

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

People are of different and varied opinions.

And that's what makes a world of agriculture, industry, government—and politics.

We're of the opinion that you are of the same opinion we are about two of the "hottest" things coming up for our consideration this week—the weather and the 13th district congressional race.

Verbally, we've said everything about the weather we can find words to express—which hasn't helped the weather none.

Up Wellington way Sunday, we felt a slight breeze from the north and heard the remark that maybe it was our first norther, which, according to the old adage, meant 60 days until the first killing frost. We quickly mops our brow and opines: "That's just too long to wait!"

So we'll turn our thoughts to the other "hot" subject.

Saw in the papers last week where people of the 13th district are more interested in receiving a good rain than in electing a congressman.

As we view the skies today (Monday), we note very little indication of getting the rain. But Saturday, we must elect our congressman.

One of the eight candidates who would take the seat of Ed Gossett at Washington, some four or five of them have visited Munday quite frequently during recent weeks. If you haven't seen them personally, you can find their placards tacked up on most every light and telephone pole in the business district.

The boys are using that "combat veteran" phrase about as often as we used to hear the "born on a little farm" during political years. Don't know what sort of vote-getting phrase these modern "hospital babies" are going to cook up when they grow up and enter politics.

This means, of course, that the farmer vote and the veteran vote is worth going after and not to sneezed at.

We're not saying, but we've heard it said locally, that possibly the best man for the job is Judge Frank Ikard. Anyway, he will be polling some votes in a big way when the counting starts Saturday. We're going to find several to split the votes in the Wichita-Montague county area.

There's that "guy named Joe." We're going to venture the guess that Joe Jackson will poll practically all the Republican votes, plus some of the Democrats.

Not saying we will, but it could be possible to pull one of those panhandle tricks in the 13th district and elect a Republican to the office.

Senator Wayne Wagoner of Montague County is also a strong contender. He's had some years of experience down Austin way and thinks he can do a good job in Washington. We imagine he's entertaining the hope that you think so, too.

Then there's State Representative Doug Crouch of Denton. Doug, as you know if you've seen one of his cards, is "no-body's yes-man" and he's "on the side of the people." Doug will get some votes, too.

Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls believes his experience in Washington as Senator Lyndon Johnson's assistant makes him the bet man for the job. He'd like for you to have his belief Saturday, or we guess wrong.

W. D. McFarlane of Graham has had experience in the past which he believes will qualify him to occupy that seat with credit to the district. He served as congressman prior to Mr. Gossett. Some said he made a "powerful speech" here one day last week, but there were few

Last Rites For Neley M. Howry Held Sunday

Neley Monroe Howry, well known resident of Goree for many years, passed away on Saturday, September 1. He was born August 7, 1874 in Kaufman County, and was 77 years and 25 days of age.

He moved to Young County where he was united in marriage to Miss Lula Ribble on June 7, 1903. To this union were born eleven children, eight sons and four daughters, who are:

C. M. Howry, Lomita, Calif.; C. W. Howry, Goree; Mrs. Eldon McSwain, Goree; E. F. Howry, Goree; Mrs. Troy Gragston, Las Cruces, N. M.; Narvel D. Howry, Phoenix, Ariz.; Roy L. Howry, Yuma, Ariz.; G. A. Howry, Munday; Marvin M. Howry, Guthrie, Okla.; and C. B. Howry, Yuma, Ariz. One daughter, Mrs. Pete Smith, preceded him in death.

Other relatives include 33 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren and four sisters, Mrs. Eddie Higgins, Pampa; Mrs. Minnie Spain, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Lillie Henderston, Sterling, Okla.; and Mrs. Ora Winn, Eldorado, Kans.

Mr. Howry had many friends and was well known in and around Goree, having spent about 26 years in the area.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Goree at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, with Rev. Jess Gray officiating, assisted by Rev. S. E. Stevenson.

Active pallbearers were Melvin Cooksey, Calvin Robertson, Tom Harlan, W. O. Barnett, H. H. Edwards and Hubert Blankinship. Flower bearers were Mrs. Wilfred Kennedy, Mrs. Clarence Jones, Mrs. Calvin Robertson, Mrs. Harold Beaty, Mrs. Lloyd King, and Mrs. Taylor Cooksey.

His body was laid to rest in the Goree Memorial Cemetery by the side of his daughter. Burial was in charge of Laningham Funeral Home.

"He leaves to mourn his passing many friends and relatives. May God be with him 'til we meet again."

Breakfast For Country Club's Members Set

Members of the Munday Municipal Country Club are going to eat breakfast again. They do almost every morning, we imagine, but this time it will be another group meeting.

The breakfast will be held at the City Grill next Friday morning at 5:30 o'clock. The fact that the breakfast is free should be an inducement for a large attendance.

Business of importance to the advancement of the club will be discussed at the meeting.

Members report that work on the grass green is coming along in good shape, and they are looking forward to the Munday course being one of the prettiest golf courses in this area.

Simpson Observes His 84th Birthday

J. F. Simpson, well known pioneer, observed his 84th birthday on Thursday, August 30. It was an enjoyable day for Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, who had relatives present for the birthday dinner.

Helping Mr. Simpson observe the day were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Crawford of Stamford and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Simpson and family of Munday.

BARBER SHOPS CHANGE HOURS FOR CLOSING

A change in closing hours for Haynie's Barber Shop and Gafford's Barber Shop were announced on Wednesday morning.

In the future the shops will close at 5:30 p. m. on week days, and at 9:00 p. m. on Saturdays. It was stated.

A. E. Holmes of Dallas visited with his sister, Mrs. and Mrs. Dee Clough, Tuesday of this week.

Stodghill On Dealer Trip To Detroit Area

J. L. Stodghill, Ford tractor dealer in Munday, is getting a first hand look at the plants that help turn out his products.

He is one of the 54 Texas Ford tractor leads who are guests of The Stewart Company of Dallas for three days in the Detroit area. He and his colleagues left Dallas last Sunday via American Airlines to Chicago on a special flight scheduled to inspect the vast production facilities of Ford and to gain a closer knowledge of their products.

