

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims Republicans Making A Big Mistake In Fixing Up The Eisenhower Farm

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has his mind on politics this week, or it may be farming, it's hard to tell.

Dear editor:

I have never had any Presidential aspirations or any other kinds much and have never worried much over who was President, on the theory that the country is always bigger than its chief executive regardless of how big he is and plowing is as hard under one administration as another, but there are a lot of people not turned that way, who's President or who's gonna be President are matters that keep them in a turmoil.

The reason I bring this up is that there are a lot of people right now worrying themselves sick over whether President Eisenhower is going to run again, although it doesn't seem to be worrying the man it concerns the most, President Eisenhower himself.

Understand, I'm not entering into the discussion from a partisan standpoint, taxes have always been just as due under one administration as another, but everybody recognizes the Republicans would have a situation on their hands if Eisenhower decided he was going to farm year after next. It would be a mad scramble for the nomination. There are plenty of Republicans who know they're capable of being President, but their trouble is not enough other people know it. Consequently, the whole Republican strategy for the election year is based on Eisenhower's running again. Even I can see that.

J. A.

And that's where my point comes in. I've noticed that from time to time Eisenhower well-wishers have been sending him presents for his farm at Gettysburg. One group sends him a new jeep, another sends him a new tractor, another sends him a few registered heifers, another some hogs, another a new fireplace, etc.

What these well-wishers don't seem to realize is that every time they make his farm more attractive, they make the White House less attractive.

The way to get Eisenhower to run again is to make farm life less appealing, not more so, but if the Republicans keep on piling up these gifts, they may be out of a candidate. In fact, I think the Democrats have already caught on, and just the other day a bunch of them presented the President with a fine Angus cow to go on his farm. You could tell from the knowing smiles on their faces in the picture I saw that they knew what they were doing.

If the Republicans are smart, they'll put a stop to this right now, and start scattering Johnson grass seed around that Gettysburg farm and half-burying a few plow-point busting rocks in the fields and leaving a few pamphlets around the living room on the increase of crop pests and the likelihood of a new drought cycle.

Yours faithfully,

CUTTING FARM LABOR COST

The need for whittling down labor requirements in livestock production is a problem facing farmers—particularly small ones—today.

Since the start of World War II, farm wages have quadrupled, and the resultant necessity of cutting back labor requirements has been met, in some areas of farming, by mechanization and modernizing methods.

However, livestock labor input has been shortened by seven per cent during this 14-year period, contrasted with a 34 per cent crop labor reduction.

Large livestock producers have managed to keep ahead in many areas with improved, efficient but expensive methods. Unhappily, the small farmer who has relied in the past on a reserve profit from a sideline in dairying, poultry raising, or some other livestock project finds himself in something of a bind over the labor situation.

By the old hand-milking method, it requires an average of 61.7 man-hours to produce $100 worth of milk. That labor cost can be cut by 20 per cent if milking machines are used.

In hog production, size of the herd makes the big difference in labor required. That's because a large herd can use automatic feeders and waterers economically, whereas small herds can't. In Texas, labor input per $100 of pork products amounts to about 25 man-hours. And there's quite an investment involved in hog-raising.

Probably more has been done to mechanize the poultry industry in recent years than any other single phase of livestock raising. Production-line broiler raising takes 5 to 15 hours of labor per 100 birds, whereas the less-routinized raising of chickens to the same age for laying flocks takes 25 to 35 hours.

Very few of these labor-saving devices are practical unless they can be applied to large numbers because of initial cost. And many small farmers have neither the space required nor the capital for investment in a large number of animals.

Our agricultural researchers are working to find a solution to the problem, for only as a farmer is assured of an income on such assured commodities can he feel safe in continuing his perpetual game of chance with nature; a crop success or failure.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Jr. and sons, Art and Pat, were business visitors in Dallas last Sunday and Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lee of Fort Worth visited his mother, Mrs. O. W. Lee, and brother, Harvey Lee, over the week end.

