Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

Ever try to work an old balky horse? It's a highlight in one's life, especially when you're a kid and an interested bystander at the event.

Pop used to raise horses and mules, mainly to always have enough to pull all the plows necessary to make a crop and keep a crop of boys out of meanness by giving them good field labor to do.

He used to trade horses some, too, and nearly always took a good cheating in the deal. Mom declares that's what made him turn grey-headed so early in life, worrying over how bad someone had cheated him in a horse trade.

One Saturday evening, the older brother came in from town, riding an old iron-grey horse that was wild-eyed and snorty but not especially dangerous. After several days he got wilder and wilder, and we figured the horse trader had sorta doctored old grey up before he got hold of Pop.

Some time elapsed before it was decided to see how old grey would perform at the wagon. Pop solicited a neighbor's mule, old Tobe, that was a veteran at breaking brones—and all the young'uns roundabout were on hand to see the performance.

The gray stepped over the wagon tongue like a veteran, but as they started to hook up the neck-yolk, Old Tobe gave the gray a mean look, backed his ears, and gave a rather determined kick with his right hind foot. Our Neighbor opined that Tobe knew his brones, and we had an outlow on our hands.

Our neighbor was right! Old grey reared and snorted, and bucked, and ran, but Tobe kept him pretty well in check. Soon the old grey stopped, and wouldn't budge another budge.

Finally he got tired and laid down, right out in the middle of the field. All the coaxing, and talking, and persuading, etc., wouldn't get him to do more than lay there and groan.

He was whipped, punched with sticks, beat over the ears. Everything was done except build a fire under him, but the grey would lay there and groan the most mournful groans.

Everybody gave up but the grey, so he was unhitched and turned out to pasture, and another animal was put into service to help Tobe bring in the wagon.

Grey was really a white elephant. He wouldn't work at anything, and wouldn't ride very well either. Pop's conscience works against wishing him off on anyone else, but we had another neighbor whose conscience didn't serve as such an accurate guide.

This neighbor talked Pop into letting him do a little horse-swapping with the grey. So into town we goes, the neighbor, all the young'uns and Pop, and old grey trailing along behind the wagon. It was the first Monday, which was trade's day in town.

We drives up to the hitching post. No one was paying much attention to our arrival, so our neighbor takes the harness off one of the mules, puts it on the grey and ties him to the wagon wheel, then goes out to the watering trough where the horse traders are congregating.

Soon he finds a victim and begins to talk trade. The trader wants to see the horse, so we goes out to where grey is tied up, all sweaty from the trip to town, and with the harness on.

"I'll bet he's a regular outlow," says the trader, and in rebuttal our neighbor says he's a darn good work horse.

Pop didn't hear the remark. Pop had gone elsewhere. He wouldn't have lied for the best horse in Hall county, and he wasn't going to listen to the neighbor tell one about old grey.

The trade was made, and we got

Tour Of Calf Feeders Planned For Saturday

Knox County's annual 4-H Calf Feeders Tour will begin Saturday, November 1st, at 12:30 p. m. from the court house at Benjamin.

This tour promises to be one of the best in years, since there are seventeen calf feeders, a total of twenty three calves that were purchased early and are now beginning to show promise of being very good calves. The calves now weigh from 380 pounds for a new calf to around 1000 pounds for the oldest, longer fed calves. J. G. Pults, of Benjamin, has the smallest calf and Max Bradley, of Brock, has the largest.

The past month has been a very good grain period for these animals; since it has been neither too hot or too cold.

The feeders, breeders, ranchers and all interested in 4-H work and the improvement of livestock are invited to join the tour beginning at Benjamin, by Rhineland, through Sunset, by Knox City to Union Grove and ending at Brock. All calf feeders attending the tour will score the other calf feeders on the score card which counts as follows:

The calf itself ----- 45 points
Feeding equipment ---- 20 points
Water & equipment ----- 15 points
Feed lot ----- 10 points
Mineral & box ----- 5 points
Parasites & Disease Control ----- 5 points

Calf feeders and calves to be visited include the following: J. G. and Donald Pults, George Ray Baty and Tommy Shaw, Don and Dale Jackson, Buddy and Fred Lewis Crenshaw, Billy Cammack, Randall and Dennis Walling, Gerald Myers, Charles Williams, Merle Tackett, H. C. Chafin, Tom Bush Craft and Max Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler moved from Goree to Arizona over a year ago, and he became ill soon after making the move. He received treatment at a hospital for some time, but had greatly improved and had been at his home for some time before his death.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Leon and Jack Fowler; a daughter, Mrs. Tommy Mattern, and several grandchildren.

