

Kracker Krumbs Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

As a kid we saw a stage show on the life of Jesse James.

As he play progressed Jesse became a sort of outlaw hero to us. He was always kind to the women and children, giving them of the money he took from train robberies, etc.

At one point in the play, Jesse, all fagged out from his escapades laid down for a much needed sleep and rest. A more merciless outlaw, waiting an opportunity to take Jesse's life, decided this his best chance.

We swallowed our heart several times as it pounded against the roof of our mouth, as the outlaw crept closer and closer to the sleeping Jesse with a long-bladed knife.

Just as he was about to plunge the blade into Jesse's heart, the outlaw's faithful negro companion popped up out of nowhere.

And by the authority of a six-shooter as long as from here to yonder, he commanded: "Stay where yo' damn is!"

And that's what's gonna happen to our city hall lawn. It's gonna stay like it by gosh am! That is, so far as spending any of our paving bond issue money is concerned.

Opposition to the proposed parking "U" street for traffic, converting a portion of the lawn into this street, were in the majority last Monday.

They garnered a total of 156 votes against the proposal, while the votes for the project totaled up to only 124.

Thus closed that chapter in the era of the City of Munday's history. And those 90 cars that could have parked there must, if necessity and the will of the people, be parked somewhere else.

But our parking problem can be solved to some extent.

It has been talked that we should convert some of our vacant lots into truck parking lots, as has been done in some other towns.

Designated as such, these lots would catch many of the trucks of our transient laborers during cotton gathering season. There our harvest hands would congregate on Saturdays, and it would be sort of picnic for them.

And it would relieve the congestion on the main streets of the town, they say.

Another was to bring some relief to our parking problems would be for us fellows who are employed in town to be a little more considerate of our trade.

We could find places to park our cars, other than directly in front of our places of business, where they can now be seen every day, day in and day out.

We heard just the other day that one person counted over 50 cars parked on the town's streets that belonged to owners, managers and employees of Munday's business firms.

Finding other places for these cars would make room for 50 cars to be parked by those who come into town to buy our merchandise and services.

And 50 cars would make a difference.

Of course, when we come to work early in the morning, there is no parking problem. We can park most anywhere we desire.

Used to be three cars parked in front of the Times office. Now there are two parked there six days out of the week.

The same situation can be cited, and multiplied, as practically every business house in town.

With a little thought, some work, some gravel, etc., places can be provided for parking our workers' cars at the rear of the buildings, thus leaving our (Continued on Last Page)

New Paint Adds To Appearance Of Three Local Firms

The exterior and interior of three local firms took on a nicer appearance this week as the job of repainting both on the outside was completed.

The firms are the offices of P. V. Williams and J. C. Harpham Insurance Agency, and the Gafford Barber Shop.

They're much neater in appearance, and the new light paint provides them more light. They'd feel flattered if you'd drop in and brag on their places!

Large Crowds Hear Evangelist In Meeting

Interest is increasing with each service of the gospel meeting which is now in progress at the Church of Christ in Munday. Minister Dean Brookshire of Plainview is bringing some interesting messages, and each service is filled with inspiration. Mr. Brookshire is one of the leading ministers in this area, and those who are attending report that much good is being done by his gospel preaching.

Services are being held at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. each day. Morning services are held in the new church auditorium, while open air services are held each evening on the church lawn.

The meeting will close with the services next Sunday night, and the public is cordially invited to attend all the remaining services.

Last Rites For Thomas J. Peek Held Monday

Funeral services for Jeff Peek, well known farmer of the Hefner community were held at four o'clock last Monday afternoon from the First Baptist church in Goree.

Mr. Peek passed away at the family home on Friday afternoon, August 19.

Thomas Jefferson Peek was born in Tennessee on February 26, 1876, and was 73 years, 5 months and 24 days of age. He came to Texas in 1898 and had been a resident of the Hefner community for many years.

He is survived by his wife, four sons and three daughters, who are: Virgil Peek of Goree; Clarence Peek of Munday; John T. Peek of Kansas City, Mo.; Herbert Peek of Childress; Mrs. William Lain of Megargal; Mrs. Willie B. Neighbors of Goree, and Mrs. S. B. Jettison of Goree. Other survivors include 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Rice and Rev. S. E. Stevenson. Burial was in the Goree cemetery under the direction of the Mahan Funeral Home.

Munday's Streets Get New Topping

Approximately eight blocks of streets in the business district of Munday have received a new coating of asphalt and gravel during the past week and gravel sure peppers the body of your auto as you drive along.

It all started when the highway department decided that about four blocks which are highway maintained needed a new topping. They came in last week early one morning and had the job just about completed at noon.

The City of Munday had been trying to get someone to top four other blocks of the city's streets for some time. Recently they made a contract with Strain and Brown contractors of San Angelo, who are paving the Rhineland and Sunset road projects to do the work.

When the machinery pulled in, after city workers had cleaned the streets with sweeper, brooms and water, and they completed the topping Wednesday afternoon. It's quite an improvement over the old paving.

Incidentally, too, the Rhineland and Sunset paving projects are just about completed.

Parking Street Is Eliminated By Voters Of Munday

They voted strong Monday—and isn't it a shame that those who handle our city government can't be elected by the same large vote?

Last April, 22 voters elected three members of our city council.

Last Monday 290 voters cast their ballots on the proposed parking project, when the proposal came up to cut down the size of the city hall lawn and construct a U street around the city hall for parking purposes. The proposal was defeated. A total of 156 votes against the proposal, while 134 voters favored it.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

$25.00 Awards Made On First Cotton Here

Nolan Phillips and Chris Birkensfeld, who ginned the first bales of cotton in Munday for 1949, received checks in the amount of $25.00 this week.

