

Kracker KrumbS Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

This week, on our feeble way, we'd like to pay tribute to a very wonderful lady.

She lived a life of service, a life of love, a life of devotion.

Many years of her life were spent with her devoted husband in the service of others. The name of Munday is almost synonymous with that of this pioneer woman and her husband.

She and her husband came to Munday back in the early days, and their pioneer spirits, their lives of usefulness and service have meant much to the progress and development of the community.

She loved people, and their race, color or creed meant but little to this woman if she could do them a Christian service and make them happier.

Mrs. J. M. Terry and her husband were long associated with the hotel and cafe business in Munday. For nearly a half century, they operated a cafe—and most of this time was spent in Munday.

Hungry people who came to them were fed, regardless of whether they had money to pay for their meal.

Mrs. Terry was more than a companion for her husband. She was his helpmate and partner in their business.

Days of toil, hours of being of service, times of working until all tired out, held no fears for this beloved woman. She loved to work.

When the times were good, or times were bad, Mrs. Terry was always the cheerful and etc person that brought

And many were the times that were rough—times when she and her husband knew not which way to turn to keep their business going.

But theirs were the spirits of pioneers—they did not know how to give up.

As we said, she loved work, she loved people, she loved to be busy, to be of service. Thus when the financial difficulties of depression days were overcome, Mrs. Terry continued her work and service to others.

She loved her home—although her home during most of her life was the hotel, the home for others, too. But this was home, and there she found happiness and contentment.

When this couple gave up their business and moved into a home of their own, this remained a place for friends to call and feel at home.

She loved her home so dearly that she did not want to leave it for the hospital, even when it became apparent that she had taken ill for the last time.

She wanted to spend her last days at home—the home she loved, the home to which she had devoted her life.

People loved her, too. She became the unofficial adopted mother for Munday, and the loss which her family experienced in her passing was felt by the entire community.

A large number of sorrowing colored people, those who had worked for her and those whom she had befriended at times through the years, came to the First Baptist Church last Friday to pay their last and loving respects to a dear woman who had passed on.

Lovely flowers banked the casket and altar tributes for the vices—silent tributes of the eand esteem which the people e and esteem which the people loved woman.

Her life's work had ended, her days of toil were over, hours of suffering were over, too, as pastors and friends paid tribute to this wonderful Christian life (Continued on last Page)

DOING BETTER IN USED COW BUSINESS

Well, it looks like Jim McDonald is doing better with his USED-Cow business in the big city! When he first went up there, he couldn't pay his advertising bill for months at a time, but now he's paying them before the time limit.

His business of picking up dead animals is a mighty sorry one, in our opinion, but they manage to make a living out of it by the type of service they give. It's good to have them back serving the farmers of the Munday area again.

7,500 Doctors To Register On January 15

AUSTIN—Selective Service headquarters expects about 7,500 doctors, dentists and veterinarians to register under the provisions of the medical draft law on January 15.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, estimated that about 10 times the number registered in October will register in January.

The state Selective Service director said that his estimate was based on information received from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director, and Mr. Todd Bates, executive secretary of the state advisory committee, created under the medical draft law.

All physicians, dentists, and veterinarians who have not reached their fiftieth birthday on January 15, except members of the regular or reserve components of the armed services, are required to register on January 15.

Also exempted from this January registration, General Wakefield pointed out, are those physicians, dentists and veterinarians who registered under the medical draft law on October 16.

Less than 750 physicians, dentists and veterinarians registered in compliance with the law on October 16. This figure exceeded state Selective Service expectations, General Wakefield said. Only those educated at government expense or who were deferred to complete medical training were required to register in October.

There are approximately 10,000 doctors, dentists and veterinarians in Texas. When the January registration is complete, about 8,500 of them are expected to be on local board records, General Wakefield said.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bernard over the holiday were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bilbrey, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Justice, Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Coffman, Peggy and Glenda, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Both calls are for nineteen boys each; thirty-eight in all.

