

Kracker Krumbs Odd Bits Salvaged at Bandon

How safe is your car? Has it passed the Texas uniform safety inspection?

If it hasn't been inspected, better begin thinking about getting that done now.

The deadline is just about two months away. In fact, September 6, 1952, is the date.

And reports coming from the Texas Department of Public Safety are to the effect that the deadline "will not, it cannot be extended."

That means three's going to be a gosh-awful traffic jam around the official inspection stations along about that time.

To avoid this jam, it would be safe to get that car inspection right away.

We understand there's only two official inspection stations in Munday—at least only two have advertised as such in the columns of this paper.

These stations are located at Reeves Motor Company and at Munday Truck and Tractor Company.

And just from personal observation, these two stations are going to have one tremendous job inspecting all cars of the area between now and the deadline.

Pulling up in front of the post office, Wednesday morning, we observed nine cars parked around the area. Three of these displayed the safety stickers.

If that's any criterion, only about one-third of the cars in and around Munday have had their official inspection.

Even the safest car isn't too safe on the highways today. This is especially true if its meeting one that isn't at all safe.

Some of the principal causes of accidents, according to the department of safety, are: faulty brakes, faulty steering devices, faulty lights, faulty windshield wipers and faulty horns.

Sometimes in the past, we've seen articles in which another cause of the accidents were listed as "the nut at the wheel."

The safety inspections are designed to remedy all such faults mentioned above except the nut at the wheel. Those in charge of inspection stations can't do anything about that.

A strategic time to have your car inspected for general safety on the road is before taking off on that vacation—if you're going on one.

We've had our car inspected, but guess we won't be taking off on vacation. We're still enjoying the remembrances of our last vacation, back in 1937, when we took a jaunt into parts of Tennessee, North Carolina and other points with an overnight stop in New Orleans.

Which was before we had the safety inspection law.

A car going down the road at 60 to 80 miles per hour is traveling better than a mile a minute. And that's a pretty fast clip to be going, especially without wings.

It would seem imperative that the driver know his car is free and safe of all mechanical defects.

It's a pretty sane prediction to state that many of these cars are already safe—they just have not had the safety inspection. But these need the inspection before the deadline.

It's safe, too, to predict that many cars on the highways are not mechanically safe, and these must be put into condition before the deadline.

And the deadline is two months and three days from the date of this paper. Do it now!

A saddened community, not yet recovered from the shock of the traffic fatalities, buried three of its young men during the week end. They were Jack Burnison, 23, Herman Doyle Franklin, 19, who were killed in a head-on crash last Thursday night.

The three youths were apparently killed instantly when their car and a car driven by Mack Currie collided at 10 p. m. three miles east of Knox City on the Munday-Knox City highway.

The City Council of the City of Munday, meeting in special session last Friday, awarded a portion of the contracts for the new water and sewer extensions and improvements for the city.

The general contract on water and sewer improvements was awarded to Clouse Brothers of Kerrville, Texas, whose bid was for $129,140.44. This was the lowest bid among the firms bidding on both the water and sewer improvements. One bid of $106,739 was for water extension and improvements. One bid of $106,739 was for water extension and improvements only.

The highest bid among the group was for $183,638. Fifteen bids were received on the various pumps needed for the improved system, and there were two bids on digging the two new water wells.

These contracts were not let, since Joe Ward of Wichita Falls, the consulting engineer, wanted to take them under advisement. No word has been heard from him early this week.

The general contractor signified that he would be ready to start work on the improvements as soon as he receives his work order. He is completing some work in Abilene and is expected to move his equipment here immediately and start construction.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WASHINGTON, IOWA. EVENING JOURNAL: "Concern over the tax problem lies largely in the fact that the law of diminishing returns has set in. Put Federal taxes up another notch and the increase probably won't produce any more revenue . . . Business can be taxed out of business. And that is precisely what is beginning to happen. The process can kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, and the tax goose is beginning to look pale around its eyes. Moderation in all things," saith the sages. This applies to taxes, as well as cayenne pepper or chocolate.

