

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Our face is red. Our head is bowed. Our heart aches. We are embarrassed. We are ashamed.

An incident occurred last Friday night at the local football game that has made a black mark against the community.

We weren't present at the game, having gone down Dallas way to see S. M. U. and Kentucky engage in mighty battle.

But we want to join the good people of the community in offering our deep apologies for the black mark which the "not so good" people have given our town.

We understand letters of apology have gone out to our visitors from Stamford. We hope they have.

We want our neighbor town to know that such unsportsmanship is not upheld by the majority of our people, and that the incident is regretted to the fullest.

And with this we leave the matter to our law enforcement officers.

"Dam West Texas, or West Texas is damned."

This is a slogan adopted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and other allied organizations and cities in working on projects to impound surplus water in this entire area.

Of importance to this immediate area is the Bob Baskin Dam project on the Salt Fork of the Brazos river just on yonder side of Rule.

This is a project that has been pushed for several years, but not with the intensity that is now taking place.

With towns all over the area being faced with a water shortage during the summer months, the project is one of most importance.

This and other projects proposed for West Texas involve an expenditure of millions of dollars, perhaps billions, we don't know for sure.

But with towns of the area faced with a shortage of water securing their supply from these immense reservoirs, it is estimated that the government can make the expenditure and get its money back in a 50-year period.

Working with WTCC are such towns as Haskell, Stamford, Aspermont, Seymour, and others who have seen a shortage of the water supply in recent months.

Munday, too, is joining in the project through its CDA and interested citizens. Who knows but that the Bob Baskin Dam may be a means of supplying our town with soft water in the future?

Not that we're faced with any critical water shortage. But we are faced with hard water every time we wash our face.

Engineers and those who make a study of the situation say that our underground water supply is being taken out faster than it can be replaced.

And in a matter of a few years, we may all be facing a critical water shortage unless we take measures to keep our rainfall from running down the gullies and into our rivers and on into the Gulf.

So the matter of conserving our water is one of concern among those in the "know how". And the present shortage involves many West Texas towns and many thousands of our citizens.

We're not in the know how. But we will begin to start to learn a little more about the matter than we have known in the past.

We're trying to round up our Tuesday's work so we can accompany W. E. Braly, W. R. Moore and J. L. Stodghill down to Haskell to a meeting of those interested in the Bob Baskin project.

We hope the dam becomes a reality.

Stamford Bulldogs Stage Rally In Last Half To Defeat Munday Moguls

Proving true to their records in the past, the Stamford Bulldogs staged a determined rally in the last period to down the Munday Moguls here Friday night in a district 6-A football contest, 18 to 6. A crowd of around 4,000 witnessed this interesting contest between the two rival teams.

The first quarter went scoreless as both teams battled to a deadlock. Neither team could make headway as continual line thrusts on both sides met with stubborn opposition.

The Bulldogs hit paydirt first, this being late in the second quarter when a mid-field drive carried the ball down to the 2-yard stripe, where fullback Sterns scored around left end. Lowe attempted the extra point kick, but his aim was wide. The half ended with the Moguls trailing 6-0.

Early in the third quarter, the Moguls evened the score on a series of line plunges which originated on the opponents' 30. Scotty Ponder plunged around left tackle from the 10 to score standing up. Ponder's attempt for extra point also failed, and the score was tied 6-6.

The third period saw the tie remaining, but the fourth quarter yielded the win for the determined Bulldogs.

Stamford's second score started from their own 25, with drives putting the ball down to the Moguls' 25 where it was fumbled but recovered by Stamford. Another series of drives ran it to the three, from which point Burns went across to score. Lowe's attempted pass to Portwood for the extra point was fouled by the Mogul backfield.

The visitors scored again late in the last quarter when Portwood intercepted a Mogul pass on his own 18. A series of line plays placed the ball on the Mogul 2-yard marker, and Rasco, Stamford halfback, went over. Lowe again failed for the extra point. The game ended with Munday showing a deficit of 6 to 18.

Local Man Pays Fine After Fight At Football Field

Sheriff Homer T. Melton and local officers announced late Tuesday that a local man had been apprehended and assessed the maximum fine as a result of the disturbance on the local football field last Friday night which resulted in a Stamford man receiving a knife wound.

Officers made a trip to Stamford Tuesday morning, at which time they met Stamford school authorities and offer apologies of Munday citizens for the unfortunate incident.

Letters of apology were also sent from the local C. D. A. and possibly others.

England Resident Gets Local Paper

Most hobbies are expensive, but the hobby of raising game chickens is very expensive, according to County Attorney J. C. Patterson.

But a hobby forms far-away friendships, too. Mr. Patterson has a friend, Kenneth J. G. Hawkey, who operates a poultry farm at St. Kew Highway, Bodwin, Cornwall, England, and he raises the same type of game chickens as our county attorney. They have never seen each other, but they've formed friendships by mail.

For the past two years Mr. Hawkey has sent Mr. Patterson a radiogram at Christmas.

And this week, the Munday Times goes to Mr. Hawkey from a friend, J. C. Patterson, who entered his name for a year's subscription. We hope the paper gets a good reception in England!

"The Red Menace" Warns That It Can Happen Here, Too

With all the power and terror of an atom bomb explosion, Republic's "The Red Menace," which will show at the Roxy Theatre in Munday for one night only, Thursday, November 3, bursts upon the screen to reveal for the first time the innermost workings of the Communist part in America.

"The Red Menace" reveals the methods used by the American Communist party leaders to inject their insidious ideology slowly and venomously into the bloodstream of our nation.

False Promises Serving as a warning that "it can happen here," "The Red Menace" follows Bill Jones, an honest, restless war veteran striving for success in the post-war world. Unfortunately, his first civilian experience sours him when he buys a home from a phoney real estate office and then loses it and all his money. This makes him ripe for the false but attractive promises held out by the Communist party.

