

Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

"No street sweeper, Krumb's," says the Mayor to us Sunday morning as we came down after the mail.

We were all set back, because we'd seen it Saturday, but it wasn't there now.

In fact, we'd been catching some ribbing about the thing. One person went so far as to ask that we make a correction in this week's paper.

Fact is, the thing didn't arrive Thursday, as it was scheduled to do. Then Friday it wasn't here, then folks started asking us about it, as if we were making delivery ourselves personally.

Then, Saturday, it came and was set down on the north side of the square without pomp or ceremony.

It was done so quietly and unceremoniously that the mayor or didn't know about it, and we didn't know about it.

J. H. Bardwell comes along and says: "Guess you'll have to shut up now." "No," we says, "the thing ain't here yet."

Then he shows us, and says it's been setting there for about two hours. But Sunday morning it was gone, and the mayor says: "No sweeper, Krumb's."

Did you refuse it? Did you send it back? Did it run off? questions were popping hard and fast, but the mayor replied that he hadn't seen hide nor hair of it.

It sat over there, we says, pointing to the north side of the square, all afternoon. We learned that some of the city employees had put it in storage Saturday night.

Some "monkey" was supposed to have called the mayor when it arrived, but didn't; therefore, we had the sweeper and the mayor didn't know it.

So the street sweeper is here, and the streets are too wet to sweep.

So another plank in our platform of Munday's needs will come out!

It's not one of those $7,000 jobs, or the town wouldn't have it yet.

It's a small job, but it's designed to pick up dirt as it sweeps. It cuts a small swath—approximately four feet—which will probably be enough swath for a small town.

It is a good used job, too. It came from down around Dallas way, where it was replaced by a larger sweeper. The cost wasn't anything like 7 thousand bucks, either.

It was said the sweeper had something like 125 hours of use. It might take on a little repair work to put it in the tippest shape, and then it will be ready for operation.

We'd like to see it work, wouldn't you?

When the streets dry up a little, it will probably be put into operation good and proper.

Which reminds us, we needed our big ditch completed Saturday, or our big rain delayed for a spell.

They've been coming toward town with the ditch, but they didn't get close enough to help out when Saturday's shower of nearly three inches fell.

And folks remarked they'd sure love to have seen if the thing did any good.

Barely had the town's own water drained off, and there was rivers of it along some streets, when the Thorp water began invading the town.

We had water draining into town, and slowly through town, practically all day Sunday. Portions of the city's streets out to the southwest were almost im-

Dates Changed For Blue Cross Enrollment

Word has been received here that enrollment dates for Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance have been changed by Knox county. The dates were originally set for July 7-16 but they have been changed to open on July 28 and close on August 6.

This change was made so that this drive would coincide with the mobile chest X-ray unit which is coming to the county, since the same people will have a part in both these activities. The chest X-rays will be held at Munday, at the Munday Truck and Tractor Co., on July 28, 29 and 30, it was stated. The unit will be at Knox City on August 2, 3 and 4.

Prior to the Blue Cross drive, a meeting of the Blue Cross Council, which is composed of representatives of all communities in the county, will be held. This meeting is slated to be held at the American Legion hall in Knox City on the evening of July 12.

Fight Polio—A Clean Town Is A Healthy Town

A thorough clean-up, according to authorities, and maintaining a clean town is one of the surest safeguards against the outbreak of polio.

With this in mind, members of the City Council and directors of the Community Development Association are urging local citizens to stage a spring clean up campaign.

Recent rains have caused an unusual outgrowth of weeds and other vegetation, and water is standing everywhere which will become stagnant.

Citizens are urged to clean up their premises, get their alleys clear of wire and tree limbs so they can be plowed to destroy vegetation. This is a move which everyone should be interested in.

Munday is still in the undefeated column, having downed Samford here Friday night to the tune of 3 to 2, and winning from Weirnet on Tuesday night, 2 to 1.

