We have a "guest writer" of this column this week. Perhaps you'll enjoy it more than the editor's usual palaver. We hope you do enjoy it.

Trouble is you may enjoy it too much, and insist on a "guest writer" practically every week, and it might be as hard to find them as it is to have an idea.

Anyway, C. R. Elliott has just returned from an agricultural tour of the southern states, a tour which was sponsored by Radio Station WFAA and the Dallas Morning News. This tour included a trip to Cuba.

C. R. handed us some very pertinent information on Cuba, and we're using this information to finish filling this column. Here it is:

Cuba is 14 hours sailing time and 65 minutes flying time from Miami, Florida. Cuba has a population of 5 million people, one million of whom live in Havana. Most of its population is of Spanish descent, but Cubans are not called Spaniards. Any person born in Cuba is classed as a Cuban.

Cuba's chief industry is sugar tobacco and fruit crops, and, of course, Havana is becoming a great trading and shipping point.

The capitol building in Havana is a magnificent building representing a cost of 16 1/2 million dollars, has a reception hall 400x65 feet and a dome that is 26 feet higher than the dome of our capitol building in Washington, D. C. Now you can check on that and see just how high the dome is on our own capitol building. The dome on the Cuban capitol cost $110,000.

There is a 24-carat diamond set in the floor of this building, just beneath the rotunda, that cost $24,000. This diamond was placed at this location to mark the starting point of all highways leading from Havana. In other words, this diamond is a distance marker and is used as such in figuring distance from Havana, as Havana is many miles long, and this is now the official marker or starting point.

This diamond was stolen several years ago, but was later returned and is now well bedded in stone and well covered. This marks the beauty in some respects, but there is not much chance of it being stolen or removed. Of course, it is pretty well guarded at all times.

Cuba has an average temperature of 72 degrees in winter and 79 degrees in summer.

U. S. money and Cuba money have an equal value. Air mail stamps cost eight cents, and Cuban stamps are required on all mail.

Tourist rates become effective May 1 in Cuba, and prices are pretty well in line, but always ask the price in Cuba before you make a purchase and get a receipt showing the number of articles purchased and the amount paid.

Tourists who spend as much as 48 hours in Cuba may bring $200.00 worth of merchandise back without paying duty, but those who are in Cuba less than 48 hours are only allowed $5.00 worth of merchandise duty free.

There are some restrictions on certain brands of perfumes. You are allowed 100 cigars and one gallon of whiskey or any kind of brandies—but don't try to beat the tax or duty by bringing much of this Cuban liquor or brandy in your stomach if you come back by boat. It has been proven that you will very likely have to give it up, and I mean UP, before you reach land again.

Right here I might tell this story: One of our party was very sick and had his head over the rail feeding the fish. He heard someone on deck ask if the captain had come up yet, and this poor old sick fellow said, "Well, if I ate him he will be up pretty soon."

Cuban stores open at 9 a. m. close at 12, open again at 2:30 p. m. and close at 6 p. m.

There are definitely two Havanas—the old Havana and the more modern or new Havana. (Continued on last page)

IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUCCEED...

Johnny Michels Cops $150 Prize With 2nd Load Of Wheat At Wichita Falls

That old adage, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," has proven its worth to Johnny Michels—$150 worth in fact. It cost him a 180-mile trip but he copped the Wheat Harvest Committee's prize at Wichita Falls, according to an Associated Press story published Saturday. The story follows:

"It cost wheat farmer John Michels a 180 miles round trip, but he copped the national Wheat Harvest Committee's $150 prize for the first load of grain delivered in Wichita Falls.

"He had hard luck Thursday. He started to Wichita Falls with a load and it was rained on. That made the moisture content too high for the contest. "Back he went to his farm nine miles north of Munday and

Famed Evangelist To Speak At Baptist Church Here On June 7th

Clifton W. Brannon, evangelist of Longview, Texas, will be in Munday on June 7 for the Haskell Association Brotherhood Meeting. This meeting is expected to attract 400 men from this area. A picnic style dinner will be served by the Munday Baptist Brotherhood beginning at 7 P. M.

