GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ANTIGO, WISC., DAILY JOURNAL: "It is encouraging, in view of all that has been said about the disappearance of the family doctor, which rural communities have felt so keenly, that the trend in preparation for medicine has changed. According to Pageant magazine, for the past five years the proportion of medical students planning to become general practitioners has increased steadily."

OLYMPIA, WASH., OLYMPIAN: "We should not forget that American consumers are afforded an opportunity to protect themselves that is practically unheard of in many countries. American manufacturers produce goods of excellent quality because they are competing for the trade of millions of wage earners and housewives. To capture this trade they strive to market the best products possible, at the lowest possible price—whether the items are bobby pins, can openers, foundation garments or automobiles."

WADENA, MINN., PIONEER JOURNAL: "The patient taxpayer has received very little consideration from Washington. He is looked upon very much as we look upon and admire a cow that produces five hundred or more pounds of butterfat a year. The American taxpayer is the world's champion producer and yet, the poor sap continues to produce more and more without a whimper. Perhaps, he often exclaims to himself, when in the privacy of his home, that he wishes he had more dollars to give to his wasteful government."

NATIONAL PASTIME

Everybody kicks about high prices. It's become a national pastime. We compare what something or other cost years ago with what it costs today and our wrath rises.

All of this is natural. But we'd get a much clearer picture of the price situation if we relate it to the changes that have taken place in the average man's earning power. After all, the mere dollar-and-cents price of a commodity isn't the whole story by a long shot. Far more important is how much working time we must spend to earn enough money to buy it.

According to the Monthly Labor Review of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, food purchasing power in the United States has increased more than 17 per cent since the start of World War II. Food prices less than doubled while hourly earnings more than doubled before 1949. And between 1949 and 1950 food purchasing power rose nearly five per cent because prices dropped about 3 per cent and earning rose about 1 1/2 per cent.

The price of meat comes in for a lot of criticism, so it's significant to chart what has happened in its case. In June, 1951, the average worker spent 25.4 minutes earning the price of a pound of sliced bacon—six months later it took him 23.1 minutes. Pork chops required 29.2 minutes of work in June and only 27.4 minutes six months later. Since then, the wage earners' meat buying power has tended to increase still further because of seasonal softening or prices combined with continuing high wage levels.

Our average purchasing power has risen in many other commodity fields besides food. The typical family can buy more goods today than it ever could before.

WHAT MADE AMERICA STRONG?

All Americans agree that the United States is the world's strongest nation—and that our economic might is the main bulwark of the Free World in the fight against communist aggression.

Many Americans, however, have no clear idea of what made America strong. Some accept the theory that we are powerful merely because our land is rich in natural resources. This belief obscures the fundamental truth that Americans built a strong, productive country because they were free to utilize these resources under a private enterprise system that was not hamstrung by bureaucratic restrictions on energy and ambition.

For example, a tiny oil business, christened The Texas Company, was launched half a century ago by a handful of employes and 113 stockholders. If this young company had been caught up in the governmental interference that harasses all business today, would it now be a world-wide enterprise with millions of customers, 40,000 employes and more than 113,000 stockholders—or would the infant company have strangled in its crib on a moss of red tape thrown at it by the bureaucrats?

The answer is obvious. Because Texaco's founders, like all American businessmen in the past, were free to spend their time developing the business—instead of battling government restrictions—they were able to transform rich natural resources into products that are vital to the nation in both peace and war. Today, the American petroleum industry produces 51 per cent of the world's oil—oil that helps strengthen America but could not fuel a single car, battleship, or defense plant if men were not free to take it out of the ground, and refine and market it.

All of us must learn that free enterprise made our country strong and use this knowledge in the domestic battle against creeping socialism. If we do not win this fight at home, our resources, productivity, and strength will, under encroaching bureaucracy, degenerate into stagnation and poverty here—and the Free World's defenses against tyranny and enslavement will be fatally weakened.

