Cal Farley of Amarillo has future plans for his Boys Ranch at Old Tascosa.

This was pointed out to editors at the Panhandle Press Association's annual meeting last Friday. Last year the association voted to give printing equipment to the ranch so the boys would be given an opportunity to learn the printing trade.

But Cal can't accept this equipment yet. The ranch doesn't have a place to house it, so Cal has plans for a vocational building.

Architects from Texas A. & M. have drawn plans for the building, and Cal hopes to complete the first wing during the next year. That means $110,000, which the ranch doesn't have.

Topping the list of vocations which the 185 boys at the ranch want to learn is auto mechanics. Two other trades which would help out with expenses of the ranch are also planned. They are shoe cobbling and barbering.

"It takes something to keep that many boys in shoes," Cal said at the meeting, "and clipping that many heads is something, too. We think the printing trade is about fourth on the list."

So the editors agreed to put the matter before their readers—and there might be some persons in their areas who would like to give assistance to this project.

The ranch takes underprivileged boys—we think beginning at three years of age—gives them a high school education and an opportunity to go on through college. The aim of this Cal Farley, who has a warm heart for "the dirty little kid," is to have 500 boys at the ranch. This is possible only as the ranch builds and grows, adding buildings and housing units.

"Whotta town!"

That's the thought which George Cross, above, said made to his mind when he first hit Munday in May, 1949.

George came here to become associated with The Munday Times as a printer, floor man, job printer, and general handy man.

That's the position he's held down since that time.

We gathered from George's expression, or thought, when he first hit town that he didn't think much of the town of Munday. He'd come here from Brownfield, and we reckon the sand wasn't moving quite vicious enough to suit him.

But towns, like people, kinda grow on a person and when George recalls that "Whotta Town" expression, he makes it kinda appear that he, like the rest of us, thinks Munday a pretty fair place to live.

He learned to like the people, too, at least one of them, very very much.

So, as a climax to single bliss and a commencement of a new phase of life, George united in marriage to Mrs. Wanda Miller last Saturday night.

He took Monday off. It was a short honeymoon, but a longer one than the editor had when he

Over 300 Hear Banquet Speaker Warn Of Russia's Move And False Peace

A capacity crowd of over 300 people gathered at the Munday school gymnasium last Thursday night for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet heard Jeff Williams, Oklahoma's ambassador of good will, warn against Russia's overtures for peace and urge America not to "spend herself into bankruptcy."

The banquet dinner, prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Osborn of The Igloo, was served by Miss Eugenia Robertson and members of the high school homemaking class.

W. C. Cox, superintendent of schools, served as master of ceremonies, and Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, Methodist pastor, gave the invocation. The group was entertained by the Mogul Band, directed by J. Forrest Posey, before and during the banquet.

Introduced by Mr. Cox, the speaker declared there is nothing wrong with the world—the trouble is with people.

"The good are not able and the able are not good," he said. "Look at the new leader of Russia. Take a good look at his physiognomy and they pray that we won't be taken in by his new peace overtures. I predict that the Russian dove of peace will turn into a dead pigeon."

He called for a rapid return to the religious fortitude that made America great and went on to declare that America can't buy the friendship of her allies.

"We have already spent 104 billion dollars yet today everyone who returned from Europe to whom I have talked tells me that Russia has felt the gradual let down in European defenses and is now directing its propaganda toward NATO and will continue its tactics until America drops her guard or spends herself into bankruptcy."

"Then watch out," he warned, "because America will not have an Uncle Sam to turn to for a handout."

His challenging address was the climax to a year of accomplishments for the Munday Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of President Worth Gafford. Gafford was succeeded by Mark Wadzeck whom Gafford predicted would accomplish more in the year ahead.

Over 300 jammed the school gymnasium where they were entertained by the school band directed by Forrest Posey before and during the banquet.

Many Guests

Among the guests were large delegations from Abilene, Seymour, Haskell and Stamford. A delegation of 10 represented Wichita Falls. Others came from Goree, Benjamin, Weimert, Vera, Rochester, Truscott, and Crowell, Leaders, Bismark and Gillespie, N. D.

Grateful citizens of storm-ravaged Knox City were present en masse as C. E. Williams presented a letter of official thanks from Mayor Guy Len Glenn for Munday's generosity in their hour of need.