Rev. Polnac To Head Drive For March Of Dimes

Rev. Huron A. Polnac, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Munday, has been named Campaign Director of the 1951 March of Dimes in Knox County. It was announced this week by the county chapter of the National Foundation.

The dimes and dollars given by Knox Countians in the past, helped more local victims of polio during 1950 than all the other years put together, officials of the county chapter said. Fortunately, Knox Countians had fulfilled their pledge that no polio sufferer need go without treatment and care for lack of funds . . . regardless of age, creed, or color . . . and the best care was given to every victim.

The cooperation of every individual in each community will be needed to make the 1951 campaign a success. One-half of every dollar given to the March of Dimes remains in the county funds. The other half is sent to the National Foundation for research, equipment, etc. Last year the National Foundation furnished money to Texas, fater three years in succession of polio epidemics in the state.

The Knox County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is composed of the following members: Chairman, L. W. Graham; vice-chairman, Claude Richardson; secretary, W. E. Clonts; treasurer, Guy Glenn; and board member-at-large, Claud E. Reed.

The well was completed natural to flow 110.4 barrels of 40 gravity oil daily through 11/64 inch choks, plus two-tenths of 1 per cent sediment and water. Gasoil ratio was 280-1 and flowing pressure on tubing was 125 pounds with shutin pressure on casing. Pay is from 4,204 to 4,241 feet.

Give To The Eva Strange Fund

A woman residing between Munday and Goree entered the Knox County Hospital on Wednesday for medical treatment. Her condition is very critical, and the family has no funds with which to carry on.

She is Mrs. Eva Strange, whose family has exhausted their funds in an effort to restore her to health. The family is now in dire need of help.

The Munday Times has joined in a local movement to help this family and is asking its readers to make whatever contributions they desire. Send or bring contributions to the Times office and make checks payable to The Munday Times, "for Eva Strange Fund," so proper credit can be given.

Rev. I. C. Hull, pastor of the Church of God, is assisting in the movement and will be glad to accept contributions; however, it is his desire that as many as possible make their contributions through the Times Office. Contributions already made are:

HOLIDAY VISITORS IN RAYMOND SUGGS HOME

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Suggs during the holidays were: Seaman Jack Suggs, San Francisco, Cal.; and Mrs. Jack Suggs and daughters, Goree; Mr. and Mrs. George Tackett and family of Carlsbad, New Mex.; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Suggs and daughters and Max T. Wells, Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. White, Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Roberts, Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Orville McCann, Stamford; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reagan and family, Spur; Buddy Suggs, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeter and son, Ellis, Noble, Okla.; Mrs. Addie Hopper, Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Good and family, Anson; Patsy Sue Lain and Patsy Parks, Munday.

On Wednesday evening, December 27, 1950, the Death Angel visited a Munday home and called to her reward one of the town's most beloved pioneer citizens. She was Mrs. J. M. Terry, whose life has been associated with the growth and development of Munday for a half century.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Munday at two o'clock last Friday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. R. L. Butler, pastor of the Munday Methodist Church, who was assisted by Rev. J. R. Bateman.

A more fitting tribute could not be paid this beloved woman than that spoken by Rev. Butler at the funeral services in the following:

"Mary Jeanette Barton was born in Columbia County, Ark., on April 19, 1875. She came to Texas with her parents in 1891 and arrived in DeLeon on Christmas Day of that year.

"It was in DeLeon that she was married to John Mitchell Terry on November 26, 1893. Their marriage ceremony was read by a Rev. Mr. Willburn.

"On November 11, 1901, Mr. and Mrs. Terry moved to Munday, Texas, where they built and operated the Terry Hotel and Cafe until June 1, 1945.

"It was on August 7, 1912, during a revival meeting which was conducted by the renowned Abe Mulkey that Mr. and Mrs. Terry united with the Methodist Church on profession of faith in Christ. Their membership has remained in this church to this day.

"For 48 years, these two faithful servants of God and man tary of the state advisory board operated cafes, first in DeLeon, and finally in Munday. There is no telling how many hungry people they fed during those years—people who did not have the price of a meal.

