Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Faith, and we're of Irish descent!

We asked our Pop one time just what we were, and he said we were Scotch-Irish. That convinced us we're Irish enough to wear a little smitherin' of green on St. Patrick's Day.

... ..

In fact, we're Irish enough that we get a "buzz" out of an Irish joke, like this:

... ..

A Scotchman, a Frenchman and an Irishman were walking along together, conversing one with the other.

The Scotchman said: "You know, if I wasn't Scotch I believe I'd rather be a Frenchman than anyone else in the world."

The Frenchman said: "And if I had to be something else besides French, I believe I'd rather be Scotch."

... ..

Then Pat spoke up with all his manly pride: "Faith, and if I wasn't Irish, I'd be ashamed of myself!"

When we learned that we'd be printing this week's issue of the paper on St. Patrick's Day, we just sorta swelled up with Irish pride, and thoughts began buzzing through our one-track mind.

... ..

What a splendid way to show the Irish in us, we thought, just to print the "blarsted" thing in green ink!

Then we thought some more. Old Betsy, the press, has been running nothing but black ink for over ten years, that we know of. Never in these years has she submitted to any other color.

... ..

There are two long ink fountains on the press, both filled with black ink. Each fountain inks a set of six rollers—all well saturated with black ink.

... ..

Clean out two fountains, wash twelve large rollers, fill them with green ink, print our papers, wash them all over again and get ready for black ink again!

We just weren't Irish enough to do it. And the Scotch showed up, too. Why spend that good note-paying money for green ink just to use one time?

... ..

So your paper comes out in black ink again, as usual; St. Patrick's Day notwithstanding, nevertheless.

Guess there's not much Irish in us, anyway. We never did care too much for the famed Irish song, "Wearing Of The Green". The little Irish ditty: "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" appealed to us more.

We're Irish enough, however, to enjoy those Koen and Kelly picture shows. The families are always feudin' but the son of one family and the daughter of the other are always sweethearts.

Old Patrick Kelly got all riled up in one of those shows and made a statement we'll never forget. "It takes all kinds of people to make the world," he says, "but it only takes one to ruin it!"

... ..

Ever since St. Patrick's got discontented on the Isle of Man, and in 433 crossed over and drove the snakes out of Ireland, things have been happening in his honor.

The day has been celebrated in the U. S. ever since 1776, and it's been observed by everyone who has a smitherin' of Irish blood in their veins.

It reached such enormous proportions in observance that Theodore Roosevelt once remarked:

Spiritual Life Crusade To Open Wednesday At First Methodist Church

Rev. William G. Barr, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced Tuesday that his congregation will begin a "Spiritual Life Crusade" on Wednesday evening, March 23, which will continue through Sunday, April 3. This crusade is, in reality, the revival meeting held in the spring at the local church.

Services will be held at ten o'clock each morning and at seven thirty each evening.

The church has secured the services of Dr. Frank L. Turner, former president of McMurry College in Abilene and general evangelist in the Methodist church, who will bring the messages and direct the work of personal evangelism.

More concerning the important life's work of Dr. Turner and the local crusade will be published next week.

The public is cordially invited to attend each and every service of this crusade, the pastor said.

Yvonne Patricia Angenette Arrives Here On Tuesday

She's Yvonne Patricia Angenette Whitworth. She arrived full of health and vigor at the Knox county hospital at 7 a. m. Tuesday, tipping the scales at seven and one-half pounds. She shows promise of being one of the best loved Whitworths in these parts.

Her parents, are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitworth. She hasn't seen her father yet, because he's in training as a paratrooper at Ft. Benning, Ga. He re-enlisted after returning home from Germany last January.

She has her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. (Tuck) Whitworth of Munday and a grand father, Harn Rector Phil Karch, who is superintendent of education at Ludwigshafen, Germany.

Yvonne (we'll call her that for short) has been welcomed to the homes and hearts of all the Whitworths and Uncle Bob Gaines, too, so chances are she'll be a normal child but just a little bit spoiled.

Sunset Pupils To Present Play Tuesday Night

Mrs. Carl Morgan is presenting her seventh and eighth grade pupils in a three act comedy drama, "Junior Detectives", at 7:45 o'clock, Tuesday, March 22nd, in the Sunset School Auditorium.

The following is a description of the cast of characters:

Mrs. Baker, a competent, energetic housewife, is in her early forties. Her manner is gracious and tactful. This is portrayed by Corrine Urbanczyk; Myrtle, Neighborhood nuisance, is plump and middle-aged, her features are plain, her expression, deadpan. Sue Ann Richardson is Myrtle; Georgie, thirteen years old, is a sturdy, wellbuilt lad with a somewhat over-developed imagination. He feels very superior of girls. This is played by Jimmie Burl Morgan; Frances, is in the same grade with Georgia, but smaller, has a brisk, pleasant manner and is endowed with a keen, analytical mind. This is played by Mary Maude Hannaford; Tiny, negro maid, is the exact opposite of her name but she carries her weight well and the grand manner which he affects seems perfectly natural. Lois Michels is Tiny; Willie, handyman, is tall, somewhat stooped, and shuffles when he walks. This is Jack Hardin; Mr. Barber, lawyer, whose manner is smug and complacent. This is played by Howard Thompson; Mike, sixteen years old, is tall and of athletic build. An otherwise fine character is somewhat marred by a stubborn streak and a quick temper. This is Charles Yost; Jim, a neighbor of the same age, is easily influenced and has suffered under the hand-icap of an unhealthy home environment; Susan, the Senator's daughter is a typical junior high school girl. She is smartly dressed, but has not permitted her family's social position to spoil her. This is Shirley Ann McAfee; and Eddie, fourteen years old, has a sense of humor, and his manner is pleasant and cheerful. This is James Jungman.

There will be a small admission fee of fifteen and twenty-five cents. The public is invited to come out and see these youngsters perform.

