Kracker Krumb's Odds Bits Salvaged at Random

Soon after the close of World War I, a young man stood in the doorway of a printing establishment at the close of the day's work.

His brow might have been furrowed by the seriousness of his thoughts, for he was engaged in deep thinking. Finally, he turned to his older brother, and the following conversation ensued:

"Believe I'll get out and buy me a newspaper." "What are you going to do for money?" "You're going to furnish the money!" "Well, okay, go ahead."

Thus Sam A. Roberts of the Haskell Free Press helped to start another brother out on a successful career in the newspaper field.

We attended the funeral of Sam Roberts on Tuesday. His career ended Sunday when a heart attack claimed a life of usefulness that will influence others through the years.

Sam was a veteran in the newspaper field. He remained at the helm of the Haskell paper for nearly thirty years before he sold out a few years ago.

He and his weekly paper weathered two world wars, a nation-wide depression and a recession that followed, and many stormy and turbulent times which saw others of the profession, who could not weather the storm, take out and quit.

He "fathered" a number of people in this profession. He trained them on his own paper, then helped them to get a start elsewhere.

That he was respected and admired in his profession was evidenced by his election to the highest post in two organizations of the fraternity—the Texas Press Association and the West Texas Press Association.

Newspaper people came to Sam Roberts with their problems and sought his counsel and advice, which was always readily given.

He spoke with authority about their problems, the authority of one who through knowledge and experience had encountered and conquered these same problems.

Sam knew the weekly newspaper field, and his knowledge and experience often helped those of his contemporaries who sought his advice or who just dropped by for a friendly visit.

That he gained a good measure of success was not just happen so. Sam Roberts knew that the good times would not always be good—that bad years would follow. And he was a good businessman, too.

When those bad years came, he kept an even keel; he kept his faith and courage; he kept his friends and he kept his credit rating among those from whom he purchased merchandise.

Then when they had passed, he would look upon them and find things to laugh about in his reminiscence.

At the service his pastor said in effect: He loved his profession, he loved his friends, he loved his community, he loved his church—Sam Roberts was a good man.

Sam was loved in his profession. Several of the newspaper fraternity gathered with friends and loved ones to pay their last respects; others sent messages of condolence.

Men of all walks of life came in contact with him. Those who went deer hunting with him recalled that he was a good sport, a good man, and expressed regrets at his passing.

The newspaper fraternity, like his family, his community and his friends, feels keenly its loss in the passing of Sam A. Roberts.

Mrs. Terry Harrison visited her mother and sister-in-law in Abilene last Thursday and Friday.

Junior High's Graduation Set For Thursday

Being presented in a program of their own arrangement, graduates of Munday Junior High School will hold their commencement exercises tonight (Thursday) in the school auditorium.

Class valedictorian is Gayle Littlefield, and salutatorian is Dickie Morrow. The program is as follows:

Processional, Mrs. J. H. Bardwell; invocation, Rev. Huron A. Polnac; presentation of awards, C. C. Notary Public Commissions Are Made During May

Secretary of State Howard Carney has announced that he will reappoint all persons who now hold Notary Public commissions and that all such persons must qualify by filing an oath and bond with the County Clerk of their residence between June 1, 1953 and June 10, 1953. The law specifically requires County Clerks to approve Notary bonds and individuals should not send money or requests for commissions direct to the Secretary of State. All Notary matters can only be received by the Secretary of State after the County Clerk acts thereon.

Any person who has not heretofore been a Notary Public should apply to his County Clerk between May 1, 1953 and May 23, 1953, if he desires to have this application given prompt attention in the State Department, as the rush of re-appointing all old Notaries may slow up the ordinary process of making new appointments and issuing commissions.

Secretary of State Carney said, "Each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the County for which he is appointed; exact names and permanent addresses should be given to the County Clerk in applying for a commission, as location of the Notary may be necessary long after he has notarized a particular instrument."

All Notary commissions now held expire June 1, 1953.

Rural Life Sunday To Be Observed By Local Congregation

Next Sunday, May 17, will be observed as Rural Life Sunday in the First Methodist Church in Munday. Most churches in the United States are co-operating in the annual program calling attention to the importance of the farmer and rancher as Stewards of the Soil. The Soil Conservation Service, (the Farm Bureau and other similar organizations, co-operate with the churches in the observance of this special day. The fact that God, man and the soil are closely related is very evident in rural areas. The pastor, Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, will be using the sermon topic, "The Earth Is the Lord's."

