Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Notice to nimrods: There's a nice covey of blue quail making their headquarters at Johnson cemetery.

You're not being notified of their whereabouts so you can go out there and "bop them off" with one mighty nice pot-shot.

No, there are those who are interested in leaving this covey unmolested, so they'll multiply and begin to restock this area with the blues, which are becoming mighty scarce.

So, when you go afield with your trusty gun and loyal bird dog, just sorta steer around the cemetery and let these little birds alone for a season.

Keep your guns and dogs out. Don't shoot them or scare them away. Wait and see how many there'll be next year, and the next, etc.

Instead of going out there with the idea of shooting into them, try feeding them. Instead of taking your gun, take a bucket of grain.

And while out there, pump some water from the south well and see that they do not die of thirst. A little conservation now may assure you plenty of hunting in the future.

Time was, some of the old timers tell us, when there were plenty of blue quail in this section, and all over the Knox prairie.

But they're getting scarcer and scarcer. You don't see many coveys anymore. Not as many as you do the Bob Whites, and it seems they are diminishing, too.

The blues, they say, like to shelter among the cedars, and there's enough cedars at the cemetery to protect them. They'll likely remain there all winter if they are not molested.

So just cooperate with this little covey of blues and with the people who'd like to see lots of them running around this section again. You'll be repaid with good hunting in the years to follow.

Attention readers: Your cotton is being gathered, but outs ain't!

We doubt if we'll gather a crop this year. You generally have to plant the seed before you can have a harvest.

You can pay your notes, and your subscription, with cotton money. And since we don't have any cotton money, we'll have to depend on yours for paying our notes!

The point is that quite a few subscriptions to the Munday Times are expiring now. And just two bucks of your cotton money will set you up another year.

That is, if you live in Knox county or within 50 miles of Munday. If you live further away than that, and quite a few of our readers do, it will take two bucks and a half for a year.

It's plumb surprising how folks are coming in to renew up for another year, and most of them remember when the time is out.

We love that kind of business—where people just come in voluntarily and say, "Gimme another year of that stuff!"

Paying a note is like eating cake, only a lot more painful. By taking a slice of cake now and then, you find that pretty soon it's all gone. And by taking a slice off the note, it will be whittled away in time, we think!

Of course, there's a difference, too. Eating cake fills your stomach, while paying a note empties your pocketbook and diminishes your bank account, if any.

Those notes that came due while most of your subscriptions were still paid up have been far-reaching in their emptying and diminishing processes.

So as you gather your cotton,

Moguls Play Stamford Team Friday Night

Two old rivals, both near the bottom of the district standing, will lock horns next Friday night when the Munday Moguls, charges of Coach Billy Cloud, journey to Stamford for their annual battle against the Stamford Bulldogs.

Both teams lost most of their valuable players last year, and they are sporting almost brand new and inexperienced bunches of players.

While the Moguls took a rest last Friday night, after suffering defeat in all of their six games of the season, the Bulldogs were taking a most impressive drubbing at the hands of the Albany Lions, 40-6.

So the game won't mean much in conference standing, except that Munday has an opportunity to come one notch out of the cellar, it will mean quite a great deal to football fans who have followed these traditional rivals throughout the years.

Many local fans are expected to accompany the Moguls to Stamford for the game.

This Handshake Typical Of Sunday's Activities

Dr. T. S. Edwards, pioneer Knox City surgeon and head of the Knox County Hospital's medical staff, is shown above as he receives congratulations from people from all over this area during last Sunday's ceremonies in which the new $60,000 wing of the hospital was dedicated in his honor.

grandson, Tom Lauren Hampton of Dallas, who unveiled the portrait at right which was presented to the hospital by Dr. Edwards' colleagues. It will occupy a place of honor in the new wing. The portrait was painted by Victor Lallier, Dallas artist, who recently completed a new portrait of Gov. Beauford Jester.

THIS LITTLE BAKER IS EQUIPPED FOR FOOTBALL

The name's Charles Robert, if you please, and he's going to be Bobby to his parents and all those who are near and dear to him.

He made his arrival at the Knox county hospital at 6:10 p. m. Thursday, October 14, and it appears he will be a future Mogul star—he started calling some sort of signals almost immediately. He'll have the equipment, too, for Winston Blacklock has seen that he already has a helmet and shoulder pads.