Bill inadvertently falls into the hands of a Communist organizer who plies him with the propaganda of Marxism and he agrees to join the party. From the start he is startled—then sickened—by the heartlessness, the brutality, the inhumanity and insincerity of those spinning the web of Communism.

Learn's Party Line Step by step, you see him go through the process of becoming a Communist. First the party school, which teaches the tenets of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. Then he learns how to organize, to picket, to terrorize; to subdue—all important lessons in the development of a good Communist. Most of all, the leaders teach the necessity to sacrifice and suppress any individual thinking and the importance of the party line as dictated by the Kremlin.

The story of "The Red Menace" is not a pretty story, but it's a story that has to be told, and Republic is the first studio to realize that fact.

2,000,000 Pledge Cards for CROP

Rural families throughout the country are using cards like those shown above to pledge their contributions of bulk commodities to ease the suffering of the needy all over the world.

More than 2,000,000 of the pledge cards are being distributed to farm families in the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP), the interchurch overseas relief project. The harvest season drive is concentrated in this and 32 other agricultural states. Small grains, meat, milk, cotton, and other farm commodities are needed. Sponsors of CROP are Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service (22 Protestant denominations) and Lutheran World Relief.

The famous Doodlebug which has maintained passenger and mail service on the Wichita Valley Railway will make her last run Saturday. Passenger service will be discontinued.

It is not generally known what type of mail or express service will serve the towns which have been served by the railroad.

Roy H. Kimple of Fort Worth and Paul Ryan of Wichita Falls, representatives of the railroad, were here Wednesday. They stated a reporter from a daily paper would be on the train on her last run, and that if any old timers of Munday would like to make this trip they should get in touch with Al Williams, local depot agent.

"Doodlebug" Will Make Her Last Run On Next Saturday

The toot of the whistle, the rumble of steel wheels against steel rails, the sound of the exhaust of the "Doodlebug" will be heard no more here after next Saturday.

Hunters Return From Colorado With Proof Of Hunting

It's hunting season again, especially in Colorado, and five local hunters returned last Saturday with proof that hunting is good.

The group spent about a week near Pagosa Springs, Colo., hunting and trying to keep warm in the San Juan National Park. Reports are that Jasper Bevers can make enchilada stew that'll warm you up good, but it also got so cold that Johnny Michels' mustache and goatee froze together and he couldn't chew tobacco!

Farm Bureau Week Is Being Observed Here

Governor Allan Shivers has officially declared this week of October 20-27 as Texas Farm Bureau Week. All over the state Farm Bureau active members are seeking to increase the strength of the nation's most important working farm organization through a concentrated membership drive.

"Our number one problem in Texas is membership. Texas is primarily agricultural; we have more farmers than any other state in the nation. Yet our membership falls short of many of the other 45 states in Farm Bureau. Our Texas organization is only as strong as its membership," said J. Walter Hammond, president of Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Hammond also stated that there are reasons why we need a good local organization; why we need a good state organization; and why we must have a strong national organization. Right now, in many of the counties in Texas, taxes are being raised on REAs. There is no justification for this. The State and national organizations can do nothing about local conditions such as this. But a local Farm Bureau with the majority of farmers in the county as members, could remedy this situation. Many other injustices, purely local in nature, are imposed on farmers all the time. Farmers need a general farm organization in the community and county.

Our present county membership is 141 farmer members, says Milton Ford, president of the Knox County Farm Bureau. We have pledged to the State organization that we will double our membership. That means almost 300 members from this county of over 1,000 farmers. We should do that easily.

Rains Halt All Cotton Picking In This Area

Rains which came to this area the latter part of last week, and which covered a wide area including practically all of Texas brought a halt to cotton picking in Knox county.

It is feared the moisture has damaged the cotton grade and staple to some extent, although some have expressed the belief that later opening of bolls will have a tendency to bring the staple back up.

Although the harvesting was halted, Munday's gins, which have been overrun for several weeks, continued their ginning operations. Local gins had much cotton in storage which was ginned during the period which kept the pickers out of the fields.

A check of the local gins at nine-thirty Thursday morning showed that a total of 6,637 bales have been ginned in Munday.

H. P. Hill, U. S. weather observer, reported that Munday received a total of 2.05 inches of rain during the past week, bringing the year's total to 29.33 inches against 19.67 inches for the same period in 1948. The rain, although damaging to open cotton, comes as a boon to wheat fields, and most of which have been planted.

With clearing skies during the past few days, pickers are again taking to the fields.

Farm buildings that are protected by paint last longer and the improved appearance will increase the sale value of the farm.

Haskell Keeps Top Position In District Play

The Haskell Indians, idle last Friday, is maintaining their lead in the District 6-A East standings, being followed closely by the Albany Lions.

The Lions served notice that they mean business in trying to overcome the Indians' lead as a result of their overwhelming 39 to 6 win over the Anson Tigers last Friday night.

The improved Tigers found the Lions too much for them, and Albany moved into undisputed possession of second place in the district standings. The Lions have won two out of three conference games, their only loss coming at the hands of the leading Haskell Indians.

Munday went down before the Stamford Bulldogs in the other conference game of the week. This week will find Stamford at Throckmorton, Albany at DeLeon, Munday at Roby and Anson at Haskell.

People, cities and towns of this area must look to other sources for their domestic water supply. The waters that would be impounded by the proposed Bob Baskin Dam on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River near Rule, are "unfit" for domestic use.

This fact was brought out Tuesday night by Harry P. Burleigh of Austin, U. S. Bureau of Reclamation engineer, who told officers of the Bob Baskin Dam Association that the bureau had rejected the proposed dam as a source of municipal water supply for 30 surrounding towns.