The awards were made by the Community Development Association without any contributions being asked from local merchants.

Since the two bales were ginned within a few hours of each other, directors of the D. C. A. decided Monday night to make the award to each grower.

The Phillips bale was ginned at the Paymaster Gin, while the Birkenfeld bale went to the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Peaches Come To Editor's Desk From Friends Of Area

It's nice to be an editor along about deer hunting season, or when peaches and watermelons get ripe. We've benefitted from several friends recently.

Uncle Happy Hathaway, 94, was our oldest contributor. Last week Uncle Happy sent us a paper sack of nice peaches from his orchard and he boasts one of the best young orchards in town. We enjoyed them immensely, and our thanks to you, Uncle Happy.

Clay F. Grove was another contributor. We promised to get out to Clay's place, but he decided we weren't going to, so he brought the peaches in.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Burnison also added our good will by bringing some nice peaches to our home.

Watermelons and peaches came from the Frank Cerveny farm last Saturday night, and C. R. and J. C. Elliott are also among our peach friends. Mrs. Nell Hardin also sent peaches. E. V. Shackelford of Goree brought in two large peaches Monday, and he reported his wife canned some which were a little larger and two peaches filled a quart jar.

As long as we don't lose our appetite for peaches, watermelons and peas, we likely won't lose any weight.

Hugh Boggs Dies Thursday Morning

Word was received here Thursday of the death of Hugh Boggs, 38, formerly of Goree, who passed away at a Lubbock hospital Thursday morning following an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

Mr. Boggs was the son of the late Mrs. W. A. Boggs of Goree. He had been superintendent of the Lovington, New Mexico, schools for several years.

Among survivors are a brother and two sisters, Terrell Boggs, Mrs. Homer Howard and Mrs. Everett Gaither, all of Goree. Funeral arrangements were incomplete Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Jones and children and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norwood and son of McCamey, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sanderson and children, Mrs. Mattie Sanderson and Billie Ray Sanderson of Bridgeport, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson of Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Norwood and son and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Norwood and son of Knox City were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Norwood and children of Goree over the week end.

Tennis Courts Being Used By Many People

The following article regarding the use of the newly constructed tennis courts was made last week by W. C. Cox, superintendent of schools:

Tennis courts have been placed on the school campus for the use of all tennis lovers who wish to avail themselves of this wonderful, recreational, clean sport.

They have been placed there at quite an expense, paid by the Munday Public Schools and a larger amount furnished by outright donations by public minded citizens. The better care that is taken of the courts, the more benefit will be derived from them.

These courts have been placed under the direct supervision of authorities of the Munday Public Schools. They are very desirous that everybody have a chance to play. They hope, therefore, that no one will try to keep possession for an unreasonable time when others are waiting to play.

The school board, at a regular meeting, went on record as requiring that tennis shoes only be used on the courts. This is safer, and they will not wear the painted lines so rapidly. Leather soled shoes will cut the lines out faster than they can reasonably be kept painted. The board does not wish to embarrass anybody, but if you go on the courts to play, with other than tennis shoes, you will be asked to vacate the courts.

Until lights are installed, school boys and girls are asked to give over to adults after 5 p. m. Since many of these gave most toward the construction of the courts the board feels that they should have access to them after this hour. The board feels that since this is one of the outstanding sporting games, no one but a real sport will participate, therefore, will be a sport about the whole thing.

Stamford Golf Club Announces Golf Tourney

A large field of entries are expected to tee off on Saturday, September 3, when the Stamford Country Club invitation golf tournament gets under way. The tourney will run through Monday, Sept. 5.

Qualifying rounds will be run off Saturday with match play Sunday and Monday. Two rounds will be played each day, with the finals Monday afternoon.

The three-day week-end holiday including Labor Day on Monday is expected to swell the number of golfers taking part in the tourney to the largest number of entries to ever participate in a local invitation.

Russell Crownover, co-chairman of the committee on arrangements, said this week the prize list is one of the best ever to be offered at a tournament in this section of the state, including a set of irons, set of wood, wrist watches and an array of other valuable prizes donated by business men.

The sporty nine-hole layout is being groomed for the occasion and will be in perfect shape.

Lee Pinkston, defending champion and also Texas Jaycees Junior champion, of Abilene, will be on hand to defend his crown.

Russell Crownover and B. P. Davenport, Jr., are co-chairmen of the committee on arrangements.

W. H. Swain of Robbins, Cal., returned to his home last Thursday after spending several weeks visiting relatives and friends in Munday and Seymour. Mrs. W. J. Swain returned with him for an extended visit.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Brown and other relatives last week end were their daughters and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Davis and son of Laredo, and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Paulsen of Fort Worth and Mrs. Brown's brother, Frank Ware and Mrs. Ware of White City, Texas.

Farm Bureau Queen Contest Slated Monday

Final plans are complete for the Annual Knox County Farm Bureau Queen Contest to be held Monday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Vera High School auditorium. Everyone is invited to attend the contest which will consist of a short program followed by a watermelon feast.

Joe Reeder, Jr., local attorney, will be master of ceremonies and will introduce the queen contestants. The announcement of the judges' decision and the crowning of the queen by Milton Ford, president of the Knox County Farm Bureau, will climax the evening's program.

A large turnout is expected and there will be plenty of watermelon for all. So come on out and bring your neighbor with you. Let's have a real get-together and boost our county Farm Bureau Queen to the District contest.