Bobby is a Baker. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, and both of them are doing nicely, and so is Bobby, thank you. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Oates Golden. They're doing all right, too!

Sunset Juniors To Sponsor Cake Walk

The Sunset Junior class is sponsoring a cake walk on Saturday night, October 23rd. The cake walk will be held at the Sunset high school beginning at 7:30.

Deer Hunters Back With Game; Gene Michels Bags "Old Grandpa"

For 13 years he'd been hunting for him, just like a fisherman fishes for "Old Bozo" that always gets away, and now he wants the head mounted and a jacket made out of the hide. He may never accomplish this feat again!

He's Gene Michels, the boy who bagged "Old Grandpa" on a deer hunting trip to Pagosa Springs, Colo. The hunting party came home Wednesday morning, and Gene called us to come over to the locker plant.

"He's got 20 points," he says all excited. "Count them off," we says, not knowing much about counting points on deer horns and not really believing what we were looking at.

Gene counted up to 20, and he pointed at a point every time he counted! The buck weighed 342 pounds, they said, minus his innards. The antler spread was 33 inches.

Fred Broach, Jr., got an 8-pointer with a kind of freakish set of antlers, which he's having

Dr. T. S. Edwards Is Honored In Ceremonies Sunday Which Opened New Wing Of Knox County Hospital

The tears in his eyes told of the joy in his heart, as Dr. Thomas Sidney Edwards, pioneer West Texas surgeon and father of the Knox county hospital, was honored at the opening of the new wing of the hospital, the T. S. Edwards Memorial Addition, in ceremonies at the Knox City auditorium last Sunday.

Dr. Edwards said he felt his life "had not been in vain" as 1,500 people paid him tribute in the three-hour ceremony which opened at 2 p. m. The ceremony dedicated the new $60,000 wing in his honor.

The hospital wing was constructed by L. J. Hill, Munday contractor.

The 70-year-old physician, whose efforts resulted in the building in 1927 of the Knox City Hospital, sat erect in a large wooden chair on the stage of the Knox City grammar school auditorium as men and women in an almost unending stream paid him public tribute.

The new wing to the hospital was named Dr. T. S. Edwards Memorial Addition. It adds 24 beds and 17 rooms to the hospital's facilities, bringing the total to 45 beds. Bonds for the new structure were voted in May, 1947.

Dr. Edwards' colleagues, Drs. D. C. Eiland, R. L. Newsom, T. P. Frizzell and C. G. Markward, presented the hospital with a new portrait of their chief surgeon during the ceremonies. The painting was unveiled by the physician's grandson, five-year-old Tom Lauren Hampton. It was painted by Victor Lallier, Dallas, who recently completed a portrait of Gov. Beauford Jester.

The formal ceremonies were followed by an open house at the hospital. Originally, the program was planned for presentation near the new building, but inclement weather forced a change to the grammar school building.

Officials Speak

Master of ceremonies for the dedication ceremony was District Judge Lewis M. Williams, of the 50th Judicial District. Speakers included Clay F. Grove, a member of the hospital board, Munday; Charles Moorhouse, Benjamin; the Rev. S. E. Stevenson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Goree; Luther W. Graham, Knox City; S. N. Reed, O'Brien; Doran Brown, Rochester; W. W. Clarke, Truscott; M. F. Billingsley, Munday; Clyde Bullion, a member of the commissioners court; Knox City; Mrs. Rip Collins, Knox City; the Rev. John W. Price, Knox City, and the Rev. Vernon Hend-

Two Men Are Slightly Hurt In Gin Accident

Two local men, employees of the Farmers Cooperative Gin, narrowly escaped death here Wednesday night in an accident at the west gin, coming through their experiences with only slight injuries.

The men, Rev. F. L. Bingham, pastor of the Gillespie Baptist church, and Clarence Searcey, became caught in cotton press when the flow of cotton became choked and they investigated.

The lever for starting the press was accidentally switched, and they escaped when Mart Booth, who was working nearby, heard their cries and stopped the press.

They were taken to the Knox county hospital for examination, which revealed no bones were broken and they suffered only minor cuts and bruises.

Searcy was released from the hospital, while Rev. Bingham remained through Wednesday for observation and treatment.

P.T.A. Membership Drive Concluded

The membership drive for the local Parent Teachers' Association closed Friday, October 15th, as far as the teachers and their rooms are concerned, with Mrs. John Inman's 5th grade receiving the $5.00 reward for highest membership; Mrs. Brown's 2nd grade, second place and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell's 7th grade, third place.

