

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

It sounds like a light hailstorm on a sheetiron roof.

That's the noise that's made by driving along our newly topped streets.

Tires pick up the loose gravel and slam them against the "undercarriage" of the vehicles with a constant pounding until you get off the new topping.

The new job has its good points and it had ones.

It was badly needed to protect our present paving. It was getting in pretty bad shape.

Why, when the boys cleaned the paving off with broom, sweeper and water hose, those cracks made us think of Schleicher county ranch land during the drought.

But the cracks were filled prior to the topping. And some of these days the lose gravel will go down, and we'll have paving that can't be so readily damaged by water.

It was necessary for the protection of our paving, so with that in mind, we won't mind the peppering of gravel under our fenders for a spell.

Some of the bad, or unfortunate, points are as follows, viz. to-wit:

Our street sweeper can't be operated very successfully with so much loose gravel.

We had a visitor to our town during the past week who came by Galveston way, hoping to see our street sweeper and the clean streets in our town.

She grew up in our town, and she was looking forward to seeing these improvements with a great deal of pleasure and anticipation.

Think her relatives began to wonder if she came to see them, or to see our street sweeper and swept streets.

It was a disappointment for her to find loose rocks all over the place, dirt in the gutters, loose papers blowing around, and a street sweeper nowhere in sight.

But, shucks! We understand the street sweeper got broken up, and is waiting the arrival of repair parts from the factory.

Another bad point is the delay in marking our curbs for parking spaces.

Many of the townspeople had hopes of this marking project being completed by fall. Then cars could be parked right, with no guesswork.

And it would amount to a tremendous saving in parking space. No longer would we see three cars taking up enough parking space for five.

But we understand the loose gravel has to settle down and the surplus, if any, taken away before this marking project will be done successfully.

But we imagine the gain outweighs the loss in our street topping maneuvers.

Herbert Cunningham took us a quick trip over the Rhineland road Tuesday.

The road to the Brazos river was opened all the way for the first time since paving work was begun.

We were out to the river and back in the matter of just a few minutes. It's the fastest trip we've ever taken over the Rhineland road!

The work remaining to be done consists of merely dressing off the shoulders, then the job will be completed, and a job well done.

It, too, has those rocks on it, and they must be given time to settle down. So watch out for your windshields as you travel

Clifton Swain Is Fullback On Cowboy Team

ABILENE—When the Hardin-Simmons University football team begins its '49 season September 1, it will be bolstered by a man who played high school football at Munday. Coach Warren B. Woodson, head mentor on the Cowboy range, will be counting on this man in fielding a first caliber team for the coming season.

Clifton Swain, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Swain, is moving up from the H-SU undefeated-untied freshman team of '48 and with his speed, ability and experience, should see plenty of action in the fullback position. He was coached by B. B. Cloud of Munday High where he earned letters in football, basketball, and track. The Cowboys open their '49 season with a home stand against the North Texas State College eleven. They are scheduled to play 11 games; six Border Conference tilts, and two inter-sectional contests, Loyola University and the University of Cincinnati.

County Council Meets On Friday

The Knox Home Demonstration Council met in regular session Friday afternoon, August 26, in the assembly room of the court house in Benjamin.

The meeting was opened by the group singing the District III song, "Follow the Gleam" and the state song, "Song of Peace".

Roll call was answered by six clubs. Reports were given by each of these clubs. A report was read from the district vice-president, Mrs. E. S. Dockery, on the state institution at Wichita Falls. District III is studying this institution. The report gave some very interesting facts and showed that more funds are definitely needed at this institution to take proper care of the patients.

Miss Butler announced a meeting for the agent and 4-H sponsors at Benjamin, August 30, to plan next year's 4-H club program.

Mrs. R. M. Almanrode gave a report on the mass x-ray drive just completed for Knox county. There were 2284 x-rays made. Forty-three of these showed positive. Seventeen showed other chest complications.

Council voted to invite the unit back to Knox county next year.

J. E. Reeves, Jr. Gets B. S. Degree

J. E. Reeves, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reeves of Munday, received his B. S. degree in agriculture from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, in graduation exercises held at the college last Friday night. During his studies at Tech he majored in dairy manufacturing.

J. E. has accepted a position as instructor in the college for next year, while at the same time he will be working on his master's degree.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

Northern Star Feed Farms To Hold Annual Field Day On September 8th

Jeff Williams of Chickasha, Okla., who last year was said to be the most entertaining after-dinner speaker ever to visit this area, will again be the entertainment speaker when Northern Star Seed Farms of O'Brien has its annual Field Day, Thursday, September 8, S. N. Reed announced this week.

Mr. Williams was the principal speaker for the Field Day last year and kept his audience in an uproar throughout his entire speech.

Also featured on the program will be the Stamps Quartette of Wichita Falls, who will appear preceding Mr. Williams' address. That evening, the quartette will be presented in a concert at the American Legion Hall in Knox City, sponsored by the Knox City Study Club.

A tour of the Northern Star Breeding Block will begin at 9:00

High school pupils who plan to attend Munday high school will not ride the buses Monday. Juniors and seniors will ride the buses Tuesday, and freshmen and sophomores will ride Wednesday. Regular classes will start at Munday high school on Thursday.

Fire Destroys Farm Home East Of Town On Sunday

A farm home on the H. M. Michels farm, some two miles east of Munday, was destroyed by fire late Sunday afternoon.

The fire was reported to have started from an oil stove. Members of the Munday Fire Department answered the alarm, but the flames had gained such headway by the time they reached the scene that it was impossible to control the fire with the limited water supply.

The home was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Wilson, who lost all their belongings in the fire. In addition, some household furnishings and clothing belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lindsey were destroyed.

