Kracker Krumbs

"The Munday Times, $2.00 a year." We threatened to put that advertising on the face of "Casa Grande"...

The idea wasn't entirely our own. Our friend, Roy Craig of Stamford, gazed upward into the face of the mountain and decided he'd climb up there and paint across there...

We asked him to put our ad just below his while he was up there.

Then he accused us of cutting prices, etc., and to keep down an argument, it was decided that neither of us would do any advertising on this trip.

Casa Grande pierces the atmosphere at better than 7,000 feet. We were standing "down in the basin" at park headquarters...

The fact that it was a strenuous climb—that remaining 3,000 feet—to the top of this mountain might have been a small factor in deferring our sign painting.

This was one of the very interesting side trips of the annual West Texas Press Association's annual convention, held in Alpine this year.

Since the advertised program was for "little business and lots of sightseeing and fun," we prevailed upon our wife and the H. F. Jungmans to go along with us this year.

It didn't take much persuasion, since none of us had ever been in the Alpine area or the Big Bend. Everything came up to our expectations, except the weather.

We were about ready to compliment the Alpine Chamber of Commerce upon working overtime to advertise their cool climate, then we found it much hotter than expected. Didn't need those light wraps we were warned to bring along.

But Saturday morning we purchased a paper and read where Seymour was again the hottest point in the state Friday, with a sizzling 114. Then we decided Alpine's 98 to 100 was really cool.

True to Chamber of Commerce style, that weather was "unusual" in Alpine. Editor and Mrs. Webb of the Alpine Avalanche told us they usually had four or five days of hot weather during the summer. These days usually came in June, but this year it waited for the editors to arrive.

Editor and Mrs. Webb were wonderful hosts. They just let their paper kinda run itself—published it a day early—so they could show us a good time. They led the way on the tours and kinda looked after our comfort and enjoyment.

Enroute to Alpine Thursday, we toured some of the irrigated district around Alpine and saw some of the most promising cotton we've seen all year. Every few miles we came upon a Paymaster Gin, so they're anticipating a good crop.

Stopped at Balmorhea and visited the state park and the inviting spring and swimming pool. Then made the scenic drive through the Lipan Valley to Fort Davis.

Another interesting tour was to the ruins of old Fort Davis, where a stop was made for sandwiches and refreshments.

Then came the scenic loop through the Davis Mountains, to Mt. Locke and McDonald Observatory.

We entered the observatory, mounted the steps and assembled in the huge dome, where all that intricate and completely balanced mechanism is, with the huge telescope pointing sky-

Nolan Phillips Gins First Bale Of 1952 Cotton Here On Tuesday

"It's too blamed hot to be picking cotton!" That's the remark that the editor made Thursday when he learned that Munday had ginned a bale of 1952 cotton.

But someone had been gathering the fleecy stuff out at Nolan Phillips' farm about two miles northwest of town. Nolan came in late Monday with the cotton, and the bale was ginned off Tuesday morning.

This is believed to be Knox County's first bale, and was four days earlier than the first bale last year. Knox City ginned the first 1951 bale on August 16, and Munday's first bale was ginned on August 29.

Mr. Phillips had 2,500 pounds of cotton, from which he received a 525-pound bale.

The cotton was ginned by Paymaster Gin in Munday, and the ginning and wrapping was free of charge on this first bale. The cotton had not been sold Tuesday afternoon.

Billy and Lois Yeager returned to their home in Fort Worth last Sunday after a week's visit with their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Yeager.

The third annual Conference for Golden Agers in the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church is being conducted at McMurry College, in Abilene, August 18-21. The conference is planned with the interest and needs of older people in mind. Dr. Joe T. Nelson Begins Practice In Weatherford Clinic

The doctors held open house of the new clinic last Sunday afternoon when around 300 guests called to inspect the new medical equipment and offices of the clinic. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nelson went to Weatherford for the opening and were members of the house party.

Dr. Nelson is a graduate of Munday High School, the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, and served his internship in City-County Hospital in Fort Worth.

Survey Requested For Postal Savings

A local citizen, V. M. Girdon, has received a letter from Osborne A. Pearson, assistant postmaster general, stating that postal savings facilities are extended to any post office at which there appears to be sufficient demand for the service.

