

Kracker Krumbs

Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

Munday is taking on some more improvements.

One of them was completed a few days ago. That was the hot-topping of the parking area in front of the post office.

It eliminated the chug-holes and the mud—when we do have a rain.

But if you walked over it while it was still soft—and it gets soft yet during the heat of the day—then went home and walked over the wife's rugs, etc., reckon you got a word or two from that department.

And the same type of added improvement was made to the north of town—that area in front of Reid's Alis-Chambers house, the Hiway Cafe and the Conoco station.

That area was a muddy place, too, when some of our occasional rains came.

An speaking of rain—we could use more of it.

We got the story last week, after our drouth-breaking rain play on the front page, that we should go south of town a ways to see where it was still dry, very dry.

But as Will Rogers used to say, nearly everything we know we read in the papers.

We read in the papers where Munday got a rain, so did Weinert and Haskell and other places, so we supposed it rained all the way from here to Weinert.

It didn't from the report we received. This party told us there was a strip south of town that received no rain.

The moisture helped cotton, we understand. But right at this time it appears that more moisture wouldn't be overdoing the thing.

It remains hot, and wheat plating is right upon us, and it's not much fun just to dust in the wheat and hope for a rain.

Another rain wouldn't hurt lots of cotton, either.

Some reported as it rained last week they had some cotton they'd never put a sack into this fall, regardless of the rainfall.

And they didn't mean by that they'd use strippers, either!

During the week end, one Mundayite (that appears to be a good word), visited a large portion of this cotton producing area just to take a survey of the situation.

He was interested in what the cotton looked like so he could give a sort of intelligent report to the transient labor groups we depend on to harvest our crop.

He came back with a report like this:

"We've got lots of good cotton, and then we've got lots of awful sorry cotton."

We've heard reports, too, of fields that will make a bale to the acre, and some fields that will make a bale to ten acres!

And that's the situation in Knox County, via grapevine.

We've been reminded again to remind you that the dump ground is some four miles southeast of town.

Folks working on our new pavement out past the golf course to the Haskell County line are much concerned about this.

Loads going out that way with "the hind end gate" out are scattering tin cans and rubbish and stuff all along the route of the new black topping.

The highway workers report that such things will just cut right through the paving bringing about ruination much faster. So when you start to the dump grounds with a load, try to get there with a load!

Many Attend Opening Of New Church Here

Members, former pastors, and friends of the First Methodist Church in Munday enjoyed a full day of services last Sunday when Methodists held the formal opening of their new $150,000 church building. The building has been completed for some two months, but formal opening was delayed so former pastors might be present.

Around 200 visitors registered for the services, and attendance Sunday morning was estimated at around 500.

The event was also in commemoration of the 51st anniversary of Methodism in Munday, since the Munday Methodist church was established.

Rev. Don Davidson of Hereford preached at the services Sunday morning, which opened at 10:30 o'clock. During the afternoon services, Rev. H. A. Longino of O'Donnell preached, and the services were in charge of Rev. J. H. Crawford of Stamford, district superintendent. Also present was S. H. Young, former superintendent.

Rev. Luther Kirk of Midland preached the final sermon of the opening exercises at 7:30 p. m., with Rev. Davidson in charge of the program.

Among the visitors was Jim McCullough of Stamford, district lay leader; Mrs. G. S. Slover, wife of former pastor; Rev. R. B. Freeman, former pastor, and his wife, and Rev. J. R. Bateman, who has been a pastor and Methodist leader in this area for many years.

Between services, visitors were given an opportunity to inspect all portions of the new building.

The pastor, Rev. R. L. Butler, and the church membership will remember this day as one of the highlights of the Methodist movement in Munday.

Record Of Fire Losses In City Is Good

Lee A. Parks, chief of the Munday Fire Department, recently received a letter from Olin Culbertson, secretary of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association, giving the record of Munday's premiums and fire losses since the record have been kept.

"It is a fine record," he said, "and I am sure your citizens will be justly proud and appreciative of what has been done by the fire department. This statement shows what a tremendous business investment the fire department is to your city."

The record which began in 1917, when Munday had premiums totaling $8,000 and a fire loss of $900, the city had enjoyed a credit on fire insurance rates during most of the time. In 1920, a credit of 15 percent was established, with no credit shown for the period, 1922-24, after which the 15 percent credit continued for six years.

In 1930, Munday showed fire losses totaling $50,722.40, and for three years following a 15 percent penalty was placed on insurance rates. For three years, 1924 through we again enjoyed a 15 percent credit, which dropped to 10 percent during 1937 through 1940, went back to 15 percent in 1941, then was raised to 25 percent in 1942, remaining at that figure through 1947.

In 1947 the records show premiums at $24,625.34 and fire losses at $17,683, bringing a 5 percent reduction in the credit. Another $12,033 fire loss in 1948 brought a drop to 15 percent in credits for 1949-50.