A review of the year's work showed that the membership had been rewarded by two major accomplishments: The completion of a $5,600 labor reception center for migratory workers, and the advancement of a 30-unit low-rent housing project to a point where the contract will be let within a few weeks.

The "Hoof and Horn" Committee under the chairmanship of Fred Broach, Jr., sponsored the annual FFA show at Munday and assisted in the promotion of the country-wide junior livestock show. Other agricultural activities under the direction of the incoming president included the encouragement of irrigation and improved seed utilization.

Munday proved itself a good neighbor and friend-in-need twice within a matter of a few days. Under the active leadership of the Chamber of Commerce the town raised more than $5,000 for its suffering neighbors. A few days later it over-subscribed its

Wilson Hunter Takes Parents On Vacation

M/Sgt. Wilson Hunter of the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., has been here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hunter. Wilson, who is being sent to Singapore for two years, took his parents, sister, Mrs. Togo Moorhouse, and Bob Moorhouse on a vacation trip. They first visited in Leachville, Ark., with Mrs. Hunters' aunt, then on to Decatur, Tenn., and visited the farm where Mr. Hunter was born. Mr. Hunter was 89 years old the day he visited the farm which is still owned by a relative.

They drove to the top of Look-out Mountain and enjoyed the wonderful view. They visited Hollowrock, Tenn., where Mrs. Hunter lived until she came to Texas. She saw a lot of her relatives and also saw her birthplace.

They had a wonderful time and are looking forward to another long vacation two years from now when their son returns from Singapore.

Pictured above are new and retiring officers of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, who were among the 300 who gathered last Thursday night at the annual banquet to hear Jeff Williams bring the principal address. Pictured left to right are: Mark Wadzeck, president; Worth Gafford, retiring president; Mrs. J. D. Rodgers, secretary; Russell Penick, vice president; J. D. Gillespie, treasurer, and Dwight C. Key, retiring vice president.

Interest in the city election here on Tuesday ran higher than usual, due to the fact that the entire city council was elected with the exception of Mayor M. F. Billingsley, whose term runs another year. Approximately 200 votes were cast in the election, the highest number to vote in several years.

Two new council members, Hugh A. Beatty and Joe Bailey King, were elected. The three old members of the council who were re-elected are: L. W. Hobert, A. H. Mitchell and Wallace Reid.

The complete, but unofficial, returns of the election showed the following votes:

Munday Seniors Go On Trip To McMurry College On Tuesday

Rev. and Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle, Mrs. W. R. Rodgers, secretary of student work, and W. R. Moore, Jr., teacher of the young people's class, honored the Munday High School seniors with a day at McMurry College in Abilene last Tuesday.

There were guests at the college and visited the class rooms, toured the campus and enjoyed hearing the McMurry band.

On Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Hinkel took them on a tour to the tower of the Redford Memorial Student Center where they heard the bells play. Miss Charlotte Hannah tried her hand at playing the bells and did a good job.

The class also visited the State Hospital while there. They enjoyed a wonderful day in the history of their senior year.

P.-T.A. Members To Enjoy Music Festival

The regular meeting of the Munday P.T.A. will be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, April 16, in the school auditorium.

Instead of the regular business meeting, a music festival will be directed by J. Forrest Posey featuring all members of the Mogul Band, the high school chorus and the junior high chorus. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. James R. Rodgers visited with her husband in Abilene over the week end.

Mrs. Glover D. McCarty, Sr., 75, of Knox City, has become the 16th victim of the March 13th tornado which struck Knox City and surrounding communities. She passed away Saturday night in Baylor County Hospital in Seymour.

In a critical condition since the storm, she suddenly became worse Saturday morning. She was suffering from a fractured leg, both arms fractured, broken ribs, and internal injuries.

Funeral services were held from the First Methodist Church in Knox City at 2:30 p. m. Monday, with Rev. Oscar Bruce, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. McCarty's home was destroyed when the tornado struck. Her husband was out of town at the time. An elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Darr and their granddaughter, Mrs. Ernest Day, and her children were in the house with Mrs. McCarty. Mr. Darr died as a result of injuries received in the tornado and Mrs. Darr is still a patient in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

Mrs. Day and her children received only minor injuries. Mrs. McCarty was first taken to Knox County Hospital in Knox City after she was rescued from the wreckage. She was given blood transfusions and sent to the Baylor County Hospital at Seymour.