"The Munday, Texas postmaster has been requested, therefore," Pearson stated, "to make a survey of local conditions. If his report indicates that the establishment of postal savings would be justified, appropriate action will be taken."

Revival To Open Next Sunday At Baptist Church

The annual summer revival will begin on Sunday, August 17, at the First Baptist Church, Rev. Huron A. Poinac, pastor, announced the first of this week.

Rev. Vernon Shaw, field representative for the Texas Baptist Children's Home in Round Rock, will do the preaching. Rev. Shaw, whose home is in Lubbock, was formerly pastor at the memorial Baptist Church in Temple Immanuel Baptist Church in San Angelo, and at First Baptist churches in Floyd, Snyder, and Kerrville. He went to Texas Baptist Children's Home from Kerrville and has been there for two years.

Bill Hardage, choir director of the local church, will be in charge of the song services. Bill, who has held this position in the local church for over a year, will be a junior at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene this fall. His home is in Vernon.

Cottage prayer meetings are being held in various homes of the community this week in preparation for the revival.

Morning services will be held Mondays through Fridays beginning at 9 a. m. Evening services will begin at 7:30 p. m. each evening.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., TIMES: "The greater the amount of aid, the greater the control exacted by the Federal and state governments, and the greater amounts levied in taxes. It is all part of the super-spending program and part of the program that is constantly exerting pressure on the people to become wards of the government . . . This creeping paralysis is the curse of the nation today fostered by men greedy for power who know that nobody ever gets anything for nothing, unless it is obtained through direct theft or other forms of dishonesty."

DES PLAINES, ILL., SUBURBAN TIMES: "Mull over this one: In one month a certain meat packing company paid out $200,000 in overtime to clerical workers sorting over OPS records, although 90 per cent of the plant's products were selling below ceiling prices. Is it things like this that make prices stay up?"

VASHON, WASHINGTON, NEWS-RECORD: "Confident that it can meet no effective opposition, Big Government invariably grows reckless. The steel crisis furnishes a good example. First the steel industry's executives were denounced. Then they were informed that the government would raise the steelworkers' wages unless the industry settled the dispute promptly—and obviously, on the union's terms. Only timely intervention of the Supreme Court's injunction proved that we still have a government of laws—not a dictatorship. Let's keep it that way!"

CONTROLS DISTORT THE ECONOMY

The Committee for Economic Development, an organization which makes studies of a wide range of economic questions, recently published a booklet on price controls. In one section, it said: "Price and wage controls tend to distort production and restrict the ability of the economy to respond to changing needs. No mechanism has yet been found that is nearly as efficient as the free market system in providing the driving force for economic growth and in regulating the flow of goods and services . . . The longer price and wage controls are in effect, the more serious the distortion of the economy is likely to be."

Relatively few people seem to understand how efficient a regulator of the economy the free market is, with its open competition all the way down the line. On the production level, it forces the manufacturer to make what people want—not what the manufacturer might make if his own desires were all that mattered—and in the quantity for which a market can be found. And the price is fixed not by man-made law or by the actions of cartels and trusts, but by the natural law of supply and demand.

Much of the same thing happens on the retail level. The consumer is the boss—not because the retailer necessarily likes that, but because the actions of the consumers decide whether a store will succeed or go broke. The consumer, in the free market, looks for and finds certain inducements—a lower price, more attractive stocks, better and more courteous service, and so on. Every merchant, small or large, chain or independent, must seek to offer these inducements.

That's why only the free market makes for progress and abundance.

NO HANDOUT

The government has followed the practice of allowing companies engaged in defense work to depreciate plant expansions for military production for five years rather than the longer periods usually allowed. There are two reasons for this. The first is that some expansions might be useless if defense production should be curtailed. The second is to furnish an inducement for corporations to risk their capital in productive effort to meet an emergency.

