Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

We haven't heard any more from that Texas congressman recently.

You know, shortly after the nation's congress convened it was a Texas congressman that broke briefly into the news.

It seems he wanted a change in our monetary system—like as if it isn't changing rapidly enough right now, changing from the people to the Internal Revenue Department!

And some more changes in that direction will be taking place within the next 45 days.

This being the opening days of February, we suppose most of our farmer friends have the little task of income tax matters off their minds.

Yep, the burden has been lifted, both from the mind and from the pocketbook.

But for us other fellows, we who have until March 15 to complete that chore, still have that "rough and rugged" road to travel over.

Along about this time of year, we are caused to wonder what became of those earnings that we can show so easily on paper, but can't dig up to pay Uncle Sam.

We wonder, how the grand old gent in the striped breeches that are held up by a pair of gallsus can expect a guy to live on $500 to $600 a year.

With that sort of wondering each year, we never come to a successful solution, and we wind up with the realization that we must make some sort of arrangements to see that Uncle Sam gets his "askings."

We have something like that in our church. At the beginning of each year, our local board meets and is asked to accept or reject the "askings" of the Munday church.

Those "askings" are determined at annual conference, district meetings, and the like, we think, then the local board can accept or reject the askings. Usually they accept.

But it's different with Uncle Sam. Those "askings" are worked out and determined up in Washington and handed on down to you. Then you can accept them, or else.

And there's not many people who don't find a way to accept them, and pay them off. Some who have "evaded" for a time find themselves peeping through the barred windows of a federal confine.

So the next 45 days will find us making an effort to satisfy the request of the government.

Which brings us back to our Texas congressman.

It seems he wanted to coin some new money, but we haven't discovered the advantages of it.

He got to thinking about our custom of calling a quarter two-bits. We guess he got to thinking, too, of how we can have two bits when we don't have one bit.

So he proposes a bill to coin some new money. He would have a bit, which is worth 12½ cents, or half of two bits. Then he would also coin a half-bit, the value of which would be approximately half of a bit.

Personally, we can't see where the advantage would be, unless it would call for less conversation when pricing certain articles.

The clerk could say: "One bit, two for a quarter," and that would be less conversation than saying, "Twelve and one-half cents, two for two bits."

Or maybe he could say: They are a half-bit each, two for a bit, five for two bits, and if you buy one for a bit, you're bit."

Now you can keep your financial affairs secret. If someone (Continued on Last Page)

J. B. Eubank, Jr. Asks Re-election As County Judge

County Judge J. B. Eubank, Jr., has authorized the Munday Times to announce his candidacy for re-election to this office, subject to the action of the Knox county's voters in the coming Democratic primaries.

In making his announcement, Mr. Eubank said:

"I have tried to fill the office of county judge to the best of my ability, and am seeking a second term solely upon my merits and ability. Being new in the office, I realize that I possibly made some mistakes, as you would have done, but I feel that my experience during the first term better qualifies me for the office.

"If re-elected, I will continue to do my very best and to be fair and square to everyone in conducting the affairs of the office, cooperating with the commissioners' court and the citizenship in every way possible. Your vote and influence is solicited and will be deeply appreciated."

Cobb's Store To Continue With Quality Lines

"As successors to Baker-McCarty, Cobb's Department Store is going to make an earnest effort to continue the fine traditions that have characterized Baker-McCarty's through the years," said Elbert E. King, manager of the local store. "We want to continue the same high type of service and to give you high quality merchandise at fair prices at all times."

Bearing out this statement, Mr. King announced this week that the local store will continue to carry all the good and nationally-known lines of merchandise which customers have become accustomed to purchasing at Baker-McCarty's. This is merchandise you know and have learned to depend on.

New lines will be added all along, too, he said, making the local store known for its fine lines of merchandise. Announcement was made this week that a new line of shoes, the Jarman line, has just arrived and is being placed in stock. Other new lines will be added from time to time. "We want you to feel at home in our store," Mr. King said, "just as you have done at Baker-McCarty's. We are here to serve you in every way possible, and we hope to merit your patronage and confidence."

Health Program Makes Progress In Schools

The public health program is making good progress in the schools of Knox County, according to a report made Tuesday by Merick McGaughy, county superintendent.

The program has been under way since September 10, 1949, when the county school board, in a meeting with Dr. D. C. Elliott and school superintendents, employed Mrs. Harold Stephens as county health nurse. The schools purchased charts and instruments for testing eyes and an audiometer for testing hearing.

