Kraaker Krumb's Odds Bits Salvaged at Random

March is an expensive month.

We reckon the fellow who initiated the saying, "In like a lion, out like a lamb" had reference to the financial side, too.

If a fellow feels like he has the "lion's share" of financial substinence at the beginning of March, it's a pretty safe bet those finances will dwindle considerably before the month is over.

It's kinda natural for one to "tighten his belt" financially speaking, along about the first of the year. He comes to the realization when December bills start rolling in that maybe he made Santa Claus too liberal in passing out those presents.

So he tightens up on various things in order to work out that Christmas indebtedness.

Then the various drives begin rolling soon after the first of the year. And most of us like to help out on those drives where our money goes for medical research and disease prevention and cure — those things that are calculated to make us live longer.

By the time March rolls around, we've had our belt tightened up about as long as we can.

Spring is just around the corner, and who wants spring to arrive without some sort of new wearing apparel?

So we find we've accumulated more bills in February that need to be paid in March. And March, too, is the month for more drives. The Red Cross drive starts just about where the heart fund drive left off.

But that's not the most expensive thing about March. It's the Collector of Internal Revenue who slaps you hard right in the middle of the month.

Of course, you've been sort of planning for it. You have been getting your figures together, possibly since the beginning of the year.

You figure on what you made, what you guessed early in the year that you'd make, what was withheld from your salary, if any, and what you'd paid in regular installments on your gueses.

You turn those figures over to another person — if you're no smarter than we are — and he starts working your figures into the pages of Form No. 1040.

He brings you 1040 to you, tells you how much money he's saved you, then you look at Line 7 which says, "balance must be paid in full with return," and get knocked for a row of asparagus sprouts.

Then you find that you were not as careful with your income as you should have been. You send the collector a check, hoping they're so snowed under at the revenue office they won't get around to sending it through until you've made a replenishing addition to the dwindling bank account.

But, wait! Your expenses for March are not over, yet — unless you've been a better manager than we have.

There's that tag on the front and back end of your automobile that must be replaced with a shiny new one, and April 1st is the deadline for tending to that matter.

We received notice from Buddy Bumpas this week that he will be on his rounds next week. He's coming here in Munday on Friday, March 13 — just a few days ahead of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

We always figure if we can make it through the month of March, we're plumb good for the remainder of the year by being real careful!

Mrs. R. M. Almonrode left Tuesday for Fort Worth to attend the three day state meeting of the Advisory Board of Infantile Paralysis Association.

Local Schools To Join In State-Wide Save-The-Children Clothing Collection

The Munday public schools will take part in a state-wide Children's Clothing Crusade to collect serviceable used clothing during the week of March 23rd. School Superintendent W. C. Cox, announced today.

Known as Save-The-Children Bundle Week, the five-day clothing collection is part of the Eleventh National Children's Clothing Crusade under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents. Leland D. Carmack, Associate Production Director of Save The Children Federation, has announced a goal of 300,000 pounds for Texas Schools.

Clothing obtained will be distributed by Save The Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States, on Indian Reservations, in Western Europe, the Far East, and the Near East.

Child war victims in Korea, Finland, France, Greece, Austria, Germany, Italy and Lebanon will be overseas beneficiaries. In America, clothing is distributed in a carefully planned self-help program in needy rural areas of eight Southern states in which the Federation operates its school sponsorship program.

Many children in the American areas served come from families with cash incomes of less than $400 a year. It were not for Save-The-Children Bundle Week clothing collections, many of these children would not be able to attend school in bad weather. Clothing is distributed to needy families on Indian reservations and to children both in and out of school. Clothing in Korea will be distributed through the Unified Command.

Mr. Cox reported that Save The Children Federation has shipped by air 30,000 pounds of specially selected warm clothing to Holland, France and England to aid victims of the ocean storms. Additional shipments are being prepared. Federation officials advised, "Part of the local collection will aid these storm devastated areas," he stated.

CLARENCE SEARCY'S PARENTS OF A SON

It is! It sure is a boy who arrived in the Knox County Hospital on Tuesday night, Feb. 24, at 10:30 by the clock. The Clarence Searcys were there to welcome this 7 pound and 4½ ounce boy, whom they decided to call Jeff. This was a splendid idea as his name is Jeffrey Clarence Searcy. Something sorta funny about this deal 'cause the Clarence Searcys think this is the only boy there is anywhere, and we are quite sure that there is one or two scattered about somewhere.

