PRICE SUPPORT SET AT 96 PERCENT OF PAR-ITY FOR 1951 COTTON CROP

100 3 3 4 CM 5 7 3 10 10 T

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan last week announced that the Commodity Credit Corporation will support the price of 1951 crop upland cotton at 90 percent of the parity price as of August 1, 1951.

The price support will be carried out through loans to farmers. With no margeting quotas or acreage allotments in effect for the 1951 cotton crop, price supports will obviously not be dependent upon producer compliance with quotas or allotments. The Agricultural Act of 1949 makes price support man-datory for 1951 crop cotton at from 75 to 90 percent of parity, when no allotments and quotas are in effect. The Secretary has Three-fourths pounds acid of 2,4,5 T in three gallons of water and one gallon of diesel oil gave the most consistent and promising results in all the tests studied. Included were sprouts, seedlings and small and large trees.

Mesquite on the ranches vis ited was sprayed by airplane during the spring of 1950. A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas A. & M. Extension Service and one of the group making the toun says that, although it is too soon to determine the final results of the spraying, the work definitely looks promising.

Walker reminds ranchmen that the present goal of this experimental work is to find a practical method of mesquite control, rather than mesquite eradication. A mesquite kill of 100 percent is not expected.

AMERICA'S

The immediate objective is to find a low cost method of control which stockmen can afford. For the method to be practical, the increased carrying capacity of the grazing land plus the ease of handling livestock must pay the cost of applying the control. Application costs for the ester of 2,4,5-T runs about $3.50 per acre for both material and flying.

Spraying with an airplane is the best method of applying the chemical mixture for controlling msequite when there is no danger of damaging field crops. However, Fisher and Young caution that airplane operators should be experienced in brush control spraying and airplanes should be properly equipped. Apparently the coarser the droplet size of thechemical, the better the results will be. To be most effective, the chemical should be applied at tree-top height.

Mesquite spraying gives the best results when the chemical is applied in the spring at full leaf stage, which will be six to eight weeks after the first leaves appear. If ground moisture conditions are not favorable, the control results will probably be disappointing, apparently because the chemical is not translocated properly so as to kill the roots. Fisher and Young suggest waiting another year if conditions are not favorable.

They warn against the danger of using 2,4,5-T in areas where susceptible crops are grown. This compound has been known to drift as far as eight miles in a high wind. Small droplets are carried easily in the wind, and applications made 20 to 30 feet above the tree-tops add to the drift danger. Although 2,4,5-T may do wonders when properly applied,Walker reminds stockmen that carelessness in applying may result in lawsuits and possibly outlawing of the chemical.

Grass will not kill mesquite, but giving grass a chance to seed out on sprayed areas will materially reduce the number of sprouts and seedlings. If an operator can not rest the pasture the growing season following spraying, Walker advises to at least stock it lightly. Proper range management following mesquite spraying may double the length of time that the treatment is effective. This may be the difference between profit

> These areas have been urgent y needed by the Commission as field laboratories or wildlife experiment stations, the Executive Secretary said. In the past all wildlife studies had be conducted on privately operated land. Changes in the agricultural practices and frequent changes in ownership often destroyed the work of game technicians before the problems under study could e completed.

A major objective of these areas will be to determine how maximum numbers of game animals can be worked into present day land use without reducing the economic returns from the and. Practical methods of game improvement which can be applied in similar ranges under private management will be developed. According to te Executive Secretary these areas will also provide refuges to insure the preservation of certain game pecies.