Mrs. Stephens has completed eyesight and hearing tests for all the schools in the county, except Munday, which has employed a nurse for the school system. She has also completed immunization for tetanus, diphtheria and small pox, along with tuberculosis tests, in the Knox City schools, and this work was scheduled to be started Wednesday at Vera, Rhineland and Sunset are scheduled for February 8.

Mrs. Stephens plans health instruction courses in some of the schools which have requested these courses before the end of the school year.

Knox Calf Wins Sixth Place At Ft. Worth Show

Buddy's calf, which was bred by the League Ranch, of Benjamin, was shown in the senior yearling class. The calf from Iowa which was first in this class won the grand championship of the entire show. This calf will be sold in the auction of Fat steers, lambs and hogs on Friday, February 3.

Mrs. M. Boggs visited with relatives in Chillicothe over the week end. She was accompanied home Tuesday by her aunt, Mrs. Gussie Archibald, who is visiting here a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Coy Jennings spent the past week end in Cushing, Oklahoma visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hutton.

Designation of a farm to market road southeast of Munday toward Throckmorton was announced to the Munday Times this week in a letter from Senator George Moffett of Austin. This is the road on which much work has been done in recent years, both by the commissioner court of Knox County and interested local citizens. It is believed work on this road will be completed during 1950.

Following are minutes of the Texas Highway Department in designating the road, which was sent The Times by Senator Moffett, who also notified Commissioner George Nix of the department's action:

"In Knox County, a Farm to Market Road from U. S. 277 to Munday southeast to Haskell County Line, a distance of approximately 6.0 miles, is hereby designated subject to the availability of funds under the terms of Senate Bill No. 287 and subject to the condition that Knox County will furnish all required right of way free of cost to the State.

"Upon acceptance of the provisions of this Order by the proper officials of Knox County the State Highway engineer is directed to proceed with the preparation of plans for construction at an estimated cost of $45,100 and when right of way and funds are available to proceed with construction and to assume the road for maintenance upon completion of construction."

New Homes Are Completed; Others Being Erected

Munday continues to build, but making little progress against the housing shortage, as new homes are being constructed within the city limits.

Highlighting Munday's construction program is the new First Baptist Church building, which is now in the final stage of completion. Work on this new and spacious building is now confined to completing the interior finishing work etc. It is expected the work will be completed within the next 60 to 90 days.

Building of homes shapes up about as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Chan Hughes are about ready to move into their new home. This is six room and bath with double garage.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Hobert is in final stages of completion, being a 6-room brick veneer with brick garage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott have moved into their new 6-room frame structure which is just completed.

J. B. Booe has just completed nice 4-room rent house.

The new 6-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pruitt is now completed and being enjoyed by the family. This is constructed of Austin stone, with double garage, and is a very lovely structure.

Construction has started on the new 6-room brick veneer home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrell, located in "Golden Acres."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gree have begun construction of their 5-room home in the southwest part of town.

Also under construction is the 6-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wadzeck in the north part of town.

A low-cost housing program sponsored by Wm. Cameron & Co., is providing several new houses ranging in the $5,000 bracket. One of these is almost completed, another is being constructed and the foundation is laid for the third. Immediate plans call for the construction of three more of these homes.

In addition to those already under way, or being completed several others are in the planning stage. It seems 1950 will be a building year for Munday residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowle, and A. E. Bowley visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank Bowley and so and Mr. Jot Tynes and children in Big Spring last week end. Mrs. A. E. Bowley and Mrs. J. C. Tynes returned with them after spending several days visiting in Big Spring.

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throck-orton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Her-rod road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

HOW TO CONTROL A NATION

The electric power industry has long been the main target in a campaign to socialize American enterprise. But the reason why this should be is not generally understood. It was well-explained 25 years ago, by Carl D. Thompson, a nationally-known socialist prominent in the public ownership movement. Mr. Thompson said: "The movement for Public Super-power is the most vital phase of the public ownership movement. The control of electric power . . . will obviously carry with it the control of the industries of the nation. The control of transportation, of mining, and agriculture . . . will also dominate and determine very largely the domestic life of the people . . . electric power is the key to the coming civilization."