The Stewart Company, sponsors of the junket, set up a tight and busy schedule in Detroit and vicinity to keep the Texas tractor dealers hopping.

On the program are visits to the Ford River Rouge plant, the Edison Institute, Greenfield Village, the Tigers-White Sox ball game, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the tractor production line at Ford's Highland Park plant, the General Motors preparation plant at Birmingham, Mich., the Dearborn proving grounds at Deer Lake Hills farm and the Elwood Inn at Windsor, Canada.

The group returned to Dallas Wednesday.

Farm Family Meeting Set For Thursday

A "farm family meeting" for all farm and ranch people of Knox County is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at the Munday school gymnasium. Problems confronting the farm and ranch people of the county will be discussed at this meeting.

Representatives from the P. M. A., Soil Conservation Service, P. C. A., veterans administration, vocational agriculture and the Texas Extension Service.

All farm families and others of this area who are interested in farm and ranch activities, are urged to attend this meeting.

Oil Activities

The best well to be completed this far in the North Knox City pool is that of Skelly Oil Company No. 1 G. F. Stubbs, four miles of Knox City.

The well was recently completed for 119.95 barrels of 37 gravity oil in four hours through 24 64 inch choke for a calculated potential of 719.70 barrels per day. Production was through perforations opposite the Palo Pinto lime, at 4,165 to 4,289 feet. Gas and oil ratio was 302-1. Tubing pressure registered 195 pounds and casing pressure was 324 pounds.

The pay was topped at 41.161 feet and the well was drilled to 4,290 feet, later being plugged back to 4,285 feet.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

Our Citizens of Tomorrow

Dr. Dick Harrell of Dallas underwent a major operation at a Dallas hospital last Tuesday morning, the surgery requiring several hours to perform.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrell went to Dallas early this week to be with their son and are remaining at his bedside for several days. Gene Harrell and Dr. D. C. Elland were present for the operation, returning home Tuesday night. They reported that Dr. Harrell stood the operation fine, and his recovery is expected to be complete, although slow.

RONALD FOSHEE TAKES POSITION IN DALLAS

Ronald Foshee, recent graduate of Texas A. and M. College, left this week for Dallas, where he has accepted a position with the John Deere Equipment Company.

He reported for physical examination at the induction center in Wichita Falls last Friday, and it is probable that he will be called into the service.

RETURN FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brogden and daughters, Joyce, Reba and Karen, have returned home from a visit to points in southern and northern California. They were joined in El Paso by Joyce's husband, Pvt. Rhonal P. Phillips, who made the trip with them.

MRS. BAKER'S BROTHER PASSES AT FLOYDADA

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker received a message Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Baker's brother, Ross Henry of Floydada, who died suddenly Tuesday evening.

Mr. Henry was known to many local people, having visited in the Baker home on numerous occasions. He was a prominent business man in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left immediately upon receipt of the message and are remaining for the funeral services which were scheduled for 3 p. m. Thursday at Floydada.

WE ARE GETTING NOWHERE

(An Editorial)

It's something to be going places at a fast clip. It's something again to be just spinning wheels!

And spinning wheels is just what the Munday area—farmers and business men alike—are doing in regard to labor for harvesting the annual cotton crops. Year after year, we depend upon what we term "transient labor" for this work, and year after year the problem of having housing for them on farms and sanitation facilities for them in the town is becoming more and more acute.

Our laborers in the cotton fields come to town to purchase their every-day needs. In damp, cold weather, they hover in their trucks trying to keep warm. In warm, pretty weather they congregate on the city hall lawn. There's no place for them to congregate in town. After they've made their purchases, they must vacate places of business to make room for more customers.

This has "opened the eyes" of many people as to the need for a reception center for these laborers—a place where they can congregate—and enjoy the facilities such as rest rooms, show-ers, etc.—a headquarters, so to speak, for laborers who come here without first having jobs. Other towns have established reception centers, which are serving as an aid in getting laborers for the cotton fields. Transient laborers know about these places, and quite naturally go to the communities that can best provide their needs.

Such a center can be had for Munday. But it can't be established without some thought, some work, and some money from those whose "eyes are opened" to the need.

Labor camps which have been operated by gins, oil mills, etc., are not serving the purpose. Many laborers refuse to live in such camps. It seems the time is ripe for farmers and merchants to begin studying these needs in seriousness.

From here on out, we must depend upon transient laborers to gather our cotton. The time, is here, too, when we must provide for their needs. It's something to think about.

Sargent Lowe Gins The Second Bale In Munday

The second bale of cotton for 1951 to be ginned in Munday was brought in last Thursday by Sargent Lowe. It was ginned about noon by the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Mr. Lowe received 490 pounds of lint cotton and 900 pounds of seed from this bale. The cotton was purchased by the Farmers Co-op Gin at 36 cents a pound.

Since that time three other bales have been ginned by this plant. There were brought in by L. B. Patterson, Jr., Gene Michels and Earl Pruitt.

Signal Lights In Operation At School Area

The two traffic lights at approaches to the high school campus, which have been in "storage" during the school vacation period, were placed back into operation the first of this week.

All motorists are urgently requested to observe these signals as a protection to the lives of children attending the public schools. It is expected the lights will be on during school hours only, as was done last year.

"We realize it is some inconvenience to stop and wait for the lights to change," D. E. Whitworth, chief of police, said Tuesday, "but for the safety of our school children we ask that this be done. We should not deem it an inconvenience to protect the lives of those children, who at early school age do not have the forethought to protect themselves against traffic hazards."

Whitworth stated that it was not possible to police the area at all times, and he called upon motorists to observe these traffic signals as a precautionary measure.

T/Sgt. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Bloom and daughters, Elaine and Karen, of Waco, spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Norvill, Mrs. Curtis Gollehon and son, Tommie, accompanied them home for a visit.

Judge Morrison Visits In Munday

Judge W. A. Morrison of the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin was a visitor in Munday one day last week. He visited briefly at the Times office, the law office of Billingsley and Bullington and other places in town.

Judge Morrison, elected to a six-year term last year, was making a visit through this section of the country—places he had not visited before. He is one of the few judges of the criminal appeals bench to stop in Munday.