Burleigh told directors and interested citizens at this meeting, called by John Couch of Haskell, president of the association, that a six-year survey of the Double Mountain Fork and Salt Fork of the Brazos area had shown the water not suitable for domestic use.

Also attending the meeting, held at the Haskell High School auditorium, were Henry M. Sclpt, and H. M. Ivton, both engineers of the Austin office of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Chairmen and interested civic leaders from nine communities—Haskell, Seymour, Munday, Knox City, Stamford, Rule, Rochester, Spur and Abilene—were in attendance. Attending from Munday were W. R. Moore, W. E. Braly, J. L. Stodghill, and Aaron Edgar.

According to Burleigh, the project is not totally condemned, except for a municipal water source. He said a bureau survey of the soil in the 7-county area has shown that irrigation from such a project would be feasible.

Burleigh told the directors that bureau surveys have disclosed ample water available for municipal use for the next 50 years in an area enclosed by Odessa on the west, Eastland on the east, Seymour on the north and San Angelo on the south.

Communities within this area have been directed to submit to the Baskin association a statement of their water needs which will be forwarded to the bureau. Burleigh said bureau aid and guidance will be available for more local projects, according to Duncan.

Bureau analysis of Baskin area water showed that 60 per cent of the water is not suitable for domestic consumption because of the high hardness, sulphate and chloride content, Burleigh disclosed.

Tuesday night's meeting was a climax to the 20-year old campaign for the Baskin dam. Association directors announced that the group will continue to fight for an ample municipal water supply for this area.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?

1. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
2. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
3. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

WHO EATS THE MOST MEAT?

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued some interesting figures on meat consumption throughout the world. They show that the United States leads most of the other nations, but it is still a long way from the top.

In 1948, the average American ate 146 pounds of meat. By comparison, Canadian consumption average 129 pounds, British came to 84 pounds, and France worked out to 75 pounds. The Department's report did not give statistics for the Soviet Union, and they are probably not available. Indications are that the average Russian sees very little meat in the course of a year, due to a rigidly controlled economy which keeps his living standards at the subsistence level.

On the other hand, average meat consumption in Australia was 204 pounds, and in New Zealand it was 222—both of these countries have great sheep industries. And in Argentina, whose economy is largely based on beef cattle, the peak was reached with an average of 224 pounds.

This year, it is estimated, our meat supply may be as much as 700,000,000 pounds greater than the 1948 figure, or an increase of more than three per cent. Reports from the agricultural regions indicate that farmers are showing great interest in increasing their output. That is a logical development—meat is agriculture's largest source of cash income, and it can be produced on a small or large scale under almost any climatic or soil conditions. More meat is on the way.

The growing recognition of the importance of protein in a diet creating new interest in increased wheat production and consumption.

HOLDING THE BUSINESS

Summers wantmfwy fhalfie pam in m mfwyp fm
Surveys made in all sections of the country, by government bureaus and retail organizations and other such interested bodies, are agreed that consumers want to continue their buying at a high level, and that they are financially able to do so. However, the average consumer has become "price conscious." In other words, the era when almost anything could be sold at almost any price asked is a dead dog.

It is to the credit of retailing that it has done and is doing all in its power to meet consumer desires. Retail sales in most lines are only moderately down from last year. At the time, auditors' reports from department stores, chain store systems, and other representative retail outlets, show that, generally speaking, the profit earned per dollar of sales has declined, and is just about at the rock-bottom level. The reason for it is a simple one. Alert retailers, watching the public pay critical attention to the price tags, have deliberately cut their profits in order to hold their business.

It could only happen in a free economy, where there are no limits on competition, where anyone with the resources and the desire can start a retail store. It could only happen, also, where mass production has been developed to a very high state of efficiency, as an essential partner of mass production. The idea that the sound to run a retail business is to hold unit profits to a modest level in order to encourage and maintain a big total volume of business, is a typical American innovation. It has done much to give us our present-day living standards.

HOW NOT TO GET MORE DOCTORS

One of the most absurd arguments used in support of compulsory government health insurance is that it would help to cure the doctor shortage.

A 1948 report of the World Medical Association discloses that the United States has more doctors in proportion to population than any nation which has adopted socialized or regimented medicine—and in most cases we lead by a very wide margin. Furthermore, we have more doctors in proportion to population than any other nation in the world save for little Palestine, where there are great numbers of refugee physicians from Central Europe.

It is true that even this country needs more doctors—there are serious shortages in some sections, just as there are shortages of other desirable services and facilities. But it is impossible to see how placing the medical profession under what would amount to political domination would do anything but make the situation worse. It takes ten years or more of arduous and expensive training to become a doctor. Would young men find the profession more attractive if they knew they would occupy the same status as civil servants, that advancement would largely depend on political favoritism, and that, in time, they might actually find themselves part of a completely socialized medical system? The obvious answer to that is an unqualified "No".

Measured by either the qualitative or the quantitative yardstick, the medical standards of the United States are equalled in any comparable nation.

BOYCE HOUSE
Gives You Texas

The most historic landmark of west Grayson County, the old Sanborn ranchhouse, was torn down a few years ago. The Whitesboro News-Record declared that "the majestic old structure presided over the ending of the Old West and the beginning of the New West, for here barbed wire was introduced."

The old ranch house, headquarters for the once extensive "Frying Pan" ranch was built in the late '70's of the last century, by H. B. Sanborn and his associates, a Chicago syndicate, known as the Sanborn Livestock and Land Company. The ranch, said to have contained about 27,000 acres, was established for the purpose of introducing barbed wire, invented by the father-in-law of Sanborn.

Prior to the coming of barbed wire, the chief fencing material was split rails and the only areas fenced were the cultivated fields. Due to the impracticability of procuring rails, the vast prairies were open range covered by waist high sage grass.