Mrs. McCarty was born Etta Hart, February 14, 1878, in Shelton, Iowa. She came to Dallas in 1908 and to Knox City in 1909. She was married Sept. 12, 1909, and for many years was a practical nurse and worked in Knox County's first hospital, not the same hospital which was damaged heavily in the tornado.

She was active in the Methodist Church and was a member of the Women's Society of Christian Service of that church.

Neighbors in Knox City held high esteem for Mrs. McCarty. They said that she didn't have much money, but did a lot of free nursing in the community for years and years.

Survivors are her husband; two adopted children, Glover McCarty, Jr., of Andrews and Mrs. J. B. Townley of Carlbad, N. M.; three brothers, Charles O. Hart of Fort Scott, Kans., Will Hart of Marysville, Calif., and Frank Hart of Vallejo, Calif., and four grandchildren.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

PLATTSMOUTH, NEBR., JOURNAL: "Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, would require that all government departments and agencies spend carried-over funds and unspent balances before they are voted a new annual appropriation."

PALM BEACH, FLA., POST: "Long overdue is the survey President Eisenhower has ordered into the question of conflicting and overlapping sources of federal and state revenue. . . . Such a study is an essential preliminary both to economies in government and to a restoration to the state level of many government functions that federal agencies have taken over virtually by default. This is the path to wise decentralization."

OSKALOOSA, IOWA, HERALD: "No one knows better than retailers the bitter consequences of wasteful government measured in terms of inflation and depreciated money. They must explain it to consumers across every store counter in the nation, because 'cheap' money means 'high prices.'"

SOIL CONSERVATION BEGINS AT HOME

It has been said that "soil conservation is good farm management, and results in additional income with a minimum of effort and expense. Soil conservation provides security not only for farmers and others of this generation, but also for generations to come."

Many people think of soil conservation solely in terms of huge regional projects which must be conducted at tremendous cost by government. But the fact is that some of the most effective and productive soil and water conservation is that which is conducted individually and co-operatively by the farmers themselves—including the owners of small farms. It is found in contour farming, in rotation grazing, in the construction of ponds to catch and save water, in careful management, and in other proven practices which will prevent erosion and soil exhaustion and protect both crop and pasture land.

Obviously, work such as this, on any scale at all, would be impossible if the farmers' working assets consisted only of his muscles and primitive tools. The solution is found in present-day farm machinery. Even as mechanization has resulted in tremendous gains in agricultural productivity, so does machinery open the way for the farmer and his neighbors to save and improve the land. And the long-lasting benefits accrue to the entire nation.

"We must write over and over again the old copybook maxims. Honesty is the best policy. There is no substitute for work. Folly brings its own penalty. Right living brings its own reward. The market place is mightier than any legislative hall."—W. Alton Jones.

TIME TO CALL IT A DAY

A spokesman for a number of retailing groups and associations recently appeared before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in opposition to stand-by price controls. He made these six telling points:

1. Stand-by controls are unnecessary and would create more problems than they could correct.
2. They give a man sole discretion to put them into effect.
3. Delegating such broad powers is dangerous when it is considered that we have been in and out of "emergencies" for 20 years.
4. Stand-by controls are inflationary because they tend to curb productivity and push both wages and prices up.
5. Indirect controls can be used, if needed, to control inflation with the least interference with productivity.
6. Stand-by controls duplicate existing functions of other agencies, perpetuate the control philosophy in government, and create a climate of fear.

It is highly significant that the President has not asked for stand-by controls and apparently does not want them. The control philosophy should be buried completely.

COAL PUTS SAFETY FIRST

Ask the average man if he thinks coal is one of the most dangerous industries to work in and the chances are he'll say "Yes."

This idea is a hangover from the old days. For many years the coal industry has worked intensively on the accident problem—at a heavy cost in money and effort—and the results have been nothing spectacular. New safety record after new safety record has been established. Bureau of Mines officials and other non-industry authorities has praised coal in the highest terms for its safety achievements. Last year the industry had its safest year in history, with a fatality rate of 0.82 deaths for every 1,000,000 man-hours worked.

In coal, free competitive enterprise pays wages which would seem absolutely unbelievable abroad—operates with a degree of efficiency which is the envy of operators elsewhere—and puts safety first.