"Brother and Sister Terry lived in the sacred and holy companionship of holy wedlock for more than 57 years, having celebrated their 57th anniversary on last November 26.

"These services and every arrangements are in keeping with Sister Terry's own wishes. She had prayed that she might go first. It seems that she dreaded the loneliness and dismal prospect of trying to live without her mate who had been by her side so long. Her deafness and approaching blindness would have made it very, very difficult for her without his companionship and help.

"It has been said of some people that they are the life of the party. I think that could well be said of this dear spirit by every patron of the hotel and cafe. People loved her for many reasons, but her ready wit, her interest in the welfare of others, and her ability to smile in the face of threatening disaster made her life a blessing to many people.

"Sister Terry is survived by her husband, John Mitchell Terry of Munday; her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Payne of Munday; three brothers, Bill Barton of Portales, N. M.; Ben Carson, Crystal City, and Sell Barton, Gladewater. There are two nieces present who were partially reared by Mr. and Mrs. Terry: Miss Aline McCarty, Portales, N. M., and Mrs. Lila Vaiani, LaMarque, Texas. She is also survived by a number of nieces and nephews.

The body was laid to rest in Johnson Memorial Cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Palbearers were M. L. Wiggins, P. V. Williams, Cecil Fitzgerald, A. J. Beaty, Carl Gage, and B. L. Blacklock.

ROBBING THE PEOPLE

James E. Shelton, president of the American Bankers Association has warned that government deficits which lead to an immense public debt, devaluation of the dollar and inflation, only result in robbing the people of the capital accumulated by their work. He said, in addition, that it is the task of every American to "see that the young people of this country are not knowingly and unwittingly drawn into the whirlpool of socialism."

These are strong words, but they come at a time when strong words are needed. They apply directly to everyone who has a savings account, a life insurance policy, some government bonds, or any other form of fixed dollar savings. It is not just the "rich" who are the victims of financially irresponsible government—indeed the rich are better able to stand it than the rest of us. It is the average man, with a salary which buys less in the market place, who takes the real beating,—along with those whose savings become less and less valuable in terms of purchasing power and security.

It has been the frankly expressed Russian belief that this country would collapse economically from within. Then the communists, the theory goes, could pick up the pieces and organize the world. We are playing the enemy's game when we go blithely on piling up billions of appropriations for domestic government or pet political projects which are not necessary, and which make the fires of inflation burn hotter and hotter, on top of the tens of billions now needed for our defense program. How long will it take our people to see that our gigantic bureaucratic Federal machine will spend us into socialism and oblivion unless it is curbed in its orgy of waste which today knows no bounds.

PRICES AND INCOMES

It is only human for consumers to look back on "the good old days" when the cost of living was far lower than it is now, and when, for example, first-class steaks sold for twenty-five cents a pound or some such attractive figure. But when we mentally compare one era with another, it is also human nature for us to forget certain highly important facts which make all the difference.

An interesting illustration of this is found in a tabulation, made up of official figures issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which shows how much the average person spent for meat in every year from 1913 through 1949, and what proportion of his disposable income the cost of meat represented. In 1913, the per capita meat bill came to $23.10, while in 1949 it was $70.70. That's obviously a whole of a difference—but there was also a whole of a difference in per capita income between those two far-spaced years. Actually, in 1913, meat took more of the disposable income than it did last year—6.6 percent as against 5.5 percent.

Moreover, the percentage of disposable income accounted for by meat changed very little over that 1913-1949 period. In most of the years, it ran between five and six percent. And that's where it still is.

What this all adds up to is that the price of anything is meaningless unless the purchasing power of the consumer—in other words, his income—is brought into the comparison. That's true of meat and all other commodities. When everyone—including the farmer, the worker, and the consumer—is making more money, and the cost of carrying on business rises accordingly, prices are naturally higher. But we'll usually find that our incomes will buy as much or more than in former years.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

ASHLAND, KANSAS, CLIPPER: "Most Americans are not favorable to government ownership of public utilities, for the very good reason that they know, with few exceptions, they will get more and better service for less cost from privately owned and operated concerns than they would get under cumbersome government management with its ever increasing red tape and graft."