HOG CHOLERA IS REPORTED IN AREA

Reports came to this newspaper the first of this week that there is quite a bit of hog cholera reported among swine of this area.

Those buying hogs at this time should use extreme care to see that they do not secure diseased animals, it was stated.

M. C. and J. F. Hallmark spent the week end in Dallas, attending the bedside of their mother. They reported Mrs. Hallmark somewhat improved when they left Dallas Monday.

Shallow Wildcat Is Abandoned Here

The No. 1 K. G. Stroud has been abandoned. We saw this in a Sunday daily:

"R. Benton Ross and associates, a wildcat in the southwest corner of west one-half of section 97, block 2, D&W survey, a wildcat five miles northwest of Munday in Knox county, has been abandoned at 2106 feet."

One of the workers, in town on the day the rig was being moved away, is reported to have said:

"We struck about a pint of oil and about 600 feet of salt water!"

Hard to make a paying well out of that!

Joe McGraw To Play On Tulsa Football Team

TULSA, Okla.—Joe McGraw, hard-running fullback from Munday, Texas, will be heading for the last round-up when he reports to the University of Tulsa September 1 to start workouts for the 1949 football season.

McGraw, 200 pound senior, plays his last year with the Golden Hurricane in '49 and it promises to be one of his biggest years. At least, Tulsa coaches hope Joe has a big year and with good reason—Tulsa's '49 schedule is loaded with potential powerhouses.

After opening with McMurry College September 17 at Tulsa, the Golden Hurricane plays Detroit, Florida, Texas Tech, Villanova, Okla. A&M, Bradely, Wichita, San Francisco, Kansas State and Arkansas on successive week ends.

Last year, McGraw was Tulsa's regular fullback playing 158 minutes. He picked up a little over four yards per carry and caught six passes good for 63 yards.

McGraw's competition for the fullback post will come from Herb Roberts, '47 letterman, Jack Egan, a converted halfback, and Bill Lewis, sophomore candidate.

RECEIVE DEGREES

Mrs. Mac Haymes, her sister, Mrs. Bill Randall, and her mother, Mrs. Tom Russell, all received their bachelor's degrees from North Texas State Teachers College in Denton last Thursday August 25th, in the exercises held at the college.

This group of our future citizens comes in pairs. They are left to right, top row: Robert and Margaurite, children of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jackson, Goree; Keith and Gaylon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Chamberlain of Goree; two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Voss, Munday.

50 Year Water Supply Sought For This Area

A plan to give West Central Texas a 50-year water supply was discussed in Abilene Monday by officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

They discussed a proposal to obtain at least seven dams on the Colorado River and tributaries of the Red and Brazos.

They said if this came about, a 50-year water supply would be assured.

Harry P. Burleigh, state planning engineer for the Reclamation Bureau, met with John Mitchell, president of the WTCC, and D. A. Stanton, its manager.

These men said the plan was made possible by Reclamation Bureau Commissioner Michael W. Strauss' announcement last week of a multi-dam program for West Texas towns.

He said the Washington announcement made in a letter to West Texas congressmen, included only the Red Bed area of West Central Texas. However, Burleigh said his preliminary surveys would include sites on the Colorado and tributaries of the Red River as well as the Brazos.

Mitchell pointed out a study of great scope will be needed to plan a 50-year water supply for West Texas.

Bandeen said the planning would include a study of the characteristics and economy of the territory.

Another important study they said, will be of the drinking quality of the water. In many cases, West Texas water is either too salty or too hard.

Teacher's Pay Will Be Based On Daily Attendance

Under the Gilmer-Aikin Bill, passed at the last session of the Legislature, money allowed for paying teachers depends on the average daily attendance, according to Merick McLaughy, county superintendent. This makes it necessary for each school to see that attendance runs as high as possible.

The backers of the Gilmer-Aikin law believe that public free schools cannot help our children unless they attend school.

The state compulsory attendance law requires each school child between the ages of 6 and 18 years to attend school at least 120 days during each school year. The law also specifies that attendance shall start with the beginning of the school year.

CHAN'S CAFE IS NOW OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Chan Hughes announces this week that Chan's Cafe, which has been closed during the summer months, was opened on Thursday morning, September 1, with open hours from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Chan and his workers are ready to serve delicious hamburgers, sandwiches and lunches, and they invite you to patronize them.

Munday Moguls To Open Season Here Friday

Will Play Rochester On Local Field

Coach David W. Green and his Munday Moguls will officially open the 1949 football season on Friday night of this week when the Moguls meet the Rochester Steers on the local field.

Coach Green has had his charges working out for around two weeks now, getting them in shape for the strenuous season. There will possibly be many rough spots that have not yet been ironed out that will show up when they meet Rochester, but it is expected to be an interesting game.

This will be a non-conference game. Conference play will begin on September 23, when the Moguls journey to Throckmorton.

Seven of last year's lettermen are returning to the Mogul lineup this year. These include Milburn Johnson and Scottie Ponder, co-captains; and Bob Lowrance, Rosie McGraw, Joe Stevens, Junior Howeth and Homer Lowrance.

Others who will be plugging for berth on the regular line-up, are: Herbert Ford, Garon Tidwell, Gerald Morrow, Don Johnson, Leonard Morrow, Omar Yarbrough, Gordon Stevens, Danny Ponder, Jim Bell, "Scottie" Ford and Perry Reeves.

Becky Jo Bowdoin Made Queen In Farm Bureau Contest

A record crowd of Farm Bureau members and friends witnessed the crowning of Miss Becky Jo Bowdoin of Vera as queen in Knox county's first annual Farm Bureau Queen Contest. The coronation took place in the Vera high school auditorium, Munday night.