COTTON FOR LUNCH

Cotton is edible, this pretty homemaker shows, as she places squares of cottonseed oil margarine on her luncheon table. Nearly 100 per cent of all cottonseed oil is used in various food products, the National Cotton Council reports.

Munday Moguls Play At Crowell Friday Night

Despite the hot and sultry weather, the Munday Moguls have been "hitting the dirt" and going through others phases of strenuous practice during the past few weeks in preparation for the 1951 football schedule which opens Friday night of this week.

The charges of Coaches Green and Steward will open the season on Friday night at Crowell, when they engage the Crowell Wildcats in what will be the initial game of the season for both teams. Although this is a non-conference game, the annual Mogul-Wildcat tilt is always an interesting one.

Many fans of both teams are expected to be on hand Friday night to see first-hand what their teams have in store for the season.

The Munday coaches recently announced the ten-game schedule for the Moguls. It is as follows:

- Sept. 7, Crowell there.
- Sept. 14, Seymour here.
- Sept. 21, Rochester here.
- Sept. 28, Rule, there.
- Oct. 5, Merkel, there.
- Oct. 12, open date.
- Oct. 19, Albany, here.
- Oct. 26, Roby, there.
- Nov. 2, Roscoe, here.
- Nov. 9, Haskell, here.
- Nov. 16, Throckmorton, there.

Hot Weather Dims Hopes For Cotton Crop

The hot, dry weather which has been our portion for several weeks, has dimmed hopes for a good cotton crop locally and all over Texas.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported this week that anticipated improvement in the north and northwest from rain two weeks ago failed to materialize except in favored areas. The Munday area might be classed as one of those favored areas, although the crops here will be extremely light in many cases. Travelers from other sections passing through this area report cotton looking better here than in most sections.

Some farmers report that portions of their cotton will make a bale to the acre, while some believe they'll be lucky to harvest one-fourth of a bale.

Poisoning for insects continues around Munday. This is an expensive operation which farmers have gone through almost since the cotton came up. Careless worms are doing some damage at present.

A few farmers are planning to defoliate their cotton in the near future, and will use strippers to harvest it.

Stockholders Of Baylor-Knox NFLA Meet Saturday

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Baylor-Knox National Farm Loan Association was held at Seymour on Saturday, September 1. The meeting was called to order at 2:30 p. m. by the president, J. P. Jones.

Very interesting reports were heard. Attendance and interest were good.

The report of the secretary-treasurer on the financial condition was received with favorable comments on the healthy condition of the association. Much interest was manifest in this report.

Forty members, a number of their wives and several visitors enjoyed ice cream and cold drinks. Suggestions came from those present that a similar affair be had at the next annual meeting.

J. P. Jones, C. W. Hill and H. A. Robertson were re-elected directors.

Mrs. T. J. Baker and son of Munday, daughter and her husband of Dallas visited last week with Travis Baker in Alexander City, Ala., who has been very sick. They also visited a daughter of Mrs. Baker's whom they had not seen in 38 years.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MORRISON, ILL., NEWS: "Our government may topple because you and I have neglected our Ship of State. Directly and indirectly we are sabotaging that sleek, swift vessel designed by the framers of the Constitution to gracefully and successfully take the lead among world governments in the race for a better world. We have allowed barnacles to accumulate on her hull, and her timbers and planking to rot. We have rigged her with ignorance and manned her with incompetence."

BEREA, OHIO, ENTERPRISE: "The construction cost of our own Economic Planners' Arizona irrigation project, together with its so-called 'multi-purpose' trimmings, is to be $708,780,000. But that's just the beginning of what the American taxpayers would have to pay. The Interior Department itself admits that actual cost to the taxpayers, counting interest on the tax-wed money necessary to build it, would be $2,784,509,000. That almost 10 times the total value of all farm lands and buildings in the whole state of Arizona as recorded by the U. S. Census Bureau. Yes, planning by government economic planners comes high!"

CENTRAL CITY, COLO., REGISTER-CALL: "Through June 30, 1951, overseas assistance in all forms since the end of the war has amounted to $55 billion. In other words, 'post-war' rehabilitation and reconstruction abroad has cost the American taxpayers more than arms assistance during the war."

FRAUDULENT INFLATION CONTROL

"It cannot be repeated too often that price control is not a cure for inflation," writes Henry Hazlitt in Newsweek. "It rigiments the economy and ties it in red tape. It inevitably has consequences which provoke demands for more and more controls and lead toward economic totalitarianism. It actually prolongs and intensifies inflation because it unbalances production and causes shortages—and above all because it diverts public attention away from the only real causes of inflation, which is the increase of money and credit."

Price control represents an attempt to substitute an economy run by political edict for an economy which is based on free, competitive enterprise operating in a supply and demand market. Bureaucrats take over many of the functions of the businessman. As an example, ask a retailer to show you some of the orders which have been issued by the Office of Price Stabilization. They are almost limitless in number. They cover every phase of retail operation. Often they are confused, complex and conflicting. Probably every retailer in the country has unwittingly broken the law—simply because he couldn't figure out what the law meant. At best, more and more of his time, money and energy must be given to trying to comply with OPS requirements.

An controlled economy saps a people's vitality.

The will to progress, to take a chance, is weakened. In the long run, production always suffers and the whole economic machine, from the biggest factory to the smallest store, is wound tighter and tighter in red tape. That's what happened throughout most of the world. Do you want it to happen here?

PROFIT CONTROL

In his mid-year message to Congress, President Truman came out flatly for government control of all business profits. This, he said, should be the basis for regulating prices.

Here is a concept, that if it were adopted, would have a cataclysmic influence on the American economy and the American system of government.

First of all, profit control would destroy the incentive which makes for growth, progress, and higher living standards for the people. Why should a man or an enterprise take a chance when, if he is successful, his profit will be stringently limited, whereas, if he fails, he will have to bear the whole loss?

Second, profit control would make it next to impossible for small business to grow. It would not be permitted to earn the money that could be used for expansion.