According to announcement made Wednesday by county agent, Kenneth O. Lewis, there have been eleven contestants to enter the contest.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?
1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

INSEPARABLE FORCES

An official of one of the leading retailing organizations, said in a speech, "Production alone does not create prosperity. Not until the customer says I'll take that dress or that washing machine or that automobile, do we have the beginnings of prosperity. That is where mass distribution begins. . . . Mass distribution, coupled with mass production, creates prosperity."

What this amounts to is that the magnificent production of our factories wouldn't count for anything unless there were a highly-organized, highly-efficient machine for getting it into the hands of the ultimate consumer. We have that machine—and it is made up of several hundred thousand units. Some of them are individually owned stores. Some of them are part of chain systems used by many persons. Some are very large and some are very small. But, generally speaking, they all have certain things in common—the ability and the desire to serve the consumer well, to operate under conditions of intense competition for trade, to keep the goods moving.

The importance of retailing to the economy as a whole could hardly be exaggerated. It is, first of all, one of the biggest employers of labor. It pays huge sums in taxes. It is an unsatiable consumer of supplies and services of many kinds. It helps keep newspapers, radio stations and magazines going with its advertising. It is one of the best community builders—a good shopping center in the heart of any town.

Mass production and mass distribution are the inseparable forces that make the maintenance of our living standards possible.

FIRE IN THE COUNTRY

It is probably true that the most fertile field for fire prevention activity and public education is the small towns and the rural areas of the country.

We have very serious fire prevention problems in the great cities and the congested industrial regions. But they are constantly being worked on by specialists and experts. In addition, first-class metropolitan fire departments, along with relatively high standards of building construction and maintenance, do much to hold the fire loss down.

The situation is very different in the small communities. Fire departments are small and are usually manned wholly or in part by volunteers. Water and alarm facilities are limited. Many agricultural areas have no organized fire protection whatever. On top of that, a great many buildings are old and are highly inflammable. When fire does strike, a total loss often follows—and, at best, substantial damage is done.

A very considerable part of our huge total fire waste is made up of thousands of fires that take place each year on farms and in the smaller towns. The best defense is knowledge and caution on the part of individuals—coupled with maximum development of fire fighting and fire protection facilities. Every American should make a point of learning the simple precautions that will prevent most fires.

TOO MANY TAXES

Recent reports from Washington indicate that Congressional sentiment in favor of reducing or eliminating the retail excise taxes levied on various kinds of commodities is on the increase.

These taxes were imposed as war measures. Their purpose was not only to raise revenue, but to discourage the manufacture and sale of "non-essentials". It has been argued in their favor that they apply only to luxuries—furs, cosmetics, etc. However, in peace-time this country has never been expected to live on a bare subsistence basis, and what is a luxury and what is not is a matter of individual opinion.

Another war measure, similar in principle, was the imposition of a special tax on rail, bus and airplane tickets. Here, too, sentiment in favor of repeal is growing.

No one can prove with cold and irrefutable statistics just how much the retail excise taxes have hurt the sale of items to which they apply. Experienced retailers, however, feel that the damage is substantial. These taxes run up to 20 per cent, and it doesn't take an expert to understand that so large an increase in the price of anything sold across the counters isn't going to do business any good. And the same thing applies, of course, to the tax on transportation.

This country is plagued with special taxation and double taxation of many kinds. The retail excises are conspicuous examples. They should be repealed, now that the emergency that led to their creation is over.

What this country needs at this time of year is a road map that will fold up as easy as it unfolds.

A writer says his idea of a hick town is a place with no place to go you shouldn't.

Uncle Sam Says

Next to a stack of golden grain in the fields or a tree loaded with fruit, a farmer's proudest possession is his stack of U. S. Savings Bonds. These Bonds enable him to oil up his financial machinery and maintain a reserve which insures his home, land, livestock and equipment. His future is secure. The wise farmer builds his financial reserve on Savings Bonds from profits when his crops are good. That reserve is the windbreak against a stormy period. And it grows, $4 for every $3 invested in ten years.

Between Fort Worth and Arlington today, the main east-and-west highway traversing Texas crosses a small stream, known as Village Creek. This name is derived from the fact that a series of Indian villages were located along the stream. And it was from these villages that the warriors set forth on their destructive forays against the few, scattered settlers.

The Republic of Texas decided to strike a crushing blow against the marauders. So, in 1841, a force of militiamen set out under the command of Gen. Edward H. Trant, a seasoned soldier who had served under Andrew Jackson in Indian campaign and in the Battle of New Orleans.

When scouts discovered the first of the villages, Tarrant addressed his men on the morning of May 24, closing with, "There's a great confusion and death ahead. Never will all of us meet again on this earth. I shall expect every man to fill his place and do his duty. Are you ready?" Then turning to the bugler, "Order Charge."

The next instant, there were wild shouts as the 69 mounted militiamen swept down into the village firing their rifles and pistols, then wielding swords and bayonets. The surprise was complete and the place was captured immediately.

A second village, two miles away, likewise, was taken but, at the third village, the savages put up a spirited defense before falling back. Although the Texans had been victorious in the series of engagements, their numbers were few in comparison to the strength of the enemy, estimated at 500—(an equal number was away on a hunting trip). So Tarrant brought his men together, then scouts were sent out. They rode into an ambush and Capt. John B. Denton was mortally wounded. The scouting party put up such fierce resistance, however, that the Indians retreated. Denton (for whom a city and country were named) was General Tarrant's aide and was a noted preacher, lawyer and Indian fighter. He was the only Texan killed, though two others were wounded—surprisingly light casualties under the circumstances. Twelve Indian slain were counted and it is probably that many other were killed or wounded.