Firemen Prevent Disastrous Fire Tuesday Night

Quick action on the part of Munday firemen, coupled with a knowledge of what to do in such an emergency, probably prevented a disastrous fire here Tuesday night.

A damaged truck tank of the Griffith Oil Co. allowed around 500 gallons of high octane gasoline to escape, flooding the street just west of the firm. Fire could have easily been started, but for the quick action of firemen.

They quickly and quietly went to the scene and stationed guards to keep people away, went to work with the fire truck and wagger hose, scattering the gasoline with water until danger of its being ignited was brought to a minimum.

Chief Ed Johnson and members of the fire department are to be highly commended for this good work.

Moguls Play Pied Pipers On Friday Night

Hard workouts are on the program for the Munday Moguls this week, as they make preparations to journey to Hamlin Friday night for the annual conference tilt with the Hamlin Pied Pipers.

The Pipers have a rather strong team this year, and have been winning a number of conference games.

After there 19-14 defeat at the hands of Stamford, the Moguls will be fighting hard to add another win to their side of the ledger. The Mogul-Piper game is always a classic of the football season, and many local fans are expected to accompany the team to this game.

Bobbie Haymes of Dallas and Peggy and Butch Morton of Irving visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes last week end.

Uncle Sam Says

Your Uncle Sam is indebted to a newspaper editor for pointing out one of the most vital qualities of United States Savings Bonds. Under the caption INDESTRUCTIBLE BONDS, this editorial declares: "A resident of the suburbs reported the disappearance of $12,000 in cash and $7,000 in United States Savings Bonds from his home. If he should never see the cash or bonds again, he would be out $19,000. For the bonds will be of no value to the thief, and on application will be returned to the owner. The misfortune that befell the suburbanite is a timely reminder that surplus cash can be put to work with security, and with assured availability to the owner in time of need, by using it for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds."

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY AWARDED NAVY CITATION—A citation signed by James Forrestal, as Secretary of the Navy, is presented to Price Campbell, president West Texas Utilities Company, by Commander G. E. Talbott, USNR, in recognition of services rendered the Naval Reserve Program during 1947. Commander Talbott, Naval Reserve Field Administrator, in presenting the citation, pointed out that the operation of the Naval Reserve in this territory is being materially aided by the cooperation of such institutions as the West Texas Utilities Company. Mr. Campbell, in accepting the citation, reaffirmed the principle that the facilities of the West Texas Utilities Company are dedicated to the public's service.

Conference Of Agents Is Held At Wichita Falls

W. S. Allen, Extension Housing Specialist, assisted by Tyrus Timm, Economist, Bernice Claytor, Home Management Specialist and B. Bradford, Concrete Specialist, brought to all Extension Agents of District III in a conference at Wichita Falls last Thursday and Friday, the latest information on Farm Homes, electrical wiring, building materials and sewerage disposal.

Mr. Allen and Mr. Timm brought out the fact that higher prices are being received now for agricultural products than ever before. They stated that, if you need a home, now is as good a time as ever to build. Each felt that farm prices would remain on a high level for the next four years.

The Extension Service is now assembling a large number of Farm Home blueprints available to farm families. Also blueprints of farm sewerage disposal systems, since many farm families now have running water, are being widely distributed. Information on these subjects may be obtained through J. M. Carpenter, County Agricultural Agent, or Eugenia Butler, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Depot Agent At Goree Is Struck By Lightning Oct. 24

E. V. Shackelford, depot agent at Goree, suffered a severe shock on October 24 when he was struck by lightning during an electrical storm. The bolt struck the depot and traveled down an electric light wire under which Mr. Shackelford was sitting.