In 1950, the records showed insurance premiums of $31,880.91 and a record of losses at only $720, so in 1951 we are back up to 20 percent credit on insurance premiums.

J. R. Griffith Returned From Korean Front

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 29.—First Lieutenant J. R. Griffith, USMC, son of Mrs. Neva Griffith of Munday, Texas, arrived here today aboard the amphibious force attack transport USS Montrose after spending the last eight months in the Korean combat zone.

Commanded by Captain G. T. McCready, U. S. N., of San Jose, Calif., the Montrose was one of the first ships in the "mothball" fleet to be reactivated following the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Arriving in Asiatic waters last January, her most significant contribution to the United Nations' cause was the rotation of British Commonwealth 27th Brigade units between Hong Kong and Korea, landing the troops in time to help stem the Chinese Communist spring offensive.

The Montrose steamed 37,000 miles and transported 5400 troops during her eight months stint in the Far East. She also took part in the extensive amphibious training operations with other amphibious units off the coast of Japan.

Munday Gins Premium Bale On Wednesday

The first bale of 1951 cotton was ginned at Munday at about noon Wednesday, it was reported. It is likely a premium will be awarded the grower in addition to receiving his ginning fee of charge.

The cotton was grown by W. R. Raynes, who farms between Munday and Weinert. Out of 1970 pounds of seed cotton, Mr. Raynes received a 420 pound bale.

The cotton was ginned by the Paymaster Gin at Munday, and the gin bought the cotton at 35 cents a pound.

Ronald Foshee Is Awarded B. S. Degree

Ronald Foshee, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foshee of Munday, received his B. S. degree in agricultural engineering at graduation exercises of Texas A. & M. College on August 24.

Although his major work was agricultural engineering, Foshee was active in other campus activities, such as: R. O. T. Club and the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, editor of "The National Student Journal," and participated in intramural sports.

Labor Day May Be Just Another Day!

C. D. A. directors received numerous inquiries as to whether the town would close on Labor Day—a practice not usually followed in Munday. Directors discussed the proposition last Monday night—and came to this conclusion:

"Due to the fact that local schools start on Tuesday, the board of directors thought it wise not to recommend closing on this day. Whether or not you close will be left entirely to the different Munday firms."

Chances are it will be just another day.

Court House Will Close On Labor Day

County Judge J. B. Eubank, Jr., announced last Monday that the court house in Benjamin will be closed on Monday, September 3, in observance of Labor Day.

"All offices of the court house will be closed on that day," he said, "giving county officials and employees an opportunity to observe this holiday. All people of the county having business at the court house are urged to keep this closing date in mind."

The public is invited to come in and meet Mr. Metcalf and talk with him.

D. R. Huckabee Dies Suddenly Here Tuesday

The community received a distinct shock at the news of the death of Daniel Robert Huckabee, who died suddenly at his home in Munday last Tuesday morning. He had made his usual trip to town and was doing chores in the back of his home when stricken by a heart attack.

Mr. Huckabee, familiarly known as "Uncle Bob", was a native Texan, having been born on March 29, 1872. He was 79 years, 5 months and 8 days of age.

Coming to Munday in 1904, Mr. Huckabee was engaged in farming for a number of years, but retired several years ago. He loved to associate with farm people and was frequently found around Munday's gins during ginning season. He had a jolly word for everyone, and was a familiar figure about the business district.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. S. E. Stevenson of Goree and Rev. Huron A. Polnac of Munday. Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Mahan Funeral Home.

Grandson served as pallbearers. They are Guy and Glen Huckabee, Fred Reddell, Jr., Carl Jenkins, Leo Reddell, Winifred Jenkins, Basil Lee Huckabee, and Granger Jenkins.

Surviving him are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Fred Reddell of Munday; Mrs. Joe Jenkins of Rochester, and Mrs. Vernon Jenkins of Plains; two sons, L. L. Huckabee of Munday and J. J. Huckabee of Santa Fe, N. M.

Decision Delayed In School Land Dispute

Back To Duty

Judge Ben Charlie Chapman of Haskell, who presided in the school land suit between Munday and Knox City, in district court last Monday, took under advisement the petition for injunction, stating he would brief the case and render an "honest decision" within a few days. He asked that lawyers on both sides present briefs and he would study these in addition to making his own brief.

Decision in the suit is expected within the next few days.

The injunction is sought by the Munday school district to prevent the allocation of some 16,000 acres of the Sunset school land to the Knox City schools.

Sunset patrons voted on June 16 to consolidate with the Munday school district by a vote of 84 to 77. Munday's vote in the proposal was 300 to 9.

Then followed the petitions presented by the Knox City school, the three petitions being granted by the Knox County School Board on July 10.

Witnesses heard during the trial were Olie Ilseing of Gilliland, member of the county board; Merick McGaughey, county superintendent; Supt. W. C. Cox of Munday and Jerry Kane, member of the school board.