WILMINGTON, N. C., STAR NEWS: "In Great Britain . . . the government will offer to sell the trucks back to the private investors, undoubtedly at a loss because the good will value of the former private companies lapsed. Investors likely will not be eager to buy. Principal reason is that a Labor spokesman announced in Parliament that if his party returns to power in the next election it will return long-distance ownership usually slips in quietly. But one in the door, it is practically impossible to dislodge it. trucking to public ownership . . . Government its sponsors craftily perpetuate it."

GREENVILLE, TEXAS, EVENING BANNER: "It is not our purpose to rush to the defense of the private power companies, or to plead the cause of public power operations. But we think the people are intelligent enough to decide what they want and what they do not want. And we are convinced that private enterprise has made this country as great as it is."

FREEDOM WITH YOUTH

The way business works in the interest of better citizenship is impressively illustrated by the Build Freedom With Youth Contest sponsored recently by The Kroger Company, a retail food concern.

The purpose of the contest was to help American youth prepare for their duties as citizens and to inspire them with a devotion to the ideals of democracy. It was conducted on a nation-wide basis of cooperation with the General Federation of Women's Clubs and their 5,000,000 members.

On May 13, $25,000 in prizes was awarded to the clubs that had best accomplished the objectives of the contest through working with young people of their communities. This brought to $160,000 the total spent on civic betterment by the company in the past three years, it having previously sponsored a Build a Better Community contest.

Kroger has stores in only 19 of the 48 states where the contest took place. This was no problem, however, in the light of a statement made its president, Joseph D. Hall. "It is up to management to look beyond its territory in stimulating community improvement," he said.

Here is public spirit of high caliber. It provides a striking example of what business can do to build a stronger, more democratic nation.

TAXES AND PRICES

The individual taxpayer now knows that his income tax payments are the highest in history. More money than ever before is being withheld from our pay checks. More money than ever before is due the government each March 15.

What is true of the individual, is also true of industry.

Oil is an excellent example. A publication of the American Petroleum Institute recently published a number of excerpts from the 1951 financial reports of representative oil companies. It was not at all unusual for these concerns to pay government far more in taxes than was paid to stockholders in dividends. In some cases the combined taxes paid on a company's operations and products even exceeded the total wages paid its employees. And this year the tax burden is substantially greater than it was in 1951.

It is estimated that, in 1951, the federal, state and local taxes levied against the oil industry's operations and products reached the staggering total of $4,500,000,000. If the hundreds of assorted taxes concerned had been combined into a single tax on crude oil, it would have worked out to $1.86 on each barrel produced during the year. In 1945, by contrast, when we were at the height of the war effort, this tax equivalent would have amounted to but $1.12 per barrel.

Keep that in mind next time you buy gas or some other oil product and feel inclined to kick about the price. One of the biggest reasons for high prices is taxation.

THE SPIRIT OF 1976

Leaders in all lines of activity are increasing efforts to maintain the highest levels of integrity in the operation of business and industry. They are aware of the peril of the moral standards of the country as a whole which has accompanied revelations of widespread corruption in government. Their first concern is for young people from whose ranks must come tomorrow's leaders.

William H. Miller, an official of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in speaking of the responsibilities of businessmen, points out that "Today's office boy may be president of your company when the U. S. celebrates its second centennial in 1976 . . . the training of executives begins with the young people who walk into your business out of high school or college. If businessmen and fathers are not going to make it clear to youngsters that practically all business is moral and ethical, who is?"

Mr. Miller suggests three ways in which businessmen can help children: "Give your own youngsters and others something money won't buy—our time. Be a good citizen. Be a good church member."

France was the first foreign nation to recognize the United States as an independent republic. That was in 1778.

CROP SPRAYING

Despite the progress made in modern agricultural methods this year, the farmer is often faced with problems as old as recorded history.

One major obstacle with which the Texas farmer will have to contend this season can be traced as far back as Biblical times—the plague of insects. While insect infestations are not expected to actually reach plague proportions in Texas as they have in other parts of the world in 1952, the problem is still a serious one.