PORT GIBSON, MISS., REVEILLE: "We . . . don't mind putting our money in national security—but deliver us from some of the bureaucrats."

WINTER PARK, FLORIDA, HERALD: "The ammunition we need for this war is a demand on Congress for adoption of the recommendations for cutting waste in Federal expenditures."

SCOTTSBURG, IND., CHRONICLE: "The most obvious proof of the excess profits tax's awkwardness is the fact that 45 percent of the taxes raised by the excess profits tax during World War II are still subject to litigation in the courts! Never before in history has a tax system caused so much legal trouble nor has there ever been a tax more difficult and costly to collect."

"We must stop business as usual, strikes as usual, and politics as usual. The government must let us know soon what is still ahead on taxation. Non-defense spending must be cut to the bone. Without increasing the national debt unduly, this means forgetting 'politics as usual' and really doing a job on the non-essentials. As yet, we have heard no official statement from Washington even promising cuts in non-defense spending."—Brehon Somervell.

"We are told what fine things would happen if every one of us would go and do something for the welfare of somebody else; but why not contemplate also the immense gain which would ensue if everybody would do something for himself?"—William Graham Sumner in 1889.

First Aid for Bark Wounds
 GOOD trees are an asset to any residential or farm property. They should, of course, be protected from abuse. Occasionally, however, they may be injured by accident. Then it is important for the owner to give first aid. Small wounds can be dressed by smoothing off the injured bark area as they are discovered. Tree wounds heal at the sides and not at the top or bottom, so the bark should be traced to a pointed oval outline. The edges then will be all side edges and will heal rapidly. Orange shellac may next be applied to protect the bark edges against drying. Paint should not be used, because most paint materials are injurious to the living bark. The shellac will prevent drying, but not decay. A tree wound dressing should be used for that purpose. In case of large wounds it is advisable to call in a tree expert.

BOYCE HOUSE
Gives You Texas

You can't put a fence around the West says this editorial in the Amarillo Daily News:

Writers never weary about describing the geography of the West. It has been a new and ever expanding region since our glorious United States were cradled. The West was once out on the Ohio, over the Alleghenies, then into Iowa and Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska, then Texas, Indian Territory, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and California. Finally, writers and lovers of the great open spaces where lie the borderlands of adventure, opportunity, romance, life and sometimes tragic death, quit trying to put in bounds. You couldn't fence it in or stake a line and say: "Beyond this is the West."

Realizing it could not be roped in, the writers, poets, and ordinary mortals with songs in their hearts and poetry in their lives, began trying to define it by describing it. They failed. They found that to define the West was to limit it, and you cannot limit the boundless spaces. Who ever heard of measuring that vast dome of eternity, the starlit heavens? What engineer could stake the purple horizon that rises and falls by miles as your horse gallops into the wind and sun? How can you measure spirit, love, open minds, big hearts, strong handclaps, lusty welcomes, hospitality, new and broad traditions, individualism, in general pattern of liberty, friendship and kinship with God, the stars and distances?

The West isn't in the narrow limits of millions of landscapes. It isn't plains or mountains, cows or horses, weather men or big hats, nor villages and cities, and neither is it neighborliness, loneliness, or common defense. It is not a religion or a philosophy, although the atmosphere of it guides the individual on trails that lead to these. The West isn't, and the West is a lot of things, people and country. The West in as undefinable as love, as indescribable as spirit. Its atmosphere is both physical and spiritual, peculiarly its own, is bestowed bountifully on those who come to it.

If we cannot describe the West; if it cannot be fenced in like a big pasture, and if it is like the lover whom "you may lose but cannot forget" then let's open our arms, let our minds

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 29.—Tex- as livestock producers can look at the year 1950 and see that it was a Golden Year in so far as prices were concerned on all species.

A look at comparative prices at Fort Worth reveals all classes of livestock selling substantially above levels paid on the market at the start of 1950.