Visitors in the home of Dr. R. L. Newsom this week are Dr. and Mrs. Bryan Newsom of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. L. C. Miller of Dallas, Mrs. Oscar Marshall of Lubbock, Mrs. Ewell Harwell of Lawton, Okla.; and Mrs. Bowden McGuire of Seymour.

Durwood Scott Wins Award At A&M Ceremonies

The colorful flower-pinning ceremony, with hundreds of parents on hand, formally opened parents' day ceremonies at Texas A. and M. College last Sunday in the traditional ceremony, company mothers and battalion commanders pinned flowers on all members of the corps of cadets.

Following exhibition drills by the freshman drill team and the Ross Volunteers, presentation of awards to more than 200 cadets was made in a special parents' day review.

Lieut. J. Durwood Scott of Munday received the gold medal for outstanding work in this field. His mother, Mrs. J. B. Scott, was present for the ceremony.

4-H Members Receive Instruction On Beef Judging

Subject to the May 4-H meetings for the boys of Knox County was judging of beef cattle. All nine clubs were offered a chance to see a set of slides prepared by the Extension Service on Beef Cattle Judging, and points to notice in the selection of good animals were stressed.

The slides presented an active comparison of good points that are desired of beef animals with common faults found on many beef animals. Aim of the slides was to familiarize the boys with points to look for in the selection of beef animals, and to realize that an animal of good type will not eat any more feed than an animal of poor type, but when finished, the good type animal will sell for a much higher price than the poor type animal.

Physician Talks To Munday Lions

Dr. D. C. Eiland, local physician, spoke to members of the Munday Lions Club on heart disease at the regular meeting at noon on Tuesday. He brought out the fact that heart disease is very prevalent among males and is the foremost of the fatal illnesses. Strongly emphasized were the causative factors, symptoms and protective methods.

The drafting of doctors was brought up, and Lion Winston Blacklock mentioned that if Dr. Eiland was drafted we could keep what we owed him, at least until he returned home to collect.

Tailtwister I. V. Cook collected fines for being late, for breathing or not breathing—whatever happened to please him.

SERIES OF MEETINGS AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Church of Christ, located on West Main Street in Munday, will begin a series of meetings starting May 17 and continuing through May 31.

Brother J. Miller Forcade of Wichita Falls, a very able Bible student, will bring the lessons each week day evening at 7:45. Everyone has a special invitation to come out and hear these Bible messages and to learn more of God's word.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Knox City Man Gets Training In Atomic Warfare

CAMP DESERT ROCK, Nev. —Army Pvt. Harvey P. Alcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Alcock, Knox City, Texas, is getting first hand combat training in atomic warfare at Camp Desert Rock, Nev., proving ground of the atom bomb.

Crouching in a trench, relatively close to "ground zero," he recently witnessed the seventh blast of a nuclear device in the spring series.

Shortly after the explosion, he clambered out to take part in a mock attack on the devastated area.

Thousands of troops from all parts of the U. S. are gathered at Camp Desert Rock to receive thorough instruction in atomic warfare, its potential damage, and defenses against it. Private Alcock, who entered the Army in January, is serving as a driver with the 547th Armored Field Artillery Battalion at Camp Carson, Colorado.

His wife, Betty, lives in Lytle.

Munday FFA Boy Wins High Honor

Munday High School sent two judging teams to the state judging contests at College Station on May 2. Members of the dairy products team were Buddy Womble, Byron Gass and Noble Fleniken. Buddy Womble was one of the high men at Fort Worth and was awarded a pair of blue jeans for the honor.

The livestock team was composed of Johnny Orsak, Claude Hill and Benny Ledbetter. Orsak won seventh place in the state, and was awarded a medal as one of the high ten in the state.

"We are proud of these boys who have worked hard to attain the honor of representing their chapter in the state contests," said E. R. Ponder, their adviser, who also said he and the Munday chapter wish to thank the Chamber of Commerce for helping pay the boys' expenses to the contest.