CLIFTON BRANNON

Cliff Brannon's phenomenal rise from a Georgia farm boy, left with the responsibility of caring for his widowed mother and six brothers and sisters, to a successful corporation attorney, winning four of five cases which he argued before the U. S. Supreme Court, tops even the accomplishments of many great men.

However, the joy which Cliff Brannon gets from preaching the Gospel Story outweighs all the glamour and prestige, not to mention financial remuneration, which went with his position as officer in fifteen industrial corporations.

The young president of East Texas Manufacturers Association severed all connections with his secular activities in the late spring of 1949 when he chose to answer a divine call to full-time Christian service as an evangelist.

He is convinced that it is God's Will despite the fact that as a Volunteers Baptist Brotherhood worker, he was already preaching more sermons and winning more souls than many ordained preachers. During 1948 he spoke before 286 groups while still serving as Secretary of R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., and General Counsel for the parent company as well as all its subsidiaries here and abroad.

After passing the bar examination in 1932, Brannon soon skyrocketed to success as an attorney. At the age of twenty-two he won his first case before the Supreme Court of Georgia. At twenty-six he appeared for the first time before the U. S. Supreme Court in Washington, D. C.

His career as a lawyer was very colorful and his work as a Christian layman kept Brannon on the march, but in spite of this feverish activity as a Christian layman for over ten years for

Munday Ships Nation's First Load Of Wheat

Munday has the distinction of shipping the first carload of the nation's wheat crop, according to an announcement made Monday by the Wichita Valley and Fort Worth and Denver railroads.

At the time of the announcement, the nation's first carload was enroute from Munday via Wichita Falls to Fort Worth.

The wheat was loaded Saturday night at Munday and was expected in Wichita Falls by 5 p. m. Monday. It was enroute to the Transit Grain Company of Fort Worth.

The first carload came from the general area where it is first received virtually every year, railroad officials said, although the first load is not always billed out of Munday.

4-H CLUB BOYS WILL NOT HAVE JUNE MEETING

The boys' 4-H Clubs will not meet during the first week in June, as scheduled, it was announced Tuesday by County Agent Bill Palmmeier.

Palmmeier said these meetings were called off because the time is needed to train the 4-H judging teams for the state roundup.

Dr. D. C. Eiland was a business visitor in Dallas on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Gun Accident Claims Life Of Goree Youth

Billy Edwin Baty, 20-year-old Goree youth and employee of the Southern Geophysical Co., was shot and killed in Colorado City last Friday.

Brooks Thiebaud, 20, a fellow employee, said that he shot Baty accidentally as he turned to put his .22 caliber pistol in a dresser. The bullet entered Baty's left arm, penetrated his chest and punctured his heart. He died at 4:15 p. m. at a Colorado City hospital.

The shooting occurred in the apartment of Baty, Thiebaud and Bobby Laws in the Jordan's Apartment in the south part of Colorado City. Laws and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Perdue were all witnesses to the accident.

The group, which did not work on Friday, met in the apartment and Mrs. Perdue was cooking dinner for the four men. The dinner was ready and Thiebaud was cleaning his gun, when it went off accidentally.

Baty was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Baty of Goree. Other survivors include three brothers, Douglas Wayne, Bobby Lee and Jackie Alvin. He was a member of the Sundown Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held from the Goree Baptist Church at 3:30 last Sunday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. Temple Lewis of Weimert. Burial was in the Goree cemetery under the direction of Laningham Funeral Home.

Rev. R. L. Butler Is Returned As Pastor Here

Rev. R. L. Butler, who has completed his second year as pastor of the Munday Methodist Church, was returned to Munday for another year by the Northwest Texas Conference which closed in Abilene last Sunday evening. The conference was held at McMurry College.

Rev. Butler will serve most of his third year in the attractive new church building which is expected to be completed within a few days. Hope was expressed last week that the first service would be held in the new building next Sunday, but further delays this week make this seem impossible.