Long afterward, David Lillenthal, then head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said much the same thing in a succinct phrase, when he observed that whoever controls energy, controls people. The reasoning behind these views is sound. Electricity is the life of industry. It is an essential in the home and on the modern farm. It is lated to the control and use of our land, water and other resources. And so, once the source of supply was socialized, and the men holding power dominated it, they could do with the nation almost anything they might wish.

Under private ownership, state and Federal regulatory bodies guard the interests of the public. But socialized power would be free of any such state regulation. It would, as Mr. Thompson said, lead to the control of the country.

OLD FASHIONED VIRTUES

The state of Florida wants industries which are suited to the resources and climate. These industries are not of the "smoke-stack" variety—Florida

The Munday Times is Democratic, yet supporting only what it believes to be right, and opposing what it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics, publishing news fairly, impartially, and honestly.

da hasn't the raw materials they need. Instead, enterprises which require small amounts of raw materials and the work of many technicians and craftsmen are desired. Watchmaking is cited as one example. A few months ago, Governor Fuller Warren of that state did something concrete to turn the desire into reality. He formed a Florida Industrial Development Council. He staffed it with nine of the state's outstanding industrialists, along with the heads of various public and private research agencies. Of great importance, the Council is 100 percent non-partisan and non-political. The Governor and some of the members are on opposite sides of the political fence. It is to the Governor's credit that, regardless of this, he picked the best men available and set them to work.

Much progress has been reported so far—new payrolls are coming to the state. Industry, agriculture and the tourist business are to be locked together to give Florida year-round stability of income.

Here is a fine illustration of how those old-fashioned virtues of local initiative and self-reliance still work. Florida had an economic problem—but she didn't run to the Federal government for help. She figured out how to solve that problem with her own resources and acted. If that spirit were more prevalent, this country would be in a far sounder condition.

A GRASS-ROOTS COUNTRY

The government of this nation is dominated by the small towns and the rural areas—not by the great city populations. That striking fact is developed in an analysis of the United States Congress published in the December issue of The American Press.

The analysis shows that 76 out of the 96 Senators—79 percent—are elected by rural majorities, and that 54 percent of the Representatives represent more rural counties than urban counties. For the purpose of the study, a rural county was considered to be one in which there is no community with more than 10,000 population.

The small number of Senators who represent predominately urban constituencies mostly come from states with very small land areas and concentrated industry, such as Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Th study shows further that 42 Senators and 132 Representatives have a weekly newspaper as their home town paper. It then said: "All of those from rural areas depend on weekly newspapers as one of their chief barometers of the opinions of their constituents."

The point is that, in spite of the growth of the cities, this is still a grass-roots country. The people on the farms, in the villages, and in the small municipalities have the dominant voice when it comes to electing the men who make our laws. The future of America is in safe hands.

Fires In Home Cost Americans 2 Millions Daily

Fires cost Americans $2 million per day to say nothing of the hardships and tragedies they leave behind. This is the time of the year when home fires are most numerous says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer-buildings of Texas A. & M. College. A major cause—all heating equipment is operating at capacity or above and thus the chances for fire are greater.

He says overheated stoves or flues and overloaded furnaces and space heaters can easily start home fires. He points out that space or portable heaters should always be kept away from walls and from materials that burn easily and should never be placed where they can be knocked over. Kerosene or gasoline should never be used for starting a fire if you use a fireplace, he advises keeping a metal screen in front of it at all times.

Coal or wood burning stoves should be set on a metal pad that has some insulation between it and the floor. He says the grate and ash pit should be kept clean and that only metal containers should be used for holding the ashes. Be sure that no live coals are in the ashes you carry outside. A gust of wind might blow the coals into combustible materials and start a fire.

The easiest and by far the best way to fight fires is by prevention. You should always remember, says Allen, the first few minutes are the most vital so far as fire fighting is concerned. Every home should be protected by home fire fighting equipment and this should include some of the following: a chemical ex-

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says They Can Move The National Capital But He Doesn't Want It Near Him

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek probably is mistaken about the matter he's writing about this week, but we find it's easier to print his stuff than to have him going around talking about us.

Dear editor: I noticed in a copy of a paper which I pulled out from under the wash pot just before my wife started a fire with it, no sense in gettin so steamed up over clean clothes and neglect your mind, where some Congressman is trying to move the United States capital out of Washington. Says the seat of government ought to be moved to a better location, and I expect to see a lot of towns jumpin in with offers and claims why the capital ought to be moved to their area. Chambers of Commerce all over the country are probably polishin up their stories now.