Mrs. Searcy and little Jeff are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oman in Weintert until he is a little older. The other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Searcy.

Rain Tuesday Brings Moisture To Knox County

Rains which fell during the early morning, Tuesday brought additional moisture to Knox County and renewed hopes for small grain and early crops.

The rain measured from light to heavy in various portions of the area. It came around 2:30 Tuesday morning, was of short duration, but was heavy while it was falling.

Munday received an even half-inch, according to H. P. Hill, U. S. Weather Observer.

From 1.50 to two inches was reported in the Rhineland community and a like amount around Goree and Hefner. The Gillespie area seemed to be the least favored by the moisture.

To the west of Knox City, along the Brazos river, around 2 and 2.50 inches was reported. It was enough to send water coursing down the river.

The Weintert area reported moisture about equal to that received at Munday.

"CHOP, PRUNE AND REORGANIZE"

Time magazine recently summarized in capsule form the primary problems the Eisenhower administration faces. On the subject of governmental efficiency it said: "Government probably is giving the taxpayer nowhere near his money's worth. Eisenhower's administration is going to have to chop, prune and reorganize."

That is about as good a two-sentence description of this all-important issue as could be written. We have just ended a 20-year period in which the federal government grew to incredible proportions, in which it assumed the responsibility for all manner of activities which used to be considered the province of the individual and local government, and, worst of all, in which millions of people were encouraged to look upon the federal treasury as the source of endless "free" handouts.

The Eisenhower administration is pledged to drastically change this suicidal trend. The President is opposed to the super-government philosophy which dominated the thinking of his immediate predecessors. Time and time again he has said that it is vitally necessary to decentralize government and return local problems to local hands. But no president and no administration, though it were blessed with the wisdom of Solomon and the resolution of Caesar, could accomplish this without the fullest public support and understanding.

This simply means that we must accept willingly government economy when it affects us—not just when it affects the other fellow. It means that special groups, including chambers of commerce, civic organizations, labor organizations and all the rest, must no longer demand economy as a general principle—and then go to Washington demanding bigger and better appropriations for their particular benefit. It means that we can and will have honest, efficient and economical government only if the people sincerely want that kind of government and accept the bitter with the sweet.

A BAD HABIT IS HARD TO BREAK

Price, wage and other government controls are being removed as rapidly as possible. We are headed back to a free market, competitive economy. This move appears to have the support of the people, which is a wholesome indication. The philosophy of the free market is inseparable from the philosophy of free government.

For years the people have been told by bureaucratic planners that controls can protect consumers against inflation—which they cannot do. Every effort has been made by many top politicians and government officials to create distrust of the free market which has given the United States the finest production and distribution system the world has known. It is a great tribute to this system and particularly to retail distribution that it has been able to function for such a long time under a mountain of anti-competitive, anti-free market controls.

Today controls are being removed but we should not forget that they are being removed while activity is high and people are reasonably content. We should not forget that there is still a $260 billion public debt to reckon with and that for most of the time during the past two decades we have been supported by government deficit financing and spending. In plain words, controls and the philosophy of political dictatorship that they represent are being thrown off with the approval of the people, but there has been no test as yet of renewed faith in the philosophy of free economy. Bracketing prices and wages with "floors and ceilings" by government decree is like the dope habit. It is hard to break.

TOWARD BETTER MEDICAL CARE

Dr. Lois H. Bauer, president of the American Medical Association, has outlined a thoroughgoing program for what he terms "the preservation of the our American system of medicine." His constructive points, which are directed to all physicians and to all component societies of the AMA, include:

Work with rural communities to establish facilities for physicians, so that we shall have a better distribution of physicians.

See that good medical care for the indigent is available everywhere.

Extend public health coverage to areas lacking it, and develop plans for the care of the chronic invalid.

Expand our voluntary health insurance program, not only to cover more persons, but to cover those over age 65 and those suffering from illnesses of long duration.

See that the public is protected so that it can always obtain the services of physicians.

Revitalize our county health societies and make them leaders in their communities in all health matters.

Here is the positive answer to those who have attempted to delude the lay public into believing that the only solution to expanding and improved medical service, is socialized medicine. The fact is that this country has seen greater progress in medical care under private medical initiative than any other major nation—and the medical fraternity is giving endless thought and concrete effort to making it still better.