Rev. Butler has worked diligently with the church officials, contractor, and others in the erection of this new edifice, and it is fitting that he serve as pastor in the building he has been so instrumental in erecting. The people of Munday welcome the pastor and his wife back for another year, believing they will have another fruitful year in the Lords service.

Rev. C. W. Parmenter was transferred from the Knox City church to McLean, and Rev. S. Y. Allgood of Goree retired and is moving to Georgia to make his home.

Rev. J. S. Crawford will serve another year as district superintendent. Appointments for the Stamford district are announced as follows:

COMPLETES TRAINING

PENSACOLA, FLA. — Naval Aviation Cadet Billy D. Bouldin of the U. S. Navy, took off and landed his SNJ "Texan" trainer six successive times recently aboard the USS MONTEREY, cruising the Gulf of Mexico, to complete his aircraft carrier qualifications.

Cadet Bouldin, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wiggins of Box 243, graduated from the Munday High School prior to enlisting in the Regular Navy in November of 1948.

He reported to Pensacola, Florida, "The Annapolis of the Air," in May of 1950 and has completed a stringent schedule in military, academic, physical and flight training.

From Pensacola he has been sent to advance training at Corpus Christi, Texas. This will be a four month syllabus in combat two aircraft. Graduation from advance training will win him the coveted Navy wings of gold.

According to E. V. Shackelford, agent for the Wichita Valley railroad in Goree, the first carload of 1951 wheat moved out of Goree on Monday, May 28. It was shipped by the Valley Grain Co., Orb Coffman, owner.

Mrs. T. G. Benze and Mrs. Effie Alexander were business visitors in Dallas this week.

Wins Award

Troyce Raynes, 1951 graduate of Munday High School, was presented the annual C. D. A. $100 scholarship award at the graduation exercises recently. This award is given upon the basis of the student's academic, athletic and other qualifications while in high school.

Troyce, the son of Mrs. C. O. Raynes of Fort Worth, was born March 5, 1934, at Goree. While attending the Munday school he has been making his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Muntzert. He plans to attend Hardin-Simmons University next year.

DICKERSONS HAVE SON

The occasion was the arrival of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Doris Dickerson, who was born at 7:40 p. m. Tuesday, May 29. He tipped the scales at seven pounds, six and one-half ounces. Mother and son are doing nicely.

Since the oldest son is having a part in naming his brother, the name he will carry through life had not been selected Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Idell Montgomery and daughters were visitors in Morton over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Montgomery.

Valley Mail Group Is Formed Here Friday

The organization of the Wichita Valley Mail Service Improvement Association was perfected here last Friday night at a meeting of representatives from cities between Wichita Falls and Abilene to study the question of a highway post office for this route. The meeting was held at the local C. D. A. office.

Need of a highway post office to operate out of Wichita Falls, and Abilene, has been prevalent in that area since elimination of railroad service, spokesmen at the meeting said.

Taken to End of Line
Under existing conditions, letters and parcel post mailed along the route are taken to the end of the line, either Abilene or Wichita Falls, by the mail-carrying truck before it is sorted and delivered along the route.

Establishment of a highway post office would allow sorting and delivery of mail along the route on the same day it is post-marked. Especially would merchants and business firms be aided, area citizens said Friday night, because their mail delivery service would be greatly facilitated.

O. C. Harrison of Seymour was named chairman of the association. Other officers include Courtney Hunt of Haskell, vice-chairman, and Ralph Duncan of Haskell, secretary.

An executive committee composed of Paul Pendleton of Munday, Joe Cooley of Abilene and Russell Willis of Wichita Falls will assemble information for presentation at a second meeting in Munday on June 15.

This information, along with petitions from citizens along the route, will be forwarded to congress after it has been approved by the association.

Board of directors of the association includes a representative from each of the interested places.

