LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?
1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

THE COST OF MEDICAL CARE

The main argument used by proponents of compulsory government health insurance is that many millions of Americans can't afford adequate medical care.

That argument falls flat on its face in the light of the facts. According to the Brookings Institution, which makes authoritative survey on various problems, medical care costs the average American family about 4 per cent of its income. By comparison, taxes, direct and indirect, take 20 to 30 per cent of that income!

Furthermore, the compulsory insurance scheme would cause a very heavy increase in the tax burden. No one knows how much it would cost. Government officials have estimated the annual at $4,000,000,000—an estimate such as this are almost always low. Other analyses place the cost at $6,000,000,000, and more. At best, the medical bill of the American people would be doubled, and it might be tripled. And the fact that we would pay for it through payroll and other levies, instead of by writing out a check to the doctor, wouldn't make it any less burdensome.

Contrast this with the non-profit medical care plans, which now cover some 55,000,000 people, and which are growing at a healthy rate. An average plan over the nation, giving surgical, medical and hospital protection, costs $2.50 a month for an individual and $5.50 for a family—less than most of us spend for such non-essentials as cigarettes. And these voluntary plans don't put politics into the practice of medicine.

It is true that the are indigent people who can't afford to pay anything for medical attention. Here is where government can help—and it can do it without starting us on the downhill road that leads to socialized medicine. One way would be for the government to pay for these people's memberships in approved, non-profit plans. The advocates of compulsion haven't a leg to stand on.

HEALTHY SIGN

The eating habits of the American people were recently surveyed by a bureau of the U. S. Agricultural Research Administration. The surveys were conducted in 68 American cities in every part of the country, and were confined to house-keeping families of two or more persons.

Total meat consumption for the average family came to 8.124 pounds per week. Some of the families, of course, ate less, while other ate more. Greatest consumption was in the case of beef—the average was slightly more than 3.2 pounds a week. Pork was next on the list of favorites with about 2.9 pounds.

Coming down to specific cuts of meat, pot roasts and other roasts appeared to lead in popularity. Ground beef also won wide acceptance. The greatest favorites in pork were ham, bacon and chops.

This is a country of avid eaters. The average family builds at least one meal a day, and often more, around meat. This is a situation in which taste, and sound dietary habits coincide.

Current forecasts point an increase in meat production and the meat supply. That is literally a healthy sign.

A SPIDER IN THE PAPER

Many years ago Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and he wanted to know if that was an omen of good luck or bad luck. Mark answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Retailing has come a long way since those days, and the art of advertising has undergone great development. And advertising, by stores and any other kind of business, is a typical outgrowth of the competitive system. It is the best possible means of reaching the people who want goods and services, of urging the merits of one brand against another, and of encouraging the consumer to go to some particular retail outlet. That it benefits the consumer goes without saying. No storekeeper could long charge an excessive price with competitors offering in print the same or an equivalent product at a lower price. And deceptive advertising always defeats its own purpose. The wise merchant advertises aggressively, but he bases his story on appeal, not fiction.

Salesmanship is a driving force in keeping the American economy turning. Advertising is the heart of it.

BOYCE HOUSE
"Gives You Texas"

A good many years ago, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was holding its annual banquet in Big Spring. Max Bentley of Abilene, the toastmaster, said: "We have with us tonight, his excellency, the lieutenant governor of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico." A handsome, dark complexioned man, wearing a dress suit, arose, bowed at the applause, and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I do not speak verree good the Ailish language but eet ees a great-tt pleasure to be here." Then he poured out about 200 words of Spanish with gestures and wound up with, "George Washington." That was the only thing that any of us understood but we guessed he had been praising the Father of Our Country, so we applauded.

Came another flow of Spanish this time ending with "Abraham Lincoln!" and again we applauded. A third volley of Spanish, winding up with "Woodrow Wilson!" and we clapped again. Then the speaker began to get worked up and gradually he grew excited and shouted angrily ly in Spanish, winding up in English with, "You can all go to h. . .", and sat down.

We were dumbfounded. Bentley arose and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, you have just been listening to Dorrance Roderick, publisher of the El Paso Times."

A man dreamed that he could touch inanimate objects and bring them to life. To try out this gift, he touched the statue of a general and the general came to life and climbed down off his horse. The man asked, "Where are you going?" and the general said, "I'm going to get me a gun and kill about a million pigeons." Elizabeth Cobb, daughter of Irvin S. Cobb, and herself an author, says, "Critics are pigeons on a monument."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims Times Will Be Hard As Long As A Woman Is Running The U. S. Treasury

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek probably is letting himself in for a lot of trouble in his letter this week, but it's his worry, not ours. Any woman reader who disagrees with him can take it, not us.