I don't see it that way. That is, it wouldn't make any difference to me if they moved the capital, just so they didn't lose my name on the out-goin government check-writin list, but I am blamed sure don't want the thing around here. Ruin a community faster'n a smallpox epidemic.

You take your community. Ain't nobody outside of us and you town folks got much use for it, but ain't nobody actively opposin it. Yet you put the capital of the United States around here and this would be the worst cussed place on earth.

Right now you can blame high taxes, high costs, labor troubles, wastefulness, your own failure, a sick cow, the price of cotton, insects, etc. on Washington, but if they moved the capital here tinguisher, pump, tank extinguisher, fire pails, barrels of water and ladders. Such equipment should be kept in a handy place and ready for instant use.

Each member of the family should know where the fire fighting equipment is kept and should be drilled in using it. The equipment should be checked periodically to see that it is in working order. Allen says, always remember that farm fires are destructive; that they cost lots of money and even lives, but your big job is to prevent them.

NEW STERILIZER

CHICAGO—A new method to speed sterilization of infant formula in one simple and safe operation formerly used only in hospitals is the latest innovation designed to help ease a mother's daily chore in the kitchen.

Using the principle of low pressure cooking, Ekeo Products company here has developed a double duty unit called the Ekonomic infant formula sterilizer. It also can be used as a regular pressure cooker. Known as terminal sterilization, the new technique enables a mother to prepare a 24-hour feeding supply for her baby in 10 minutes. Ordinarily, this task takes from one to one and a half hours.

M. J. Prucha, professor of dairy bacteriology at the University of Illinois, worked with the company during the development of the new unit. He says the pressure cooker method of sterilization has been tested and proved under the most severe bacteriological conditions.

CAR STARTS QUICKER ON COLD DAYS WHEN GARAGE IS INSULATED

Many motorists have learned that their cars start much easier on cold mornings if their garage interiors are lined with structural insulating board.

The material is easy to apply and it decorates while it insulates. It can be nailed directly to studs and rafters. Besides retarding the escape of heat in winter, insulating board keeps out the summer sun.

A neat and weather-tight garage really pays dividends. For one thing, if it is vacant during the day, it can serve as an extra playroom for children. Mother can use it on rainy days for hanging up the wash. It's always handy for storing screens or storm sash and other outdoor equipment.

Students home from St. Edwards University in Austin for mid-semester holidays were Jimmy Boyles, Eugene Kuhler and William Hertel.

Careful control in the manufacturing of insulating board sheathing gives the product uniform strength, rigidity and insulation value.

Training School For H. D. Officers Held At Benjamin

A special training school for incoming officers of the Knox County Home Demonstration Council and local H. D. Clubs concerning their duties was conducted Friday morning, December 27th, at the county court house by the out-going officers.

An I. Q. test on simple parliamentary procedure was given by Mrs. O. R. Miller of Gilliland, ex-chairman of council. Mrs. Omar Cure of Gilliland, county chairman of Texas Home Demonstration Association, informed the training school on what T. H. D. A.'s relation is to council in the form of a true-false test. To carry out an effective club program, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode of Munday, state secretary of the T. H. D. A. and secretary of council, instructed the school on the duties of officers and committees. Miss Fern Hodge, Home agent of District III, attended the school in the absence of an agent and held a round table discussion with the council delegates. She said, "You can do anything in home demonstration work if you believe in it and evi-

Munday H. D. Club Meets January 25 With Mrs. Tynes

The Munday Home Demonstration Club met on January 25 in the home of Mrs. J. O. Tynes. In the absence of Mrs. Tynes, who was out of town, Mrs. Frank Bowley served as hostess.

Finance and marketing committees gave their reports. The club members have rented the Study Club rooms for their next two meetings each month, which is the second and fourth Wednesdays. Plans were worked out whereby each hostess will have a co-hostess to assist her.

Mrs. Joe Patterson exhibited a piece of furniture which she made at home and which could be used for different purposes, such as what-not shelf or for books. This piece had been sanded until it was perfectly smooth, then given two coats of varnish.

Mrs. J. C. Gollehon has made a book shelf, also, but it was too large to bring to the meeting to be shown. Other demonstrations will be given from time to time. The new home demonstration agent will assume her duties in the county, beginning February 6, it was stated.