The game is called for 8:30 o'clock, admission is two-bits, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Soil Group Approves Plans Of Conservation

The Supervisors of the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District held their regular meeting May 27. Those present were Jack Idol, C. C. Browning, Clay Grove, H. D. Gamill, Henry Smith, and Fred Mika, District Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

The following application was approved: Mrs. H. O. Tolson, 320 acres in Conservation Group 8. The following conservation plans were approved: T. C. Walker, 465 acres, M. C. Josselet, 266 acres, W. A. Robertson, 200 acres, Chris Felcher, 345 acres, Mrs. Mary Peters, 120 acres, and Lloyd Griffith, 1,440 acres. J. B. Moorhouse, J. C. Moorhouse, Lloy Griffith, and Oren Driver, all of Benjamin, are to have terrace lines run on their farms as soon as weather permits.

Livestock need green succulent forage to stay healthy and provide maximum gains, believes J. B. Reneau of Munday. He has no native pasture for his herd of fine Angus cattle, but provides green grazing when weather permits. He has just completed harvesting his wheat, and his cattle are grazing the green weeds and fallen heads. He removed them from a field of alfalfa where they have been since the first part of March. Mr. Reneau states that he has run 25 grown cows on 17 acres without any ill effects to the alfalfa. His sudan grass is doing fine, and will soon be ready to graze. This will carry his herd until the middle of August, then they will go back on the alfalfa until wheat is ready to graze. He also plants millets for hay for winter feed.

Mr. Reneau plans to plant about 100 acres of alfalfa this fall. The technicians of the Soil Conservation Service will assist Mr. Reneau in this work.

Farmers Welcome Fairer Weather

A welcome change in the weather came Wednesday, and it was more welcomed by farmers than any other group of people. It is fair weather for a change, and it is hoped this type will continue for a spell.

With some wheat still in the fields and cotton and feed crops to be replanted, the continued wet weather has caused much delay in farm operations.

Peak of the rainy spell came Saturday, when close to three inches fell in Munday. This caused flooded conditions on many of the streets, and when the city's water had cleared away, the Thorp water came coursing down through town. Additional showers have been recorded since Saturday.

With clear weather, it is believed the fields will dry up so planting can be resumed the latter part of this week.

Miss Gwynn Lee Smith came in last Saturday from Lubbock after spending a week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Collins.

Jones, Munday; Mrs. Gladys Houk, Littlefield; Mrs. Idamae Hendrix, Lubbock; Leo E. Jones, Sweetwater; Mrs. Grace Jones, San Angelo; and Phillip M. Jones, Grand Prairie.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?

1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineham, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.

3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10, 1949—Except for office work and committee work, this has been a comparatively quiet week in Congress. Therefore, we again devote our newsletter to the subject of political philosophy. The cold war now going on throughout the world is a war of ideals and beliefs, usually referred to as ideology. It involves the question of what people think we owe to the state and what they think the state owes them. We get volumes of material each week on different phases of this debate. Much of it is plainly propaganda—some good and some bad, and some designed to inform and some designed to deceive. This week's newsletter from Mr. Thurman Sensing, Director of Research, Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tennessee, seems to me to be worthy of reproduction. Mr. Sensing writes:

"I have just returned from and eight weeks visit to Great Britain, where I studied at first hand the results of a socialist government in action and observed its effects upon the freedom and economy of the people. After four years of peace, I found the people of Great Britain still suffering under rationing and price control. Even so, prices of staples are relatively high and luxuries are out of the question. Their diet is even worse in some respects than it was during the war. Goods in the shops are scarce and quality is poor. The cost of living reached a point where it is almost unbearable, and if continued will inevitably ruin the Nation. Production in the factories per man hour is low. The cost of manufactured goods is such that they can not compete in the markets of the world on a price basis. The people, in effect, are prisoners on their "tight little isle", only a limited number being permitted to each of this nighrid hrd lhdriu travel abroad each year, and each of this number only being allowed to spend a maximum sum of $140 for the purpose.

