

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

This is National Boy Scout Week.

We have national weeks, and national days, and holidays for this, that, and the other—but we doubt if any are more important or significant than National Boy Scout Week.

It is a week set aside during February 6 to 12 to help all Americans better understand what scouting is doing for their country and their country.

This is the 41st anniversary celebrating the founding of this worthy organization, and Boy Scouts all over America are paying tribute to that memorable date, February 8, 1910, when the first Boy Scout movement was started.

Now, in 1951, the Boy Scouts of America have become one of the nation's greatest organizations, with 2,750,000 members.

This growth is reflected in almost every Boy Scout troop in the nation. Even our Munday troop has grown to local leaders are face to face with the necessity of organizing another troop to take care of boys who want scouting.

Boy Scouts enjoy the role they play. There's fun and adventure in their scouting activities.

But there's more than that, too. There's the laying of groundwork that helps American boys to become better citizens in the future.

Red-blooded American boys meet and mix, learn the rudiments of good, clean living habits. In short, they are learning to become citizens of tomorrow. "Do a good turn daily." That's something the boys are taught to put into practice. It's something that would continue to make a better America if boys and girls of all ages—10 to 65—would practice throughout life.

Doing your best to do your duty "to God and my country" is taught in the Boy Scout oath. Another wonderful thing that might well be practiced by everyone.

Those who live up to the Boy Scout oath are clean boys. Statistics show that very few of those, in comparison, who have scouting are in serious trouble and occupy our prison systems.

Scouting is a good thing. To that we'll all agree, but it's hard to keep competent leaders who will train our boys in the principles of scouting.

There's where the Munday troop has suffered very greatly in years past. Competent leaders would not receive the cooperation of others and soon become discouraged.

But isn't a job just for the scoutmaster. Under the national and district set-ups, the movement has leaders for almost every phase of scouting.

When the program is properly carried out, we find boys more interested. They advance from tenderfoot, to Eagle Scout, to highest places in scouting—then in adult life to places of leadership in our nation.

We believe we have competent leaders for our Munday troop—men who are interested in boys and who give of their time and ability toward making them the "citizens of tomorrow" which is the ultimate goal of scouting.

We have boys who are interested, too. This has been proven by the growth of the troop during the past two years.

We have district leaders who see that scouting is carried on as a systematic program.

We have in this area Camp Perkins, where the boys may go during the summer for a well rounded program of work, fun and recreation.

We have practically every-

Munday Couple Escape Flames As 8 Perish

A Munday couple, Refino Martinez, 18, and Mrs. Martine, 20, barely escaped burning to death in a disastrous fire at Lemesa early Saturday. A family of eight perished in the flames.

The farm laboring family burned to death as they tried to build a fire to warm the converted chicken house in which they were staying.

Flames enveloped the 20x26 foot shack on the Bill Pierce farm, 13 miles west of Lamesa, after the father, Albert Lemons, poured kerosene on live coals in a wood-burning stove.

The dead are: Lemons, his wife, Nacariza Lemons, 31; and six of their children, Lucille, 9, Mary, 6; Janie, 4; Lorenzo, 3; Alicia, 2; and Albert Jr., ten months. All were from Del Rio.

Mr. and Mrs. Martinez, who received only slight burns, escaped through the only door in the building.

Oil Activities

Thomas D. Humphrey and Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Mary Bush, E. Boren survey. No. 51, Knox County wildcat seven miles west of Knox City, has been abandoned at 6,038 feet. The Ellenburger was topped at 6,026 feet and lime drilled to total depth. One-hour drillstem test recovered 50 feet of salty, slightly gas-cut mud and 2,800 feet of salt water.

One-half mile southwest extension to the Knox City Palo Pinto reef lime pool, 4 1/2 miles northeast of Knox City, was indicated with recovery of oil on a drillstem test in Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 M. A. Verhalen block 10, D. G. Burnett survey.

The reef was topped at 4,171 feet and cored to 4,268 feet with the lime showing oil. A drillstem test of unreported length was run from 4,243 to 4,263 feet, with a strong blow throughout. Gas showed to the surface in 10 minutes and drill-pipe was laid down. There was 1,700 feet of pipe in the hole when the tester was finally closed.

Oil unloaded from remainder of pipe, recovery being 1,650 feet of oil and gas and 50 feet of oil-cut mud, with no water. Flowing bottomhole pressure was 475 pounds and 15-minute shut-in pressure 1,850 pounds. Core hole was being reamed.