Third, profit control would have the worst possible effect on all the productive resources of the country—at a time in world affairs when the whole free world depends upon America's productive strength for survival.

Fourth, profit control would inevitably lead to an economy which would be entirely dominated by government. That sort of economy is but one step short of totalitarianism.

In a free enterprise system, we always have profit control—through competition. Arbitrary, political profit control could ruin us.

Weather Bureau's forecasts are said to be accurate 85 per cent of the time.

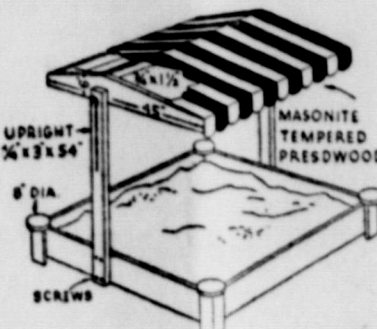

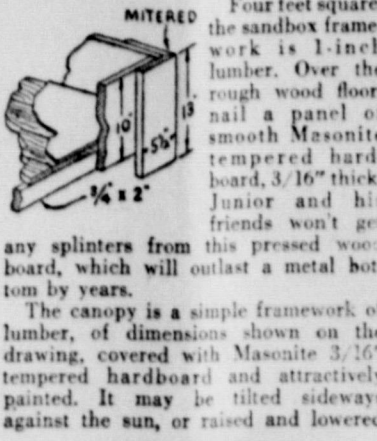

"The chief sources of (Federal) revenue are now personal income and corporation taxes. Can they be hiked sharply without serious economic consequences? The business leaders doubt it. They point out that income-tax rates, especially in the middle and upper brackets, are approaching the saturation point. The Treasury itself has estimated that a 100 per cent tax on all incomes above $25,000—in other words, complete confiscation—would yield only $700,000,000 more in revenue. A 100 per cent bite on all earnings above $6,000—an obvious impracticability—would bring in $6,400,000,000."—Newsweek.

Sandbox with Awning
 HERE'S a sandbox which can be built at home. An important feature is the adjustable awning which will keep the scorching sun from spoiling Junior's play. Because of its construction, this sandbox-awning combination will cost less and outlast the outfit purchased ready-made.

Four feet square, the sandbox frame-work is 1-inch lumber. Over the rough wood floor, nail a panel of smooth Masonite tempered hard-board, 3/16" thick. Junior and his friends won't get any splinters from this pressed wood board, which will outlast a metal bottom by years.

BOYCE HOUSE

This is the story about the courage of a faithful dog. In the winter of 1880, two mining engineers, Andrews and Wiswall, from Denver, stopped at the camp of Texas Rangers at Ysleta, near El Paso. They were driving a new hack with a fine team as well as a saddle pony, which was being led. They had a complete camping outfit and there was one other feature of the entourage—a handsome black shepherd dog. They were well supplied with rifles. Shotguns and revolvers. They wanted to purchase a hundred burros and were on their way to the Pecos Valley, New Mexico. From Ysleta, they decided to take a short course—the abandoned Butterfield route, though they were warned that this was hazardous because of Indians.

On the third day, they reached the former station of the old stage line at Crow Flat. While the two men were inside eating, they heard a yell and hurried out to see their horses being driven away by a dozen Indians. And so they found themselves afoot, 100 miles back to the Rangers' camp and 75 miles on to help on the Pecos. They decided again on the shorter route and set out that night. But first they fixed up two dummies as sentinels and left Shep to guard their outfit. The dog wanted to go but they put a side of bacon and a sack of corn down and told him to guard it.

At daybreak after plodding through deep sand, they had made 25 miles and they took a trail through a canyon. At a sharp turn, they caught sight of a band of redskins coming toward them. The two men raced to the top of a peak, hastily piled up rocks and then opened fire. There was an exchange but with no damage, apparently, to either side. Then Andrews called to his companion, "Look!" Boulders were moving up the mountain side!

The Indians were pushing the rocks forward as shields. One of the warriors raised to peer over a boulder and a bullet took him between the eyes. The two men sprang to their feet, ran past the dead Indian, managed to elude the others and when night came on, they trudged back toward the stage line station, which they reached again after having walked 50 miles and having been 36 hours without sleep. Loyal Shep was on duty and was frantic with happiness at seeing them.

The men rested, then again telling Shep goodbye, they set out by the previous hike. They reached a waterhole, 25 miles away, almost a full 24 hours later and it was several days before they arrived, almost exhausted at Ysleta.

A detachment of Rangers was sent to bring back the hack and equipment. It was at night when they rode up to Crow Flat and they were challenged by a bark. Shep recognized them as friends, however, and rolled over and over with joy, and the hardy Rangers, who admired heroism, give him a cheer. The dog had eaten the bacon, and the corn was nearly gone. The top of the wall around the place had been worn smooth by his feet as he paced up and down on watch. Numerous footprints showed that many coyotes had approached; but the dog, aided only by the two dummies, had held the fort. He had been there alone 15 days. That shepherd dog deserves a monument on which should be carved, "Faithful."

Dear Mr. and Mrs. American....

Don't let anybody tell you that, if I'm elected this year, I cannot be re-elected next year. This story, and others rumors are being circulated by agents of the Fair Dealers because they are scared to death that an anti-Fair Deal congressman will go to Washington who will really fight their corrupt machine.

This time, I will be able to serve you in the House for one full year. During that time, I will have built up a congressional record that you and your family can be proud of. When I return next year, I will be able to stand on that record with pride and I know that then, as now, you won't have a single doubt in your mind to re-elect a congressman who has kept his promises and who has fought for your principles, for your freedom, and for your individual rights.

In May, 1950, another special election was held. Ben Guill of Pampa was elected Republican congressman for the 18th District. Ben was able to serve only five months in the House before he had to return home and start campaigning all over again in order to be re-elected. In the meantime, his "Democratic" opponent, Walter Rogers, for five solid months, campaigned against Ben on a strictly anti-administration platform.