The country of which Fort Worth is the principal city was fittingly named for Gen. Tarrant, the victor of the Battle of Village Creek.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 6, 1949. The biggest sensation this week was occasioned by the release of the so-called China White Paper. This is a one thousand page book, published by the State Department, seeking to explain our policy in China. This White Paper will be the subject of bitter debate here and abroad for years to come. In money and military equipment we have spent several billions of dollars trying to bolster democratic forces in China, and trying to save them from Communist domination. An editorial in the Scripps-Howard Newspapers blames General George C. Marshall for the Chinese debacle. This editorial claims that the Nationalist government, under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the so-called democratic forces of China, were winning the civil war against the Communists until General Marshall's trip over there, and until we stopped sending them tremendous quantities of military equipment. It was General Marshall who came back and reported that our aid was being dissipated, that much of our military equipment was being delivered to and used by the Communies, and that the Nationalist Government was corrupt to the core. Our State Department, headed by Mr. Dean Acheson, now contends that to effectively aid the Chinese Democrats in their war against the Chinese Communies would cost more billions of dollars and require the services of American military personnel, and might even then be unsuccessful. In other words, the official position of our government is that the gamble is not worth taking. We have concluded that we have no real alternative other than to let China stew in her own juice, so to speak. Admittedly the Chinese must suffer individually and collectively from a lack of ideals and integrity. "The wages of sin is death."

Hypocrisy, duplicity, and a lack of honesty can and will destroy any people, however rich and powerful they may be. Our own hands are not entirely clean, and we should take warning.

Within the next few weeks the political demagogues of our country will again undertake to pass through Congress the so-called Fair Employment Practices Commission, the FEPC. A bill by New York's Negro Congressman, Adam C. Powell, is ready now for high-pressure through the Congress. The Administration has already sought through executive order to impose FEPC upon the Armed Forces of the country. Segregation in the Armed Forces has been eliminated by order of the President. This order is doing great harm to the morale of the Armed Forces and to their effective administration.

Recently the Department of Interior sought to abolish segregation in some of the swimming pools of Washington. Riots and trouble ensued, and such swimming pools have now been closed. A friend of mine from Birmingham, Alabama reports that an Armed Service dance in that city was recently attended by two Negro couples. The Negro couples had a right to go under the President's order. The several hundred White couples immediately abandoned the hall, and the orchestra was compelled to play all evening for two Negro couples. Just last week at a Naval Officers dinner dance here in Washington a Negro Naval officer came to the party with a White girl. They were given a wide berth at this social affair and almost broke up the affair.

The proposal to spend a billion and a half dollars furnishing arms and military equipment to European nations is engendering bitter debate. Opponents contend with great logic that when we signed the North Atlantic Pact we underwrote the security of European countries outside the iron curtain, that through the Marshall Plan we have been feeding these people and have been rebuilding their factories. Opponents then point out that this equipment would be obsolete and worn out in the event of war, and that it is unnecessary for the training of European soldiers. They further point out the danger that such equipment might fall into the hands of the Communies in Europe, as it did in China.

The House this week passed the Harris Bill, amending the Natural Gas Act. This bill seeks to keep the Federal Power Commission from controlling the production of gas within the United States. It largely restricts the authority of the Federal Power Commission to interstate traffic.

This week the House also passed a cotton allotment bill, which gives the Department of Agriculture authority to allot and restrict cotton acreage. The bill is deemed necessary if the government is to support the price of cotton. For a number of years our cotton acreage has averaged a little over 20 million acres. This year cotton acreage amounts to 26 million acres. Under existing law the Secretary of Agriculture could not reduce cotton acreage for 1950 below 27,500,000 acres. The bill just passed reduces this amount to 21 million acres in 1950, and allows a further reduction in 1951 if the same becomes necessary.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

"SOMETHING FOR NOTHING"

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Secaucus, Arkansas

THE TROUBLE with compulsory health insurance programs lies chiefly in the fact that such fancy government plans have so little in common with our American way of life. Most all of us will agree that health is a desirable thing to have. But even an utter simpleton knows that you cannot get "health" by compulsory action. The catch is that health is politically desirable. As a goal of the government for its citizens it means "votes." Just like most any handout the government can think up.

Sure, I'm in favor of health, and I'm opposed to sickness. I want to be healthy, and I like for all my family and my neighbors to be healthy. It's definitely a good thing. So is clothing. I'm all for the idea of having enough to wear. Such things are necessary. Another thing that comes in handy is food. Most people like to eat, and I believe, find it rather important. The American people therefore require the government. Like any politician, I'm definitely for all these things.

BUT I'm definitely not for a huge bureaucratic machine that would feed, clothe, and "doctor" the American people. I would not like for these things (nor the host of other things always being suggested to Congress) to be done for me by a paternalistic, bureaucratic, federal government that always seems to be a threat for more taxes to expend so as to hire more government workers. I am not interested in having other people pay for things to be supplied to me for "free."

In all fairness, I would say that the idea of forcing me to chip in for John Doe's groceries, or clothing, or doctor bills—to be supplied to him by the government—is certainly not the kind of political policy that has made America a great and prosperous land. This thing is bedrock. It is principle.

SHOULD THE government tax people to see that everyone is supplied with food? Obviously, no. Neither should it tax to provide medical care. I am opposed to compulsory health insurance, therefore, because it has little in common with the American way of doing things.