Dear editor:
While talk of things tightening down a little hasn't bothered me much, after you've been tightened down most of your life you get to where you don't notice it so much, it's like my cow, as long as she's confined all her life to Johnson grass she don't miss alfalfa, as far as she knows Johnson grass is all there is, and

J. A.

I notice people especially up north have been worrying a little over the fact people ain't spendin money as fast as they used to and business has fallen off a little.

Also, I notice the experts have been workin on the problem and there seems to be many explanations as there are experts. One of em claims the fault lies in the fact we are undergoin a natural readjustment followin the war, another says big business is timid, another says the buyer is timid, another says the cost of living is too high, another says wages are too low, and so forth.

If you ask me, I think I know what the trouble is.

The trouble is, we got a woman in charge of the United States Treasury.

I don't know anything about her personally, but my experience has been a woman likes to spend money, is free and easy with it as long as you hand it out to her, but once you put her in charge of the purse strings she clamps down like a vise and property is over. Putting a woman in charge of your money is an open invitation to shut the door on comfortable livin.

I ain't never seen a banker so tight-fisted I hadn't rather hit him up for a loan than to ask my wife for some of her egg money.

Women handlin money ain't even satisfied to give you a simple no, they got to go into a long discussion of why you're triflin and no account for wantin a little spare money in your pocket when you go to town on Saturday. They'd cut off from pipe tobacco, and then turn around and send off twice as much you asked for to a hungry European.

If you ask me, times is gonna be pretty difficult, money is gonna be hard to get hold of, as long as we got a woman runnin the United State Treasury. It just won't work. But I would appreciate your not sending a copy of your paper out this way the week you publish this letter, as I blamed sure don't want my wife to get hold of it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

No Jobs Are Lost By Employees When Doodlebug Stops

An interesting fact about the discontinuance of the Wichita Valley passenger train service, authority for which is being sought by the Railway Company in an application to the Railroad Commission of Texas, was disclosed today by General Superintendent H. E. Moyer of Wichita Falls.

Railroad engineers, conductors and brakemen are assigned runs based upon length of service, and, as true on the Wichita Valley Railway, it takes a good many years of service to accumulate enough seniority to hold a passenger run. As a result of this, the men who've been operating the Wichita Valley Railway motor trains are among the oldest to point of service on the Railway.

There are only two engineers, two conductors, and two brakemen whose work will be affected, and all of them have seniority enough to maintain regular jobs in the freight service that will continue to be operated.

For some time there has been no "extra board" on the Wichita Valley Railway. It was explained by Moyer that some years ago the work was consolidated so that the men on the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway "extra board" would protect any extra work on the Wichita Valley Railway.

The result of this is that none of the individual workers in Wichita Valley Railway passenger service will be deprived of a tinue to work regularly in their job. Every one of them will continue to work regularly, as heretofore.

Happily, a situation exists in which the railroad can make a much needed saving, and at the same time not a single Wichita Valley employee will be deprived of regular employment.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

Benny W. Melton, Miss Velma Ford Marry Wednesday

Miss Velma Mae Ford of Munday became the bride of Mr. Benny Wayland Melton last Wednesday evening, August 17. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Max Copeland of Weinert in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morrow of Munday at 8:30 o'clock.

Bouquets of pink gladiolus, garden flowers and greenery decorated the rooms for the occasion. Recorded music of "Because" and "O Promise Me" was presided over by Miss Joyce Melton of Munday, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a white eyelet dress designed with a scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt, with pink accessories, and wore a pink carnation corsage. For something old, she wore a strand of pearls, something new was her dress, something borrowed was the white Bible she carried belonging to Miss Mary Poe of Munday and for something blue, she wore a blue garter.

Maid of honor was Miss Thelma Ford, of Munday, twin sister of the bride. She wore a blue eyelet dress and patterned with a scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Best man was John Brown, of Munday.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will be at home after August 27th in Munday where the bridegroom is employed with the Roxy Theatre.

For her traveling frock, the bride chose a navy shantung dress with navy accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Melton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ford of Munday. She graduated from the Munday high school in 1947 and has been employed by the Rexall Drug Store in Munday since last October. Mr. Melton is a graduate of the Weinert high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Melton, Sr. of Munday.

Mrs. James N. Walker and children of Fort Worth are spending a week in the home of Mrs. Walker's mother, Mrs. G. R. Elland.