"Freedom is not only the absence of tyranny in whatever form, it is life itself. Life is the positive pole, as opposed to the negative one, which is slavery and death. To accept freedom means to carry responsibility. Wherever this is recognized as a right and a duty for everybody, we call it democracy."—Her Majesty, Queen Juliana of Holland.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

A battle was once fought just to try out some new revolvers. Back in the days of the Texas Republic, the Rangers had single-shot pistols. The Republic had bought some new-fashioned Colt revolvers for the Navy but the weapons were in storage. Capt. Jack Hayes of the Rangers heard about them—they were five-shooters, .34-caliber. He obtained a supply and armed 15 of his Rangers with one or more and rode up the Pedernales River east of Fredericksburg and set fire to the prairie, to try to draw the Indians out so he could try out the new weapons. When they reached Cista Creek between Sisterdale and Comfort, a scout reported the Indians were following them. They turned back and saw two Indians, who tried to entice them into a trap, but Jack Hays knew Indians. The Rangers dismounted and went into the brush on foot and drove the Indians out. The Indians then lined up and challenged them to a fight in the open.

They had five times his number of men but were spoiling for a fight and wanted to try out their new revolvers. He had his men mount and discard their rifles hoping to draw the Indians in closer as they would think the Rangers were only armed with one-lead pistols. They advanced on the Indians who retreated to a flat-topped hill, that had very steep sides. Hays pretended to charge the hill, where the Indians were dismounted ready for him with their horses in the rear. He swung around into the valley behind the hill and took the Indians in the rear. The Indians scattered and were kept from forming into a large group. When small groups charged, they were easily stopped by the revolver fire of the Rangers.

When the Indians, confident in their superior numbers, surrounded them, the Texans formed a tight circle with their horses' tails inward and slowly moved by the flank for a mile and a half to a better position. About two-thirds of the Indians had been killed or wounded and Peter Fohr, a Ranger was killed and four were wounded. The Texans were nearly out of ammunition and Hays asked if any had a loaded gun. Captain Richard Addison Gillespie said he still had his rifle loaded and Hays told him to kill the Indian chief. Now the chief thought they were only armed with pistols, which would not be effective at over a hundred yards, so he was exposed to rifle fire. Gillespie took careful aim, knowing how much depended on

It costs a lot to be an American. But not too much. The American principle of personal and economic liberty provides more opportunity and more good for more people than any other system devised by man. Privately owned and operated industry is the American principle at work.

In America, private industry pays its own way. Pays the lion's share of taxes necessary to support our government. Were it not for private, tax-paying industry your individual tax would be much greater—for the burden of government would rest entirely on your shoulders.

Paste this in your hat. And when you file your income tax return, take off your hat to the American way of life.

his try, since he might not get another, for the Indians would move out of range when they knew the Rangers had a rifle. He fired and when the chief dropped dead, the other Indians retreated, not knowing how many rifles the Rangers might have concealed. The red warriors left 31 dead, and many of the wounded probably died later. And so ended the battle to try out the Rangers' new weapon.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, commenting on the seriousness of rheumatic fever, today declared that this disease is recognized as one of the greatest killers among young people. Between the ages of 10 and 15, rheumatic fever causes more deaths than any other disease, the State Health Officer said, and in persons between the ages of 15 and 24, it is outranked only by tuberculosis.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that deaths in childhood from rheumatic fever have not decreased in a satisfactory manner during the past decade, and warned the parents of children to pay particular attention to the care and treatment of such predisposing diseases as tonsillitis and other respiratory infections.

"The diagnosis in this disease is not always easy," Dr. Cox stated. "Any child with suspicious symptoms should be under the prolonged supervision of a physician since along with a general involvement of the body the heart is practically always involved. The symptoms consist only of pallor, loss of weight, easy fatigue, unusual sweating, loss of appetite, and sometime fleeting muscular pain, and a little joint stiffness and a rapid beating of the heart. The more severe cases may show repeated nose bleeds, extreme nervousness, stiffness and pain in the joints, swelling of the joints, fever and pain over the heart."

According to Dr. Cox the majority of children who experience rheumatic fever suffer more than one attack and each may last months or even at times 1 to 3 years. The final result depends on the amount of heart damage incurred. Closely supervised bed rest throughout the entire period of infection is essential in order to minimize this danger.