Recent inspections reveal that cotton insects, including the persistent and destructive Pink Bollworm, are more strongly entrenched in Texas fields than at any time in the past 40 years. Comparison records of the Pink Bollworm, alone show that for every one of the worms found in South Texas cotton last year, there are ninety (90) this year. The build-up of other harmful insects is almost equally as heavy. As a result, the farmer can expect a higher ratio of crop damage in addition to a greater expenditure of insecticides.

It will be to the Texas farmer's advantage to follow an organized method of spraying crops this season for the best insect control. The best plan will be to get in touch with county agents and study the seven-step spraying program as set up by the Texas Extension Service.

Much of the effectiveness of spraying or dusting is nullified by poor timing. Spraying on a "guess basis" often catches harmful insects in the pupa stage when insecticides and pesticides have little or no effect. It may also do away with some of the useful type insects.

The seven-step program varies over the state but each area has a definite plan set up according to local climatic and insect conditions. This type of spraying assures the farmer of getting the most benefit out of money spent for insect control.

The most effective measure yet found against the Pink Bollworm in strict compliance with planting and plow-up deadlines. These measures are already in effect in areas where the heaviest infestation exists. But the extremely large build-up this year's usual number of last year's generations.

Uniform Safety Seen In New Motor Vehicle Inspection Laws In Texas

The age of the wonder drugs—penicillin, the sulphas, streptomycin—has overshadowed the oldest and still one of the best remedies for mankind's illness—rest.

The Texas Safety Association would like to see restful vacations this summer, instead of the usual competitions to see who can drive the farthest and fastest and play dangerously.

"A restful vacation is more likely to be a safe vacation," said W. Carlross Morris, Jr., a Houston attorney and president of the Association. "And the statistics of summer accidents certainly should make all of us think about safety."

A motor vehicle accident is the most likely mishap to spoil vacation rest and fun, but many could be avoided with a little advance planning. Mr. Morris said. He emphasized the importance of a thorough safety inspection of the car before starting a motor trip.

"Texans now have the opportunity to take advantage of their new motor vehicle inspection system which offers a uniform safety check at convenient locations throughout the State," he said. "What better time to get that inspection than just before the summer holidays? At the same time, you are freeing your mind of worries over the mechanical performance of the car and taking out an insurance policy on the safety of your family and yourself."

The inspection stations will pay particular attention to the following check points:

Brakes—must stop car in 30 feet from 20 m. p. h. and take hold evenly on all wheels.

Lights—headlights at level to give maximum illumination with minimum of glare. All lights clean and operating.

Tire—rubber should be evenly worn. No cuts or breaks in fabric.

Steering and wheel alignment—uneven tire wear and excessive play in steering wheel are warnings for mechanical correction.

Exhaust and muffler—tight and free from rust holes or leaks.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Goulidy)

FORT WORTH — The "June Break"—traditional time for leveling off on cattle, calf and sheep prices—was of record proportions this year. Two big reasons are obvious: 1. Demand from disgruntled Corn Belt and Western feeders for stockers and feeders has been slowest in the first six months of this year since the early 1930's and; 2. Meat production in the form of pork, beef and broilers has been exceptionally high during the period and the advent of hot weather lessened the consumption over the country.

Prices $2 to $5 lower were general, and some kinds of cattle and sheep sold $5 to $8 or more below prices in effect the first of June. Some stockers are $10 lower. Hog prices weakened steadily, too.

Monday movement of cattle to the 12 major public was over 26,000 below a week earlier. This was a firming influence. Comparative prices included:

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings closed at $27 to $32, and common to medium grades sold at $17 to $25, with cull yearlings $15 to $17. Fat cows closed at $16 to $20, and canners and cutters closed at $12 to $16. Bulls brought $15 to $24.

Good and choice slaughter calves closed at $27 to $30 and common and medium butcher calves closed at $17 to $25, and culls sold at $15 to $17.

Good and choice stocker calves cashed at $27 to $31 and common to medium kinds sold at $17 to $25. Stocker steer yearlings sold mostly at $27 downward, and stocker steers drew $26.50 down. Stocker cows sold from $19 downward.