The present predicament of that once proud nation is unquestionably the result of state control imposed upon the people by the Socialist Government when it came into power four years ago. The wastefulness and bungling and inefficiency of the Government in operating the key industries which it has thus far nationalized have resulted in enormous losses which have had to be paid out of the taxpayer's pockets. The political entanglements brought on through bulk buying by the Government in the markets of the world have also cost the taxpayers enormous sums of money, and have at the same time resulted in less food for the people and higher costs for raw materials for their factories. The "free" welfare benefits promised the people by the Socialist Government through a policy of "soaking the rich" have cost far more than was "planned". The "free" health service, for instance, was "planned" to cost $650 million the first year; it actually cost $1,040 million. Great Britain was in no position to afford any such benefits, and they could by no means have been provided without aid from the United States—aid, by the way, that was created by private enterprise. The wealth of Great Britain has been redistributed all right, and with a vengeance, but the nation is no better off than when the policy was adopted. And, now, after four years of such redistribution, the Socialist Government itself has had to tell the people there is no further possibility of tax income from this source, that any extension of benefits will have to be paid by the individuals who receive it, by the people themselves. What disillusionment—when the people had been led to believe there was no end to the benefits they could obtain in this manner!

Arg we in the United States learning the lesson that the experience of Great Britain is teaching us? That is a serious question—and upon the answer depends the future welfare of this nation and its people. Don't tell the industrialists of Great Britain that it can't happen here! They will laugh at you. They will tell you that if anyone had told them ten years ago, or as late as five years ago, that they would now be living under the kind of government they have, they would have said he was crazy. "For God's sake," they told me time and again, "don't let socialism get started in the United States of America! You are our last great hope for the preservation of freedom in the world. Don't let the socialist camel get his head into the tent of free enterprise. There's not room enough for both of them."

We will do well to remember this warning whenever measures are presented proposing that the government do for us what we should be doing for ourselves. We should avoid the "planned economy" and the "welfare state" like we would the plague. They may sound good on paper, but they only lead to stagnation and ruin.

With our paving, our street sweeper, and our big ditch, our fogging machine, et cetera, we are making progress in our little town.

Maybe by the next big rain, the ditch will be completed. Then we can see how the ditch drains the water off, and how the sweeper sweeps the dirt off.

New Highway Maps Released

AUSTIN.—The 1949 Texas Highway Map comes off the presses today ready for free distribution by the Texas Highway Department. Showing 31,000 miles of completed Texas highways, over 30,000 miles paved, the map is illustrated with drawings and 30 full color pictures.

A panel is devoted this year to travel attractions in Mexico on the Pan-American Highway, with particular attention given to prehistoric ruins. This highway, which dissects Texas, north to south, now runs to Tuxtla, almost in Central America. Texas will be the gateway state in future travel on this international road.

Complete mileage tables of comparative distance between Texas cities and between state capitals outside of Texas to border points in Texas are given. Mileages from Lorado south to points on the Pan American Highway are included. A United

The bin must protect the grain from rain, snow and surface moisture; permit effective fumigation; provide protection against loss by fire and wind; and protection against insects, birds and rodent.

Gelsoy, a new soybean product developed by the USDA, can be used for gluing purposes, as well as in a variety of foods. It's the first vegetable protein product that "jells," and it can be whipped like egg-whites to make pie meringues.

After the old vegetables have been removed from the garden, the next step is to keep the soil stirred up to prevent weed growth. Weeds take up soil moisture that can be better used to start fall vegetables.

Tourist Business Is Declared Texas Big Yearly Crop

Texas are "sleeping blissfully" through an unparalleled opportunity to expand Texas' biggest money crop—a year-around tourist business.

Little has been done to attract tourists to this state, Colonel Ike Ashburn, executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association, said recently in a speech prepared for delivery at the Texas Chambers of Commerce Managers Annual Convention.

The chambers' activity has been mainly that of bringing conventions to their individual cities, Ashburn said, adding that another factor in attracting tourists was the introduction to Texas gained by service men stationed here during both World Wars.

The speaker observed that a number of corporations have spent considerable sums for institutional advertising, but:

"We need a highly selective advertising campaign to secure additional tourists, to divert tourist trade from competing areas, to increase length and length of stay, and to encourage 'repeater' tourists."

The advertising campaign, Ashburn observed, "should be to seek as vacationers persons who have a contribution to make to Texas and its development."

Other states, such as Arizona, and New Mexico, have spent modest sums for advertising, and have thereby doubled or tripled their tourist income, Ashburn said.

"Texas, with no funds and no descriptive literature except Texas Parade Magazine, drew 1,849,000 out-of-state automobiles in 1948," he declared. The occupants of these automobiles spent $114,528,000 in Texas last year.

"If we spent $100,000 per year we could more than double the number of visitors, making a quarter of a billion dollars per year income from our activities," Ashburn told his audience.