The old ranch house, which was a show place in its early days, served for many years as the headquarters of H. B. Sanborn in his various activities. Its roof sheltered alike the farmers and cattlemen, who came to investigate the "newfangled" barbed wire; Easterners who came to visit the "wild west" and even titled Englishmen.

The barbed wire which enclosed the ranch proved a success and soon the cattle and horses bearing the Frying Pan brand, were gone for the ranch was subdivided into farms.

For many years the old ranch house then served as a farm-of Commerce in Fort Worth, November 22.

President John D. Mitchel of the WTCC has called upon all local directors of the organization and local Chamber of Commerce managers to prepare an official document, to be signed by those officials and the mayor, citing water needs and problems. The information is to be sent to WTCC for delivery to the officials at the Fort Worth meeting where it will be presented by Lawrence Hagy, Chairman of the WTCC Municipal Water Rights Committee.

"State with all your power of statistics and persuasion your domestic and industrial water needs and request help," the letter says.

Mitchel and Bandeen call attention to the river basin surveys of the Bureau of Reclamation, now under way in West Texas, which may eventually call for the construction of some $400 million in dams, reservoirs and pipelines for the West Texas area.

WTCC slogan for November 22 convention is "Dam West Texas or West Texas is Damned."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Worried Over Acreage Cut About Like He Would Be Over A Cut In His Taxes

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is expressing his own lazy views and not necessarily those of anybody else in his letter of this week.

Dear editor:
From what I been readin and hearin out here lately, farmers all over the state are worryin about the government's program to restrict cotton acreage next year.
One farmer I know who hasn't gotten through worryin about the high price of pickin this year and the scarcity of hands is already worryin over the fact he may not get to plant as much of the stuff next year as he did this year. Says he planted 60 acres this year and they may cut him to 48 next year. Doesn't make sense to me. Just as soon worry over the prospect of havin

FORT WORTH'S NEW SUPER THOROUGHFARE

Opening of this super thoroughfare in September marked the first step in the completion of Fort Worth's $30,000,000 double expressway program which will criss-cross the city with two of the finest arterial thoroughfares in America. Aimed at relieving one of its severest growing pains, traffic congestion, the superhighways will extend east and west and north and south across the city, intersecting near the downtown business district. The opening unit, two miles in length, is at the south end of the north-south expressway. It underpasses the railway bridge above and three street crossings, one of which is visible in the background. Structural steel for the four bridges was supplied by U. S. Steel's Virginia Bridge Co. General contractors for the initial section were Austin Road Co., Dallas, and Worth Construction Co., Fort Worth. Sub-contractor for the steel structures was F. M. Reeves & Sons, Austin. A second 3.4-mile unit under construction on the western leg of the east-west expressway is scheduled for opening early in 1951. Five major overpasses in this strip will be of steel, furnished by American Bridge Co., another U. S. Steel subsidiary. General contractors are Markham & Brown, Kearney-Crume & Co., Dallas; Austin Bridge Co., Dallas; Austin Road Co.; and F. M. Reeves & Sons. Reeves is handling construction of the five steel bridges.

W. W. Naylor, Guardian of the person and estate of Mrs. Fannie P. Bunts, a widow, and a non compos mentis, as Plaintiff, and H. W. Seay and the unknown heirs of H. W. Seay, as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit: Being a suit in trespass to try title to the following described land, situated in Knox County, Texas, to-wit:

Being the South 77.4 acres of land out of the East 100 acres of land in Sub-Survey 3, and the North 22.6 acres out of the East 100 acres of Sub-Survey 1, both in Original Survey 10, D. G. Legal Notice

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To H. W. Seay, and the unknown heirs of H. W. Seay, if deceased.

Greeting:

fewer in-laws visit me next year. Just as soon worry over havin to fish more next year than this year. Just as soon worry over the fact somebody was tryin to cut my taxes.

As far as I'm concerned, they can restrict the cotton acreage all they please and they won't hear much squawk out of me. It's when somebody starts talkin about increasin my allotment that gets me.

In fact, over-expansion is the trouble with lots of folks. If a man makes a little profit on ten acres, he figures he could make twice as much on twenty, four times as much on forty, and so forth. If a man is doin well with a small store, he figures he'll do twice as well with a big one, but it don't always work out that way.

You can go busted from gettin too big as well as from bein too little. I know a farmer who figured if on tractor would make him a livin, four tractors would make him rich, and maybe it would, only today all four tractors are mortgaged and he ain't no nearer gettin rich than I am. Also, I know a groceryman who figured if one store would pay, he ought to get a store in towns all up and down the road and clean up, but all it amounted to was a increase in worryin but not in profits. Some folks can expand, but others just explode. Personally, I never could see any sense in me takin on more land when I ain't workin what I got like it ought to be. I'm in favor of everybody workin as much as they want to, and maybe I ought to be worried too

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Among the readers of the Bible, in all ages, have been some of the ablest leaders and most brilliant minds. Witness the following:
John Quincy Adams: My custom is to read four or five chapters of the Bible every morning immediately after rising. . . It is an invaluable and inexhaustible mine of knowledge and virtue.
Abraham Lincoln: I am profitably engaged in reading the Bible. Take all of this Book upon reason that you can, and the balance by faith, and you will live and die a better man.
Come and study the Bible with us each Sunday, 10:00 a. m.-6:30 p. m., Wednesday 7:15 p. m.
"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon ye, AND LEARN ME; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls." (Matt. 11:28-29).

Mr. Wm. J. ZICKLER

Will conduct a Free Clinic for the Hard of Hearing at Yarbrough Hotel Munday, Texas

MONDAY, OCT. 31 10:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

He will answer such questions as: Can you hear people talking but not always understand them? Can the strain and discomfort of head noises be eliminated? Which is your better ear? Why does hearing loss become progressively worse? How does the strain of even partial deafness affect the nervous system? How many physical ailments can be traced to impairment hearing?