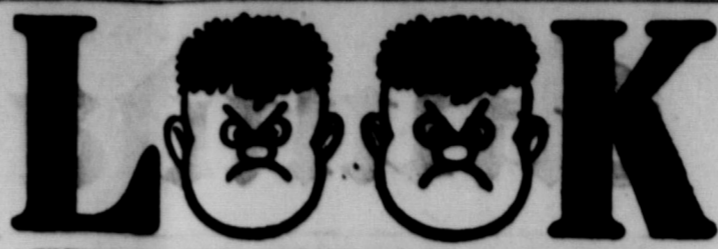

Of course, the more rapid depreciation rate means temporarily lower taxes. However, in following such a practice the government is most certainly not dispensing "handouts" to favored companies, as the head of the oil workers Union recently implied in the case of one of the larger oil companies, which is spending some $120,000,000 of its own money to step up vitally needed petroleum product output. The situation is akin to the government going to a farmer and asking him to build wholly at his own cost an expensive dairy barn to step up milk production to help meet a national emergency. After the inflated demand of the emergency is past the farmer may be left with his capital tied up in a white elephant. It would seem eminently fair and reasonable in these days of near confiscatory taxation to let him depreciate his expanded plant over a shorter period of time—and that is what the government is allowing companies to do. It is a far cry from a "handout."

GET OUT OF THE BRUSH!

At last count, there were about 20 different no-passing zones in use in the various States. This appalling lack of uniformity not only serves to confuse the average motorist and make his driving more difficult, but it definitely presents a serious safety problem.

Of course, uniformity of no-passing zones is not the whole answer, but there is no doubt that many accidents on hills and curves could be prevented if there were less variety of markings. Up until about a year ago, there was some excuse for lack of uniformity, since no uniform standard had been adopted. This is no longer true. Now, a standard marking has been adopted and set forth in the Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices.

If all States which do not conform to this standard would get out the old paint brush and make the necessary changes, it might be possible to whittle down, if only slightly, the 1952 traffic death toll.

Hail Insurance on Cotton!

J. C. Harpham Insurance Agency
 MUNDAY KNOX CITY

One of the most remarkable Texans of early days whose fame has largely been lost sight of in these later years was Robt. M. Williamson, for whom a county was named. He was better known as "Three-Legged Willie" because one of his legs was useless and bent back at the knee, so he used a wooden leg. Williamson was born in Georgia in 1806 and came to Texas in 1826. He was a lawyer and, after learning Spanish, he mastered the land laws of Spain and Mexico.

He was a leader in the movement for the independence of Texas. He signed the first call for a convention to protest against Mexican rule; a reward was offered by the Mexican government for him and the other signers of the call. He was a fiery speaker and was known as the "Patrick Henry of the Texas Revolution."

Williamson took part in the opening fight of the Revolution at Gonzales and in the Battle of San Jacinto. When his portrait was presented to the Texas Senate, the principal oration was delivered by George Clark of Waco, who gave Yoakum, the historian, as authority for the statement that Williamson had done as much, if not more than any other man in precipitating and sustaining the Revolution.

Williamson became judge of the Third Judicial District during the days of the Texas Republic and also was a member of the Congress of Texas as well as a member of the legislature after Statehood. He died in 1859, his last years being spent on a farm near Independence, in Washington County.

A fiery orator of the type of Patrick Henry and John Randolph of Roanoke, Three-Legged Willie also had a rich gift of humor. Worldly goods had but little appeal for him and he knew poverty, though he could have gained wealth through speculation.

The best known story about Williamson deals with an occurrence when he was judge. A lawyer, who had clashed with the court, made a strong statement and "Three-Legged Willie" demanded to know where he found any law to sustain such a proposition. The attorney drew a Bowie knife and hurled the point into the pin table as he replied, "There's the law." Williamson whipped out a pistol and said, "Yes, and by thunder, here's the Constitution."

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hill spent the latter part of last week in Tatum, N. M., visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nichols. Their grandson, who had been visiting here, returned to Lovington with them.

Market For Guar Is Established At Kenedy, Texas

Considering the widespread planting of guar in Texas areas for soil conditioning and the newly established industrial market for guar beans, it is well to call growers' attention to the supplemental revenue value of the guar bean produced from this acreage.

The 1952 market price for guar beans has been set at $4.00 per cwt., clean seed basis, delivered at Kenedy, Texas. Growers can sell to designated agents established in major areas, or bring their guar beans direct to Kenedy. Bulk storage facilities have been secured for General Mills, at the Archer-Daniels-Midland Flax Plant in Kenedy, where the guar beans for processing will be accumulated initially.