BUD'S BEAUTY BAR TO OPEN SATURDAY

Formal opening of Bud's Beauty Bar will be held next Saturday, it was announced Wednesday by Raymond E. Phillips, owner. No appointments will be taken that day, and the public is cordially invited to the opening.

The new beauty shop, located east of White Auto Store, will specialize in cold waves, hair styling and manicures.

Guests at the reunion were Dr. R. L. Newsom, Bob Parks, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith of Knox City, Mrs. S. A. Bowden, S. B. Campsey, Oscar Spann, Leland Hannah, Misses Charlotte Hannah, Betty Stodghill, Billie Jean Tuggle and Lou Campsey.

Guar Meeting Is Slated For May 21 In Benjamin

A meeting for the purpose of explaining the use of guar for soil building and as a cash crop will be held in the Courthouse in Benjamin on Thursday, May 21 at 2:30.

Main speaker for the meeting will be Mr. John A. Esser, plant manager of the General Mills Guar Plant of Kenedy, Texas. For the past several years, the people around Kenedy have been able to successfully turn the soil building guar into a cash crop also, and it is the aim of Mr. Esser to explain this program fully to the people of this area. A straight-forward explanation of the program will be given by Mr. Esser who states that he will also reserve a large portion of the meeting for questions related to the crop, its uses and how he program is to be set up.

All farmers of the Knox, Haskell and Baylor area are urged to attend, for the program is specifically designed for those who are interested in raising the productivity of their land and by the use of a soil building crop, and also to realize a cash return at the time the soil building is carried out.

The program is sponsored by the Knox County Agent, and the Wichita-Brazos Conservation District in the hopes of aiding farmers in soil building and cash income. Guar has been grown in this area, and shows promise of being a legume that farmers can depend on.

TO PREACH HERE

Elder J. S. Kirkpatrick will fill his regular appointment at the Munday Primitive Baptist Church Saturday night and Sunday, May 16 and 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Roberts attended the annual Spring Presentation of Delta, Delta, Delta in the Student Union building at Texas Tech in Lubbock last Saturday evening. Their daughter, Miss Shirley Ann Roberts, was Presented by Mr. Joe Harris.

Sam A. Roberts, 64, prominent retired newspaperman, former mayor of Haskell and brother of Garry Roberts, co-owner of the Munday Times, died Sunday in the Haskell Hospital after suffering a heart attack.

The attack came at about 11:30 a. m. as he complained of pains in his chest and arms. He was taken to the hospital, where he passed away at 2:15.

Mr. Roberts owned several newspapers in the Wichita Falls area before purchasing the Haskell Free Press which he published until 1945. He was past president of both the Texas Press Association and West Texas Press Association.

Born in Manchester, Tenn., on August 4, 1888, he was married to Miss Zelma Grubb on December 30, 1914, in Wichita Falls. They moved to Haskell in 1916, when Mr. Roberts purchased the Free Press. Prior to that time he had been identified with newspapers at Petrolia, Byers, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls. He later became part owner of newspapers at Chillicothe, Snyder and O'Donnell.

During his term as mayor of Haskell, Mr. Roberts administered the first paving done in the city. He also served as a member of the school board and as president of the Chamber of Commerce. He was active in the Lions Club and other civic organizations and was past president of the Central West Texas Fair Association. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, the Masonic Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Knights of Pythias.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Haskell at 2 p. m. Tuesday, with the pastor, Rev. M. D. Rexrode, officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery in Haskell.

Survivors include his wife of Haskell; one daughter, Mrs. John J. Wilson of Fort Worth; a son, Paul Wesley Roberts of Andrews; a granddaughter, Paula Jo Roberts; a grandson, James Arnold Roberts; four brothers, Ernest of Haywood, Calif., Gray of Wichita Falls, J. W. of El Paso, and Elmer of Grenada, Calif.; four sisters, Mrs. Effie Briggs of Mountain View, Okla.; Mrs. Tom Adams of Byers, Mrs. Ruby Poncha of Byers, and Mrs. Ora Mae Gibbs of San Diego, California.

INSECTICIDE EFFECTS ON SOIL

How often and for how long can some of the new chemical insecticides be applied to the land without damaging crop yields?

