Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

He saw things taking place on the school grounds. He didn't know what the score was. He asked; he was told; he wrote out a check for $25.00.

"That's one of the greatest moves the school, town and community has ever undertaken to provide activity for the youth of the town," he said as he handed over the check.

He doesn't have a child to benefit by the movement, either. So it appears that those who do have children should be even more interested.

And we'll bet Clay Grove don't know any more about tennis than we do. And we're just about as ignorant about the game as the woman was who said, in talking about golf, "Why, I wouldn't know which end of the caddy to pick up!"

Yes, it's tennis courts we're talking about—those that are being constructed on the school grounds. They're going to be about the snazziest things hereabouts.

The school board was interested but was faced with a shortage of funds. The people were interested but didn't have a starting point. The school kids were interested.

A group of local boys—the boys who operate places of business here in town—who are always interested in pushing things through for the community, decided to push this through, too.

They conferred among themselves; they conferred with the school board; things began to take on shape.

The school board furnished the grounds and 1,000 bucks. $280.00 raised in the youth drive during the latter part of last year and added to the fund. The independent basket-ballers chipped in $100 which they cleared on their tournament; the P.T.A. added $500.

And that adds up to $1,880, the total finances now on hand. Another 1,300 bucks is needed to complete the project.

A deep layer of "blow sand" will form the base. The top will be concrete. Sand for the base and gravel for the concrete were placed on the scene by donation, and everybody's plumb grateful to a certain gentleman who had this done.

Back-stop posts have been secured, too. They're old burned-out boiler flues that were purchased from the Farmers Coop. Gin.

The concrete slab will be 86x100 feet, making two tennis courts, or a double court. The concrete will be dyed, tinted, or something, making a pleasing greenish color. It will be restful to the eyes and attractive to the surroundings.

The court will be lighted for night play. Engineering assistance on this is being secured from West Texas Utilities Co.

At night, the courts will be operated on a sort of "pay as you play" basis. A paymeter will be installed at each court. You can drop the "chips" in there and play as long as they last.

As was stated when the move first started, the school will have priority over the courts during school hours, or at any other time they're needed by the school. Generally speaking, however, they'll be open for the public during the evenings.

The tennis courts are something that'll be there from here on out. They're just as permanent as concrete is permanent. Kiddoes that are too young to be in school now will enjoy them in later years.

People of all ages can enjoy them. There you may go to work off your surplus energy, if any. There you can play, and sweat, and puff and blow, and breathe the fresh air deep into

Building Plans Get Started At Baptist Church

They mean business—we know they do—because there's some sand and gravel, or something, piled up there on the lot where a new church is to be erected.

Members of the First Baptist church are about to bring their new building into maturity. They expect to get the plan approved this week, and they are advertising the sale of their annex buildings.

One annex is a box-stripped building 28x28, the other is a frame building 30x40. These will be sold on Saturday, May 28.

Next week they will announce the method of sale, and perhaps some active work will be started on the new church edifice.

Rabid Dog Killed At Hefner Sunday

Mr. McSwain, who lives on the Hamp Jones place in the Hefner community, reported this week that he killed a mad dog last Sunday afternoon.

"There is no question in my mind but that the dog had rabies," McSwain said. People whose dogs become sick should watch them carefully, local citizens warn, since there is a possibility of them having rabies.

Lightning Takes Toll Of W. Harris Bundled Feed

"The thunder roared and the lightning flashed." And Walter Harris lost his bundled feed! It all happened around six o'clock Monday morning, Walter said. There was thunder and lightning at this time, but Walter and Peggy were inside the house.

Came milking time, and they discovered the feed stack had burned. It had been set by lightning. Between 500 and 600 bundles were burned.

Seymour Hosts To 91st Masonic Association

The Seymour lodge was host lodge at the regular meeting of the 91st District Masonic Association last Tuesday evening.

A delicious fish fry was served to the members at 6:30 p. m. at the Seymour park. After the supper, they gathered in the school auditorium for their regular business session.

L. D. Jones of Seymour served as master of ceremonies. After several musical selections, the lodge was tiled and regular business was dispensed with.

An inspirational address was made by C. C. McDonald, attorney of Wichita Falls, who used the subject, "Pursuit of Happiness." The speaker was introduced by Judge Joe Wheat of Seymour.

Between 60 and 75 members attended the meeting, despite the stormy weather. The next meeting will be at Haskell on the third Tuesday in July.

Members from Munday who attended are J. C. Harpham, Aaron Edgar, Clyde Hendrix and Chester Bowden.