What are the eminent physical and emotional dangers that can easily develop from faulty hearing? Is it true that poor hearing can lead to total deafness unless the proper preventive steps are taken? The startling answers to these and many other vital questions about your health and your hearing will be answered expertly for you in this clinic.

Mr. Zickler takes a personal interest in your individual hearing problems and will demonstrate for you how normal hearing can again be attained. Committees Making Plans For Annual Soil Conservation Meetings In Area Local committees have already been named at three of the towns where the Burlington Soil Conservation Society will sponsor soil conservation meetings in November in cooperation with the Second National Bank of Houston, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and the Texas A&M Extension Service.

Committee chairman in charge of arrangements for the Shamrock meeting on November 14th is R. H. Forrester, attorney of Wheeler. Other committee members are W. K. Frey, county agent, Bill Rushin, ACA Secretary, and Dusan Pakan, chairman soil conservation district, all of Wheeler; Bob Douglas, manager Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, Ben Skidmore, vice-president, F&M Bank, Ben Parks, cashier, First National Bank, J. R. Benson, furniture and hardware dealer, and T. H. Sonnenburg, agent, Burlington Lines, all of Shamrock; Henry Flanagan, president, First State Bank of Mobeetie; and Irvin Schmutz, district conservationist, Canadian.

At Quanah, where a meeting is to be conducted on November 16th, L. M. Boring of Grebent Creamery will be chairman of an arrangements committee comprised of L. A. French, farm machinery dealer; J. Q. Jackson, manager, Firestone Agency; C. L. Howard, druggist; C. T. Watkins, department store operator; D. L. Hickey, of Hickey-Eubanks Chevrolet agency; J. A. Koch, owner-editor, Quanah Tribune Chief; and R. A. Taylor, agent, Burlington Lines.

Chamber of Commerce President Ernest Lamb, who also is president of First National Bank at Henrietta, will head the arrangements committee for the Henrietta meeting on November 17th. He is to be assisted by J. H. Slagle, secretary, Chamber of Commerce; B. R. Hurley, vocational teacher, Public Schools; Morris Gilbert, county superintendent of schools; F. W. Richards, city superintendent of schools; O. L. Graves, ginner; Jack Wettengel, Clay County Leader; Troy Douthitt, rancher and farmer; A. S. Hodges, County Judge, Clay County; Gus Blakely, Mayor; Ambrose Douthitt, rancher and farmer; John Miller, county agent, Clay County; E. D. Williams of AAA office; C. Murrel Thompson, Soil Conservation Service; Mrs. Loyce McElroy, county home demonstration agent; and O. R. Dorsey, agent, Burlington Lines.

The several programs are to include talks, pictures, and demonstrations by O. Dooley Dawson, vice-president, Agricultural Department, Second National Bank, Houston; M. K. Thornton, Extension Agricultural Chemist, and A. H. Walker, Extension Range Specialist, both of Texas A&M College System, College Station, Texas; and the 1949 4-H Round-Up Cook County winning range management demonstration team, comprised of County Agricultural Agent B. T. Haws, coach; Douglas Robison, and Billy Whit.

