GRASS ROOTS OPINION

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "Some of these days most of the . . . people of this fair country are going to get good and tired of having someone sitting in a swivel chair warming up seat of his pants in Washington, thinking up schemes to make more useless paper work for them, and will dump a lot of them into the nearby Potomac river and start over with a clean slate."

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, UNION BANNER: "Best news out of Washington in a long time to the little people who have to foot the bills for governmental extravagance is the action taken . . . by the House of Representatives in slashing 693 million dollars off the amount requested by President Truman for independent Federal bureaus."

PLATTSMOUTH, NEBR., JOURNAL: "The policy committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the United States recognized the necessity to pour out money for defense, both at home and abroad, if all-out war is to be avoided. It felt, however, that non-essential government expenditures can be reduced 'if citizens will refrain from seeking government hand-outs.' It concludes that 'business should take the lead in promoting a program of self-control.' For once, we find ourselves in agreement with a policy recommendation of the reorganization that speaks for a large segment of the business life of the nation."

AIKEN, S. C., STANDARD and REVIEW: "Economy in governmental spending should be effected not only on the national level but on that of every political subdivision in the nation. Inflation is an insidious force than can undermine us as it has other countries and leaves us an easy prey for communism."

DRUG HABIT COMES EASY

This is a good time to reprint some remarks concerning economic controls that were made several months ago by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston in testimony given before a Congressional joint committee.

"I must say right now," said Mr. Johnston, "that wage and price controls will not be effective for long. It is essential that we begin to cure the reasons why we have to put wage and price controls into effect. The main objective of economic stabilization is to secure a stable dollar and by that we mean, the stable purchasing power of the dollar."

"It is essential that we preserve freedom in this country, which means that we should get rid of wage and price controls at the earliest practical moment." Mr. Johnston then went on to say that it is absolutely vital that we balance the budget, restore confidence in the dollar, and control the supply of credit.

There are two basic dangers in price and other controls. One is that the people will gradually drift into the idea that these artificial restrictions on the normal functioning of the economy are a permanent necessity—just as the drug addict drifts into abject dependence on dope. Many of the politicians, who always want more and more power for 'gowers' own sake, encourage that kind of thinking.

The second danger is that we will fall for the fallacy that price controls are actually a cure for the disease that is inflation—where, actually, they treat only certain symptoms and don't even do that very effectively. The current uproar over the meat situation is a good example. The controllers have tried, in effect, to repeal the natural law of supply and demand—and the result is scarcity, growing black markets, and the probability of falling production.

Mr. Johnston was right—if we are to remain a free, strong and progressive nation, price and wage controls must be abandoned at the earliest possible time.

PROFIT OR LOSS MARGIN CLOSE

The operators of more than 700 stores, including chains, department stores, and specialty shops, were recently asked what they thought their most acute problem would be in the near future. The majority of them gave it as mounting overhead expenses. Next in line they put customer price resistance.

What gives this particular significance is the idea, held by many people, that the retailers are having a field day in this time of high prices and big business volume. The fact is that the cost of carrying on a retail business—wages, rents, taxes, etc.—have gone up just that far, and in many cases farther, than the price level. And it is still going up.

This might not be of any great moment if retail profits were as fat as many of us seem to believe. Actually, those profits are very moderate, and the difference to the retailer between making money and losing his shirt is only a few cents out of each dollar of sales. Last year, for instance, the typical department store had a net profit of only 3.7 cents out of every dollar of income. And 1950 was a good year—much better than 1949, when the net was 2.7 cents. Reports issued by various food chains show that in this field the profit is not much more than one cent on the sales dollar.

You might keep that in mind next time when you're tempted to curse some retailer because his price tags seem exorbitantly high. He has plenty of headaches, too.

"We should remember . . . that excessive reliance on controls merely postpones many of the problems and distortions brought on by war economy. There is no substitute for raising enough taxes, cutting non-essential government expenditures, and sound credit and public debt policies."—John K. Langum, vice-president, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Extra Care: More Eggs

MORE care accorded pullets from the time they leave the brooder house until they start laying will pay off in healthier birds and ultimately in better egg production.