If you are a worker, it will take money out of your paycheck that you might want for other things. If you are an employer, you will be required to match the amount taken from each worker's paycheck. (This cost you will have to pass on to the customer, thus increasing the cost of living for us all.) If you are self-employed, you'll pay the full three per cent or whatever it is raised to later.

I am not against this socialized medicine plan because it fosters the false idea that it's possible to get something for nothing—just by letting the government take charge of things. It is another example of state supported "security" that makes nobody secure and does nothing except put the whole American system in real danger. It promises to cost so much within a few years—in payroll and other taxes—that not even its backers dare estimate how much. Yet, it is offered all "for free."

ered. Sec. 3. The Amendments proposed herein, if ratified by the people, shall become effective January first, A.D. 1950.

Sec. 4. The foregoing Constitutional Amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at a General Election to be held throughout this State on the second Tuesday in November, the same being November 8, 1949, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendments relative to sessions of the Legislature and to compensation of its members."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendments relative to sessions of the Legislature and to compensation of its members."

Each voter shall express his vote on the proposed Amendment in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 5. The Governor of this State shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Law Requiring Half Of All The Free Deep Freezes To Go To The Farmers

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek comes up with a fine idea this week, which we doubt he'll get anywhere with.

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday wondering why nobody ever sends me a deepfreeze unit right out of a clear sky, looks like all I ever get out of a clear sky is a drought, and I got to thinkin and the more I thought the more it seemed to me the people who are wantin special favors have an uncanny sense in showering gifts on people in public office, without ever lettin a single one fall on anybody else.

I ain't never held public office and don't see much prospect of ever doin it, as I wouldn't spend as much energy shakin hands as some officeholders do if it stood between me and starvation, but I have been wonderin why you don't ever read of the United States Senate investgatin a man like me for receivin a valuable gift from some manufacturer?

I could even imagine the headline in your paper "The Philosopher Says He Though Deepfreeze Unit Was Reward For Faithfulness," but up to now ain't no big business expert huntin for more contracts even let on he knows I'm alive. In fact, looks like us farmers are gettin a raw deal.

I have even heard of a justice of the peace gettin a box of cigars, a county commissioner gettin a new suit of clothes or a new set of tires for his personal automobile, a state representative gettin a new car, a U. S. Congressman gettin a huntin lodge, but in all my newspaper readin over a long number of years, I ain't never heard of a farmer gettin nothin free.

It seems to me, with farmers holding the key to food production, which ought to be as important as steel production, that some smart bird would figure out it would be good business to favor a few farmers with electric refrigerators or at least a ice box, or, if he couldn't do no better, the second hand tires that comes off some official's car when he gets a new set for decidin one piece of equipment is better than another, but up to now we've been ignored.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

If They're Wild, They Belong To Tik!

Saw Tik Anderson last week and was reminded of the first time I ever spoke to him. The missus had sent me out one Saturday afternoon to hunt for some blackberries.

I took a long hike and couldn't find any. Finally, I came to Tik's house along that low stretch east of the fork on River Road. "Hi there," I says, "any blackberries around here?"

Tik says, "There used to be—but I don't know much about things that grow wild." Later, I found how Tik supports his family by picking berries. Ever since, I've been like the rest of folks in town—respectful of his right not to tell where "his" berries grow.

From where I sit, respecting other folks' rights comes natural in our town... in America for that matter! Whether it's a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale, or whether it's Tik Anderson's right to keep secret where his berries are, it's all a big part of a real democracy!

Church Wedding Rites Sunday Unite Marilyn Bowden And Gerald Edwards

Miss Marilyn Jean Bowden of Munday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowden of Munday, became the bride of Mr. Gerald Wayne Edwards of Leuders, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Edwards of Leuders, last Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in Munday. The Rev. Huron A. Polnac pastor of the First Baptist Church in Munday, read the double ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with an arch of maroon and white daisies entwined with greenery at the foot of the altar. White candelabras holding white candles, shaping an arch, stood behind the arch of greenery and daisies. White candles, daisies and greenery were used on the altar rail. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white ivory skinner satin gown with a sweetheart neckline with a lace yolk. The long sleeves came to points over the wrists and were outlined with seed pearls. The fitted bodice featured self-covered buttons to the waistline in the back. Lace extended down the front of the full skirt and around the hem. The skirt extended into a train at the back. The bride's gown was designed and made by Mrs. Rose Jones of Munday. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of orchids with streamers of stephanotis. For "something new", the bride wore a gold bracelet which was the gift of the groom and as "something blue", she wore a garter.

In her white satin ballerina slippers, she wore a dime with the year of the wedding, 1949. Matron of honor was Mrs. O. B. Paulsel of Fort Worth, aunt of the bride. She wore a pale green taffeta gown designed with a low neckline with a fold making the collar and sleeves and a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her bouquet was made up of white daisies with yellow streamers. Miss Joy Agnew of Hamlin, served as maid of honor. Dressed in a pink taffeta gown and designed the same as the matron of honor, Miss Agnew carried a Colonial bouquet of white daisies with yellow streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Billie Fern Thompson of Munday and Miss Louise Livengood of Stamford. Miss Thompson was attired in an orchid taffeta off-the-shoulder gown with a fold over her arms and fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried maroon daisies with yellow streamers in a Colonial bouquet, while Miss Livengood featured an orchid gown with fitted bodice full skirt with a pleated collar and sleeve bands and a sweetheart neckline. Bows tied at the hem of her skirt. She, too, carried a Colonial bouquet of maroon daisies with yellow streamers. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Novilla Edwards of Leuders, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a blue taffeta gown with a low neckline, fitted bodice and skirt with ruffles around the neckline and sleeves. Her bouquet was identical to those of the bridesmaids. Little Carolyn Rose Brown of Knox City, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. Her gown was of orchid organza over taffeta with a ruffled neckline and sleeves and at the hem of the skirt. She scattered rose petals on the bride's aisle from a white weaved basket tied with pink ribbons.