MUNDAY'S NEEDS FOR 1948

1. A modern and up-to-date high school building, to care for the present and future educational needs of our children.
2. A waterworks system that meets all requirements of health, sanitation and supply.
3. A street sweeper that will keep our pavement clean enough to be recognized as pavement.
5. Completion of our drainage and paving program, which will probably be accomplished this year.

OIL'S "NEW LOOK"

The oil industry, according to an authority on its operations, has acquired a "new look". That didn't come about suddenly, for reasons of style. It was the result of an evolutionary development which has caused far-reaching changes in oil's importance to the American people and American industry.

Not so many years ago oil was primarily a one-product business, and that product was kerosene. Therefore, most of the industry's work had to do with producing more and better gasoline to meet the needs of the automobile age. Now, in this complex postwar world, it is clear that a very high percentage of all the energy needs of the world must be met with oil and natural gas.

A few figures vividly illustrate what has happened. Many people think that the millions of cars, trucks and buses which throng our streets and roads are the greatest users of energy—yet the fact is that they use only 10 per cent of the total. The railroads use 11 per cent. All our merchant ships and all our planes use together less than 3 per cent.

The really big users of energy fall into three groups. First come the public utilities, which account for 37 per cent of all the energy consumed. Industrial manufacturers use 16 per cent. Finally, heating in homes and places of work takes 24 per cent. The use of oil for space heating alone has gone up 50 per cent in the last two years.

Here, in brief, is the background of the incredible demand for oil today. Oil's "new look" is indicative of its immense influence on our civilization.

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

Today the enemies of America's sacred traditions are bending every effort to replace Freedom and Liberty and Justice under God with national socialism and policing government. It is for liberty-loving Americans to show the world in unmistakable terms that faith and trust in the "Book of Books," which will never be banned under our Constitution, will continue to be our Guide. National Bible Week is a manifestation of such a resolution.

To emphasize the importance of religion in maintaining a free government, the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, sponsors National Bible Week—this year October 18-24. It uses every possible avenue to stimulate people in all walks of life to be Bible conscious, irrespective of class, creed or color.

A MILLION MERCHANTS

The president of the American Institute of Food Distribution recently forecast that food prices are in for a "prolonged downward drift", though the decline will come slowly. He then added that in the grocery industry competition is becoming keener than ever, and said that poorly managed or financed stores are headed for trouble.

At about the same time, a spokesman for a dry goods association said that there are now more than a million retail merchants in business in this country.

These statements are indicative of the quality of service retailing is giving the American people. When a million stores are competing for customers, no store can afford to stand still and rest on past laurels. Every one must seek to offer better service, the lowest possible prices, higher qualities, and other inducements.

Again, the figures certainly show that there is plenty of opportunity in retailing for people who understand the business and are willing to work at it. The big store systems, as an example, mainly stemmed from single stores, run by men with ambition, energy, and ideas. In all probability the chains of the future will develop in the same fashion. There's nothing like competition to create progress—and an ever-improving public service.

Running a successful retail business isn't easy. Despite today's high prices, the net profit earned by typical stores on each dollar of sales has been tending to decline. That simply means that stores have absorbed price increases to as large an extent as possible to encourage sales. Store managers and operators who are lethargic and wasteful won't last long. The able man, on the other hand, will continue to go places.

A GOOD AMENDMENT

Texas will have eight chances to amend its Constitution on Election Day, November 2nd. One change that is sound and practical is in the short, one-sentence amendment, listed last on the ballot.

This authorizes the legislature to set up a retirement system for judges on our appellate and district courts because of age, illness or disability. Thirty-one states already provide for retirement of the judges. Texas does not, but it should.

It is important that judges in high position have a keen, quick mind, able to work long hours and solve knotty problems. The strain is great. When a man reaches the age where he feels he cannot cope with these problems speedily and adequately, he should be able to step down gracefully and live out his life in dignity.

A retirement plan would make that possible, where our present system does not. Few judges can save enough out of their salaries to retire when they should and want to. Instead, they have to keep running for office. Sometimes this means people who go into court don't get the speedy, decisive action they should.

The retirement amendment is a good one. It would be justice for the judges who serve so long and so faithfully, and more importantly, it would save the taxpayers money to have a more efficient court system.