Growing pullets need not be "babied," but they have a few essential needs that must be supplied if they are to prove profitable investments. Among these, the most important are adequate protection, plenty of water and a good ration.

The low-cost range shelter illustrated here, made of Masonite Tempered Preswood, lumber and wire netting, neatly solves the problem of protection. It provides shade when the sun is scorching and cover when rain falls. It also turns away furred and feathered varmints that prey on chickens, especially at night. The average farmer, accustomed to using hammer and saw, can build this 10 by 10-foot structure in a few hours.

To hold contamination to a minimum, it is advisable to keep range shelters well separated and to move each to clean ground at frequent intervals. The light weight of this type of shelter makes the moving operation easy.

An easy-to-read, detailed plan for building this range shelter is available free. Send a postal to Farm Service Bureau, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., asking for Drawing No. AFB-134

Move To Eradicate Mesquite Under Way

ABILENE—Carrying capacity of range and will be increased by approximately 2,200 head of cattle and add about $200,000 income annually for five years as a result of mesquite eradication in Clay, Archer and Wichita counties, it is reported in the June issue of West Texas Today, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce magazine.

Ranchers of the three counties are cooperating in a million-dollar spraying program. Spraying is being done by smaller trainer type airplanes flying at low altitude and covering mesquite with approximately Carl Springer, Abilene attorney, is a friend of mine of many years' standing. He was once representing a man in a lawsuit about some land. The other party in the case (we'll call him Smith, which wasn't his name) was a rancher who had a reputation which was not too savory; to be blunt, he was suspected of helping himself to other men's livestock. But Springer could not go into that—not in a direct way, anyhow.

Now the lawyer was born and grew up in the cattle country, around Aspermont, and he knows the ways of the range. So he asked a witness, "Smith owns cattle?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever see a calf with Smith's brand following a cow of another brand?"

"Yes, I have seen that."

The jury of farmers and stock-raisers came in with a verdict for Springer's client. It did not take them any time to decide five gallons of four to one pounds of active ingredients per acre, according to Max Carpenter, Wichita County agent, and Bob Crocker, PMA secretary for Wichita County.

The powerful hormone killer, 2-4-5-T, is being used. Seventy-five thousand acres will be sprayed with the powerful hormone killer, 2-4-5-T, at a cost of $3.50 to $5.00 per acre.

The spray practices are based on work done at the Spur Farm Experiment Station by Supt. C. E. Fisher, his associates and others.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouidy)

FORT WORTH, June 22—On the eve of the second year of the Korean conflict, the livestock industry was still having a difficult time planning operations and the see-saw actions in Congress as time ran out for renewing the Defense Production Act did little to clear the atmosphere.

Some House and Senate committees went on record against the additional rollbacks in beef cattle prices slated to be in effect by August 1 and October 1.

Full debate on the matter is due during the week before the act expires June 30. It appeared certain that the Senate and House would pass bills differently enough that the final act would have to be worked out by a conference committee.

This conference committee will likely be staffed with Administration stalwarts, in so far as the Democratic side is concerned.

The pig crop report came out this week, somewhat later than usual, but it was revealed that increased pig production was due and likely the crop would average seven percent larger.

There have been reports from the Midwest recently that sizeable numbers of sows and gilts goin to market were in large enough numbers to turn the estimated crop to a lower level.

Hog raisers have had a better time of it this week at Fort Worth. Top hogs at $22.50 and $22.75 are fully 50 cents higher and sows have tacked on a 50-cent advance.

Feeder pigs up to $20 per hundred are a $1 more than than a week ago, indicating some renewed interest on the part of feeders.

Coming weeks and months should see a steady gain in hog prices, unless the government interferences. Run of hogs will taper seasonally, and traditionally August or September are the "high" times.

Renewed interest is reported this week for stockers and feeders from the Corn Belt. In some cases the orders are for immediate delivery, which always serves to support the day to day market at Fort Worth.

For a long time the midwestern corn growers have been gunshy about buying stockers and feeders because of the rollbacks but apparently the seasonal declines in stockers and feeders, coupled with a better understanding of the problem of marketing is encouraging the feeders to take hold again.