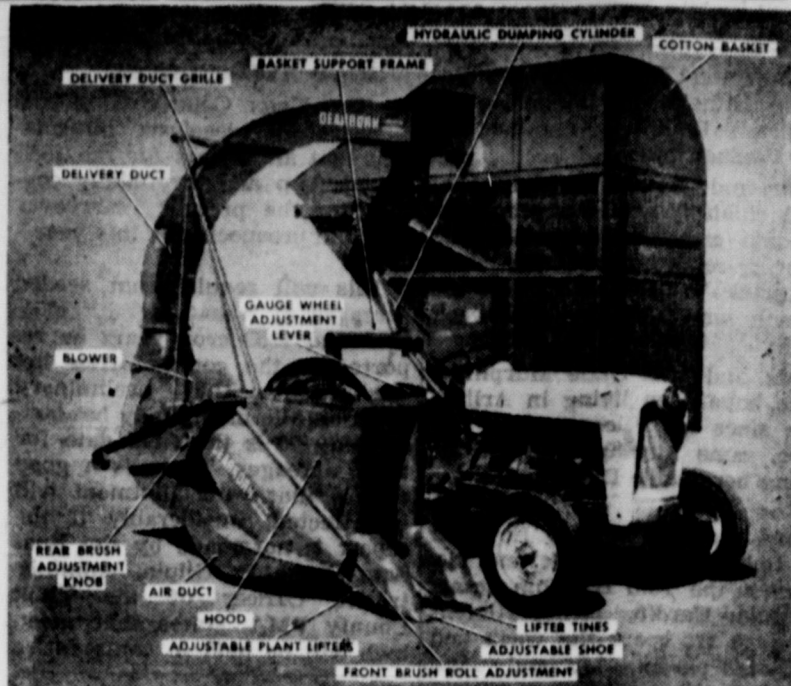

The answer to this serious question is being sought by both Texas and federal plant pathologists. Their eventual conclusions may bring about a rearrangement of crop spraying procedures.

After five years of working with a wide range and amounts of insecticides, including some excessive dosages, some chemicals have been found to remain surprisingly toxic in the soil. The effects of others were relatively mild. An unusually heavy dosage of a popular brand was applied on a test plot of one acre in 1945. To date, the insecticide has lost very little of its toxic effect. We also know now that smaller amounts applied to crops as needed to control insects accumulate in the soil over the years.

The crops found most sensitive to this build-up in the soil are truck garden produce. Growth of some of these crops was reduced as repeated heavy dosages accumulated in the soil, or as increasingly large amounts were applied.

These research findings indicate that heavy, continuous use on the same land of the same stable insecticides may not be a good practice. The farmer should be especially careful to avoid careless, excessive, or im-

DDT, the first and most widely used of the post-war insecticides, was studied more extensively than others. It was found that a napplication of about 30 pounds per acre could build up soil accumulations in 5 years that would damage the most sensitive plants.

Limited trials showed technical BHC to be less stable and lasting than DDT, but because of its high toxicity to plants in the soil, it is capable of forming damaging accumulations if used too frequently at heavy rates. Toxaphene and parathion, however, were found to be so unstable in the soil that they are not expected to accumulate to a harmful degree if recommended practices are followed.

Until further tests are completed, farmers are strongly urged to strictly follow instructions set forth by manufacturers of insecticides. An chemical can be a boon or curse to agriculture, depending upon how it is used.

HOUSEKEEPING
BY JIMMY STUART

When a usually well-behaved husband suddenly goes amuck and clutches at his bank book in a frenzy born of despair, it's a pretty good sign he's run into the news that a fashion fad is enveloping the ladies. Sometimes, I admit, the poor lads are justified in their behavior but it's come to the point where they automatically run a temperature when the mere word "fashion" is mentioned. Take the other night, for instance.

I had been happily busy with the latest craze to come on the scene and displayed the results of my efforts for my favorite husband to view.

"In came Jeff with a, "Hey! What goes on? It looks like the Rose Bowl parade!"

"A mere nothing," I replied coyly. "All nylon flowers . . . to wear in my hair, corsages for my dresses, centerpiece for our table, gift-package decorations. It's the latest fashion!"

Jeff blanched and went into a raving about fads and the deplorable state of our budget.