Construction of the General Mills Guar Plant at Kenedy, Texas is progressing according to schedule. The plant will be in operation to process guar beans from the 1952 crop for the production of vegetable gum, which has numerous specialized industrial uses as a stabilizing and sizing agent. The 1952 demand for guar beans for industrial processing at the Kenedy plant will be sizable with good potential for increasing demands in 1953.

Principal guar products of the Kenedy plant will be distributed for industrial and food uses. The plant by-product will be Guar germ meal, a high protein supplement for animal feeds.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patterson and son attended the reunion of Mrs. L. B. Patterson's family which was held last week end at the San Jacinto battlegrounds near Houston.

Specialist Gives Hints On Defoliating Of Cotton Plants

The ever-increasing use of machines for harvesting cotton has also increased the use of chemicals as plant defoliants. Defoliating the cotton plant, says Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is a practice, when properly carried out, will materially improve the machine harvesting job.

Here are Elliott's suggestions on doing a successful job. The timing of the application of the defoliant is very important. In order to get maximum staple length development and yield, Elliott says the defoliant should be applied no sooner than 35 days after the period of maximum blooming. Another way to time the application is to wait 30 days after the cotton has quit making or when the youngest bolls are 30 days old. This condition will exist in most fields when about 10 per cent of the bolls are open. The defoliant should be applied from ten days to two weeks prior to intended picking dates in Central and South Texas and from two to three weeks on the High Plains.

When calcium cyanamide is used as a dust, the plants must be wet with dew or when adequate dew is forecast. The chemical to be most effective must remain in moisture on the leaf for at least two hours but four or more hours of moist exposure are preferred. Monosodium cyanamide does not depend on dew for activation but takes the needed moisture from the air or from the leaf. The leaves, however, should be green and not wilted, says Elliott.

Spray defoliants may be used in the absence of dew and when humidity is low; however, the specialist emphasizes that the plant must be thoroughly covered with the material. If an airplane is used for applying the defoliant, a flagman should always be used. Fenders should be used on ground equipment in

Our Coming Generation

Frank cotton.

Elliott points out that a better defoliation job is obtained when the cotton is mature, leaves not wilted nor toughened by drought or starved by a lack of soil fertility, when plant moisture is adequate and the weather is warm and humid. He emphasizes the importance of using weather forecasts as an aid when defoliants are being applied.

Defoliate only enough acreage to stay ahead of the picking, says Elliott, and he warns against using an defoliant that is not labeled as to its exact chemical content. Using chemicals as defoliants which have not been tested may injure the open fiber, the unopened bolls or worst of all may cause fire hazards at the gin.

One final caution, Elliott says before making the application thoroughly clean the spray tanks, pumps, lines and nozzles to remove residues left in the equipment by liquid insecticides. The spray machines should be flushed with water after each day's operation.

Elliott suggests to cotton producers interested in obtaining more information on the subject that they contact their local county agricultural agent and ask for a copy of L-145, "Cotton Defoliation Guide in Texas." The leaflet has only recently been released and contains the latest recommendations covering the use of many defoliants.

The oldest man-made movie set in America, the 1,400 year-old Puye Indian cliff-dwelling ruins near Santa Fe, New Mexico, is the scene of the exciting rescue sequence in Paramount's "The Atomic City," Saturday night at the Roxy Theatre. First Bale Of 1952 Cotton Crop Bought By Burlington Mills

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 8—The first bale of the 1952 cotton crop has been purchased by the Cramerton Division of Burlington Mills, it was announced today by William A. Julian, Burlington's cotton buyer. Mr. Julian's announcement coincided with the release of the first U. S. cotton crop estimates for 1952 by the Crop Reporting Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

The first 1952 bale brought a whopping $2.78 per pound for cotton grower Ray Barnick of Mission, Texas, when auctioned at the Houston Cotton Exchange in June. Anderson Clayton & Company, raw cotton merchants, bought the bale and resold it to Cramerton. Members of the Exchange added an additional bonus of $1350, making Mr. Barnick's total return $2684.