Many carloads of stockers and feeders pulled out of Fort Worth this week as the first sizable early summer movement

Giant Parade Climaxes Atlanta Defense Day

The largest parade since the world premiere of "GONE WITH THE WIND," seen by an estimated 125,000, culminated Defense Day ceremonies here. More than 3,500 people marched in the parade which featured 75 vehicles and 15 military bands. Atlanta Defense Day opened the Nation's first Defense Bond drive in the national emergency.

to market got under way.

Packer interest in all types of slaughter animals has been kept this week. Most buyers study the "compliance" figures carefully before bidding, but it is obvious that all the buyers would like to "own" more livestock than they are getting.

Grassy condition, coupled with liberal water fills, has taken a lot of the sting out of the lower bids this week.

Some good supplementary fed steers this week from Parker County weighed 1,251 pounds and brought $34. Another load of steers of about the same weights from Johnson County also sold at $34.

For comparative purposes these kind of steers would have sold around $32 in January if they had been available, and a year ago this week they would have sold around the $30 to $31 marker.

Lots of agey cows and young calves showing on the Fort Worth market this month. Some shallow thinkers say, "there you are, the government is pitting the cow men out of business."

"Tain't so, Joey! Ask the man who owns those cows and young calves and nine time in ten he'll tell you that he is making room for young cattle.

Judge J. W. Fischer, Dallas and Tyler, told us this week that he has over 1,000 heifers to calve the first time in the coming season. Some said he was going out of business when he sold his cow herd last winter.

A string of 900-pound cows, at $23, and their calves, at $45, that averaged 200 pounds—sold this week. These cows cost $80 seven years ago. They have raised six or seven calves. This year their calves brought their original cost.

The owner is making room for some heifers from these cows.

Nope! The cow man is not quitting. He never has and with prices currently the highest in history for June—WHY QUIT?

Familiar Signs Often Ignored

Back in Caesar's time a writer of wit and wisdom named Publilius Syrus realized that "familiarity breeds contempt."

He didn't have traffic accidents in mind when he wrote it down, but the truth of his words hold true today in the attitude of motorists toward signs and signals.

The National Safety Council points out that familiarity with traffic signs, signals and regulations in any territory frequently traveled apparently dulls a driver's alertness and makes him a potential accident victim.

Most Mishaps Near Home

That partly accounts for the fact that nearly three-fourths of fatal traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home, according to the Council.

To impress drivers with the meaning of all signs and signals, the Council is sponsoring a "Signs of Life" program in August.

The Council says there are five basic shapes of highway signs. Round signs warn of a railroad approach, while the crossbuck is a danger signal near the tracks. The eight-sided or octagonal sign means stop. Diamond-shaped signs warn of possible danger, such as curves. Oblong signs state the law, such as speed limits, no passing, etc., and must be obeyed.

Mrs. Hayden Hayes and Mrs. Woodrow Roberts and children of Goree visited friends and relatives in Brownfield over the week end.

Miss Charlotte Williams, who is attending T. S. C. W. in Denton this summer, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams.

Doyle of Vernon, on Sunday evening, June 24. Rev. Huron A. Polnac officiated for the double ring ceremony which was held at the First Baptist Church in Munday.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in imported organdy over taffeta, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves fashioned with self-covered buttons. ### Miss Bobbye Price And Frank D. Fancher Marry In Church Ceremony

The First Baptist Church in Munday was the scene Saturday evening, June 23, at 6 o'clock, of wedding rites read to unite in marriage Miss Bobbye Jolene Price, Munday, and Frank D. Fancher, Seymour. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Price of Munday and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cottingham of Seymour.

Rev. Huron A. Polnac, officiated in the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with basket arrangements of gladioli and fern. Pews were marked with white satin bows and nosegays.

Wedding guests assembled in the church during the organ prelude played by Miss Carolyn Hannah of Munday. Miss Hannah accompanied Miss Charlotte Williams of Munday, as she sang "I Love You Truly", and "Because." After the wedding march, the organist played "Claire de Lune", during the exchange of wedding vows and concluded with the recessional.