Yes, while campaigning, Walter Rogers played the role of a strictly anti-administration candidate; he was strongly opposed to the Fair Deal as Ben was. He, too, was against compromises, corruption, inflation, and higher taxes. For this reason only, the supposedly conservative, anti-administration "Democratic" candidate, Walter Rogers, beat Ben Guill in the general election by 2,000 votes.

Then, a typical professional political swith took place. The moment this man Rogers arrived in Washington he reported to Sam Rayburn; he has worked for the Fair Deal ever since, and has voted with them 90 per cent of the time.

This confidence trick took place in the 18th Congressional District only a year ago. It must not happen here. It must not happen to you.

Don't be fooled by the platforms of my opponents. The very party my opponents have allegiance to, is against the very platforms that are being preached to you. If you vote for any one of my opponents, Harry Truman MUST believe that you are showing, once again, blind approval of his primrose path into the land of socialism.

Is that your desire? What else CAN Harry Truman think? All he wants from you is another Democratic congressman, any kind of Democrat. All he wants from you is another vote to increase his power. Is that your desire? Do you want to send a congressman to Washington whose boss will be Sam Rayburn?

How can you show the Fair Dealers that you are disgusted with corruption, reckless spending, higher taxes, and the big steal of our tidelands, if you send a congressman to Washington who is a member of the Fair Deal party, and whose every wish will be denied if he doesn't play ball with Bill Boyle and his Pendergast gang?

There is only one way to register your protest, and that is to vote for the only anti-fair Deal candidate, the only anti-administration candidate. Let us all, tell Harry Truman, "This is the end of the line."

I just can't sit by any longer and watch our country being destroyed economically from within, and being outfoxed without. This is the leventh hour. If we do not return to sanity now, we may never have the chance again.

The road back can start right here, Saturday, September 8th. Let us show the whole country that we Texans refuse to continue to vote for the new socialistic wolf, the wolf that gobbled up the old traditional donkey.

Let us show country, by our individuality, that we demand the return of a government that will conduct the affairs of this country once again, according to our traditional constitution. With God's help we will succeed.

Yours sincerely,

Joe Jackson

British Count Will Enroll In Texas University

(With the compliments of the DOMINION NEWS AGENCY.)

Count Martyn de Beaumont will arrive in Austin, Texas between September 15th and 20th, 1951. He will be attending the University of Texas for some time, and will be studying American culture and American business methods.

The Count, who is 21, is a member of a very ancient French aristocratic family, his branch of which has been established in Ireland for some considerable time. He himself is a British subject and has recently graduated (at an exceptionally early age) with an Honours Degree in Jurisprudence from Oxford University (England).

Whilst at Oxford the Count rapidly became a leading member of the University fraternity, and, in 1947, he took over the 30 year old University weekly, the "Cherwell". Americans may remember that this was the magazine which was banned for a period by the University authorities for circulating a questionnaire to the Women's Colleges, which was not approved ("Time", February 1947).

After running the magazine for 4 years, the Count has recently sold his rights to the Count de Pazzi. During his 4 years of ownership of the magazine, he proved himself a most energetic journalist, quadrupling circulation, and establishing a name and sales for his paper throughout Great Britain. For the first time, too, in 30 years, the "Cherwell" ran at a profit.

Subsequently, the Count has been in London and Paris, where he has become well known in the leading social and cultural circles. During the recent London Season, he was prominent at all the leading functions, and has become a leader of the "younger set" of the British Social Circle.

Uncle Sam Says

Your Series "E" Defense Bonds are better than ever. You may now hold them another 10 years which means that in 20 years you will get 77 per cent more than your original investment. For instance: A $75 Defense Bond purchased today will equal $100 in 10 years and in 20 years it will equal $133.33. Invest today for your future financial security by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. If you don't save regularly, you don't save at all.

U. S. Treasury Department

Now recovering from a severe, and nearly fatal, attack of typhoid fever, the Count has decided upon a change of surroundings, and leaves England, for a year's stay in the United States, on August 29th.

He is taking with him his British car, a novel type of vehicle, probably unknown in the United States. The car (called a "Morris Minor") is of only 8 horsepower (British), is a sedan model, seats four persons, their luggage, and average 40 miles per gallon. It has a top speed of 65 m. p. h., an hydraulic braking system, and the latest type of independent suspension. He is motoring down from New York in this car, and expects to arrive in Austin by September 20 when he will go into residence at the University.

The Count of Beaumont himself is considered to be a modest and publicity-shy person, has an individual sense of humor, and has made many friends. He rarely uses his title, and prefers to be known by his first name. In recent years he has contributed many articles to the Press, and has a keen and lively journalistic style. He is widely traveled throughout Europe, which he knows intimately. He is looking forward keenly to his stay in the United States, and hopes to be able to meet as many persons from all walks of life, as possible.

Betty Jo Barnett Honored At Shower On August 16th

Miss Betty Jo Barnett, who became the bride of Murray Rodgers on August 18, was honored at a miscellaneous shower on Friday, August 16, from 4 to 6 p. m. at the club house in Benamin.

Guests were received by Mrs. Lee Snailum and registered by Mrs. Carl Patterson, who presided at the bride's book.

The refreshment table was covered with a beautiful lace cloth, the crystal punch bowl, individual frosted cakes, and white napkins with blue flowers.

Miss Gean Galloway presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Gathen Rodgers served the cake. A number of guests registered during the afternoon, while others sent gifts.

Hostesses were Meses. Oran Driver, Frank Hill, R. S. Brannon, Rodger, Snailum, Birdie Pyatt, Tom West, Carl Patterson, L. A. Parker, O. L. Patterson, and Miss Gean Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ehlers and Judy and Jane, of Floydada, visited friends here over the week end.

Mrs. Paul Pruitt and Mrs. Sargent Low were business visitors in Abilene last Friday.

Methodist WSCS Starts Meetings, Autumn Program

The W. S. C. S. opened its autumn program on Monday morning, September 3, at the First Methodist Church in Munday. The society had as guests members of the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Soft music on the organ was played by Mrs. M. F. Billingsley as the women gathered in the church sanctuary. Mrs. E. E. Lowe, program leader, opened the meeting with the hymn, "Lead On Oh King Eternal." Rev. R. L. Butler led the group in prayer, which was followed by the song, "This Is My Father's World." Mrs. J. C. Borden gave the devotional, "If any man would come after me, let him take up his cross and follow me." Rev. Butler then sang "The Shepherd of Love," accompanied by Mrs. Billingsley.