It was thought at first that he was paralyzed by the shock. He was rushed to a Wichita Falls hospital, where he remained until Monday evening, when he was able to return home. He is reported to be doing nicely, but will not be able to resume his duties at the depot for several days.

On the same day that he was stricken, a daughter was born to his daughter, Mrs. Joe Jones of Merton. She will be remembered as Louise Shackelford.

Norman Child Electrocuted On Friday Night

Funeral services for Richard Van Norman of Munday, who was electrocuted sometime Friday evening, were conducted last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock from the Mahan Funeral Home. Rev. D. L. Handley of the Primitive Baptist church of Lockney officiated.

The boy, who had been living with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Norman, was the object of widespread search Friday night when he failed to return home after leaving to pick up his bicycle which was being repaired. His grandparents didn't become alarmed until he failed to return home after the football game. Officers were then notified and the search began.

His body was found at 9:30 a. m., Saturday wedged between the Strickland Radio Shop and the Strickland Garage. A short in electric motor had charged the pipe, and it is believed the boy was attempting to go between the building when he came in contact with the charged pipe which served as an air line.

Surviving him are his father, J. S. Norman of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Estella Norman of Little Rock, Ark.; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Norman, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Vandiver of Malvern, Ark.

Burial was in the Johnson cemetery by the Mahan Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Dallas, Grady, Horace and Leonard Norman, ones of the deceased, and Lewis Richards and Jimmy Ritchie.

THE INDUSTRIES TEXAS NEEDS

The long and unnecessary journeys which Texas raw materials take from their places of origin to the consumer, were discussed Monday by Governor Jester, speaking at the conference of southern governors at Asheville, North Carolina. He spoke particularly of wool, which Texas produces in large quantities, but which must travel to scouring plants, mostly in New England, before it can be processed into fabrics. Comparable conditions prevail as to the raw products of most of the states whose governors were present, and they are a form of economic carping that deserves correction. Wool is just one product that must travel far. Hides are another, and there are still others. Texas has every facility that the intermediate processing plants require—cheap fuel for power, water, labor, transportation—but it has been unable to develop them to put an end to the exploitation which it suffers.

One of the primary needs of industry, cheap fuel, is now available in Texas. It will not continue to be available, however, if Texas does not do something to stop the exportation of it to distant states. This state is, in effect, subsidizing the establishment of industries far away, by making its cheap fuel so readily available to them.

The governor sounded a note at Asheville that needs to be echoed and emphasized here in Texas and throughout the South—Wichita Falls Daily Times.

WRECKERS AT WORK

There is a well organized plan to overthrow the free enterprise system in this country, J. C. Penney, head of the J. C. Penney Stores, said on a recent speaking tour in the West on behalf of the Laymen's Movement for a Christian World.

Mr. Penney is a philanthropist of the practical school in which politics plays no part. He warned against government encroachments on private business, and pointed out that the Wagner-Murray-Dingle medical plan is but "Another Utopian scheme of the unbridled bureaucrats to delude American people into thinking they can get something for nothing."

As a cure for government and economic problems of the present, he said we should strive to follow God's laws concerning human relations with the same care scientists follow His laws concerning the universe.

The people of the United States raised their standard of living through hard work, the same as Mr. Penney, a country storekeeper, developed a great business, and not through the benevolence of government. Those who are watching the present day scene are well aware of the fact that organized efforts are now being exerted to undermine confidence in our private enterprise system which has given every citizen in the United States the maximum in opportunity, freedom and religious liberty. Our salvation rests in our own hands. Will we listen to false prophets or follow the teachings of our forefathers?

The Veterans Administration is appealing to veteran students and job-trainees, as well as to schools and job training establishments in which veterans are enrolled under the G I Bill, for assistance in preventing subsistence allowance overpayments.

The veterans and their training establishments are asked to notify VA immediately when trainees-veterans abandon their training programs. When veterans know in advance the definite date on which they will complete or discontinue their training, they should advise VA at that time instead of waiting until they actually stop their training.

Failure to notify VA of training discontinuances usually results in overpayments of subsistence allowances, VA said. Such overpayments must be refunded to the government.