Blue Cross Is Coming Back To Knox County

Announcement was made this week that the Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan is coming back to Knox county for another county-wide enrollment drive.

The Blue Cross will be expanded this time to give greater coverage, including the Blue Shield, which will include both medical and surgical coverage in addition to hospital coverage.

The drive will be made sometime in July, and this will be the only time local people may enroll in the Blue Cross plan except in groups. The plan is being brought back to Knox county through the insistence of local people who realize the need for such a plan for people of the area.

Further details of the drive will be published prior to the opening date.

Rain, Storms Harrass Area During Week

While twisters skip-hopped over much of Texas, doing damage as near as Rochester on Tuesday, this area received more rain during the past few days.

Rainfall in Munday, as recorded by H. P. Hill, U. S. weather observer, amounted to .98 of an inch during the past week, bringing the year's total to 11.67 inches.

So far, the immediate area has been outside the tornado and hail zone.

At Rochester, a small twister destroyed outbuildings and killed a cow last Tuesday, but no one was injured. Some hail followed in the wake of the twister. Knox City reported a heavy rain Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by some hail. Munday received only a light shower.

Three twisters were seen "crusing" around the river breaks north of Benjamin Tuesday, but they were in the rough ranch country and did not destroy any buildings. Residents of Benjamin stood in the streets and watched the funnels in their course.

With wheat fields beginning to turn, farmers are hoping for several weeks of dry weather so this year's wheat crop can be harvested. Many combines are already coming into the area, getting ready for the harvest.

Billy J. Lain has returned to his naval base in San Diego, Calif., after a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lain.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?

1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

POINT OF NO RETURN

The Farm Journal, which has a very large circulation among rural families throughout the United States, recently ran an exceptional editorial, which deserves the widest possible circulation. Here is what the Journal said:

"Never has a nation recovered itself, once the leaders have lured the people far into the grip of socialistic power. You can call the roll as far back as history reaches. Countries go on down to catastrophe: as Germany and Italy have gone, as Rome went, and as Russia will go.

"Americans for a century and a half supported their government, kept it well out of their affairs, and so became the earth's richest people. Now more and more we ask the government to support us.

"Government offers more 'help' for agriculture, housing, education, health and other things. Everybody is encouraged to ask for something. Every government aid means more taxes and more regulation. Each new experiment fastens onto the people a new load, and the load remains."

"When a flier risks stormy weather over the ocean, he approaches what airmen call 'point of no return.' Beyond that he cannot return to safety. He must take his chance on getting through.

"How near is the U. S. A. to Point of No Return?"

The Munday Times is Democratic, yet supporting only what it believes to be right, and opposing what it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics, publishing news fairly, impartially.

PRICES AND ACREAGES

Recently there has been a great deal of talk about cotton price supports and the prospects of acreage allotments.

In this connection we rather like a statement by Harold A. Young, the Arkansas cotton farmer who is president of the National Cotton Council. "Cotton's ultimate price, and cotton's ultimate acreage," said Mr. Young, "depend inexorably on the volume of intensity of consumer demand."

To us that seems to sum up the situation in a few simple yet potent words.

The classic work of the National Cotton Council during the past ten years toward building cotton's markets—both industrial and apparel and household—has proved that cotton men can influence tremendously their own futures.

Research now in progress as a result of Council efforts is serving to improve cotton's qualities and lower cotton's production costs. Council-sponsored promotion effort has had a vast influence on cotton's improved position in many vitally important markets.

It is stimulating indeed to witness the nation's cotton farmers, ginner, warehousemen, merchants, cotton spinners, and cottonseed crushers act in unity successfully to lift themselves by their own bootstraps.

Only this week, state officials of the Cotton Council announced an intensive campaign to enlist the financial support of all members of the cotton industry in the research and promotion program which holds the eventual solution to all of cotton's problems.

We believe that it is sound business for the cotton people to support the Council program. We agree with Mr. Young that cotton's price and acreage ultimately depend on the consumer demand for cotton and cottonseed products—a demand which can be created only through adequate sales and research efforts.

If you spend a dollar in your home town, you have some hope of getting it back; if you don't, you just spend a dollar.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14, 1949—One gets tired at times of committee hearings, of congressional debate, and of the eternal tug-of-war that goes on hereabouts over numerous controversial matters. One can usually rest his mind by exploring some of the historical spots in and around Washington.