Lee Smith of Knox City welcomed the guests and introduced Mr. Joe Reeder, Jr., of Knox City as master of ceremonies. Mr. Reeder started the program with a short talk concerning the need of farm organizations and stated that Farm Bureau is the leading farm organization because of their interest in farm legislation and their struggle for equal profits among industry and labor.

Rev. Cloy Lyles, aided by Theima Lee Coulston at the piano, led the group in a sing song, and a special number was presented by Vera high school student trio.

The presentation of the queen contestants climaxed the program. Candle bearers, Nellie Peddy and Reba Patterson entered the dimly lit auditorium. The contestants entered from both sides of the auditorium, walked to the back and down the center aisle to the stage followed by crown bearer, Collier Randolph and gift bearer, Vicki Coulston. As they approached the stage, they were introduced by Joe Reeder, Jr. On the stage, the girls stood on both sides of a gayly decorated throne over which hung the letters F. B. F., symbolizing Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Ford, president of the county organization, announced the judges' decision and crowned the queen. The queen was presented with a beautiful string of pearls.

Miss Bowdoin will go to Vernon to represent Knox county in the District Farm Bureau Queen Contest on September 9th. Miss Jean Galloway of Benjamin was chosen as alternate to the district queen contest.

The entries to queen contest included: Jean Galloway, Becky Jo Bowdoin, Betty Jean Bowdoin, Norma Patterson, Bonnie Jean Kinnibrugh, Nelda Faye McLaughy, Joan Burgess, Joy Jones, Barbara Jane Almanrode and Olene Walker.

The group adjourned to the football field where watermelon was served.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore, Jr., on Monday, August 29th, at the Knox County Hospital. He topped the scales at nine pounds and three ounces. Both mother and son are doing fine.

NEW FARM AGENT

R. P. Marshall, of Marlin, has been named Texas Farm Products Agent for the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company. Mr. Marshall during the past year was supervisor of Veterans' Education for the Texas State Board of Vocational Education. He has also served as Assistant County Agent and County Agent in various Texas counties, and has been Manager of Production Credit Association offices in Corsicana and Bonham. He spent six years with the Extension Service at Texas A. and M. He was born and reared near Temple. During the war, he served in the U. S. Army at Camp Maxey, Texas, at Camp Wolters and in Dallas, attaining the rank of Major. He will make his headquarters in Marlin.

Rain Comes On Wednesday To Benefit Crops

Knox county was in the "thunderstorm" area Wednesday of this week, as rains fell over a large portion of this section. It varied from about an inch in some sections to much heavier downfall in others.

Heavy winds are reported to have unroofed a building or two in Weinert, while hail did considerable damage in parts of that area. Bob Raynes, who lives two miles north of Weinert, reported hail that damaged much of his cotton, stripping the plants of much of the young fruit. A gin plant was unroofed at Weinert, and other damage was reported.

The moisture will be beneficial to late crops, as farmers had reported both cotton and feed in need of moisture.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?
1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineiland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

LET'S TURN TO LIVESTOCK—IN TIME

Are you growing exactly the things you want to be growing for the next 10 years—the next 20 years? If not, and you would like to keep more milk cows, more hogs, more beef cattle, or more sheep—get started now. What you farm produces this year and next may determine what it will be allowed to produce for years thereafter.

Cotton is piling up on us. So next year the Government will tell you to plant less. How much you can put in will depend largely on how many acres you have been growing in the past. Sooner or later America will also have too much milk, too much beef, too much pork, and too many chickens. When this happens, the Government may tell you how many cows you can milk, or how many hogs you can keep, or how many chickens you can grow. Your allotment will depend on how many you have and have had in the past.

Time for Southern farmers to get started in livestock may be fast running out. Don't get caught holding the bag—in this case, idle acres. Cotton especially seems fast heading back into the same life-and-death struggle that was going on before the war came along. A lot of light bulbs are being burned out in Washington and elsewhere, trying to figure out what lies ahead. Of one thing, though, we are certain: Next year we won't be able to plant as much cotton as this year. Then we'll probably plant less the next year, less the next year, and so on.

But the South can afford to plant less cotton if we will only set out to make use of the South's climate and pasture opportunities and set out to supply the South's own needs for more meat, milk, eggs, and poultry. Let us see:

1. As long as a big part of the milk used in our cities is shipped from the North, we can afford to add more milk cows and plant less cotton.
2. As long as most of the eggs eaten in Southern cities are shipped from the North and West, we can afford to add more hens and plant less cotton.

4. As long as we can turn grass into beef on year-round pastures, we can afford to add more beef cattle and plant less cotton.

Very fortunately for the South, it may possibly be several years before America produces such a surplus of livestock, dairy, and poultry products as to justify quotas. Dr. B. T. Simms, USDA animal industry chief, has been quoted as saying that America will need to keep its level of livestock production 35 per cent above 10 years ago. The same general opinion was expressed in a recent speech by Dr. W. I. Myers, dean of the Cornell School of Agriculture, at the recent American Food Council meeting:

Speaking of the livestock situation, Dean Myers stated that livestock numbers have not increased as fast as population and that livestock per person is approaching an all-time low. In the last 60 years there have been only five years—during the drouth of the 30's—when per capita numbers were lower than now. . . . There is an important job ahead if we are to continue to provide a high quality diet for our growing population in the face of these trends. The only way to avoid declining per capita supplies of milk, eggs, meat and other products are greater efficiency or increased imports. Even with efficiency much more feed will be required for livestock if our food standards are to be maintained for an increasing population.

Here, to our way of thinking, lies the South's golden opportunity.