County Council Meets Friday

The Knox County Home Demonstration Council met Friday, May 25th, in the Assembly Room, Benjamin. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Lee Snellum, the vice-chairman, Mrs. Alton Cook, presided.

Every club was represented, and reports were given. All clubs reported the two meetings, with the programs being carried out. Extra activities reported were: China painting, Textile painting, First Aid Courses, Defense Organizations, Dress Reviews, Ceramics, and others.

At the next Council meeting, June 22, delegates to the State meeting in College Station will be elected. Talks were in favor of each club sending a woman, since the number who can attend the meeting will be open for as many as want to go. Housing will be set aside for 2500 women. The two evenings of the meeting will be highlighted by a reception honoring the former Presidents, and other officers, and a Pageant, depicting the 25 years of the organization.

FREDERICKSBURG, TEXAS, STANDARD: "Many years before Christ, Plato wrote his Republic in which he advocated a Utopian existence. ### RIGHT DOWN THE LINE

At a meeting in Washington, authoritative spokesmen for retailing formally protested against certain Office of Price Stabilization policies and orders. High on the list of opposed policies were those which threaten to force retailers to absorb manufacturers' price increases, even to the point where many stores could not stay in business, and those which do not make proper allowance for rising retail sales expenses.

Retailing is not fighting OPS in its efforts to do something about price inflation. It has promised and given its full cooperation—and it was carrying on a highly-important anti-inflation program of its own before OPS was created. But, retailing is—and properly—fighting hard against manifest injustices and inequities. It is granted that OPS has a tough job and that mistakes will be made. But the principal objective of this bureau, and all other agencies of the government which are involved in any way with the inflation problem, must be to see that all segments of the economy share the burdens of price control equitably.

 The retailer gets much of the blame for high prices for the simple reason that he sells the consumers their goods and takes their money. A good many people think that if the retailer rode a horse he'd be right in the same league with Jesse James. But the cold statistical fact is that the retailer makes but a very small percentage profit on each sale—much smaller than most of us seem to realize. It is also true that, in many cases, higher retail prices actually result in a smaller net profit to the retailer.
 Price control is no fun for anyone. But, so long as we have it, it must go right down the line and treat all alike.

KEystone OF OUR MILITARY POLICY

Despite the present emphasis on the draft, recruiting is the most economical and effective means of obtaining military personnel. That is the gist of a recent statement by Major General Thomas J. Hanley, Chief of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service. To use his own words, "The volunteer is still, as he always has been, the keystone of United States military policy."

Volunteers have been re-enlisting at a rate of four and five to one over draftees. This high rate of re-enlistment saves the taxpayers millions of dollars in training costs. In addition, the volunteers' enthusiasm makes them more adaptable, they are quicker to assume responsibility, and almost invariably are more interested in the career aspects of the services.

General Hanley stressed the value of high school graduates to the military forces. It is from these young people that our future officers and non-commissioned officers will be drawn. And this goes for young women no less than young men. As an example, the WAC alone will need 30,000 officers and enlisted personnel by July of next year. Goals of the WAF will soon be announced. Additional thousands of careers lie in the Army and Air Force medical services, which urgently need nurses, dietitians, and physical and occupational therapists.

The draft is essentially an emergency device. The volunteer constitutes the hard, dependable strength of any first-class Army, Air Force or Navy.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Fort Worth, May 25, 1951—The quota system as set by the Office of Price Stabilization is coming in for heavier criticism from the livestock industry as a result of the manner in which the quotas allowed packers, large and small, thumped the hog price into lower ground this week all around the market circle.

Announcement of the June quota on hogs being upped five percent may relieve the situation in the opinion of some, but since these increased quotas do not go into effect for another week there is considerable question in the trade being raised as to whether the quota system is flexible enough.

This week, the twelve major markets, including Fort Worth, reported 325,800 hogs marketed, this is about 16,500 less than a week ago, but the total was 40,000 more than in the same week a year ago. This increase of 12 to 13 percent approximately in the hogs coming to market compared with a year ago appears at first glance to make the five percent increase allowed look too small to keep prices from being further demoralized.