Smith Urges More Revenues On Rural Roads

BROWNWOOD — Immediate enactment of a program providing a tax revenue from natural resources to assure future stabilization of the State's economy by investing in permanent improvements, such as rural roads, soil and water conservation, State hospitals and public buildings, is the pressing need in Texas today. This recommendation came from Gilbert Smith, former president of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners and now Executive Director of the Texas Rural Roads Association, speaking here recently before the 19th annual convention of the West Texas Press Association.

In sounding a warning, Smith said: "The day is inexorably coming when the natural resources of this state will be exhausted, as oil and natural gas are being drained off to other sections of the country in such rapid fashion that within 25 years Texas will be a blighted area." He urged action to stabilize this condition before it was too late.

"As our natural resources are depleted," the Director of the Texas Rural Roads Association said, "the State will have to rely more and more upon its agricultural economy, and certainly no one can disagree that rural roads are the arteries feeding our agricultural economy."

"The State Highway Department has been doing a splendid job in building one of the finest highways systems in the country," Judge Smith declared. "But it is now time to bring the rural roads of this State up to par and that to take Texas out of the mud, we must balance the scales between the highway and the rural roads programs."

"The Rural Roads Association, following a meeting of the Board of Directors in June, recommended a plan embodying the sound business premise, that natural resources, Texas' greatest capital assets, should leave capital gains to the State in the form of permanent improvements, as they are drained away," Smith said. "These should include soil and water conservation, rural roads and such public and institutional buildings as the Legislature finds necessary."

"They should be paid for out of a reasonable severance tax on natural resources," he continued. "The money should go exclusively to such permanent projects and under no circumstances should it go into the general state operations funds."

The Rural Roads Association director called attention to a recent report from the National Planning Association to the President's Council of Economic Advisers, which coincides closely with the Association's recommended program.

"This report," Smith said, "goes so far as to suggest the Federal Government levy a production tax on these resources, of the State fails to collect adequate tax revenues, as the present rate of production will dwindle the supply sharply within the next 20 years."

"The exhaustion of these major fuels is depriving us of a very important source of raw materials for industry, besides paralyzing our future economy and menacing our national security," he warned.

Of course — it's Electric!

LADIES... is your kitchen a "Turkish Bath"? The kitchen in many an otherwise modern home is often turned into a regular "steam-bath" by the use of old-fashioned cooking stoves. However, many housewives are finding these hot August days that Electric Cooking makes their kitchen work cooler, easier, faster, and cleaner.

And when it comes to that important item of economy, the cost of Electric Cooking is amazingly small, considering the marvelous conveniences and the extra leisure time it brings.

Stop in at the West Texas Utilities Company... see a demonstration of modern electric ranges. Ask questions, look them over thoroughly... then you, too, will prefer electric cooking.

FARM NEWS

PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

PHOSPHATE

The Agricultural Conservation Program has been an effective means of getting farmers to carry out practices developed and recommended by agricultural experiment station scientists. Recommended practices are now being carried out by about half the farmers in the United States, operating nearly two-thirds of the nation's farmlands.

Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox county Agricultural Conservation Committee, points out that the AC Program is the final step in getting the work of the scientists and specialists put into operation on the farm. The first step is to analyze the problem and develop a solution. The next is to get remedial practices adopted by farmers.

As an example of how assistance to farmers on a "share the cost" basis under the Agricultural Conservation Program is helping to encourage farmers to carry out approved conservation practices, Mr. Partridge calls attention to the increase in the use of phosphate fertilizer.

Back in 1936, farmers cooperating in the program applied 121,599 tons of 29 per cent equivalent superphosphate to 1,019,906 acres of land. The next year it was 293,959 tons to 1,912,660 acres. The table shows the progress since then:

1933-397,398 tons;	2,690,860 acres
1939-509,509 tons;	3,499,730 acres
1940-748,873 tons;	5,511,261 acres
1941-906,414 tons;	7,079,800 acres
1942-1,073,344 tons;	8,084,487 acres

1943-1,872,780 tons;	17,202,551 acres
1944-1,949,303 tons;	15,778,575 acres
1945-2,401,345 tons;	19,651,130 acres
1946-2,706,770 tons;	20,328,842 acres
1947-2,745,901 tons;	20,784,070 acres

The program is in operation in every agricultural county and community in the United States under the direction of locally elected farmer committees.