Weekly Health LETTER

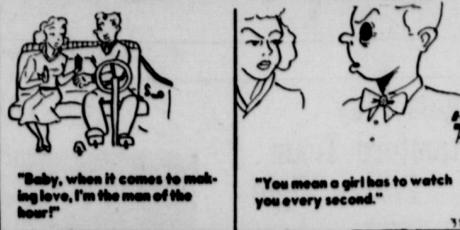

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
 M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—From statistics compiled by the State Health Department, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer has disclosed that a lack of proper refrigeration contributes materially to the total disease outbreaks for one year, caused from foods other than milk and milk products.

During the year, there were 299 outbreaks of diseases from contaminated foods, incapacitating 12,526 persons, 17 of whom died. "The food poisoning was usually caused from contamination through insanitary conditions, infections of food handlers, or of even more significance, lack of early and adequate refrigeration," Dr. Cox said. "Even when contaminated, foods will seldom develop toxins sufficient to cause poisoning if properly refrigerated promptly after preparation. Outbreaks caused from foods have totaled nearly six times the number caused from water of milk."

The State Health Officer pointed out that the consuming public is, in many areas, protected by proper enforcement of sanitation standards for eating establishments such as are set up in the United States Public Health Service Milk Ordinance and Code. The public is entitled to a good, clean, safe and wholesome food supply, including milk which has been produced under strict sanitary conditions and properly refrigerated. This is a great protection against disease outbreaks caused by contaminated foods of various kinds, and Dr. Cox said this was especially obvious in view of the fact that no disease outbreaks has as yet been traced to pasteurized grade A milk, which had been adequately refrigerated.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Town People Who Trespass Are In For A Big Surprise Soon

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reports an incident we doubt will happen, though it might be interesting if it does.

Dear editor:
With October weather being here, with autumn in the air and outdoors being a fine place to be, lots of town folks have been driven out into the country lately and while it don't concern me much and my interests lie more in the international situation, my neighbor out here has been pretty upset.

J. A.

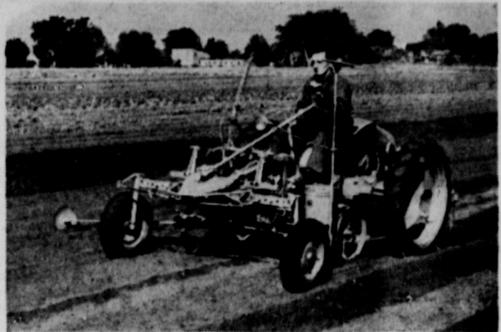

He says some town folks still act like this is free range around here and the delights of the country is free for the taking. He says some folks come through his pasture blastin at birds and scarin his cattle and leavin gates open and damagin fences and shootin his squirrels and if one of em has ever asked permission, he can't recall it. Ain't nothin he says to see a car drive past his front door and go into his pasture like it was a state park.

Now I may have done a little trespassin myself, although only on business, say to drive up my cow after it had gotten through the two-wire fence I aim to repair if labor ever gets available again and spent the day grazin off my neighbor, although I long ago have declined to be responsible for anything my cow does, and I have maybe followed one of my own rabbits onto somebody else's land, and I figure somebody has done the same to mine, but my neighbor says he's had enough.

He told me Monday he is going to go into town Saturday and go to the front lawn of one man he has seen in his place Sunday afternoon and build a fire and fry a skillet of bacon and open a few cans and lie around a while, maybe takin a few shots at chee-chees in the shade trees, open up a few hydrants, and really enjoy town life awhile. Says no town man ought to object to a farmer coop-ed up in the country comin in for a little harmless relaxation and a chance of sights in town. Ain't

TRACTOR WITH FORESIGHT

First of its kind is this unique tractor that has the engine overhanging the rear axle; that provides for improved visibility and is so arranged that implements are front-mounted. Developed by Allis Chalmers after a very comprehensive test program, the new tractor obtains the greatest utility possible in a small cultivating type machine. Working closely with the manufacturer were engineers, of The Timken Roller Bearing Company, who placed ten Timken Bearings to assure holding important moving parts in correct alignment and give years of economical service.

This latest in a constantly improving line of farm machinery will help greatly to hold the high level of food production in America, the food-basket of the world.

no sense in a town man being stingy with his natural advantages, he says.