Hogs dropped around $1. per hundred during the past week and heavy hogs and sows were still under heaviest pressure.

If movement to market continues to run as far ahead of last year in the coming weeks, then quota restrictions would have to be relaxed to prevent further loss to hog growers.

OPS maintains that quotas can be adjusted during each report period. The industry feels like this week would be a good time for the OPS to demonstrate their ability to move fast enough on quota changes to effectively prevent demoralized livestock prices.

Cattle and calves during the past week moved at generally fully steady to unevenly higher prices. Stocker trade at Fort Worth showed a strong to higher level of prices because rains in most sections of the territory enhanced pasture and stock water prospects.

Another reason for the higher prices was renewed inquiry from Northern buyers of stockers and feeders. Inquiries from Summer grazing areas, especially in the Colorado, Montana and Wyoming sections are showing up.

Another factor in the stepped up tempo has been the re-entry of spectators into the cattle and

There's Money in Cards

If you're one of those people who are a little short of cash and long on spare time, you might be interested in adding your name to the roster of folks who have found their future in the cards. Today there are several hundred greeting card publishers in a fast-growing industry which promises to thrive just as long as kids believe in Santa Claus and married couples retain enough sentiment to want to memorialize their wedding anniversaries.

The nicest part about this business is that you can work at home, at your own pace, without having to punch a time clock or line up at the paymaster's window come Friday afternoon. Many of these greeting card companies offer you an opportunity to earn a pretty penny as a sales agent. You simply order your stock from such a firm as the Harry Doehla Co. of Fitchburg, Mass., long a leader in the mail order field, and sell the cards and gift wrappings direct to the public—your family, friends and neighbors. Church groups and civic organizations have found selling tasteful Doehla cards a quick and efficient method of fund-raising.

What qualifications are needed to become a sales representative of an organization like the Harry Doehla Company? Surprisingly enough, nothing more than the will to succeed and the desire to meet people and talk to them on friendly terms. There are no age restrictions, as in many other industries. Mrs. S. R. Hastings of Fullerton, Md., a 69-year-old great-grandmother found that selling the cards made for her new friends as well as pin-money. On the other hand, a nine-year-old, Elaine Netzer of Missoula, Montana, sold up to 10 boxes a day, working only two or three hours after school let out. During the Christmas season alone, this little miss sold around 1200 boxes!

Harry Doehla, who, though confined to a wheelchair since he was 17 by rheumatic fever, has built a nation-wide business in greeting cards.

Being an invalid or bed-ridden is no handicap to the Doehla agent. Harry Doehla himself has been confined to a wheelchair since he was seventeen, the result of a rheumatic fever attack. One bed-ridden agent, Archie Gregory of Jackson, Michigan uses his telephone and the mails to make sales to his customers in 44 states. Selling cards can definitely be a man-sized job. Joseph Cavagrotti, an ex-professional ballplayer who was stricken with arthritis, became a Doehla agent and later wrote, "Now I know the door to hopelessness and despair is closed forever."

In Stockton, California, a school teacher and her charges are helping to build a new school house through the sale of Doehla greeting cards. Student nurses, girls clubs and sororities all find card sales an excellent source of income.

Finally, a point to be remembered is that there are enough important holidays and anniversaries scattered around the calendar to keep you busy all twelve months of the year.

Miss Marguerite Hammett, who has been attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, returned home Tuesday of last week for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Edwards of Abilene were visitors her with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chest-er Bowden, between semesters at Hardin-Simmons University.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Butler returned home last Saturday from Abilene where he has been attending the annual Methodist conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Press Phillips visited Mrs. J. A. Phillips in Lubbock over the week end.

his feet, as another of Marse Henry's show. Sam, in a speech (maybe the same one in which he paid his respects to Greeley) referred to the Tribune's assistant editor as "an Irishman, a red-haired Irishman"—then he noticed that there was a sprinkling of red heads in the audience and he quickly added:

"Fellow citizens, when I say that he is a red-haired Irishman I mean no disrespect to persons whose hair is that color. I have been a close observer of men and women for 30 years and I never knew a red-haired man who was not an honest man nor a red-headed woman who was not a virtuous woman; and I give it to you as my candid opinion that, had it not been for his red hair, this fellow would have been hanged long ago."

calf trade. Spectators apparently have gotten over their jitters that followed the roll-back and to some degree apparently anticipate slackening of the controls situation from Washington, or expect the black market to begin to function and provide an outlet for "over ceiling" livestock.