New Directory To Carry Street Names, Numbers

Word has been received from the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co. that the house numbers and street names for Munday customers will be carried in the new telephone directory to be published this year.

Each customer of the telephone company has been mailed cards on which to designate his street address and mail back to the company. This move was decided upon after Munday practically completed the street markers and house numbers last year.

Get Your Numbers.

The move was started by the Munday Junior Chamber of Commerce and was completed by the Community Development Association.

Although the project was practically completed, there are a few houses that have not yet been numbered. Directors of the C. D. A. urge those who do not have house numbers to secure them from Mrs. Charles McCauley, secretary.

The C. D. A. secretary has all information regarding the location of your home, as well as the numbers. They may be secured for only $1.50 per home.

Paradise Trees Become Victims Of Town's Progress

Ten paradise trees, which have graced the east side of the city hall lawn for a number of years, Wednesday became the victims of the town's progress.

The city's maintainer was hooked onto them, and the trees were uprooted, then carted away behind a tractor. One of the ten had stubborn roots, and the tree trunk was broken before the roots would give up their hold on Mother Earth. A pick and shovel crew proceeded to put an end to the stump.

The trees were uprooted to make room for widening the street, a project of the highway department. This work is expected to be started in the near future.

212 Masons Hear Speaker At District Meet

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a meeting of the 91st District Masonic Association gathered in Knox City last Tuesday evening to hear W. Marcus Weathered of Coleman, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, in an inspiring address.

Mr. Weathered touched on many points of Masonry, showing how the order was closely allied with the church, yet, he said, was never conceived as a means of salvation. "If Masonry is your religion," he said, "you ain't got no religion!"

The speaker reviewed briefly the life of George Washington, America's No. 1 Mason; he pointed to other great leaders in the order and told of the great challenge that faces Masonry today. His address was an inspiration to all who heard him.

Knox City and Benjamin lodges were hosts for this meeting which was held at the American Legion hall. Prior to the speaking a delicious barbecue supper was served to all Masons present.

S. N. Reed presided over the meeting in the absence of G. B. Hammett, president of the association. The next meeting will be at Seymour on the third Tuesday in May.

The Munday Times

Published Every Thursday at Munday
Aaron Edgar and Grady Roberts . . . Owners
Aaron Edgar . . . Editor and Publisher
Entered as second class matter January 4, 1919, at the postoffice in Munday, Texas, under Act of Congress, March 2, 1879.

The Munday Times is Democratic, yet supporting only what it believes to be right, and opposing what it believes to be wrong, regardless of party policies, publishing news fairly, impartially, and objectively.
NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon due notice being given to the publisher, at the Munday Times office.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?
1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

A HAPPY TRADITION

In the early days it was a common sight to see neighbors band together to help each other. Barns were built, crops harvested, land cleared and numerous other heavy tasks were accomplished in a few hours instead of weeks or months. It was done in an atmosphere of spontaneous fun. The neighbors simply dropped in for a raising bee, a husking bee, or whatever the occasion required, with their wagons loaded with food.

These work parties were a necessity in pioneer America. But it is cheering to note that this tradition is still with us in this machine age. A recent news item tells of a service station operator in a small Minnesota community who had an unusual run of bad luck. His competitors decided to help him out. They closed their stations one Sunday and took over the job of manning his cash register and pumps to handle the sudden rush of business. It was necessary for the local constable to direct traffic. Many people refused change, and the supplier, which was one of the leading oil companies, furnished gas at cost. When the day was over the station operator was considerably better off financially and he had gained a new appreciation of his friends and neighbors.

If instances like this could occur more often half the seemingly insoluble problems of the country would disappear.

RIGHT FOR BOTH SIDES

The debate over profits goes on. One school of thought in this country seems obsessed with the idea that when an industry comes up with a statement showing substantial earnings, it is ipso facto proof that the public has been robbed.

But there is a great deal more to the profit situation than that. A while ago, the head of a leading oil company testified on the subject before a government fact-finding body. He observed that his company had had an excellent post-war experience, from the point of view of dollars earned. He then pointed to three facts which those who denounced profits always overlook.

First, the dollar today is only worth about half what it was in 1940.

Second, his concern is now supplying its customers with almost twice as much oil as in the prewar era, and so has naturally handled more money.

Third, depreciation allowances are based on original cost. They are, therefore, totally inadequate in the light of today's prices for equipment and construction. Much of the profit earned must be used to make up the difference—as well as to branch out and prepare for anticipated future public demand.