Among the spots enshrouded with the secrets of a near-forgotten past, is a plot now trash-strewn and covered with underbrush. It is known to historians as "The Valley of Chance" a half mile beyond the District line, in Maryland. They say that spot is soaked with enough blood to do justice to a battlefield. Many dramatic chapters in Washington's history were written there—the old dueling grounds where men met to avenge their names, and in defense of honor.

The first man to be wounded there was a congressman, Barent Gardenier of New York, in a duel with Rep. George W. Campbell of Tennessee in March 1808. The match stemmed from a verbal battle on the House floor, and Gardenier was seriously, though not mortally wounded. After that fracas, Mr. Gardenier was reelected to Congress and Rep. Campbell was appointed Minister to Russia.

Five years later, Lt. Col. Thomas Flourney, of Andrew Jackson's army, fought a duel at the same place and wounded his opponent. Shortly after that, Ensign Edward Hopkins, whose home was in sight of the Valley, was mortally wounded while engaging in the "Code Duello" there.

But the place was not nationally known until General Armistead T. Mason, an ex-Senator from Virginia and Col. John M. McCarty, first cousins, settled a long-standing quarrel in 1819. They met in a violent snowstorm and faced each other only 12 feet apart. Both fell—Mason was dead and McCarty seriously wounded.

It was the historic duel between Commodores Stephen Decatur and James Barron, in which Decatur was killed, that made The Valley of Chance world-known. That occurred in 1820—March 22.

In 1826, Senator Randolph made a speech on the Senate floor accusing Henry Clay, then Secretary of State, of forging a letter from the Mexican Minister to Washington. Clay promptly challenged the Senator to a duel, and they met in The Valley of Chance. Shots were exchanged but neither was wounded. Clay demanded a second firing but Randolph refused. The Secretary then advanced to shake hands, exclaiming "I trust in God, my dear sir, that you are untouched! After what has happened, I would not have harmed you for a thousand worlds!" "You owe me a coat, Mr. Clay," replied Randolph, smiling, as he showed a bullet hole through his cloak. The two exchanged cards the following Monday and were warm friends after that.

Congress finally passed an anti-duelling bill for the District in 1839. But duels continued at The Valley of Chance. As late as 1847, two lieutenants blasted away at each other in a dawn battle there. But by the 1850's public opinion had changed. No longer was a man considered a coward if he declined a challenge or if he apologized.

The saga of duels at The Valley of Chance finally ended in 1868 when Gen. Lawrence, U. S. Minister to Costa Rica and Baron Kusseron, Secretary to the German Legation, met and exchanged fire but without results.

Folks over in Maryland still hope a suitable marker will be erected at The Valley of Chance before the site is obscured forever.

This week the President brought the matter of increased taxes and the public debt again to the forefront. Just how much we should be guided by the admonitions and philosophies of the Founding Fathers is, of course, questionable. However, Mr. Thomas Jefferson had the following to say concerning public debt. "I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our comforts, in our labors and in our amusements. If we cannot prevent the government from wasting the labors of people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence which in private life would forbid our paying our money for unexplained projects forbids it in the disposition of public money. We are endeavoring to reduce the government to the practice of rigid economy to avoid burdening the people and arming the Magistrate with a patronage of money which might be used to corrupt the principles of our government."

Miss Frances Smith of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, spent last week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith, and with friends.

Miss Billy Fern Thompson, who is attending McMurry College in Abilene, visited her father, T. L. Thompson, and friends over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Browning visited relatives in Fort Worth last week end.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Leans Method To Stop Erosion Without Aid Of Experts—He Just Stops Plowing

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek, if you ask us, is merely hunting an excuse to loaf, his letter this week reveals, but we're publishing it for what it's worth. Dear editor!

For years and years I've been listenin to people tell farmers how to conserve their land, and according to the city advisers it's easy, all you have to do is terrace your land and do a few other simple things which they make sound about like sending your suit to the cleaners and sit back and grow prosperous, but it don't work that way. Buildin a terrace is hard work, re-buildin it after it washes out is harder, and gettin the money to do it with is harder'n that.

However, I believe in savin the soil, and I have a method that will do it, without technical advice from the experts, without no Washington bulletins, without no appropriations, without even callin up the county agent. Just stop plowin.

The average American gets nearly all of his calories from fats, sugars and alcohol. His appetite for soft drinks, alcoholic beverages, and pastries made of sugar or starch and fat adds up too many calories for the best of health. Such calories may also be eaten at the expense of other nutrients which the average American needs.