Packers at Fort Worth currently say that virtually none of the cattle and calves being bought at present prices are in compliance with ceiling prices.

The loss when meat is sold at permissible ceilings, run at $2 to $4 per hundred in most cases.

OPS personnel report they are unable to understand why slaughterers continue to take this loss. Slaughterers explain that they are handling the stock because they want to keep in touch with some of their customers.

There is always the possibility that some meat sales are being made at well over the ceiling prices.

At Fort Worth an interesting bit of information came out this week.

Average beef consumption, per capita, is around 69 pounds per year. When the roll-back

You can find Texas material in books that you would least expect. For example, recently I got around to reading Col. Henry Watterson's autobiography. The great Louisville editor, in his youthful days, was a Washington correspondent and knew Sam Houston personally. Old Sam didn't like the New York Tribune editor, Horace Greeley, and in a speech said, "I refer to Horace Greeley, whose hair is white, whose skin is white, whose clothes are white and whose liver is the same color!" Houston could think fast on is completed, and if the ten cents per pound of meat were attained the saving to each person would be 13 cents per week, or 52 cents per four-family unit per week.

Cattle growers say such a saving would be so small that it would not help the housewife much with the family budget problems.

It has been pointed out that the program, however it works out, amounts to confiscation. On the face of it, it is taking money from cattle producers, handing it to consumers.

Of course, the enforcement program is going to cost the tax payers a good part of the alleged savings.

At the moment, consumers and livestock producers are getting highly sensitive to the reports from Washington that income taxes may be hiked sharply.

It is getting more difficult all the time to find someone who is happy with the way things are working out. Now, isn't it?

Austin Highlights

(By Senator George Moffett)

AUSTIN, Texas, May 26—The regular session of the 52nd Legislature probably will have adjourned by the time this letter is printed. It has been a very busy session. Most members have gotten more mail than at any other session, and most of them have answered it as soon as time would permit. This is usually done on Friday and Saturday of each week while we are not actually transacting business on the floor of the House and Senate.

These communications from the people back home are helpful to a member forming his conclusions as to what should be done.

One of the sharpest struggles at this session has been over the method of taxing natural gas. At this time around 60% of the natural gas produced in Texas is piped to other states, and this percentage is climbing each year. It will probably be 70% within two years. It is a natural desire to try to tax the gas which comes out of the State and to leave untaxed the portion used in Texas. Many of the best lawyers, however, say that it is doubtful that a state can levy a tax on a commodity which crosses a state line. The Supreme Court of the United States has many times held that a state cannot tax commodities that move from one state to another; therefore, even though there is strong support for a bill which taxes the gas moving in out-of-state pipe lines, there is considerable hesitation on the part of many members about voting for such a bill, because they doubt that it will stand up in the courts. And if it should not, the State would not receive enough money to pay Old Age Assistance, maintain the schools, build farm-to-market roads, and operate the necessary departments of the State government.

As this is written, a compromise is in prospect. Most members earnestly desire to arrive at a fair and equitable solution of the problem. In any event, it is possible that those using gas within the State may have to pay a slight bit more for the gas used. In most cases, it will be a very small increase.