This bale will go to Burlington's Cramerton Division at Cramerton, North Carolina, producers of fine cotton fabrics, gingham and uniform materials for the U. S. Army and better work clothing manufacturers. These fabrics are distributed through the Galey & Lord Division of Burlington Mills.

SOIL BUILDER CONFUSION

The recent boom in synthetic soil conditioners is one of the most interesting commercial phenomena in many years.

Ever since last December, when one of the world's largest chemical companies announced the development of a synthetic organic soil conditioner, the number of alleged "conditioners" has grown rapidly. Claims and counter-claims for these conflicting brands can easily confuse the purchaser.

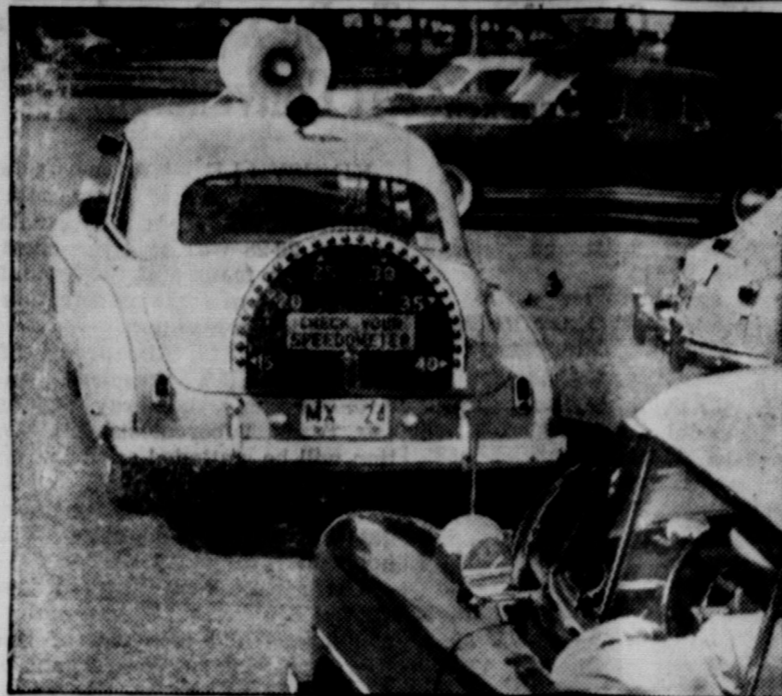

A "magic chemical" to treat the soil has long been needed. It is a well known fact that soil may be well limed and have an abundant supply of fertilizers and yet not be very productive because of bad crusting on top and poor physical condition underneath. Small wonder, then, that the announcement of an effective soil conditioner late last year caused such a stir.

Many people swamped agricultural agencies with requests for this new product even before the discovering company was ready for full production. It was only natural that other companies rushed to "get on the band wagon."

But a good soil conditioner is not as easy to produce as it might seem. The original company's research staff had been working on its product for many years before any mention was made to the public. When it was announced, they had a fully tested organic substance whose characteristics were known. This substance, a grayish powder, was recommended for use at one pound to 100 square feet of soil. It worked in the soil, doing away with crusting and gave the treated area the characteristics of good garden loam, manufact-

Giant Speedometer Cuts Accidents

To make motorists conscious of speed limits, the Seattle, Wash. police department has put into operation a Powerglide Chevrolet with a precise speed clock mounted at the rear. Flashing red and amber lights on the giant exterior dial reflect the speed recorded by the car's speedometer. Police drive the car around the city an average of 30 miles a day and report it has reduced accidents appreciably. Two-way radio and a loudspeaker system to caution drivers are included.

What sign were you born under?

It makes a difference, some folks say! But whatever your sign — one thing you probably have in common with most Americans is that either directly or indirectly you're an owner of one of America's electric light and power companies like the West Texas Utilities Company.

It's like this: about three million people from all walks of life — teachers, housewives, doctors, mechanics, farmers — put their savings into companies like the West Texas Utilities. They're direct owners.

Another seventy-five million people, through their life insurance policies and savings bank accounts, are indirect owners. For their banks invest a substantial part of their premiums and savings in the securities of the nation's electric companies.