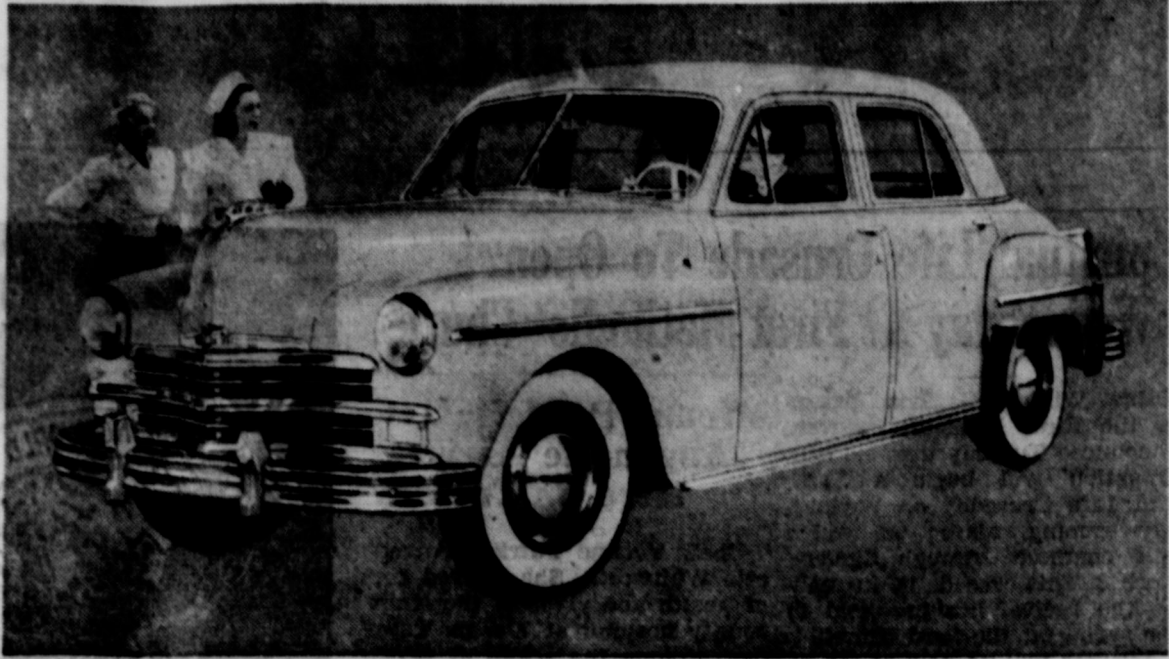

Industrial workers earn far more than they did before the war—in many cases two and three times as much. This, according to most people, is justified by the higher cost of living. Industry is also faced with a higher cost of living, and its wages are called profits. What is right for one side is right—and equally necessary—for the other.

Halley's Comet will next be seen in 1986. Texas is the only state of the Union that may divide itself into five separate states.

"Accident" is just another word—until you have one.

New Plymouth on Display

Plymouth's new special deluxe four-door sedan (above). Throughout the new Plymouth line beautifully streamlined bodies are lower and narrower, seats are wider and headroom greater. At the same time overall exterior dimensions are reduced, but wheelbase has been lengthened to 118 inches and glass area is increased. Horsepower is raised to 97. Although fenders flow gracefully into the body they are detachable for ease in repair.

New Plymouth Features Beauty, Performance, Safety and Comfort

Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles. Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine. The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace. The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban. The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response. Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12, 1946—We have let Saturday slip up on us again before writing this newsletter which means we have to send it air mail in order to reach our district papers in time. This delay was occasioned primarily by the bitter debate in the House over the extension of rent controls. We have not yet disposed of this bill on which final vote will be taken on

WAR BRIDE CHERISHES FREEDOM

The freedom enjoyed and taken for granted by so many Americans is a priceless jewel to Gaida Miller of Canton, O. Seeing her country of Latvia overrun twice within a few years, first by the Germans and then by the plundering Russians; seeing her family vanish; knowing the heartbreak of forced labor camps, — all these have taught an appreciation of the freedoms in the country where she came as a war bride of ex-G. I. Gilbert Miller.

The United States is Latvia, enlarged many times, according to Gaida, for her country had a democratic government patterned closely after that of the U. S. Telephones, radios, electrical appliances and many of the other conveniences which Americans enjoy, with the exception of automobiles, were common to them. However her country had nothing to compare with giant industries like the Timken Roller Bearing Company where both she and her husband work. "In Eastern Europe there are no benefits for the working people as are taken for granted here," says Mrs. Miller.

Tuesday.

Tomorrow I am flying down to New Orleans with the Immigration Subcommittee to see the landing of the first boat load of DPs to dock in the Southwest. Heretofore, all have gone into New York City. The Committee will fly back to Washington Monday afternoon. It is doubtful that we will learn much on this trip.

I have just finished examining a huge contour relief map in the main lobby of the House Office Building. This is probably the largest such map in the world. It required the work of 20 engineers and a period of eight months to build. It depicts 50,000 square miles of land extending from Hoover Dam to the Mexican border and west from the Colorado River to the Pacific Ocean. The map contains 250 separate pieces and is built to scale. It follows closely engineering maps which took 16 surveying parties more than 4 years to prepare. The Hoover Dam is 727 feet tall and creates Lake Mead, the largest reservoir in the United States. The cost of Hoover Dam and its tremendous power plant exceeds $500,000,000. All of this cost will be repaid by the users of the water and electricity, largely people of Los Angeles and Southern California. The Imperial Valley irrigation district which gets its water from this project has a gross area of 882,788 acres of which more than 500,000 are under cultivation. Our great rivers with their gigantic dams and power projects constitute one of our most valuable natural resources.

This week I have received telegrams from organizations of Jewish war veterans asking me to support a bill pending before the Judiciary Committee to give them a national charter. This means to incorporate them similar to the incorporation of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which organizations have national charters granted under laws passed by Congress. Most members of our Committee are opposed to this legislation. We do not think that the Jewish War veterans, or the Catholic War veterans, or the Protestant War veterans, should be incorporated as such. This, it seems to us, tends to contrary to the democratic spirit which should permeate our citizenship.

This morning I had the pleasure of shaking hands with Captain James Gallagher who recently flew our B-50 non-stop around the world. Scientific development in the field of aviation, both offensively and defensively, is amazing. I am told that our scientists have recently developed a new paint which makes planes impervious to radar. In other words, planes with this paint can fly through an area of radar without being detected. Our government should keep such patents a secret and should rigidly control the manufacture of such paint. We are also told that we have guided missiles that "think." For example, it is said a photograph of a particular area is arranged in the nose of such missile and such missile seeks out the area and attacks it. When missiles are so sensitive and effective as to follow planes accurately, then planes may become very vulnerable to these ingenious monsters.