Representing the Munday school board were attorneys M. F. Billingsley and Tom Bullington of Munday and Gaynor Kendall of Austin. Counsel for Knox City were D. J. Brookreson, Sr., and D. J. Brookreson, Jr.

Judge Chapman pointed out that the case could go to the Supreme Court and neither side having effectively gained by the decision, and pointed to a compromise as a means of settling the dispute, if possible.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

LAKE ORION, MICH., WEEKLY REVIEW:
 "Britain has embraced socialism completely, turning away from the political philosophy that made her the greatest nation on earth. France too had embraced the theory of Socialism. In the Chamber of Deputies at the moment an alarming number of Communists hold seats and by power of numbers dictate a Socialist concept of government that is but a few steps from Communism."

FOLEY, ALA., ONLOOKER: "When the people—at least, when a majority of the people—of this country decide they wish to make a change in the policies which are daily causing bad matters to become worse, those policies will be changed. But the people themselves must bring the change. So long as our people regard the government as a benevolent and dozing parent, rather than as a personal responsibility, just so long will we continue to head toward a completely socialistic state."

BERLIN, MARYLAND, EASTERN SHORE TIMES: "America became great through public ownership—but we don't mean the kind of ownership the Socialist-minded bureaucrats mean. We refer to the corporations which made this the mightiest industrial nation in the world. They are owned by the people—the stockholders—and they are owned directly by the people, without governmental interference or direction."

GARNER, IOWA, LEADER: "The inflation which is lifting our living costs higher and higher is primarily the result of long term deficit financing by the government, in the opinion of this editor. Every time the government goes to the banks for funds to make up deficits, the banks are forced automatically to pump an equivalent amount of new money into the economy."

GIGANTIC AUCTION

Just what is a stock auction?
 As everyone knows, it is a place where the securities of corporations of many kinds and sizes are bought and sold. But what many people don't seem to know is that the exchanges have no control whatsoever over the prices at which these shares in enterpris change hands. The price are determined by one thing only—the figure which the owner is willing to accept for his property and the figure which the prospective buyer is willing to pay.

The exchanges amount to a gigantic auction which deals in securities just as other kinds of auction deal in furniture, works of art, livestock or farm equipment. And the exchanges provide a two-way auction market. Buyers compete against each other in bidding to buy; sellers compete in offers to sell, and going prices are known at all times.

The New York Stock Exchange, which is the nation's largest, is the market place for the shares of some 1200 American corporations. And when buyer and sellers deal in these it is not on a "pig and poke" basis. Before the Exchange accepts any security for listing, rigid and exact qualifications must be met. One is that there must be a sufficient number of shareholders to indicate wide interest in the security. Another is that pertinent information concerning the company, without which the investor could not judge the value of the stock, must be made available to the public.

No, there's nothing mysterious about the security exchanges, nothings that is known only to "insiders." At present, the exchanges serve some 15,000,000 individual owners of stocks—and these "capitalists," most of whom have average income and ordinary occupations, are a cross section of the American people.

THE "REAL COST" OF FOOD

One of the common beliefs today is that the cost of food is sky-high, and is completely out of line in the light of the prices of past times.

So it will come as a surprise to most people to learn that the "real cost"—the amount of time workers must spend to buy given quantities of food—is lower than it used to be.

As proof of this, take a typical "market basket" of foods containing bread, round steak, and pork chops, butter, flour, coffee, and so on. According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics figures, the average industrial worker would have had to work 438 minutes to buy the basket in 1929, 275 minutes in 1939, and 274 minutes in June of last year. In April of this year, by contrast, he could buy it with 264 minutes of labor. It is notable that the "real cost" of food in terms of wages is substantially lower than in 1929 and 1939 which were periods of severe depression in agriculture, with resulting drops in prices.

In short, the worker can buy more food for his labor than before. And that, in large part, is the result of greater economy and efficiency in retail distribution. As is well known, the chain stores pioneered low-cost mass-distribution of food and other consumer commodities. Their idea was to cut the profit on each sale to a minimum and to make an adequate total profit through increased volume of business. The idea worked—and it is to the credit of the independent merchants that they adapted it with great success to their operations. And the consumer has benefitted all along the line.

In a competitive economy, where every merchant is out for our business, the consumer gets peak value of his money. That's true of food and everything else.

The many little islands of the South Pacific are the peaks of the biggest mountains which form the floor of the ocean.

If all the land of the earth were covered with the salt of the sea, it would make a layer 400 feet deep.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"Children are not really ready to enter school until they have had a complete physical examination," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer reminds parents. "All boys and girls enrolling in the kindergarten or first grade classes of Texas schools should be taken to their physicians, or to a public health clinic, for an immediate physical check-up if they have not had such an examination in recent months.

"It is important to act as promptly as possible. This is recommended in order to allow time for medical treatments or corrections that may be necessary before school opens. No youngster should be permitted to begin a school career with less than the best possible physical equipment.