A recent survey disclosed an average lapse of 23 days between the time the veteran stopped his training and the time VA was notified of his discontinuance. As a result, the veteran continued to receive subsistence allowance payments to which he was not entitled.

Immediate or advance notice of training discontinuances will assist VA materially in reducing the amount of overpayments. In many cases, such notices will eliminate overpayments and the necessity for refunds by veterans.

Veterans who fail to make arrangements to repay subsistence allowance overpayments may be prevented from re-entering schools or job-training courses under the GI Bill.

Veterans are not being forced to turn back full amounts immediately. They need only make arrangements for monthly repayments that cause them no financial hardships and thus become qualified to resume training.

The Veterans Administration now is the custodian of more than 53,000,000 Army chest X-Ray films of World War II veterans, which it will use in its long-range anti-tuberculosis program.

VA records show that about 23,000 veterans of World War II are drawing compensation for tuberculosis contracted in the service. Included in the state figures are Texas 817, Louisiana 390 and Mississippi 332.

A. The law provides that a pension for non-service-connected disability may be payable to permanently and totally disabled World War veterans. The law does not provide such a pension for peacetime veterans.

Q. May I change the beneficiary of my insurance policy by a last will or testament?

Q. I am in receipt of peacetime benefits for disability incurred prior to December 7, 1941. Why am I not entitled to wartime benefits for this period?

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims He Knows Exactly When All These High Prices Are Coming Down

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has some ideas on inflation, but we'll let you be the judge of how sound they are.

Dear editor:
With a hint of winter comin on out here Monday I was out in the woods sizin up the fire wood situation, just in case it does get cold, as a man ought to think a head and locate the wood that's already on the ground and about the right length for his stove, lest he get caught in a norther and be forced to resort to usin his ax or pullin up his front porch, when I noticed a copy of The Dallas paper blown against a bobwire fence and since I figured it wasn't gonna get cold right now anyway and there ain't no use bein in too big a hurry I gave up my wood hunt and set down and read where President Truman had called a special session of Congress to see what can be done about high prices.

J. A.

As I understand it, everything costs twice as much as it used to but very few people is havin twice as much fun and Congress ought to do somethin about it. Also, it don't seem like anybody knows what the trouble is. There ain't nobody who knows what's causin prices to be so high. That is, the manufacturer blames it on labor, labor blames it on the retailer, the retailer blames it on the wholesaler, the wholesaler blames it on the manufacturer, which is where me and Congress come in and there ain't nothin left much to do but start another Freedom Train or hunt for Communism in a movie close-up and hope for the best.

Now I ain't puttin myself up against Congress and the experts, all I know about inflation is that I ain't no better off under it than I was before, in fact I ain't been no better off since I can remember, don't make no difference what economic situation the experts claimed we was livin under or who was President or County Judge, but I been studyin the present high-price situation and it's my opinion that prices is gonna stay high just as long as people has any money or credit left. For example, the sort of philosopher which the country is subscribin to now is about the same one I got out here; if I take my prime Jersey steer to town to sell I ain't got no fixed price for him, what I want for him is all I can get, without no reference to what it cost to produce him and the more the better. I ain't so smart, but I got a idea the same policy is prevailin in a lot of lines. It used to be the idea was to produce somethin as cheap as you could, but now it don't make no difference, just get it made, at least where it will hold together a while, and it'll sell and the next one will sell too just as long as there is a lot of people around with money to spend.

If the country would follow my lead and get rid of its money, we'd get rid of high prices. What else we'd get rid of in the process, I ain't sure.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Winter Grains Come In Handy For Grazing

College Station—It's going to take plenty of winter and spring grazing to fall in line with the government program of saving feed grain.

E. A. Miller, Extension agronomist of Texas A. and M. College, offers a few pointers on planting winter grain crops. He says that as soon as there is enough moisture in the ground, forage crops can go into the soil. If the land is not too hard, it's safe to go ahead and plant even in dry soil. The seed will germinate when it finally rains.