A graphic illustration of the difference between government operation of industry and private operation of industry is the history of American railroads during World War I and World War II. During World War I under government operation, the railroads operated at a loss of $1,123,000,000. During World War II under private operation, the railroads made perhaps billions of dollars. Furthermore, during World War I we had near chaos in the movement of freight, while during World War II we moved vast quantities of goods with no piling up or confusion. In other words, private enterprise operated vastly more efficiently and economically than did government enterprise. This is something to think about.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says That There Must Be Some Russians Wondering What Happened To Whom

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has heard about the political changes in Russia, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Every once in a while we all do a lot of jokin' about politicians and it's true they frequently get their feet crossed and are serious when they ought to be funny and a funny when they ought to be serious, which is only natural, it's very true out here, and the even time I'm in a hurry to milk is the time my cow elects to hit me in the face with her tail, kick the bucket over, walk off from her feed, but when she's dry you can't drive her out of the barn, and even sometimes my wife . . . but there ain't no use goin into that, she don't read your paper much but she lines the pantry shelf with it and might stumble onto this, anyway, what I started out to say is that we poke a lot of fun at our politicians and the methods they use to get elected and stay in office, but there is a much worse system than ours in use. You take Russia. A big change in officials has taken place over there, but right now there ain't twenty-five Russians out of 200 million who knows whether Molotov has gone up or down, don't know whether he's headed for the dictator's seat or a jail cell, don't know whether to shake hands with him if they see him or run from him like he had the small pox.

It's about like we woke up and was informed through the newspapers that Vice President Barkley has been removed from office. I don't know about the Russians, but as for me and most Americans I know, we'd be sorta interested in what happened to him.

Or gettin closer to home, suppose there was an announcement in your paper that Mayor Moore has been discontinued. If them Russians can keep on plowin or barberin or clerkin under such circumstances, without even wonderin out loud what happened to the mayor, then they must be entitled to be treated like they are, although, I got a idea they must be as interested in what happened to Molotov as we'd be, and there's bound to be a few women who have to talk about it or bust. Don't they have beauty parlors over there? It just ain't human and normal not to be interested. I don't care whether a man lives in Russia or Munday or London or Paris or out here on Miller Creek. At any rate, even considerin

"MAID OF COTTON" SPARKS EARLY DUSTING DRIVE

Texas cotton growers are being urged by a state committee on insect control to begin fighting crop pests early. Since dusting should be started when cotton plants are chopped and plowed, insecticide manufacturers have moved up Texas shipment dates. Production of one Texas-recommended insecticide, toxaphene, which had sales of more than 30,000,000 pounds over the nation last year, has been stepped up to meet all the farmers' needs in 1949, the makers report. This early dusting campaign is being watched with interest throughout the Cotton South. Pretty Sue Howell, 1949 Maid of Cotton, points to one reason why Texas cotton growers should think of "killing 'em before they get started."

what our system sometimes produces, I'll still take it. I like to know who's gonna run the government, don't make no difference whether he runs it in the ground or not.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Edmond J. Starkey, Helen Sue Barton Wed In Amarillo

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony, Miss Helen Sue Barton of Amarillo and Mr. Edmond J. Starkey of Amarillo, exchanged marriage vows Friday evening, March 4th at 7:00 o'clock, in the presence of many relatives and friends. The double ring ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. Jack Seismore of the Line Avenue Baptist Church.

Members of the wedding party stood before an arch covered with greenery and featuring a large yellow tulip bow at the center; and was flanked on either side by tall baskets of white stock, with smaller yellow bows on their handles. Tall white tapers, burning in double crystal candelabra and more greenery, formed the background for the nuptial space. Other arrangements of yellow jonquils, were used profusely in the room.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barton, of 4005 Lipscomb in Amarillo and the groom is the son of Mrs. Flossie Starkey, 3613 West 6th and Mr. J. J. Starkey, also of Amarillo.

After a piano prelude, Mrs. Margaret Harris Heiny accompanied Mrs. Bob Henderson as she sang, "Because". During the ceremony, the muted strains of "The Lord's Prayer", were heard.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was never lovelier than in her frock of sheer white wool wearing a headdress of white sweet peas and carrying an arrangement of cream rose buds atop a small white Testament. She wore the traditional blue and a luek "Sixpence in her shoe". For her something old and borrowed, she carried an exquisitely fragile handmade handkerchief belonging to Mrs. W. K. Crawley of Lamesa. The handkerchief came from Italy, is 150 years old and was used in royal weddings there in the early 1800's.

Attending her cousin as maid of honor, was Miss Adelaide Barton, gowned in a black taffeta frock, with a miniature nose-gray of pink sweet peas at the neckline.

Lucille Schumacher, Mark Lindeman Are Married February 28

The St. Joseph's Church in Rhineland was the scene of a lovely wedding for Miss Lucille Schumacher of Rhineland and Mr. Mark Lindeman of Windthorst, on February 28th, at 8:30 a. m.

The processional and recessional were played by the organist, Mrs. Francis Albus, who also accompanied the choir during the mass.

The bride wore a floor length bridal gown of marquisette over satin and a floor length veil with a coronet of beading. The bride's bouquet was made up of satin streamers with gladiolus and fern. The bridesmaid and matron of honor having matching mixed flowers in a colonial design and corresponding with the chosen colors of pink, blue and yellow gowns of the attendants.

Best man and groomsmen were Walter Schumacher and man was Mr. Bernard Starkey of 3613 West 6th of Amarillo.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue crepe dress and the groom's mother was dressed in grey crepe. Each of them wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held honoring the bride party, with Mrs. B. L. Bean, sister of the groom, securing signatures for the guest book. The refreshment table, laid with a handsome lace cloth, featured the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom, at one extremity while at the other was the crystal punch bowl. Lighted white tapers in crystal holders completed the table appointments. Mrs. Opal Dee Johnson poured the punch and Mrs. Howard King served the cake, after it first being cut by the bride and groom.

For her "going away" ensemble, the bride chose a charming palomino gabardine suit with hat and gloves in the same color and blouse, shoes and bag in harmonizing boating green. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of cream rose buds.

Mrs. Starkey is a graduate of Munday high school and has attended Amarillo College and West Texas State at Canyon. She is a member of Nu Phi Mu Sorority and is presently employed by the Veteran's Administration in Amarillo.