Many inquiries reach Austin as to when bills actually become law. If a bill receives a two-thirds vote in each branch of the Legislature, it becomes effective 90 days after adjournment of the Legislature.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., May 26, 1951—Reaching my desk this morning is a booklet of 112 pages, entitled "Soviet Imperialism Plunders Asia." This booklet is published by the Free Trade Union Committee of the American Federation of Labor, also called Labor League for Human Rights. The first chart in the book is a map showing the location of 175 penal colonies, or slave labor camps operated by the USSR. The book seems to be authentic and well documented. It points out that there are 14 million of these slave laborers. For that matter, the other millions living under Soviet domination are in effect slaves of a godless tyranny. There is no doubt but what most of the millions of Americans belonging to the big labor unions are good citizens, and are violently anti-Communist. The incongruity and inconsistency in this situation is that the able gentlemen who put out the aforesaid book insist that organized labor in this country have the right to raise their wages almost at will. Our efforts to control legislation in this country have been and will continue to be futile so long as big unions, i. e., United States Steel, Automotive Workers, Railroad Workers, etc., continue to up their wages. Approximately 90 per cent of the cost of most of the things we buy is labor cost. To hold down the price on 10 per cent while not holding down the price on 90 per cent is obviously not going to stop the consuming fires of inflation. If inflation continues, American economy must inevitably be destroyed and then the Communism of which our labor bosses are obviously afraid will consume all.

Many of these same labor bosses blame food costs and farm prices for inflation. Mr. Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, has just published data showing that in the two years before June, 1950, the average of farm prices declined 26 per cent and that today the average of farm prices is still approximately 15 per cent below the 1947 level. At the same time, says Mr. Newsom, corporation profits and hourly wages of factory workers are both 18 per cent above the level of 4 years ago. Net farm income has been going steadily down from 18 billion in 1947 to 14 billion in 1949, and 13 billion in 1950. During this same time, national income has gone continuously upward. In the face of these facts, it would be hard to prove that the farmer is the culprit in the inflation picture.

Someone has said that there are too many candidates for President in the United States Senate. Strange as it may seem, the Senate has always appeared to be more amendable to political pressure than the House of Representatives. This week the Senate Committee restored the 45,000 public housing units which the Gossett amendment in the House had cut from the public housing authorization for 1952. No group in America seems to be willing to sacrifice any of its pet projects, even pork barrel projects, in the interest of national security and economic stability. I was utterly amazed this week to receive from splendid conservative officials in one of the small towns of our district, a wire condemning me for my amendment reducing public housing. The wire

BRIGHT SUN, BRIGHT STAR

The pretty Republic actress wears an eye-catching play outfit of flowered cotton. Miss Mara currently is starring in "California Passage."

concluded with a statement, "We regret your attitude, please retract, cut the budget elsewhere." Where the budget could have been more appropriately and beneficially cut, these gentlemen did not suggest.

This week the House overwhelmingly passed the grain bill for India. Then Texans voted against the bill, while eight voted for it. I voted against the bill because I have grown apprehensive of our being blackmailed into bankruptcy under the questionable slogan of charity and humanity. We should sell or trade this grain but not loan or give it to the Indian government. This India grain bill will cost the American tax payers well over $200,000,000. The grain will go to a hostile government and will not be given to its starving but will be sold to those able to pay. This will unquestionably be a donation, although called a loan India has sterling balances (money) in England several times large enough to pay us for the grain. She has jute, manganese, and other critical materials she could trade us for it. Space does not permit a discussion of India's sacred beggars, monkeys and cows, and her war with Pakistan, but for which she would not need charity. If this gift could conceivably contribute to national defense or national security, then I would have voted for it. It was and elderly American patriot who gave us the sterling slogan, "million for defense, but not one cent for tribute." While we have repudiated doctrines of appeasement and the idea of buying friends, we nevertheless continue to practice such policies. A little toughness and a little consistency in our operations would be of far more benefit to us than subsidizing those who may become our worst enemies.

BLAZE OF GLORY

They call this slim, striped sun dress—"blaze of glory!" The cool cotton by Cole of California has a streamlined effect with its alternate bright colored and white blazer stripes. A jacket or stole provides a cover-up for this eye-catching cotton sun dress when the occasion demands, the National Cotton Council says.