Falling Leaves Are Signals Of Fire Hazards

AUSTIN—Fall time is fire warning time, cautions Marvin Hall.

The State Fire Insurance Commissioner says when red leaves begin falling they really should be regarded as signals of fire danger because the greatest fire loss each year is suffered during cold, winter months.

Reminding housewives that one-half of the fires in Texas and the U. S. are home fires, Hall said the fall of the year was a good time to launch a personal fire prevention program with a thorough check-up and clean-up.

"Winter brings additional fire hazards as this season marks the time for heating equipment to be installed and put into use, for dead leaves to be gathered and burned, for lighting equipment to be in more frequent use as the days shorten, for the wearing of clothes that have to be dry cleaned rather than laundered and for greater use of matches," Hall explained.

Urging housewives to prepare now for the fire dangerous months, Commissioner Hall named a few special fire safety tips for Texas housewives to keep in mind while making their fall check-ups:

1. Have all gas stoves connected with solid piping and if leaking gas is noticed, call the gas company. Protect woodwork around or under gas heaters. Be sure heaters are a safe distance from curtains or towel racks.
2. By all means rake up all the dead leaves on your premises but bury them—don't burn them—in your flower beds. Buried leaves enrich the soil and create no fire hazard.
3. Never use gasoline, benzine, naphtha or similar volatile flammable liquids for cleaning purposes. Use an approved solvent for removing spots from clothes. Send to the dry cleaners any clothes needing extensive clean- ing.

4. If the wiring system of the house is to be extended, call a professional electrician and have the job done right. Cords to portable electrical appliances should be as short as possible. Replace those that have become the least worn or frayed. Using pennies instead of fuses invites fire.
5. Keep matches in metal containers and out of reach of small children. Be sure matches and cigarettes are out before discarding them. Don't smoke in bed.

1 1/2 Billion Dollar Road Block!

RAILROADS MUST OPERATE around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employees.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work—in itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 25¢ an hour for every employee!

You'd Pay the Bill!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employes an annual raise which would average $1500 per employe!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1 1/2 billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are forced on the railroads, they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employes have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 48¢ an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently settled their wage request for an increase of 10¢ an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody—Not Employes Alone

The railroad industry must serve not only many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who enters railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began taking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!

Frances Snapka, Clement Krenek Wed At Rhineland

On October 11th at 8:00 a. m., nuptial High Mass was read by Rev. Fabian Diersing in the St. Joseph's Church in Rhineland uniting Miss Frances Snapka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Snapka, and Clement Krenek, son of Mrs. Theodore Krenek, in marriage in a double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Francis Albus, organist, played the processional and recessional selections. Mrs. Albus was accompanied by the choir in High Mass.

matching streamers.

Mr. LeRoy Krenek, cousin of the groom, was best man, with Victor Palvas, nephew of the bride, and Arnold Kneblak, cousin of the groom, as groomsmen.

The bride wore a white silk gown with a beaded net yoke, fitted bodice, net peplum, and full skirt with finger tip sleeves. Her gown was made by Mrs. Chester Smith. Her finger tip veil, lace edged, fell from a halo of seeded pearls.

During the afternoon, a reception was held in the home of the brides parents, where many relatives and friends were served.

At 8:30 in the evening, a wedding dance was given in the St. Joseph's hall in Rhineland.

RENEWED SPLENDOR

Chicagoan Norma Malum is smiling because the left side of her weather beaten mouton lamb fur coat will soon look as sleek, glossy and new as the reprocessed right side. Norma is one of thousands of U.S. women who own a warm inexpensive mouton lamb fur coat. It has the look of beaver when it is new, but after a season's beating from the elements, its sheep shows. The fur gets wooly looking and doesn't respond to ordinary cleaning and glazing. Now, a new process perfected after seven years' research by Walter Klein, head of Kleinway, Inc., Chicago, wholesale fur servicing house, restores original smooth sheen to mouton—and it lasts all season, too!

WE ALL WANT TO VOTE FOR JACK PORTER!

We can: Article 2981 of the Laws of Texas (Enacted 1905) specifically provides for a voting of a split ticket in a GENERAL ELECTION.

Scratch all candidates for U. S. Senator except the name of JACK PORTER. Your vote will be counted, and your choice for Senator, JACK PORTER, will be seated.

The so-called loyalty pledge does not apply to the election on November 2. It is a GENERAL ELECTION all over the United States. It is NOT a state primary.