Closing hog top was $19.75 to

Miss Mildred Coffman, Bride-Elect Is Honored At Series Of Parties

Miss Mildred Coffman, Goree, bride-elect of Dan Davis of Lubbock, was honored Tuesday with a coffee given in Goree by Mrs. E. F. Heard and a "Jam Session" given in Munday by Mrs. Oates Golden and Mrs. Pitzer Baker.

The coffee was held in the home of Mrs. E. F. Heard who greeted guests at the door. Also in the receiving line was Mrs. Orb Coffman, mother of the bride, the bride-elect; Mrs. Roy B. Davis, Lubbock, mother of the groom; Mrs. Lucile Marlow, Haskell, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Jack Coffman, Floydada, Mrs. M. I. Dickson, Sweetwater, Mrs. Will Scott Richter, Dallas.

Mrs. John Powell of Judd presided at the guest book. After registering, the guests were ushered into the dining room for coffee. The table center piece arrangement was of pink glads and carnations placed around a white foam heart. Mrs. Ernest Moore poured and Mrs. Bob Moore and Miss Carol Coffman assisted in serving.

Mrs. Barton Carl served fruit cocktail from a beautifully arranged tray of fresh pineapple halves white grapes and cherries. The hollow pineapple was filled with chilled fruit.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. E. F. Heard, Mrs. Mary Isabel Dickson of Sweet water and Mrs. Will Scott Richter of Dallas.

Tuesday evening Miss Coffman was honored with a party in the home of Mrs. Golden. Guests were greeted by the hostesses and introduced to the bride's mother, the bride-elect, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Roy B. Davis of Lubbock. Guests were registered on a rolling pen and were then served angel's delight, mints and frosted punch. A center piece of daisies and white candles decorated the sewing table. After the guests were served, Mrs. Golden ushered in a mysterious guest from Texarkana, Mrs. Etter Spikes. This lady was dressed in her best black dress and sun bonnet carrying a basket of her home made "vittles". After introducing herself to all the guests and telling her life's history and about her man, Jim, Etter proceeded to auction off her home made jams and jellies. Bids ranged from 25c to $7.00. After the auction ended Etter decided to take back her jams and present them to Miss Coffman. As Miss Coffman opened each package she read the original poem written by each guest and attached to the jar of jam.

Miss Charlotte Williams registered the guests. Mrs. Rhoades Allen and Miss Gwynne Lee Smith presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Fred Broach, Jr. represented Mrs. Etter Spikes from Texarkana. Hostesses were Mrs. Oats Golden and Mrs. Pitzer Baker.

Every Section Of Texas Sends Boys To 4-H Roundup At A. & M. College

Texas rural youth last week visited their Texas A. & M. College. The thousand boys and girls attending the annual 4-H Roundup came from every section of the state. Their leaders, Extension agents and friends swelled the total attendance to 1,600.

June 10 was the big day. State winners were named in the 16 different judging and team demonstration contests and the dress revue. Competition was stiff between the 215 competing teams and individuals. Three of the winning judging teams will have other opportunities to participate in state and national contests.

The three top livestock judging teams from Brazos, Nueces and Fisher counties, in October at the State Fair, will compete against a like number of top FFA teams for the honor of representing Texas in the national contest at Chicago.

The winning poultry judging team from Guadalupe County is eligible to participate in the national contest to be held in Chicago. Brazos County was second and Runnels County was third.

McLennan County furnished the state winning dairy cattle judging team. This team will represent Texas 4-H clubs at the National Dairy Congress, Waterloo, Iowa. Brazos County was second and Baxar County third.

The Bastrop County vegetable demonstration team will go to New York City in November for their national contest.

Winner of an all-expense trip to National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, this fall was Jo Ann Glover of Hardeman County, top dress revue winner. Sherry Simpson, Hopkins County, was second and Louise King, Hays County, third. Rolene Barnett, Young County, was first place winner in the tailored wool class. A total of 54 girls participated in the state dress revue.