So, you see, these companies, like the West Texas Utilities, that serve nearly everybody are owned by nearly everybody!

In the first few months after the initial announcement, the Soils Department of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station tested more than two dozen possible substitutes that were brought in by producers for examination. Of these, only three were found to be effective. Some of the quickly developed products were declared to be virtually worthless. Others might or might not have some value.

Until all of these products get thorough trials by qualified agencies, the Texas farmer or gardener should realize that HE is doing the experimenting.

KEEP COSTS DOWN, PERFORMANCE UP, WITH A DODGE!

"My Dodge trucks save a lot of money on gas!"

says H. A. ROBINSON, Contract Hauler, Mobile, Ala.

"On a 200-mile run I save 1 1/2 to 2 gallons of gas. I get this saving seven days a week, and on my two trucks that means I save over $300.00 a year on gas alone. That's good, because each of my trucks makes an average of 50 stops per day hauling mail. "My first Dodge truck cost me only $54.00 of repair expense in two years. I ran my second Dodge over 103,000 miles in two years and spent only $15.50 on it for repairs.

"If I'd known what I know now about Dodge trucks, I'd have switched to them long ago and saved myself a lot of money."

▶ Haul at lower cost with a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your job — 1/2- through 4-ton.

▶ Boost gasoline mileage with features like high-compression ratio and special gas-saving carburetor.

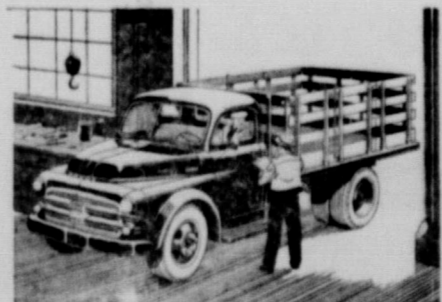

▶ Reduce upkeep with such wear-saving features as floating oil intake and positive-pressure lubrication.

▶ Enjoy smooth performance with glycol Fluid Drive, wear-protecting advantage available on all 1/2-, 3/4-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.

▶ Come in today for a demonstration — and a good deal!

Save on gas and oil. All 8 Dodge truck engines give exceptional economy with plenty of power. You get such advantages as lightweight aluminum pistons, improved fuel system with economy control, precision-balanced crankshaft, and other money-saving features.

Save on maintenance. Rugged engines and chassis have made Dodge trucks famous for dependability. Upkeep costs stay low because of many special Dodge features like 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top ring, and wear-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts.

Save with long life. Because Dodge trucks last so long, depreciation is less and trade-in value stays up. Long life and dependability are the result of such features as alloy steel springs, shot-peened axle shafts, extra-sturdy frames, and Oriflow shock absorbers in low-tonnage models.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—The control of any disease must be based upon facts and not theory, asserts Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The reason for this statement is based on the numerous theories sent the State Health Department for the cure or prevention of polio, diarrhea and dysentery.

The spread of polio, for instance, has been blamed on weeds, air, bananas, milk, atomic radiation and many other items. All of these are theories and have no basis of fact. Facts in disease are arrived at in the laboratory, the sick room and the environment of the patient. Facts are necessary and must be the guidepost for the control of disease.

Dr. Cox is authorized by law to accept gifts and contributions for public health. The first gift to aid in research on the part played by flies and cockroaches in the spread of polio is two monkeys from Bellaire. Others will be needed to complete the study. Any contribution will be appreciated.

Education work in dysentery and diarrhea—which kills far more children than polio—is being hampered by lack of personnel to do the work. Cox said Texas has six times more dysentery and diarrhea than the national average. There were 1099 infants under one year of age who died of this cause in 1951.

"When we get rid of these two fifth borne diseases, we will have done the best thing in the world to get rid of polio," he asserted. "But it takes resources to do it."

Fund and equipment shortages have been the stumbling block to the whole research program in Texas, Dr. Cox said. Despite the fact that the State Bureau of Laboratories has consistently won top honors in national competition for accuracy in disease identification.