The answer to the nation's need for more meat, milk and eggs is not in increased imports from foreign countries, as Dean Myers suggested, but increased production right here in the South. While the nation still needs more livestock, dairy, and poultry products, Southern farmers must move in—move in quickly—and help supply this need. If we fail to do so, then producers in other sections will fill up the gap as fast as they can. Then later on when quotas are imposed it will be too late for the South to cash in on its tremendous natural advantages for year-round pastures and increased hay and grain production.

Someone has said that nine-tenths of wisdom consists of being wise in time. This is certainly true of the present farm situation in the South. The South should turn to more livestock—and turn quickly—while there is time. But feed production must come first. Hence our No. 1 need is for record-breaking sowings of crimson and other clovers, alfalfa, and other pasture, winter grazing, and hay crops this fall.—The Progressive Farmer.

When you bury the hatchet, do not let the handle stand above the ground for a grave mark.

Good advice: Do today's work well and forget about what tomorrow will bring.

Uncle Sam Says

During the years America was growing up, Grandma hid her savings in the old, cracked teapot, the tin canister, or even that old horse-hair mattress. This was the hard way to save and her denials of many things do build those savings sometimes came to naught. Thieves, fire or other hazards wiped out her savings in a jiffy. Today we have the finest and surest way ever invented to build security for the future—the U. S. Savings Bonds way. This means you can put aside, every pay day, part of what you earn by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. Either way, you get back $4 for every $3 invested in just ten years.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—The Texas State Department of Health during the first seven months of this year has a record of the examination of 2709 animal heads for rabies and of this number almost one-fourth were found positive, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Rabies is transmitted to man through a bite or having a cut exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal. If a person is bitten, the offending animal should be penned, if possible, for a period of at least ten days. If the animal is not in the infective stage, he will die within that time. This does not mean that he may not be in the non-infectious or incubative stage and develop rabies later. All dogs bitten by a rabid animal should be confined six months. If it is necessary to kill the animal, this should be done in such a manner that the brain is not destroyed.

When sending a head to the State Laboratory it should be put in a container, sealed and packed in ice to prevent decomposition.

Dr. Cox said that rabies is a hard disease to eradicate, but that it could be done if all owners would have their dogs vaccinated each year and eliminate all stray dogs. If you have a dog, get him vaccinated the same as you have your children immunized against diphtheria and smallpox.
Rabies is commonly supposed to be a disease of warm weather, but it is more prevalent during the spring and fall because the dogs congregate and move about more, therefore the chance of exposure is greater during this time. It is true that more dogs are killed during these summer months, but the percentage of rabies is low.

Paradox: The finest Turkish and terry towels are made of cotton because cotton is best able to absorb and hold water; yet the finest rainwear also is made of cotton, because it can be woven and treated in such a manner as to make it waterproof.

Crossing Street More Dangerous Now Than 10 Year Ago

CHICAGO—Parents, do you have a teen-age son or daughter? Well, if you worried about them crossing the streets 10 years ago when they started to school, they are facing even greater dangers today, according to the National Safety Council.

But in 1948 when they were 15-24 years of age, 3.1 out of 100,000 were killed as pedestrians—less than half the rate in 1938. But 28.1 out of 100,000 were killed in traffic as nonpedestrians—seven times the earlier rate!

The Council concludes that in 1948 they were operating their own cars, or were riding in cars frequently driven by their friends, and these cars were not being operated as safely as by older persons.

In 1947 insects damaged enough cotton to make 935,544, 350 shirts—enough to give each man and boy in the United States one dozen each!

Domestic Water Is Continued Problem For West Texas

ABILENE—A further examination of the facts of upstream water development in the light of domestic water may change conclusions of the Department of Interior, D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has written Secretary J. A. Krug.

The statement follows the 38-page letter written by Secretary Krug, in transmitting a Texas water supply study to Senator Lyndon Johnson. In this letter Krug said: "It is doubtful that the repayment ability of the water users of many of the upstream developments in Texas will ever be found to be sufficient to equal the reimbursable costs."

This statement was challenged by WTTC.

It called upon Secretary Krug to apply the formula of economic loss to lack of water as well as flood damage to criteria upon which multi-purpose dams may be built by the federal government.

"A further examination of this conclusion, we believe, will produce a wholly contrary result," the letter said.

"You will note in our report several new approaches to the facts on this water resource development problem, which I am sure will intrigue you." They were listed:

First, that West Texas has wholly insufficient water for domestic and industrial needs, which can only be overcome by upstream development.

Second, a new approach to the water problem in computing the economic loss from lack of water as well as from flood damages.

Third, is the possibility of the government obtaining more reimbursable revenue from the sale of domestic and industrial water from small dams on the upper tributaries than under the present multi-purpose dam policies.

Bandeen also urged Secretary Krug to end support to the Hoover commission recommendation that domestic water be given priority of use in multi-purpose reservoirs.

Meanwhile the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has continued its hammering for more domestic water in West Texas and is advocating the construction of multi-city dams for the purpose of supplying municipalities with water.

The latest effort is on behalf of the Bob Baskin Dam Association, for the construction of a dam on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos which would supply water for 25 or 30 drought stricken West Texas towns. The State Water Board at Austin has been asked for recovery of some 300,000 acre feet of water from the Brazos River Authority for his project.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants A Conference Called For Him, Too, As He Is Short Of Dollars Also

(Editor's Note: The following is Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek does not understand much about international finance, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday afternoon tryin to locate three trees lined up at the right angles between me and the sun so I could sleep in one place without havin to follow the shade around the tree as the afternoon wears on, a man who can't use his head ought to get sun-burned anyway or tire himself out movin and when I got situated I pulled out a copy of a daily paper which I borrowed out of my neighbor's mail box while he was out in his field tryin to get sun stroke and which is the best paper I have ever seen for lullin you into an afternoon nap, although I want you to know your paper is still at the head of the list for puttin me to sleep at night and I read where officials in England and the United States are calling an international conference to discuss the dollar crises in England, which ruined my nap for several minutes.