Best Quality Cleaning

Before long, too, you'll be ready to store your summer clothes for the winter. It is best to have them thoroughly cleaned before storing.

Our new, modern method of cleaning with "886" replaces the textile oil in your clothes, giving them a better appearance and longer wearing.

This new method, too, has practically eliminated scrubbing of clothes. In our shop this has been reduced from 50 per cent to about 2 per cent. For better cleaning methods, bring your clothes to . . .

GOREE MEN ATTEND SOIL DEMONSTRATION

Four Goree farmers attended a soil conservation demonstration on the Clinton Harber farm at West Point. Mr. Harber is one of the outstanding conservation farmers.

Melvin Cunningham, Lloyd King, George Gaines and Johnny Moore returned late Wednesday night very impressed by Mr. Harber's revolutionary method of farming and determined to put these new ideas to work on their farms. The farmers saw 640 pounds of lint cotton being harvested from land that had received only 10 1/2 inches of rainfall and no irrigation.

Since West Point is located about 50 miles southwest of Austin, the men visited the state capitol on their return trip. They were accompanied by Buddy Hedges, vocational agriculture teacher.

Cattle and Calves About Steady; Top $23.50
PORT WORTH — There was the usual effort on the part of the buyers to lower livestock stock prices on the market at Fort Worth Monday, and the usual resistance on the part of the salesmen. The result was about a steady market compared with the close last week.

 Fat steers and yearlings, the stockers and feeders, and canner and cutter cows were most active.
 Comparative prices: Slaughter steers and yearlings of good and choice kinds $19-23.50, the top for steers that were feedlot mates to the New Mexico cattle at that price last week. Unusual features was that the two loads sold Monday weighed 941 pounds, exactly the same as those last week. Common and medium beef cattle $12-18. Fat cows $10.50-12; canners and cutters $7-10.50. Bulls $10-13.50. Good and choice slaughter calves $16.50 - 18.50, some baby beef yearling weight creepeds $19-20. Common and medium $12-15.50; culls $9-12. Stocker steer calves $16-21, yearling stockers $19 down. Stocker cows $8-12.50.

Angus Feeder Judges Are Chosen For Sept. 9
 Secretary Glen Tone of the Texas Aberdeen - Angus Association announced this week that Harris Mullin, Dalhart, had accepted a bid to judge the steers in the Angus feeder calf show to be held at Fort Worth Stockyards September 9. The heifers will be judged by Marvin Couey. —Broadcasters Note: (it is pronounced KOO'ie) of San Angelo. The show and sale will start early, with judging beginning at 6:30 a. m., to be completed in time for selling to start at 8:30 a. m. Inquiry has been heavy from both potential buyers and exhibitors, and with the big feed crop developing all over the Corn Belt demand for feeders should be broad at that time.

WRITE A LETTER TO YOUR HEIRS
 Every person should, of course, make a will, so that his wishes for those he cares for may be carried out after his death. Our courts will then see to it that his wishes are put into effect.
 But as a rule your will is too important to clutter with detailed facts and advice to your survivors. It is not the place to tell where you keep your important papers, although your survivors should know. They might need these papers in probate proceedings or to carry on your business. Some of these papers may bear on your survivors' actions.
 So put these vital facts in a letter to your survivors:
 Where is your will? In a safety deposit box? At your office? Or tucked away some place for safe keeping? You might have hidden it so that nobody can find it. It might be destroyed by accident. Your will is no good unless it can be found.
 Who is your executor—the person or institution you want to carry out your will? To whom do you look for sound business advice?
 Where do you bank? With whom do you deal at the bank? Some persons have a savings account in one bank and checking accounts in others. Where are your safety deposit boxes? Do you keep important papers in other places? List these places.
 Where do you keep all your insurance policies—life, health, car, accident, others? They may cover your family as well as yourself. Your family may wish to continue them.
 Where are your personal account books? Letters about your business affairs? Your cancelled checks and receipts? These facts will protect your estate from false claims.
 Do you own real estate? Where are the deeds and abstracts or title insurance policies? Do your records show a capital gains basis for your real estate and what you invested in any piece of real property? Tell your heirs what you think they should do about your real estate and other property.
 Do your records show which property is separate and which is joint? The division of your property may rest on these records. Besides, good records may save tax dollars.
 Besides current bills, do you have any debts? If so, list them and your creditors. Where are the copies of your income tax returns. Your car title?
 Note these subjects: Old age and survivors' insurance, pensions, profit-sharing plans, group insurance, club memberships, royalties, estates and trusts, and joint ventures. Put down your social security number.
 These are just a few things to cover in the letter you leave.