Grain planted for grazing can be planted a lot thicker to provide more forage. Oats, wheat, barley, rye and Italian rye grass are good winter grazing crops. A mixture of oats, wheat and barley makes a good combination for grazing when no harvesting is planned. In this mixture, barley provides more grazing in the fall and early winter, while the oats and wheat will usually offer good grazing in the spring. Rye, especially abuzzi and balbo are good crops on the sandy soils of East Texas and the West Timbers area.

Vetch or other winter legumes can be planted with grain to improve the grazing. Over a large area of Texas, hairy vetch is planted with rye or other grain crops for seed production and soil improvement as well as grazing.

In the southern half of Texas, when enough moisture is in the soil, hubam and annual yellow blossom sweet clover are first-rate crops, good for grazing, seed and soil improvement.

Mr. Miller says that winter and spring grazing not only will help to save badly needed grain, but will also cut down on the cost of livestock production.

SHORTER GRAZING

CALLS FOR CONCENTRATES

Your grass may look as tall as ever this month—but hot summer weather reduces the protein content of grass, and it's likely to be much "shorter" in feeding value.

More protein in your dairy mixture is needed to make up the protein loss in grazing. Feed enough protein Meal to maintain milk production during summer months—more protein means more production and more profit.

Last time we saw old balky grey was on another trip to town some weeks later.

We met him, hitched to a wagon. A big chain was around his neck, and a lead team was hitched to the chain.

Grey had been trying his old tricks again. It was evident that when he laid down the other team went into action. He had been dragged and all the hair and part of the hide was rubbed off his laying down side.

He was trotting along, all sweaty and grimy, and quite unhappy. He was learning from bitter experience that life ain't always a bowl of cherries.

RULE BOOK FOR CIVILIZATION

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Secrory, Arkansas

LIKE THOUSANDS of other Americans in 1941 I bought a new car. I got an Oldsmobile. I am still using the car and getting good service out of it, and I believe I know why. A book of instructions came with it, and because I believed the people who made the car could tell me a great deal about how to run it, I studied that book carefully. I got excellent service from the automobile throughout the entire war, and am still using it.

I believe that happened because I followed the instructions of those who made the Oldsmobile. Doing that, I could expect to get good service. The whole idea seemed like good logic to me. May I submit an application for this home-made parable? If this principle works with automobiles, it should have some merit when applied to things larger and more important. Will you follow me in this application?

Handbook THE BIBLE is the For Mortals book of instructions from the Creator who made the world and the fullness thereof. It is the book containing the laws, rules, and advice that we mortals should read and study in order that we may know how to proceed. It is the instruction book on how to operate that part of the Creator's handiwork with which we are involved. Careful study of this instruction book will bring great dividends.

I am glad to live in a land where a National Bible Week finds enthusiastic support. This year October 29 to 26 has been so designated. Did you know that twelve of the thirteen little colonies planted along the Atlantic seaboard were founded by people who came to America seeking religious freedom? Their lives were guided and dominated by the Bible. But perhaps even they did not visualize the kind of America to come — the America to come because of what they did.

Bill of FREEDOMS LATER, when our Constitution was framed, the men who wrote it were men who believed the Bible and who looked upon it as God's "instruction book." These men desired to maintain for their descendants and for posterity, the kind of individual freedom which they believed the Creator had decreed for every individual. To them, that was one of the instruction rules out of the book.

That Constitution, when adopted and amended in 1789, carried with it the greatest bill of individual freedoms that any nation has ever enjoyed. Under these freedoms, America developed the greatest measure of well-being and prosperity that any segment of mankind has ever developed on this earth. It may be said, without any doubt, that the freedoms and liberties which brought our prosperity grew directly from the religious foundation laid by our forefathers.

I am glad to feel that we Americans are so dedicated to the basic concepts of law and practice as they are found in the Bible. If we will look to God's instruction book for guidance at all times in the future, making it our source book for living, then our future is secure. Only in that way may America preserve liberty and freedom — and even civilization, through the coming decades and centuries.

Benjamin P. T. A. Meets Tuesday

The Benjamin Parent Teachers Association met Tuesday afternoon, October 21, 1947. Plans were made in the meeting for the coming Halloween Carnival which will be held October 31, 1947. The P. T. A. also discussed the matter of buying more playground equipment for grade school.