As I understand it, England has run out of dollars and everybody is alarmed, but I can't see and reason for callin an international conference.

Thunder, I've had a dollar crisis out here on Miller Creek ever since I can remember, but have not ever thought of callin the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of State, and the entire British cabinet into a conference about it.

However, if that's the way you end such a crisis, I'm in favor of it, and will appreciate you tellin President Truman to send his experts down here and let's open the meeting.

As I understand it, England is suffering from what she calls an imbalance, which means she's short of cash, and the same thing applies in my case. In fact, while I ain't as old as the British Empire and the dollar shortage may out-date mine, I can say this, at her shortest moments England wasn't no shorter on money than I been all the time and am right now, and I got several neighbors in the same shape and have a idea some of you town birds know what I'm talkin about too. In fact, if everybody who has a dollar crisis is comin to this international conference, I can see right now it'll be an open-air meeting. Ain't no bulding big enough to hold that crowd.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Miss Alva Aleitha Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Russell of Vera, became the bride of Mr. Clyde Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Beck of Vera, on Friday evening, August 19 at 8 o'clock. The wedding vows were read in the Baptist Church in Vera with the Rev. R. O. Sullivan, pastor, officiating. The double ring ceremony.

Pink gladiolus and greenery decorated the church altar. Pink candles in tapered candelabras stood among the altar decoration. Mrs. R. O. Sullivan, pianist, played "The Bells of St. Mary's", while the candles were being lighted by Mrs. D. A. Chapman, Jr., of Seymour, and Miss Kay Russell of Levelland, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Chapman wore a lavender crepe dress with a hair corsage of pink carnations. Miss Russell wore a yellow dress with a hair corsage of pink carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white brocade crepe ballerina length dress with white accessories. Her hat featured a shoulder length veil. She carried a white Bible topped with white gardenias. And carried out the traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue". As something old, the bride carried a handkerchief made by her great grandmother Hughes, something new was her wedding outfit, something borrowed, she wore a cameo brooch belonging to her grandmother Russell and as something blue, the bride wore a blue ribbon. She also wore a penny in her shoe.

Dr. H. G. Robinson of Lubbock read the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a tailored aqua blue gabardine suit with brown accessories and orchid corsage. The old tradition of something old was a cameo lavallier her mother wore at her wedding; something new and something blue and a sixpence in her shoe.

The maid of honor, Miss Betty Turner of Lubbock, roommate of the bride, wore a brown tailored suit with beige accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Best man was Bill Hignite of Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Mrs. T. W. Hardin, accompanied by Mrs. R. O. Sullivan, sang "I Love You Truly" and "With This Ring" and "The Lord's Prayer". While the ceremony was read, Mrs. Sullivan played softly, "Always".

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a lace cloth with a centerpiece of pink roses. The wedding cake stood at one end while the crystal punch bowl stood at the other. Mrs. Clelan Russell, sister-in-law of the bride, served the punch and Mrs. Harold Beck, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served the cake. Munday Exes Win Ball Game Here Tuesday

A bunch of sore-muscled boys trodded the streets here Wednesday, and we imagine the same thing happened at Knox City. The cause was a football game Tuesday night, which came as a preliminary to the opening of the football season here Friday night.

The Munday has-beens matched a game with the Knox City used-to-be's just for the fun of it, and to give sports fans some entertainment. They battled it out on the Munday football field.

Munday started the scoring in the first quarter, and ended the game with a 2-point lead over the visitors. The final score was 14 to 12.

Fans declared it was a pretty good game, and a fair sized crowd saw the boys take this punishment.

Ronald Foshee, who has been attending A. & M. College in College Station, came in last Friday to spend several weeks before returning to A. & M. for the fall term.

Mrs. Bill Hall and Mrs. Jack Coulter of Amarillo visited in the home of Mrs. D. B. Weaver several days this week.

Cover Crops Are Help In Controlling Soil Temperature

Can you remember how hot bare ground felt when you used to go barefooted? How you hunted grassy spots to walk on? That was just probably what you called a natural reaction, but the matter of soil temperature is a very important item in a soil building program, says Roy L. Donahue, extension agronomist of Texas A. & M. College.

A summer cover crop keeps the soil cooler in hot weather and winter cover crop helps to hold the temperature up in the winter time. This cover is important for Donahue says that for every 10 degree rise in temperature most chemical reactions are doubled and there are plenty of chemical reactions taking place in the soil. The rotting of organic matter is a chemical reaction.

So when the soil is allowed to go without summer cover, it gets very hot and this causes the organic matter to burn up faster. Soil low in organic matter does not take up moisture when it rains and is drier when the rains don't come often. In areas where wind erosion is a problem, it blows away easily, and in areas of heavy rainfall, it washes badly, says Donahue.

It may be too late to plant a summer legume or grass crop this year, but it is not too late to plan your cover crop for this winter, next summer or for that matter for each season over a five year period.

What can you expect from such a program? Donahue says averages from extension service demonstrations in 86 counties show that when corn followed a soil building legume, yields increased 41 per cent. When the soil building legume was fertilized, the corn produced an additional 8 bushels per acre on

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given of a hearing before the County Court of Knox County Texas, on the 8 day of September, A. D., 1949, at 10:00 A. Bunts, a non compos mentis, for permission and authority to execute a mineral lease covering the following described land, to-wit:

Being the East 80 acres of Sub survey No. 3, Original Survey No. 10, and the North 20 acres out of the East 100 acres of Sub Survey No. 1, Original Survey No. 10, D. G. Burnett lands in Knox County, Texas.