"Without a steel industry which has had the courage to expand constantly . . . it would have been impossible for our country to have attained its present unequalled development."—Charles R. Hook

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the kindness shown during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, G. F. Oliver. To the ladies who so generously prepared the food, the ministers, Rev. Stevenson and Rev. Baughman; to Dr. Heard, who so patiently cared for him in his declining years, and to the many friends who contributed the many floral offerings we are truly thankful. May we say, God bless each and every one. Mrs. G. F. Oliver and family. 1tc

Gospel Singers Here Tonight

The Sykes Singers, above, are scheduled for an appearance in Munday on Thursday night, April 17. The program at the school auditorium is to start at 8 o'clock.

A representative of the singers was here last week making arrangements for their appearance. Charles Hall, outstanding piano player and an excellent tenor, furnishes the instrumental music for the group, taking a turn at the organ when the occasion calls for it.

Sister Christine Sykes is the regular lead singer for the group. She is known nationally among gospel singers. Miss Verdell Staten, mezzo soprano, is with the singers.

Rev. J. W. Sykes is manager and director of the musical organization. He sings bass and leads. The singers' repertoire includes all of the old favorites, along with the better loved recent gospel selections.

Engagement of Gloria Jean Michels Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Michels of Munday are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Gloria Jean Michels, to Ernest F. Descoteaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ovidia Descoteaux, of Nasha, New Hampshire.

The future bridegroom is an airman second class, and is stationed at Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana.

Light Infestation Of Grasshoppers Likely This Year

Forecasts based on surveys and actual egg bed counts indicate that grasshoppers will not be a threat to crops and pastures in Texas this year. In only a few spots were enough eggs found to rate the areas as threatening, says Allen C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The areas are small and are found in the upper northwest Panhandle; in the Trinity bottoms of Ellis and Kaufman counties; in Hill, Falls, Milam, Robertson and Washington counties along the Brazos river. In these areas farmers should watch for the early hatches and if the young hoppers show up in large numbers, they should be controlled before they leave the egg bed areas, says Gunter.

Other counties in these same general areas may expect light infestations and some damage is possible. Serious damage may develop in the fall if the weather is hot and dry.

Gunter advises farmers and ranchmen that control measures if needed, should be used before the grasshoppers leave the egg beds and scatter. Wiping out this year's hatches will reduce the chances for major outbreaks next year, points out the specialist, and from this standpoint, the use of control measures is justified.

For information on the best insecticides to use, Gunter suggests that farmers contact their local county agents. They can also advise on whether control measures should be used.

Why the right power is so important to truck buyers

"When power is needed, Dodge trucks have it!"

says C. R. SHEARMAN, Hood Construction Co., Lynwood, Calif.

"We've been big Dodge users for many years, because our business demands trucks that are dependable, economical and rugged. We do most of our driving over rough ground, a lot of it in the mud. The trucks work with crews who are laying pipe in the field. This kind of hauling calls for plenty of power to carry equipment to the men. And when power is needed, Dodge trucks have it! They seem to be able to pull anything."

the groundwork never stops...

A growing telephone system can't afford to take a holiday. Even as one expansion project is completed, another is under way, whether in the planning stage, engineering, financing or actual construction.

As an example, when a telephone man visits your home to install a telephone, the work you witness may take only twenty minutes. But, the work you didn't see—the unseen groundwork which made that installation possible—could easily have required many months to complete.

You can be sure, each day of the year, that plans for your community's future telephone service are in the making. The gears of telephone progress are turning. The groundwork never stops.

For a BETTER COTTON CROP

PROPER SEED TREATMENT MAY MAKE THIS DIFFERENCE

The photo above shows ten good cotton seedlings, well on the way to the kind of growth which can produce a good crop of cotton. This is the result you may expect when properly treated cottonseed is planted... seed that has been treated with a recommended seed disinfectant.