Goree P.-T. A. Has Meeting At School Tuesday, March 3

The Goree P.-T. A. met in the High School Auditorium Tuesday, March 3. Members of the Masonic Lodge in Goree urged special observance of Texas Educational Week and Taxes Day, and showed their interest by being present at the excellent program presented by Mrs. H. L. Moore and her eighth grade pupils. Barton Carl, speaker for the Masons, impressed students with the importance of a good education, not only for the material benefits, but for the joys derived in broadening one's scope.

A Hobby Show, which had been planned early in the year, was also an event of a full day. Much interest was shown by pupils and patrons in bringing for display collection or item of interest. There were collections of dolls, stamps, slippers, dogs, pencils, airplanes to beautiful quilts, handwork and oil paintings. All of these were attractively arranged.

Mrs. Jack Patton of Seymour, a pioneer resident of Goree, had the most expensive display, bringing boxes of beautiful linens, drawnwork and crocheted Afghan, which were all her own creations. Others came from Rhineland adding their treasures to the display.

Mrs. W. M. Taylor, P.T. A. president, announced the new officers for 1953-54. Mrs. H. D. Arnold, president; Mrs. Ewing Beatty, vice president; Mrs. Garland Thieubaud, secretary and Mrs. Elkin Warren, treasurer.

FORT WORTH—Fat lambs advanced at Fort Worth in the opening session this week, reflecting the strength of the dressed meat trade for that item in the Eastern states. Feeders were steady to weak, and yearlings and older sheep were in small supply and drew firm prices.

Hog runs all around the market circle were again far below a year ago, and pork product prices were stronger, and this was responsible for a 25 to 50 per cent advance Monday on top hogs and sows drew strong prices. Top hogs sold for $21.25 to $21.75. Sows drew $16.50 to $19.50. Pigs were quotable around $12 to $17.

Most classes of cattle and calves ruled steady, except fed steers and yearlings, which sold weak to 50 cents lower. Heavier weight steers were under the most pressure. Stocker trade was extremely narrow again.

Numerous shipments of cattle afflicted with hyperkeratosis (X-disease) were again in the run and sold for immediate slaughter.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings cashed at $19 to $22.50, a load of 1,230-lb. steers from Jim Hubbard of Lancaster at $21, and some 811-lb. cattle from M. E. Harrison of Buyers at $19.25. A load of 1,029-lb. steers from Throckmorton sold for $20.25. Two loads of Oklahoma steers drew $22.25. Common and medium offerings sold for $12 to $19, some shells for less.

Fat cows sold from $14 to $16, with canners and cutters mostly from $10 to $13.50, some old shells for less. Bulls drew $10 to $18. Good and choice fat calves bulked at $19 to $22.50 and plain and medium kinds sold from $13 to $19, with culls around $10 to $13. Stocker calves were quotable around $23 down, and yearlings around $22 down. Stocker cows sold from $12 to $18.

Good and choice fat lambs bulked at $19 to $22, a load of woolled lambs at 104 lbs. from the L. R. Allison Farms, Tornillo (El Paso County) at $22. Clipped lambs with No. 1 and No. 2 pelts bulked at $19 to $20, some 105-lb. lambs from L. A. Bryson, Rochelle, at $19.50. John H. Thaxton, San Saba, had 200 clipped lambs at 89 lbs. at $20. Stocker and feeder lambs drew $17 to $20. Yearlings and two's sold from $13 to $17.50 and a few old ewes cashed at $7 to $10. Aged wethers drew $12 down. Old bucks drew $6.50 to $8.

Important gasoline savings!

You go much farther on every gallon of gas in this great new Chevrolet... and you save on over-all operation and upkeep, too!

Ask new Chevrolet owners how this great new car squeezes extra miles from every gallon of gas—and regular gas at that!

The reason for this wonderful increase in economy is Chevrolet's new high-compression power. The new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models is the most powerful engine in its field, with a compression ratio of 7.5 to 1. And there's a greatly advanced "Thrill-King" engine in gearshift models—108-h.p. with 7.1 to 1 compression ratio.

And, with all its advantages, Chevrolet for 1953 is the lowest-priced line in its field. See it in our showroom!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional in "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Entirely NEW through and through!