Featured speaker for the Roundup was Chaplain George C. Baker, Jr., Southern Methodist University. He told the group, "Real satisfaction in life is found in unselfish devotion to the things that matter most and tomorrow's honors will come to those who make sound plans in youth, choose wisely, are patient and thorough and have courage and unselfish devotion."

Co-chairman Jack Harris, Hale County and Wanda Katchlik, Cameron County, of the 4-H Council presided over the general sessions and all Council members took a very active part in the proceedings. Council co-chairmen for next year will be Dorothy Folytn, Lamb County, and Delbert Taylor, Tarrant County.

Sears-Roebuck Foundation was host for the State Recognition Banquet on Tuesday night. Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of the A. & M. System, President M. T. Harrington, Texas A. & M. Extension Director G. G. Gibson spoke briefly to the group.

Wednesday morning early buses and automobiles streamed from A. & M. campus, homeward bound. Another roundup, of the 4-H kind, was rapidly becoming history but friends made and experience gained will last for a lifetime.

this is my experience, and so I'll pass it on; the time to be a friend to man is when he's needin' one.

I don't discuss religion much—I wouldn't if I could; I know I hate to draw the line between what's bad and good. I've had to plod along through life, and learn from other men, and so I've done a lot of things I'll never do again. But then, I found along the way, the time to be a friend is when a fellow's needin' all the help that you can lend.

I'm not much on philosophy the books I never read; I've had to get things I know from life and that's hard indeed. So if you have a cheer to give, or extra strength to lend, go out and help the man along who really needs a friend.

Artesian well was drilled, the first Worth's drinking water came from the Clear Fork of the Trinity and from a spring, two miles northeast of town. Over a hundred wells were drilled and the "city of artesian wells." Well water was peddled over the town in carts at 12 1/2 cents a barrel. During the administration of Mayor John Peter Smith, water-lines were laid.

WAS $6.25

NOW $1.37

It's getting to be a rare day when you see a real, genuine bargain advertised. In these days of planned economy everything seems to be included in the plans except economy.

But we have here an honest-to-Pete bargain to tell you about. It's a bargain because it's much more useful than it once was, and costs much less than it used to.

It's the television set. In 1948 our 10-inch screen set cost $6.25 per square inch of picture. Today, our 20-inch set costs only about $1.37 per square inch, and gives you a much finer picture almost four times the size.

So, you see, with all the forces of inflation, a counterforce has been quietly at work. Research and engineering are steadily plugging along—improving products—making them do more, cost less, and last longer.

At least, that's the way it is at General Electric. Sure, it's smart to look at the price tag. But it's also smart to look beyond . . . to the performance of the product and the name of the maker. The best possible products at the lowest possible prices—that's G.E.'s idea of good business.

You can put your confidence in

A "TOAST" TO JUNE DAIRY MONTH!

20th Century-Fox Star Mizzi Gaynor raises a "toast" to June Dairy Month and the U. S. dairy industry as she drinks a glass of milk between "takes" in her Hollywood dressing room.

Dairy Month, June 1-30, a star in its own right on the American scene, is being staged for the 18th consecutive year. Its purpose is to further an even better understanding of the contribution dairy foods make to the nation's health and the stabilization of our economy.

About 10 million Americans gain livelihood from the production, processing and distribution of foods such as ice cream, milk, butter, cheese, evaporated milk and dry milk. The dairy industry contributes at least 10 billion dollars to national commerce.

Miss Gaynor will soon be seen in the motion picture comedy, "We're Not Married."

Hillbilly Party Honors Bakers On Thursday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker were honored with a picnic supper, hillbilly style, last Thursday evening at the club house. Host and hostesses for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bullington, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter and Mr. and Mrs. John Porter.

About 20 couples were present, and all came dressed to represent Arkansas backwoods folks. The prize awarded to the most typical hillbilly couple went to Charles and Betty Baker.

The club house was decorated with cartoons of several Dogpatch characters and other cartoons in keeping with the hillbilly motif. After the picnic supper, the party enjoyed recordings and various card games.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker and sons left last Friday for Texarkana, Ark. to make their home.