Stanolind No. 1 Mable Wilson (formerly No. 1 W. H. Clonts), lot 10, block 8, Burnett survey, topped the reef at 4,295 feet, was drilling below 4,571 feet in lime and shale. A drilling break was reported between 4,412 to 4,415 feet, but samples showed no fluorescence.

Two new outposts were staked Monday to the North Knox City Palo Pinto pool of Knox County, 4 1/2 miles northeast of Knox City.

One-half mile northeast of discovery, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company staked No. 1 Florence Bowden, 467 feet from north and west lines of lot 12, block 8, D. G. Burnett survey.

Approximately one mile southwest of the discovery, Stanolind staked No. 1 E. M. Travis, 467 feet from north and west lines of lot 8, block 7, D. G. Burnett survey. The Palo Pinto reef lime is the goal of both tests.

Stanolind No. 1 Mable Wilson, lot 10, block 8, Burnett survey, southeast offset to discovery, missed the Reef lime was drilling below 4,500 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company No. 1 Verhalen, northeast of Knox City, topped the Canyon Reef at 4171 feet and drilled to 4175 feet. Cored from 4175 to 4268 feet, it showed good saturation. A drill stem test was taken at 4236-68 feet and had a recovery of 1650 feet of free oil and 50 feet of heavily saturated formation. Gas surfaced in 13 minutes. This is an offset to the No. 2 Icelana Clonts producer.

Knox County's 4-H Club and FFA boys are grooming their animals this week for what promises to be the biggest and best Junior Livestock Show ever held in the county.

Heretofore, the annual show, which is held alternately in Knox City and Munday, has been for fat calves only. The show will be held on Saturday, February 10, at the Smith-Campbell Barn in Knox City. If the weather is fair all activities will be outside, but if the weather is inclement the judging will take place inside the barn.

All judging will be done by Ray C. Mowbray, head of the Animal Husbandry Department of Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Included in the day's program will be a Junior Livestock Judging Contest, with teams from the Knox County 4-H Club and the Benjamin, Knox City and Munday FFA chapters participating.

"These boys have spent a lot of time and effort getting their animals ready for exhibition," Mr. Lewis said, "and the public should encourage them by attendance at the show. 4-H and FFA boys, with their calf and swine feeding projects, have done a lot—and will do more—toward improving the livestock industry."

Stressing the importance of correcting defects in children's teeth, Mrs. Bob Hames, Knox County health nurse, is checking the teeth of school children this week, which is being observed as National Dental Health Week.

Dental Defects In Children Should Be Corrected

Mrs. Hames is making these checks in all Knox County schools except the Munday school, which employs its own health nurse.

"Parents are urged to take their children to the family dentist for regular checkups," she said, "and it is especially important that defects in children's teeth be corrected at an early age. Do this during this week."

IT'S YOUR MONEY

Expenditures for your Texas highways and road bond debt last year were estimated to be approximately one-fourth of the total cost of state government in Texas.

The record of registered highway vehicles in Texas during the fiscal year ending August 31, 1949, discloses that less than three out of every 1,000 were registered for gross weight of more than 40,000 pounds.

All other highway motor vehicles, including practically all of the 174,000 far trucks in Texas, all private automobiles, city delivery trucks, etc., comprise about 99% of total registrations. The remaining ONE PER CENT represent highway trucks registered for a gross weight of more than 20,000 pounds.

Texas could build highways for you costing $20,000 per mile and adequate for 99 out of every 100 registered motor vehicles, instead of having to pay from $60,000 to $70,000 per mile for pavements because of the one HEAVY TRUCK in every 100 registered vehicles.

Obviously, highway maintenance costs for the 99% representing light vehicles would be but a small fraction of the cost resulting from the damage to your roads by big trucks.

Highway bridge costs would be much lower for safe loads under 20,000 pounds than the cost of bridges built to accommodate the ONE PER CENT representing heavy trucks.

It's your money. If you want it spent wisely, for the use and benefit of the 99% of highway and city street users, you should demand enforcement of existing laws, and see that no increase in present load limits, sizes, and speed of the ONE PER CENT is permitted.

WHERE GOVERNMENT MUST LEAD

The membership of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, an organization made up of thousands of merchants throughout this country and Canada, has adopted the following resolution: "We recognize that our nation must mobilize for defense, and in order to minimize the great danger of growing inflation, we urge the following:

"1. To help stabilize prices during the present emergency, that retailers adhere to their pricing practices followed in prior years and take no special pricing advantages;

"2. To prevent the dangers of further deficit financing, that costs of mobilization be met to the greatest possible extent from tax revenues rather than further government borrowing;

"3. To keep the burden of such taxation from becoming unnecessarily heavy, that all possible reduction be made in non-military expenditures by government."

