

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Nights are cool, days are warm, the leaves are falling, cotton is coming in, peach trees are blooming—it looks like fall is really here.

Those peach blossoms brought in by Press Phillips on October 13 are not much indication of fall. Just what they do indicate, we don't know.

But those other things are—along with the fact that last Sunday found the town practically full of Latin-American laborers and cotton trucks.

Stores indicated that business started upward last Saturday, another indication that fall is here.

But it's later than usual. Last year at this time merchants were snowed under with business. But it won't be so long and so fierce this fall.

Worms of various descriptions have helped harvest lots of Knox County's cotton, but we still have rumors of some acreage that will make better than a bale to the acre.

And the child labor law as pertaining to agriculture continues to harass the people.

The result of this new portion of the law has caused various rumors to get going around.

Some few have taken the position that we can interpret the law for them. That is, since we devoted this column to the law a few weeks ago. But we can't.

One came in with this question: If a girl marries, then is divorced, and still hasn't reached the age of 16, can she go to the cotton patch, or must she attend school?

We had to say, "We don't know," and try to direct them to where their questions can be answered—say, the representative of the Texas Employment Commission.

Farm leaders have taken the matter up with Washington recently in an effort to relieve the situation in Texas.

But we noticed in a daily paper a few days ago that an assistant to the Secretary of Labor said his department couldn't do anything about it, except try to enforce the law.

And everyone emphasizes the fact that the farmer who hires people to pick his cotton is directly responsible for observance of the law—that is, he is the one to see that no children under 16 are picking cotton during school hours.

Children living in a school district where school is not in session may pick cotton in another district where school is going on provided they "compute back and forth" each day.

That is, they can pick in a district where school is in session, provided they come back home where school is not in session to spend the night.

In some extreme cases, permission is granted by the county judge for children to pick cotton. But that sure does "put the bee" on the county official.

It seems to us he's the one to decide whether the situation is extreme enough—and then Uncle Sam's men might decide different—and the official would be in dutch with Uncle Sam.

And being in dutch with Uncle Sam is one thing we don't want to be!

Another rumor that's been started is that some of Knox County's schools are going to dismiss for cotton picking. So far as we know at the moment, this is only a rumor.

Take, for instance, the rumor that the Sunset Rural Consolidated School has dismissed. That was going the rounds last week.

Milstead Adds Two New Men To His Blacksmith Shop

Luther Johnson, formerly of Abilene and well known blacksmith and welder, is now employed by the O. V. Milstead Blacksmith and Welding Shop of Munday. He worked here in the shop during the fall of 1948 and spring of 1949. Mr. Johnson invites his many friends to come in and renew their acquaintances.

W. H. (Bill) Williams, formerly of Pasadena and Houston, also went to work in the Milstead shop in late September. He is no stranger in this section, having lived in the Hefner and Goree communities for a number of years.

Bill is glad to be back in Knox County, and he invites his friends to come in and see him.

The letter, written on October 11, stated he was located eight miles north of Seoul. He said his tank got "knocked out" and could not be replaced, and he is now driving a truck.

Funeral services for Charley Hobert, well known local resident, were held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Church of Christ in Munday.

Mr. Hobert passed away Monday night, October 16, in a Wichita Falls hospital, where he had been under medical care for about two weeks. He had been in failing health for some time.

Born in Illinois on September 11, 1873, Mr. Hobert was 77 years, one month and five days of age at the time of his death. He had been a resident of Knox County for a number of years, and was engaged in farming here until his retirement several years ago.

Mr. Hobert had never married and his only immediate survivor is a brother, E. R. Hobert, also of Munday. He was an uncle of L. W. Hobert, also of Munday.

Funeral services were conducted by Minister J. B. Bartlett of the Church of Christ, who was assisted by Rev. Huron A. Polnac, Baptist pastor. Burial was in the Johnson Memorial Cemetery with the Memorial Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Funeral For T. S. Hollis Is Held Tuesday

Thomas Spottswood Hollis was born June 11, 1875, in Madison County. He received his early education in the schools of Madison County and at Allen Academy. He was graduated from Southwest Texas Teachers College at San Marcos in 1910, and taught in the schools of the state for 26 years.