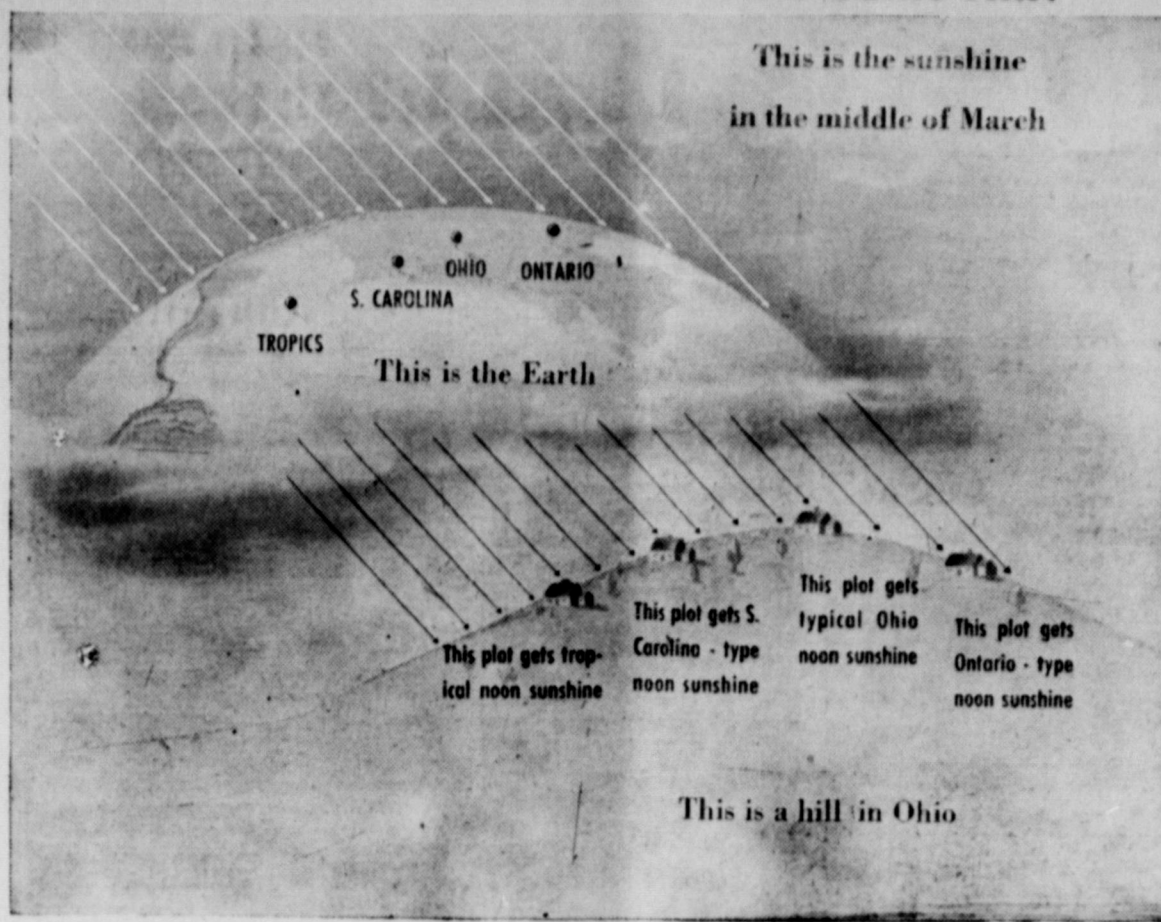

Mounting interest in these programs presages huge attendance at all meetings, the first one to be in Shamrock November 14th, to be followed at Childress, November 15th; Quanah, November 16th; Henrietta, November 17th; and Spur, during the afternoon and Stamford during the evening of November 18th.

The time and place of each meeting are to be announced in ample time for everyone interested to be present.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Raynes of Weinert are the proud parents of a daughter, born Sunday, October 23rd, in the Haskell hospital. Doris Ellen, as she is being called, topped the scales at eight pounds and one ounce.

Four Kinds of Weather—on the Same Hill!

Take a good look at this sketch of a hill in Ohio. It illustrates just one phase of the "Climate Control Project" currently being presented by House Beautiful magazine. The sketch shows clearly why a building plot's specific "angle to the sun" can give to a house any one of several different kinds of climate. In the illustration, the house on the level plot catches its full share of Ohio sunshine. The house on the left (south slope) catches tropical sunshine because it, like the tropics, faces the sun more squarely than the level Ohio plot does. And the house at right, (north slope) is at an angle to the sun like the region of Ontario where, on a March day, it is still winter. The eight prominent scientists who worked on the "Climate Control Project" point out that, since Spring comes sooner and Winter later to a south slope, you can move your climate 500 or 1,000 miles south by building your house in that position. "Climate Control Project," first presented in the October issue, will be continued from month to month, giving detailed analyses of climate and specific building recommendations for various regions throughout the United States.

Moffett Gives More Pointers On Amendments

By Senator George Moffett
It is becoming more clear as the election approaches for Nov. 8 that the Legislature made a mistake in submitting ten amendments to the constitution to be voted upon at the same time. Four, five or six would have been much better and less confusing. I did not vote for all of the ten proposals that the Legislature submitted for the reasons stated above and also because I doubted the soundness of some of those submitted. In order to clear up the confusion as much as possible, I will briefly discuss both sides of the various amendments.

Amendment Number 3 authorizes the establishment of hospital districts. A county or city can now build a hospital, but in some parts of Texas it is said that a part of a county may want to vote for a separate hospital, or parts of two counties may want to join up and construct a hospital. Those who oppose this amendment say the present system of building hospitals is working well, and that a change is not needed. They also point out that there is no limitation upon the amount of tax authorized in the new amendment and that it is not wise to adopt any amendment to the constitution where the sky is the limit as to taxation.

Some close observers have pointed out that eight of the ten amendments submitted at the election next month call for spending tax money, and therefore the voters ought to look them over carefully.

Amendment No. 4 provides for the repeal of the tax as a prerequisite for voting in Texas. This requirement was placed in the constitution by a vote of the people in 1902. One dollar of this tax goes to the schools and they will be short if the poll tax is repealed. Those who favor the repeal of the poll tax say that a person should not be required to pay a tax to vote. Those who oppose the repeal of the poll tax say that we all live in a country which has the best government in the world, and that a citizen who is not willing to pay a small tax toward the support of that government and its public free school system is not entitled to vote. Some even point out that lodges, veterans organizations, clubs and civic and patriotic organizations require members to pay dues before they can vote, so why not require citizens to do the same, if they are under sixty years of age. On the other hand those who favor repeal of the poll tax say that the Federal Government is going to repeal the poll tax if we do not and that it is better for us to repeal the tax and keep the Federal Government from interfering with something which is rightfully a state matter. So the Legislature has, I think wisely, put this matter before the people for a popular decision on November 8th.

Other amendments will be discussed next week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Chastain visited their son, who is a student in Texas University, Austin, over the week end.

Richard Thompson and Bub Stewart of Littlefield were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson over the week end.

Agents Of District Three In Meeting Held At Seymour

The County Home Demonstration Agents from Knox County were in Seymour, Texas, October 13 and 14 when the County Home Demonstration Agents of District III met for a training meeting with Miss Nina Robertson, Associate Clothing Specialist, and Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, Family Relation Education Specialist.

Miss Robertson and Mrs. Johnson stressed the importance of planning for as many as three years in advance. The agents worked up Plans of Work on girls 4-H and women. Clothing and Family Relations was integrated with the other plans.

Planning work for Knox County include clothing for girls and family relation for women.

The agents who attended were the following:

Mary S. Deeb, Motley County; Aubry W. Russell, Cottle; Hazel Harrison, Hardeman; Thelma Jo Wiley, Collingsworth; Jimmy Lou Wainscott, Childress; Cathryn Sands, Wichita; Perla Coffman, Archer; Thelma Wirges, Baylor; Vee J. Howell, Haskell; Joy W. Riley, Wilbarger; Fern

Hodge, District Agent; and Eugenia H. Butler, Knox County; and Nelda Jo Hindman, Assistant Agent in Training of Knox County.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

Home dry cleaning with flammable liquids has disfigured or fatally burned many persons; has burned houses to the ground or demolished them with explosions. Commercial cleaning is inexpensive, more effective and much safer.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Now They're Sitting Pretty

Squint Miller, who's working as a telephone lineman, was telling me about some birds that got into a fight with his company.