LOCALS
 Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stodghill and children were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson and children of Berger.
 You will think of others. Give your heirs every bit of pertinent information about your properties and business activities.
 (This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weeks visited the Raymond Hargrove family in Aikin over the week end, and Virginia Hargrove of Aikin and Miss Wanda Savage of Lockney came home with them for a week's visit here and at Gore.
 Visitors in the home of Mrs. Bertha Fincannon and Mildred last week were her brother, Troy Burnett and family of Los Angeles, Calif., and her mother, Mrs. Ella Burnett of Dublin.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Boggs left last Friday morning for a two weeks vacation in Wyoming, California and other points on the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Ed R. Smith of Cisco returned home last Thursday from a trip to Carlsbad Caverns and other scenic points in New Mexico.
 Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Howard of Lubbock visited his sister, Mrs. Ann McClaran, the first of this week.
ONLY 8 DAYS—Until homecoming. Have you bought your tickets for the dinner on Sunday, September 4, 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.? $1.00 per plate. Get them at the Chamber of Commerce office or from Quarterback Club members. All tickets must be secured by August 30. 1tc

"Git There Firstest With the Mostest—"
Charles Baker Insurance

That was the battle strategy of Confederate General Forrest. He often won because he had the foresight to anticipate the enemy's next move—and beat him to the punch.
 Every day 25,000 people are injured in accidents. Do you know whether or not you will be numbered amongst these?
 Beat this common enemy to the punch by carrying The Fidelity & Casualty Co. of N. Y. Maximum Benefit Accident policy which pays a weekly income and also provides against resultant hospital, nurse, medical and surgical expenses.

Hogs Open Week With 25-50c Rise, Top $17.75
 Movement of hogs to market around the major market circle Monday was level with a week earlier, but prices at Fort Worth were 25 to 50 cents higher and good and choice hogs topped at $17.25-17.75. Less desirable of the weights and grades sold from $16 to $17. Sows at $12 to $15 were steady.
Corn Belt Hog Farmers To Produce Big Crop
 We received a clipping from a farmer friend of ours in Mount Union, Iowa, last week from the Des Moines Register in which that paper's farm editor, J. S. Russell, warned Iowans to market hogs at light weights and early this year.
 Fears of a market glut on hogs in the Corn Belt during December and January were related, if farmers failed to heed the warning. Some Iowa sources expect $13 to $15 hog tops this winter. Some other observers are even more pessimistic, predicting $12 to $13 tops, if a careful marketing program is not followed and excessive weights in hogs avoided.

Ewes Open With 50c Advance On Monday
 Slaughter ewes 50 cents higher and mostly at $4.50 to $5.50 at Fort Worth Monday. Other kinds of sheep and lambs were steady. Fat lambs topped at $18, but something strictly choice or prime could probably sell above that easily enough. Feeders sold readily at $14 to $16, and load lots of choice feeders could bring more.
 Old wethers drew $7 to $12. Yearling muttons were quoted from $8 to $16. Old bucks around $4.50.
 The West Texas sheep country continues to get rains and some observers there say some sections look "like Spring". Restocking is already very active, and will increase as the cooler weather approaches.
 Stocker cows dealers on the yards report activity in their pens the greatest in a long, long time. Despite the continued relatively low prices on finished cattle, the stocker and feeder demand remains good.
 The improved pasture and water conditions in the Southwest has put most sheep and cattle in very strong hands, and efforts of Northern buyers to weaken prices have been unavailing so far this season.