Mr. Bob Atkenson of Hamlin served the groom as best man. Ushers were Bob Williams of Stamford, Morris Haymes, Haskell; and Gene Kelley of Leuders.

As the guests entered the church, Mrs. E. Q. MR. AND MRS. ALBERT ANDRAE, JR.

Cecelia Haiduk, Albert Andrae Jr. Marry Recently

ABILENE—Nuptial vows were solemnized recently for Cecelia Margaret Haiduk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haiduk, and Albert Andrae, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Andrae, Sr., of Hale Center.

Father Joseph Walter read the double-ring service in St. Theresa Church in Panhandle, Texas. An arrangement of pink gladioli decorated the main altar and pink and white carnations were used on the side altars.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. Vernon Reining was attired in a turquoise taffeta gown, styled with a nylon yoke, fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a prayer book topped with red roses.

Mrs. Jimmy D. Stennett of Abilene, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mildred Michels of Munday were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of rose taffeta and carried prayer books marked with blue carnations.

Vernon Reining, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man, and groomsmen were Jimmy D. Stennett and Alvin Bellinghausen. Al Haiduk, brother of the bride and Roman Homen were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white slipper satin, designed with a fitted bodice lace trimmed yoke and full skirt terminating in a chapel train. Her full-length tiered veil of illusion, edged in lace, fell from a heart-shaped bonnet outlined with seed pearls, and her only jewelry was a lavalier, which belonged to her mother and which she wore at her wedding. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid and feverfew.

Mrs. Ed Preusser, organist, played several nuptial selections and assisted Mrs. Jack Powell in singing the nuptial mass.

Mrs. Haiduk, mother of the bride wore a forest green dress, and Mrs. Albert Andrae, mother of the groom, wore a blue crepe dress. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was feted at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. Friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom comprised the house party. Arrangements of red and white carnations and white feverfew decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Andrae was graduated from the Academy of Mary Immaculate, in Wichita Falls. Mr. Andrae is a former resident of Munday. The couple will be at home in Plainview, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Elsie M. Bardwell of Jacksonville, Texas, have returned from a recent trip to Harlingen and other South Texas points, where they visited Mrs. Bardwell's sister, Mrs. Phil Hoge, and family and Mrs. D. S. Carson of Harlingen. Mrs. Bardwell's mother, Mrs. Carson, accompanied them home.

Miss Gloria Murdock Receives Degree

DENTON — Gloria Murdock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Murdock of Goree, was among a record group of 742 who received bachelor's and master's degrees at North Texas State College here Thursday night (Aug. 25).

The 208 master's and 534 bachelor's degrees were awarded without a commencement speaker in accordance with candidates' wishes to take this time to cross the stage individually to receive degrees from Dr. W. J. McConnell, NTSC president.

The record graduate class was composed mostly of teachers seeking advanced degrees because of provisions of the Gilmer-Aiken bills for Texas public schools.

Miss Murdock, who received the bachelor's degree, is a member of Alpha Lambda Sigma, an organization for library service majors, and the McCracken Club, a library service organization.

O. H. Spann, Jr. came in last Sunday evening to spend two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann, and other relatives and friends before re-entering McMurry College in Abilene where he will be a student this fall.

Winter Cover Crops Should Be Planted Early

Now is the time of the year to start making plans for winter cover crops. District Supervisors of the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District are urging farmers to start making plans early enough this year to get their seed for planting early, where it is possible to do so. The supervisors are planning to fix their grain drill so that it will be possible to seed the cover crops of rye and hairy vetch or Austrian winter peas in cotton fields.

FOR SALE—4-room rock house, lot 75x200. Priced for quick sale. See R. D. or J. E. Bell, box 14 Munday, Texas. 3-2t.

Some remarkable results have been experienced by several farmers who have planted a cover crop of hairy vetch and rye or Austrian winter peas. Production was almost doubled, and results were seen on the land for two years afterward.

FOR SALE—Several business lots in Goree. Reasonable price. E. V. Shackelford, Goree, Texas. 4-2tc.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Correct posture in school children, and adults as well, is necessary to proper physical and mental development says a warning from the Texas State Department of Health. "Good posture is a sign of self respect and plays an important part in winning the respect of others," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Many of the ills of childhood and the deformities of adult life have their beginning in poor posture acquired during childhood," he said, "and it is particularly important that the child's posture conform to nature's dictates."

Most children are born in good physical condition and yet examination of large groups of school children show a high percentage to be suffering from poor posture. Malnutrition and fatigue are productive of poor posture. These lessen the size of the chest and decrease the lung capacity. Abdominal organs may also be pushed out of natural position, which may seriously interfere with their action. These conditions must be corrected before the body is able to attain normal weight and nutritional standards.

"School children who have poor posture are said often to average lower in attendance and in school mental and physical activities than those who have good posture. A child may be forced to hold his body in an unnatural position by a desk that is too high or too low. Desks and work tables should be just high enough to allow the feet to rest on the floor and the forearms and hands to rest upon the tops without the shoulders being hunched up.

"Begin early in life to teach your children to stand straight and sit straight for health and self-confidence, and they should grow into strong, well-built men and women."