Reports from 21 counties showed that grain sorghum following a fertilized legume made a 70 per cent increase in yield and cotton yields were increased 60 per cent, Donahue said.

He adds that if you are interested in getting a soil building program started on your farm, visit the local county agent and talk the situation over with him. Chances are good that he can show you demonstrations where soil building crops are being used to increase crop yields and too, he can help you make that long time plan for your farm.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

An anonymous poet wrote: "I never see my pastor's eyes; He hides their light divine— For when he prays, he shuts his own, And, when he preaches, mine."

A while back, I was in the Marion Hotel in Little Rock, Ark., and recalled an incident that my friend, W. J. Barnes, now a noted attorney of Houston, used to relate when we first got acquainted at Eastland in the early 1920's when he was district attorney and I was editor.

Barnes was fond of saying that, although he did not get overseas in World War I, he was a member of the A. E. F.—the Arkansas Expeditionary Forces. He was stationed in Little Rock and one day he was standing in the Marion Hotel lobby. Barnes is, and was, a big man. A farmer walked slowly around the big fellow in his officer's uniform and then drawled:

"Young fellow, if I was as big as you are, I'd go bear huntin' bare-handed; it would be a waste of ammunition to take a gun."

William Cameron, Mineral Wells editor, says his favorite paragraph from the pen of the Index editor of many years ago, Sam Miller, was:

Kingsbery also announced that the C. C. C. construction loan program which has been available to grain producers is being extended to cottonseed producers. Farmers who do not have enough storage space for their cottonseed can get a C. C. C. construction loan up to 85 per cent of the cost of the needed structure. These construction loans bear 4 per cent interest and will be made for terms as long as 5 years. County ACA committees have full details regarding these loans.

FARM NEWS PROGRAM

from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

ACP COMMITTEEMEN ELECTIONS JUST AHEAD

It is probable that there will be an increase in Knox county funds to assist farmers in carrying out approved conservation practices in 1950, according to Emmett Partridge, chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation Committee.

For the 1950 program Congress has authorized $285 million as compared with $265 million for 1949.

The chairman explains that this money is used to assist farmers in carrying out soil and water conservation practices on their individual farms. Practices for which payments are available is left largely to the county committee. Assistance is provided only for approved conservation practices and specifications have to be met, but the committee has the responsibility of deciding—within the limits of the county allocation—the amount available for each farmer. This, together with increased price support and related activities, makes the coming agricultural conservation committee election even more important than usual, says the chairman.

Elections are held every year in every year in every agricultural community. In these elections farmers are cooperating in Production and Marketing Administration program elect community committeemen and delegates to a county convention where a county committee is elected.

The county committee, consisting of a chairman, vice-chairman, member and two alternate members, has the responsibility of deciding the use of funds in meeting conservation needs and is in charge of activities connected with price support, purchase agreement, and loan programs.

The chairman states, "If each farmer realized the importance of the decisions which his three committeemen in the county office have to make, decisions which determine the use of the conservation fund and the effectiveness of price support programs, he would be as careful in selecting his ACP committeeman as in selecting a manager for his farm."

Elections this year will probably be held in December, the date to be announced later.

COTTONSEED LOAN AVAILABLE TO FARMERS
Details of the cottonseed loan program through which the Commodity Credit Corporation will support the price of 1949 cottonseed were announced today by Howard T. Kingsbery, Acting Chairman, State P. M. A. Committee.

Kingsbery says, "Loans will be made at the rate of $49.50 per ton on safely-stored cottonseed having a moisture content of 10 per cent or less. Seed may be stored on or off the farm. Non-cottonseed loans will be made to farmers through December 31, 1949. These loans will mature April 30, 1950 and will bear 4 per cent interest per annum.

Kingsbery points out that farmers have the option of paying off the loan, plus interest, at any time before maturity date and repossessing the seed. If the loan is not paid off by April 30, 1950, the farmer must deliver the seed to C. C. C. in settlement of the loan.

Applications for loans may be filed at the office of the County Agricultural Conservation Association (AAA). Farmers may with a JOHN DEERE TWO-ROW COTTON HARVESTER

The easiest way to boost your cotton-growing profits is to use a John Deere No. 15 Two-Row Cotton Harvester. Based on 1947 labor cost, it saves $30 or more per bale over hand pulling... does an excellent job in any crop that's suitable for mechanical stripping.

Handling two forty-inch rows at a time, the No. 15 does a clean, efficient once-over job of saving bolls. Its work is considered by many gin operators superior to cotton stripped by the average hand puller.

With the John Deere, you, too, can make short work of your harvest... get all your cotton to the gin before bad weather causes crop losses. For details, see us the next time you're in town.

Letters From The People

FORMER MUNDAY GIRL WRITES FROM OREGON

Editor's Note: The following letter to Miss Bernadette Claus has been submitted for publication for the interest it might have to local people.

Eugene, Oregon,
August 3, 1949

Dear Bernadette:

In looking through my collection of old magazines I came upon your story in the January issue of Playmate 1947. The thing that first attracted my attention was Munday, Texas. That is where I lived when I was a little girl and I have so many happy memories of that place! I read your story and I enjoyed it very much. You have a fine imagination and the ability to tell your story in an interesting manner. The thing I liked best was your description. I remember just how those storms used to come up when I lived at Munday—so suddenly and so furiously. We don't have storms like that in Oregon. I like the way you had of always making your friends more important than yourself in the story. She was the brave one. You were the fraidy cat. That is the way good stories always do. Many story tellers try to make themselves out as the hero.

I like to write stories, too. I used to make them up to tell the children at school in Munday. Sometimes I wrote them and then forgot them and made another. When I was twelve or thirteen we moved to Crosbyton, Texas and lived there until I finished High School. Then I went to college at Canyon, Texas where I learned to be a school teacher. At college I met up with some of my old school chums of Munday and had many happy times with them. You might even know some of them—Roy Baker, Vera Stodghill, Thelma Atkinson, and Willie Hale Easley.