A very interesting program was rendered with Mrs. Jack Idol as leader. Interesting talks were made on the subject of Human Relationships. Dr. D. C. Eiland gave the views of a doctor, Rev. B. F. Fall gave the views of a minister, and Mrs. J. D. Redwine gave the views of a homemaker. All who attended the meeting gained much help from these interesting talks.

The P. T. A. is now sponsoring a Community Fun Night which meets every two weeks in the school house. At the first Fun Night about 75 people attended.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Contrary to popular belief, rabies is more prevalent in winter than in the so-called "dog-days" of the hot summer months. In a statement released this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, it was disclosed that of all animal brains submitted for examination by the State Laboratory in January, 1947, 33 per cent listed positive for rabies, while in the mid-summer month of July only 18 per cent were positive.

"If all stray dogs were destroyed, and all pets vaccinated for rabies, it would go far toward stamping out this justly feared, and always fatal disease," Dr. Cox said.

The doctor stressed that dogs suspected of having rabies should not be killed immediately, but should instead be confined ten days for observation to see if the disease develops. If a dog sickens and dies during the observation period, the head should be packed in ice and sent to the State Health Department for examination. Freezing the brain, or killing the dog prematurely, or in such a manner as to injure the brain may make correct laboratory findings uncertain, if not impossible.

Dr. Cox declared that after a dog is confined ten days and then killed, there is still a safe margin of time for a victim of his bite to be treated for rabies prevention, but he cautioned that if the disease is found to be present in the dog, the victim should then begin treatment without further delay.

JUST CRUMBS

NADINE BUTLER
 Mr. Bledsoe's American History Class was stunned speechless Tuesday morning when he asked them the meaning of the noun "eulogy". The word appeared in the following; "This Washington did in a kindly manner by making the reprimand a eulogy, for he realized that Arnold had rendered great service to his country and had been falsely accused by his enemies". (This sentence was referring to the treason of Benedict Arnold.)

 Mr. Bledsoe very subtly reminded the seniors that they should possess the knowledge of this word, by their reading of Grey's "Elegy of a Country Grave Yard" last year in their study of English literature.
 The one thing that Mr. Bledsoe didn't know was that seniors have a way of forgetting everything that they imbibe the preceding year. Also another factor that possibly have led to revelation of the senior ignorance is that the two words in question were not the same as we thought. No wonder we didn't remember!

Even though this incident is treated here with a touch of humor and also reveals the lack of knowledge of a few high school students, all Americans should have a manifest idea of the meaning of the word "eulogy" and apply it whole-heartily to their way of life.

SIXTH & SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Our science table is an interesting place. We have a barometer, an electric magnet, and a telephone. Today the seventh grade went to the library and talked to the sixth grade across the hall using our telephone.

Sue went to Denton last week and saw the game between Denton and Stephen F. Austin College. Today is Jimmy Burl Morgan's birthday. He may not have another day after this day is over. Jonny Matthews was absent from school yesterday and Howard Thompson is absent today.

Barbara Jo Johnston went to Vernon Friday and bought some new dolls.

We have some new pupils today. In the seventh grade we have Lucile Henson from Waco, Texas, Ada Loyse and Vada Joyce Cantrell entered the sixth grade. They are from Munday.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS
 Betty Joan Johnson's grandfather, Mr. Johnson from McGregor, Texas, is visiting her.

Benny V. Bale's sister, Lorene, visited her yesterday, and her other sister, Marie, visited her Friday afternoon.

Nell Johnson visited aunts in Munday, Sunday afternoon.

Doloris Parker visited her aunt in Wichita Falls.

Nell Ruth Hamilton's cousin, Lucille Hamilton, is visiting her. Tommie Walling has a new football. (Like big brother, like little brother).

We are happy to have a new class mate join us this week. She is Edna McGregor.

FORTH GRADE
 Loyce and Joyce Voss's aunt, Gladys Voss from Abilene, is visiting them.

Loyce Stockton, Sue Voss's aunt is in the Knox City hospital. She has appendicitis.

Lavada Parker visited Shirley Lefevre Sunday morning.

Jo May Newbrough's uncle, Mr. McCombs from Santo, Texas is visiting her.