Plowin is what causes erosion. Didn't have no erosion to speak of when the Indians and the buffaloes was in control of this country. Leave the ground alone and it'll stay where it is. It took me a long time to discover this fact, for years I plowed my land without knowin it was helpin it wear away, although I knew all along somethin was wearin me away and wasn't no doubt in my mind it was plowin.

As I see it, if a man's gonna lose money farmin anyway, he might as well lose it and be a conservationist at the same time. It's easier and you can do it from the front porch. The thought of me out there goin up one row and down another helpin deplete this nation's greatest resource was too much for a thinkin man, a man who has some consideration for future generations, and I quit. Left my plow where it broke down last, sold my mules for five dollars apiece, and turned my land into pasture, which is the easiest operation I ever undertook, all I had to do was leave it alone.

Now I ain't recommendin every farmer ought to follow my example, some of em seem to enjoy plowin and I believe in free enterprise and lettin a man do what he pleases, but as for me I have decided to practice soil conservation a hundred percent for awhile. May plow down my income, but it sure does cut off my overhead. The next time somebody tells you I'm lazy, will appreciate you pointin out I'm in the vanguard of progress, savin my land for future generations. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Trace elements—zinc, copper, manganese and boron—may be applied to the soil or sprayed on the plants when they are needed to correct nutritional disturbances. Because only a small quantity of these elements are needed, many folks overlook their importance when it comes to plant growth.

Reduction Made In Servel Prices

A drastic reduction in the price of Servel Gas Refrigerators ranging from $10 to $65 per model was announced today by Chester L. May, vice president of Lone Star Gas Company, distributor and dealer in this area. In addition to Lone Star, Stanley Wardlaw Appliance Co. is a Servel dealer in this territory. "These price reductions," Mr. May said, "will be effective immediately on both the eight cubic foot models, the two six cubic foot models, and the W-700 model. The only Servel refrigerator which is not affected by the price cut is the small four cubic foot apartment house refrigerator."

Servel, in making their part of the reductions on their wholesale prices stated—they are not a result of any reduction in current costs, but an anticipation of increased labor efficiency and a greater sales volume resulting from the price reductions.

Farm-To-Market Road Program Up To Commissioners

AUSTIN—Success or failure of the $30,000,000 rural road program voted by the legislature depends to a degree on county commissioners. Representative Preston E. Smith of Lubbock said today.

It is the commissioners' responsibility to survey their own area and determine where each county's allocation should be spent for farm-to-market roads, Smith pointed out.

He added that when their study was completed, the commissioners should present their findings to the district highway engineer so that he can make recommendations to the state highway department.

"The quicker this work is done, the better," Smith said. "We all know that the funds are going to run out before all the meritorious roads are built. The counties who first present their facts will be the ones to get the roads."

Farm-to-market roads will be placed on the basis of merit with respect to population and vehicle miles traveled, Smith said he had been informed by highway department authorities.

It has been estimated that 25,000 miles of farm-to-market roads will be completed under the program, Smith said, "and when you divide that by the number of counties in Texas, it's not much mileage for each county."

The Lubbock representative called on county commissioners to carry out their part of the program—including the provision of right-of-way—to insure efficient and economical use of the money provided by the legislature.

"I have always been interested in the rural road program," Smith declared, "and I have worked for it ever since I have been in the legislature."

He said that while the appropriation of $30,000,000 for farm roads—the first of its kind—was inadequate to complete the desired rural network, "at least it is a start, and perhaps in the future more funds can be provided for this purpose."

Smith called for conscientious work on the part of all concerned in getting rural road construction under way.

"If we can make a good start in Texas," he argued, "and if we can show that the money is being spent to the best advantage in providing roads for those who need them most, then I am confident that there will be no great difficulty in continuing the program and in expanding it from year to year."

During the first few months of a baby's life, he needs more nightgowns than dresses and pretty clothes. Nightgowns should be easy to wash, quickly dried, easy to put on, comfortable and warm.

Insured Farm Mortgages Is Aid To Borrower And Offer A Sound Investment To Leading Agencies

Lenders now have open to them a new investment field in cooperation with the Farmers Home Administration of the Department of Agriculture, as a result of recent amendments to the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act. This new field is also proving a great help to the borrower who is unable to get the necessary credit through usual credit channels. Veterans are given preference on all loans.

The Farmers Home Administration, with offices in Seymour, is serving three counties of this area, Baylor, Knox and Throckmorton.

Through this administration, banks and other lending agencies may make farm real estate loans and have their investment insured by the government. Loans up to 90 percent of the earning capacity value of a family-type farm can be made.