He was engaged in business at North Zulch, Texas, for a number of years and for a short time in Goree.

He was converted and joined the Methodist church in 1910, and was affiliated with the Masonic Lodge of Texas.

Mr. Hollis was stricken with a heart attack on Thursday afternoon and passed away Sunday afternoon, October 15th, at 3:20. He and Mrs. Hollis, whose home is in North Zulch, had been at the bedside of Mrs. Hollis' mother, Mrs. Laura M. Madole of Goree, for several weeks.

He is survived by his wife; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hollis, Jr., and granddaughter, Sharon Lee Hollis, of County Line, Okla.; two brothers, C. L. Chickens Pay Her Expenses

DON'T BLAME THIS STUDENT—if she thinks chickens bring good luck. Miss Inez Franz, freshman Texas State College for Women student from Parker, keeps one on her study desk. She wears miniature chickens on necklaces and bracelets. Reason? Chickens are paying her way through college. A pen of five entered in the Houston Fair brought a record $55 per pound or a total of $935.

Peach Trees Get Seasons Mixed Up!

The seasons are all mixed up for a bunch of peach trees on the Press Phillips place.

Mr. Phillips brought in some limbs from his trees the latter part of last week to prove that they were in bloom—and almost full bloom—there in October. He said he had about 20 trees that were blooming now, and these produced a pretty fair crop of peaches this year.

When asked to explain why the trees were taking on such unseasonal activities, Mr. Phillips said: "I don't know." "We don't know, either, but we kept one of the 'blooming branches' here on the desk until the blossoms shattered."

Former Knox Boy High Point Man In Judging Contest

Word has just been received by Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Dunkle of Graham that their son, Glen of Texas A. & M. College, was high point man of the entire National Collegiate Livestock Judging Contest held at American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City, October 14th. Glen was one of the four members of the Texas A. & M. College team and he scored 960 points out of a possible one thousand.

The Texas A. & M. team was barely nosed out by two points for first place by the Oklahoma A. & M. team.

The classes of livestock used for the contest included beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, hogs, and horses of the many different breeds.

Glen will also be a member of the Texas A. & M. College team who will judge at the International Livestock Show at Chicago on November 25th.

Glen was first inspired to become a livestock judge when he took part in the 4-H Livestock Judging Contests that we held at Munday and Knox City each year.

Moguls To Play Stamford Friday

The Munday Moguls, facing their rivals of several years' standing, the Stamford Bulldogs have a tough battle lined up for them Friday night. They will "take to the road" and make the trip to Stamford for this conference game, followed by four straight games at home.

The Bulldogs, always a tough foe for the Moguls to conquer, are rated high above the Moguls this year. Stamford held the leading Haskell Indians to a very close margin two weeks ago and then had a rest last Friday night.

The Moguls are expected to show good form against the Bulldogs, after their 26 to 12 victory over the Valley View Warriors.

It's always a good game when the Moguls and Bulldogs meet, and many local fans are expected to accompany the Moguls to Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Waddill and sons, Bill and Hubert, of Lubbock, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hawkins last Sunday.

Strike Slows Work On Benjamin Jail

Benjamin is feeling the effects of a strike, according to reports of last week. The brick plant furnishing brick for the new and modern county jail has experienced a strike, and this has delayed completion of the building.

All the cell blocks, which are modern in every respect, have been installed. The building, located on the west side of the court house square, is costing in the neighborhood of $65,000.

Moguls Down Valley View On Friday Night

The charges of Coaches Green and Stewart hit their stride here last Friday night as the Moguls showed superiority over their visitors to down the Warriors from Valley View, 26 to 12.

It was a "field day" for Scottie Ponder, powerful Mogul back, who figured in all the tallies made by the local boys.

The Warriors hit pay dirt, in the opening stanza, when Hacker took a lateral from the 6-yard line. Then Scottie Ponder went into action, scoring his first touchdown from the 15-yard line.

The second period was scoreless, leaving the game all tied up 7-7 at the half. In the third period Ponder intercepted a Warrior pass and ran 55 yards in a nice broken-field sprint for the Moguls second touchdown, then kicking the extra point. A few minutes later, Scottie broke loose for another 25 yards which carried him over the goal stripe.