PROTECTION FOR SOIL THAT BLOWS

After the old grass roots, humus and other vegetable matter have been sifted out there's not much left to hold the soil in a heavy wind, says Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Year-after-year plowing, discing, weeding and stirring speed up the processes which reduce humus and break down soil particles into "wind-moving" size. For a few years after land has been broken out of sod it will often hold the soil particles together "pretty well." There are enough of the old grass roots to hold the soil particles together. But after a time these tiny doots decay or they are worked to the surface where they are blown away. The surface soil becomes powdery. Then when a heavy wind comes along, the soil is lifted in great clouds of dust.

In a heavy wind, the chairman explains, these soil particles become a sort of sand blast to cut away the surface of other fields. Unless stopped, this cutting effect moves across the country with destructive effect.

But this land can be protected against wind erosion by carrying out a number of approved conservation measures, Mr. Partridge explains. In areas subject to wind erosion, rotations which include a sod should be followed. Protected strips—field strip cropping—are effective in keeping the wind from getting a start in blowing away the soil. Incorporating the straw, or other crop residues, into a rough cloddy surface helps to hold the soil against the wind. Shelter belts are effective in the immediate area.

The Agricultural Conservation Program, the chairman advised, provided assistance to farmers in carrying out the conservation practices best designed to protect land against erosion.

Smith Reunion Is Held Sunday At Seymour Park

On Sunday, August 14th, Mrs. Anna J. Smith and her relatives from all over Texas and adjoining states met in the Seymour City Park for their annual family reunion. The relatives of the Smith family present represented a cross section of the citizenry of New Mexico, Texas and Louisiana. All three states were represented in the family group. Some 106 relatives were together for the family gathering, in addition to other guests and friends of the family.

Mrs. Anna J. Smith a long-time resident of Munday, is now more than 80 years of age. She was the center of attraction at the family reunion and one could not be touched with the affection and genuine respect shown her by her family group. Mrs. Smith is a Texas pioneer of the sturdier sort. Long ago she learned the lessons of thrift and industry. In spite of the fact that she is more than 80 years old she continues to operate her own business in Munday and earn her own way. According to Mrs. Smith's way of thinking that is the way people should live. Never in her life time has she asked local, county or state sources for any form of charitable help, nor does she have any thought of doing so. Mrs. Smith is to be commended for these remarkable strengths of character and her entire family connections seem to appreciate her for her ideals.

Present at the family gathering in addition to Mrs. Anna J. Smith were Mrs. M. E. Quicksall, Dale, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Routon, Goree, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chamberlain, Stephenville, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fields, Fort Worth, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Miss Patsy Campsey Becomes Bride Of Kelton Tidwell In Church Wedding

In a most impressive and beautiful ceremony, Miss Patsy Campsey of Munday became the bride of Mr. Kelton Gordon Tidwell, also of Munday, last Sunday evening in a candlelit ceremony at 8:30 o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Huron A. Poinac, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Munday, in the First Methodist Church which was decorated with a background of white panels and showing lights of green lamps and greenery that stood behind. Pink gladiolus and greenery entwined the arch at the foot of the altar and greenery was used for the decoration of the altar rail. Tall stands of pink gladiolus stood in the foreground while palms were used in the background. Pink candles in tapered candlebras completed the altar decorations with candles standing in the windows. Family pews in the church were marked with white satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white skinner satin gown designed with a high neck with a lace yolk and self covered buttons on yolk. The fitted bodice was attached to a full skirt that formed a train in the back. The long sleeves came to points over the wrists with self-covered buttons about the wrists. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of lace and lilies of the valley. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids and knotted white streamers. The bride wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue and a penny in her shoe.

Miss Margie Lou Campsey, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a white marquisette gown over orchid taffeta with a high neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her headpiece was of orchid colored gladiolus and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid colored gladiolus. Bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Martin of Graham, Miss Joan Berry, Graham, roommate of the bride at Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, and Miss Patsy Jo Tidwell of Munday, sister of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of lime, yellow and blue and were designed as the maid of honor. Each carrying matching colonial bouquets and headpiece.

Little Miss Cheryl Barton of Munday was flower girl. She was dressed in a white marquisette gown over pink taffeta and patterned as the maid of honor and bridesmaids. She wore matching flowers in her hair and carried a white basket of pink rose petals, tied with a pink ribbon. Ring bearer was Chan Hughes, Jr. of Munday.

Mr. Robert Hill of Seymour served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Mr. Bobby Howell, Munday; Mr. James Smith, Munday; and Mr. Curtis Gollehon of Munday. Mr. Palmer Campsey, brother of the bride, of Munday and Mr. Gerald Tidwell, brother of the bridegroom, of Munday, were candle lighters.