Mart Hardin, who is attending Texas Tech in Lubbock, was home for the week end.

NEW IDEAS IN ASBESTOS HOMES

These two attractive small homes, finished on the outside with large asbestos cement boards, are examples of a new siding technique. Full or half sheets of asbestos board, a fire-safe and weather-proof building material often used for interior walls or utility purposes, were applied as siding for reasons of economy and design. The house at the top, privately built in Urbana, Ill., is sided with full 4x8-foot asbestos boards applied vertically. Wood battens, placed on 16-inch centers, conceal the vertical joints and provide a decorative effect. Asbestos cement boards, cut in half lengthwise to make 2x8-foot panels, were applied to the house at the bottom. This is one of the research houses built in Urbana by the Small Homes Council of the University of Illinois. Panels were applied in clapboard style with a strip of lath placed under each course to deepen the shadow line.

Wichita Valley Stations To Be Closed Saturdays

The 40-hour work week, which in effect becomes a 5-day work week, for non-operating railroad workers throughout the nation as a result of the report made December 17, 1948 by a Presidential Emergency Board, is to become effective at all Burlington Lines stations in Texas September 1st, according to an announcement issued from the Fort Worth headquarters of Fort Worth and Denver City, and Wichita Valley Railways. Non-operating employees are all of those not directly involved in the movement of trains.

This week, representatives of the management of these railroads are touring the Texas areas served by Burlington Lines, explaining to Chamber of Commerce managers and others concerned, the mechanics of the new working arrangement and its effect on service to the public.

Little change will be noticed insofar as passenger service is concerned. About the only difference, one spokesman said, is that travelers from some towns should anticipate the purchase of tickets, and the checking and claiming of baggage and express, between Monday and Friday for trips beginning on Saturday or Sunday; however, this will not be necessary at the larger stations.

Customary service will be accorded to United States mail.

Beginning September 3rd all freight stations will be closed to forwarders and receivers of freight on Saturdays as well as on Sundays and holidays; however, at all of the stations where heavy freight movements occur the same arrangements will be made for carload handling and for emergencies on Saturdays that heretofore have obtained on Sundays.

Demurrage and storage rules have been amended to meet this new situation.

Cotton Insecticide Shortage Critical

Texas cotton farmers may have trouble finding a source of supply of the newer and recommended cotton insecticides says Dr. H. G. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A & M. College. Applications have been very heavy and a shortage has already developed in some states.

Grasshopper, cutworm, and army worm infestations were heavier than usual in many areas of the Southwest and now the boll weevil is more numerous and widespread throughout the cotton belt than any year since 1941 except in Texas. Johnston credits the early and thorough cotton stalk plow up program with holding down to some extent of the boll weevil damage. All worms are causing serious damage in some sections of the state and if recent conditions prevail, damage can be expected to become general in many areas within the next two weeks, he says.

The preferred material for general cotton insect control, continues Johnston, is 20 per cent toxaphene plus 40 per cent sulphur or a mixture of 3 per cent gamma BHC, 5 per cent DDT, 40 per cent sulphur (3-5-40). If these materials are not available some substitutions can be made if the substitutes can be found, and results should be good.

Where the boll weevil is the major pest 7 to 10 pounds of calcium arsenate per acre at 5 day intervals will give good control, says Johnston. Alternate applications of 3-5-40 and calcium arsenate will prevent increased aphid populations which may result from using calcium arsenate alone. A special lime-free calcium arsenate plus 1 per cent gamma BHC will also give good weevil control and prevent possible aphid increase.

For the boll worm alone, the following insecticides are preferred in the order of their preference: 2 per cent gamma BHC 10 per cent DDT, 40 per cent sulphur; 10 per cent DDT, 40 per cent sulphur; 5 per cent DDT, 75 per cent sulphur at increased dosage; lead arsenate; cryolite; and calcium arsenate. Any of these materials, he adds, should be applied every five days at rates of 12 to 15 pounds per acre. Aphid infestations may increase following the use of either the arsenates or DDT. Alternate applications of these and 3-5-40 as for boll weevil control will prevent possible aphid increases.

When both insects are abundant follow the suggestions for controlling the boll weevil alone at increased dosage of 12 to 15

This business of certain "I do's" covers a lot of territory. Take that pertinent section about "in sickness or in health". With my mouth wide open and a dentist peering downward, it occurred to me that one "I do's" in the Stuart household must be getting weary of writing checks to our teeth expert.

Between "ahhs" and a few "ows" I managed to ask the man at work why the dental profession hadn't come up with something to do away with tooth decay and help out family budgets—to say nothing of aching molars.

You can stop biting the drill now," says he, "I'm finished. You must be psychic. I was just going to tell you about a discovery that may be an answer to your question. There's a new toothpaste that looks like the most promising approach to the prevention of tooth decay yet found.

He proceeded to explain that only a month or so ago a scientist presented a report before the International Association for Dental Research on the dramatic results achieved with a new toothpaste containing chlorophyll. Checking on my high school chemistry I was assured that chlorophyll was the wonder-working substance that gives grass and other green plants their color and upon which all living things depend. Chlorophyll is the name given to the natural green paste and, sifting out the scientific jargon, it does three main jobs with only two brushings a day. First, it lowers the acid bacteria count in the mouth more effectively than any other known substance. Second, it also goes to prevent breakdown of protein parts of tooth enamel. The third and most quickly apparent achievement of the green paste is the ability to completely deodorize the mouth. Unlike other pastes or powders which merely mask odors with strong, biting flavors, the new dentifrice actually destroys offensive odors and retards their return.