The merchants and other members of the business community will certainly do all they can to fight inflation, if only for reasons of pure self-interest—nobody can prosper when the customers of industry and trade are gradually priced out of the market, and are forced to sharply reduce their purchasing and living standards. But, despite this, inflation will keep right on rolling along if we build up more and more government deficits—and if we continue non-defense is. The real fight against inflation must begin with rigid economy in every branch of government, from the smallest school districts to the greatest Federal department.

"WHAT ARE WE UP TO NOW?"

One of the best commentaries on price control can be found in a recent Wall Street Journal editorial which carried the apt title, "It Puzzles Us."

"Practically everybody says price control will not work to hold down prices," the paper observed. "But practically everybody is demanding that we have price control. The excuse for price control is to hold down the cost of living, presumably for the people of small incomes. One of the first actions of the price controllers was to prevent a rise in the price of Cadillac automobiles"

"One other thing that is going on leaves us completely flabbergasted. We should like to know on what basis rests the suggestion that price fixing and rationing of meat be undertaken forthwith.

"In the most recent world war the case for rationing and price fixing of meat—the two must go together—was explained by the extraordinary demand. Large amounts went to feed our armed forces and other large amounts went to feeding the armed forces and civilian population of allied nations. So far as we know none of those extraordinary demands are present now"

"When we had meat price fixing we finally had no meat and President Truman admitted that he had considered seizing meat animals by force. Fortunately he decided it was not a very good idea.

"So what are we up to now? We raise an army and something about that forces the price fixing of meat. Then do we use the army to go out and seize the meat that is not forthcoming under the fixed price? It makes as much sense as some of the other things that are going on."

At any rate, there is one thing that price fixing and rationing of meat would be certain to accomplish. Most of us would have to get along with less and less meat, and the black market would come back into being with a boom.

"Government controls and the administration's effort to centralize all controls are going to lead us to ruin. There can't be a small amount of control, because once started it can't be stopped . . . Half the people in England are working for the government, and the other half are trying to support them."—Herald B. Miller, American Petroleum Institute.

OUT OF GODFREY'S TEABAG

Price ceilings are back in vogue again, I see. You all remember price ceilings—when you hear the price you hit the ceiling.

You know that Archie Bleyer who conducts the orchestra on my program. Well, I have a picture of him as a boy just before he gave his first piano concert. That's the time he amazed everyone including his father. The old man had been paying for trumpet lessons.

I hear that Stalin just got around to American football. He saw pictures of the Army-Navy game, and said: "Ah, we've got them fighting amongst themselves."

Stalin's having his own troubles in Moscow. It seems some guy broke into the Kremlin and stole the results of next year's elections.

Do those insurance salesmen pester you like they do me? I fall for that stuff, though, and I got bunches of it. All kinds. Some day I'm going to get sick and see if it works!

HEARD ON CBS TALENT SCOUTS

The most picturesquely-named fort ever heard of was old Fort Phantom Hill.

It was established in December, 1850, by a force headed by Major Thomas, with Black Beaver as the guide, on the Clear Fork of the Brazos, being part of a string of forts to guard against hostile Indians.

The most exciting event in its history took place before it was established. This was while the soldiers were away. Black Beaver warned that a blizzard was coming but Major Thomas, looking at the blue sky and sunshine, laughed and ordered the men to proceed. A norther struck, bringing sleet and snow that hid the wagons from each other and the soldiers wandered about, enduring great suffering. One man froze to death. The storm ended and the march was resumed.

The fort derived its name from a mirage. The troops sighted a hill covered with large trees, but as the force approached it was seen to be only a small rise and the trees were merely post-oak and black jack shrubs. Major Thomas remarked:

"Here we will locate Fort Phantom Hill, for this is certainly a place where distance lends enchantment to the view." The fort was commanded by Col. Robert E. Lee.

In 1861, after the secession convention, State Rangers, led by Buck Barry, were sent to capture the fort. The place surrendered without a fight. That night, the two forces were camped separately when it was seen that the buildings were on fire. Each side claimed that the other had slipped back and started the fire. It is now thought that Indians took advantage of the situation to destroy the fort.

At any rate, it is a picturesque ruin—a place of tales and legends, chiefly inspired by its romantic name. An unknown poet has sung:

"Strange phantoms flit thru the silent mesquite vale
 And fading reveille comes sounding o'er the old McKenzie trail,
 Where muffled drums beat faster and the army bugles sadly trill,
 Where the vanished soldiers gather on the slopes of Phantom Hill."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Favors Rain, But He Hasn't Let The Drought Interfere In His Way Of Doing Things

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has discovered the weather has been dry the past four months, if we interpret his letter correctly.