The visitors hit again in the fourth period when Hacker went over from the 4-yard line.

A little later, Ponder dropped back and flipped a pass for 65 yards to Don Guffey for the Moguls' final tally, adding the extra point after touchdown.

Survivors include the four sons, Gene Burk of Alice, J. B. Burk of Holliday, Charles Burk of Houston and Max Burk of Fort Worth; the daughter, Mrs. Margaret Bird of Conroe; two grandchildren, four brothers and two sisters.

Mrs. Howard had made her home with Mrs. Bird since her husband's death.

Local Student Makes Inspection Trip To Dallas

Forty-eight senior students of the Agricultural Engineering department of Texas A. & M. College went on an inspection trip to Dallas and Fort Worth this week.

On October 16 the students visited the farm equipment and industrial exhibits at the State Fair, F. R. Jones, head of the department stated. On October 17 they were guests of the regional office of the Soil Conservation Service at Fort Worth. They were shown some of the soil conservation projects being carried on in the vicinity of Dallas and Fort Worth.

Among the students making the trip was R. E. Foshee of Munday.

Lee Jenkins' Funeral Held At Rochester

Lee Jenkins, 65, prominent farmer and land owner of the Rochester area and well known in Munday, died last Monday morning at eight o'clock in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Rochester at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Surviving him are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Glendell Yarbrough and Mrs. Kenneth Russell, both of Rochester; his mother, Mrs. Jim Jenkins of Weinert; two sisters, Mrs. Ralph Kettreth of Haskell and Mrs. J. L. Hill of Abilene; five brothers, Claud Jenkins of Haskell, Homer of Weinert, Jimmie of Seymour, and Joe and Jack Jenkins, both of Rochester.

Plans Laid For Opening Of Boy Scout Drive

An organization meeting was held here last Friday morning to make preliminary plans for the annual Boy Scout budget drive, which will open on November 27 for the Wichita Falls Area Council. The meeting was in the form of an early-morning breakfast at 7 a. m. in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

Guest for the meeting was Bob Bouse, Scout executive for this area. Mr. Bouse outlined details of the drive and stated that at least 10 percent of the people of this area would be contacted and given an opportunity to "make an investment" in boys of America. Forty-five boys are now actively engaged in Boy Scout work in Munday, it was stated.

Fred Broach, Jr., will serve as campaign chairman, and the following were named to assist him in the campaign:

J. Weldon Smith, Winston Blacklock, E. B. Littlefield, Mark Wadzeck, Clay F. Grove, J. L. Stoddard, Russell Penick, Mrs. Paul Pruitt, Mrs. C. E. Fox, Dwight Key, R. B. Bowden, Boyd Meers, Joe B. OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Hefner road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

A PAIR OF SHOES

"If free men will devote half the energy to a freedom offensive everywhere that Communists give to their cause, Communism will lose," writes Wheeler McMillen, editor-in-chief of the Farm Journal. "The theme of aggressive freedom should be the story of how liberty enables men to produce more and live better. A pair of shoes today costs 6 1/2 hours of work in free America, 25 1/2 hours in Socialist Britain, and 145 hours in Communist Russia. They are cheaper here because true freedom, true competition, and free consumer choice make them that way. Let's stop talking about vague and abstract 'democracy', and explain freedom in terms of shoes and sugar!"

Those abundant shoes and sugar are a symbol of how well our free enterprise system serves the people. They are expensive and scarce in the Socialist and Communist countries because real competition, as we understand the word, is hardly existent. The government rations and fixes the price of almost everything in general use. In a free economy, every shoe factory tries to sell more of its shoes, by offering the consumer, greater inducements in price and quality, than the other stores down the street.

A retail store as a matter of fact, is a living example of what we call free enterprise. That is true whether it's small or large, whether it's part of a big chain system or family operation. Products from every corner of the land fill its shelves. The consumer is offered the widest possible selection—and he makes his choice, for himself, rather than taking what some politician decides he should have. And everyone lives and works under better conditions because of that fact.