New Fashion-First Bodies by Fisher... new, richer, roomier interiors... new Powerglide* with faster getaway, more miles per gallon... new Power Steering (optional at extra cost)... largest brakes in the low-price field... more weight—more stability—more road steadiness... MHS Seniors Feted At Unique Ranch Party On Friday

Colorful bandanas, ten gallon hats and six guns accented the costumes of the 1953 Munday High School Seniors last Friday evening when they were entertained with a roottin' tootin' ranch party given by the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church.

With loud cries typical of the old time cowboys coming to town to spend a month's wages, the booted and spurred seniors were rounded up at the City Hall where they climbed aboard the hay wagon for trip to Oates Golden's corral for cocktails around a campfire. Cocktails consisted of a chicken feather accompanied by tomato juice and appetizers, and with the exception of the chicken feather, all were consumed in the twilight with background music of familiar western songs presented by singers from the Indian Band of McMurry College, who in turn led the group in singing until time to board the hay wagon for the rest of their journey.

The hay wagon blazed a trail to Ranch Headquarters, located in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. There tables were laid with red-checked tablecloths and lanterns. Hay, saddles and a simulated wood-fire on which reposed the old black coffee pot, together with the covered chuck wagon, created the illusion of Home on the Range. The only thing not in keeping with the old West theme was the food—the old cowboys never had it so good. Members of the Guild with their wealth of culinary artistry, created a meal which would have not been possible under real chuck wagon conditions. These pseudo-cowpokes gorged on fried chicken, potato salad, red beans, fresh green onions, dill pickles and garlic after an invocation by their plaid-shirted principal, Mr. J. H. Bardwell. Entertainment throughout the dinner was provided by members of the Indian Band.

Travelin' on the 'pokes stampered I. V. Cook's corral for dessert of fried pies. They were greeted by I. V. Cook who hobbled out in his boots and blood-spattered hat and apologized saying he had just got off the range where he'd been dehorning and hadn't had time to change his clothes.

The seniors and guests rounded up for this shindig were Peggy Armstrong, Pat Cook, Bobby Jack Guffey, Charlotte Hannah, Shirley Hill, Joy Lemley, Julie Massey, Joyce Michels, Shirley Patterson, Adrienna and Ed Jones, Gordon Stevens, Tommy Gage, Lee Bowden Norman Gaines, Huron Polnac, Tommy Powell, Charles Ratliff, Lynn Reynolds, Wayne Smith, Hilton

Game Night Is Enjoyed Friday At Lunch Room

"What do you want to play?" This question was asked guests as they appeared at the doorway of the Munday school lunch room last Friday to attend the "game night", sponsored by the Munday Study Club.

Guests took their choice of forty-two, eighty-four, bridge, canasta or samba. As they started their games, they could see other guests at nearby tables playing entirely different games.

Some of the club ladies were on hand to see everyone was comfortable, while some of their husbands pitched in to help at keeping ash trays emptied and other chores not too difficult for men to do. Then at appropriate time, refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served.

Only distracting thing about the affair was in trying to keep up with activities elsewhere in the room and carry on your own game, too.

At the close of the evening, a door prize was given. Postmaster Lee Haymes pocketed the prize and took it home with him.

Study club members are appreciative of the interest and attendance at this affair. Approximately 100 guests were present.

Study Club Gets Letter Of Thanks For Warm Clothing

The Munday Study Club has received a letter of appreciation from the children's Friendship Fund of Vienna. The members collected and sent two packages of warm clothing and toys to the children's Friendship Fund for distribution to handicapped and underprivileged Austrian children.

Mrs. Alonzo Cartwright is chairman of the International Relations Committee which promoted the project.

The children's Friendship Fund is a volunteer organization run by the wives of American personnel stationed in Vienna. Its purpose is to collect toys, clothing and money to help in the rehabilitation of children of Austria. They do their greatest work at Christmas. By means of contributions from America, this Christmas they distributed 31 tons of foodstuff, 5,000 articles of clothing and 10,000 toys to approximately 4,751 people. Thus in a small and modest way the Munday Study Club was able to show American good will toward children of Austria.

Stubblefield, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Goolsby, Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Ragle and Miss Eugenia Robertson.

New Notes in Cooking

Easy on the cook—easy on the budget. Ac'cent'-seasoned canned corn (with chopped green pepper and onion for flavor) baked in a shallow dish with little pork links on top. The sausage flavor bakes into the corn—the whole affair smells so tantalizing—the family eats so hearty. Wonderful one-dish supper.

Here's a flavor tip for pot-roast. Rub a little powdered ginger on roast just before you dredge the meat with flour in preparation for searing and browning.