Dear editor:
For the past four months all my neighbors out here have been worryin about dry weather and if it hasn't rained by the time this reaches you they're still worryin. Scannin the sky, watchin a cloud no bigger than your hand, observin the direction the wind's blowin, seein how the sun sets, imaginin they can hear it thunderin, mistakin a headlight over the hill for lightning, complainin about havin to haul water, etc. It hasn't affected me that way.

Understand, I'm opposed to a drought as much as anybody, but I learned long ago to get along with the weather and my wife, there ain't nothin you can do about either one. There are some fundamental things in life a man ought to learn early, and that is that worryin never brought rain or stopped one and promising never lowered taxes or paved roads.

I'll admit it would be awful if it didn't rain and nobody out here got to plant anything this year, but I can imagine worse things than not gettin to plow. I have seen about as many men go to the hospital for plowing too much as plowing to relief, the latter mostly goin on relief, there ain't much choice.

A drought is a great equalizer. It gives the man on the lower rung mentally the same appearance as the man on the top, because in weather like we've had the past four months there wasn't any way to tell whether a man had sense enough to come in out of the rain or not. Furthermore, practically any road commissioner is a good one in dry weather. Every road in the precinct is passable.

And also, there's a great peace of mind in having one good ex-

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.—We dislike always being against something. We agree with Speaker Rayburn that almost any mule can kick a barn down, while it takes a carpenter to build one. However, sins of commission are usually more harmful than sins of omission. We must certainly not drive our country into national socialism (a first cousin of communism) under the pretense of emergency. Everything proposed these days is in some way or another tied on to the defense program. The President has just urged Congressional leaders to immediately authorize the long projected, controversial St. Lawrence seaway and power project. He states the project would open a seaway for moving iron ore from Labrador to our steel plants in the West, furnish additional power, etc. The project would also cost at least a billion dollars and would require five years to complete.

It certainly could not be of great aid in the present emergency. Furthermore, it could probably be destroyed by one bombing raid when completed, and, in the event of war. It seems to me this is one gigantic spending proposal that we should forget about, at least for the present.

Again, raising an additional 16 million dollars in taxes is going to require increasing income taxes in people in the lower brackets. Many of them are now hard pressed to meet family budgets. It seems to me that civilian spending should be cut to the bone and that in some way or another the military should be forced to use more judgment and economy in the manner of their expenditures.

War, and war preparation is of course, waste, but it does use ready at hand you know will stand up when your wife suggests plowin, one you don't even have to think of. Too dry, ain't no argument to it. Of course, when it does rain the whole thing will cave in, but up to now, I've always managed to think up excuses on my own, regardless of the weather, and any man who ain't willin to use his brain can always fall back on work.

I hope it rains, but I expect to carry on about the same, rain or shine.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Molems, and those allied with them religiously and sympathetically nad religiously, compose almost one-half of the world's people who control almost one-half of the world's land area. We infuriated them when we helped to drive a million Arabs from their native lands in the Middle East. Thus far, we have kept the Arab nations pretty much in line because of tremendous oil subsidies. However, you cannot kick a fellow in the face and make him your friends by giving him a $100.

Marriner S. Eccles, long-time member of the Federal Reserve Board, gave some potent testimony to a Congressional Committee this week. Among other things, he suggested a 44-hour week, without time and a half for overtime. This seems a reasonable request. Many government agencies could easily do their work with their present employees if they went on a 44-hour week. A 48-hour week would hurt nobody. At this time, 90% of all government offices are completely closed on Saturdays. I have always contended that the 40-hour work week during the recent war was an insult to American intelligence and character. Industrial abuses, abuses of cost-plus contracting, the hoarding of labor by industry, strikes, slow-downs, feather-bedding, and other inexcusable practices in time of war, added 100 BILLION DOLLARS on to the cost of World War II.

These same practices, if continued at this time, will wreck our national economy and will cause us to defeat ourselves.

The best minds in Washington feel that Russia would not dare attack the United States until they can build up sufficient air and naval power. Most people think this would require 4 to 5 years. This does not mean that a few Russian planes could not now drop bombs on American cities. One real danger right now is that Russia may attempt to take over the Ruhr, thus greatly increasing her industrial capacity. However, it is impossible that Russia could now effectively and disastrously attack our homeland. We have

Texas motorists, Texas highways and Texas taxpayers should be protected against the ONE PER CENTERS.