After I had taught school for several years I bought a writer's magazine and read about how to write and sell stories and articles. It was fun. I sold quite a number of children's stories to Sunday School papers and to Safety Education Magazine. Then I learned that writers of stories for adults made a great deal more money than writers of children's stories so I began to try to write for the adult magazines. My stories always came back. Once in a while I sold a short article.

For several years I didn't try to write at all. Then we moved to Eugene, Oregon and I joined a writer's club. In the club I met a Mrs. Hayden who also liked to write stories for children. She suggested that we try to write some books together. It was fun to work with someone else. We met and read our material to each other and offered suggestions. As a result we have had two books published, have several others out in the market hoping that publishers will like them enough to buy them, and are working on new ones all the time.

Our published books are MUSELINTOWN, the story of the Oregon Gold Rush which happened in 1861 and 62, just when people in other parts of the United States were so interested in the Civil War that they didn't have time to come to Oregon to look for gold; and the

Frozen Orange Juice Concentrate Takes Chores From Breakfast Menu Planning

Courtesy "Birds Eye"

It's no chore to give the family fresh-tasting orange juice every morning if you take advantage of the new quick-frozen concentrated sort. This orange juice comes in six-ounce cans that can be easily stored in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. When it's time for orange juice, just turn the contents of one of the small cans into a shaker or a pitcher, and add three cans of cold water. That is 18 ounces or 2 1/4 cups of water. Then shake or stir vigorously and pour. Without any of the mess of squeezing and straining, you will have six 4-ounce glasses full of juice that can't be distinguished from the fresh-squeezed kind.

It's not only at breakfast that the new quick-frozen concentrated juice is a convenience. When the children come dashing in from play with the cry, "I'm thirsty!" you can give them this wholesome drink in a jiffy. It's a delicious between-meal or bedtime pick-up for grown-ups, too. And it's an easy and flavorful addition to fruit juice and cold tea punches, and the basis of many tempting desserts.

Here's another point that makes quick-frozen concentrated orange juice easy to use: You will be spared that early morning worry about how many oranges are needed for the breakfast setup. Each little can, reconstituted with water, always gives just so much—six full 4-ounce glasses.

ORANGE JUICE FROSTING

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about)
1/2 cup quick-frozen orange juice, thawed

Cream butter. Add sugar and orange juice alternately, beating until of right consistency to spread. Makes 2 cups, or enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 8-inch layers generously.

other book is Thunder Hill which is the story of the Spalding Mission which was built in Oregon in a very early day. Both books are based on true historical facts because we know that young people really like history when it is interesting and fun to read. And we do enjoy doing the research work here in our beautiful University and in our fine library at Salem.

I hope you are still working at your writing. Let's see, you must be about 15 now and that is such a fine age to begin finding out what you can do well and preparing yourself for that special thing. My adopted daughter sold her first story to Queen's Gardens when she was about 13 or 14. For awhile she was thrilled and worked on her writing. But she soon became interested in other things and gave up the idea. I think she could have been successful if she had kept on.

Writing is a fine hobby. I teach school and keep house for my husband and our adopted boy (the little girl is married and has her own home) but I still find a little time for writing and could find more if I tried. Many of my friends are writers and some of them make all their living with what they write.

Before I quit this lengthy letter I must tell you one other thing. Two years ago I went to Seattle, Washington to attend the Northwest Writers Conference. It was a wonderful affair with about 2,000 writers in attendance. One of the lecturers was a Miss Cousins with quite a southern accent. Everyone enjoyed her lecture everyday and looked forward to the next one on the following day. One evening at a big dinner party I made it a special point to go around and introduce myself to this Miss Cousins whom I had heard from originally from Texas. Imagine my surprise when she threw her arms around me and said, "Why, honey, you know me! We used to play dolls together at Munday. It was Margaret Cousins. My dad had the drug store." Then we really talked over old times. And of course we got together for several other fine visits before the conference ended. If you'll look in the Good Housekeeping Magazine on the page that lists the editors—you'll find her name. She writes stories for adults and I think they are wonderful. If I could only write like she does.

I don't write to anyone at Munday. I'm 46 years old and I suppose most of the people whom I knew there have moved away or changed their names if they were girls. I was Pearl Clements. My father was J. P. Clements. We lived on a farm just one mile north of Munday. Part of the time we lived in town and my father had a grocery store there.

Write to me some time.
Sincerely,
MRS. PEARL GISCHLER

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29, 1949—The House this week cut five hundred and eighty million dollars off the Administration's one billion, four hundred and fifty million dollar program for military aid to Europe. Notwithstanding some of the speeches made in Congress, none of our military experts in their testimony before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs would say that this military aid program was necessary. They did advocate the program but refused to go on record to the effect that it was vital in any way to our national defense. As a matter of fact, the House action did not drastically curtail the program. The Administration's bill called for a two-year authorization whereas the House bill provides for only a one year program. Those of us supporting this cut—the reduction from two years to one year—want to see how the program works out. We want to know how these European nations use the supplies to be furnished. These European countries have not worked out a plan for the use of this equipment. If they use it efficiently other aid. Otherwise, the program will probably go along with further aid. Otherwise, the program will be reduced rather than increased by subsequent Congresses. From my brief travels in Europe, and from my study of European affairs, it seems to me that the biggest need of those folks is to go to work. Someone has said that the only thing wrong with Europe is Europe. ans. In many places in Europe, it seemed to me the people were putting in one-half their time making wine, and the other half drinking it. While in Paris and Madrid last October, I was impressed with the vast numbers of people on the streets in both cities who were trying to sell lottery tickets. Both France and Spain conduct national lotteries as a means of raising public funds. This, to my mind, indicates a form of national depravity. (Incidentally, I am glad to see our F. C. C. cracking down on these radio-give-away programs. They should be stopped.) Furnishing guns to Europeans is not going to make good soldiers out of them. Furnishing them billions in equipment it not necessarily going to make them work.