THE FINEST THING

A man serving overseas in the war area of Korea was asked what could be done for the fighting men in the way of gifts. He replied in no uncertain terms that "the finest thing to be done is the maintenance of a politically and economically sound home front." He said further that, "With a reasonable degree of integrity on the part of most people, that will be brought about."

To do the things necessary to assure men on the war fronts that there will be such an America to return to is not to mouch to demand of every American on the home front.

To most of us our memory is the thing we forget with.

THE PREACHER'S BOX

In giving the Great Commission Jesus laid down the law of salvation for every man in all nations until the end of time. Jesus said "He that BELIEVETH and is baptized shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mk. 16:16). Here is the absolute guarantee that no unbeliever shall ever enter heaven. In this, the organic law of the New Testament salvation, faith is made an absolute and essential requirement.

TO BE SAVED—MEN MUST REPENT

The law of the Lord is simple and easy to understand on this point. Jesus said, "That repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name," Luke 24:47.

There has never been a soul forgiven of his sins without repentance. This was the song of the ages and the wisdom of the sages. "Repent" cried all the prophets. Jesus here shows that to him that will not repent there will be no remission of sins.

MEN MUST ALSO BE BAPTIZED

When Jesus described the saved man, he did not describe him as one who has obeyed only one divine command. While salvation is by faith, it is not by FAITH ONLY (James 2:24). Salvation is by grace, but not by GRACE ONLY. (Eph. 2:8-10).

The Bible says, "Baptism doth also now save us," (1 Peter 3:21), but no man is said to be saved by BAPTISM ALONE. So, Jesus described the saved man as a believer. Not just any kind of a believer, but a penitent believer; not just any kind of a penitent, but as a baptized penitent is the save one. (Acts 2:38).

Note the language:

Jesus said, "He that believeth and IS baptized shall be saved." Mark 16:16. Others say, "He that believeth and IS NOT baptized shall be saved." No scripture.

THIS LAW IS BINDING FOREVER

When He gave the commission, Jesus said, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." Matt. 28:10. This law is still in force.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2—Restoring title of the States to the submerged lands within their historic boundaries moved a step closer to realization when the House passed the so-called tidelands bill by a vote of 285 to 108. The effect of this bill is to confirm and establish the title of the States to the submerged lands within their historic boundaries which, in the case of Texas, is ten and one-half miles.

The Senate will immediately begin consideration of a similar bill, and I feel certain that the action there will also be favorable.

The debate on the bill in the House reflected the fact that probably no issue to come before Congress in recent times has been so widely misunderstood. Many have seen fit to beat the drums of prejudice and charge that this bill was nothing but a gigantic give-away. This has done much to spread the widely held misconception that the so-called tidelands matter was purely a sectional issue that affected only three or four states and that the other states and a vast majority of the people would have everything to gain and nothing to lose by the taking of the tidelands by the Federal government. Of course, this is not true for the tidelands issue is not a sectional one. Rather, it is a question that involves the fundamental concept of state and private ownership of property, and as such, is a matter in which every man, woman and child in the United States has a vital stake. It exemplifies the familiar spectacle of the Federal government usurping more and more power from the states, and it strikes at the very heart of the historic organization of our government.

The real question to be decided was one of principle which was whether individuals and states that make up this Union have rights and property that are sacred and deserve protection.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says That Television Won't Nearly Reach Some Of The Big Claims Made For It

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is good at talking about something he doesn't know anything about, as his letter this week probably reveals.

Dear editor:
I was readin in a newspaper last night where an educator in New York claims television is gonna cut down on child delinquency.

According to him, television is gonna keep children at home and off the streets at night, and thus it's gonna be a big factor in improvin the morals of children. The delinquent child problem, he says, is gettin worse and television may be the answer.

I don't agree with him. In the first place, I don't think child delinquency is gettin any worse. I don't know who got the world in the mess it's in now, but I know it wasn't the children and they'll have to get mightily bad before they can equal their elders' record in that department.

In the second place, while television may cut down on movie attendance and book readin, I don't believe it'll have much effect one way or the other on child delinquency. I know television hasn't been in use very long yet, but in another ten years I predict there will be about as much delinquency from homes with two television sets as homes with none. Education for example is supposed to cut down on delinquency, but you'd be surprised at how many educated people are in the penitentiary. Under-privileged children are pretty good prospects for delinquency, but frequently over-privileged child wind up in the same category.