Mouryee Price gave his sister in marriage. She was beautifully attired in a gown of white organdy over satin. The closely molded bodice with sheer yoke with applied medallions edged in seed pearls. The medallions adorned the full skirt and extended in intricate designs over the cathedral-length train. Her two-tiered veil of illusion was edged in medallions and worn with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried an orchid atop a white Bible with draping streamers.

For "something old" the bride wore an opal and diamond engagement ring of the groom's grandmother, and the traditional "something new, blue, borrowed and penny in her shoe."

Attendants for the bride were Miss Frances Hallmark of Fort Worth, as maid of honor; Mrs.

Dick Price of Waco, and Mrs. Delbert Montgomery of Munday as bridesmaids. ### Would Be "Working Congressman"

Walter Jenkins, above, this week announced he would be a candidate for Congress from the Thirteenth District and told voters that his "one and only promise is to be a working Congressman."

At his home in Wichita Falls, the 33-year-old native of Jolly, Clay County, said he had given up his position as administrative assistant to U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson to make the race for Congress.

Jenkins mentioned Congressman Ed Gossett, who has resigned, as "one of the hardest working men in Washington."

"To do the job right, you have to work hard," Jenkins said, "and that is what I intend to do. I don't promise to make a lot of speeches. I don't promise to turn Washington upside down overnight. I only promise to work hard—and to be on call, 24 hours a day, to work as best I can, for everybody in the district I have lived in all my life."

He has lived in Jolly, Decatur, and Wichita Falls, where he was a reporter for the Wichita Falls Record News and an accountant for the State Highway Department. During World War II he served overseas in North Africa, Corsica and Italy for nearly two and one-half years.

An Open Letter to the MUNDAY FIRE DEPARTMENT

We do not like to call on our fellow citizens, either in the city or surrounding community, but the time comes when in need we must do so.

Our problems is property which claims millions of dollars each year, and lives which are not measured in money but only in the eyes of God.

Our problem is water for our outlying homes, which we do not have sufficient hose to reach, and to combat rural or country fires. We only have 300 gallons of water at our disposal in such cases now. This only gives aid to our salvage crew to reduce the heat while personal belongings are removed.

What we have in mind to solve this problem is a tank truck with 750 gallons capacity, with pump and two sets of hose. The cost of material and truck, at our lowest bid, is $2,500.00, the labor to be donated by the Munday Fire Department.