Musical program for the ceremony was furnished by Miss Carolyn Hanah of Munday. She accompanied Miss Charlotte Williams as she sang, "O Promise Me" and "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer". While the marriage vows were being read and exchanged, Miss Hannah played softly "Clare de Lune".

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn garden at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Elland of Munday. The couple greeted the guests as they passed to register in the bride's book which was presided over by Miss Bobbie Price of Munday. The bride's table was decorated with a lace cloth over pink. A bouquet of flowers centered the table with a crystal punch bowl at one end and the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, stood at the other end. After the bride and groom cut the first piece of the cake, Mrs. Rhoads Allen and Miss Gwynna Lee Smith of Munday served the guests. Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Frances Hallmark and Miss Peggy Clough of Munday.

For her traveling frock, the bride chose a brown felle suit with green accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple left for Oklahoma and the mid-western states for a wedding trip, after which they will return on September 1st to Stillwater, Oklahoma, to make their home. The bridegroom will enter in Oklahoma A. & M. this fall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Campsey of Munday. She attended and graduated from the Munday schools in 1947. She attended Hardin Simmons University in Abilene for two years and was a member of the Cowgirls. Mr. Tidwell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Tidwell of Munday. He attended and graduated from the Munday schools in 1947. He attended Hardin Simmons University in Abilene before entering the army and being stationed at Camp Hood, Texas. He received his discharge August 2nd.

Guests were present from Amarillo, Graham, Seymour, Knox City, Benjamin, Goree and Munday.

Vote For The Advancement of Your Community On Monday, August 22!

The matter of whether Munday shall have a parking lane, by reducing the size of the city lawn and using part of our paving funds in paying for such parking street, will be submitted to the voters next Monday. This means no extra cost or taxes to our taxpayers. We want to submit the following in favor of such a project:

1. It would provide additional parking space for around 90 cars, thus cutting down our parking problem to a great extent.
2. It would do much toward the elimination of double parking in the business district.
3. It would provide such parking space at a point so as to be handy for our customers to reach most any place of business without walking a great distance.

4. It would help our officials in enforcing the traffic laws of our town and state.
5. It would cut down the size of our city lawn, and enable the city to keep the remainder of the lawn more beautiful and attractive.
6. It would avoid much traffic congestion during the busy parts of the day.
7. It's a move for community advancement. It would invite more people to our town by providing them handy parking places when they get here.

We want you to vote Monday, regardless of how you stand on the proposal. We want the voice of the community in this election.

Vote For Community Advancement!

Kracker Krumbs—

It's reached such proportions that our city council doesn't know what to do, what not to do, or whether to do.

So they've decided to let the people decide.

So, if you're interested in your town, in your city hall, in your town hall lawn, in your town's parking problem in fact if you're interested at all in any way—just saunter over to the city hall and vote next Monday.

It's your privilege to vote either way, if you're a qualified tax-paying voter.

It's your privilege to have an opinion on the matter, and your opinion might be as good as the next fellow's.

So, let's let our city council know "the will of the people." Let's go scratch one one those little clauses.

Then by nightfall Monday, August 22, we'll know whether she stays like she is, or whether she'll be changed up.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Tooth decay or dental caries is a destructive, progressive disease of the teeth. A large part of a tooth may be destroyed by decay with little evidence of decay on the surface says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Surveys of large groups of pre-school children reveal that 50% of them have decayed teeth at three years of age, 75% at four years of age, and 90% at five years of age. Six out of ten children, age 4 and 5, have as many as seven or more cavities.

Decay begins most frequently in the small pits and fissures on the chewing surfaces and at the points of contact between the teeth. Pits and fissures with structural flaws should be filled at once to prevent dental decay.

Dr. Cox said, "Dental examination and care should begin with the three year old child, and periodic examinations and necessary care should follow, thereafter, as often as the dentist advises. The first or baby teeth should be kept in a healthy condition until it is time for them to be lost."

"X-rays aid the dentist in finding hidden cavities, especially those between the teeth. Many of these beginning cavities are located in areas where they cannot be found in any other way. X-ray pictures are also useful in finding other conditions that require immediate attention such as abscesses, impacted teeth, broken roots, bone destruction due to pyorrhea, extra teeth, and other information that is important in treatment of the case.

"With periodic dental examination and adequate dental care for each child, beginning at three years of age, the great majority of the children will reach adulthood with good dental health."

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.