"As most parents know, vaccination against smallpox is necessary. Those who received this immunization in infancy should be vaccinated again in order to assure a high degree of immunity and those who have never received this protection should be vaccinated without delay.

"Diphtheria immunization is also an important safeguard for all boys and girls about to enter school. Those who have been immunized against this disease should receive toxoid shots now. Children who were inoculated against diphtheria when they were babies should now have a 'booster dose' in order to maintain their immunity at a sufficiently high level.

"Other immunizations that the individual physician may recommend are also desirable as further health protection. Whooping cough, typhoid fever, and tetanus are among the diseases against which the doctor may advise safeguards."

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Phillips and daughters of Tulsa, Okla., visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tidwell and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tidwell and other relatives over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price and Ronnie, Mrs. Cecil Cheek and Donovan and Mrs. T. A. Walker all of Fort Worth, spent the week end in the home of Mrs. G. P. Burns.

Durwood Scott, who has been attending A. & M. College, came home Sunday evening to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott, until school opens again.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Deen and Mrs. Juanita Rippetoe and son, Mike, attended a family reunion in Roaring Springs last Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Eiland visited in Kerrville over the week and their son, David, returned home with them.

FARM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

FARMERS URGED TO CONSIDER COTTON LOANS

No farmer has to take too low a price for his cotton this year, J. C. McGee, Chairman of the county Production and Marketing Administration committee, said today. "We'll have a good crop coming to market this fall," Mr. McGee explained, "but the carry-over stocks are small and demand is near the highest on record. With Government loans available to protect the price and 'feed' the crop to market as needed, farmers have only themselves to blame if they flood the market with their 1951 cotton crop."

Experience under past cotton loan programs indicates that farmers benefit from orderly marketing which Government loans make possible.

National loan rates average 30.46 cents per pound for Midling 7/8 inch cotton and 31.71 cents for 15/16 inch. With a loan the producer not only assures himself of at least that much income, but he helps strengthen the market and protects prices.

If the market price advances, the producer can repay this loan and sell his cotton above the loan value, or else his cotton will be pooled and he will receive a share of any profits resulting from its sale by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

For the 1948 crop, such profits amounted to $67 million, or an average of about $17.50 a bale. Since the loan is "non-recourse" the producer has no obligation to make good on any loss the Government might incur from a decline in the market price. "The cotton loan can help a lot," Chairman McGee said, "and it's only common sense for a farmer to protect his investment with a loan in years when a large crop could upset the market. Each farmer must be the judge on placing his cotton under loan, but he should consider carefully the advantages of the loan program."

Information about the cotton loan program may be obtained at the county PMA office.

T/Sgt. Wilson Hunter, who is stationed with the armed forces at Seattle, Wash., has been spending his furlough here and took his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hunter, on a twelve-day tour to Hobbs, New Mexico, El Paso, Albuquerque, and Aztec, N. M., where they visited their daughter, Mrs. G. H. Hall; Colorado, Santa Fe, N. M., Amarillo, Canyon and Benjamin where they visited another daughter, Mrs. J. C. Moorhouse.

Mrs. C. G. Jennings of Sulphur, Okla., spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McNeill and family and with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gaitner and family.

Mrs. V. E. Moore and family and Miss Dolores Campbell of Abilene visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Calwell and granddaughter, Georgia Ann, of Avaca, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beaty over the week end.

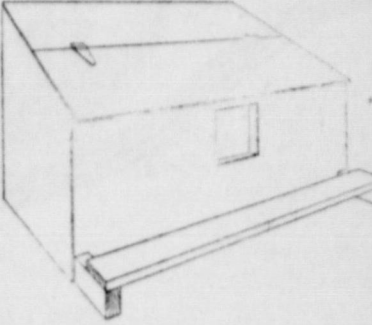

Try a Community Nest

NOW is the time for all good poultry raisers to install community nests for better production and cleaner eggs! Installation of community nests in place of the small box type will decrease the number of dirty and broken eggs by 50 per cent.

A community nest, like the one shown, should have one square foot of nesting space for every five hens. Two nests of this sort will accommodate 20 birds.

There are several ways to use these community nests, which are covered with long-lasting, peck-proof Masonite Pre-wood. They may be placed against the wall where the sloping roof will prevent roosting on top. Two may be placed back to back anywhere in the poultry house. In that case, use a reel over the ridge to prevent roosting.

The nest illustrated is four feet long, but may be made any length desired. If nests are more than eight feet long, however, a partition should separate them into four or five-foot sections, with an entrance for each.

Have community nests in the house when pullets begin to lay. They will use them more readily when beginning to lay than after forming a habit of laying in partitioned nests.

For a free plan to construct this easily-made community nest, write Farm Service Bureau, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and ask for AFB-204.

Be careful. Obey state and local traffic rules.