Mr. Starkey is a graduate of Amarillo high school, having served about three years in the United States Navy during the war. He is an employee of the City of Amarillo in the Electrical Department.

After a short honeymoon trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, the newly weds will be at home to their friends at 104 East 21st St. in Amarillo.

4-H Club Awards Stress Farm Woodlot Management

Young people everywhere are taking increased interest in forest management. These two youths are receiving a lesson in the use of the incrementor, an instrument used to determine growth rate of trees. Professional forester, right, instructs.

For the second straight year local farm boys and girls have a chance to compete for state and national awards in a 4-H club forestry project. Three hundred dollar college scholarships plus all-expense paid trips to the 1949 4-H Club Congress in Chicago will go to four national winners in the forestry contest.

Four-H Club members interested in forestry are eligible to compete. In addition to the four top awards, to be distributed on a regional basis, each of the state winners will receive a gold medal.

The 4-H forestry project emphasizes youth's stake in the woodlands of this state. Farmer owned woodlands today constitute a major portion of the Nation's commercial forest area. They represent also a steady source of wealth to their owners that in many cases is virtually untapped.

American Forest Products Industries, a national, non-profit association of wood-dependent industries, is sponsor of the 4-H forestry awards. Last year 18 states participated in the national forestry competition. College scholarships went to club members representing Idaho, Georgia, New York and Wisconsin.

"Opportunities for farmers, who manage their woodlands for continuing forest crops, are greater today than ever before," Charles A. Gillet, managing director of American Forest Products Industries, declared in announcing his organization's sponsorship of the 1949 award. "The importance of good forest management practices on the Nation's farms cannot be overemphasized."

Detailed information about the 4-H forestry project may be obtained from the county extension agent.

Demand For Eggs To Continue Strong During This Year

The egg-shaped crystal ball of the Texas A&M College extension specialists in poultry husbandry, and agricultural economics has several pictures for the 1949 poultry prospects.

Pieces are expected to be about like those of last year, and they may average higher for the first half and a little lower for the second half of the year. Texas farms will have fewer layers, but the demand for eggs is still strong. Total egg production this year may be as high as it was last year, these specialists believe.

Feed for layers is more plentiful these days, and prices may drop this year about one-fourth lower than last year. This year's pullet crop is expected to jump sharply, which means Texas will have a large holding of layers by next January 1.

From the poultry meat angle, the crystal ball shows that recent prices of broilers and turkeys is good. This will likely make for larger production this year. Out looks on the feed supply show there is plenty, and the costs are more favorable. The demand for broilers and turkeys is dropping off slightly, but prices are expected to remain near the '48 level in first half, and less favorable the latter part.

Transportation, equipment and other production costs—except feed—may go up some. On the other hand, a higher net income from broilers is expected. As for turkeys, a larger number is predicted for 1949, giving an improved outlet for hatching eggs, say these specialists.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How's Your Listening Time?

Buck Howell and I were in Balconville last week. Dropped in at Bob's diner where some friends were sitting around talking about whether to sell hogs now or wait.

Buck plunges right into the discussion. He's lecturing away when suddenly they all stand up and start stomping their feet like it was an Indian war dance.

I'm flabbergasted. But Buck only looked sheepish and explains, "Guess I was talking again, when I should've been listening. When a person's talking time gets out of line with his listening time around here, the gang reminds him by standing up and stomping."

From where I sit, that's a good system. Everyone has a right to his opinions—but others have a right to theirs, too—whether it's deciding between to sell or not to sell, apple pie or cherry pie, or a glass of mellow beer or cider. Life's more interesting that way, and hang it if you don't sometimes learn something!

New Plymouth Cars Go on Display At Local Dealers

The new line of Plymouth automobiles, with outstanding mechanical improvements and up-to-date styling, make their appearance in dealer show-rooms here and throughout the United States Friday, J. E. Reeves, owner of the Reeves Motor Co.; N. A. Chastain, president of the Munday Truck and Tractor Co., and I. V. Cook, manager of the Munday Auto Co., announced today. Completely redesigned and streamlined, the new Plymouth contains a 97-horse-power engine which is smoother, livelier, and more economical. Other changes make notable contributions to beauty, safety, and passenger comfort.

Wheelbase has been increased for a better ride and more road stability but at the same time the over-all length has been reduced for ease of handling. Although lower and narrower, the new bodies provide greater interior room for passengers. The car's appearance reflects a complete change from last year's models. The Plymouths may be seen at Reeves Motor Co., Munday Truck and Tractor Co., and Munday Auto Co. Designers have achieved a "common sense" streamlining in which ease of handling, safety and comfort have received strong consideration. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal masses so costly to repair or replace.

Increased visibility is provided in the windshield which is 37 percent larger and the rear window which is 35.4 percent larger. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area.

Sedan seats are wider and deeper, both in front and rear. The width of both cushions has been increased (5" in front, 6" in rear—front seat width 56", rear seat width 57") with panels and arm rests so located as to take maximum advantage of the interior space. Rear seat room in the Club Coupe has been increased to the equivalent of the sedan. There is more head and leg room in the Sedan rear seat.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. There are four special deluxe and two deluxe types on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase. This wheelbase group consists of a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

Available on the 118-inch wheelbase will be a club coupe and a four-door sedan in the deluxe series, while the special deluxe group will include both the station wagon.

Engine performance and efficiency has been improved with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster response to throttle opening.

The longer wheelbase allows a "cradled ride," as passengers are more nearly centered between the axles. Another contribution toward smooth riding qualities is the addition of diagonally-mounted shock absorbers at the rear of the car, greater rebound control in the front shock absorbers, and the newly designed rubber limit bumpers. The new

Unto the Least Of These

Small victims of a tornado tell their story to a Red Cross disaster worker in a temporary shelter where they are being cared for with hundreds of others whose homes were destroyed by the storm.

