last Thursday night and the Wildcats went down to a score of 0 to nothing for the Sunset Eagles.

Randell Walling ran three of the Eagles' touchdowns and kicked four of the winning points.

Freeman ran three of the touchdowns also.

Both the Eagles and the Wildcats received ten yards in penalties.

Lots of sportmanship was shown by both teams.

This week the Eagles meet Margate at Knox City at eight p. m., and the public is urged to attend. This promises to be a very good game.

coming play, "The Campbells Are Coming"—they hope to present successfully this year.

In English we are studying the political and economic background of American literature. Our source is, "The Epic of America" by James T. Adams. We find it hard to believe that a man named Sam Adams manipulated, operated and perpetrated the American Revolution almost against the will of the people by adroit use of propaganda.

JUNIOR NEWS

Virginia, our former reporter is getting married to Vernon Teaff. We all wish you and your husband happiness, Virginia.

The ring man came last week to see the seniors. Mr. McLeary told us that we might order class lockets or pins, so after much disturbance and a great deal of cogitating, we came to this agreement, that the boys are to get pins and the girls lockets. Everyone seemed satisfied with this idea. We are expecting our order back sometime in November.

Some one made the remark that they heard the Juniors got rich Saturday. This statement is and is not true. If any of you happened out onto the City Hall lawn Saturday afternoon, I'm sure you would have seen several large rummage sales. In the center of the large ones was a very small one. That was us. We didn't quite get rich last week-end, but with the help of next Saturday's business we plan to become very wealthy.

In English we are keeping diaries. Mrs. Partridge is supposed to be the only one to read them. No doubt she will probably find them all very amusing and shocking. Samuel Pepys of 17th Century England is our model.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

In English we are all enjoying the study of "Improving Your Personality". We are all hoping that we carry out all that we have learned.

Our layette is coming along nicely in Home Economics. We are enjoying making these tiny garments.

We are all proud of our new pep squad suits. They are green sunburst pleated skirts with white all-wool sweaters.

We are very sorry to give up one of our friends, Virginia Butler, who is getting married.

Our class is beginning to work to bring in money for the queen. We intend to work vigorously and see how much we can make and put our queen on top.

Loyce Reddell became accustomed to the old school routine quickly. As soon as she is physically able she will join the pep squad.

She is recovering from an appendicitis operation.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

WHY NOT MORE HORSEBACK RIDING?

Riding good horses furnishes healthful recreation suited to all ages and both sexes of mankind.

Some keen observer who rode hundreds of years ago said, "The outside of a horse is good for the inside of a man." This is true today, as it was then; furthermore, the desires, vigor and virility of youth remain high throughout life with those who ride regularly on good horses.

"All men would live long but none would grow old," sums up men's universal desire.

Physicians who rode horseback enough to know are agreed that regular horseback riding surpasses all other forms of exercise in extending life with a minimum of "the ailments flesh is heir to in old age."

Give a man a horse he can ride and he'll feel as cocky as one with the latest type of motor car.

Since the horse has been large enough to carry a human, he has contributed greatly to the entertainment of man. All too frequently, he has given his all—his life—in it.

From the days when he carried bold knights before their ladies, racing and chariot racing to be first across the goal line, and down to the present day with the silks and the satins of the National Horse Show, polo, and big time racing, he has more than held his own in sports and hearts of men.

Children benefit from horseback riding. The small child, with a pony suited to his size, learns to manage the pony alone, thus acquiring self confidence and resourcefulness. As he or she learns to ride alone, courage grows as ability to stay on at a walk, trot, or canter develops.

Furthermore, adequate riding on spirited horses—when the youngster has developed far enough to be able to handle them—trains the boy or girl to be quick and on the alert; far when a spirited horse, startled, swerves or reverses direction, the young rider must perceive and act in a fraction of a second. This trains the youngster to be quick and decisive. All these valuable attributes acquired by boys and girls who ride regularly, are valuable to them in their every day pursuits and relationships with the people with whom they must work while making a living.

All children coming up should learn to ride horseback, because horseback riding is one of the greatest sports in the world for youngsters. It teaches them control, poise, and steadfastness. In training horses, they exercise patience, control, and perseverance, while he is inculcating them in the horse.