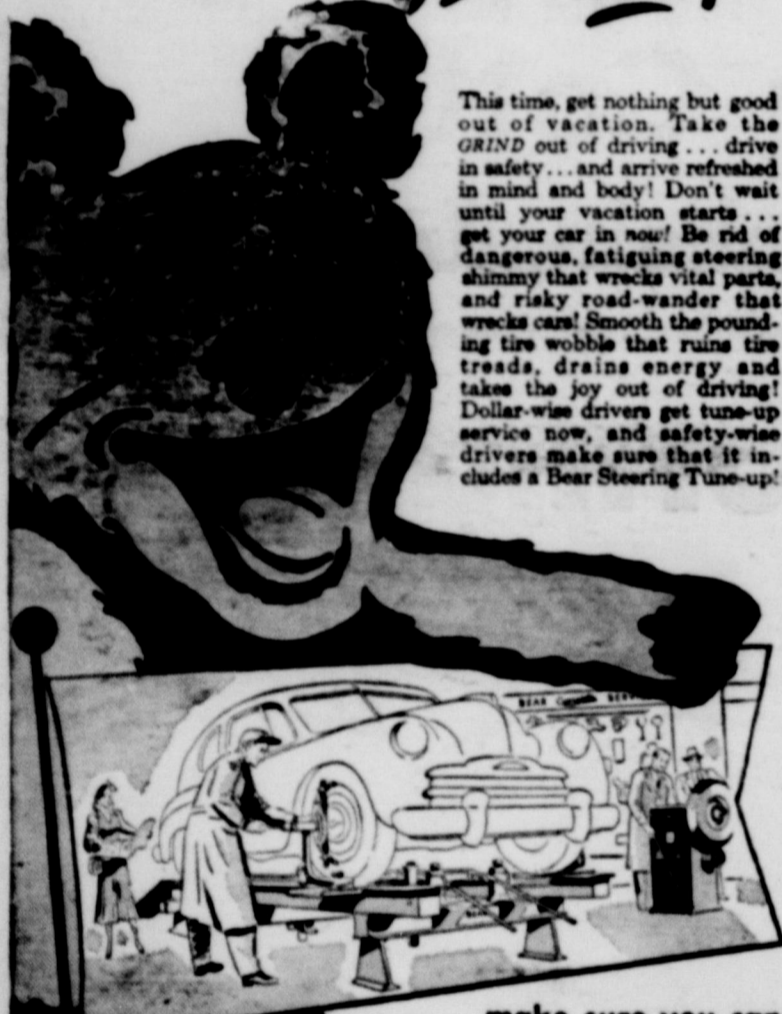

Maybe this extra 750 gallons of good old H<sub>2</sub>O, added to the 350 gallons now at our disposal, might save your home with only a small damage and little loss of personal belongings, which could never be replaced.

God gave us water—men the knowledge to use it. Now, will you help us deliver it to the job?

Your kind attention and cooperation, both in time and money, will be greatly appreciated. We are not asking for charity—but selling protection!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Alarmed Over The Prospect Of Having To Pay Some International Taxes, Too

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has dug up something new to worry him about, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was readin along on an article in a copy of a newspaper which I borrowed off my neighbor's tractor seat while he went to the house for a drink of water and not payin much attention to what I was readin, some times it don't take a profound concentration to handle a newspaper, I can spend an hour with one some times and feel just like I'd had a nap, when my eyes focussed on a paragraph that brought me to.

Accordin to it, the Financial Commission of the United Nations has been working on the international tax problem.

If I can understand this, there is a move afoot to establish a new taxin outfit, this one on the international level, and what I'm wonderin is can we afford it?

I like to pay my taxes and fully intend to, whenever I have the money, but I thought we already had just about covered the taxin field pretty thoroughly startin on the precinct level, and goin on up through city taxes, school taxes, county taxes, state taxes, and federal taxes, and I don't see where we got room to house a collector for international taxes. Last time I was in the county court house it seemed to me there wasn't any office space left for any more tax collectin, and the last time I looked at my resources I didn't notice anything left over to pay a international tax with.

I've been in favor of an international police force and a method of stopping war before they get started, but I hadn't figured on settin up an international tax office to do it with. Thought we was already payin for it through regular channels. This puts a different light on it. Of course we might swap some of the taxes we already got for the international set, although it would be the first time in history any taxes was ever dropped, but just to add some more on top of what we already got, ain't got much appeal to me. I'm in favor of peace, but not at any price. It's bad enough to be delinquent with state and county taxes, without branchin out on the international field.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, endorsing the observance of June as National Dairy Month, today released a statement congratulating Texas dairymen on the remarkable progress they have made in the past few years.

The use of clean, safe milk is a health measure. Milk is our most nearly perfect food as it is rich in proteins, vitamins A and G and the minerals calcium and phosphate. Improved methods of producing wholesome milk has been a great help in the saving of infant lives.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to unsanitary methods of production is a health hazard.

Dr. Cox added, "Among the special featured singers, baton twirlers, and other interesting features.

diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diptheria, septic sore throat, undulant fever, diarrhea and enteritis. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been made safe with proper care.

"We should firmly insist that the milk we drink be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer."

The Cow That Can't "Run Dry"

Sandy Johnson showed me his Jersey cows last week. It was a warm day and they were all under the trees near a watering trough.

And darned if one cow wasn't pumping water into the trough! It's a fact—she'd raise the pump handle with her nose, and use her throat to push it down again.

"That's Mabel," Sandy explained as she moved away. "Sometimes they drink that trough dry, and she's learned how to fill it again. But she doesn't know her own strength—turns the place into a swamp if we don't watch her."

From where I sit, Mabel isn't the only one who sometimes doesn't know where to stop. For instance, people often carry personal opinions too far—like the person who wants everyone to accept his choice of political parties, or ball-players... or beverages. I prefer a glass of beer with my meals. I know that a lot of other people prefer milk. But nobody ought to insist on "herding" others around to his way of thinking.