"That is what Texas Parade is for, primarily, to bring visitors and industries into Texas," he said.

The speaker advocated that the State Highway Department be authorized to expend some of its money for extension of tourist travel in Texas.

"The local chambers of commerce can help," he said, "by giving support to the idea of a combined Texas non-profit, non-political publication, artistically prepared and replete with colored pictures of the scenic wonders of Texas."

Cotton handkerchiefs are square today because Marie Antoinette complained to Louis XVI about the many shapes of handkerchiefs. The King then decreed that the "length of the handkerchief shall equal its width throughout the kingdom."

Place a wadded cotton napkin in a thermos bottle cover to keep the cork from working loose. When the cover is tightened, pressure of the napkin holds the cork securely in place.

When power fails, an emergency lamp can be improvised by floating a piece of cork, which holds a string wick, in a glass filled with salad oil.

Boilers, fryers, milk, lettuce, canned peaches and mixed fruits join the list of plentiful foods for June.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Joins With Bankers In Helping To Head Off So-Called Impending Panic

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek must be twisting up his economics, but his letter is worth ed for what it's worth. All we know is that if the country is depending on him to head off a depression, we're sunk.

Dear editor:
It's been too hot to work lately, don't make no difference if my neighbors don't have any thermometers and keep on goin' and I was sittin over here in the shade lookin over a copy of a daily paper I'd picked up off my closest neighbor's tractor seat where he'd put it to keep the seat from getting hot while he went to the house for a drink of water, and read about the general feelin a lot of people have that a depression is comin' and while the thought of a depression don't worry me much, can't say I'm much better off under good times than bad, can't quite make ends meet under either system, I've still been giving the matter some thought, and was happy to read in the same paper a statement by the president of the Texas Banker's Association that "declines from war-time production and sales peaks are natural and will not develop into a depression or panic so long as we keep our heads and think clearly."

That's what I been sayin all along that thinking is just as important as goin up one row and down another, and I will appreciate you tellin that banker that I am upholdin my part of the load in his efforts to head off a depression. Been doin it for years.

If there's one thing I can do, it's keep my head. Some folks I know are in a turmoil all the time. Ain't over two or three definite times in their entire adult life when things is just right. Rest of the time something is always about to go wrong, just went wrong, liable to tomorrow, it won't rain, rainin too much, etc., and life is a constant stew.

But you can tell that banker things don't bother me. I keep my head, you don't catch me gettin up at the bust of dawn and waitin on the turnip for it to get light enough to start work. A man can't plow fifteen hours a day and do much clear thinkin, and I personally had rather think and preserve prosperity than work and bring on a depression.

If keepin your head and clear-thinkin will head off a depression, it got the thing headed off in this part of the country.

However, to tell the truth, I think I know what the real trouble with the country is: (1) too many folks expect a living wage, and (2) ain't enough businesses that can afford to pay it. Outside of this, we're bout normal, I guess.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Oiled dustcloths and mops do a good job of picking up the dust, but should never be used on wax surfaces. An oiled cloth used on furniture finished with wax makes the wax sticky and dingy because the oil softens it up, just as an oil mop does on a waxed floor.

Arledge Suggs Is On Army Duty At Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Private Arledge W. Suggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Suggs, Route 1, Munday, Texas, is on a two weeks tour of active duty with the 90th Infantry Division (Reserve) at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

Pvt. Suggs, along with other officers and enlisted men of the 90th, will take on-the-job training with units of the 5th Armored Division, learning the newest training methods of the Regular Army. The reservists will also participate in field problems.

The 5th Armored Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, was reactivated as a training division nearly a year ago. During World War II the "Victory" division made an outstanding combat record through six campaigns in Europe, from Normandy to the Elbe river.

Brig. Gen. Arthur P. Watson of Austin, Texas, commands the 90th Division, which also had an enviable combat record in World War II. Elements of the 90th hit the Normandy beaches on D-Day and aided in the taking of Cherbourg. Later the 90th was credited with taking 12,000 prisoners in the Falaise pocket. Participating in the attack on Metz, the 90th later slashed into Germany and VE-Day found it in Czechoslovakia.