Mrs. Freddie Morrow returned Sunday from a week's vacation in Dallas, Longview, San Antonio, Houston, and Galveston. She went with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Henderson and Mr. Henderson, who live in Olton.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Tells The Two Candidates That Television And Radio Hasn't Replaced Handshakes

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has some advice for the Presidential candidates this week, although we don't recall anybody's asking for it.

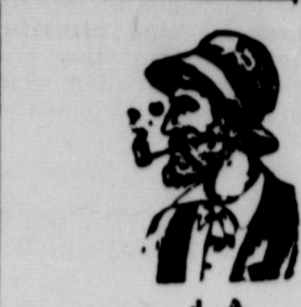

Dear editor:

A bunch of us was sittin' around out here the other day discussin' politics and how the radio and television have changed campaign methods.

"Campaigning is a lot easier now," one man argued. "All you have to do is sit in an air-conditioned studio with a speech somebody wrote for you and be seen and heard by millions of voters. Everybody gets to see what you look like. Can't fool the public any more."

I do not exactly look at it this way, that is, I got confidence in some candidate's ability to fool the public regardless of how much progress science makes, but I also get confidence in the public's ability to fool the candidates, and it's for that reason candidates shouldn't put all their faith in reachin' the people over radio and television.

For example, we can see Washington television, but Washington can't see us. I know what

J. A.

Eisenhower and Stevenson look like, but they don't know what I look like. It's one thing for the public to size the candidates up, but I suspect it's sort of important for the candidates to size the public up.

Television is fine for lettin' the candidates reach the public, but it ain't worth a darn for lettin' the public reach the candidates, and any candidate who doesn't know it and depends exclusively on campaignin' from a studio is liable to run an excellent race and not will any collars but wind up short on votes.

It have never understood it myself, but science with all its on-sweep of progress ain't never been able to replace the handshake when it comes to gettin' lected to public office.

My advice to bother the Presidential candidates is to not spend all their money on radio and television time, better hold back a little for travelin' around the country feelin' the public pulse. There ain't nothin' that beats knowin' what the people are thinkin'. Microphones and television cameras ain't been given the vote yet.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Patsy Morrow, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene this summer, visited her mother and brother, Mrs. Freddie Morrow and Gerald over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Simpson and children of Haskell were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Welborn last Sunday.

Kay Waheed spent several days visitin' in Lubbock during the first of the week.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—The Monday trade on cattle and calves at Fort Worth was very slow with a weak to unevenly lower undertone. Some of the best fed cattle and fat calves held about steady with other slaughter classes weak to 50 cents, spots $1. and more lower. Stocker and feeders were the slowest in several weeks. Some feeder heifers and thin stocker cows sold near steady but other stockers, and especially calves, were sharply lower, some drastic declines in effect later in the day.

Butcher hogs advanced 50 cents per hundred and sows were 50 cents to $1 higher. The restriction in sending feeder pigs back to the country was still in effect, and any pigs that were on the market had to sell for slaughter at sharply reduced prices.

Sheep and lambs generally held steady prices as compared with the previous week's close.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $26 to $32.50. Plain and medium slaughter kinds sold at $15 to $27 and cull yearlings $12 to $14.

Fat cows brought $14 to $17, and canners and cutters cashed at $8 to $14, some old shells down under $8. Bulls drew $13 to $22.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold at $25 to $28 and plain and medium butcher sorts cashed at $16 to $24, with culls from $12 to $15.

Good and choice stocker calves drew $24 to $29 and plain to medium quality sold for $16 to $22. Stocker and feeder steers and yearlings of good and choice kinds sold at $22 to $25.50, and common to medium sorts sold at $15 to $20. Stocker cows drew $14 to $18.

Good and choice butcher hogs reached a top of $23.25, most sales $23 down. Sows cashed at $16 to $19. Pigs sold at $10 to $12.

Medium, good and choice fat Spring lambs sold at $20 to $27 and stocker and feeder lambs sold at $12 to $20. Stocker and feeder yearlings cashed at $10 to $15. Old wethers sold from $10 down. Two-year-olds sold from $12 downward. Slaughter ewes cashed at $6 to $7.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pruitt visited Mrs. G. L. Pruitt, who is in the Clinic at Wichita Falls last Sunday. They reported that Mrs. Pruitt is improving.