I haven't been able to detect any effect the elimination of the well with a rope and bucket and the substitution of the electric pressure pump has had on child delinquency in the country or how purifying the water has on children in town, and neither has the introduction of radio. It'll be the same story with television.

The introduction of gadgets just never has had much effect on people. I remember when radio first came in and everybody was saying how much effect it was gonna have on politics, that everybody could now listen to the candidates and get a better size-up of the men, but it didn't work out that way. Congress is no better or worse today than it was before radio, and I don't believe television is gonna do any better. I look for Congress and child delinquency to be about the same, with or without television.

They told me when the tractor was first introduced that it would practically eliminate physical labor on the farm. It didn't. The linotype was supposed to improve newspapers, too. I've probably drawn this parallel out too far now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Many people put off seeing their physician, when they suspect cancer, because they are afraid. And yet, this fear, resulting in delay, causes many deaths from cancer. One-half of the lives now being lost to cancer could be saved if sufferers would see their doctors in time, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The sooner cancer is found, the less likely it is to have spread to other parts of the body, making cure impossible.

Most Persons are familiar with the danger signs, such a small sore on the skin, lip, or tongue that does not heal quickly, a mole, wart or birthmark that suddenly changes in appearance; a painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip, or tongue; persistent indigestion; or radical changes in normal bowel habits; any unusual bodily discharge or bleeding; and persistent hoarseness lasting more than a few weeks. When any of these symptoms show up between physical check-ups, go quickly to see your doctor. They are common indications that cancer may be starting.

You cannot tell if you have cancer without seeing a doctor. A regular thorough check-up by your family physician is your best guard against cancer, plus an examination when one of the danger signals, or warnings appear. The first symptoms of cancer are scarcely noticeable. You may notice just a slight change from the normal. But do not wait until you feel pain to see your doctor. It is characteristic of cancer that there is no pain in the first stages. Pain is usually a late symptom and when it comes, the growth is often far advanced.

Chip Pulls a "Pip"

Chip Hanson is a clever commercial artist. Beside doing cartoons on our paper, he picks up "free lance" drawing jobs.

Right now he's whipping up posters for the Safety Campaign. They all have headlines like "PLAY IT SAFE! . . . OR, 'A LIVE WIRE CAN START A FIRE!'"

Chip looked a bit sheepish yesterday. Didn't want to tell me why. Finally he blurted out, "I feel like a dope. Here I am on this safety program and the fire inspectors tell me my own studio's a fire trap. I've been storing paint there for years . . ."

From where I sit, what happened to Chip could happen to anyone. He was just too busy informing everyone else about safety — not realizing his safety was threatened. Like those who fret about their neighbors — whether they can afford a new house, whether they should have coffee or a glass of beer with lunch — Chip simply forgot to "draw" some obvious conclusions about himself!

Mayor Of Knox City Expresses Thanks To Munday

The following letter of thanks is the one read by C. E. Williams of Knox City at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet last Thursday night, and is self-explanatory:

April 1, 1953
TO THE PEOPLE OF MUNDAY:

It is my pleasure to express the gratitude of the people of Knox City to you, our fine neighbors, who have been so kind and generous with us since the disastrous tornado of March 13th struck our community.

We will always remember the way you rushed to our aid in our time of need. It is impossible to name all the fine things you have done for us. You answered our plea for financial aid with great generosity.

You came with willingness to help us clean up the debris strewn through our streets by the tornado. Many of you worked tirelessly at the hospital helping to get it back on an operating basis. And there were countless other deeds of kindness. Although we will never be able to repay you in full, we will forever be grateful to you, our good neighbors in Munday.

Sincerely yours,
GUY GLENN,
Mayor of Knox City

Spring Cleanup: Time to Get Rid of Rats

Rubbish piles afford protection for hiding and underground breeding.

Ask your county agent for a bulletin on ratproofing methods.

With little extra effort you can rid your farm of rats and mice while you do your regular spring clean up. This 1-2-3 plan, using warfarin bait, enables you to reduce the rat and mouse population to a minimum, and then keep it there.

A few permanent bait stations will keep rats under control.

Spring cleanup time is an ideal time to bring rats and mice under control, according to pest control specialists.

For best results, they recommend this three-point program: One—Remedy poor sanitation. Two—Ratproof buildings. Three—Place rat bait according to directions. Good sanitation demands the removal of rubbish piles of all kinds, because they afford protection for hiding and underground breeding. Lumber and firewood should be piled on racks at least one foot from the ground—never directly on the ground. Insofar as possible, feed of all kinds should be protected.