The picture is available for showing at luncheon clubs, church groups, high schools and similar gatherings. It is 16mm. photographed in natural color with narration by a skilled professional. Running time is 25 minutes. Bookings can be made free of charge, by writing the IDEAL Company, Waco, Texas.

SEES THREAT TO U.S.

War-essential American jeweled watch industry is threatened by heavy imports from Switzerland which discourage healthy growth of domestic manufacture and thus endanger national security in case of another conflict, James G. Shennan (inset), president of Elgin National Watch Co., tells U.S. Senate committee at hearing on extension of trade agreements act. Asking "realistic duties" to equalize difference in movement costs resulting from Swiss labor rates which are 60 per cent lower than U.S. rates, Shennan cites figures for past 10 years (above). They show that importers captured bulk of U.S. market while the three exclusively American manufacturers of jeweled watches were engaged in vital war production.

KITCHEN MEMO BY JEAN CLARKE

Only one half-pound of inexpensive meat serves four people and stretches food dollars when you make American Chop Suey. Melt 1 tbsp. fat in large skillet or Dutch oven. Add 1 medium chopped onion. Fry until onion is yellow. Cube 1/2 lb. lean fresh pork shoulder and brown. Add 1 cup diced celery, 1/2 diced green pepper, 1/4 lb. mushrooms (optional), 1/2 cup uncooked rice, 1 tsp. salt. Dissolve 2 bouillon cubes in 2 1/2 cups boiling water and pour over mixture. Cover closely and bring to a boil. As soon as steam escapes from cover, turn flame down to simmer point and cook 35 to 40 mins.

Try flavoring salad dressing for fruit salad with peanut butter. Blend 1/2 cup peanut butter with 1/2 cup dressing.

One of the causes of coarse cake texture is baking in too slow an oven. The thermostat of your gas oven can be set to the exact degree of heat needed to overcome this baking problem.

Youngsters won't object to castor oil when it is stored in your gas refrigerator in a wide-mouthed jar until it's gummy to make it tasteless. Then just add to ice cold orange juice.

Research by the gas industry reveals that women can save much cleaning effort by using hotter water. It's easy to govern exact temperatures by turning up the thermostat on your automatic gas water heater to 150°F., for example, for mopping dirty floors.

4-H Meat Animal Program Now Under Way In Texas

Today meat provides one-third of the energy food in the American diet, and latest U. S. Department of Agriculture figures show that almost one-third of the farmer's total cash income in 1948 came from the sale of meat animals. Aware of the vital contribution livestock makes to the nation's health and economy, Texas boys and girls enrolled in the 1949 National 4-H Meat Animal program learn to select feed and show their best cattle, sheep or pigs. More than 300,000 4-H Club members throughout the country are taking part in the project, according to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Some of the highlights of the program are keeping records of feeding and weight gains and learning the value of balanced rations. Many of the young stockmen grow their own feed. Members practice livestock judging at club meetings, and then try out for county and state judging teams. They take pride too, in showing their animals. The Cooperative Extension Service directs the activity.

In addition to being educational and profitable, the program offers awards for outstanding accomplishments. Mr. Thos. E. Wilson, chairman of the National Committee, and a veteran Chicago packer has provided awards for the last 20 years. These are medals for county winners; a 17-jewel gold watch for state champion; trips to the National 4-H Club Congress for eight additional winners, and four $300 national scholarships.

Harry Schneider of Seguin won Guadalupe county and State honors in 1948. County medals were also presented to 173 other winners. Harry Schneider, Seguin, was one of the national scholarship winners.

PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

Production, Conservation One Problem, Says Brannan

One of the greatest things we can do in the cause of conservation is to prevent the wasteful use of resources in the production of surpluses, Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan recently told the National Emergency Conference on Resources at Washington, D. C.

"With the public helping to finance soil conservation, it does not make good sense to finance price supports without reference to conservation policy," the Secretary said. "One of the responsibilities of the farmer who receives the benefit of price support should be to observe a sound conservation standard in the public interest. This is one of the ways the public should expect to get its money's worth from price-support expenditures.

"Furthermore, this is far from the farmer's standpoint, for an effective price-support system helps him maintain a level of income that permits him to conserve rather than mine the soil.