GRANDMOTHER TELLS OF THE BOY'S ARRIVAL

"A birthday present—a grandson on my birthday," a voice on the telephone said. "Yes," we say politely, "who is this?"

"Just think! A grandson on my birthday. Oh, what? Oh, this is Mildred Fitzgerald, and Wynell has a new boy!"

After further inquiry we learned that Mrs. Fitzgerald's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mills of Post, are the proud parents of a son, who was born on July 1, weighing six pounds and 10 ounces. They named this birthday present Larry Don. Mother and son are doing nicely, but poor Grandma is beyond help!

Miss Wynell Albus visited her sister, Lavern Albus, at the Wichita Clinic last Sunday. Miss Lavern Albus underwent surgery there about ten days ago, and is reported to be doing nicely.

"Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new Government..." (From the Declaration of Independence now 176 years true).

-- and the fight for Freedom must never cease!

Absolutism Government is no respecter of person or place. It can and does raise its ugly, ungodly standard over traditionally free soils as it does over England and the land of the Czars. None of the real, pretended, or promised benefits of Absolutism Government can in the end justify its existence.

The freedoms for which generations of Americans have fought and died are slipping away from us... centralized government and bureaucratic directives are nibbling away at our American heritage.

Freedom is not free—it had to be fought for, and you will have to fight to maintain it. Now is the time for everyone to come out, stand up, be counted, and vote the way he desires to vote, regardless of those who would perpetuate power politics.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Pleased To Notice That All Candidates Have Now Come Out Against Higher Taxes

Editors' note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has been listening to the candidates, his letter this week reveals:

Dear editor:

For a while the various campaigns for the Presidential nomination had me worried. There wasn't anybody running on a platform of reducing taxes, and it just ain't natural, it's like gettin' married without promising to support your wife, but startin' last week I notice most of em are fallin' in line and you can now take your pick of havin' reduced by anywhere from 15 per cent to 50 per cent. So far ain't none come out in favor of wipin' em out altogether, but I'm willin' to listen.

As long as I can remember, candidates have been runnin' or platforms of reducing taxes, and as long as I can remember taxes have been goin' up, and while I had rather see a man run on a platform of less taxes than more, if nothin' else it just sounds better, still I would like to see some of em accomplish their ends occasionally and I have figured out a way.

When a candidate stands up and says "I will reduce your taxes 15 per cent the first year I'm in office," we ought to believe him and sort of take him at his word, and at the end of that year, if he rides into office, what we ought to do is take off 15 per cent of the previous year's tax total and send him a bill for it.

This would have one of two results; either it would reduce taxes 15 per cent, or it would reduce promisin.

Of course you understand when I say I'm in favor of reducin' taxes, it goes without sayin' the reduction should come through cuttin' out waste and extravagance in Washington or Austin or at the court house, and not through cuttin' down on any road improvements or other governmental service slated for this area out here. We ain't quite gettin' our share like it is.

Anybody can reduce taxes by lettin' things slide, what I want is reduced taxes and increased services both in the same year.

As I see it, everybody runnin' for anything this year is opposed to graft and corruption and high taxes, so all we got to do is get the election held an' everything will be straightened

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—A long-range battle against rampaging polio was outlined Wednesday by the State Department of Health.

State Health Officer George W. Cox recommended these eight points of action in combating the disease which this year is striking harder at Texas than at any other part of the nation:

1. Spot insect breeding places after they have been cleaned up and destroyed. Spraying indiscriminately might kill a few insects on the wing, but it won't do the job. It might kill valuable plants and create a false sense of security.
2. Get rid of animal shelters in urban areas. They cannot be kept clean and consequently create a health hazard as fly breeders.
3. Get rid of dump piles, tin cans, old tires, and accumulated debris which breed flies and mosquitoes and provide harborage for rats.
4. Provide a proper operated sewerage system, and get rid of all surface toilets. Dr. Cox believes surface toilets constitute one of the major health hazards facing Texas.
5. Provide a source of pure water.
6. Protect food supplies in wholesale business houses, retail shops, and in private homes.