Corn cribs, granaries, cellars, homes, warehouses, and other buildings should be ratproofed to keep the rats out. Bulletins which describe ratproofing methods may be obtained from the local health officer or county agent.

Baiting is the third and most effective blow in the Spring anti-rat campaign. Outstanding among the available poisons is warfarin, a powerful substance discovered in the laboratories of Dr. Karl Paul Link, Biochemistry Dept., University of Wisconsin, by Drs. Mark A. Stahmann, Miyoshi Ika-wa, and Link. Warfarin bait is highly recommended because:

It kills both rats and mice; the potency of the poison is consistent; it is a slow killer, and does not cause "bait shyness"; rodents do not develop a tolerance for warfarin; it may be purchased as a concentrate or as ready-mixed bait; and warfarin is relatively safe to use.

In using warfarin bait, it is important that it be made available to the rodents at all times. Bait stations—shallow containers protected with a board or a wooden box—are normally examined and replenished at least every 48 hours. A limited number of permanent bait stations may be used to kill newcomers and control re-invasion.

They used to say, "Join the Navy and see the world." You can accomplish somewhat the same thing by becoming an after-dinner speaker. During the course of a year, your columnist spoke in Chicago and in the picturesque river cities of St. Louis, Vicksburg and Memphis, also in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, traveling quite a few thousand miles by train, bus and car.

As an after-dinner speech takes only half an hour (it may seem a lot longer to the listeners), you have time to view the sights, so I saw the Giants and Cardinals in the National League, the Tigers and Browns in the American and saw Sugar-Ray Robinson and Jake Lamotta battle for the world's middleweight championship.

You can arrange your schedule in such a way as to visit the beautiful Gulf Coast of Mississippi.

have?" a salesman asked. "I'm just looking at your market" was the reply. He asked, "Well, what do you think of it?"—a touch of neighborliness that you would expect in Throckmorton, Texas, or Piggott, Ark., but scarcely in rushed Los Angeles.

A thrill in the City of the Angels is to ride on a street car and have it plunge with a roar into a tunnel which is half a mile long. The fare is 15 cents and there's no extra charge for that wild, careening ride into the terminal.

And a chap who seemed to enjoy his job was the man who was operating a power motor on the City Hall lawn; he would sail down the slopes like a man on a roller coaster in the amusement park at Corpus Christi beach.

15 People for Dinner

A farmer today has to feed himself and fifteen other people. Back in 1930 he had to supply food for 11 other people. By 1975, experts predict, for each farmer there may be 25 at the dinner table.

It would be nice if there were more land. But last year there was only 1% more land under cultivation than prewar.

What's more, there are fewer farmers. 17% fewer man-hours were spent in agriculture last year.

Yet the farmer in 1952, with less help and about the same acreage, managed to produce 40% more livestock, vegetables, cotton, grain, milk than before the war.

Who helps the American farmer in a spot like that?

Electricity for one thing, and of course, more tractors, trucks, farm machinery, pesticides, chemical fertilizers, and a lot more.

One big clue to productivity is his increased use of electricity. Farmers today use 500% more electric power than in 1940.

Electricity pumps water, dries hay, keeps chicks warm, grinds feed, milks cows. In fact, the "electrical hired man" can do more than 400 farm jobs.

But the important thing is that there need be no empty plates tonight, and that this was done in a typically American way.

Many people and many companies, General Electric among them, developed labor-saving ideas and products. The best were tried and chosen. They have helped to make the American farmer the most productive in the world.

Gillespie Church Members Tell Of Trials, Faith In Building New Church

Members of the Gillespie Baptist Church are truly thankful to God for all of their friends that helped them in the building of their new church. Also for those that came to be with us in our dedication program. To dedicate our church and our lives was truly a wonderful day for us all the way. Without his help our church could never have been built.

For years the pastors of the church wanted to build but somehow we could never get started. In 1951 Brother Dick Lyons was called as our pastor. God gave him a vision of a new church. He drew plans that are similar to the building that we now have. Then Brother Lyons was called to be an evangelist. Many members of the church learned to love him and his family. He taught them to love God. Above all he taught them to want to be better Christians. To these he will remain in their hearts forever. When someone helps you spiritually, you will love them always.