Why, then, with all these advantages to young and old, do we not have more riding? The answer is a definite one: It is because we do not have enough riding trails and bridle paths available at hand for the many who

Uncle Sam Says

Small business firms can take a wise tip from many of their customers who have built a reserve nest egg of Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan for buying Savings Bonds. The Bond-A-Month Plan at local banks where the butcher maintain checking accounts is equally effective in providing a growing reserve for a business. For example, suppose you own a business which nets a $1,000 a month. By investing $200 a month in Savings Bonds through your bank's Bond-A-Month Plan you would have a $2400 reserve in one year's time.

I have made investigation already, with some surveys about town and out to the parks and the connecting links necessary to reach the open country, my ranch for instance.

Right here I wish to assure you that I am ready to help every man interested in horseback riding to organize a strong local association, including riders both in town and in the country areas nearby.

If all those here interested in developing recreation suitable for all, and if you will center your attention on one thing—having each association so formed, center its entire efforts on getting good bridle paths and riding trails. You will do more to increase horseback riding and to increase the demand for good horses, with consequent increase in horse shows and all that go with them, than you can in any other way.

I believe if we build adequate, safe trails, convenient to people who should ride, we will find that they will ride, what would be nicer than riding horseback through a drill like the old Virginia Reel or some of the square dances?

So, you men, why not more horseback riding? Let's get our riding clothes on, and meet sometime in the very near future.

Very respectfully yours,
A. A. Smith

According to law, a cooperative marketing or buying association may be formed by five or more persons engaged in the production of agricultural products.

Admiral Nimitz Coming To Dallas On Veterans Day

Dallas—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, often called the greatest Texan since Sam Houston, will come to Dallas October 14 to lead Texas veterans of all wars in a rededication to the principles of American Freedom.

The occasion will be "All Veterans' Day" at the State Fair of Texas when for the first time in the history of the state tribute will be paid to veterans of all wars in all branches of the service.

More than 200,000 veterans and their families are expected to take part in the day's activities. R. L. Thornton, president of the Fair, announced. Among the many service groups participating will be the American Legion, Spanish-American War Veterans, Reserve Officers Association, Air Forces Association, Air Reserve Association Veterans of Foreign Wars and numerous others.

Admiral Nimitz, whose brilliant naval career took him from the Hill Country of Texas to become commander of the Pacific Fleet and conqueror of the Japanese navies, is now Chief of Naval Operations, one of the highest military titles which his country can bestow. He will fly from Washington to Dallas in his own plane to participate in the day's activities and to address a crowd of more than 50,000 the night of October 14, in the Cotton Bowl.

Admiral Nimitz has been called the foremost symbol of America's naval power, and in tribute to his valor Texans already have enshrined his among their heroes. A bronze bust of the Five-Star Texas Admiral now sits in the Hall of State at the State Fair of Texas alongside such other great Texans as Sam Houston, William Barrett Travis, Stephen F. Austin and Mirabeau B. Lamar.

In addition to featured speakers and entertainers, special exhibits are being set up, bands from all over the state are being invited to take part in the show which will be climaxed with a magnificent night exposition in Texas' famous Cotton Bowl.

"This will be the veteran's own day at the Fair and we are doing everything possible to make his visit enjoyable", Mr. Thornton said. "The public address system network which covers the grounds will be at the disposal of those veterans seeking to locate their buddies, and special meeting places are being arranged for the various military organizations which are planning to assemble at the Fair."

Every day in the United States, 100 farm fires take the lives of ten farmers.

Veterans' News

Approximately 30,000 veterans of World War II who suffered hearing impairments in service are eligible for a special program of medical rehabilitation that the Veterans Administration has established to help them overcome their handicap.

Eligible veterans may take advantage of this program whether they require medical attention to improve their hearing or whether they need rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of a permanent hearing impairment.

The complete rehabilitation course includes a series of hearing and speech tests, the selection and fitting of a hearing aid if indicated, auditory training, lip reading instruction and speech correction if necessary.

Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge is one of 26 institutions throughout the nation with which the Veterans Administration has contracts to provide this service for veterans.

Opportunities for careers in forestry are described in a "Handbook of Information on Entering Positions in Forestry" which has been distributed to all Veterans Administration vocational advisors.