Below, the effects of seed decay, sore-shin, and both pre-emergence and post-emergence damping-off are illustrated. This seed was not treated and this is one reason why it is often necessary to replant.

Treated seed can be planted 3 to 5 days earlier—can get off to a good start even in cool weather. Once a good stand is established and growing well your chance for a better cotton crop increases.

SEED TESTING AND CERTIFICATION—II

A Tested Seed Label on a bag of seed unlike Certified and Registered Seed Tags—does not guarantee that the seed is of high quality. But the label, giving an analysis of the seed, does tell the buyer what he is getting for his money.

We have made great strides in recent years in the testing, cleaning, handling and marketing of field seeds, and our field crops make available to the farmer the highest quality of seed possible to produce, at moderate price.

Seed crops also assure the producer-farmer a high return on his production, for today more of the consumer's dollar goes to the seed producer than to the producer of almost any other agricultural product. The grain farmer gets 26c, or less than 20%, out of a 16c loaf of bread. The dairyman gets roughly 50c for the retail price of a quart of milk. But the producer of alfalfa seed, for example, gets 67% of the price paid by the consumer. And the producing farmer gets as high as 70c out of the retail alfalfa seed dollar.

Here are some "tips" from the seed testers in the state laboratories:

Pay particular attention to the germination percentage given on the Tested Seed Label. The seed may be of high or low quality, and you will save disappointment later—perhaps even loss of crops—by turning down seed labeled below standard for germination. Don't buy seed which contains Dodder, the parasitic plant most common in clover, alfalfa and flax. Dodder may kill the host plant, the Eastern states, comprising about 70% of the market for Texas growers of alfalfa and clover seed, will not accept seed containing Dodder. If seed contains Dodder, the Tested Seed Label will say so.

Treat seed with commercial dust according to the directions on the container. Any samples submitted to the state laboratories show detrimental reactions from over-treatment, which causes rotting and abnormal conditions in germination such as watery condition and club roots. If over-treated seeds are planted, rotting is likely to continue in the field.

Submit clean samples to the laboratory. Samples of clover seed especially have been very dirty, containing chaff, stems, dirt, Johnson grass and other weed seeds. The laboratory is obliged to set a dirty sample aside and request that the seed be re-cleaned and another sample submitted.

Watch out for some fly-by-night seed "bootleggers" in the state who are selling unlabeled seed.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

When my book, "Roaring Ranger, the World's Biggest Boom", came out, President-Manager W. R. Watt of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show said, "I could have given you some first-hand information." The Fort Worth business man-rancher was in Ranger during the oil rush, in the employ of the T. & P. Railroad in engineering work.

One day when a heavy snow was falling, the superintendent of an oil company told Watt that the company had to get started right away on a tank farm but first would have to have the lines run. Watt glanced out the window at the snowstorm and, having no hankering for work under these circumstances, decided to make the price prohibitive. (At that time, he was drawing $150 a month plus room and board from the railroad.) He drawled, "That'll cost you $650-$250 for me and $200 each for the other two in the surveying crew."

"Let's get started," said the oil man.

So Watt and the two helpers went out into the snowstorm and did a surveying job. For two days' work he collected more than the amount of a full month's pay.

The railroad provided living quarters for Watt and other members of the construction group because a place to sleep was hard to find in the boom city. A railroad car was placed on a siding and it made a comfortable place to stay.

Though highjackings were numerous during the boom, Watt is the only victim I ever talked to. He somewhat humorously relates that he and another of the railroad group were walking along the track toward the car one night when a masked man with a gun stepped out of the shadows and ordered them to "reach," which they did. He took their money and then said, "Get walking and don't look back." They started walking rapidly

Activities Of The Colored People

Sunday school was well attended at West Beulah Baptist Church last Sunday, after which the pastor and members motored to Haskell where nine were baptized. In the afternoon, the pastor preached at the Baptist Church in Stamford.