Refreshments were served to twelve members and one visitor, as follows: Mmes. Joe Patterson, J. C. Gollehon, T. J. Offutt, Buel Claburn, Nora Broach, Bill Morris, A. M. Searcey, Frank Bowley, G. L. Pruitt, Leland Floyd, Fred Linn, and the visitor, Mrs. M. Boggs.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends who were so kind and thoughtful to us in our recent bereavement. All the cards and flowers were greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten.

May God richly bless each and every one in our prayer. The children and grandchildren of J. F. Waldron. 1tp dently you do." In regard to extending forwarding 4-H work, she advised that every man and woman "adopt" some boy or girl and show interest in his or her club project.

A covered dish luncheon afforded the opportunity for county neighbors to "get acquainted." As part of the training program, state and district adopted songs were sung several times.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.—This newsletter is being written on my 48th birthday. Enough said on that subject.

I have just returned from the House Floor where we have had the fourth quorum call of the day. We have up for general debate the amendment to the cotton acreage allotment law. This amendment, while it will not remove all injustices and inequities will certainly remove a great many of them and badly needed to permit hundreds of cotton farmers in our district to stay in business. These quorum calls are being demanded by certain members of Congress who are interested in the cotton bill at all, but who simply want to harass those of us who are. Most of the Southern members of Congress recently voted for a rule that would have blocked FEPC. FEPC Congressmen are mad and are taking this rather unusual and unfair means of harassing their Southern colleagues. Tied in with this is another situation that irritates us Southern members. About 75 members of the Congress who live in nearby big cities such as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Baltimore, like to leave Washington early Friday and return oftentimes as late as Tuesday morning. Many of them carry on lucrative law practices back in their home cities. They often prevail on the leadership not to bring any measure up for record vote on Friday and Monday. This practice of accommodating the city members drags out the sessions of Congress and delays the transaction of business. Such an agreement was entered into this week end. The leadership have agreed that no record vote will be called before Tuesday. FEPC members are going to demand a record vote on the cotton bill. Therefore, it cannot be disposed of before Tuesday. Congressman Poage of Waco, and myself are both scheduled to fly with Air Force Symington and Senator Lyndon Johnson to Texas on Tuesday, returning on Thursday. Both Congressman Poage and I are anxious to help with the cotton amendment and will not leave until it is voted on. This may compel us to fly to Texas on Tuesday night by commercial plane at great expense to ourselves, in order to keep important engagements in Waco and Wichita Falls. We are not happy about the situation.

The Gossett-Lodge amendment is up in the Senate for action. It will be voted on next Wednesday. I have been trying to help Senator Lodge as much as possible, because his amendment in the Senate is identical with my amendment in the House. Unless the Lodge amendment is passed in the Senate, there will be no point in voting on the Gossett amendment in the House. Incidentally, this amendment is now the subject of debate by the high schools of America and many colleges are also using it for their debate subject.

The Gossett would—(1) Abol-

Progress Against Heart Disease

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles by the American Heart Association for the "Save A Heart" campaign, which will be February 12 to 25.)

The foundation of the American Heart Association as a voluntary national agency marked a significant step forward by providing the leadership and the national program for the fight against heart disease. The establishment by Act of Congress of the National Heart Institute in the United Public Health Service reflects the growing interest and concern of the government with this major problem.

A great amount of research in the causes and treatment of the diseases of the heart has been done during the past quarter of a century, despite the handicaps of insufficient funds and the shortage of trained personnel.

Among the important scientific advances made against heart disease are the prevention of recurrences of attacks of acute rheumatic fever by the use of penicillin or sulpha drugs—the surgical treatment of certain congenital heart defects—the relief of symptoms by better methods of managing individual patients with high blood pressure.

Another outstanding recent development is the use of neopillin or other antibiotics in the prevention and treatment of a type of heart disease known as subacute bacterial endocarditis. Prior to the use of such antibiotics, this disease caused death in almost every case.

There have been many advances in the medical and surgical treatment of diseases affecting the blood vessels in the arms and legs.

These accomplishments are small, however, in comparison with the job that remains to be done. Personnel and facilities must be provided for research and for the development of community cardiac programs.

Law Unchanged On Taxation Of Minimum Wage

The fact that the social security tax advanced 1% to 1 1/4% each from the employer and employee, effective January 1, 1950, has caused many employers to inquire if the law has been changed to tax more than the first $3,000.00 in wages paid to an employee in a year, according to Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Administration.