"Through our price support system we can encourage livestock production and otherwise develop a pattern of production that will naturally conserve the soil. As far as the individual farmer is concerned, there is one farming operation—not one for production and one for conserva-

MEDICINE TODAY...

Micro-Organisms Sit for Portraits

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The dreaded tubercle bacillus, cause of tuberculosis, and the influenza virus, are here revealed in exact proportion to each other, at 18,600 times their actual size. Striking differences in size and form of the organisms which produce tuberculosis and influenza are revealed. Portraits of disease-producing organisms, in detail never before possible, are now being taken with the electron microscope in such research centers as the Squibb Institute for Medical Research at New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Ever since the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in 1882, scientists and medical research workers have been searching for a means of combatting it in human beings. Similar work has been going forward on the influenza virus. Today vaccines are available to prevent influenza, and a modification of streptomycin, named dihydrostreptomycin, is offering new hope of recovery to those suffering from tuberculosis.

Now with the aid of the electron microscope most disease-producing organisms can be seen, many for the first time, and Squibb scientists are able to study new approaches to their defeat.

tion. His problem is to operate in such a way that he produces profitably and conserves the resources at the same time . . . Surpluses, low prices, farm poverty—these are enemies of conservation."

Regarding the great scope of the conservation issue, Secretary Brannan said: "The soundest possible Government program is not the full answer to the conservation problem. The Government may do a large amount of conservation work directly; it may also provide considerable help and encouragement; but, beyond all that, the job requires a terrific investment of hard work, sweat, and money by the individual operators of the land.

"Soil science is a growing body of knowledge. We may learn more effective ways of treating the ulcers of the land. We may learn how to prevent them. Meanwhile, we can continue to make progress without waiting for the perfect solution of the problem or the perfect measurement of the task . . . As practical people, we must remember this: Progress comes of going on from where we are. We can never wipe the slate clean and start over . . .

"To meet some of the obvious problems, we are not so much in need of new measures as we are in need of a general intensification of effort. All along the line, we need to intensify these efforts which are designed to encourage and assist farmers on the land they own or control, to stop the soil deterioration now in progress and restore high state of fertility."

How Long Will the Land Last?

Are you burning down a part of your farm each year?

In asking this question, Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee, said he was not referring to the buildings on the farm but the farm itself. Too often too many farmers are doing what amounts to the same thing as burning down a part of the farm plant each year.

During the war and since there has been a heavy drain on the land. Growing conditions have been favorable and prices have encouraged increased production of wheat, cotton, corn and similar soil depleting crops.

This heavy cropping to meet war needs and to "cash in" on higher prices has led to continuous growing of depleting crops on the same land. This has meant year after year of plowing, harrowing, discing, and cultivating. The humus has been worked out of the soil. The healthy "popcorn ball" structure has been broken down. The soil particles are either loose, separate, fine particles and easily carried away by wind and water or they are pressed together in "brick-like" mass. Such soil holds little moisture and is easily eroded.

On farms where this has been taking place, the chairman points out, more and more of the soil has been lost. The reserves of essential minerals have been reduced. Eventually, if not checked, the whole farm plant will be ruined and the abandoned farm will be a liability to the community.

A primary purpose of the Agricultural Conservation Program, the chairman points out, is to help prevent this loss and to repair the damage already done.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS VOTE MISSION FOR MONEY

A $10,000,000 annual budget two-thirds of which will go to overseas missions, was voted by the Southern Baptist Convention at its annual meeting in Oklahoma City in May.

The record budget, with a larger portion than ever before designated for foreign work, was viewed by denominational leaders as essential if Christian forces are to evangelize the world.

Officials stated that the $10,000,000 figure is only for national and overseas activities sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention, and is in addition to expenditures by local churches and associational and state groups. Southern Baptists last year contributed a total of $156,000,000 to all causes.

Secret Ballot Bill Explained By Moffett

One of the bills passed by the Legislature at this session and already signed by the Governor which the voters will undoubtedly want to know more about is the so-called secret ballot bill. This bill is the result of a lot of work by several organizations and was brought about by the as, principally South Texas, fact that in many parts of Texas there has been much secrecy about how the people voted. It ought to be remedied because it is believed that better government would result if people could vote their honest convictions without their vote being made public information.