Bible Reading, Prayer Unite The World

NASHVILLE, TENN.—When the famous cartoonist, Tom Little, learned that more than 50,000 churches distribute the English edition of The Upper Room and that, through its sixteen editions, the circulation is world-wide, he made the above drawing to show how Bible reading and prayer and meditation can draw the people of the world together.

The Upper Room in Japanese is the fastest growing of the foreign editions, although new editions in Europe are also reporting good progress. Through the pages of this devotional guide, individuals and families share the same Bible reading, prayers, and meditations each day, not only in America, but around the world. The circulation of the English edition alone is believed to be the largest ever achieved by a religious periodical.

The new September-October issue carries meditations written by residents of 31 countries including Princess Wilhelmina, former queen of the Netherlands, and one Chinese who, since he wrote his meditation, has been liquidated by the Communists.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Notifies President Truman That He's Behind Too In Making Repairs To His House

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is trying to lean on the President to excuse his own shiftlessness, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was walking along out here yesterday with nothing on my mind, just lettin my brain relax and drift, when I stumbled over a copy of the Dallas News which a picnicker had wrapped his lunch in, the Dallas News is considered one of the most 'ant-proof' newspapers in Texas, although the Fort Worth Star-Telegram has the edge on it when it comes to dryin off after a swim, and to be fair to the Houston Chronicle works better on a tractor seat, while the Houston Post is hard to beat in rainy weather to keep from trackin mud in the house, although I guess more weekly papers are used to line pantry shelves with than all the dailies put together, when you stop to think about it, one page of a weekly is just as thick as one page of a daily, and since I needed to bend over anyway to tie my shoe I went ahead and bent over and picked up the paper and took it over to the shade and read where work on repairin the White House in Washington is behind schedule.

Over the years, they tell me, the White House has been goin to wrack and ruin, and I know exactly how it is. My place out here at Miller Creek is the same way. Looks like a man just hasn't got time to do any global thinkin and keep up his house at the same time, and I am proud to know the Presidents of the United States for the past fifty years have been on my side in this matter. You haven't caught any of us staying at home with a hammer and saw when there was a crisis to be met, don't make no difference whether it was at Potsdam or the store in town. There are some people out here who criticize me because I can take a pole and go fishing right in the middle of plowin or visit the store when my gates are all saggin, but who do you think has been cruisin on Chesapeake Bay or relaxin in Florida while the White House foundations have been saggin and the plaster crackin? A man has to learn to put first things first, and I'm pleased to know I have been in the presidential category in this matter.

CHRYSLER WINS DETROIT'S '250' RACE

Tommy Thompson, 28-year-old Louisville, Kentucky, race driver, gets the checkered flag after driving his 1951 Chrysler New Yorker to victory in Detroit's grueling 250-mile NASCAR stock car classic. Thompson drove his car, powered by the new 180-horsepower Chrysler V-8 Fire-Power engine, safely around the pile-ups which marked the race without having to raise the hood. His was the only Chrysler entered in the race. The grind was so difficult that only 24 of the 58 starters finished.

As I understand it, they had planned on gettin the White House finished by November 1st but aren't gonna be able to do it, while this may lead some critics to lambast the Administration for another example of bungling and stumblin, I would like to come to the defense of the President.

I know exactly how it is, Harry. For years I've been behind schedule in fixin up my place out here on my Johnson grass farm, but a man just can't do everything at once. For example, there's a board on the back step that's loose and I've been aimin to fix it, but you know how it is. Can't find the hammer or if you do the nails are missing and besides if steppin over a loose board save me time to devote to thinkin about this country's future, I say step over it, or use the front door.

Since last winter I been notice some loose bricks in my chimney and while there are some men who can climb to the roof of their house and fix a chimney while the world is facin a crisis it ain't no trouble for me to put my country ahead of the chimney.

And also, the hen house door fell off its hinges in '48, I know it was because that was the year President Truman was elected, and while I know there are men who couldn't sleep until they'd fixed it, I can sleep about as well with a hen house door lyin on the ground as hangin on its hinges. Maybe better, it don't flap against the wall in a high wind like it is.

I tell you, Mr. President, don't let them stampede you. If you ain't right up to schedule on fixin up your place, you ain't by yourself.

Miss Odette Stephens of Fort Worth spent a week recently in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. L. M. Tucker and Mary Frances of Goree.

Safe And Sane Driving Urged

The Texas Safety Association today made an appeal for safe and sane driving to drivers of "Hot Rods." A. W. Breeiland, T. S. A. president, stated that quite a number of complaints have been received from throughout the state regarding reckless and dangerous driving committed by hot rod drivers. Many of these vehicles are said to have illegal equipment, such as muffler cut-outs and straight exhausts. Speeding, racing and flagrant violation of the rule of the road have been reported in several communities.

Parents should counsel with their teen-age children to see that they drive according to state and local traffic regulations, and that the vehicles themselves comply with the law relative to lights, brakes and other equipment.