Mrs. Walter Rodgers brought some wonderful thoughts concerning religion and economics. Mrs. E. T. Pittard brought an interesting picture of life and customs in Japan and of the great need of missionaries in Japan.

A lovely luncheon consisting of cold salads, sandwiches, apple pie a la mode and iced tea was served buffet style. The tables were gaily centered with fresh cut flowers in autumn colors.

Hostesses for the occasion were Meses. D. E. Holder, G. R. Eiland, and R. D. Atkinson. The flower committee was Mrs. Worth Gafford and Mrs. R. L. Ratliff, while Mrs. P. V. Williams and Mrs. S. E. McStay composed the reception committee.

Mrs. Juanita Rippetoe received a phone call last Saturday night, from her husband who is a lieutenant in the Army, stationed in Korea. He had a five day furlough and called from Tokyo, Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holder, Jr., and little daughter of Lubbock visited relatives and friends here over the week end.

Wichita C. of C. Not Endorsing Any Candidate

Officials of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce have called attention to a paid advertisement in the August 30 issue of this newspaper bought by Elmer Parsih in behalf of Walter Jenkins, candidate for congress, 13th congressional district, which carried a commendation from the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Officials of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce called attention to the fact that the commendation was dated January 17, 1950, and was given to Mr. Jenkins at that time on the occasion of a visit to Wichita Falls by the former Secretary for Air, Sturt W. Symington. Symington declared SAFB a permanent installation on this occasion, and Jenkins, who was then assistant to Senator Lyndon Johnson, was a member of the visiting party. Officials of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce point out that this commendation has no connection with the present political campaign and should not be construed as an endorsement or recommendation.

Littlefield. Mrs. Jones was the mother of Travis Jones, formerly of Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Stewart and daughters of Mountainair, New Mexico, moved back to Goree this week to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Humphreys and daughter spent the week end with relatives in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Roy Smith of Knox City spent Monday with her daughter, Mrs. A. Coyle, and daughters.

Under its state charter as a civic development organization, the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce is a non-political organization and has no authority to state political preferences, and none of the actions of its members should ever be so construed, the officials said.

The political advertisement was run without the knowledge or consent of any official of the Chamber of Commerce.

Senator Estes Kefauver and Texas Attorney General Price Daniel appear together on a program discussing control of organized crime at the recent meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General in Seattle. Kefauver lauded the work of the Texas House Investigating Committee and Attorney General Daniel's conference of county and district attorneys. "As a result of that splendid conference, law enforcement in Texas is much improved and organized gambling largely eliminated," Senator Kefauver said.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in discussing diseases common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is treacherous and undesirable, and the only good thing about it is that if one can avoid it until grown, the chances of never getting it are excellent."

"Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharges of nose, throat, ears, or abscesses of persons all with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles soiled by the patient may cause the disease.

"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of the disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side."

Next year's crop of beef calves may be reduced in numbers as well as quality unless livestock producers give their cattle supplemental feed. The drought that covers most of the state is responsible for the shortage of range and pasture feed.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, AUG. 31—Heavy pressure on hog prices during the month of August has kept the porkers from rising to higher levels as they usually do in the later summer.

The heavy pressure is traceable to the heavy receipts which have been arriving at Corn Belt and River markets. Receipts during the past two months have averaged 25,000 to 50,000 per week larger than a week ago.

Slaughter of hogs is currently 14 to 15 per cent above a year ago and late August indicates that the increase in pork production will run 15 to 20 per cent ahead of the same time a year ago.

This bears out early predictions that hog production was on the rise and to date, the increase appears to be larger than anticipated.

Another factor is the early arrival on the markets this year of hogs that appear to be hitting the market ahead of normal.

This early marketing seems to be due to some degree to the faster finishing of hogs through use of antibiotics and the stimulated growth derived from their use in pig feed.

Cattle and calf trade has again been completely dominated by the stocker and feeder demand.

During the past week at Fort Worth stockers and feeders were strong to $1 higher and typical of some of the good kinds of stockers sold here were the 405 pound calves of R. H. Gaudin of Palo Pinto County. The 68 head brought $39.50. Another strong sale was the shipment of 254 calves from S. D. Howard of Nocona that averaged 458 pounds and topped at $38.50, despite the fact it was mixed steer and heifer calves.

Stocker cows moved out readily.

Present range and pasture conditions in Texas are conducive to the development of Vitamin A deficiency among farm animals. The lack of green feeds, over a long period, may bring on the deficiency. The first symptom is night blindness.

Stockmen in some of the drouthy sections of Texas have taken their appeal for a drouth rate on feedstuffs to the State Railroad Commission. Having been turned down in a direct appeal to the roads for the rate cut, this is the next step.

Good rains and showers in the High Plains and Rolling Plains added further enhancement to prospects for the winter season there. Some day, possibly 20 to 60 days, in the movement of cattle from there, will probably benefit shipments from dry sections coming to market.

"Thank You" — from All the Jenkins Family

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jenkins and Beth, Walter Jr., and the Jenkins twins, John and Joe

"We appreciate your help . . ."

For more than two months, we have been engaged in the campaign for Congress. Marjorie has been working at our little headquarters in Wichita Falls, Marge's mother has been taking care of Beth, Walter Jr., and our twin sons, John and Joe—and I have been out meeting with you, talking with you, listening to you, telling you where I stand.

The campaign ends Saturday, when the polls close. We know that you will cast your vote for the candidate you think will best serve you and best serve the nation in these critical times.

Before election day, though, we want you to know that we are forever grateful to the thousands of friends who have encouraged us, who have gotten out in 116-degree weather to work for us, and who have done so much to make our campaign successful. We would like to thank each of you, individually, but that will take some time—so we have bought this space in your paper to say, "Thank you—thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR DEFENSE BOND TODAY?

Defense is everybody's job. Every individual must realize that the dollars he saves today in Defense Bonds are building power for the nation—not only economic power to back up our great defense effort, but a reservoir of purchasing power for future stability and prosperity when the present emergency is over. You can buy Defense Bonds on the partial payment plan where you work or through the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Defense Bonds are better than ever. Here's why: Series E Bonds mature 10 years after purchase. However, you can hold your matured Series E Bonds 10 years longer. Every $75 invested now equals $100 in 10 years and $133.33 in 20 years.

Lubbock Cotton Defoliation Tests

Results of cotton defoliation tests conducted on experimental plots and in commercial fields at Lubbock in 1950 have been released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Hi-Bred, Stormproof No. 1 and Deltaphine (TPSA) were the most easily defoliated varieties in this test, in which Aero Cyanamid, special grade, defoliant was used, reported E. L. Thaxton, Jr., junior agronomist at the Lubbock Experiment Station.

In the test with the three rates of several different chemical defoliants, best results were obtained with sodium cyanamid at 10 pounds per acre and Shed-a-Leaf at 7 pounds.

SE: commercial defoliants were applied on a uniform field of cotton under the direction of a representative of each chemical company. The chlorate-based defoliants gave the best results for total defoliation in this test.

Thaxton reported that at least 20 gallons of spray solution per acre were necessary to eliminate dry burn in a test on the best

Complete results of these experiments are given in Progress Report 1382, which is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Has His Own Plan For New Pre-Historic Bureau For Washington Bureaucrats

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an extra odd idea this week. He must not be feeling well. Dear editor:

Since it was Friday and I don't like to start a new job on that day and there are some jobs the day ain't been invented yet I'd like to start em on. I was sittin out here on my Johnson grass farm at the creek propped against my favorite tree doin' global thinkin, the man who gets up the earliest, plows the latest and winds up at sundown ain't necessarily accomplishin the most these days, it takes thinkin, too, a man can apparently be dozin in the shade but his brain can be racin, how much Johnson grass has Einstein hood?

And I got to thinkin... Washin'gton seems to be on its toes, it's taking nearly every humanly possible step and tryin some that ain't to meet whatever emergency the global situation may present, from a rain of atom bombs on American cities to bacteria in the drinkin water to salt in the sugar, but there's one item Washin'gton seems to be neglectin and I will appreciate you using your influence to call it to its attention.

The point is this: while personally I don't believe civilization is gonna be destroyed any time soon we ain't carried it to a high enough point of perfection yet to invent the bomb to do it with. I'm goin ahead and makin plans for another crop next year, still and at the same time a man can't be sure, some scientists workin late on a new soap formula may stumble on a chain-reaction idea tonight that will loop the whole world together in one big whoosh, capabel of wipin out all the gadgets we got and all the plants to make em in, along with the people who made em.

All right, say it can happen, ten thousand atom bombs and

FLYING 'WORKHORSE' DESIGNED FOR FARM USE

This 'workhorse of the air' is a new experimental airplane designed especially for performing such farm operations as crop dusting, spraying, and fertilizing. The experimental plane, designed and built for the Civil Aeronautics Administration by Texas A & M College in cooperation with the National Flying Farmers' Association and the aircraft industry, now is making a series of appearances in the cotton-producing states.

five thousand hydrogen bombs and some newer kinds all go off at once, civilization is wiped out and all that's left is a few scattered families back in the holls, a few people whose bomb shelters miraculously held up and they was in there sweepin out at the time, and a straggler here and there who came out the edges. The whole burden of startin' civilization all over again would be on them, and here's my point: they wouldn't be equipped for it. Starve to death as soon as the last can of food they could dig out of the rubble was gone.

I know we got a lot of bureaus in Washin'gton, so many you can sometimes get elected to a precinct office on a platform of knockin half of them in the head, but they ought to make room for one more. We need a bureau to set out now teachin the people how to get along under pre-historic conditions, how to flake an arrow-head, with no tools except a deer horn and no deer horn unless you can stumble on one; how to spear a fish; how to skin a rabbit and save the pelt; how to sew a pair of moccasins; what to sew em with; how to keep a fire goin in a cave for years on end; how to hollow out a canoe; how to dry bear meat in the sun; how to swing a war club; how to paint pictures on cave walls, etc.

Right along with the first aid courses and lessons in gettin out

Cotton Yields Better By Skip Row Planting

Approximately equal yields of cotton were obtained under irrigation by planting two rows and skipping one and by planting one row and by planting each row, according to D. L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station.

Little difference in yields were observed between the two practices in tests conducted under irrigation at Lubbock during the three years 1948-50. Where each row was planted, an average of 382 pounds of lint per acre was obtained, while 370 pounds of lint was obtained from planting two rows and skipping one. During the two dry years of 1948 and 1950, the practice of allowing every third row to remain blank returned greater yields.

In tests conducted under dryland conditions during the four years 1929-32, the practice of planting each row gave an average of 23 percent higher yields. These results were obtained where the "plant two-skip one plots" had two-thirds as many plants as where each row was planted. Jones points out that planting each row hastens maturity as compared to planting two and skipping one.

The practice of allowing each third row to remain unplanted, on the average, retards maturity of a buildin without confusion and returnin to a city after it's bombed, the government ought to be instructin the people in these fundamentals. What we need is a Bureau of Pre-Historic Culture.

I tell you, Washin'gton is sure gonna be in for a lot of ugly criticism if this thing happens and these people emerge from their caves and shelters without even any arrowhead know-how. Yours faithfully, J. A.

NOTICE CONCERNING HUNTING and FISHING

On account of the danger and injury to live stock and the damage caused by grass fires resulting from the negligence of hunters and fishers, we request that there be no hunting and fishing on our property. Considerable expense has been incurred in constructing tanks for the purpose of watering cattle, and when people stay around the tanks, cattle will not come down to drink. The cooperation of all concerned will be appreciated.

The Trend Is Toward JUDGE

FRANK IKARD FOR CONGRESSMAN

The Gainesville Daily Register, the first daily paper in the district to endorse any candidate, said Friday, August 24, 1951:

"IKARD FOR CONGRESS"

"That District Judge Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls is the best selection for election to the office of Congressman from the 13th District is the belief of the Daily Register.