This has been so held by our courts and by the Texas Attorney General's Department for years past.

Local FFA Chapter Members Spend Day At State Fair

Several members of the local Future Farmers of America chapter attended the Texas State Fair at Dallas last week end.

The school bus was ready at 3:30 Friday evening, and 29 anxious F.F.A. boys boarded it. Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Ponder and Dickey accompanied the boys. They arrived in Fort Worth at eight-thirty.

Several of the boys went to see north side defeat Polytechnic high to the tune of 7-6 in a close game of football. The night was spent in Fort Worth, and the group left for Dallas early the next day.

Upon arriving at the fair ground, they were amazed at the large number of school buses already there. It is difficult to believe there are so many school buses in Texas.

Sixty thousand boys and girls from all corners of Texas lined up for the free feed at noon. Mr. and Mrs. Ponder helped make hot dogs for two hours. A number of the boys saw Amarillo defeat Woodrow Wilson in a game of football.

The group arrived home about 2:15 Sunday afternoon, and all reported a very good time.

Jackie Mayes of Amarillo spent last week end with Mrs. W. M. Mayo and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mayes.

CARD OF THANKS

SHALL YOUR PEACH TREES BE KILLED?

The above question is one that each person having one or more peach trees should consider very carefully? This territory is badly damaged each year by the pesky peach tree borer. I have talked to several people who once had good peach tree orchards but the borers have killed almost all the trees. Now what can be done about it? The answer is simple. Treat your trees with Paradichlorobenzene. When? Now. Trees should be treated here between October 15 and November 15.

How is the treatment made?

Dip up the soil about 2 or 3 inches deep all around the tree about 12 inches from the tree. Smooth the soil and break up all clods. Then dig a little trench about an inch deep two inches from the tree all around the tree. Place one table spoonful of the paradichlorobenzene (peach tree borer medicine) equally distributed in the trench all around the tree. Sprinkle some soil on the medicine filling the trench. Then place several shovels of dirt around the tree making a mound about 4 inches high. Pack the dirt down with the back of the shovel. The job is completed.

Earl R. Ponder, Vocational Agriculture Teacher.

Automobile Trails of Tomorrow

More Sugar, Less Honey

During the war, there was a big shortage of sugar and folks in this country became heavy users of syrup, molasses and honey.

The pendulum is swinging back the other way now. This year, with a big supply of sugar, and prices going down, people just aren't using the honey and the syrup and the "lasses on the biscuits as much as they used to, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A&M College.

The beekeepers don't have as many bee colonies this year as they did last, so there won't be as much honey produced. Last year's production was the second highest on record, but this year, things are a little different. . . a downward trend in production. The making of sorghum syrup has been dropping off, too, for the past several years. This summer's drouthy weather has brought a further cut in sorghum syrup yields.

In the ribbon cane areas of Texas, the picture is still worse. Dry weather and reduced acreage of cane means a scanty production of cane syrup on farms in the eastern part of a state. The economists look for a decline in refiner's production of molasses and cane syrup from both domestic and Cuban supplies. Likewise corn syrup production, which reached an all-time high last year, will be down to almost half as much this year.

So, for sweets of all types, it's a pretty spotty picture. But there's enough sugar in sight to keep prices to household and industrial users very near the present levels for the months ahead, says Bates.

PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

BRANNAN SPEAKS ON SOIL CONSERVATION

Some of our most important soil-conservation gains cannot be measured in statistics, Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan pointed out recently.

Commenting that the Agricultural Conservation Program represents real progress but that we must not become over-optimistic the Secretary said:

"We have finally recognized that economic conditions have a definite influence on the use and misuse of soil. We have recognized that all of us share responsibility for building up and conserving the land. We have recognized not only that conservation payments are right in our democracy but also that they are a tremendously effective aid in getting the job done.

"We have built a great system of administration in which farmers not only carry out a program but also study the needs of the local farms and help develop program improvements."

These three principles were listed by Secretary Brannan as essential to the success of any national conservation program and as a defined and specific measure for the security of the United States:

(1) Any program should be administered by locally-elected farmer committees.

(2) We should assist and encourage farmers in establishing soil and water conservation practices by means of payments for practices performed.

(3) We should provide the technical assistance necessary in making complete conservation plans and carrying out complicated practices on farm.