Rev. Copeland To Preach Here Sunday

Rev. C. R. Copeland will be preaching at both the morning and the evening worship services of the First Methodist Church next Sunday. Brother Copeland formerly served as pastor at Goree and Vera and came to Munday after serving as the pastor of the Pioneer Memorial Methodist Church in Lubbock. The morning service is at 10:55 and the evening service is at 7:30. A youth choir is being featured at the evening service. Brother Copeland's many friends in this section along with the general public, are invited to be present and hear him preach.

The local pastor, Rev. Doyle Ragle, and his family are in Sacramento, New Mexico, where he is teaching a course and preaching in the Older Youth Assembly of the New Mexico Conference.

MRS. MAYO VISITS HER GREAT-GRANDSON

Mrs. W. M. Mayo returned home the first of this week from Amarillo after a two weeks visit with her grandson, Jackie Mayes and family, and her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Mayes. She went at this time to welcome her new great-grandson, Christopher Mayes, who made his arrival on August 4th. His big sister, Cloe Ellen, who is nearly two, thinks that he is the tops.

Barbecue Feed Served Thursday By Q. B. Club

A delicious barbecue supper, sponsored by officers of the Munday Quarterback Club, was served last Thursday evening at the country club house. Around 190 people enjoyed this event, which was a preliminary to the opening of the football season.

After the feed, Coach Troy Stewart was in charge of the program. He introduced Herbert Partridge, who explained a few changes in the football rules. Stewart then introduced his assistant coach, Joe Spann, and various members of this year's football squad.

Stewart explained that all indications pointed to a successful Mogul team this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Herby Peek, J. C. Peek and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hogan in Fort Worth.

Local Girls Are Attending Meet At Perdue University

Pat Putnam and Margaret Yandell are among the 5,000 Methodist youth who are attending the 1955 National Convocation of Methodist Youth at Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana. Only 45 young people were delegates from the entire Northwest Texas Conference. Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Putnam and their son Mike, took Pat and Margaret to meet the special train in Sweetwater last Sunday morning. Over two hundred youth from Texas were on the special train.

The Convocation is held every four years, and is sponsored by the National Conference of Methodist Youth in cooperation with the Board of Education and other Methodist Church organizations. Platform speakers, considering the theme, "Our Christian Witness in the World of Struggle," will be Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, Detroit, Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Washington, D. C., Dr. James Thomas, and Bishop Gerald Kennedy, Los Angeles.

Pat Putnam is now serving as local Methodist Youth Fellowship president and also Stamford District Christian Faith chairman. Margaret Yandell is serving as local Secretary-Treasurer. J. O. Y. Sub-District Secretary-Treasurer, and Secretary of the Stamford District organization.

The special train will arrive back in Texas Saturday. Pat and Margaret will be making a full report concerning their trip on the youth night program at the local Methodist Church, Sunday, September 25.

Mrs. Margaret McCleskey and sons of Midland were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Ragle last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Morrow visited their son and wife, Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Glen Ray Morrow, in San Antonio over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams are spending this week in Dallas attending to business and visiting their daughter, Miss Charlotte Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McNeill and daughters accompanied Mr. McNeill's sisters, Misses Alma and Bertha McNeill, of Wichita Falls to Anadarko, Okla., where they attended the annual Indian celebration on Saturday. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

Former Resident Is Buried Monday At San Angelo

Final rites were held in San Angelo for Charles M. Wyatt, 71, retired San Angelo dining room operator, Monday afternoon.

The Rev. Ennis Hill, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Vernon Henderson, district superintendent of the Brownfield district of the Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Lawnhaven Memorial Gardens.

A resident of San Angelo for 19 years, Wyatt was born in Morgan County, Ala. He was married to Miss Lula Florence Haymes in Knox County on December 28, 1908.