The First National Bank of Munday made the first loan for the three-county area under the new setup. The loan was made to Willie B. Neighbors of route one, Gore.

The insured farm mortgage program affords an opportunity to work with farm families who cannot qualify for regular real estate credit at present, but who are likely to become good customers of local lenders for all of their credit needs in the future. Since borrowers make their own choice of a lender for an insured mortgage loan, many of the families undoubtedly will want to continue their relationship with the original lender when they become eligible for regular credit.

The Farmers Home Administration helps any insured mortgage lender to keep in touch with the needs, plans and progress of his borrowers in this program.

Persons who wish to make application for loans should be referred to the Farmers Home Administration office serving the county where they intend to locate. A qualified Federal appraiser will appraise the farm to be purchased, enlarged, or improved, to determine the normal earning capacity value and other factors pertaining to making a sound loan.

FARM NEWS

from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

Local Committeemen To Set Allotments.

If acreage allotments and marketing quotas become necessary next year for cotton and wheat, the individual farm allotments will be set by the local farmer committees, according to B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas Production and Marketing Administration Committee. This is a vital point in the Nation's agricultural program, the chairman emphasizes.

He points out that when farmers are producing more of a commodity than can be marketed and ample reserves have been built up, they know that adjustments should be made. But as individual farmers they are helpless in making the necessary adjustments. Each farm has been laid out to grow particular crops. Machinery has been accumulated to grow these crops. On most farms it is not possible for the farmer to shift his entire farm from one crop to another.

Farmers are aware of this but without a farm program which provides a means of unified action there is no means for assuring desired results. Under the program the acreage that is needed to assure abundance without wasteful surpluses is divided equitably among the farmers of a community, a county and the county as a whole. "And no one is better able to up the individual allotments for a farm," the chairman states, "than the elected committeemen. They are farmers. They know the problems confronting their neighbors. They are elected each year. The farmers affected by the allotments they set are the ones who elect them. "And no one can impose marketing quotas upon farmers. The law requires that two-thirds of the farmers voting in an announced referendum must approve marketing quotas before they can be put into effect."

Farmer Committee System Faces Crucial Test.

The challenge to farm programs which have taken nearly a half century to establish, was discussed this week by Alvin V. McCormack, Director, Agricultural Conservation Program Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and William W. Chandler of the Office of the Secretary of Agriculture. Talking with Texas farmers, agricultural agency representatives, elected farmer committeemen and representatives of civic and service organizations, the speakers stressed the importance of being prepared for the changes which seem definitely to be shaping up. "With wheat bins, corn bins and cotton warehouses full and the threat of price depressing surpluses, the structure of price programs may be tested to the utmost. "Will they stand and is the organization of elected committeemen equal to the job of administering these programs when it comes to setting up acreage allotments and handling marketing quotas?" Were questions raised by the Department officials.

The speakers emphasized that the responsibility rests upon the elected farmer committees.

As Mr. McCormack expressed it, "the country can be thankful what we have the committee system to meet the challenge of these times."

He pointed out the real problem which farmer committeemen must meet is just ahead. The goal of the farm program is "an equitable income for farmers, prosperity for the country, and a continued strengthening of our soil resources through soil and water conservation—and at the same time maintain a balanced abundance."

Essentials listed by the speakers if the program is to succeed are: full cooperation of farmers, understanding and a sense of fair play on the part of the public, and judgment and decisive action on the part of these who administer farm programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Guffey of Amarillo spent the past week end here visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Hord, and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. L. Harrison and son of Ozona came in last Monday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Harrison and family.

Mrs. Worth Gafford and Mrs. Frank Nance, Jr. and son returned home Sunday from Coleman where they had been visiting relatives.

Miss May Ford of Fort Worth is here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Borden and with other relatives and friends.

Bottom row: Niel, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Richmond, and Art, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Estes spent the week end in Rule visiting Mrs. Estes' mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Weaver and daughter of Abilene visited his mother, Mrs. Dan Weaver last week end.

One was five; the other was a year younger. The four-year old outweighed his brother by a pound but the elder was the leader.

The man was their grandfather. They called him by his first name, which was George. The boys had been visiting their grandparents and were returning home.

The journey had hardly begun when they announced they were hungry. So George produced a big paper sack and drew therefrom some cookies. Of course after that, they were thirsty. Then they were hungry again and, this time, they were given a banana.

They bounced on the seat until this proved too tame, then they turned somersaults from one seat across to the other. (The group was occupying double seats facing each other.) Then they did a real acrobatic act. The younger stood in the seat and his brother climbed on his shoulders, his purpose apparently being to clamber in to the baggage rack overhead.