"The law that only the first $3,000.00 in wages paid by an employer to each employee subject to security is still in effect," Tate said, "and only an Act of Congress will change the law pertaining to the maximum wages to be taxed."

Tate pointed out that all inquiries regarding social security tax matters should be referred to the Collector of Internal Revenue, and that all questions about old-age and survivors insurance benefits should be directed to the social security office located at Room 412 in the Post Office Building in Wichita Falls.

Rev. and Mrs. Hubert Austin of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene visited with friends here last week end. Rev. Austin delivered the sermon at Gillespie Baptist Church Sunday morning and in the evening.

FARM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

WHERE IN 1950?

We don't need to let it happen but we could have another period comparable to the early Thirties. H. L. Manwaring, Deputy Assistant Administrator for Production, PMA, told a Farm and Home Week audience at Paulding, Ohio recently:

"It is 1928. Trains are shutting up and down the valley. Smoke is belching from giant smokestacks. The air is charged with the energy of things going on. People are busy. They are eating well. They smile and there is confidence in their steps as they hurry about.

Moving ahead to 1932, he said: "The trains are rusting on the sidings. The smokestacks are smokeless. The very air feels heavy. Fear is in the eyes of the people. The workers are lined up at soup kitchens instead of pay windows. Their feet are heavy as they shuffle along." "It is the same in the valley. The resources are there. The farms are there. There is coal. There is oil. There is energy in the water falling endlessly over the dam through open gates. But something is missing. We are starving in the midst of plenty. Some have said that we are hungry because we have produced too much."

At the present time, he pointed out: "The net income for 1950 may be down a third from the peak of 1947 while the non-farm income remains at about 1947 levels."

He suggested that the price support and conservation programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture may be the tools which farmers and the rest of the people may use to keep the experiences of the Thirties from being repeated.

Stressing the need for effective farm price support efforts, he pointed out that when the bottom drops out of farm prices the top begins coming off the farms. And when the bottom drops out of farm prices, the whole economic structure begins slipping. So, what we do in agriculture may well be the key to what happens all along the line.

"But I do have faith in the intelligence of you people. I am sure if we are aware of the problems, we can find the answers. If we don't become blinded by our own self-interest, I am sure we can find a way to keep from returning to two-bit wheat and soup kitchens."

FARM PRICES

With the announcement by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, that the parity ratio, ratio of prices received by farmers to prices paid and interest and taxes, had dropped below 100 for the first time since November 1941—actually was 98 of December 15—many of you begin to hear and learn a lot more about parity and price support prices in the months to come, and perhaps realize that allotments and marketing quotas are not as unnecessary as some would have you believe. Many have attempted to lead the public to believe that "acreage controls" are an evil and are imposed to create more "jobs" for bureaucrats and that a return to rugged individualism would prove beneficial to the farmer and to the public. Any type of control is an evil in one sense of the word but the majority of cotton, tobacco and peanut farmers must feel that controls are a necessary evil if results of the recent referendums are considered. Many non-farmers are misinformed on this subject and believe that controls are placed on farmers by mandate, when in fact more than a majority of the farmers (2/3) must vote controls in, and in most cases better than 90 percent actually vote for them on national scale.

Support prices are inter-related with controls and most of the opposition to controls really lies in opposition to support prices which the opposition infers is breaking the government and the taxpayer. The blame for the high cost of living is placed on farm support prices when actualy the cost of farm products has declined more and faster than any type of consumer goods, and while he is getting less and less for what he produces, he is continuing to pay high prices for what he buys.

A tribute to the home town weekly:

From out of the nowhere, all through life's storms and trials, and the very threshold of the pearly gates, the home town newspaper carries the individual.

When Dr. Stork deposits six pounds of pink and shriveled cussedness, squalling, at the home of the parents, the home paper assumes its helpful watchfulness over the new-born babe's destiny by adding four pounds and making him a 'fine, bouncing ten-pound boy.'

When he reaches manhood and wanders from the old nest and through the influence of his Uncle George, gets a job driving a bus for the Insect Inn at Bingville, the old home paper comes through and puts him in "a lucrative position of trust."

And when he persuades some misguided female to share his life, the home paper describes him as "a sterling young business man, brave and handsome."