Shock absorbers also allow greater road clearance and reduce idesway.

Interior design of the Plymouth provides many driver and passenger comforts and conveniences. Sedans have the rear door hinged from the center post for easy entrance and exit. The seats, front and rear, have a three-pillow cushion while seat backs have a full pillow on each side and three vertical pipes in the center. Imitation leather kick pads are carried around the seat bases and on the floor base. New more rugged window regulators close or open windows with half the number of turns formerly required. Instrument panels with a new grain finish have been redesigned and relocated for ease in reading gauges. The glove box latch has been improved for more easy opening. A new, easily operated vent window lock has been designed to reduce theft of articles from parked cars, and the ignition cable has been heavily armored from the ignition switch through to the engine compartment as a safeguard against car theft.

A new automatic electric choke, of the same type used on other Chrysler Corporation cars, has been added. Among the outstanding innovations is the combination ignition and starter switch which completely eliminates the starter button. The car starts by turning the ignition key slightly beyond the "ignition on" position. When released the key automatically returns to "ignition on" position. The device is not only a driver convenience, but makes it impossible for children to move cars which are parked and left in gear by accidentally pushing the starter button.

A new fresh air car heater, which steps up defrosting and more readily removes window fog, is available in three models. Located under the hood, the new

Headlights equipped with a bulls-eye lens in the center of the sealed-beam lens provide substantially increased light output. Plastic lenses have been installed in the stop, tail, and parking lights. The lenses are more resistant to breakage, and provide better sealing at points where dust and dirt might enter. A new enclosed circuit breaker, interchangeable with those used on other Chrysler Corporation cars, eliminates the need for replacing lighting system fuses. The addition of a 10,000 ohm suppressor permits the use of a larger initial spark plug gap, resulting in improved idling and low speed, light load performance. The push-pull type of switch for headlights, panel lights and heater has been replaced with rotary-action, dust-proof switches, and a new magnetic-type fuel gauge gives immediate reading when the ignition switch is turned on.

FARM NEWS

PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

Arrange For Dirt Moving Practice

Farmers of Knox County who are planning to carry out dirt moving practices under the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program should make arrangements now for equipment, advises Emmet Partridge, Chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation Association Committee.

Farmers who depend on contractors to carry out dirt moving practices for them may be unable to get the work done if arrangements are delayed too long. Early indication of the amount of work to be done will give contractors a chance to plan their work in an orderly manner.

The chairman explains that the reduction in funds for conservation under the 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program meant less for dirt moving practices. This in turn has resulted in the turning of dirt moving equipment to other jobs and less equipment may be available for conservation practices in 1949. An early indication of how much dirt moving will be carried out under the 1949 program will give contractors an opportunity to provide additional equipment if needed. Dirt moving practices under the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program include such projects as terracing, construction of erosion-control and stock-water dams, digging drainage ditches, leveling land to obtain more efficient use of irrigation water, construction of small irrigation reservoirs, enlarging old canals and ditches and building new canals and ditches for conservation of irrigation water and to prevent erosion.

Under the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program cooperating farmers may obtain assistance in carrying out approved dirt moving conservation practices. This assistance amounts to about half the "out-of-pocket" cost of the practice.

Food's On—Come and Get It

Milk, hot coffee, and sandwiches look good to dike patrollers when rising waters threaten their homes and fields. Red Cross canteen workers keep busy "dishing up" around the clock.

Through Dams And Ponds

Livestock ponds on farms constructed by dams have several values:

(1) They catch run-off water and prevent washing and flood damage by diverting the water from head streams and checking and velocity of the water before it reaches overflow capacity.

(2) They provide water for livestock in years of drought. They also provide for better distribution of livestock water and grazing.

(3) They stop gullies made and prevent new ones.

(4) They aid, as do many other farm practices, in encouraging wild life development.

Poor land cut by gullies with streams and lakes filled with sediment offers little help for spawning conditions of fish and breeding of wild birds and animals. DAMS AND PONDS FOR A VITAL PART OF ACP—The ACP embodies the whole scope of activities needed to protect our food, feed, and water supplies. The practices in which the Government investments are made for these purposes are approved by the leading agricultural authorities in the country. The money that Congress appropriates ($62 1/2 million for 1949) for this investment in soil and water conservation is divided among the states and counties according to the needs.

MOVING DIRT TO MAKE IT STAND STILL—Farmers put up as much money as the Government and furnish most of the work in the Agricultural Conservation Program. Such practices as contouring, stripcropping, terracing, sod waterways, dams, ponds and spillways, all work directly into the conservation of both soil and water and better livestock production. No matter how good the feed, livestock will not thrive without plentiful water supplies.

Farm Machinery Prices Stand At Record High

Farm Machinery prices are still climbing. They have gone up continuously for the past eight years, and right now are at a record high.

That's the report from W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A&M College.

He says that in last September, prices were 62 percent higher than in 1940, and 15 percent higher than in September of 1947.

As for this year, farm machinery and motor fuel prices are expected to remain high. And, as things look now, he says, farmers will have to continue to buy tractors and tractor equipment on a seller's market thru this year, even though there was a record production last year. This production will probably continue in 1949.

Cement, nails and paint supplies look favorable. Reports are that the cold weather and seasonal building slump have made cement more available. This is an item short in supply. If any farmers have been looking for this material and are fixed so they can use it now, this should be a good time to check up on local stocks, suggests W. S. Allen, extension agricultural buildings engineer of Texas A&M College.

The nail supply is building up somewhat at this time, and paint of pre-war quality is now available. Allen warns prospective buyers to beware of low quality, as such types don't have the carrying agents and pigments that make for long-lasting coats of paint, he says.

School Lands Benefitted By Court Decision

AUSTIN—Land Commissioner Bascom Giles points to a recent decision by the Texas Supreme Court as "another milestone in the development of our public school domain."