MEDICINE ON THE HOOF

When a doctor looks at a meat animal, what does he think about?
 In company with the layman, he probably thinks that the animal will one day be converted into some mighty fine steaks, chops, roasts, and other cuts.

On top of that, it is likely that the doctor "looks on the animal as a highly important "assistant" in the practice of his profession.

The reason for this is that meat animals, and meat alone, are the source of more than 50 vital drugs and medicines. These include insulin, thyroid, liver extract and hormones. Other drugs of meat animal origin which are now in the experimental stage promise medical miracles. So far they are scarce, and research has not developed to the point where they are ready for general use. But the indications are that they will either cure or alleviate a number of serious afflictions, such as arthritis, which has long presented grave problems to the medical fraternity.

To provide these medicines, millions of tiny glands from meat animals must be carefully saved and accumulated. The packing industry has taken that job upon itself, and it's no small order. As an example, to make one single ounce of insulin, the pancreas glands of 1500 cattle or 7500 pigs are needed. But the job is always done.

So the meat animal is more than a handsome collection of good things for the dinner table. He may be your all-important helper when you are sick.

Did you know that an oil well was once drilled in one day in Texas? It was near Moran and, early one morning, an oil company representative started from Moran over to Cisco to hire a contractor to drill a well and the road went right by the lease and there was a contractor who had camped there for the night with a drilling outfit.

So they made a deal late that afternoon, the contractor hurried in to town and said, "You'd better come out and do something about all that oil." He had started and completed a well between sunrise and sunset. Oil was struck at less than 100 feet.

It became known as a grass-roots field and it was said that they drilled wells there with a carpenter's brace-an-bit—but that was a little exaggerated—and I don't want to exaggerate.

You may think that traffic regulations and traffic jams are something new. But back nearly 200 years ago in the days of Spanish rule in Texas, there were such difficulties, too. It was of course not trucks and automobiles that caused trafficlaws to be enacted then; it was the horseman. As early as 1750, Nacogdoches, one of the historic towns of the Southwest, had

FARM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

'50 COTTON ALLOTMENTS- QUOTAS REMAIN IN EFFECT

Secretary Brannan's recent announcement of "no allotments or quotas for the 1951 cotton crop" does not relax any provisions of the 1950 cotton program, B. F. Vance, chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration State Committee, reminds Texas farmers.

"All parts of the 1950 program of cotton acreage allotments and marketing quotas will be carried out as required by legislation and the regulations," Mr. Vance said, "and producers and buyers are not relieved of any obligation under this year's program."

Marketing quotas are not required for the 1951 cotton crop because the estimated 1950-51 supply is only 16,405,000 running bales—well below the calculated "normal" supply of 18,798,000 bales—the point at which the law directs proclamation of quotas.

According to Mr. Vance, acreage allotments under the present cotton marketing quota law would not be satisfactory or realistic because many acres must be allotted to farmers who would not plant them. Only 19 million acres were in cultivation last July 1, although a total of 21.6 million acres were allotted to farms in 1950. Cotton production indicated for 1950 is 9,637,000 bales.

"Right now, it looks as though we should increase next year's cotton production to at least 16 million bales," Mr. Vance said. "This would take care of increased domestic and export demand and avoid depleting our reserves. Acreage was down in 1950, and yields were the lowest since 1946, yet expected disappearance of cotton for this marketing year is at a high level."

"In cotton, as in wheat and other grains, the public interest requires that we have a little more than we need rather than risk a shortage. With this early word of no allotments or quotas for the 1951 crop, farmers will have plenty of time to complete next year's plans. The will also have a chance to save enough good, dry cotton planting seed to meet their production needs."

FOOD MARKETING COSTS EXCEED FARM VALUE

The civilian consumer's bill for marketing farm needs last year was higher than the farm value of those products, according to the Department of Agriculture. Marketing charges of 18.2 billion dollars covered costs of local assembly, transportation, storage, processing, wholesaling, and retailing. The farm value of the foods totaled 18 billion dollars.

Between 1913-1942, the marketing bill was larger than the farm value, but in 1949, the farm value declined, while the marketing bill advanced. Over the years, the marketing bill has not fluctuated nearly so much from year to year as have the retail cost and the farm value.