Ernest Williams and wife were visitors in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Willie Williams on Easter.

M. J. Johnson and Jessie Thomas of Midland also visited relatives here Easter.

Valerie Tolliver won the prize in the Easter egg hunt held at the school last Thursday.

We wish to express our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bowden for the nice magazines donated our school last week.

We wish to thank Burton Thomas for the stage he made for our school auditorium.

The Sykes Singers are expected to appear on the program at our school auditorium tonight.

William Hertel, junior student in St. Edwards University at Austin, spent the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hertel.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jungman and children, Ida Jo and Mike, of Vernon spent the week end with relatives and friends here.

David Elland of Schreiner Institute at Kerrville spent the Easter holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Elland, and their pace kept increasing till they were running—"In fact, we were traveling so fast that we went clear past the car before we could stop," Watt said, with a chuckle.

Some 20 miles away, a big oil play was in progress at Desdemona, which also was known as Hogtown. Watt tells of the big crowd of "jitney drivers" with their battered flippers on hand when a train rolled in. One shouted, "Service car to Desdemona, twelve and a half." A new arrival, not knowing that the town had two names, said, "I want to go to Hogtown." Without batting an eye, the service car man repeated, "Hogtown! Yes, sir that will be $15."

Design for Modern Living

Styled for today's interiors, co-ordinated furniture groups are prominent in home fashions news this season. Simple, modern, practical—these groups use matching designs in various pieces, as in the smart new sectional sofa and armless chair seen above. Pieces shown are from a group that also includes full sofa and arm chair. Such selection, found in this and five other modern groups in the 1952 International line, offers varied, space-efficient seating arrangements for an entire room.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
 M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is always more prevalent during the summer months.

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the housefly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitos and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safer water supplies must be assured. Where adequate community sewage disposal systems are not available or feasible, it is important to build and properly maintain sanitary septic tanks. In the event a water carriage system of sewage disposal cannot be secured it is important that at least an approved pit type toilet be constructed and properly maintained.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that're necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

Kay Waheed, Joe and Abraham Choucar were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hasen in Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndal Smith of Dallas spent the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith.

• GET RIGHT SIDE UP ON POULTRY AND LIVESTOCK FEEDING • SWITCH TO NEW...

 A Profit Punch in Every Pound

Not "warmed over" but strictly brand new!

You owe it to your pocketbook to drive this Chrysler engine before you buy any other today.

It's not a "warmed-over" engine, but a brand-newly brand-new one!

It gives a new kind of performance that means new value for every dollar you pay out for purchase, upkeep, or operation.

It was built brand-new around a hemispherical combustion chamber which makes better use of gasoline, and also permits sounder all-round engine structure, than any American motor car engine has had before.

It delivers 180 horsepower . . . without requiring you to buy premium gasoline. It runs with less waste, less heat, less friction and less wear than previous designs can equal. Its combustion is so clean it literally develops almost no carbon deposit at all.

It will last longer than any engine you've ever known. It will cost you less along the way. It will stay "young" in performance thousands of miles past the point where an ordinary engine shows old age.

And on top of all that, it makes driving a lot more pleasure! Its smooth response . . . its safety-power, in reserve for emergencies . . . its easy scorn for distance or hills . . . make you just plain feel good at the wheel as you've never felt before.

For the good of your purse and your pleasure too . . . we invite you to drive it, soon!

L. B. Patterson Writes Of Needs For Building, Developing Munday

A few weeks ago, I obtained the title of Director in the Community Development Association, an organization with all forward gears in it. And why the people of Munday would put an ignorant man as myself in such a responsible position as that, shall always remain a mystery to me, because I have always been on the production line instead of the development end!

But I would like to review a few things that Munday has developed. When Munday was laid off and chartered, the people voted bonds, and built a school building. We have, as the need demanded it, voted more bonds and built more school houses, until we have as good as they are now. The people dug down deep into their pockets and invested in church buildings, and re-invested in more and bigger church buildings until we have as good churches as any town.