Published by the Society of American Foresters in Washington, D. C., the booklet contains descriptions in forestry, duties, working conditions, salaries, requirements for entry and methods of applying for jobs.

The handbook also lists agencies, both private and Government which employ foresters and persons in related occupations. Veterans desiring to train for forestry positions under the G. I. Bill were cautioned that the field is limited and possibly might become over-crowded.

Approximately 104,000 World War II veterans are learning to become skilled mechanics and repair men under the job-training provisions of the G. I. Bill, VA reported. Of some 600,000 veterans taking on-the-job training, mechanics led the list followed by salesmen and retail management with 80,000 veterans trainees.

AS DEALER FOR THE JEFFROY "SOIL CONTROL CULTIVATOR" IN

Knox County

The Jeffroy "Soil Control Cultivator" is so designed that it will perform practically all the work required on a well operated farm. Its chisel-type cultivator combats soil erosion by wind and water. It conserves moisture as and where it falls. The Soil Control Cultivator does not pulverize the ground, but cultivates Nature's way by breaking up the topsoil and opening the way for moisture to go into the subsoil for storage. The Soil Control Cultivator is ideal for breaking stubble land after harvest, maintaining summer fallow ground, or, with sweeps, for killing vegetation.

The chisel opens the way for moisture to go into the subsoil for storage.

Moisture penetrates farther, does not run off. Stubble and trash are worked into topsoil for more effective fertilization of the land.

Disc-type cultivation leaves a smooth surface that quickly seals and causes water runoff.

Man-Made Frost To Speed Harvest In Cotton Belt

Memphis, Tenn.—Man-made frost will speed the harvest in many parts of the Cotton Belt this fall by nipping leaves from cotton plants and exposing the ripening bolls to the sun.

The "Frost" is calcium cyanamid, a heavy chemical powder which causes leaves to drop from plants much as real frost does. Stripping the leaves away exposes the cotton bolls to human pickers, and removes much leafy trash which otherwise would lower the grade in mechanical harvesting.

Calcium cyanamid helps control cotton insects by destroying one of their late season sources of food. Exposure of the bolls also reduces boll rot.

Moisture apparently is an essential to use as the defoliant, which has proved more effective on days when dew was expected. The powder apparently affects the growth hormones of the plant, causing a hard cellular layer to form across the base of the leaf stem.

The leaf drops off at the point where this layer forms. First evidences of the effect of the defoliant may be noticed in 48 hours.

Consultation with county agents or other trained agricultural workers is urged before use of calcium cyanamid. The compound has an irritating effect upon the skin eyes and respiratory tract, and must not be handled by anyone not acquainted with the necessary precautions to take during exposure to the chemical.

We Live In A Mighty Fine Area

"We still live in a mighty fine country."

That's the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts of Wichita Falls, who with Mr. and Mrs. Sam A.S. Roberts of Haskell, have just returned from a five-weeks tour of Washington, Oregon, California and other states.

The vacationers had relatives at most points where stops were made, so the trip was really more than a vacation. They got in some hunting and fishing, too.

California has a good Chamber of Commerce, they said, and if you expressed surprise or discomfort in the weather the natives would always remark that it's very unusual.

It was mighty fine to get back to Texas, where things sorta grow natural like, as they didn't seem to put much stock in irrigation methods of transforming a desert in producing areas.

The Roberts traveled about 6,000 miles on the trip, and they were enthusiastic in their belief that this section of Texas is better than anywhere they'd been.

Poultry And Egg Shipments Increase

Austin—A monthly gain in interstate chicken shipments was the main bright spot in the poultry and egg situation in Texas during August, The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Total shipments of chickens plunged 65 per cent below August 1946 shipments despite the 18 per cent July-to-August hike. Turkey shipments dropped 36 per cent for the month and shipments of eggs slid downward 32 per cent.

Interstate shipments were light in August. No chicken loadings were recorded, 1 carload of turkeys went out, and egg shipments dropped to 4 carloads.

Interstate shipments accounted for the hike in chicken shipments, turkey loadings sagged 44 per cent, and egg shipments logged up an 11 per cent July-to-August jump in spite of the 44 per cent drop below the August 1946 mark. Fire Prevention Week, proclaimed by President Truman, will be observed October 5-11 this year.