COTTON CONTINUES AS CHIEF SOURCE OF CROP INCOME

Cotton continued to be the nation's leading source of crop income for farmers during 1949, the Southern Regional Research Laboratory reports. Income from cotton amounted to $2,380,000,000 during the year, with an additional $257,000,000 obtained from the sale of cottonseed.

The income from cotton alone showed an approximate 11 per cent increase, over the preceding year.

Crops which followed cotton in amount of income were: wheat, $2,168,000,000; corn, $1,358,000,000; and tobacco, $904,000,000.

With the exception of wheat and corn, income from cotton was two and one-half times greater than any other single crop. Cotton accounted for 8.5 per cent of the total $12,737,000,000 income which was derived from crops during 1949.

Let's Talk Livestock

(By Ted Gouley)

FORT WORTH, October 16—Cattle, calf and hog prices rebounded sharply from the low points of the trade a week ago to tack on gains of $1 to $1.50 per hundred. The increased activity and reversal of the downward trend setting in the middle of last week continued unabated in the opening days trade at Fort Worth this week.

The reaction from the extreme lows was not unexpected since obviously there was nothing in the economics picture as a whole to justify such precipitous declines.

Underlying strength of the market is made up of several factors including the buying power of consumers, successful efforts of labor to gain wage increases and the determination of the National leaders to continue the preparedness program despite the good news from Korea.

Both slaughter and stocker classes shared the advances which totaled about 50 cents per hundred late last week and an additional 50 to $1 per hundred this week.

Typical of some of the sales which reflected the climb was a couple of loads of steers weighing 1,005 pounds from Guy Berry of Jacksboro that brought $27.50, the sale around $1.50 above bids on some very similar cattle last week. Last week, two loads of fed heifers from Kansas sold at $28.50 and Monday a load of 1,064 pound steers from K. Kline of Emporia, Kansas brought $26 and a load of 1,140 pound steers from Anderson Cattle Co., also of Emporia, sold for $28. These

"Mrs. America" Shines Car In 20-Minutes

Mrs. America—San Diego's Mrs. Francis Cloyd—shines her own car the new, easy way.

Science does it again. Any woman, anywhere in the world, can now make the family car bright as a mirror in about twenty minutes. It's quick and simple. The reason? Silicones! They were developed during the war. Most everything such as airplane ignition systems, and other motor equipment was protected from weather, rust and salt air corrosion by a coating containing silicones. They are anti-soil. They hate dirt, grease, etc., and won't allow any of it to become a part of them. They're tough—heat and cold don't affect them. After many years of research, silicones have been successfully made into an automobile polish called Autobrite which is tougher than any car wax. The polish is just spread on and wiped off and the car stays brilliant for six months, needing only cold water sponging. The 4% solution of silicones in Autobrite is the perfect solution, according to scientists in a single operation it cleans, polishes and protects.

cattle moving from within the shadow of the River Markets defines the high Texas prices for cattle clearly.

It points up obviously that Texas beehives have made their best market right now at their own Texas markets and emphasize again the tremendous backlog of consumer demand that the soaring population of the Southwest offers. More and more farmers and ranchers are becoming aware of the advantages of growing "eating type" animals, instead of strictly stocker and feeder kinds because of the increasing need for meat animals right here in the Southwest to take care of people moving here on the heels of the industrial developments.

Merle Waggoner, Wichita Falls, rancher, marketed some canner and cutter cows at $17.50, a price fully $1.50 above a week earlier. L. J. Wardlaw, Fort Worth, had some 659-pound yearlings on the market that sold for $26.65 from the McLennan County ranch.

Where as the stock calf top was $30 and springly last week a load of good steer calves sold at $30.50 Monday with heifers at $29.50, fully $1 over a week ago. Some stocker cows at $23.75 with calves at side at $30 were considered fully 75 cents higher.

Trade in sheep and lambs continues at low ebb due to light movement and reports from the country indicate that little trading is taking place at the moment.

Hogs were strong to 50 cents higher Monday at Fort Worth and this addition to the $1.25 gained before last week's close was good news to hog growers.

Dairymen had cause to smile to, as cream prices were reported two or three cents higher this week.