Beef steers selling in the $30 to $33 field compared with values of around $27 at the start of the year. Choice fed yearlings and heifers topping at $33.50 compared with a peak of $30 per hundred early in January a year ago.

Adding a bolsetting factor to the fed cattle market was the willingness of packers to book well-finished cattle for future delivery dates as late as June 1, 1951.

Fat cows topping at $23.50 this week achieved a top of $24 last July and this compares with a starting point of around $18 last January. Cutter cows started the year around the $15 mark and closed selling up to $20.50.

Bulls topped at $19 at the beginning of the year and closed with a top of $26 and a few higher. Fat calves at $25 at the first of the year climbed to $32. Stocker calves enjoyed a practical top at Fort Worth of $31 to $35 virtually from August thru December this year and at one time, light calves reached the $40 to $50 top, and at the start of the year the best brought $26. Stocker yearlings at $31 this month, topped at $24 last January and stocker cows climbed from a $20 top to $26.

Butcher hogs topping at around $20 to $20.50 at Fort Worth the last week of 1950 sold around $16.50 last January and had an all year top of $24.75 in August. Sows at $14 last January, drew $18 this week and had a year's high of $21.50 set in August.

Fat lambs last January topped at $24 at Fort Worth and this week drew $31 in the wool. Clipped fat lambs at $29, compared with $22.50 at the start of the year. Yearling wethers at $26 were topping at $20 last January. Old ewes at $1.50, stopped at $12.50 a year earlier. Feeder lambs around $29 down, and some topping at $29.50 in December, compared with $22.50 a year ago.

The market this week was a runaway affair due to very light offerings in the holiday period. Cattle were 50 cents to $1 higher and calves were $1 to $2 higher, some of the medium grades up more than $2.

Noteworthy was the keen demand for shortfed cattle, the feeder buyers giving packers sharp competition for fat and fleshy steers and yearlings. F. Fischer, Gainesville, sold 66 yearlings at 800 pounds at $30.50; L. M. Staley, Ringgold, sold 21 yearlings at 927 pounds at $30.50. Chas. Dodd, Nocona, sold 21 steers of 1,057 pounds at $31. Hunter Wilson, Dickens County, sold 40 steers of 1,090 pounds at $32. Judge Edwin Lacy, Longview, sold 89 steers at 792 pounds at $29.50; R. B. Etter, Collingsworth County, sold 19 cows at 1,101 pounds for $23.50. C. A. Turner, Throckmorton, had some 875 pound steers at $31. George Norman, Andrews County, sold 25 yearlings at 475 pounds at $30.50 and 34 cutter cows at 887 pounds at $20.75.

Wyatt C. Hedrick, widely known architect and ranch owner, proved he could build big cattle as well as big buildings. He sold two Brahma steers, one weighing 1,795 pounds and one weighing 2,050 pounds for $27. The big steer brought $533.50 and the two cattle totaled $1,038.15. Some price for just two cattle. They were fed out by his foreman, George Tate, at the Parker County ranch.

We see where a Dallas bricklayer was nabbed after shooting and trying to butcher a beef near Kaufman. He said he was just getting some meat for his family. He's now under $2,000 bond, we hear. Seems that his luck ran out when two deputy sheriffs happened to drive by and catch him in the act. Congratulations to those alert officers and we'd like to hear more stories of this kind.

Winter Shelter Neded For Hogs

Swine influenza and human influenza are closely related. In fact, the virus of human influenza have been known to produce flu in swine. Therefore, the are busy doctoring them. Seems that cattle in scratching them has been attracting blow flies and lots of screw-worm infections have resulted.

Hogs reached the highest price since late October at Fort Worth this week. Top was $20.50, sows moved higher and pigs are moving better.

Feeder lambs topping at $29.50 at Fort Worth this week set an all-time record for the class here.

same basic principles apply for the control of flu in swine as in human beings.

If good shelters are not provided, hogs are in great danger of contracting flu when cold, damp nights follow warm days, says Dr. W. C. Banks, veterinarian for the Texas A. & M. Extension Service. He says that hogs, like human beings, need a warm, dry place in which to sleep.