MAIN STREET AND THE SOIL

Main Street as well as the farmer depends on rich fertile land for health and prosperity, says Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

All people, whether in town or on the farm, depend on the land for food and clothing. Poor land doesn't produce enough to feed the farmer and his family and an additional amount to be sold in the grocery stores in town. And poor land produces poor food. Poor land and resulting poor crops mean less money for the things the farmer needs. Poor crops mean less money to be spent on Main Street, less for clothing, machinery, homes and home furnishings.

These are some of the reasons, the chairman points out, why the assistance given farmers under the Agricultural Conservation Program means as much to the business men in town as they do to the farmer. This assistance makes it possible and supplies the incentive for farmers to carry out conservation practices which not only keep soil from washing and blowing away but build it up for continuing production.

The 12 years of conservation work under the AC Program helped make possible the record-breaking crop this year, says the chairman. Bigger crops mean more food for health and energy. "Through the Agricultural Conservation Program the Nation is investing in better living for the people in town as well as the farmer."

FARM PRICES ON WAY DOWN
Prices for farm products are on the way down, but the decline is much more gradual and less disastrous than it was following World War I. This fact is fortunate not only for farmers but also for the entire country, for the disastrous drops in prices of farm products which followed World War I brought devastating depressions for the entire country in their wake.

Dr. Oscar Stine, noted price economist with the U. S. Department of Agricultural Credits price supports as helping to prevent drastic and disastrous declines. Yet he says they have not resulted in higher food costs to consumers and they have not cost the Government any money. He says that large scale production, which makes price declines possible, probably would not have been as high if farmers had not been assured of price supports. It production had not been heavy, prices would have remained high and consumers would not have received any benefits. As a matter of fact, consumer prices are higher on meats and meat products, which have no support program. While the Government has lost money on certain perishable commodities which have been purchased under the support program, it has more than made up for these losses in its gain on cotton, wheat and non-perishable commodities.

Dr. Stine thinks that nothing short of resumption of large scale spending for armament will reverse the downward trend in farm prices already underway, and he says that farmers might as well make their plans with lower prices in mind.

East Texan Says
Judges Amendment
Will Save Money

Atlanta—East Texas attorney Hugh Carney of Cass County this week urged Texas voters to adopt the judges retirement amendment.

Carney, a well-known civic leader from the town of Atlanta, said a vote for Constitutional Amendment No. 8—last on the ballot—would be a vote for a more efficient court system and also a vote for economy in government.

Amendment No. 8 would authorize the legislature to consider a retirement plan for jurists on the State's appellate and district courts.

"We in small towns know how important it is to have district judges who are able to travel around without the handicaps of age, illness or disability, and to keep their dockets clean," Carney commented.

"If this amendment is endorsed by the voters, it will clear the

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

I'm Glad
We're "Different!"

There's a lot of difference of opinion in our county on the best kind of pasture. Some say alfalfa mixed with brome grass—others say mixed with oats or barley. But all agree that a mixture's better than a single crop.

I sometimes think people are the same way—and the strength of America is its mixture of so many different strains—some from one country, some from another—right down to little differences: like folks who have a taste for beer and these who prefer cider.

From where I sit, so long as we never become intolerant of one another's different tastes—so long as we live together with our differences, and even supplement them the way brome grass does alfalfa, then we're a mighty good crop!

So neighbor—enjoy your cider while I enjoy my beer! Vote for your candidate—I'll stand by mine! But never let our differences divide us!

way for legislature action to retire aged or infirm jurists.

"It will save the taxpayers the high cost of delays and slowness in courts, caused by the inability of some judges to discharge their duties as rapidly as necessary."

Carney said that in addition to saving the taxpayers money through a more efficient court system, the amendment will lead to a decided improvement in the unnecessary delay of many court cases that keep jurors, interested persons in suits, witnesses and officers of the court tied up at the courthouse for many days on the same suit.

It was pointed out by the East Texan that the proposed retirement plan has proved successful in 31 states.

Captain of Industry

Meet Butch—Pres., Treas., and Field Force of the One Man Odd Jobs Co., Uninc. Take a good look at him—for Butch is America.

Butch wants a bicycle. Lots of lawn and lemonade and baby-sitting lie between Butch and that bike, but we're betting on the boy. He has energy, vision, and our national habit of working hard for what he wants. He's American business—in miniature.

There are many names for Butch's philosophy. You can call it Free Enterprise, Opportunity, Democracy, or Capitalism, if you want.