The ruling reaffirmed the constitutionality of the so-called Relinquishment Act, which stated that the State's leasing agent must begin drilling within 100 days when oil is discovered within 1,000 feet of school land.

Associate Justice V. St. John Garwood said that "if the agency of the surface owner should result in failure to drill an important offset well" (to prevent drainage of oil), then the Commissioner of the General Land Office could take the matter "out of the agent's hands altogether and lease the minerals directly."

The decision clarifies the State's authority over some 7,000,000 acres of Texas school land on which surface rights have been sold, Giles said.

"These lands may at present be leased for oil production by surface right owners who are authorized to act as agents of the state," Giles explained. "But if the surface right owner does not act in the best interests of the State, his right as an agent is forfeited."

The lease involved was for a 140-acre tract in Crance County which eventually was assigned to the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company. When drilling was not begun within 100 days after production was reported within 1,000, Giles refused to accept a second lease executed by the surface owners to the Cities Service Oil Company. The bonus offered in this second lease was $5,250.

The lease was re-sold at scaled bid auction with a bonus payment of $101,315.

The favorable ruling by the Supreme Court continued Giles' record of never having a mandamus upheld since he took office ten years ago.

BOYCE HOUSE

Gives You Texas

The man on the street is a bit distrustful of college professors as being on the impractical side. And the man on the street isn't far wrong. For example:

The dean of an Oklahoma University is writing a book about words and expressions used by the people of the Southwest, according to the papers, and in explaining the expression, "squirrel whisky", he says maybe it's called that because it makes people act nutty.

Any body ought to be able to figure out a simpler explanation and a more logical one than that. (If the dean was joking, that was "unscholarly" and such antics are liable to put him in bad standing with the Professional Ph. D's).

Squirrel whisky makes the imbibor frisky, like a squirrel. If the dean would go down and mingle with the boys at the barbershop, he would hear the story about the Swede who said he wanted to buy some liquor. "Do you want some squirrel whisky?" he asked. Ole replied, "No, give me some toad-frog whisky; I don't want to climb; I yooost bane want to yump around a little."

There is no charge to the dean for setting him right on this.

But I still think he ought to stick to some subject like the amount of starch that Sir Walter Raleigh used in those ruffed collars.

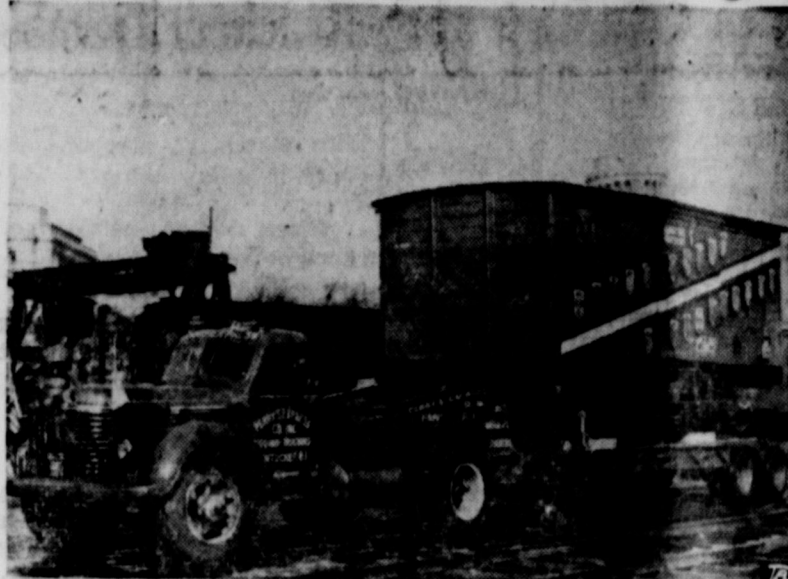

Dallas folks like to josh Fort Worth citizens about the stockyards and they tell the story of two men on a train. One said, "We are approaching Ft. Worth" and the other said, "Yes—I just got wind of it."

Also that when, a few years ago, there was a strike and the stockyards closed down, fliers had to use their instruments in finding Fort Worth; ordinarily, they just used their sense of smell.

Every now and then, you hear someone say, "Some of our biggest men came from small towns." Yes—and some of the ablest men stay there because they prefer the neighborliness of a small town to the rush and roar of a city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Browning and Jan of Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Browning of Fort Worth spent last week end here with relatives and friends.

Six Million Frenchmen Can't Be Wrong

The gifts of six million Frenchmen to the United States in gratitude for the aid Americans have given France were included in the "Merci Train" which recently arrived in the United States. Here is one of the famed old World War I French freight cars, remembered by the Doughboys of a generation ago, resting on a Fruehauf carryall trailer, as it was presented to the state of Rhode Island loaded with gifts. The symbols of all French provinces are exhibited on both sides of the old car which gave the American Legion the name of its companion organization—The Forty And Eight.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Measles and chickenpox have been widespread throughout the State during the past few weeks, and in the week ending March 5th measles reached a total number of cases, 3909, that was the second highest in history. Chickenpox was almost twice the seven year median, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer has stated that there is an unusual number of adults suffering from this so-called "Childhood" disease.

"Both these diseases are extremely contagious", Dr. Cox said, "and the strictest isolation and sanitation precautions are necessary to halt their spread. Dishes, toys, towels, or anything that has been around the patient can carry the germs to other members of the household, and all such articles should be thoroughly disinfected before being handled by others susceptible to these diseases."

The State Health Officer recommended that a physician be called immediately when a child shows any beginning symptoms of chickenpox or measles, and that his advice be followed implicitly until complete recovery. Dangerous complications often accompany or follow measles, and a child may have his entire future health endangered unless he receives competent care during his illness.