Then when middle age has thinned his hair and put his waist line in the lead, the home paper brushes the dandruff off his coat, obscures the tobacco juice on his shirt front and makes him "a substantial citizen."

When politics gets into his system and he tries to get elected to the legislature, he is again made over by the same cheerful agency from the ordinary bonehead he is into "a friend of the people, whose statesmanlike qualities commend him to the thoughtful consideration of the voters."

And finally when his old form is ready to return whence it came and perhaps Satan stands smil-

New Drug Checks Colds

A-chu! The above scene is a familiar one in most homes at this time of the year. Yes, Junior has been told to keep his feet dry, to stay out of drafts and away from crowds. But, somehow, he has wound up with the sniffles.

Now this problem is solved by the arrival on the market of a number of new anticold tablets including Resistab, which contains a new antihistamine drug called thonzylamine. Among the antihistamine drugs so far tested, thonzylamine has been proved to be perfectly safe for both adults and children, when taken as recommended.

These tests have shown that, of all the antihistamine drugs tested, thonzylamine produced virtually no manifestations of sleepiness, dizziness or other common symptoms. The product is most effective when one pill is taken at the first sign of a cold and an additional one before each meal.

In the overwhelming majority of cases, the cold stopped completely within a short time. A good hint to the wise parent is to keep a quantity of these cold resistant around until the winter cold season is over—and thus ascertain that Junior and the sniffles stay parted!

Choice Of Tree Is Important In Planting Pecans

The choice you make at planting time will determine the kind of pecans you harvest when the tree begins to bear. That is the reason, says J. E. Hutchinson, associate extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. College, why you should choose with care the variety or varieties you'll be planting.

Hutchinson recommends only papershell varieties and for eastern Texas they include the Moore, a heavy yielding medium-sized pecan; the Success, a large semi-oval nut of excellent quality; the Desirable, which is large and prolific; the Stuart, an old favorite that is disease resistant and a heavy producer of large pecans and the Mahan, a nice sized pecan with fair internal quality. For Central Texas, Hutchinson recommends the Success, Desirable, Mahan and Schley. The best varieties for the western part of the state, according to Hutchinson are Burkett, a large oval pecan that bears well and produces an excellent nut; the Western Schley, which produces a long type nut and a good yield and the San Saba Improved, which produces a medium-sized pecan of excellent quality.

These varieties have all been grown and tested in the areas for which they are recommended and Hutchinson says they can be purchased from your local nurseryman.

He recommends that you buy trees from three to five feet in height for they are generally considered the most practical for transplanting. Here is his advice on setting the tree. Prepare a hole about three feet in diam-

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Solution of the nation's dental problems lies in making dental health education and dental care available to every child, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

He said it is possible to prevent loss of teeth from decay if a person starts early in life to follow these three simple rules:

1. Early and frequent examination of the mouth by a dentist.
2. Early treatment of small cavities and other dental defects.
3. Proper diet with refined sugars held at a minimum.
4. Proper brushing of teeth after eating.

A child should be taken to the dentist shortly after the last of his first teeth appear at about the age of two, he declared. Frequent examinations and treatment of defects by dentists should follow, he added.

Experiments are under way in research laboratories to find the answer to dental decay and other dental diseases, he said, adding:

"It has been learned that the very active element, fluorine, can be used to curb dental decay to a large degree. Dentists are now applying a solution of sodium fluoride to the teeth of their child patients as a routine dental treatment.

"To improve the dental health of the children of this country, each community, through coordinated group activities, should assume its responsibilities in putting an adequate dental health program into operation to meet adequately the needs of our children."

County Has 24 Patients In State Hospitals

AUSTIN—Figures that bring home the significance of the special legislative session to each county were released today by the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools.

Commenting on them, Claud Gilmer of Rock Springs, chairman of the board, said, "The problem is not an abstract one." He added:

"It concerns every citizen: No one can say when tragedy can strike or what Texan will be the next to enter one of our institutions."

"I call your attention to the accompanying figures, and I suggest that you may want to familiarize yourself further with the situation by discussing it with your state senator or representative."

According to the board's current records, there are 24 patients from Knox County in the state hospitals and special schools, distributed as follows:

Mental hospitals 18, Epileptic hospitals 2, Mentally deficient hospitals 3, Deaf and blind school 1.

The cost of caring for these patients for the current year is $18,624.

Appropriations for the institutions will be the business of the