A group of civic organizations after thorough discussion, wrote the new bill and caused it to be introduced in the Legislature. It was amended several times where improvements were needed and is now law. It provides that each ballot shall have a detachable stub bearing the same number as the ballot itself. When the voter enters the polls the ballots are supposed to be spread face down on a table so that no one can see the number on some. The voter selects one, votes his choice, tears off the numbered stubs, writes his name on the stub, and puts it in a separate sealed box from the ballot. This sealed box containing the stubs is the only source of identification as to who voted the ballot with that particular number. In case of an election contest, the judge may order the stub box opened and a recount made after checking the stubs and the actual ballots. Otherwise, the stub box is not opened, and at the end of 60 days the district clerk will burn the stubs in the presence of the county judge.

This is certainly a new system in Texas. Several other states have followed a similar system for some years. Those who sponsored it in this state believe it will work satisfactorily. We all hope so.

Next I will explain a new fishing license law which certainly will interest many people. This new law provides that after September 1 all persons over 16 years of age using artificial lures must have a $1.65 license to fish anywhere, including their home county. All persons over 16 years of age using live bait only must have a $1.65 license to fish outside the county of their residence. Persons using cut bait and worms only need not purchase a license.

Formerly persons fishing with artificial lures were the only ones required to have a license. The new law brings Texas into line with the fishing laws in most other states. The way it finally works out, if you buy a $1.65 license, you can fish with any kind of bait anywhere in Texas. The special licenses at Possum Kingdom, Eagle Mountain Lake, etc., have been abolished. There is still a special license required at Lake Texoma because that does not lie entirely within Texas. Efforts are now being made to secure a cooperative agreement with Oklahoma to abolish this special license.

The license laws in Texas are more lenient to fishermen than almost any other state.

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE MOFFETT

TERRY CLOTH MAKES FASHION BOW IN '49

Terry cloth, long confined to the household in bath towels and wash cloths, has had a face-lifting treatment this year and is making its debut in the fashion world.

Novel patterns are being printed on terry cloth to add a touch of glamour to the soft cotton fabric, according to the National Cotton Council. Stylized paisley designs, polka dots, all-over leaf and striped patterns, as well as colorful solids, have been adapted to the fluffy cotton material.

Designers have created both high-fashion, sportswear and summer negligees from the cotton cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Silman of Rochester were visitors here last Sunday.

Hugo Park, editor of Van Buren, Ark., (Bob Burns' home town), tells about a man who said, "My hearing is bad and I can't afford a hearing aid." A friend said, "I'll tell you how you can help your hearing—at no expense." "How?" "Get a piece of wire, loop one end over your ear and run it down inside your coat."

The other objected, "But without a battery and an earphone, how could that possibly help?" His friend said, "When folks see the wire, they will talk louder."

Park took your columnist for a drive. From the top of a hill we looked down (as though from an airplane) on a noble scene: the twisting course of Lee's Creek, its water a beautiful green, and the broad Arkansas river, spanned by a bridge almost half a mile long. Park talked of plans for dams which would provide power, irrigation and navigation.

We had dinner, which was served by the ladies of the church, in the church basement and that night had supper in a log cabin in tavern reached by a winding drive to the top of a mountain—the steak was the finest I've ever eaten.

That afternoon, we visited the discovery well of a new gas field. It is, in one respect, the most remarkable gas (or oil) field in all my experience—there was not a single gate to open in getting there!

Oldest of all newspaper sayings is, "If a dog bites a man, that's not news, but if a man bites a dog, that's news." Well, his writer once chronicled such an occurrence. It was in Fort Worth. The biter was not a man, but a boy, a very small boy. The family next door to us owned a dog, which was a great pet but one night some friends dropped in with their little son and the child received so much attention, the dog became jealous and crowded him to the wall—whereupon the boy bit the dog!

Weekly Health LETTER

of Texas
Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer

AUTIN—During the last several summers, considerable enthusiasm was shown by various local organizations, such as Chambers of Commerce, many Civic Organizations, and others in the arranging of a fly eradication program. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer says that for taking interest in this work, the responsible parties are to be commended.

However, without year round community sanitation the ultimate result, which is so important has not always been too successful; in some areas this has given rise to rumors that flies are DDT resistant.