George induced them to desist by the offer of more food. In the course of the journey, each boy ate four bananas and a dozen cookies.

Grandpa left the seat for a little while and, when he returned, the boys had disappeared! He looked alarmed for a moment, then they poked their heads out from under the seats.

By the time Dallas reached, the brothers were still going strong but George looked like a fighter who was hanging on for the final bell.

Their father was an overseas veteran and is now a coach and military instructor. He no doubt keeps in practice at home for his

Weekly Health LETTER

of Texas
Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN—With 14 reported cases of diphtheria within the past week, and a total of 397 cases reported in the first 19 weeks of this year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is urging Texas parents to have their immunized children Schick tested to determine immunity, and if inoculation is necessary, to have it done immediately.

"There is a widespread belief that once immunity is established, it lasts forever", the State Health Officer said. "This is not always true. In some cases it diminishes and finally dies out. And reinoculation is necessary in order to protect the child.

"Every child who will enter school next term should be inoculated or Schick tested now, because it takes from three to nine months for immunity to be completely established after the injection is administered."

As long as cases of diphtheria occur, a child is in danger unless protected by immunization. The germs throw off a powerful poison which goes all through the body. It is particularly harmful to the heart, blood vessels, nerves and kidneys, and serious complications often accompany the disease. Some of the more dangerous complications are broncho-pneumonia, to which the patient is particularly susceptible; paralysis, which may last for days or for as long as 3 or 4 months; or permanent injury to heart, nerves or kidneys.

"The best thing to do with diphtheria, is to stop it before it starts," Dr. Cox said. "When the toxin is injected under the skin, the system manufactures a disease-fighting antitoxin which can successfully resist the disease. Children of school age should be inoculated or Schick tested now, so that immunity will be established or nearly so, before the opening of the next school term."

Keep all the stoves on the farm in a state of good repair at all times. Never fill gasoline or kerosene stoves while they are burning. And, it's safer to fill stove tanks out of doors.

Knox City Lions Name New Officers

The Knox City Lions Club recently elected officers for the ensuing year. They are as follows:

J. M. Averitt, president; Dale Graham, first vice president; H. E. Wall, second vice president; Rev. J. W. Price, secretary and treasurer; W. E. Clonts, lion tamer, and L. P. Jones, tail twister.

The nominating committee was composed of H. M. Jones, S. N. Reed and L. W. Graham.

fresh texture, color and aroma. They develop an off-color and off-flavor very quickly after they are defrosted if the sugar is not used. So, when you are using the dry sugar method, mix the berries until each one is well coated with sugar. Miss Shultz says.

Crushed berries used for toppings for shortcake and ice cream will hold their natural flavor better and longer than the whole or sliced berries. Here are Miss Shultz's suggestions for preparing the berries for freezing. Wash, drain and cap them; weigh them and pack, using one part sugar to three or four parts of berries. If you are using the sugar-syrup, mix three cups of sugar and four cups of water. Fill the containers with berries and cover them with cold syrup, put the cover on and place in the quick freezing compartment at 20 degrees . . . to freeze at once.

If further directions for freezing are needed, the county home demonstration agent has information on her Extension Service bulletin shelves, says Miss Shultz.

minute detail. If you haven't gotten it, you probably will.

The town committee this working on this project is composed of E. B. Littlefield, Harvey Lee, Winston Blacklock and Fred Broach, Jr. These boys are putting in much of their time, as well as their money.

They're pulling for the community, and they want the rest of us to sorta take up some slack on the traces and do some pulling, too.

School patrons should be interested; parents with children in school should be interested; the man on the street should be interested 'cause the project is one of the kind of community we love to live in and be a part of.

So show this "town committee" your interest, to the tune of a buck, or two, or three—and pretty soon the 1,300 bucks will be raised.

In future years, you'll be glad you did!

But the point is that this additional 1,300 bucks is needed. If you feel like the project is worthwhile, and why shouldn't you, then you can help out on that score.

STRAWBERRY TIME

Whether you eat them in preserves, on ice cream, on a strawberry shortcake, or fresh, it's strawberry time in Texas.

Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College, suggests putting away several gallons in the home freezer, if you select only the red-ripe berries. This type hold their color better than the almost ripe berries.

Strawberries can be put into a container whole, or cut into halves and allowed to stand in dry sugar until it is all dissolved. The sugar—or sugar-syrup—helps keep the berries in their