"Transitional Cottons" Offered As New Trend In Fall Fashions

"Transitional cottons"—that's the fashion story of late summer and early fall.

And "transitional cottons" are the answer to the fashion-decree that says, "when it's September it's time for fall and winter clothes no matter what the temperature reading."

These new fall stunners are dresses, suits and coats made of dark cotton suitings, tweeds and tweedy denims, the National Cotton Council reported. They look like winter, but feel like summer.

With the appearance of regular tweeds and wools, the new "transitionals" have the feel and hand of cotton that make them easy to wear. They feel soft, never scratch or irritate the skin. Esther Reifer has selected Bates' cotton tweed for a coat dress with important black contrast and huge side pockets. A double-duty outfit, it's equally smart when worn with or without a removable black cotton knit dickey. The ideal dress for July as well as for December, because cotton in this new weight and texture is seasonless.

Korday uses simtex burnt-colored denim for a short-sleeved dress and three-quarter length sleeved jacket. To make the tiny waistline important, bright red and black cotton knit is an attention-getter. To make the waistline small, the rib knit hugs the body, can be pulled in as tightly as one's waistline allows.

Fashion's newest darling in men's wear cotton suiting in fall colors. Dorothy Cox of McMullen selects Thomas' suiting for late-summer, early-fall dress. She uses the bold stripe in the diagonal, contrasts the direction of the stripe in the bodice and skirt. With a zipped-up front closing, the dress is a quickie to get into, a smartly comfortable one to wear.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCaulley and family of Phillips and John Lee Arrott of Palo Pinto were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Mitchell and Becky Arrott. Becky accompanied them to Megargel where she was met by her father, Leemon Arrott. Mrs. Mitchell joined them in Megargel last Sunday for a family gathering. Becky accompanied her father on to Palo Pinto where she will visit the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. A. J. Smith returned home last Saturday from an extended visit with relatives in South Texas.

Mrs. T. G. Bengel was a business visitor in Wichita Falls last Sunday.

NEW POULTRY PRODUCT PREVENTS AND CORRECTS NUTRITIONAL POULTRY DISEASES

For years poultry raisers have been using tonics to keep their birds eating and producing and to give them extra amounts of essential minerals. However, even with these tonics in the feed, four out of five poultry flocks suffer from various borderline or marginal deficiencies. . . and these deficiencies can lead to loss of profits. These deficiencies usually result in run down condition, slow growth, lowered egg production, and frequently cause actual diseased conditions.

To overcome these all too common conditions, the Dr. LeCear Medicine Company, pioneer in the field of poultry and livestock medicines, has introduced a product called PLUS combined with POULTRY PRESCRIPTION, especially designed to prevent and correct all the common nutritional diseases and still provide the needed tonic boost. Now in one package poultry raisers will find the answer to the problem—of run-down, unprofitable poultry. Plus combined with Poultry Prescription is guaranteed to stop nutritional diseases and, at the same time, it gives poultry the tonic boost needed for healthy appetites and high egg production. At the first sign of a nutritional disease, such as roughened feathers, leg weakness or low egg production, that's the time to start using Plus combined with Poultry Prescription.

Kracker Krums

There a young fellow stepped up and made a speech, giving some interesting data about the observatory and its equipment that wouldn't stay lodged in our feeble brain.

It didn't take him long to prove himself smarter than we editors—especially about the stars and how they operate that huge telescope to study them.

Back at Alpine Friday night their Chamber of Commerce did itself proud by serving a barbecue supper that was really fit-ten to eat.

The trip to the Big Bend was made Saturday, after the convention had really closed, and we were kinda on our own. But most of the editors made the trip.

Our only regret was that we couldn't stay longer. A week in the Big Bend wouldn't be too long for taking those tours into other sections of the park, the mountain climbs and horseback trails.

But duty was beckoning us back home. Besides, we'd just about worn out our money pocket, reaching in for expense money, tips, etc.

We gazed back on the wonderful scenery of the Big Bend as we left out Sunday morning, beginning that 480-mile trip homeward.

Mrs. Verda Kendall of Gilmer and Mrs. Pearl McPherson and son, Billy, of Dallas were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Pryor and daughter over the week end.