President Breeiland appeals to parents to encourage their children, of legal driving age, to enroll in driver education classes when school convenes this September. He stated that nearly half of the secondary schools of Texas now offer these courses, and that more will probably offer them if enough interest is evidenced locally. Records, thus far, prove amazing results from this training, as young drivers who are trained in school are seldom involved in accidents, while thousands of untrained teen-agers each year are involved in serious traffic accidents.

Two new traffic laws are expected to help curb accidents, and they may affect hot-rod drivers who do not comply with the safe-driving rules. The vehicle inspection law will require all vehicles to have a thorough mechanical inspection and make any repairs and adjustments that might be needed. This inspection must be done before the vehicles can be registered. The Safety Responsibility Act, effective January 1, 1952, may be invoked against drivers involved in accidents with a resulting death, personal injury, or property damage of one hundred dollars or more.

The Texas Safety Association add this final admonition: check you driving; check your vehicles; the life you save may be your own.

A Novel Wastebasket

DO YOU tire of the same wastebaskets? Here's a design that's different, and you can make this basket, or several baskets. There's very little expense involved, but a lot of enjoyment. This laced-together basket is a foot square at the top, and 15 inches deep. The sides taper slightly toward the base.

It's made of Masonite tempered Preswood. Around the sides, about an inch from the floor, nail pieces of three-quarter-inch quarter-round. To these may be nailed the bottom piece of Masonite.

The handholds may be cut with a coping or jig saw. Use a hand drill to make the evenly spaced holes situated one-half inch from the edges of each side. To hold the basket together, lace the holes with leather thong or other fasteners of your selection.

Wastebaskets made of Preswood may be left undecorated or they may be painted, enameled, lacquered, varnished or waxed. This material will last indefinitely, and it's splinter-free.

Letters From The People

ROSS BATES GIVES HISTORY OF BENJAMIN

A recent inquiry from Wm. E. Sahton of Helena, Montana, who is writing a history of Benjamin Franklin and supposed the town of Benjamin was named after him, has brought forth the following historical letter from Ross Bates of Goree:

Benjamin, Texas, was probably named after Benjamin Bedford, who was killed by lightning while standing night guard over a herd of cattle on the section of land where the town now stands.

This occurred about 1885, or possibly 1886. Benjamin Bedford was about 19 years old at the time.

The town was started by Hilory Bedford and two, or possibly more, or his brothers and some brother-in-law. They were devout followers of the religious beliefs of Alexander Campbell and are said to have called themselves the "twelve disciples."

One stipulation in granting the land for Benjamin was that there were to be no liquor stores placed on the land.

Benjamin Bedford was Hilory Bedford's youngest son.

Clay Bedford, who was associated with Kaiser and built so many ships during World War II, was a grandson of Hilory

Bedford. His (Clay Bedford's) mother was a daughter of Hilory Bedford. Clay Bedford's father was a nephew of Hilory Bedford. Clay Bedford was born in Knox County.

Clyde Burnett, a nephew of the noted Burk Burnett, for whom the town of Burkburnett was named, wrote about Benjamin, Texas, for the Texas Almanac a good many years ago. Clyde Burnett was cashier of the First National Bank in Benjamin at the time. He let me read what he had written. He said the town was named after Benjamin Bedford.

Miss Maud Isbell of Munday, Texas, was reared in Benjamin. Her father was the first sheriff of Knox County. She told me yesterday that the town was named after young Benjamin Bedford, whom the lightning killed, and also after a brother of Hilory Bedford.

THE STEADY SUMMONS

His step was slow, his clothing all torn, As he trudged upward, on Glory's road, alone.

When the Gate, Saint Peter swung open wide, He took off his helmet, and stepped inside.

Saint Peter said, "Welcome here my young friend, I'm sure you are glad this is your journey's end.

Your fight has been hard, but the battle is won, You may now have a crown, and lay down your gun."

"If you please, kind Sir, I will sit here awhile, And look back to earth," Then Saint Peter smiled.

"I cannot talk long, for so fast they do come, The grim reaper's busy, you can hear his scythe hum.

There are small ones, and child size, some fat, others tall, Of course, here in Heaven, there is room for them all."

The soldier then spoke, "I wanted to stay, For my own baby girl, arrived there today.

I would like so much, to cuddle her near, And gaze in her little face sweet and dear,

To stroke her hair, and list to her voice, But then came a war, I had no choice."

Then the wise old saint spoke thus of man, "He is destroying himself, as fast as he can.

In war, and in traffic, with eating, and drink, His speed is so fast, there is no time to think.

He is lazy, and careless, and with his stubborn will, He is his own worst enemy, still."

What is that?" cried the soldier, as he points from on high, To a great ray of light, flashing bright in the sky!

"That's their Hope, springs eternal in all human breasts, Which is one thing, of earth, that can stand every test.