Program for the Texas Livestock Roundup at Fort Worth Nov. 2 and 3 looks mighty interesting and the program is free to all interested livestock folks. Site has been changed to Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium, same site as the Fort Worth Stock Show. Reason is that ample parking facilities are available there.

Pink Bollworm Found In More Texas Counties

The spread of the pink bollworm during the current crop season is definitely the most serious threat to the future of cotton production experienced since the South-wide spread of the boll weevil which reached South Carolina about 1920.

The pink bollworm is capable of causing severe damage, as most recently proven by the tremendous build-up and localized damage during 1950 in Neuces County, resulting from failure to observe stalk destruction and plowing under of shredded or chopped-up residue in 1949 by a date established on an insect control basis. This delay in stopping pink bollworm breeding in the fall of 1949 is directly to blame for the infestation in central and north-central Texas this season.

Prompt destruction of stalks following picking of the cotton is essential throughout pink bollworm infested areas where the crop is picked out in advance of killing frosts. Each farmer has an individual responsibility to get his crop picked quickly and then immediately destroy the stalks and plow under the residue. If this is done well ahead of frost it ought to prevent a full generation of pink bollworms from feeding to maturity and going into hibernation. Federal pink bollworm officials and Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald have conferred and now urge that stalks be destroyed not later than October 15 in Fayette, Austin, Lavaca, Colorado, Fort Bend, and Brazoria Counties, and by October 31 in all newly infested counties north of those listed above. It was agreed the destruction by these deadline dates

Antelope Hunt Just Completed

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission reported that the antelope hunt, concluded on October 10 in the Trans-Pecos section of Texas, was considered successful by most of the 403 hunters who participated. The Game Commission issued 422 permits which included 85 landowner permits or twenty percent of the total number issued.

Rain on the second day of the hunt made transportation on some ranches difficult but it did not dampen the hunters' enthusiasm or limit their success.

A total of 375 antelope were killed during the nine days' open season. Ninety-three percent of the hunters bagged their antelope.

No antelope were hunted in 1949 because of losses in the herds during the preceding winter. In 1948 almost all applicants of antelope hunting permits received them and 629 antelope were killed by 702 hunters.

Less surplus buck antelope the past season was responsible would not be mandatory in the newly infested counties for this season because the growers did not know they would expect to destroy their stalks by a given deadline date when they planted their cotton. The ginners, oil mill operators, county agents and other agricultural leaders are urged to band together with progressive cotton growers to secure destruction of stalks early enough in each county to prevent the hibernating generation of pink bollworms from being produced. It is YOUR FUTURE—it is your PROBLEM, but we are anxious to help you help yourself in maintaining continued production of cotton at a PROFIT. The price may not always justify heavy expenditures for insecticides so let us all work to prevent the pink bollworm from getting established in central and north-central Texas.

The full list of newly infested counties in Texas at close of October 4 follows:

Val Verde, Kinney, Kerr, Gillespie, Llano, Comal, Blanco, Liberty, Chambers, Brazoria, Fort Bend, Colorado, Lavaca, Fayette, Austin, Bastrop, Lee, Travis, Williamson, Millam, Bell, Falls, Limestone, McLennan, Bosque, Hill, and Johnson.

Feeding Herd Now Will Bring Spring Pay-off

AMPLE PROTEIN MEANS MORE CALVES, WITH EXTRA WEIGHT

"Next spring's calf crop percentage will depend a lot on what's done this fall and winter with the brood herd," a timely editorial recently in "The Livestock Weekly" pointed out.

"There are too many beef herds that are hitting well below 50 percent on calf crops," the editorial added. "In most cases, a protein supplement will go a long way in balancing the ration of the wintering cow, and upping the calf crop."

Experimental evidence backs up this editorial advice. Many experiments show that each dollar spent for needed protein supplements returns two dollars in more and happier calves.

California Experiment Station, in an 8-year experiment, found that feeding a winter supplement, mostly cottonseed meal or cake, produced from 11 to 45 percent more calves, and calves fed the supplement weighed 21 to 95 pounds more.