ONE PER CENTERS are truck combinations weighing, loaded, 20,000 pounds or more. Only one of every 100 vehicles registered in Texas pays a license fee for 20,000 pounds or more. FEWER than three out of every 1,000 are registered for more than 40,000 pounds.*

Our highways should be SAFE for ALL the people—individuals, commercial users and the military alike.

Texas highway tax dollars should be conserved and used wisely. This can be done

- (1) by limiting the weight (gross load and axle load) that may be transported legally by the ONE PER CENTERS and
- (2) by enforcing the law against those who persist in overloading.

Texas highways are paid for by and belong to ALL THE PEOPLE. Highways adequate for 99% of Texas users—individual and commercial—can be constructed and maintained for about ONE-THIRD of the cost made necessary by the weight of the ONE PER CENTERS.*

This is your problem. Send for your copy of the booklet, "THE CASE OF THE ONE PER CENTERS," which tells you, among other things, why

Farmers And Equipment Dealers To Be "Partners of Production" In '51

"Partners in Production" will be the theme when Texas Ford Tractor dealers, along with their dealership personnel, attend a special meeting February 9, 1951 at the Baker Hotel in Dallas sponsored by The Setwart Company, of Dallas, and San Antonio, Texas Distributors, and Dear-

Division of Dental Health with sodium fluoride in preventing tooth decay—both by fluoridation of community water supplies and the application of sodium fluoride to the surfaces of the teeth by dentists.

A control test showed that in one Texas city where the water supply was fluoridated, the rate of decayed, missing and filled teeth among six year old children dropped 47 percent in 29 months. In a nearby city where no fluoride was added to the water supply the rate remained at eight decayed teeth per child.

The Texas State Health Department recommends that teeth be brushed after every meal to remove particles of food which may cause decay-producing acids. Brushing the teeth a few minutes after eating candy is especially important because a acid which attacks tooth enamel is formed by action of bacteria on carbohydrates, especially sugar in a few minutes.

Dr. Cox said children's 20 first teeth should be given the best of care to permit the children to chew properly, to promote facial development and preserve the space for the 32 permanent teeth which will come in later. Children should pay their first visit to the dentist when all 20 first teeth are in and then see him each six months thereafter.

National Dental Health Day is a splendid time to resolve to do your utmost every day to see that children follow simple dental health rules and are given treatment as required for the preservation of their teeth.

Opportunities for farm equipment dealers to be of increasing service to their farm customers and to their country during a period of national emergency will be presented during the all-day program. Professional actors will present skits to dramatize proposed future business activities in the farm equipment field. During lunch in the Mural Room of the Baker Hotel the day of the meeting, eleven of the 128 Ford tractor dealers in Texas will be honored as Texas winners of a nation-wide Dearborn Farm Equipment demonstration contest. Each winner will be presented with an engraved watch and a national certificate of merit. The meeting is one of a series of 32 being held in principal cities across the nation for Ford Tractor and Dearborn Farm Equipment dealers.

Emphasis at the "Partners in Production" meeting will be given to the important work ahead for farm equipment dealers in their role as "first assistants" to the farmer at a time when the nation's agriculture is being called on for extra effort to produce increased quantities of food and fibre.

From the County PMA Committee

ACT PRACTICES GEARED TO DEFENSE PRODUCTION

In planning crops to meet defense needs this year, farmers of Knox County should keep in mind that the needs for the future may be just as great as for this year, says J. C. McGee, chairman of the county PMA committee. Every farmer should do all he can to produce the crops needed but increases in cultivated crops should be made where they will not impair future production.

This means, says the chairman, that good productive pasture should not be plowed up to obtain increases of other crops when the other crops will not contribute any more to defense than the production which comes from the pasture.

Nor should farmers abandon good conservation practices for temporary increases in production, in the opinion of the chairman. "For the long pull, conservation farming will result in higher production than the temporary gains that may be obtained at the expense of the land." As the chairman sees it, the formula is simple: Keep up the fertility of the land. Conserve all possible moisture. Use grass and legumes to restore and maintain the organic matter in the soil.

The Agricultural Conservation Program this year, he points out, is particularly emphasizing the use of grasses and legumes as a means of protecting the soil and continued abundance. To this end assistance is provided for seeding grasses and legumes and for practices which assure good stands and good growth. Where lime or phosphate is needed before the farmer can obtain a good stand of clover or alfalfa, the program provides for sharing the cost of these materials.

The chairman explains that the program is available to all farmers this year, not only to produce what is needed for defense but also to keep the land in condition for continued production. The county PMA office where information about 1951 practices can be obtained, is located at Benjamin.