If tomorrow, they would have a better day, They must lay the plans, and mold the clay."

The soldierman asked for his robe of white, In place of his uniform, worn for the right,

That he might never his duty shirk, He was ready to begin, his Heavenly work.

But he was then told, that his tasks were all done, On No-Man's land, his race he had run, Think well on these lines, here written to you, Dear Reader, for each word of it is too true.

—S. STONE, Gilliland, Texas.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 27—One reason the livestock prices at Fort Worth and all over the Southwest are maintaining such a stable line can be credited to the "bear" stories being spread over the nation as to the "dire and awful drought" reports being put out by some nationally circulated columnists and some nationally heard radio commentators.

One network gabber in particular dwelt on the Texas drought recently and his doleful "pulpit" style of talking made right gloomy listening.

Truth is, of course, the drought is doing nobody any good.

But, before they start the funeral services we'd like to go on record just like Mark Twain did on hearing of his own demise, that reports of the agricultural death in the Southwest are being greatly exaggerated.

During the past week numerous telegrams, letters and telephone calls have come from such widely diverse points as California, Michigan, Tennessee, North Carolina and Georgia. These communications come from livestock farmers and others seeking "bargains" in starving Texas cattle.

Typical was the Tennessee man's offer to purchase 300 choice three-year-old cows for around $200, maybe $250 a head.

Naturally the commission in Fort Worth sent this fellow a reply in which he pointed out that Texas was full of people who would pay much, much more for that type of cows. Also, he pointed out that as far as anyone knows, nobody wants to sell such cows at all and certainly not at any such discounts as the gentleman from Tennessee had in mind.

However, as we mentioned in the opening paragraph, these "bear" stories are helping to keep prices up because inquiries from all over the nation for stockers and feeders are coming into Fort Worth every day.

The railroads are having a hard time getting enough stock car to keep cattle and calves rolling to these distant points.

There never has been a late Summer market equal to the present demand and so it appears that the bearish reports have whetted the appetites of the buyers and it is benefitting everyone by keeping prices ver- stable.

Hog prices worked 25 to 50 cents higher early last week, but lost the gains before the week was out. Failure of hog prices to climb as they usually do in August can be credited to the large supplies going to market. Last week 12 major markets reported 307,000 hogs marketed. This was 56,000 more than in the same week a year ago.

Estimates call for 90 million cattle on farms and ranches by January 1. Some observers feel this is a dangerously high number. Other observers feel that the increase in livestock population that cattle supplies are still short of actual needs.

This group points to the fact that during 1950 the United States imported four times as much meat as was exported. Some 368 million pounds were imported, only 86 million pounds of meat were sent abroad.

Just for the record: Great Britain is the world's largest importer of meat.

Typical of the extreme competition among feeder buyers and packer buyers was the load of steers sold at Fort Worth last week at $34. Feeders got the cattle but they were finished well enough to attract a bid of $33.85 from one packer and a bid of $33.75 from another packer.

Feeder buyers are getting virtually all the two-way cattle these days.

Several paragraphs back I referred to the current market as very stable. Here's and example. A feeder of good cattle near Lubbock is a gentleman named Stavlo. Two months ago he had a load of around 1,300-pound steers at Fort Worth at $35.35. Last week he had another load just like them here. The price was $35.35.

That's what this commentator would call a steady, steady market. Right?

Very broad demand for ewes to go back to the country now. Many aged ewes with broken mouths or solid mouths, or with "cheater" mouths are being sorted out of the culls coming in and going to grass. At present prices, if they raise a lamb, they will pay off.

Mrs. Erna Mae Lee of Wichita Falls visited friends and relatives here the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wren and Erwin were visitors in Seymour last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Gafford and Mrs. Parker visited in Cleburne over the week end.

Barnett-Rodgers Vows Exchanged On August 18th

Miss Betty Jo Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnett of Benjamin, became the bride of Murry Rodgers on Saturday, August 18, at 9 a. m. Rev. Emil V. Becker, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Knox City, read the single ring ceremony at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Barnett of Benjamin.

Mrs. Inez Hohn of Spur, cousin of the groom, was matron of honor, and Roy Rodgers of Claremont served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Hohn wore a mulberry faille suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.

For the wedding the bride chose a navy blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Grand Canyon, Ariz., and points of interest in New Mexico. They will make their home

New Defense Bond Drive To Open Sept. 3

The "largest possible" total of sales will be the goal of the Defense Bond Drive to be held Sept. 3 through Oct. 27, Nathan Adams of Dallas, state Defense Bond chairman, announced Thursday.

There will be no dollar quota. Mr. Adams said in a letter to W. E. Braly, Defense Bond chairman for Knox County.

"Instead, Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder has asked us to sell as many Defense Bonds as possible to back up our armed forces and to help resist the pressure of inflation," Mr. Adams said. He urged the local chairman, however, to set the county a goal "high enough to be a challenge to you and your committee."