While Brother Lyons was with us he wrote Brother Dewey Horton to come help us in our building program. Brother Horton told us how simple it was to build if we trusted in God, and to let God lead us. When we started people would tell us it was impossible to build, it just couldn't be done. We learned to pray and God would lay the burden upon some good Christian friend to help us. We learned to listen to God and not man. Friends gave us money, their work and many, many things. We learned to pray and thank God for these friends and their help. Everyone that gives to God sincerely will have treasures in Heaven. Where your treasures are, there will your heart be also. For almost three months our church was without a pastor. Our Sunday School Superintendent, Howard Myers had learned to love God. He carried on the building program in the way that God led him.

Before we started our building, we visited the Hannah Baptist Church, close to Anson. These people told us how God had helped them build their church. It thrilled our hearts to hear them. They told us people helped them everywhere. We have found out too that there are people everywhere that love God and want to help in his work. The home is the heart of a family. The church is the heart of God's family here on earth.

God taught us to work together, to love one another, to love the lost and to want to work for Him. Christians work together for the glory of God.

Before we started building we called Brother Roger Butler as our pastor. We learned to love Brother and Sister Butler. They have led us in a wonderful way. Mrs. Butler has been working with the G. A. girls. They enjoy it very much.

Our prayer is that God will use us and our building to win souls and show Christians that they are left here to win the lost and to work for God. The sooner we get started the happier we will be. If you want to be happy and close to God, throw away your pride, roll up your sleeves, let God lead you and help to build a church. We loved every minute we spent at the church. We are proud of it. Pray for us that our church may grow. May God bless everyone that has helped in any way.

—Members of the Gillespie Baptist Church.

Drennan, son of Mrs. Lola Drennan of Spur, on Sunday afternoon, March 15, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Jack Davis of Spur are the parents of the bride.

Guests were served refreshments of cake and punch from a lace covered table centered with an arrangement of pink tulips. Mrs. Louis Mills, sister of the bride, served the three-tiered cake decorated with a miniature bride and groom, and Miss Joy Mason of Post served the punch. White napkins with the inscription, "Sharlene and Billy George" served as favors.

SEED TESTING PROCEDURE

There is an old maxim which states, "The harvest is no better than the seed."
You don't have to be a Biblical scholar to recognize the origin and wisdom of that saying. And right now is the time to prepare for sowing good seed in order to reap a high production harvest this fall.
When you buy your seed from a dealer, the Tested Seed Bag required by law on all bags, tells you what to expect in germination quality and seed purity. Yet, what about that last year's crop of seed stored in the bin on your farm? Wouldn't it be a good idea to know as much about the qualities of your farm-grown seed as that which you buy at the store?

If you plan to sell some of that stored seed, the Texas Seed Act says it must be state inspected and tested. But whether you intend to sell it or plant it, a comprehensive test of the seed will pay dividends at harvest time.
Two laboratories are operated by the Texas Department of Agriculture for purity and germination tests. No charge is made for testing field seed of Texas residents but a fee of 25 cents per sample is levied for all vegetable and flower seed.

bin in at least seven uniformly distributed spots.
2. SIZES OF SAMPLES. Send 2 ounces of small seed like white or alsike clover and most grasses; 5 ounces of red or crimson clover, alfalfa, lespedeza, ryegrass, broom millet, flax, rape or seeds of similar size; 1 pound of sudan grass, sorghum, proso and like sizes; 2 pounds of corn, wheat, cereals, vetches, cowpeas or larger.
3. INFORMATION NEEDED. Print your name and address, include the kind and variety of seed (the lab does not make varietal identification); the lot number of stock identification; the month and year of harvest and where grown; the test desired (whether purity, germination or both). If the seed has been treated give name of material and rate of application.
4. FORWARDING SAMPLES. Samples should be mailed in cloth bags or strong cardboard containers. Paper bags and ice cream cartons are unsatisfactory since they usually burst in transit. Depending on your location, samples may be sent to either of the following addresses: Seed Laboratory, Texas Dept. of Agriculture, Austin, or Seed Laboratory, 116 Agriculture Bldg., Texas Tech College, Lubbock.
5. TESTED SEED LABELS. Labels are 1 cent each and one tax must be attached to each bag of seed offered for sale, showing the complete analysis and other information. Tags cannot be used for seed tested for germination only. Include your order for tags along with the samples.