Two accompaniments no hearty soup will scorn—a bowl of sour cream and a bowl of tiny sausage balls (poached in water until done). Spoon some of each into the soup bowl according to taste.

Fold cooked spaghetti, grated cheese and a bit of chopped onion into condensed tomato soup and simmer until the ingredients are well blended. Arrange on your prettiest platter, top with broiled frankfurters, sprinkle on a little Ac'cent' for even flavors.

If fried chicken needs a garnish, try half-slices (fairly thick ones) of fresh lemon, studded with whole cloves or "placed" with strips of pimento.

Large onions, peeled and parboiled until nearly tender, then baked in cream of mushroom soup (Ac'cent'-seasoned of course) are onions de luxe—even de luxe when you sprinkle buttered crumbs or crushed potato chips on top before baking.

CARD OF THANKS

To the wonderful friends who sent cards or visited me while I was in the hospital I would like to say thanks and God bless you. And Wylie and I wish to say thanks and thanks, again, to the neighbors and friends who put up our land last Thursday and also thanks to the ladies who prepared and served lunch. May heaven's richest blessings be yours. Daisy and Wylie Johnson. 1tp

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says This New Idea To Have Television Replace The School Just Won't Work

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek may be fighting a straw man this week, but you can be the judge. Dear editor:

I'm no expert on education, which I think I've been provin' week after week, but one of my neighbors who has a television set was talkin' with me the other day and he had an idea.

He said he had been readin' where there is a big teacher shortage in Texas salaries too low, teachers goin' into other lines, not enough new teachers bein' trained, more children bein' born, school buildings crowded, taxes high, and he said he'd been thinkin' why isn't television the answer?

Instead of payin' just a reasonable amount or maybe not quite enough to a lot of teachers, includin' the ordinary and the mediocre and occasionally the exceptional, why not pay a lot just to the exceptional and let the rest go into some other line of work, say bookkeepin' or clerkin', or housewifin' or truck drivin' or editin' or whatever their abilities fitted em for, which would take care of the salary complaint. Then instead of havin' a lot of school all over the country, why couldn't they just have some television studios for the teachers and keep the children at home?

That'd save a lot of money on school buildings, in fact, he figured a school district could buy a television set and put up the antenna for every home in the district cheaper than it could build and maintain elaborate school buildings and run buses and hire a flock of teachers, a janitor, a superintendent, two or three principals, pay for floor sweep and utilities, etc.

Under this system, there wouldn't be any dressin' for school, no mad rush to get there on time, no lunches to fix, no books to forget, no crises over lost caps and coats, etc. Just have your kids seated in front of the television set in their pajamas or whatever they combing their hair every mornin' at 9:00, switch it on, and have one set of teachers teachin' in the entire nation, with maybe a fresh set in each time zone to keep from throwin' things off schedule.

He figured under this system the county could save probably seventy-five per cent of its present school bill, every child would have a first-rate teacher, and equality of education would be achieved from the rock-ribbed coast of Maine to the shores of Tripoli, or however far out you can get good TV reception without too much snow.

Now I'll admit this idea has certain appeals, everybody you to save money and improve the quality of education at the same time, but it won't work.

The reason it won't work is that it ignores one of the primary functions of a school, which is to get your kids out from under foot at least from 9 to 3 five days a week nine months out of the year. Some things can't be valued in money. It doesn't make any difference what a school system costs, if it gets the kids out of the house, it's worth it. A T. V. set makes a pretty good baby sitter from 4 to 6 in the afternoon, but it'll never replace the public school, day in and day out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

GOOD FARM MANAGEMENT HELPS PROFITS

Low production, increased costs, inefficient management; these factors are among the biggest causes of unsatisfactory profits for the Texas farmer. There is an answer. It lies in more efficient operations which include cutting costs, producing more crops per acre, more meat per animal and more work per hour. Of course, it is easier said than done but—

What are the highest crop yields in your area on your type of soil? By planting better varieties of certified and tested seed, perhaps you can bring your crop yields up to standard. Or a change in rotation plan, plus making good use of fertilizers might mean the difference. Your county agent has a wealth of material available for study, upon request.