The Nebraska Station doubled the calf crop percentage and increased weaning weights by 39 to 77 pounds per calf when cottonseed cake was fed as the winter supplement to prairie hay.

There is a good reason why such protein supplements as cottonseed meal, cake or pellets increase the number of calves and their weaning weights. Protein is essential for regular breeding, development of strong calves, and milk production. Excellent green pasture contains a lot of protein, but protein drops rapidly as grass matures. Mature grasses usually contain only about one-third as much protein as they had when green. Then, supplemental protein is needed to maintain good performance in the herd and aid utilization of the available dry forage.

Best results are obtained when supplemental feeding starts early in the season. When cows lose weight they are drawing on their reserves and weight losses are costly to replace with later feeding. Cows that enter the most severe part of the winter in good flesh because of early feeding are easier to maintain.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Munday, Texas J. B. Barnett, Evangelist
"WHICH CHURCH TO JOIN"

According to the last statistics, in this country of ours, there are 256 organizations, claiming to be churches, beckoning and begging for membership. Man has found himself in the midst of confusion as to which one to affiliate. For instance, a man goes to this organization over here, and finds plenty of good people in it. Nobody questions that many splendid things are taught; but some things he cannot endorse; and he passes to the next. There he finds equally good people, some splendid moral teachings, but some objectionable features. Thus he makes the rounds; and when he gets through, I think it would take a wiser man than Solomon to analyze and pick out just the one that really ought to enlist his deepest concern. "It makes no difference which church you join," says many. If this be true, does it make any difference HOW MANY churches you "join"? Men "join" many lodges—Masons, Odd Fellows, etc.—to get the benefit of all of them. If it makes no difference which church you "join" what valid reason can you give for not "joining" several so as to get the benefit of all? "It wouldn't be right," says someone. Why do you say this when it makes no difference which one you "join"? Is it right for Mr. "A" to join a certain church? You guess so! Then why would it not be right for Mr. "A" to join both of them? It would, and no logical reason can be urged against it, provided we have the right to "join" different churches. It would consist of the Methodists joining the Baptists, the Baptists joining the Methodists, the Presbyterians joining both, and the Holiness joining all three, with each "joining" the other all way around. Then they would all speak the "same thing" by speaking "everything" even if he did have to contradict himself at every point. "But that would be absurd and ridiculous," says one. Certainly so! Then you agree that it makes a difference which church you "join". However, let us hasten to urge you not to "JOIN" any of them. Let us likewise URGE you to OBEY THE GOSPEL (Rom. 6:17,18; I Peter 4:17, 18; II Thessa. 1:7-10. Please read), and the Lord will ADD you to HIS church. (See Matt. 16:18; Acts 2:41,47). One never reads in the New Testament of any person ever "JOINING" the church. Let us "speak as the oracles of God." (I Peter 4:11), and be just what the new Testament demands of us to be—Christians and Christians only. This is our PLEA!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Removing Cotton Restrictions Has Come Too Late To Be Of Help To Him

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek seems to be disagreeing with the Secretary of Agriculture in his letter this week, but we don't look for any shake-up in the Agriculture Department as a result of it.

Dear editor:

I picked up a copy of a newspaper out here yesterday which one of my cows had been chewing on, you can say what you please but the best newspaper on earth is a poor substitute for salt for a cow and I aim to get my cows some the next time I'm in town and can think of it, and I took the balance of the paper home and got on the sunny side of the barn and read where cotton restrictions will be removed next year and the cotton farmer turned loose.

Now I don't like to disagree with the Secretary of Agriculture, I like to get along with everybody, especially the man with the checks, but the Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's announcement that cotton controls will be removed next year and farmers can plant all their land in cotton if they want to and haven't got better sense comes too late out here.

My new farm program is already underway, that is I have it mapped out in my mind, and I haven't got time to change it.

That is, reduce your cotton acreage was one of the most far-seeing ideas ever to come out of Washington, it suited me so exactly I adapted all my crops to the same program, reduced em all, and news that the program has been ended is too late out here to do the nation any good.