On Monday of this week, Representative Francis Walter, of Pennsylvania, introduced two new Tidelands bills. He did this at the request of the Speaker of the House, the Honorable Sam Rayburn of Texas. One bill is known as the Administration bill, the other as the State's bill. Both bills were drawn as a result of several months of negotiations between State officials and Federal officials in an effort to reach a compromise on the tidelands issue. The chief difference between the two bills is in the matter of ownership and control. Both bills provide that the States shall receive 62 1/2% of the income from submerged lands, i. e., the so-called Tidelands, while the Federal government will receive 37 1/2%. Both bills provide that the States and the Federal government will share 50-50 in the income from the Continental shelf, i. e., the area beyond the so-called marginal sea. Tidelands is somewhat of a misnomer. What is meant by tidelands, as currently used, is the area from the low watermark three miles seaward. In the case of Texas, however, this means the area from low watermark ten and one-half miles seaward, or three marine leagues. The Texas boundary was described by the Republic of Texas in 1836 by mets and bounds. Our boundary was reaffirmed in the treaty of Gaudalupe Hidalgo, and was recognized by all the nations at that time, including the United States of America. It described our boundary as beginning at the mouth of the Sabine river, thence extending into the Gulf three marine leagues from the shore, and extending in a line parallel to the shore to a point opposite to the north of the Rio Grande, and thence up the Rio Grande including what we know as the Republic which then included portions of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma and Kansas.

In the so-called States' compromise bill, the Texas boundary is recognized to conform with the line set up by the Republic of Texas. In the Administration's bill, our line is recognized as being only three miles seaward.

Hearings on these two alleged compromise bills are set for Wednesday of this week. It is extremely doubtful that Congress can or will act on either of these bills during this session of Congress.

SECTION 6. If any part of this ordinance shall for any reason be declared unconstitutional or invalid, the remaining part of the same shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 7. The fact that there is now no adequate provisions or ordinances controlling the professions, callings and exhibitions herein provided for makes it an imperative public necessity that this ordinance be in full force and effect from and after its passage and that the rule calling for the reading of ordinance at three several meetings be suspended and it is so done.

Passed and approved this 8th day of August, A. D. 1948.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON
Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson, of Dallas, is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

Old John had a little money saved up and was a kindly old fellow. When Slicker Pete came along with a hard luck story, Old John lent him a hundred dollars. It would be just for a few days, Slicker Pete said. He promised to pay Old John back at the end of the week. Sure enough, when the week ended, Pete wrote out a check to the old gentleman.

But when Old John went to cash the check, he found that Pete not only did not have a hundred dollars in the bank—he did not even have an account there. It was a worthless check, pure and simple, given willfully and intentionally.

But when Slicker Pete was arrested and then prosecuted for passing a worthless check, he was acquitted.

WHY? The laws of Texas require that for person to be found guilty of passing a "hot check" he must have received something of value AT THE TIME the check was given. Pete had received the "something of value"—that is, the hundred dollars—several days before he gave Old John the check.

The State Bar of Texas is working to close such loopholes in the law so that honest citizens will not be so easily victimized by crooks. The outworn Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure now used in Texas are sorely in need of revision.

KITCHEN COMMENT

Use a pastry brush to smooth melted margarine on slices of pineapple. Then broil the pineapple for a tasteful treat to go with ham or other meats.

Colored clothes stay bright longer if they are hung wrong side out on the line and taken indoors when they are just dry enough to iron.

When you do not have a jelly bag use a clean square of cotton cloth for a substitute. It may be easily and securely fastened to the rim of a kettle with a snap-on clothespin.

A good way to use those last precious bits of meat left-overs is to combine them with macaroni in a smooth cream sauce or canned mushroom soup. Top the casserole dish with margarine bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes.

The action of the organic supplied by legumes when plowed under provides more water for following crops increasing the water-holding capacity of the soil.

In 1946 Texas ranked first in the number of horses and mules on farms and third in the number of mules on farms. Today about 65 per cent of Texas' farms do not have a team on the place, and only about 200,000 horses were used in crop production in 1948.

Fighting 36th Reunion in Waco Sept. 9-10-11

Thousands of the 36th "Texas" Division veterans are expected at the Annual Reunion at Waco, Texas, September 9, 10 and 11th, announced Charles M. Beacham of Corpus Christi, Texas, current President of the 36th Division Association. Over 70,000 men served in this Texas unit during World War II and thousands of others were veterans of World War I and a few of the Spanish-American War.

This famous fighting unit, known as the "T-Patchers" by its distinctive shoulder insignia, saw about 363 days of front line service in Italy, France, Germany and Austria. It fought in seven major campaigns, made two amphibious assaults, -- the famed "Bloody Salerno" landing of September 9th, 1943, and the landing on the southern coast of France on August 15th, 1944. The reunion was selected in commemoration of the Italian landing, the first such operation against the mainland of Europe.

A business meeting of the officers of the Association is scheduled for Friday, September 9th, at the Roosevelt Hotel, Waco, Texas, followed by a general meeting on Saturday morning at the National Guard Armory. A barbecue is planned for the afternoon, and a dance for the evening. Regular election of officers and a memorial service will be held on Sunday.

Reservations may be mailed to Wiley Stem, at either the Raleigh Hotel or the Roosevelt Hotel, Waco, Texas.