While striving to get more meat or other production per animal, it's a wise practice to keep track of what's new in feeds and feeding practices. Rid your herd of low producers and slow weight gainers. Sires should be used which have proved their ability to produce quickgaining offspring of the type best suited to your needs. By controlling diseases, parasites, injuries and death losses, you can cut your animal production costs a great deal.

just involves doing some straight thinking. Doing the job "the hard way" gets it done—but the time and labor costs are high. Efficiency studies show that even as simple labor costs as weeding and hoeing may save you hundreds of miles of walking in a year. There are new profitable and practical ways of using power and improved machinery, of cutting and storing hay and silage—of feeding livestock—of doing practically all types of farm work better.

Labor saving and work simplification bulletins are available from Texas A. & M. College. Whatever plans you follow, the proof of their value is measured in terms of whether or not you end up with more per acre, per animal and per hour.

Lower production costs, achieved through efficient operation, has the same effect on net profits as an equal rise in price of products sold. There isn't too much the farmer can do about the selling price, but he can do something about lowering his own production costs.

Miss Lou Campsey, student in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Campsey.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

By Senator "Cotton" George Moffett

The past week has been the busiest thus far this session. There have been numerous committee hearings on bills and widespread interest. Over one thousand filing station operators attended a Senate committee hearing on a bill affecting that business. On the same night over five hundred people attended a committee hearing over in the House of Representatives which related to changes in the Workmen's Compensation Law, which provides payments for workmen injured on the job. These hearings brought out many points of information that must be considered in framing a law which applies to the particular business affected.

The mail is getting heavier each week. It is not unusual for a member to receive over fifty letters daily. For this reason each branch of the Legislature usually adjourns at noon on Thursday in order for the members to catch up over the week-end with their heavy correspondence. This is particularly true in the Senate, where each member receives approximately five times as much mail as a member of the other branch.

The Legislature is daily giving more thought to State finances. I am often asked about taxation on natural resources. In order to provide reliable information I requested the State Comptroller to furnish me with accurate figures concerning taxes on crude oil over a 20-year period. Oil and gas taxes are paid to the State Comptroller. His records show that in 1932 the crude oil production tax brought in $4,417,000. In 1952 the State collected $117,804,900 from the tax on crude oil, or 29 times as much in 1952 as was collected in 1932 from this tax. The Legislature increased the rate of taxation during the 20-year period, and the amount of oil produced now brings in more dollars than any other tax levied by the State. However, since the war boom is beginning to slow down, the amount of oil being pumped out of the wells in Texas is decreasing. It is to be hoped that this decrease will not continue, for if it should do so it will compli-

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Bkard

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 26—This week the House provided funds for the operations of many of its standing committees including the Un-American Activities Committee and other investigatory committees. The House also acted favorably on legislation that increases the F. H. A. Title I Loan Authorization and provides for the repayment of some Eight Million Dollars by the F. H. A. to the Treasury on or after July 1st of this year.

The report of the Livestock Subcommittee of the Committee on Agriculture was adopted by the full Committee, and the recommendations made in the report will now be submitted to the Secretary of Agriculture. The essence of the four point program to bolster cattle prices recommended by the Subcommittee was: (1) Military procurement of beef and agricultural products to be speeded up and expanded so as to provide at least a one hundred and twenty days inventory as recommended by President Eisenhower; (2) Where controls for the regulation of imports exist, to prevent during this period of declining agricultural prices, importation of beef and other agricultural commodities which directly compete with our domestic agricultural products; (3) To take action to strengthen credit available to cattlemen to avert forced sales; (4) To review purchases of the School Lunch Program immediately and use the utmost vigor to procure meat and other agricultural products which are suffering most in the present decline in farm prices and to step this program up to the greatest possible extent.

The Civil Aeronautics Board has notified me that hearings have been set for March 12th to consider oral arguments concerning the applications of Pioneer, Trans Texas, and Central Airlines to come into Vernon and Wichita Falls. I expect to participate in these hearings. I am hopeful that the C. A. B. will act favorably upon these applications.

It is traditional here that on Washington's Birthday, his Farewell Address be read in both the House and the Senate. I think it would do us all good to occasionally re-read this for besides being beautifully written, it displays the character and foresight of our first President, and it is amazing how many of the things he said apply directly to our conditions today. Another member of the House called my attention to the following prayer that was written by George Washington. I was so impressed with it that I thought possibly you would like to read it.

A PRAYER OF OUR COUNTRY

"Almighty God, who has given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of Government, that there may be peace and justice at home, and that through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; all of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."