Veneral Diseases Are On Increase Says Dr. Geo. Cox

AUSTIN—Here are some ominous statistics to ponder. State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox reveals an average of 98 venereal disease cases were uncovered each day of 1950. Total new cases of syphilis and gonorrhea for the year just passed, reached 35,863.

"We had more cases of syphilis last year than the combined total for tuberculosis, smallpox, scarlet fever, polio, diphtheria, malaria, and typhoid fever," the state health official said.

Veneral diseases far outnumbered any one of the eighteen other communicable infections reported in the state, with the single exception of influenza.

"It isn't an enviable record," Dr. Cox declared. "Not for gonorrhea, anyway."

Statistical records kept by the state health agency show a sharp reduction in syphilis rates, but gonorrhea cases have remained almost constant, with 1950 showing a slight increase. Dr. Cox said it indicates a "large segment of the people are not aware of the seriousness of gonorrhea infections, or else they're indifferent to their own health and that of others."

"It is a common misconception that gonorrhea is a minor ailment, when the truth of the matter is that it's a serious disease, capable of causing permanent body damage.

"Untreated gonorrhea can cause blindness, sterility, ar-

New Features Added To New '51 Dodge Trucks

J. E. Reeves Motor Company, local Dodge dealer, today revealed some of the 50 new features of the new B-3 Series of Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks which will be introduced on Saturday, Feb.

10. Increased power, new styling better brakes, improved steering for easier handling, more driver comfort, and newly designed shock absorbers are among the new features providing faster, safer and more economical hauling of larger payloads.

Horsepower increases in some of the eight engines powering the new Dodge truck line range as high as 20 percent. Gross vehicle weight ratings in the new trucks range from 4,250 to 40,000 pounds, and gross combination weight ratings range up to 60,000 pounds.

More Power, Economy

Higher governor settings, redesigned fuel pumps, "hotter" spark plugs with improved moisture-proofing, larger-capacity generators, a new high-torque starting motor, and more efficient cooling systems are among engine improvements which provide the new line with greater power and economy.

A major engineering development for easier riding and better handling are the new "Oriflow" shock absorbers introduced on the 1-2, 3-4, and 1-ton models. Featuring an entirely new design and valving system, they provide better ride control on all road surfaces.

Brakes have been improved on all models. All brake cylinders are now anodized for positive protection against destructive rust and corrosion. A new Cyclebond molded tapered lining was developed to give the brakes smoother, more positive action, and reduce the tendency to grab or squeal. The new lining is now used on all models not equipped with air brakes from the 1-1/2 ton up.

Loading heights are even lower than before on all models from the 1-2-ton through the 2-ton. This was accomplished by redesigning the rear springs.

Twin Carburetion, Exhaust

A far-reaching development in the new Dodge higher-tonnage trucks is that the power and economy benefits of twin carburetion and twin exhaust—already proved in the Y(4-ton) model—are now provided on the R (2 3/4-ton), T (3-ton), and V (3 1/2-ton) models. Engine output on these trucks has been greatly increased—from 106 to 125.5 net horsepower on the R model, and from 11.5 to 134.5 net horsepower on the T and V models. The result is higher average road speeds, faster hill climbing, greater economy, and less driver fatigue through reduced gear shifting. Greater axle capacities for higher GVW and GCW ratings are announced on many models.

New styling on all models features a new grille formed by two large horizontal louvers. A "Job-Rated" medallion is centered in the grill beneath the redesigned Dodge name plate. Wrap around bumpers give the fenders more protection.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—Tuesday noon, of this week, I attended a meeting at the White House at which President Truman presented a gavel to Speaker Sam Rayburn. The gavel was made of wood taken from the White House at the time of its repair in 1815. This was during Monroe's administration, and the British burned the White House the previous year. The President was honoring Speaker Rayburn because on that day Mr. Rayburn set the all-time record of longevity as Speaker of the House of Representatives. January 30 made 3067 days for Mr. Rayburn as Speaker. The former record was held by Henry Clay, of Kentucky. Henry Clay, incidentally, was elected Speaker of the House on the first day of his service as a Member of Congress. On the night of January 30, Speaker Rayburn gave a big dinner at the Carlton Hotel for the Texas Delegation and their wives. In addition to Texas members, the Speaker included as special guests, President and Mrs. Truman, Vice-President and Mrs. Barkley, Chief Justice and Mrs. Vinson, and Associate Justice and Mrs. Clark. Also included among the guests were former Texas Members of Congress, Fritz Lanham and wife, Luther Johnson and wife, Eugene Worley and wife, and Judge Marvin Jones.