The first gins were small. They have rebuilt, and today, we have a good cotton producing area. Our agriculture has developed to a high standard. You could not buy a farm if you had the money, because there are not any for sale. You couldn't even rent one if you had the equipment to work it, because they are all rented. And the people of Munday will see that the schools, churches, gins, and farm industry will keep pace with the progress of time.

I have, in twenty-three years that I have been in this community, seen hundreds of boys and girls go out of our community because other towns and cities offered a better opportunity than ours! Why haven't our young men who were inspired by the Almighty God to go out and spend eight, ten, twelve years preparing to minister to the need of the sick of our land, come back to Munday? And the young Christian girls who made nurses because we have fed our sick patients into the hospitals of Seymour, Wichita Falls, Haskell, Stamford, Abilene and Knox City; Munday doesn't have a hospital. Is there a need for one?

The time has past when the doctors will run over our country day and night, from house to house, ministering to the sick, and they all send you to a hospital. The people of Munday and the Munday trade territory could build and support a hospital. The young married men and women producing babies and going to Wichita Falls and Abilene to buy the baby shoes and many other babies' needs. Munday could support a baby store!

We are eating Swift's Premium and Aromaur Star bacon? It is because we don't have a small packing plant or house here producing it. Why are we feeding commercial feed to our cows, chickens, horses, dogs and cats made in Vernon, Abilene, Wichita Falls, and Fort Worth? It is because we don't have one here. Also, why are we wearing Dickie, Hawk and Lee brand work clothes. That, also, is because we don't have a garment factory here. We are sending out of Munday each year, one and a half million dollars worth of unfinished farm and ranch products. We have invested in schools and churches to give the boys and girls of this community the best of training, and then send them away along with our unfinished products to build other towns and cities.

To start building some industries that will grow and develop up in a few years that will match the need of our boys and girls at the schools and churches gins and other businesses have, then we will have some inducements for our boys and girls to remain at home and inducement for others to come. When people like the people in Munday once turn their attention to the need of the people, we can do anything. Look what happened when we started building churches! The Church of Christ people went out and got the money for their church and built it almost over night, within a few weeks anyway. The Methodist and Baptist churches built larger churches, and it took a little more time for them. I remember ever goal that was ever set to raise money for our new church, there were always a few who said, we can't do that, but every time we exceeded our goal when a large amount was raised. We started building and when the foundation was run, one of our best street corner financiers walked up and look her over, remarked, "They are the biggest set of fools that I have ever seen. They will go bankrupt the town, and that it will take them up to 1980 to pay for it." The Methodists, I am sure, had similar experiences. But with the same kind of determination to ride over some opposition, we can start something that will grow and develop up into filling the need of this town and community in furnishing our boys and girls an opportunity to stay at home and induce others to come.

It will be like the people who lived many miles up in the mountains who heard about the invention of the first locomotive, and come into town to see it. They walked up and were commenting on it, and one said, "She won't ever move." And in a little while, the fireman added a little coal, and the engineer pulled out the throttle, and she gave a few puffs, and off she went. They all stood there, spellbound for a while, and one said, "Pop, what about that?" And Pop said, "She started, but they won't ever stop her." And until this day it has not stopped. It has gone on rebuilding and developing. To fulfill the need of a developing nation, we may have to do a lot of puffing, but if we ever puff enough to start, it will never stop, because the need is here. What will be do with it?

I am one who will welcome differences of opinion, because when people differ in opinion, good of all, then we are getting somewhere. And to criticize, too, because that causes a fellow to search down deep into the bottom of his soul and come out with a more determination than ever to put it over, if he convinces himself that he is right. But in order to build Munday into a better town, you have to look at Munday and her needs instead of self. We have good highways, gas, electricity, water, good schools, and churches, and many kinds of weather, too. Sometimes it's cold, sometimes it's hot, dry or wet, windy and calm, dusty and muddy, and many kinds of unfinished products to offer as an inducement for somebody to come and start building!