Seems a couple of woodpeckers set up housekeeping in a telephone pole. Nobody minded them living there, but they kept pecking at the wires—causing one short circuit after another.

Finally, the telephone people—who had nothing personal against the birds—just stopped up the hole where they lived. But they kept coming back. At last, the company donated that pole to the woodpeckers and set up a brand-new one for their own use!

From where I sit, we'd all be better off if we were as tolerant with our own kind as that telephone outfit was with the woodpeckers. Let's consider the other fellow's point of view—whether it's his right to live where he wants, or to enjoy a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale when and if he pleases.

PROGRAM
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

LOCAL FARMER COMMITTEES GET NEW NAME

The State office of the Production and Marketing Administration announced that the elected county and community farmer-committees that administer PMA programs in their local areas will henceforth be known officially as Production and Marketing Administration Committees. They were previously called Agricultural Conservation Committees.

The change in name is the result of revised regulations pertaining to the selection and functions of county and community farmer-committees approved by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan on September 26, which becomes effective with publication in the Federal Register on Thursday, September 29. Mr. B. F. Vance, State PMA Committee Chairman, explains that the farmer-committee system was established in the "middle-thirties" to provide local administration of what was then known as the AAA program. For that reason, they were commonly known for many years as AAA committees.

With passage of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of 1936, the committees were officially reconstituted as Agricultural Conservation Committees by administrative order of the Secretary of Agriculture. Vance points out, "This name has continued until the present time."

The chairman explains that the activities of the former Agricultural Adjustment Administration were combined with those of several other agencies and independent offices of the Department in 1945 to form the Production and Marketing Administration. The duties and responsibilities of State, county and community farmer-committees have been successively broadened since that time. State committees were officially designated Production and Marketing Committees in 1947.

Rubber Roads Envisioned By H. S. Firestone

Extensive Tests Show Value Of Using Asphalt Mix

AKRON, O.—The use of rubber in highway construction is likely to open large new fields for the consumption of both natural and synthetic rubber. Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., Chairman of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, stated today following the laying of a test section of rubber roadway near the 145-year-old Firestone family homestead in Eastern Ohio.

He also pointed out that construction of rubber roads might well have favorable international economic results as it would help supply Great Britain, Holland and France with more dollars in exchange rubber without interfering with the operation of our national defense synthetic rubber plants, thereby relieving us in some degree from providing direct financial aid to these countries.

Would Provide Dollars
"Already the greatest single source of dollars for the British Commonwealth is the natural rubber sold to the United States industry and government," Mr. Firestone said. "Consumption of natural rubber can be expected to increase further with new uses but it must be kept in mind that the use of rubber in roads depends upon reasonably low and stable prices.

"Our laboratory and highway tests, supplemented by extensive Far East and European experiments indicate that the use of rubber powder in asphalt mixtures greatly improves the durability of black-top highways, and reduces maintenance costs. Such roads have been laid in Ohio, Virginia, Minnesota and Texas and are being considered by other states."

Near Columbia, Ohio, the new rubber road section was laid on State Road 14, a heavily traveled truck route. Powdered rubber was mixed with asphalt topping material, then spread over the road surface by regular road-building machinery.

Retards Contractor
This rubber powder binds the asphalt more tightly into the road. In hot weather it retards melting and tends to prevent the softening and breaking down of the pavement under heavy usage. In cold weather the rubber retards contraction and tends to prevent water and frost from permeating and disintegrating the road surface.

Other advantages of the rubber road are:
1. Improved non-skid characteristics which mean safer roads.
2. Resiliency that prevents road surface from shattering under heavy truck-load impacts, which means lower highway maintenance costs.
3. Experimental work on rubber

IN MEMORY OF JOE TURNER

On October 15, 1947 in Seymour, Texas, Joe Turner was transferred from this land that is filled with sorrow and disappointment to a land where sorrows, grief, and disappointments never come.

Joe was a railroad man who rode the engine as the fireman of the train and always felt the responsibility of service to all his fellow workers. But this day while in full discharge of his duty he fell a victim to the wheels of misfortune, and his gallant life was over.

Like the locust leaf that falleth in the autumn, Joe fell from the burning locomotive engine a hero, and workman.

We like to think of Joe as only on a visit, and this visit is with the Great Supreme Dispatcher of the Universe, in the land where God resides.

Although Joe has gone to a place free from all cares and sorrows, yet there is a vacancy in our hearts, for we feel that in his going we have lost one of the best men in our land and country, for he was indeed a true friend; a kind father; and a lover of his fellowman, yet we know his influence will live on and on in the lives of those who knew him best.

I feel that Joe would like for his son, Buddy, to carry on railroading where he left off; to follow railroading as a brakeman always be careful, cheerful, and do deeds of kindness to make life brighter for your fellow workers and friends.

Now as words are too weak to express the full contents of our heart, we close by saying—

"A noble life is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our hearts
That never, never can be filled."

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON
Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records showing how legal loopholes of ten enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson, of Dallas, is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

Joe Doakes was charged with robbery with a pistol. A jury found him guilty, and his sentence was fixed at fifteen years in the penitentiary.

The indictment of Doakes read in part, as follows: "that one Joe Doakes, by assault and by violence, with a firearm, robbed one John Smith of one ten-cent piece However, when John Smith took the stand during the trial he testified that he actually had been robbed of two nickels instead of one dime. The jury saw no difference and promptly convicted Doakes.

The case was reversed by a higher court. Its ruling was that the proof did not meet the allegations against Doakes—simply because of the difference between two five-cent pieces and one ten-cent piece. The higher court ruled that Doakes was entitled to a new trial.