portation. Obviously we have grown so accustomed to these outrages that we accept them and do little about them. Strikes in time of war or national emergency, or strikes that imperil the Nation's welfare should not be tolerated. We are compelled to again ask ourselves the question; are we to permit selfishness and greed and abuse of power to destroy this country from within? Apparently the Administration is to continue to kowtow to the big labor bosses. The recent price-wage freeze was manipulated so as not to interfere with numerous wage increase agreements, notably a $1.60 per day increase to coal miners effective on February 1. Now, we learn that coal prices are increased almost a $1.00 per ton, being an increase of more than 30 million dollars a year to consumers. Big industrialists no longer object to raising wages so long as they can pass the increased costs of production on to consumers.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is about to allow another substantial boost in freight rates. The excuse will be to cover increased wage demands from railroad employees, as well as the purchase of new equipment. Freight rates were increased in 1946, again in '47, again in '48, and again in '49. In 1945, the Southwest and other zones outside the Northeast won a substantial victory before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the so-called Southern Governors case. In this case, the ICC held that discrimination existed in the freight rate structure of the country. The ICC ordered the removal of this discrimination. The railroads have been very slow in complying with this order. Further hearings have been held from time to time in an effort to compel the removal of this discrimination. The last such hearing before the ICC was on last December 30. It is hoped that the government will not delay much longer in compelling the complete removal of discriminations which have long existed against the people in our section of the country. Among those who have served long and well on the ICC is Hon. W. M. W. Splawn, of Wise County. Dr. Splawn was President of the University of Texas while I was a student there.

Today's papers carry a report of our latest atomic bomb experiments. Reports say that Las Vegas, 100 miles from the exploding bomb, was rocked as if by an earthquake. I hope when the next one of these is dropped, our military will have Mr. Malik and Mr. Vishinsky there as observers. One cannot conceive of even the Russians deliberately provoking a war when they know that such a catastrophic and destructive weapon will certainly fall on their heads. Because we have such weapons the Russians will, of course, use every device to bring about our destruction before resorting to open and aggressive warfare.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouddy)

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26—Livestock trade in the latter half of the past week began to assume the off-again-on-again-Finnigan aspects of the old OPA days to some extent.

Buyers and sellers were studying news and rumors with equal intentness and trying to gauge operations accordingly and with a net result of confusion.

The general pattern of packer buyers by the week's end appeared to be crystallizing in an effort to get prices back down to the general neighborhood of those in effect on January 1st. Just about the time this idea appeared to becoming general, the usual upsetting comment from Washington came in.

Some one suggested that probably January 15 would be a better date than January 1 so the guesswork was all to do over again.

How-the-somever, the differences in January or January 15 prices would be minor and reductions of prices from this week as compared with either date would not be disastrous in most cases.

The net result marketwise was that without benefit of Washington's guidance, the buying public passed the peak on scarce buying. Beef began to accumulate in the coolers again.

And cattle and calf prices on slaughter grades dropped 50 cents to $1 per hundred with some extreme spots well over $1 off before the week was out. Supply and demand were at work, the stabilizers had nothing to do with it.

Fat calves generally topping readily at $34 and higher a week ago were generally stopping in the $32 to $33 field. Cows lost fully $1 per hundred, some spots more. Bulls shed $1 to $1.50 per hundred. Fat steers and yearlings were down 50 cents to $1 and some medium shortfeds here late in the week were $1.75 under prices that pasture mates of those cattle brought eight days earlier.

Wooled fat and wooled feeder lambs carried forward by the soaring wool market (some sold over $1.32 per pound this week) hit new record highs of $32.50. H. H. Webb of Talpa has 114 wooled feeders at 90 pounds at $35.00. Texas Tech of Lubbock had some 100 pound experimental lambs here Friday at $35.

Incidentally Texas Tech put a new all time record top on the cattle market here Thursday with nine head scaling 1,050 pounds at $35.00. Another interesting shipment was four big steers from Aubrey Ashton, Talpa. They weighed 1,165 pounds and brought $33, one giant weighing 1,770 pounds brought over $384, believed an all-time record for a single brute here.

Some thin stockers, mixed steers and heifers on the yearling order, but with some long yearling ages, sold at $36 and were consigned by Miss Georgia Bryant, of Midland, Texas. They weighed under 50 pounds but had good quality. Another high was paid for a shipment of 321-lb. Angus calves from Allen Thompson of near Fort Worth, they brought $40 per hundred.

Hose Wilford of Paducah had some $36.50 stocker calves this week. Some choice calves Friday at $38 averaged 262 and went to George Willoughby.