Clean in half the time

SLICK NEW AUTOMATIC GAS RANGE OVEN and broiler have no corners, seams or rough edges. The cooking top has no slits, slots or seams. If foods spill, it's the only new range that can be taken apart and cleaned by a housewife.

No scouring pads or brushes needed! A swish of a damp cloth, it's clean . . . really clean in half the time.

Here are four more reasons you'll find superb new automatic gas ranges irresistible:

1. Speed, flexibility and efficiency approached by no other type of range.
2. Safest cooking possible. Sensational new gas ranges pass 502 American Gas Association Laboratory tests for performance, durability and safety.
3. Everything automatic. Complete meals cook while you are miles away!
4. Savings of $15 to $35 a year. Gas is cheaper to use 4 to 1.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says There Must Be Just One Honest Man Lurking Somewhere In The Old U. S.

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is about half-way serious this week we suspect.

Dear editor:
While it looks like one of the hardest things on earth to do nowadays is to find somebody who has a good enough record of his own to be investigatin somebody else's record, I don't think the President ought to give us. There ought to be somebody.

Surely there is somebody left in this country who hasn't been in on a surplus ship deal, hasn't dealt with any Washington mystery men, hasn't sold oil to the enemy, hasn't become a millionaire two years after gettin a government job, isn't gettin a government pension he ain't entitled to, hasn't got a wife who's a stenographer to a big shot, hasn't borrowed from the RFC, hasn't helped somebody borrow from the RFC, hasn't cheated on his income tax, hasn't tried to help somebody who has, hasn't been fired from a tax collectin job, hasn't been a character witness for a convict, hasn't beat his hotel bill, isn't behind on his house rent, hasn't had any lush war contracts, isn't afraid to give a financial statement, and who has the brains to recognize a suspicious situation when it arises.

Some people may be pessimistic but I still have faith in this country. I believe there a lot of people with records clean enough to hold down this job even to stand up to Congress, but I suspect they're hidin out. Of course I can't name any off-hand, as I ain't familiar with everybody in Washington, but surely there must be plenty around there. And if not, there are a lot of other places in the country where some honest man may be lurkin.

Personally, I don't hanker for the job myself. Investigatin Congress just ain't no job with a future to it. And besides, my record won't stand up. I ain't been in on any big deals, but when I was a boy, while I didn't play marbles for keeps, I wasn't that good with my thumb, I did stake a few friends who were pretty good and later on we may have split the loot. My memory ain't clear on the matter. I got sort of a Congressional memory.

Maybe investigations are a poor way to make changes. Maybe votin is the answer. But who to vote for is something you'll have to answer for yourself.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

form of personal gain, but have the sole motive of representing all of the people living within the four counties of this district. If the people of this district are kind enough to select me as their Representative in the important and critical forthcoming 53rd Session, it will be my purpose to work vigorously for the elimination of waste, duplication, extravagance, and needless regulation. While I would work for all measures vitally affecting the welfare of all the business and commercial economy of our district, I would particularly seek the continuation and expansion of the important programs which will enhance the rural economy of our area, such as farm-to-market roads, rural telephones and soil and water conservation practices. Certainly I would work for the repeal of the present unreasonable automobile-truck inspection law enacted by the last legislature, and would seek as its replacement a statute setting forth sane and sound requirements assuring safety for our highways and city streets. I will work for any measure proposed which can effectively check the exportation of natural gas from our state, and will support measures providing for the conservation of all our natural resources. It is my hope to see as many votes as is physically possible in the district, and I want to discuss with all of them openly and frankly the many issues which vitally affect our area. West Texas, and all Texas. This announcement is respectfully submitted to the people of the 83rd District with the solemn and sincere promise to serve, if elected, to the very best of my ability with honesty and equity to all.