At this time of the year, he recommends that all hogs be inspected daily for symptoms of flu. Once swine influenza appears, it spreads rapidly through the entire herd.

Infected pigs become listless and go off feed. Their breathing is labored and jerky and they usually have a high temperature. They appear to be very sick. The animals usually recover rapidly after five or six days of sickness.

Although swine flu is seldom fatal, it causes a big loss in flesh and slows down the rate of gain, says Dr. Banks. He advises putting infected hogs on a laxative diet—one that contains some bran or oil meal. Some of the new drugs are effective in helping to control flu in swine. However, Dr. Banks warns that they should not be expected to take the place of a warm, dry hog house.

Mr. and Mrs. Ky Hunter of Iowa Park visited friends and relatives here over the week end.

GOODYEAR SUPER-SURE-GRIP. TRACTOR TIRE

First choice for 2 reasons!

1. Deeper soil penetration — greater pull. Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip — don't "plow out" soil at the sides.

2. Balanced straight lug tread design — longer wear. Goodyear open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug works equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly.

Goodyear Super-Sure-Grips don't cost a penny more. Get them for your tractor.

Terracing

We are glad to report that we are still in the terracing business and ready to serve your conservation needs with our modern equipment.

We would like to suggest that if you plan to do terrace work this winter and are not now signed up with the Soil Conservation Service, please do so now, so the necessary application and farm plan can be taken care of before you are ready for terrace lines.

Most of Knox County and north Haskell County are in the soil conservation district, with headquarters at Knox City.

At the present time, land where feed was grown the past summer and repair work on old terraces has been the most satisfactory, a small amount of moisture will make ideal terracing conditions. So make your plans and arrangements now.

If you have land in trust, I believe a fine resolution for 1951 is to carry out the necessary conservation measures to preserve some of our rich soil for future generations.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him— What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"

Before The Dawn

Dusk is falling on the great American game of baiting the other fellow. It was a game played by politicians, labor leaders and business men. But it is not a game that can be played in the darkness of war. We are now fighting for our life in this darkness. Tolerance toward any group which hampers our effort, is a thing of the past. We must win the war if we are to see the sunlight of freedom again.

As the bombs began to fall on Honolulu, labor held the whip. Witness the final victory of the C. I. O. in the soft coal controversy—the granting of a closed shop in the captive mines. Labor should now be warned that the time for fun is over. Union leaders must remember that the great body of American workers are just that—American workers. And all Americans have two jobs to do. No one is exempt. The job of war production that we have been doing is but child's play compared to what is to come. That is the first job. The second job is to be successful.

It must begin now to lay the groundwork of economic policies that are as essential to the way of life as a military victory. Here again we are as an organized group may be the deciding factor. It has the power. It must have an equal amount of judgment. Labor must do its part in urging curtailment of non-essential spending. It must urge the adoption of sound tax and regulatory measures, thus stimulating the productive capacity of industry. It must use restraint in all things. In brief, the exigencies of war must waken in labor a permanent sense of responsibility commensurate with the new power it acquires as the darkness of a long war night closed in.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT LAKE CREEK

Rev. J. R. Bateman will preach for us at Lake Creek Sunday morning at the usual hour and again on Sunday night, because of the necessity of my being away.

Perhaps this will be the last Sunday for me on the Spur circuit, since I am only supplying until and when they secure a regular pastor.

To my friends and people of the community who have doubted, and may have heard that we were surrendering our work here, we have no such intentions. If we were to move, and at present we do not contemplate such, we will continue to give a regular monthly appointment as long as people come to hear us preach and seem interested in Sunday school and church work. But, brethren, when you fail to register such interest because of the death of my first love, or wife;

Many have fallen out of our regular services since the summer months. We do hope that if such were made in the likeness of the Master in the beginning, that likeness will be rediscovered and your star of light will be found to shine in and about Lake Creek henceforth and forever. After years and weeks and weeks of prayer, God has promised me a revival. I've pledged Him my help until it comes.

Chas. Sargent.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beech wood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your doctor to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly silves the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