Glen Bruce went to Seymour, Texas Sunday on a picnic.

We are proud of our new pupil, Glen Chambers of Willsboro.

THIRD GRADE
 Patricia's brother, Wendell, came home this week end.

We are proud of our new pupil, Helen Louise McGregor.

Fannie Bell Ward is proud of her new doll.

Nancy Matthews visited her aunts, Willie and Ellie Johnson, who are having a birthday party. Luellon Parker went shopping in Wichita Falls Saturday.

FIRST & SECOND GRADE NEWS

We are proud of our new pupil, Mary Francis Chambers of Willsboro, Texas.

Jerry's father went to Forth Worth Saturday for a new pickup.

Raymond went to Munday Saturday and purchased a new coat and cap.

Glenna was ill Sunday. Joe Ann Booe visited with her grandmother Booe, of Munday, over the week end.

We are proud that Ernest is back in school after illness. Jerry has a new face for the carnival!

SENIOR NEWS

In senior English we are still reading novels with historical backgrounds. Such facts as the vital part the Erie Canal played in tying the West to the East, and what a life line the Mississippi was in the 1800's, are becoming permanent facts in our brains. History and biographies are easier to understand since we have this background so well pictured.

We have taken our English aptitude tests, and some are realizing how slim and frail our grammar prowess is. Spelling, sentence structure and punctuation are the three hurdles before us. In composition we are striving to think in terms of the abstract as well as the concrete. Emerson is almost too big a dose, however. He is so abstract that we can scarcely follow him in his essay on SELF RELIANCE.

JUNIOR NEWS
 Audrey Atchley was unable to be in school Tuesday, because of illness. The spirit of Halloween is in evidence in this class. Mischievous keeps cropping out like spooks on a stormy night.

We have been having a capital time working for our queen. Mr. Joe Myers and Mr. Claud Hill helped us out immeasurably Tuesday afternoon on the Munday square. A number of the junior class, Patsy Matthews, made the highest grade on our English aptitude test given to all the high school. Carlyne Jones made second highest.

SOPHOMORE NEWS
 We Sophomores are slightly proud of ourselves for the job we did preparing pumpkins for the carnival. We painted pie mellons with orange show card paint and made grotesque faces on each one.

Home Ec girls started on their dresses, and we hope to have them finished in a very short time.

The Pep Squad is working very hard for the crowning of the foot ball queen.

FRESHMAN NEWS
 Andrellita Gonzalez spent this last Sunday at her sister's house. Her sister was married in the Catholic church, Sunday.

We have finished reading the Vision of Sir Launfal in English. We liked very much the way James Russell Lowell tells what the Holy Grail really is, and the way Christ was revealed to Sir Launfal through the leper. Some of the very best lines of the selection, we memorized.

Stamford Takes 19-14 Victory From Moguls

In a thrilling fourth quarter, the Munday Moguls scored twice against Stamford last Friday night to cut down what appeared to be a smashing defeat to the slight margin of five points. Stamford's Bulldogs had smashed to a 19-0 victory when the Moguls came to life in the fourth to chalk up two touchdowns and 14 points, making the final score 19-14.

Billington, Stamford quarter, trapped center for the final four yards for the Bulldog's first score in the opening period. This climaxed a 40-yard drive.

In the second period, Thomas Henson, left half, split the line for three yards to wind up an 80-yard drive by the winners. Stamford converted to lead 13-0 at halftime.

Billington returned a punt 40 yards near the end of the third quarter to place the ball on Munday's three yard line. On the first of the last quarter, Hinson plowed over the line to score, and the Moguls were trailing 19-0.

The locals then came to life, making their first counter when Clifton Swain skirted around right end, broke into the clear and dashed 40 yards to cross the goal stripe, thus ending a 65-yard drive. Billy Bouldin dived through center for the extra point.

With time getting shorter, the Moguls again headed goalward. Swain passed to Lloyd Haynie for 18 yards, then flipped another to Delbert Montgomery, left end, for 42 yards and the final marker. Bouldin again converted.

Thus the Moguls went down in defeat, but fighting the hard battle all the way.

The lineups:
