

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

The "dope traffic" in schools of the nation, and of Texas, is nothing to be sneezed at or to be regarded lightly.

And when it comes as close to home as 75 miles, we are brought to realize that maybe the smaller schools of our state—even our own school—are not totally immune to this terrible "disease."

It's probably no fault of any faculty member or of any parent that the deplorable "dope traffic" found its way into the schools where it has already been discovered.

But it has caused some local parents to ponder on what a terrible situation it would be when they're scheming and saving and cutting every financial corner possible in order to give their child an education, and to discover that their child had become an addict to this awful thing.

We can think of nothing more terrible.

It brings us to realize, too, what an important institution our local school is. How we should cherish it, support it, cooperate with it, and guard it against such evils as are creeping into schools of other areas.

We were reminded Tuesday of an editorial that appeared in Munday's issue of the Abilene Reporter-News. A loyal school patron brought it in to us. Because we think it of value, we are reprinting it below. It was headed "Parents and Schools."

"In convention last week the Texas State Teachers Association decided, in sectional meetings, that if parents would help most problems of the schools would be solved.

"The teachers decided they want parents' help in planning buildings, deciding the schools' function and curriculum, and in carrying on activities of students outside schools.

"Wherever there has been close and devoted cooperation between parents and teachers there have been good results. But not all schools achieve this teamwork. Some in Texas do and some don't. Some parents take an active part and interest in school affairs, but those who don't far outnumber the ones who do. Too many of them look upon the desire of parents to help as an interference, but these are happily few and growing fewer year by year.

"Some parents look upon the school as a good, safe place to stash their children while they pursue business, pleasure or indolence. They look to the school for the discipline of their children, for instruction in common morality, and as a day-time baby-sitter.

"Because he never takes the trouble to attend a P.T. A. meeting, or visit the school, or get acquainted with the teachers, that kind of parent isn't of any help to the school and very little help to his child.

"We believe the more time and attention parents put into the schools, the better the product of the schools. Under present conditions the average teacher-load is so heavy that the teacher has little time or energy to do more than direct classroom activities, and even less time to devote to the individual pupil with a problem.

"Our public schools constitute the foundationstones of our way of life, and if a bad job is done there because of the indifference of patrons, the tight-fistedness of the taxpayer, and the general neglect of the public, we will suffer for it."

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MADERA, CALIF., NEW-TRIBUNE: "It seems that labor is having difficulties with labor. Or, to put it another way, the people who usually do the picketing are being picketed. Or to be more precise, the clerical staff of the Communication Workers union in Washington are striking against the union. Why? They say the union bosses won't negotiate a new contract with them."

BEREA, OHIO, ENTERPRISE: "A union has asked an Iowa packing company for free lunches, free fifteen pound hams for Christmas and Easter, and a paid holiday for each employee on his birthday; free legal advice, guaranteed wage, free help from social workers, more recreation, more advice on domestic matters. Oh yes—a wage raise, too along with two hours paid travel time daily."

"We grow in strength and beauty."
CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "We do not advocate press publication of relief rolls, but we think they should be open for free inspection. The taxpayer is entitled to know where his money goes, who gets it and why."

WEST POINT, MISS., TIMES-LEADER: "While the 1951 dollar will buy only 44 cents worth of food, 46 cents worth of building material and 65 cents worth of clothing, it is pointed out it will buy 65 cents worth of ice or $1.01 worth of gas or electricity. It is weakest when we spend it for government, which costs 1,293 per cent more than it did ten years ago."

BAY CITY, MICH., VALLEY FARMER: "By using the tax resources of government to complete overwhelmingly with private industry, the Social Planners constitute themselves a living trap. The people—in whose name the plant is grown—may fall for the flower but in so doing they fall in and are swallowed up."

SHOPPING IN RUSSIA

It would be a good thing if every American—in this area in which the free enterprise system is under constant attack from within and without could pay a visit to a retail store in Russia or one of the other communist countries. That would provide an excellent practical test of the difference between a free competitive economy, and a controlled, totalitarian economy.

In the Russian store, the visitor would find all goods were rigidly rationed—the average citizen is allowed to buy just enough to live at a subsistence level. Prices, of course, are fixed by the government at whatever level the masters of the nation desire—and, save for a few staples such as bread and potatoes, the prices are always extremely high in terms of the buying power of the masses. High prices are a deliberate communist device by which earnings are immediately siphoned back into the coffers of the state.

There is no competition, in our understanding of that word. The government controls everything, and directly owns practically everything, all the way from farm and factory to the store. Even the most modest luxuries are unknown. And many of the necessities are constantly in short supply, so that even meager legal rations cannot be filled.

Contrast this with those show windows of America—our retail store, small and large, chain and independent. The difference is incredible. Only free enterprise can produce abundance and high living standards.

THE "LITTLE MAN" PAYS

Economic Intelligence, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, points out that our present program of heavy government spending and soaring taxes is threatening the efficient performance and future growth of the American economy.

It is undermining the incentive to work and to take risks.

It has reduced the ability and willingness of people to provide venture capital for new undertakings.

It is eliminating opportunity for the individual and for business.

It causes inflation, with consequent loss of confidence in the value of the dollar.

It has led to more and more growth and centralization of government powers.

It has burdened even the low-income groups with a weight of taxation which, up to now, was known only in the days of the greatest despots.

It is a commonplace to justify the ever-increasing tax burden by pointing to the need for a powerful military establishment and for aiding our anti-communist allies. That is a phony alibi. Very heavy cuts in government spending—perhaps as much as $10 billion a year—could be made without harming a sound arms or aid-to-Europe program in any way. This is the money which is being wasted on projects which are totally unnecessary, or which could be indefinitely postponed.

Today it is the "little man" who must bear the main burdens of taxation. He, and he alone, must pay for the bulk of any new tax increases. It remains to be seen whether he will continue to let the government waste his money by the billions—while his take-home pay shrinks and shrinks because of the tax collector.

"Today the American press is the best and freest in the entire world... Nowhere is this freedom more clearly demonstrated or more ably exercised than in the small independent weekly newspapers of our nation. Their freedom from government control, guaranteed by the Constitution, and their freedom from the pressures of great economic organizations insure the maintenance of the same high standards which have characterized their service for so many years."—Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio.

The champagne-drinking, night-clubbing, flitting from place to place, joining the Mohammedan faith and romancing with an Egyptian belly-dancer while still a married man—in short, the pattern of conduct of that rich, pampered Houstonian is an argument in favor of a 100 per cent tax on inheritances. Fortunately, he is an exception.

Two Harvard professors have completed a long and no doubt expensive study and they have come up with the breath-taking announcement that there is a definite relationship between a man's physique and his occupation.

Amazing, isn't it? But, come to think of it, I never knew of a deaf-mute becoming a pulpit orator or of a midget who was a heavyweight prize-fighter.

So, if you are six feet and weigh only 120 pounds, you probably will not become a blacksmith. And if you don't have any practical sense at all, if you don't watch out you will likely become a college professor—probably at Harvard.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says If This Country Really Desires Fantastic Weapons, Give His A Trial

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has joined the fantastic weapons school of thought, his letter this week reveals. He ought to be good at it.

Dear editor:

I have noticed from time to time lately some Congressman or other expert in Washington has been given a secret look at some of the secret weapons this country has and invariably they pull themselves together and announce the things as unbelievable, fantastic, they're capable of sledge-hammer blows, knock-out blows, but I notice the war in Korea is still being fought, unless they've signed the turce by the time this reaches you, with the old-fashioned weapons like hand rifles, artillery, and American boys.

Now I know this country's capable of producing some fantastic weapons, but up to now they are mostly experimental models and I have been thinkin. If the talk about fantastic weapons is designed to scare the enemy, why don't they really unlimber? Why do pikers in this fantastic business?

For example, I have a weapon that is, I have it in my mind, not exactly in the production stage, no use having a boat ready to ship any overseas yet, which can be fired say from an abandoned field in a safespot and will sweep around and around the world without stoppin, slicin down bulldins like a sharp knife peelin an apple from stem to bottom. All you have to do is fire it and yell, duck and the war is over and mankind is back

Lone Star State 4-H Winners

Roger Lenders, Jr., Ann Mimmie, Gene Tongate, Virginia Eckhart

TOP RANKING records in the 1951 National 4-H Achievement and Leadership programs have brought state honors to four Texas club members. Brief outlines of their records follow:

One of the highest honors bestowed on 4-H Club boys and girls in the 4-H Achievement award. State-wide recognition for brilliant records in achievement has been awarded Roger (Jackie) Lenders, Jr., 19, Leonard, and Ann Mimmie, 16, Banquete. Not only was their record in 4-H Club work outstanding, but they have earned respect and admiration in their communities for service to others.

Roger has been a club member for nine years and has completed 48 projects. In 1947 he won the state award in the Texas sheep and Goat Raisers contest and received a trip to the National Club Congress in Washington last June as a state winner. As a freshman at Texas A. & M. last year, he was chosen as the outstanding student in agriculture.

Ann has completed 61 projects during her six years as a club member. She has on a 90-acre farm with her parents. She has excelled in food preservation, foods, clothing and home improvement. Ann has received many awards for exhibits and her participation in judging contests. She was chosen as the Gold Star girl in 1950 and attended the State 4-H Board-Up. She is attending the Arts and Industries

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Gene served his club as president and secretary during eight years in club work. He was also elected president for the district 4-H campment and has attended three 4-H state "Round-Ups." Gene has consistently taken top honors with his sheep demonstrations for the last seven years. He lives on a farm with his parents 15 miles from Brownwood where he and his father are partners in a registered Lamb-kill sheep program.

Virginia has been a 4-H'er for four years, during which time she won the Danforth Penmanship Award for the most "4-Square" girl in the county. She has served as a junior leader and was chosen to go to the district camp as a recreational leader.

The watch award was presented to each of these young people by Edward Foss Wilson, president of Wilson and Co., Chicago.

to the handicraft age. Another one I'm workin on will drain any ocean we've got. All you have to do is open a plug and wait till the water runs out and cross over to enemy territory in trucks and tanks, being careful, of course, of the dead fish. Where the ocean will drain is too fantastic to mention.

Another weapon I'm workin on is known as the J. A. Extra Hardy Johnson Grass Root. This variety you plant in your own field, aim at where you want it to come out on the other side of the earth, and retire to your fire-side. In three weeks Russian wheat fields will be rank with the stuff. I figure this one will wreck the food production schedules of any country you want to knock out.

I'm workin on a lot of others, but this will give you an idea of what a first-class fantastic-weapon ought to sound like on paper. Yours faithfully,

Greenbug Damage For '52 Wheat Crop Not So Probable

Small grain fields are not likely to be damaged by an early build-up of the greenbug population this fall—as they were in 1950.

Dr. Ralph L. Hanna, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, points out that the weather was extremely hot last summer, a condition which is unfavorable to greenbug survival.

Surveys were made by the experiment station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture between July 15 and September 1 to obtain information on summer survival of greenbugs. Dr. Hanna reports that information on summer survival of greenbugs. Dr. Hanna reports that 425 field inspections were made in 71 counties. Several greenbugs were found on volunteer wheat in Deaf Smith, Floyd and Motley counties.

In a less extensive survey made in late October to determine the immediate danger of a general greenbug infestation, 71 inspections were made in 31 counties, most of them in the Northwest Texas grain area. Very few greenbugs were found. If a heavy infestation of greenbugs should occur, parathion and metacide are best insecticides available, says Dr. Hanna. These poisons proved to be the most reliable one in 10 experiments conducted during 1950 in the High Plains area.

Although high winds and low temperatures often make effective application of greenbug insecticides difficult, Dr. Hanna says timely and careful application of parathion and metacide will kill up to 90 per cent of the greenbugs.

If conditions continue to be favorable for greenbugs, the population will build up again after the insects are poisoned. The number of applications of poison that can be made depends on the margin of profit expected for the grain field.

Aaron Edgar spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Edgar of Wellington.

Mrs. Carl Jungman and children, Ida Jo and Mike, of Vernon spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Jungman's father, H. M. Michels. Ida Jo remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. H. F. Jungman, Mrs. Bill Hertel and daughter, Henrietta, and Ida Jo Jungman, were business visitors in Wichita Falls last Friday.

Miss Carolyn Hannah of Lubbock spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hannah.

NOTICE CONCERNING HUNTING and FISHING

On account of the danger and injury to live stock and the damage caused by grass fires resulting from the negligence of hunters and fishers, we request that there be no hunting and fishing on our property. Considerable expense has been incurred in constructing tanks for the purpose of watering cattle, and when people stay around the tanks, cattle will not come down to drink. The cooperation of all concerned will be appreciated.

"Fair and Square"

We've just had a political campaign with everything from a torch-light parade to a neck-and-neck ballot box race.

Rusty Robinson, with no campaign funds, planned his Election Eve speech for the Square. Slim McCormick, who owns the Palace movie house, was finishing up his campaign in Pioneer Hall.

Then it began to rain. Rusty's political career was fizzling out in the damp when Slim showed up to say that Robinson people could meet in his theatre—for nothing. "I want to beat Rusty," Slim said,

"but certainly not with rain!"

From where I sit, you've got to give Slim credit for acting on his belief that everyone has a right to be heard—just as everyone has a right to his own opinions and tastes. Maybe you like hot coffee. For instance, when you "take a break" Well, my vote goes for a refreshing glass of beer. After all, we're lucky to be living in a free country where we can have our own preferences!

Defense Bond Sale In County Totals $21,000

Knox County's sales totaled $21,368.75 during the first U. S. Defense Bond Drive, Nathan Adams, of Dallas, state chairman, informed W. E. Braly, local chairman. The drive was held from September 3 through November 13.

Final sales figures showed that Series E bonds accounted for $16,368.75 and Series F and G for $5,000.00 of this county's total.

Sales of $27,778,453.25 in Texas during the drive were almost 50 per cent more than normal, Mr. Adams said.

"Normally sales for this period would have been about $18,000,000 or $19,000,000, he said, "and the fact that sales were so much higher is definite proof that the people of Texas are responding, as they always do, to the country's need in national emergencies."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Diabetes, a disease for which modern medicine can do much, took a toll of 887 lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and smallpox are causing a decreasing number of deaths each year in this state, diabetes is now taking an appalling number of human lives, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed.

"Diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack the white collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions are factors, since it seems a fact that those who indulge in luxurious living and whose occupation calls for manual labor are not frequently affected. Simple living, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes. An annual physical examination, with a blood or urine analysis, is important to determine whether or not the disease is present in the middle age group."

Scotty and Danny Ponder, students at Texas Tech in Lubbock, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ponder.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska—Teams of 35 USO junior hostesses are flying on air missions these days to visit GI's in the Arctic and at other isolated outposts in Alaska.

USO plans for a new club at Kodiak, an island in the Aleutian chain. And plans now call for a new USO-Camp Shows unit in Alaska every three weeks.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouldy)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26—Increasing concern over the low price of hogs is reported by hog growers coming into the Fort Worth livestock market recently. The disparity between the hog top and the top price of other meat animals seems to hard to account for, despite the fact that this has been a year of tremendous hog production.

A number of factors appear to have a bearing on the hog price.

Slaughterers and pork processors place a good deal of the blame on the low price and slow movement of lard.

Others point out that pork is traditionally a hard-times or poor man's diet staple and with the current inflation and high wages, most consumers feel like eating "high on the hog" and feel they can afford something a little fancier, hence the extreme demand for beef.

Whatever the cause, the production of hogs seems sure to suffer unless something is done to improve the price of hogs. Hogs are extremely important in the American farm picture since they serve to balance the diversified farm picture. The cow-sow-hen type of farming is still by and large a sound program and much to be preferred over the one-cash-crop program that depletes soil and in times of low prices on the one crop, spells a losing year for the farmer.

It is the general feeling among hog men that some progress can be made in improving the meat producing qualities of hogs.

Marketing at lighter weights before hogs acquire excess fat is another help.

Most marget men feel that the real reason hogs are unable to sell higher is the lack of competition in the sale of hogs.

In 1950, some 62.9 percent of the hogs sold in the United States were sold without competitive bidding.

Have the hog producers surrendered their bargaining power?

The bargaining power livestock producers have in the form of competitive marketing is the thing that enables prices to move up or down.

Most businesses and organized labor guard their bargaining power very jealously.

Perhaps hogs would be selling nearer the cattle or lamb top if 62.9 percent if they were sold on competitive market and the smaller portion were sold without competitive bids.

It is something to think about anyway.

Quail Wings Are Wanted For Study

Quail hunters are reminded by W. C. Glazener of the Texas Game and Fish Commission that quail wings are again wanted this season to complete the study started last year on age and sex ratio and other important information concerning bobwhite quail.

Mr. Glazener said, "If you or any of your friends are in a position to participate, just let us know. We will be glad to mail you a supply of return envelopes on which you need not pay any postage."

Continuing, he explained: "It is our opinion that 300 to 500 wings will be required to serve as a dependable sample from a given county. Therefore, we will greatly appreciate any efforts you might make to fill such a no wells and very few springs. Coltharp "filed" on the section of land and lived on it for many years.

Coltharp was a popular man. All the cowboys liked him. During the early years many cowboys rode to his old house and enjoyed its hospitality.

If all that transpired there could be written down, people of today would know much of the history of the days when Knox County was a frontier. —ROSS BATES.

Uncle Sam Says

Of course you know your ABC's but do you know your D's and E's? Under present world conditions, D stands for defense and E stands for Series E Defense Bonds are inseparable. By buying Defense Bonds regularly you help build the nation's economic strength that backs up our defense effort. At the same time you are helping yourself. Every Series E Bond you own automatically goes on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 years as before. This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not just $25 but as much as $23.25. A $27.50 bond pays $26.75. And so on.

Heavy shipments of cattle and calves to Fort Worth and above normal shipments of sheep and lambs to the market indicate that the troubles caused by the recent drought are far from over.

Some shipments from the East Central and Eastern parts of Texas are cattle and calves shipped off post oak pastures. Some death losses of rather large proportions have been reported from cattle eating acorn and oak leaves and being poisoned by the tannic acid in them.

A good hard rain over these pastures would wash away the poison but until that comes, the only solution is to get the cattle out of those pastures as quickly as possible.

The white muscle disease that is also taking a toll of cattle and calves is a vitamin deficiency disease primarily caused by vitamin E deficiency, according to College Station reports.

Certainly, cattle, calves and sheep in the dropty sections are suffering more or less vitamin and mineral deficiency, unless their owners have been giving them a fortified diet.

This will cut into the coming calf and lamb crops and death losses during harsh cold and wet weather will be abnormally large unless extra vitamins and minerals are fed the stock. It is advisable to see your County Agent or a good feed dealer right away and make plans to get the needed supplemental feed to protect your stock.

Visitors on the Fort Worth market last week from Washington say that the OPS would like to drop meat controls, if they could do so without too much embarrassment.

They report that most Washington observers believe OPS Boss DiSalle is going to run for the U. S. Senate seat currently held by Senator John Bricker of Ohio.

If DiSalle make this political race, it could open the way for meat controls to be removed. Certainly the meat shortage is a thing of the past.

Everton B. Hosea, student at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Hosea, during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hughes Wayne Hughes and Mrs. M. D. Caughran of Lubbock visited friends and relatives here over the holidays.

ROSS BATES GIVES MORE EARLY HISTORY OF KNOX COUNTY

There is a house nearly a mile almost due north of Friendship Baptist Church that is probably the oldest house north of the Brazos river in Knox County. This house was built by Ham Coltharp about 1889, and the lumber was hauled from Wichita Falls in wagons.

Ham Coltharp and Wm. Gurlick were the first settlers in Knox County. They came from Young County. In 1879 they took horses to Southeast Texas and traded them for cattle and drove the cattle through Hillsboro, Graham and Seymour to a spring situated north of the present residence of Charley Haskins and turned the cattle loose on the open range. For nearly 8 years they had open range without competition, other than an occasional cowman who turned cattle loose and who respected their claim to the country about where Goree is now to the mouth of Lake Creek. This country was known as Ham Coltharp's range.

About 1880 or 1881, Wm. Gurlick married Ham Coltharp's sister and Ham Coltharp married a girl named Franklin. Prior to their marriage, the partners lived in dugouts. After they were married, each built a one-room house near their headquarters spring.

When the county was organized in May, 1886, Coltharp moved his one-room house to the place where the old house now stands. His choice of a building place was decided by the fact that the largest spring in Knox County comes out of the bluff just west of the house and runs north across the brakes into the Brazos river. Water was a very scarce thing on the Knox Prairie of that time. There were

Texas Farmers Should Prosper During 1952

In general, Texas farmers and ranchmen should have a prosperous year in 1952. In making this prediction, John G. McHaney, Extension economist of Texas A. & M. College, points out that agricultural economists from over the nation have considerable supply, demand and the cost of producing farm commodities in 1952 and have based the outlook on these findings. McHaney adds that economic conditions within the state will have little effect on the 1952 outlook for Texas agriculture. The big influence will come from economic conditions within the nation and the world. A powerful force behind the prediction, says McHaney, is our expanding defense program and an even bet for the continuation through 1952 of the cold war. There may or may not be full scale fighting or all out war, but free nations will continue to expand their defense programs against the threat of communism.

From the standpoint of supply, 1951 was near a record for total agricultural production and prospects for 1952—weather permitting—should be another year of high production. With the outlook for large supplies of agricultural products, the prices received by the farmers are expected to hold generally near the 1951 levels despite an unexpected strong demand. However, McHaney points out that an unfavorable growing season in 1952 would result in considerable upward pressure on prices, particularly in the second half of the year.

Demand for farm products is expected to continue strong during 1952 as employment and incomes rise. Larger defense expenditures are expected to push consumer income higher. McHaney says current plans call for defense spending by fall of 65 billion dollars a year as compared with a rate of 41 billion for the quarter of this year. With few exceptions, prospects for exports of agricultural commodities in 1951 look very good. The rearmament program

Sun Rays Run Motor

Sunlight, lamplight or the heat of a small candle (left) is converted into enough electrical energy to spin the light flywheel (center) of the Sun Motor, a device now being shown throughout the country in the General Motors "Previews of Progress" science shows. Because the sun is nature's greatest power reservoir, GM engineers use this machine to illustrate how to harness an infinitely small portion of the power available in the sun's rays.

Scientists point out that enough sunshine drenches the roof of an average one-family dwelling in 30 minutes to light, heat and run the electrical appliances in that dwelling for an entire year. But as yet engineers and scientists haven't learned the secret of converting the sun's rays efficiently into energy for such household chores.

If a candle isn't available, the Sun Motor can be propelled by the beam of the 150-watt electric lamp (lower right) focused on a series of so-called photovoltaic cells (upper right). Energy from the light beam or ordinary sunlight is converted chemically into electrical energy by the cells and the electrical current spins the flywheel. Although an extremely inefficient power converter, the Sun Motor demonstrates the principle that sunlight is power.

phate was added at the rate of 100 pounds per acre. Lime was added later, and the land was planted to lespedeza.

Another six acres of pool land was terraced, and lime, manure and fertilizer added. The land was then contoured and put to strip-cropping and crop rotation. It is now a good producer.

Each year the orchard trees are pruned and the brush is stacked as game refuge. All bushes and vines that produce berries are left to feed wildlife. During his four years of 4-H Club work, Jerry has been president of his club for two years and has completed 32 projects including swine, poultry, dairy crops, garden and field crops.

of the free world should make available foreign exchange, and this should relieve dollar difficulties encountered since World War II by countries which normally are our customers.

The unfavorable side of the 1952 outlook for agriculture, says McHaney, are production costs, which continue to rise. Those in 1951 set a new record. Costs may average five per cent higher in 1952. Supplies of materials needed for production are expected to be sufficient to permit high farm production though some items will be relatively scarce, McHaney says. Prices of all important groups of items used in production are higher now than a year ago. Farmers and ranchmen, says McHaney, must also expect a moderate increase in farm wages rates in 1952.

The prospects for higher production costs in 1952 offers a challenge to all agricultural producers to cut costs and use more efficient methods of production. McHaney says producers should place orders now for goods and supplies needed for producing the 1952 crops and livestock.

Gross farm income may be five per cent higher in 1952 but will come from the expected increase in agricultural prices. However, McHaney adds, the increased cost of production which is virtually a certainty will offset the expected increase in gross income and the final result will be a net income for agriculture about equal to that for 1951.

Junior High School News

The program committee of the jr. high school Citizenship Club presented a Thanksgiving program in assembly Monday afternoon, November 19, in the Sunset School auditorium. Mrs. Wendell Partridge directed the program, and students from each of the six rooms participated in presenting the various numbers.

The program opened with a reading, "When the Frost Is On the Pumpkin," by James Whitcomb Riley, given by Carlene Morgan. This was followed by a playlet, "The Thanksgiving Scarecrow." Donovan Whitworth as the scarecrow was outstanding in the portrayal of his role, while Barbara Fields, as the little girl whose kindness enabled Mrs. Scarecrow to come to life, played her part exceedingly well.

The final number was a skit entitled "The First Thanksgiving," which was written by two sixth grade girls, Carol Claborn and Jacqueline Cloudis. With Lee Ann Green as narrator, six scenes were presented depicting incidents from history leading up to the observance of the first Thanksgiving by the Pilgrims and their Indian friends.

The students planned and made all costumes and provided the equipment necessary to the staging of the two plays. All numbers were well presented before an enthusiastic audience made up of faculty members and students.

As guests of the Radio Corporation of America Exhibition Hall, they mounted a brightly lit platform on which a television camera was trained. Then they watched themselves "perform" on a television screen which faced the platform.

The RCA Exhibition Hall in Radio City is one of New York's main gathering places for out of town visitors, and houses the largest free electronic exhibit in the metropolitan area.

Be careful. Observe state and local traffic laws.

If you wash woolens in lukewarm water (95°-105°) without soaking or rubbing, they will stay soft and fluffy. First, be sure the dyes are fast, and make an outline of the garment on paper to guide you in drying to its original shape. When clean, squeeze out as much of the water as possible. Do not pull or twist. Roll in a clean turkish towel, pressing while rolling to knead out the moisture. Fit garment to paper outline by pinning with rust-proof pins, and dry on flat surface in a rapidly circulating current of air. Never dry near heat—the garments will become harsh and brittle. Don't dry in the sun—it fades colors and will turn white wools yellow.

A dairyman's short course will be held at Texas A. & M. College December 6 and 7.