Just "Can't Get Over" Easy's Fence

Few years ago, Easy Roberts took a lot of kidding when he planted that hedge of Multiflora roses — along his property line. Folks said he was getting pretty high-falutin'.

But today plenty of people who laughed at the idea slow down when they drive by Easy's place — just to look at those roses. Most beautiful sight you ever saw.

Practical, too! The hedge is a good four foot high now, and at least five foot thick—even a shoat couldn't get through that prickly mass of shrubbery. Best of all, it cost less than ordinary fencing. (Might be well worth your while looking into.)

From where I sit, there's no sense in looking down on something just because it's different from what we like. For instance, some people think ice-cold lemonade's the best "cooler-offer" on a hot day. Some of us would rather have a glass of beer. The important thing is not to "hedge ourselves in" against other people's ideas and preferences.

Greater Fire Insurance Urged On Farm Property

It's too late to check or increase the amount of fire or other insurance on farm buildings after a disaster has struck. And according to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, it is quite common to find "under-insured" farm properties in Texas.

Building costs have risen steadily during the past few years, and unless insurance policies are changed in keeping with these costs, the actual protection becomes lower and lower. To offset these increases, Bates suggests that farmers check their policies now to make sure that the insurance coverage on all farm buildings is adequate.

He illustrates with what happened a few weeks ago to a farmer in north Texas. This farmer lost by fire a dairy barn, machinery shed and grain bins. These buildings had a total undepreciated value of $3,380. The complete settlement from his insurance amounted to $1,040—a difference of $2,340 between the cash settlement and the inventory values which were only a fraction of the total replacement costs under present conditions.

This farmer through careful planning can replace each $1,000 of 1939 building values by spending now about $2,380. Chances are that he may feel so "cramped" for funds that the replacements will be inferior to the buildings lost. He must have the replacements to stay in business and he needs them now.

Such an experience can be disastrous to a family just getting started in farming and can cause even the well-established farm family to undergo many privations. Bates, therefore, urges farmers to review their insurance needs in the light of present day building costs and make the needed adjustments.

the Lord, Brannon felt something was wrong. Everywhere he went, someone would ask, "Cliff, don't you really feel that God wants you for full time Christian service?" The fact that persons hundreds of miles apart would ask this same question, convinced him that this was indeed the voice of God.

It was not an easy decision to make. He thought of his wife and their three children. He faced financial insecurity, however, after five months of indecision, he made the choice. While preaching in Elk City, Oklahoma, during the late spring of 1949, he yielded everything to God, including his wife and children. With nothing definite in sight, this prosperous attorney and industrialist who had just been listed in "Who's Who in American Industry" resigned as Secretary and General Counsel of R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., President of Tournalayer Housting Corporation, Vice-President of Texas Casualty and Insurance Co., and Director of Lone Star Steel Co., largest steel mill in the Southwest. He disposed of all other material interests to give full time to the Lord's work as an independent Evangelist.

Having taken a brief rest, he returned to his home in Longview to find in the mail invitations for twenty-three weeks of revival meeting. Proof of God's leading was evidenced by the fact that in these twenty-three weeks of meetings not one conflict existed even though they were so closely scheduled that he spent only one night at home during the period. Visible results during that twenty-three weeks of preaching included 288 baptisms, 4,147 definite rededications, and 365 additions to the church.

Depending upon the Lord for all he needs, he goes anywhere the Lord leads, preaching only "Christ and him Crucified," promoting no organizations, selling nothing, and refusing to discuss finances. He believes that where God guides He also provides.

The spirited preaching of the evangelist has drawn crowds wherever he goes. It is said that he prays, "Lord, set me on fire so the crowd may come to see me burn"—and his preaching reflects that he is truly on fire for God.

Mrs. J. O. Tynes left last Sunday for Big Spring to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank Bowley and children.

Mrs. Ann Davis of Long Beach, Calif., is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Henry Russell, and other friends and relatives.