But, whatever the name, America owes it much. For our most valuable natural resource lies in the ambition and initiative of Americans like Butch.

As great publications have grown from the dreams of young men with old handpresses—and great industries from the products of grubby little cellar workshops—the electric industry had small beginnings, too. Like our own company. A few men with vision strung the first small lines. People with faith risked their savings. Better and better service, at lower and lower cost, created more and more jobs—and carried the benefits of electric living to more and more people.

Free enterprise and hard work will bring Butch and his bike together. They are what built America and the American way of life, which is the highest standard of living in the world. No nation on earth has found a satisfactory substitute for that combination.

Shop before we get separated, and see what you can see." We drove down in the rainstorm.

Spread out on the concrete floor were five nice deer. Two of them were bucks, one an 8-point or. Three were does. It's legal to kill a doe in Colorado, they explained. It's open season on does and Texas hunters!

There were five hunters and five deer, as the hunting party began to split up. These hunters were Jasper Beavers, Jim Strickland and Slick Moore, all of Munday; Walt Grisham of Haskell and O. O. Ballentine of Wichita Falls. We didn't get the names of the deer.

They, too, had been to Pagosa Springs and had been camped pretty close to Gene Michels and his bunch.

Jim Strickland hadn't had time to shave all of his face during the time he was gone. He was sporting some chin whiskers of a reddish hue that he apparently missed while shaving by the poor camp light.

Dr. Edwards said the hospital, since its opening in 1927, had handled 130,000 patients and 10,265 major operations. He said it had paid for itself "not so much in cash dividends, but in the thousands of lives it has helped to save."

Obviously moved by the warm tributes paid him by his fellow West Texans, the tall, grey-haired doctor recalled his early days in Knox county when he "operated sometimes on the kitchen table."

"My greatest fear then was from the danger of improperly sterilized equipment," he said. "We constantly faced grave risks with every childbirth."

Dr. Edwards said that in those early days near the turn of the century he often acted as his own nurse, having no other available.

Dr. Edwards is a graduate of the University of Texas Medical School, Galveston. He also served his internship there before moving to Knox county in 1910 to begin private practice.

P.T.A. School Of Instruction Held Wednesday

On Wednesday, October 20th, an all day school of instruction was held at the Sunset rural high school for all officers, members and all interested persons of the Parent Teachers Association.

Mrs. Dorothy Shackelford of Wichita Falls, district president, conducted the instructions and was assisted by Mrs. Les James of Wichita Falls, district vice-president and Mrs. Van Browning of Truscott, district vice-president for Knox county.

At the noon hour, a covered dish luncheon was served.

In the afternoon, a business meeting was held for the organization of the Knox county P.T.A. Council. The following officers were elected: Mrs. S. A. Woods of Truscott, president; Mrs. J. D. Redwine of Benjamin, vice-president; Mrs. Lonnie Offutt of Munday, secretary; and Mrs. Weldon Floyd of Sunset as treasurer.

This Parent Teachers' Organization of the Knox County Council, meets three times a year at no one certain place. It takes care of all problems concerning the local units.

One hundred representations from Crowell, Truscott, Benjamin, Sunset and Munday were present at this meeting.

Miss Frances Smith of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith, over the week end.

Gorden Gaines of Texas Tech., Lubbock, visited home folks over the week end.

Mrs. Maurine Doran of Odessa and Mrs. Norman Koenig and children of Oklahoma City, Okla. came in last Wednesday for a weeks' visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beavers.

Convention of Future Farmers To Be Held In Kansas City In November

The big $64 question in the minds of the Munday Chapter of Future Farmers is: Shall Knox County be represented at the national F.F.A. convention in Kansas City in November by one or more boys?

And if one or more should get to go, whom shall they be?

Well, that is to be decided between now and November 1 by taking subscriptions to the Southern Agriculturalist magazine. The magazine company is giving to the school all the subscription price of the magazine, 100 per cent, to pay the boys' way to the convention.

All counties are sending boys to the convention if they can secure enough subscriptions. Shall some of our boys be among the 500 who will attend from Texas? That depends upon the people of Knox county. If you will help the boys when they call on you for your subscription, we will be able to send representatives.

Oh, yes, the price of the magazine is only $1 for 5 years, or $2 for 10 years. Do your best for the boys, and they will remember it and appreciate it.