"The people want a part in the nation's defense effort," he said. "Right now the most practical way for them to help is for them to buy U. S. Defense Bonds."

Mr. Adams said that volunteers are being organized in every community of the state to conduct intensive campaigns during the drive, which is the first since outbreak of the Korean war more than a year ago. Emphasis will be placed on increasing sales through the payroll savings plan, which permits employees to buy bonds by having deductions made from wages or salaries, and the Bond-A-Month Plan, through which bank customers can buy bonds automatically.

Walter Jenkins Favors A Sound Farm Program

Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls, candidate of Congress in the special election to be held Sept. 8, this week expressed violent disagreement with proposals that the government stop doing anything to assure that the farmer receives a full share of the national income.

"Agriculture is the backbone of the 13th Congressional District," Jenkins declared. "What happens to farmers is important to every one of us."

The 33-year-old former administrative assistant to Senator Lyndon Johnson then proceeded to compare prices received for farm products today with prices received in the early 'thirties.

"The total cash income of all the farmers in the country was considerably below two billion dollars in 1932," Jenkins pointed out. Last year it was well over thirty billion dollars. That's an actual increase of around 1600 per cent. An even when you take into consideration the increased cost of living, the real increase in cash farm income amounts to around 650 percent."

Jenkins added that farm mortgages have decreased in number yearly since 1932. Eighty per cent of the nation's farms have electricity now, he said, compared with only 11 per cent in 1932.

"It is simply not enough to have a Congressman who promises to be against everything that is proposed for the good of the people generally, he asserted. "I don't believe the people of the 13th District want a hired man who serves notice in advance that he doesn't aim to do any work for them."

MINATURE WORLDS INTIMATELY FILMED

A unique approach to the miracles of creation is seen in Walt Disney's newest True-Life Adventure, "Nature's Half Acre," in which bird and bee and flower are presented in dramatic moods.

Pollenization in the honey-moon of bee and flower is seen in close-up, as are birds in their nesting and brooding. Death battle and mutual aid among friendly species highlight the action under the magnifying lenses of the 16 cameramen-naturalists who contributed the scenes now coordinated and amplified on the screen with special music "Symphony of Spring" and narration. The action rivals that of Disney's Academy Award winning entries, "Seal Island" and "Beaver Valley." RKO Radio releases the featurette, which is enhanced with print in Technicolor. Showing at the Roxy Theatre Sunday and Monday.

OPS Will Survey Grocery Markups

The Office of Price Stabilization is planning a nationwide survey of wholesale and retail grocery price markups with the view of revising present markups to reflect cost changes and the new requirements of the Defense Production Act amendments of 1951. The Fort Worth District OPS office explained that should the survey indicate that the markups are either too high or too low, the regulations high or low, the regulations CPR 14, 15, and 16, would be promptly revised to reflect the results of the study. The survey will also determine the need for establishing margins for non-food items handled mainly by food dealers, such as household supplies, the announcement said.

Antique Automobiles

Do you plan to sell your old Stutz Bearcat, or getting rid of the '08 Winton Six Uncle Tom left you? Or do you collect antique automobiles? In either case, there is no ceiling price provided your car is more than 25 years old, says the Fort Worth District OPS office. Because antique cars do not enter into the cost of living, or cost of defense, the Office of Price Stabilization had added such vehicles to the list of products exempted from price controls. However most cars of the type bought for personal needs ceiling prices are in effect. These prices are based on the used car evaluations published in standard and officially accepted automobile price guide books.

Miss LaVerne Albus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Albus, returned home for a few days visit after attending the summer session of the University of Colorado, Boulder. She will leave at the end of the week for Brady, Nebraska, where she is employed for the coming year.

Funeral For Wm. G. Butler Is Held August 17

William Glenn Butler, a resident of Bomarton for the past year, died Wednesday, August 15, in the Baylor County hospital where he had been a patient of several weeks. Mr. Butler grew up in Goree and had retired about a year ago when a heart condition forced him to quit this position as company controller for the Continental Oil Company. He had been stationed at Ponca City, Okla., and at Houston. He was only 44 years of age.

Among the survivors are his wife, the former Gladys Allen of Bomarton; a son, Don Allen Butler, a senior student at Oklahoma A. & M. College, Stillwater; and three brothers, Roy Butler, Bomarton, Hervey Butler, Goree, and Robert Butler of Anton.

Funeral services were held in the Mahan Funeral Chapel, Friday, August 17, at 4:00 p. m., officiated by Rev. John E. Lewis, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Interment was in the Riverview Cemetery. Mahan Funeral Home was in charge of the services.

Mr. Butler was a man of the highest principles of character, and of standing among his fellows. It seems a great tragedy for him to be taken at the prime of his manhood. Many good friends sorrow for his going, and extend to the sadly bereaved wife their tenderest sympathy.