"The Texas State Department of Health heartily endorses a fly spraying program, provided it includes a general clean-up program carried out during the entire year," Dr. Cox said. "For example, why spray a garbage heap that not only invites but should have been removed. Why spray the city dump when it really should be covered. I fear the unplanned spraying program is similar to the application of perfume or toilet water over come B. O. or the application of powder to cover dirt."

In a well-planned fly control program, Dr. Cox declared, all places where flies gather, such as dumps, rubbish piles, gar-

WORKER'S DILEMMA

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Secoy, Arkansas

WHETHER TO ask for another raise in 1949 is a question now vexing our unions. Shall they go on through the year without asking for another raise? Some unions are saying it will be bad business for the nation's workers to insist on another round of increases. Others, recalling that raises have been obtained three years in a row, insist that labor keep it up and demand another raise.

How's the way to answer this $64 question, so that the American workman may have the $64—and much more? Because it makes sense that any sound gain made by American workers will be a gain for the entire nation, I favor whatever will have the greatest long range benefit for American workers.

Consider PEOPLE WHO have the Facts their facts straight know that any substantial rise in wages must be followed by a jump in prices. This is elementary fact-and-figure economics. If we could have another wage boost with the rise in prices it would bring—and the nation would keep on buying—that would be one thing. But there are strong indications that won't work again.

Pipelines of supply to consumers are beginning to fill up. The public is refusing to buy as it has for five years. Consumers are getting more price conscious. Many manufacturers are even now finding it hard to market what they produce. Some are already compelled either to decrease hours of operation or lay off workers. If a wage boost now would result in more unemployment and lower wages in the long run, would labor unions demand the increase? No, they would not.

Danger YET THAT is exactly what would happen, if we should crowd the entire economy toward a depression. There are certain serious danger signals. Here is a sample. On January 29 a Cleveland utility company awarded a contract for two generators to a Swiss firm. They cost $1,140,000 which was nearly $500,000 less than bids of three American firms. The Cleveland company had to accept the foreign bid, despite protests by American companies and by American workers.

Now that Europe is beginning to get into the market, it will be seen that America has no monopoly on manufactured goods in the world markets. Competition there is just beginning, and it will get tough plenty. Wage increases that push up prices, besides making more trouble just now in the home market, would make it hard for America to compete in foreign markets. Foreign production will also continue to invade our home markets.

Since living costs are already definitely going down, and since a wage increase would be very bad for the industries we work for, and would endanger our own jobs, I'd say let it go by. If we can keep present wage levels, and let prices come down, that will mean a real raise for everybody. That way, not only union members, but everybody will have their standard of living raised a full notch.

bage piles, decaying vegetation and rubbish fwyfwm should be cleaned up by hauling away and burning. Proper garbage and rubbish containers with fly tight covers should be demanded from all. All buildings should be screened. Then, secure a sprayer outfit, preferably with one or more hoses each manned by a skilled operator to spray the areas where flies and other insects will light. It does little good to spray the center of the street, the ball diamond, or the sidewalks. Spray the surfaces where insects light or breed.

A residual spray remains active until the DDT washes off

These eight preventable causes account for most of the farm fire losses: sparks on combustible roofs, defective chimneys, spontaneous combustion, improper use of kerosene and gasoline, unsafe furnace and stove installations, misuse of electricity and appliances, carelessness with matches and inadequate lightning protection.

or is covered with grease, dirt, or soot. This usually lasts four to six weeks. After that, a second spray is recommended provided the item of clean-up is still being carried out.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Don't Fence Yourself In

Every spring, Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts patch up the stone wall that separates their farms. They walk along talking—Easy on one side, Handy on the other—picking up the fallen stones and putting them back.

Afterwards, over a friendly glass of beer, Easy says, "You know, wall-mending is a nice neighborly custom, but we really don't need that wall. We keep it up just because it happens to be there."

"Yes," says Handy, "a lot of walls and fences and boundaries keep on separating people for no good reason. Maybe we'd all be better off if some of them were torn down, instead of kept standing."

From where I sit, Handy said a mouthful. Take the "walls of intolerance" that people build up against each other. I like a temperate glass of beer now and then, you may prefer buttermilk—but that's no reason for me to criticize you, or you, me. Let's live and let-live together—making more friends and fewer "walls."