"It is not advisable to treat these childhood diseases too lightly", Dr. Cox said. "They are sometimes responsible for nothing more than a few days discomfort, but we cannot count on that. They should be taken seriously, and receive a competent doctor's supervision and attention."

A Winter In Nebraska Has Made Texan Like Texas Even Better

If you want to get in touch with Russell Hays, you should be able to reach him quickly in San Angelo. He's back there now and intends to stay around pretty close.

"If I live to be 110 years old," he said this week, "I'll never leave West Texas again."

Russell returned a few days ago from Sidney, Nebraska, and when he reached the Texas line he felt an urge to get down, like the character in the show "Red River," and kiss the soil of the Lone Star State.

This fondness for West Texas is not merely the reaction which Chamber of Commerce of the area say is natural for anybody with good judgement. It springs from one of the most trying experiences any stockman has had to go through in recent years.

When you take 16,627 Texas lambs to Nebraska wheat fields and count 12,024 of them dead a short time later, your natural homesickness for Texas is likely to become intensified.

Russell shipped the sheep last November 1. He distributed them on wheat in the Sidney area, dividing them into 11 bands under herders. The sheep thrived on the fields, and despite fluctuations in the market it seemed they might show a decent profit because they gained in flesh rapidly. Then, on January 2, a blizzard struck. The thermometer fell below sea level and stayed there for two months in a row.

Roads were impassable, so it was impossible to get to the sheep by land. It was so cold, dogs and cats froze to death around farm houses. Farmers' fat hogs froze to death in their pens. Most of the pheasants froze to death, and so did quite a few farmers and sheepherders. It was almost impossible to start an automobile, even when the Fifth Army came in to open roads so cars could be used.

Russell knew his sheep were dying by the hundreds, but he had no way of telling just how many hundred. So he welcomed the offer of the Army to lend C-47 transports to haul hay to the marooned sheep camps. First "hay lift" operations were tried

THE SPIRIT OF RESEARCH
By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

WHAT HAS happened to the half-starved genius, who used to toil in some lonely attic, hoping to invent the wonder of the age? His day is just about over. There are not so many of these lone-wolf inventors as there were in grandpa's time. Don't we give patents any more? It isn't that. America is still the land of liberty and opportunity. A man can still build his gadget and risk his first million. Some do. That spirit remains.

But better ways have been found. The newer term "research" is gradually replacing the older term "invention." Our complex age has made specialization necessary, and this has been true of invention, or product development. To solve the problems of the day, the new way is to bring together many different minds, each highly trained in its own way. Industry is doing just this, and we call it research.

Money for THE SPIRIT OF the Research attic inventor is there, but the tools and the methods are different. While the half-starved inventor struggled along with almost no financial backing, the modern research team requires and uses vast amounts of money.

Now, I wonder if Joe Doe, member of Local 382, understands why his company put down in its 1947 annual report: for Research and Development, $2,000,000. In round figures, that was the sum spent last year by a company that employs about 8,000 persons. Some companies spend more. One of the firms that manufacture rayon reports that it has spent more than $50,000,000 since it became interested in that product. True, it may seem like a lot of money your company is spending for research, Joe. But remember this: research money comes right back to you in a thousand ways.

Spirit of ACTUALLY, the company that does not spend for research, for better ways of producing better products, is a company that will lose out and close down in the long run. A more enterprising competitor will wind up with the consumer's dollar!

The company that spends for research is the company that I would want to work for. It is also the company whose stock I'd be willing to buy. I am convinced that when many industries are putting large sums of money into research, to find the answers to problems that face them and the consumer, that money is well spent. Years of time and millions of dollars may be behind a new product. But it may be worth far more. Many a new job and a much better product may be the result.

I mentioned rayon. Nowadays, nylon is newer. The DuPont Company spent 11 years of research before they could even announce nylon, and used up $11,000,000 before a penny was earned from the product. That kind of thing can happen only in America, and under free enterprise. The freedom to venture and to look for the better way of doing things, for the newer and better product, belongs to the spirit of America, and it is responsible for our high wages and our high standard of living.

on his lambs, with hay supplied by the Denver Stockyards. Four of the big planes, each carrying 40 tons of baled hay, would fly in a line from one camp to another, and an Air Force GI would kick out a bale from each plane over each camp until the load was entirely dumped.

In order to try to see how many sheep had been lost, Russell boarded one of the Army planes. He had to sign formal papers releasing the Army from any responsibility in case he failed to return from the mission. He was also asked to indicate who should be notified in case of a fatal accident. Russell put down the name of his bank in Denver.

"They'll be especially interested," he said. None of the herders working for Russell were casualties of the weather. They happened to have plenty of food and fuel. But they couldn't do anything about the freezing sheep, but cause it was all the men could do to stay alive by remaining in their camps by a good fire.

Just before Russell returned to Texas, never, he says, to stray again, he got a count on his dead lambs and shipped his remaining "On March 17, everyone wants to be a McSomething."

Which reminds us that a well-known person, whom we imagine is Irish to some extent, Mr. "McBoycie McHouse" is going to speak at the annual banquet of the Community Development Association in Munday.

The banquet was slated for March 31, but Boyce couldn't be here. Then it was decided to have it April 7, but the school gym had already been spoken for. So now it looks like April 1st is the live ones to Omaha. He delivered 9,200 carcasses to a rendering plant. Representatives of the insurance company which had the sheep "covered" counted the remaining carcasses and the live animals and the final count of 12,024 dead ones was accepted by all concerned. Russell had the lambs insured for $16 per head, and while the insurance company had not settled the claim early this week, the San Angelo livestock dealer said he was confident full settlement would be forthcoming within a few days.

But this won't prevent Russell from losing a lot of money. And it won't change his opinion of Nebraska, regardless of how unhappy his expression of that opinion may have made Chamber of Commerce boosters of that state.

He advised the people around Sidney he "couldn't understand why anybody would live in that country when they could move to Texas."—West Texas Livestock Weekly.