The State Bar favors revision of Texas' criminal statutes in such a way as to eliminate technicalities that result in delay and additional expenditures from public funds.

Greatest Cowboys To Be Competing In Fort Worth Rodeo

FORT WORTH—Between 300 and 400 cowboys will compete in the rodeo at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 27 through Feb. 5, according to Verne Elliott, veteran rodeo producer.

Elliott, who lives on a ranch near Plattsville, Colorado, was here to make plans for the rodeo of which he will again be the producer, as he has almost every season for the past 25 years.

"All the top cowboys will take part in the Fort Worth show," said Elliott. "They look forward to competing here as it is undoubtedly the top indoor rodeo of the world."

Elliott will bring a great array of stock—great in numbers and in wildness; 140 bucking horses for the saddle and bareback contests, 80 Brahmas for the bull-riding and 100 Mexican steers for the bulldogging. He will also provide 100 calves for the roping event, 50 cattle for the cutting contest and 50 saddle horses for arena work and the grand entry.

Besides his ranch in Colorado, Elliott has a ranch near Cheyenne, Wyo., and has 1,200 acres under lease a few miles from Ft. Worth. On this latter place, his rodeo stock will finish out the winter and he will operate out of here for other rodeos he will produce, including Baton Rouge, La., El Paso and Kansas City.

A producer since 1919, Elliott has put on almost countless rodeos including London, Madison Square Garden (the first rodeo New York City ever saw), Cheyenne, Pendleton, Ore., and Denver.

P. V. Williams and Aaron Edgar were business visitors in Dallas over the week end. While there they attended the S. M. U. Kentucky football game on Saturday.

AUSTIN — Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early in life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headaches, eyeache, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons,

He has severed a very profitable business and professional connection to enter the field of full-time evangelism. He has been secretary and general counsel for R. G. LeTourneau, Inc. and affiliated firms.

Relating how energy and need had driven him at an early age to the peak of a lawyer's ambition—practice before the Supreme Court of the United States—Clif Brannon asserted: "When at the close of my message at Elk City, Okla., last Sunday two big strapping men, among others came up to accept Christ, I got a bigger thrill than when I first stood before the nine solemn men of the Supreme Court."

Brannon, now first vice-president of the Baptist Brotherhood of Texas, has spoken in over 300 churches since 1946. During the last 12 months, he has addressed 226 church groups. The heavy schedule of church engagements in addition to his professional duties led to such physical strain he had to drop one or the other. He chose religion.

Three Munday Gins Are Kept Busy With Record-Breaking Crop Of 1949

It looks as if Munday will gin between 15,000 and 20,000 bales of cotton this season.

That compares with approximately 13,000 last season—itself a good cotton year.

The two Farmers Co-operative gins got 8,585 bales of last year's run. The Paymaster ginned the rest.

The average acre of cotton is producing such a surprising "first picking" that even the experts decline to predict what the total harvest will be.

ONE-THIRD IN

By October 19 it was estimated that about one-third of the crop had been gathered. The two Co-op gins had run 3,680 bales and the Paymaster 1,698, making a total so far this year 5,378 bales.

Marion H. Brumley, an official of the Co-op gins, said he knew several farmers who gathered a bale to the acre at first picking. One man got 60 bales off 60 acres, first picking, with much remaining. Bob Hicks, living northwest of Munday, reported 35 bales off 35 acres.

Total ginnings depend largely on the weather and availability of pickers later in the season.

NEW PLANT BUILT

Owners of the two Co-op gins

last year sold much of the machinery and equipment in one of their gins, and constructed a new plant. It's a Continental Gin with five 80-saw stands and cost $90,000. It is housed in a new building. The plant was finished about September 1.

Brumley said some defoliation had been made in the Munday area. Use of planes was limited. A new chemical costing about $2.50 an acre for application has been used with good success.

The three Munday gins operate around the clock. Gin yards are congested with trucks waiting their turns at the suction.—Hamilton Wright in Abilene Reporter-News.

The farm which is most consistently in the profit column is the farm which goes a long way toward producing its own food and feed requirements. The cheapest food and feed is that produced by the farmer on his own land.

Bugs are likely to cause serious losses in stored grain unless control measures are taken. Check grain at regular intervals for live insects, and fumigate if needed.

Check Your Peach Trees For Borers

Peach tree borers have appeared in many trees in commercial orchards during recent weeks, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. College, and now is the time to bring them under control.

He says ethylene dichloride emulsion used now will give quick and effective control. Clear the trash away from the base of the tree, and make a small trench in the soil about two inches from the trunk and make the application. For one year old trees use 1-8 pint; two year trees use 1-4 pint and for trees three years of age or older use 1-2 pint per tree.

The use of paradichlorobenzene crystals is an old method which has given good results, but, Rosborough says, wait until the weather cools off before using it. Clear the trash away from the base of the tree for a distance of from four to six inches, and then distribute the crystals evenly in a narrow, continuous, circular band an inch wide and on the soil about two inches from the tree trunk.

Do not allow the paradichlorobenzene to come into contact with the body of the tree, warns Rosborough. Pull the soil over the ring of chemical band to form a cone about three inches deep

Our Citizens Of Tomorrow

Some of their first names are missing, but here's another group of our future citizens. They are, left to right, top row: Sylvia daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alos Kuehler, Munday; Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Howry, Seymour; Rommye Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Harlan, Goree.

Bottom row: son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill King, Weinert; Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McNeill, Munday; James, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hawes, Munday.

and pack the soil to hold the gas around the bark of the tree. The soil cone should be removed about six weeks after the date of the treatment.

A little time and labor plus a few dollars well spent in establishing a lawn and planting trees and shrubs about the home increases its value 10, 20, and in some cases 50 percent.