"Onions too?" I asked eagerly.

"Definitely. Onions too. Now out of my office. There are toothaches waiting!"

pounds per acre, says Johnston. Two per cent gamma BHC plus 10 per cent DDT and 40 per cent sulphur at the rate of 12 to 15 pounds per acre may also be used.

Fleahopper and Lygus may be controlled with 5 per cent DDT, 75 per cent sulphur or 10 per cent toxaphene, 40 per cent sulphur. For the fleahopper alone sulphur dust, two applications at 15 to 18 pounds per acre will give good control.

If you need more detailed information concludes Johnston, call on your local county agricultural agent.

Use Of Fertilizer Pays Big Dividend

The use of fertilizers paid off last year for Herbert Duke of Happy, Texas, says Swisher county agent Calvin D. Holcomb.

Duke fertilized four different plots of wheat and in his report to Holcomb he said one plot was fertilized with 400 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre and from the plot he harvested 48.2 bushels of wheat per acre. On another, he applied 100 pounds per acre of the same fertilizer and harvested 45 bushels per acre. On a third plot, he used 200 pounds of 16-20-0 fertilizer per acre and harvested 45.4 bushels per acre and on the fourth, he used 100 pounds of 16-20-0 per acre and harvested 44.2 bushels per acre. From his check plot, he harvested only 28.2 bushels per acre.

The increased yields paid for the fertilizer and left Duke a very good increase in money income per acre from each of the four applications that he made, says Holcomb. The per acre yield increases ranged from 16 to 20 bushels per acre and a little simple arithmetic shows the money income per acre increased approximately $27.50 to $35.00 per acre. Take off the cost of the fertilizer, and you still have an excellent return on the investment.

Duke says the ammonium nitrate produced slightly higher yields than the 16-20-0 but that the stalks on the 16-20-0 plots were stronger and this made possible a better combining job.

Fertilizers have been used on the Duke farm for the past four years and he tells Holcomb that its use is becoming a must in his farming operations. He plans to increase his acreage of fertilized crops next year.

Three Texas counties rank high among the leading in the United States in Jersey activities. Hopkins was fifth in number of registrations and seventh in the number of new buyers. Harris was fifth in number of transfers and Bexar ninth in number of registrations. Texas led all states in total registrations, transfers, new breeders and total number of cows on Register of Merit test.

Mrs. Gene Harrell and Dick Harrell were week end visitors in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Paulsel of Fort Worth were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bowden and other relatives last week end. They attended the wedding of Marilyn Jean Bowden on Sunday.

DOSS HOLDER WOULDN'T BELIEVE IT BUT HIS FAMILY WAS INVOLVED

Here's a tall dog and frog story that appeared in the Alice Daily Echo, and Doss Holder says he wouldn't believe it himself if it wasn't for the fact that his son, Rex and grandson, Jimmy Rex, were involved:

"Buffy," the six-months-old Cocker pup belonging to Jimmie Rex Holder had a painful experience recently which taught her the literal meaning of the expression "frog in the throat."

Jimmie Rex is the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Holder, 1137 Hartwell Road, and Buffy, his constant companion, as well as a great favorite with the entire family. During the summer Buffy became acquainted with a small frog, which would come out late in the afternoon. It soon became customary for the family to sit in the yard and watch the pup frolic with the frog. Both seemed to enjoy the game.

Friday as usual, Buffy and her pal were performing for their audience, with the pup giving sharp barks at which the frog would leap away, waiting for the dog to advance and bark again when he would repeat the jump. Finally, however, when Buffy opened her mouth wide to bark, the frog unexpectedly leaped directly into her throat cutting off the sound in the middle of a note.

Holder, sizing up the situation immediately, jumped up and taking the dog by the back legs attempted to dislodge the frog, but without success; a try of squirting water down the dog's throat also failed to have the desired effect. With the limp and the family becoming frantic, Holder began massaging Buffy's throat, and to his great relief managed to push the frog

"BUGGIES WILL NOT LAST"

"It's short-sighted to think the buggy will last much longer," said Henry Timken fifty years ago when there was talk about the new horseless carriages being a fad that would not last. And after fifty years, "Old" Henry, as he was affectionately called, could, if still living, look upon The Timken Roller Bearing Company as it is today and be well pleased with the truth of his statement. As the company that bears his name celebrates half a century of progress in the manufacture of roller bearings for industry throughout the world there should be more than a passing nod given to "Old" Henry and men like him who made our industrial progress possible. Shown above is a buggy that some people thought could never be replaced by the gasoline car. There was even an attempt to lobby for anti-auto legislation. Below is one of the stream-lined cars of today. Inset shows Henry Timken, founder of the business that helped make the automobile the speedy, economical job it is now.

down, so that the dog was once more able to breathe freely. To the great delight of the entire family, Buffy was soon her old self, although she looked slightly baffled over the abrupt disappearance of her playmate.

Jimmie Rex voiced the feeling of the family following the episode, when looking out the window at Buffy romping on the lawn he sighed happily and said: "Buffy had froglegs for supper but I'll bet she doesn't want frog-legs for breakfast."

And this wouldn't need to be done more than about twice a week, since there are only about two days a week when parking space become a major problem.

As the situation now is, if we park our cars back of the shop and a goodrain catches it back there, we'd want someone with a right powerful tractor to come along and help us get it out.

But that wouldn't happen often. A few loads of gravel would remedy the situation too. So our parking problem can become a less serious problem if we set our hearts and minds to it.