"Judge Ikard is a man of imposing appearance, a forceful speaker and of a friendly disposition.

"He is opposed to socialized medicine and socialization of any business, professional, labor or industry. He opposes any national scheme for education. He supports state rights and state ownership of the tidelands.

"He is in favor of governmental economy and elimination of all non-essential spending. And he favors a strongly developed foreign policy designed to secure world peace."

The second daily paper in the district, the Denton Record-Chronicle, to openly endorse any candidate, said on August 30, 1951, on its editorial page:

"ANALYZING THE CANDIDATES: IKARD IS BEST MAN TO REPRESENT DISTRICT"

"Judge Ikard has a splendid background for the job which has already been outlined in the Record-Chronicle. He is a dignified, high-type gentleman with a good Democratic Party record of the more conservative type and would be a man the citizens of this district could probably depend on for several years of good constructive service in the Halls of Congress."

WALTER JENKINS says:

"The Taxpayer Must Hold the Pursestrings"
READ WALTER JENKINS' PLAN FOR ECONOMY

Everybody talks about economy. But, in politics, most candidates don't get specific.

Walter Jenkins—the candidate who knows the job—has a specific plan for cutting government spending.

Here's his plan:
I. Give Congress control over the Federal Budget.

Today the pursestrings on the taxpayers' money are held by the Bureau of the Budget, an Executive Agency. This agency prepares the Federal Budget, decides how much money shall be asked for, determines what is needed, what is not needed.

The director of the Bureau of the Budget is appointed by the President and works for and with the President.

The result is we have a budget the President wants, not necessarily a budget the people want.

Congress is closest to the people. Congress knows what the people want, what they need, what they can afford to pay for in taxes. Congress ought to establish a staff of its own, supervised by a committee of Senators and Congressmen, to examine every item in the Budget—and cut out those that aren't needed and those that can wait.

Under the present set-up, the people who spend the money are the ones who decide how much to spend. We must change that. The people who pay the taxes—taxpayers—ought to hold the pursestrings.

To do that, Congress must control the Budget.

II. Put cut-off dates on all emergency aid programs.

One great fault with present practices is that once the United States begins a spending program on an emergency basis, the "emergency" seems to become permasave billions by establishing and holding firmly to a definite cut-off date on all emergency spending.

III. Provide incentives for Federal employees to cut spending.

At present, it is standard practice in Washington for all Federal agencies to spend every cent of the money appropriated by Congress. It's a rare agency that turns up with a surplus at the end of the fiscal year. The tradition of free spending is deep rooted.

Substantial savings could be realized if Federal employees were given bonuses—as private employees in industry often are—for any action, recommendation, or decision that resulted in a saving.

Federal employees are now rewarded solely on the basis of seniority. This bonus for economy would give them real incentive for saving. No one can save more, more quickly, than the people who spend the money.

The road back to a balanced spending program—where the Federal outgo matches the Federal income—is a long, hard one. Spending is a habit, not easily cured.

The meat-axe approach will not succeed. You may cut off some program that is unpopular, but, for every dollar saved that way, another dollar will be spent in increased appropriations for so-called "popular programs."

We have got to save money, not only on what we spend abroad, but on what we spend on ourselves here at home. We must save money on operations, save money on administration, save money by increased efficiency.

This requires thoughtful, painstaking, tireless endeavor on the part of your Congressman—to do the job right, your Congressman needs to know the job.

That is common sense budgeting. The Federal Government can

One we've never heard from personally and very little about, is Mrs. Edith Wilmans of Jack County.

Judge James A. Stephens of Benjamin has declared he would fight to return the tidelands to Texas, fight against unnecessary spending, and offered the opinion that taxes would be reduced. That's a platform that'll get some votes.

Now, who will win? We can tell you more about it a week from now.

The point is that each of the above eight a pirants would appreciate your vote. It's your duty and privilege to vote. You vote like you want to—and we will too!

Helping Families Rebuild Is Red Cross' Main Flood Task

A Central Missouri homeowner shows a Red Cross disaster worker how Missouri River flood waters tore out walls inside her home. He and his wife managed to save only a few pieces of bedclothing. Throughout the Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois flood area 425 trained Red Cross disaster workers assisted by hundreds of chapter volunteers are engaged in the Red Cross' biggest part of its disaster job, helping more than 26,000 families back to normal restoring homes, furniture, livelihood for those without means to help themselves. All help is given outright not lent. Flood relief contributions to local Red Cross chapters will finance this help, now costing almost double the original $5,000,000 Red Cross estimate. This help to individual families is not included in the $25,000,000 authorized by Congress for reconstruction of public works, essential businesses, etc.

Chlorate-based defoliants gave the best results for total cotton defoliation in tests conducted last year by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. Other tests indicate that at least 30 gallons of the spray solution per acre were necessary to eliminate dry burn.

There are a lot of reasons why every one should help prevent grass and range fires two of which are: conservation of a short supply of live-stock feed and soil and water conservation. Burned over areas—without vegetative cover—may suffer heavy soil losses if and when heavy, driving rains occur.

Funeral For Willis Colvin Held Wednesday

Willie Colvin, colored, resident of Munday for 13 years, passed away on Sunday, September 2, at the Terrell state hospital. Colvin, who was 55 years of age, had been undergoing treatment in a Big Spring veteran hospital and was transferred to Terrell a short while before his death. Surviving him are his wife, Getavious Colvin; a daughter, Willie Lou Colvin of Fort Worth; three sisters, Emma Tucker of Temple, Lela Moore of McGregor and Lora Anderson of LaRenza; two halfbrothers, Andy Shepard of Moody and Charlie Shepard of Temple.

The body was received in Wichita Falls by the Mahan Funeral Home. Funeral services were held from the Friendship Methodist Church in Munday at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. G. Gilbert, pastor. Burial was in the Old Goree cemetery.

Next year's fruit crop may depend upon the care given the orchard during the late summer and early fall months. Weeds should be controlled and all trees checked for infestations of insects.