7. Make regular inspections of all premises to see that no possibility exists for fly breeding. If you have flies somebody is maintaining a breeding spot.

8. Garbage should be placed in fly tight garbage cans until time of disposal. Tubs, boxes, lidless garbage cans, etc., are of no value.

He urged each home owner to assume responsibility for keeping his property clean inside and out. This will help protect you and your neighbor. More people have been struck down by polio this year than ever before.

He said it takes months and months to clean up a city, and that it "takes forever to keep it that way." The program must be continuous. "It will take from one to five years to really clean up our larger cities," Cox said.

"This is the same program we have followed and published for the past ten years. People have got to get over the notion that spraying alone will keep their city fly-free," Dr. Cox declared. "The only way to kill flies is to do it methodically block by block, by eliminating their breeding places."

"They carry many diseases—

Cotton Insect Control Meetings Held In County

A series of three cotton insect control meetings were held in Knox County on Wednesday, June 25th by Allan Gunter, Extension Entomologist. Places of meeting were the Skeet Carpenter variety test in Knox City, the Nolan Phillips farm north of Munday, and the W. M. Ford farm east of Vera. Approximately 85 attended the meeting, and braved the strong wind that nearly blew the group from the fields.

The main point of Gunter's talks were the benefit realized by each farmer knowing how to make insect counts and applying this county on a regular 5 day schedule. This way each farmer is aware of the insect infestation, and knows when it is necessary to apply insecticides. Insure control guides may be obtained from the County Agent, and for control this time of the year, it is best to apply the upper amount of poison listed in the guide. Higher rates of poison are not practical, but smaller amounts of insecticides may not produce the results desired. Gunter also stressed that the way to determine results of cotton poisoning was the absence of insects, not the finding

Novel Table for Cottage Folds Against Wall
A COMPACT, out-of-the-way table and benches suitable for a camp cottage will be a pleasure to build and a delight to the family because of its novelty.

The table top, when folded up serves as a door for the wall cabinet. Because it will wear long and is easy to keep clean, Masonite 1/2" Tempered Presdwood is used to surface the lumber framing of the table top. The same material covers the planks serving as benches.

The cupboard is built of 1-inch lumber framing, covered with Tempered Presdwood. Shelves are similarly constructed.

Note the hinges which permit the table and benches to be pushed out of the way, against the wall, to which they are fastened with hooks.

Panels of Presdwood can be used effectively in other ways at the summer cottage—to cover unsightly interior walls, for converting a large room into smaller ones, corner closets, floors, fish cleaning and bait cutting boards, sunshades at the beach, etc.

Gunter also spoke to the Tri-County Agricultural Club which met at Munday the evening of the 26th, and at this meeting presented slides showing beneficial insects as well as harmful insects.

Also attending the meetings was John M. Saunders, Senior Agronomist of the Extension Service from Washington, D. C. Programs were under the supervision of Roy Saunders of Munday and Ancel Waldrip, President of the Knox County Farm Bureau in the absence of W. C. Palmeyer, County Agent, who was on military leave at Fort Hood, Texas.

W. H. Lindsey of Jal, N. M. is here for several weeks visit with his daughters, Mrs. Frank Russell, Mrs. Stanley Wardlaw, Mrs. Oran Chamberlain, and their families.

Let I should overlook someone, should I attempt to thank each of you personally, I want to take this way to say "Thank you" to everyone who helped in any way to make my stay in the hospital a more pleasant one. For the beautiful flowers, your visits, for the many cards and letters, for the boys who gave of their blood, and for any other kind expression, I am deeply grateful. May God richly bless you all.

Lucky Car

Renowned as a four-wheel grid tumbler is this 1931 model Chevrolet which was brought to the Michigan campus 14 years ago when the football team's slumping fortunes began to recover. The vehicle has been passed from one coach to another and is currently owned by Bill Orwig, shown at the right of Head Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. Superstitious coaches kick the car's tires, pat its fenders or sound the horn before big games.