A thinkin man don't wait until the last minute to figure out his course of action, in a manner of speakin my whole life's work has been pointin in the displeas to have my leadership to my way of seein it, I was Agriculture finally got around and when the Department of Agriculture finally got around to my way of seein it, I was pleased to have my leadership recognized and reduced my cotton acreage last year as though was fallin in with a new idea, when as a matter of fact I been limitin my production for so long some of my neighbors have confused my scientific program with what they ignorantly call

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Old style, palate tickling, succulent smoked hams like you used to prepare for Sunday dinners are giving away to the tenderized and ready-to-eat varieties.

Increased danger of spoilage comes with the change, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox says.

Used to you could salt down a ham, then home-smoke it slow and easy. When done, you could laziness.

But unrestricted plantin next year leaves me cold. My 1951 farm program is already set. I aim to hold the line, keep my acreage restricted, and I'm lettin now that if you'll wait and see you'll find that the Secretary of Agriculture, even if it ain't the same one, they come and go like wives in California, comes around to my way of seein things and we'll have acreage again. Meanwhile, I'll keep on blazin the trail out here. You might stampe me into restin, but you can't stampe me out of it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

hang it on the back porch easily accessible for a quick slice.

Those days are fast waning for city bound folks. Ask your butcher for a smoked ham nowadays, and you get two choices: "tenderized", or "ready-to-eat." They look the same, and have some of the old sweetness. But there the similarity ends, Dr. Cox says.

Since less preservative salt is used in the smoking process, today's ham products have to be placed under immediate refrigeration, the same as any other meat.

Tenderized hams are smoked at a temperature of approximately 129 degrees. Dr. Cox says that means they have to be cooked before eating in order to kill any trichina larvae that may be present.

Trichina larvae, which causes trichinosis, are killed at a temperature of 137 degrees F., the health officer cautioned.

He warned that "ready-to-eat" ham products are smoked at approximately 160 degrees, and cured with less salt than regular smoked hams. They'll spoil easily unless kept under refrigeration until eaten.

Here are the health officer's recommendations regarding these meat products:

1. They cannot be stored in temperatures above 50 degrees. Neither can prepared dishes or sandwiches made from the products.

2. Strict sanitation should be observed in handling them.

3. They should be handled in refrigerated equipment from packing plant to consumer.
4. Cook-before-eating meat products. Always ask the retailer about the meat to make sure of the cooking procedure.

"Feed the Land and Fatten the Crops" should be the slogan of every Texas farmer. The practice of planting inoculated and fertilized legumes is the best method for doing the job. Now is the time to plant winter legumes.

Legume Crops Add Nitrogen To The Soil

It is possible to put nitrogen into the soil for five cents per pound if it is done by turning under legume cover crops. M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A. & M. College, says this information is contained in a report he has received from one of the experiment stations in Virginia.

He says the report shows that corn yields rose to 104 bushels per acre on plots where crimson clover had been turned under for the purpose of adding nitrogen to the soil. The per acre yields on the plots where no legume was turned under, and on which no commercial nitrogen was applied, were only 50 bushels per acre.

The application of 100 pounds of nitrogen, in commercial fertilizer, raised the per acre yield to 102 bushels but the nitrogen application by this method cost 17 cents per pound. He adds that tests conducted by the Texas Experiment Station have given similar results.

The test plots in Virginia were not grazed. Thornton says if livestock is taken off the legume in time to let it grow before plowing it under, that there will be no appreciable decrease in the amount of nitrogen added to the soil. The reduction, if any, will be more than offset by the feed produced and utilized as a grazing crop by livestock.

In addition to adding nitrogen to the soil that can be used by the crop that follows the legume, Thornton says the addition of the organic matter to the soil is also very important. Organic matter increases the water holding capacity of the soil and is a big aid in checking erosion. It also aids in improving the tilth of the soil.

Now, adds Thornton, is the time to get the winter legumes planted. An application of superphosphate will materially improve the growth rate of the legume and he says don't forget to inoculate the planting seed. It is the best bacteria that form the nodules on the roots of legumes that have the ability to take the nitrogen from the air and store it in the plants. He says every farm is a potential nitrogen factory and the Virginia experiments clearly show the advantages of growing crops that will return nitrogen to the soil. Five cents per pound against 17 cents per pound when it is supplied in commercial fertilizer.