F. D. Atwood of Cleburne sold some over 950 pound steers at $33 and $33.50 during the week.

Deadline For P.O.W. Claims Is March 1st

Persons entitled to such claims in most cases will receive $1.00 for each day the prisoner of war was held in custody or the enemy.

ternees and military prisoners of war who had filed for payment from the former enemy funds held by our government. Unless the claims are filed by the former prisoners of war or

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Blue Wins This "Hunt"

Cappy Miller's coon dogs—except for one of them, Old Blue—are about the finest hounds in the county. Blue's too friendly and easy-going to care much about hunting. He doesn't act the way we think a good dog should, so we figure he'd never amount to much.

But a fellow comes around Saturday looking for a good dog to photograph for some advertising. And the dog he picks is Blue! Says Blue's happy, friendly face is just the one to attract people's attention. So Cappy gets more money for that picture than his other dogs will ever take in hunt prizes. From where I sit, that should teach us not to look down on humans, when they act differently than we think they should. For instance, maybe you think tea goes best with food. O.K.—but don't size up wrong the man who enjoys a bottle of beer at mealtime.

Like Blue, I guess we're all "different" in one way or another—but that doesn't mean we don't have our good points, too!

Capt. C. O. Layne Wins Award From Travis Institute Recently

Capt. C. O. Layne, commander of the highway patrol at Mrs. Addie mfw f f fmfwyptw Beaumont and son of Mrs. Addie Layne of Munday, was recently awarded one of eight Northwestern University fellowship awards in the nation.

As the recipient of this award, he will attend the spring course in traffic police administration at the university's Traffic Institute in Evanston, Ill. The course started February 1, and will run through June 16. It has been designed for commanding officers, police training directors and for those who may be expected to attain positions of command.

Capt. Layne, who has the 17-county district of the patrol which has headquarters in Beaumont, was handed a check for $80 by Gov. Allan Shivers in Austin recently, as the first installment of the $650 fellowship. In addition, the Automobile Theft Bureau has presented him with a check for $200, and he was honored at a barbecue on the court house lawn at Beaumont.

The fellowship came from the Automotive Safety foundation and the Texas Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee.

Purposes of the course are to provide a broad understanding of all phases of modern traffic control, develop ability to plan and execute an effective traffic control program, develop ability courses, and encourage professional awareness and an interest in traffic policing as a career, according to a department of public safety announcement.

Lectures, demonstrations, conferences, field work and a week's field trip will make up the course. On the spot studies of selected police departments will be made to demonstrate the classroom principles in operation.

Capt. Layne is studying traffic law enforcement, traffic police administration, traffic flow regulation records analysis, traffic engineering, accident investigation, pedestrian control and vehicular inspection.

At 41, Layne has been with the highway patrol since April, 1938. He was transferred to the Beaumont district in April, 1949, from Pecos, after being stationed at Amarillo, El Paso and Dallas. He was named captain on March 15, 1947, on his transfer to Pecos.

GIFT FOR WEE PRINCESS

Because her father, Prince Philip of Edinburgh, also holds the title Duke of Edinburgh, little Princess Anne is receiving this bale of long-staple cotton as a gift from the city of Edinburg, Texas. The Texas town did the cotton bale up in real Scotch fashion, using the Edinburg plaid for baling fabric. Perched atop the bale is Izere Stephens of Edinburg, Texas, who helped give the bale a gala sendoff. The bale of fine long-staple cotton will make the tiny English princess a layette of nearly 3000 dainty gowns or dresses.

Fourth Class Mail Sure Gets Around

Fourth class mail sure does go places, and that can be verified by J. B. Lawson of Goree.

For some reason, we got his paper's address stencil mixed up with the "single wrapper" list—those that we wrap separately and send various places. But he'd been getting his paper wrapped up all to itself.

Recently he failed to get his copy of our weekly effort, but he didn't indicate that he worried too much about it. Guess he thought it would show up, sooner or later.

Which it did! Some time later, several days later, he received his paper—and stamped on the wrapper was "Missent to Yorkville, Illinois." Going to Goree via Illinois is quite a round about route, but he got his paper.

The mail must go through!

The freshly laundered sweater should be pressed after it dries to give it that new look, but using the usual sliding motion for pressing will stretch the knitted material. To prevent this, pick up the iron and set it down gently to press the sweater.

Be careful. Observe state and local traffic laws.

First choice for 2 reasons!

1. Deeper soil penetration — greater pull. Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip — don't "plow out" soil at the sides.
2. Balanced straight lug tread design — longer wear. Goodyear open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug wears equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly.