"Hold on a minute," I demanded. "First of all, I made this 'Rose Bowl parade' . . . you call it what you call it and had a lot of fun doing it. Second, I just used discarded nylon hose, followed some simple instructions which I got free, and all it cost our darn old budget was the price of some dye remover and a few packages of all-fabric dye. And if you want to make a big thing out of it . . . why . . . go ahead!"

A much-chagrined husband asked how it was done and I explained the simple process of first removing the color from old nylons, next tinting in any of 50 colors, and finally cutting the nylon and shaping it over wire into petal or leaf shapes. It ended with Jeff enthusiastically giving me ideas on using more of the nylon bouquets, "since," as he grinned, "they're fashionable!"

P.S. The Tintex Home Economics Bureau has the free instruction leaflet with complete directions for making nylon flowers. You can have it for the asking at all-fabric dye counters or by mail from the bureau at 485 Fifth Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

WHEAT ALLOTMENTS

The Knox County PMA Office has just received information that allotments for the 1954 wheat crop are very likely considering the present carryover plus the prospects for this year crop.

This will require that seeded acreages of wheat for the 1951, 1952 and 1953 crop years be reported to the county office immediately so that preliminary work on allotments may be started. May 20 is the final date for these acreages. There is a good chance that your allotment will be effected considerably if the report is not made by the final date. Jesse P. Gilpin, Administrative Officer of the Knox County PMA, states that meetings will be held in communities and Mrs. Lloyd Crowover and Mike of Graham and Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnibrugh of Gilliland.

Mr. W. H. Hopper became a patient in the Knox County Hospital on Tuesday.

Shop the yellow pages FIRST!

Here comes summer! And shopping the town for unfamiliar, hard-to-find items can be mighty unpleasant when the mercury stands at 100° or more. Save time and temper by shopping the yellow pages of your telephone directory before going out.

At a glance you can locate that nationally advertised brand you're after . . . who repairs the appliance that needs fixing . . . whether a particular product or service is available in your neighborhood. Names, addresses and telephone numbers of any and everyone who buys, sells, rents or repairs are quickly found in the yellow pages.

Try 'em next time you wonder where to buy it—the yellow pages of your telephone directory!

Jerry Geissler of Los Angeles is one of the most famous criminal lawyers in the United States. Among his clients have been Charlie Chaplin and Errol Flynn. A few years ago I heard Geissler speak at a convention in Fort Worth. He said the secret of cross-examination was "not to ask that last question"—in other words, to know when to stop.

Also, he declared, it is much more effective to allow the jurors to find out a thing for themselves than to point it out to them—providing the lawyer is sure they will discover it. He illustrated: He was defending a man and the chief piece of evidence was a letter the defendant had written. When the opposing attorney offered the document in evidence, Geissler examined it through a magnifying glass, which he always takes into court.

The date was all-important and through the glass, it was evident that the date had been changed. Geissler said, "No objection," handed the letter to a juror and said, "Let me offer you my magnifying glass." The juror immediately perceived the alteration. The paper and the glass were handed from man to man and each juror's face lightened up as he discovered the change for himself. The jury promptly returned a verdict in favor of Geissler's client.

Last fall, I was in Little Rock, Ark., and that city had gone 330 days without a traffic death. In Hot Springs I saw an ambulance dash by and, next morning, read that the first life in two years had been claimed by a traffic accident. It seemed to me that cars in those cities did not go as fast as in our Texas cities. Perhaps the motorist preferred to lose a minute and save a life.

At Christmas time, fliers dropped toys and candy for the Navajos but, said a news dispatch, "Hopi Indians asked to be excluded from the drop, saying they would take care of their own children in their own way." Good for the Hopis!

I read somewhere that there was one government agent for each 25 Navajos—and yet recently a Navajo recruit completed basic training in the army and then it was discovered he could not understand English!

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Smith of Shawnee, Okla., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Smith over the week end. They also attended the funeral of his uncle in Rule on Sunday.

What Makes One Job Better Than Another?

What if the tables were turned . . . and college graduates stopped filling out job applications, and instead, submitted questionnaires for companies to fill out? It might be they would ask:

"Why should I work for your company? . . . Is your bank balance healthy? . . . Are you expanding fast? . . . Will I get responsibility in a hurry? . . . Can I pick the type of work I like? . . . Are you fun to work with? . . . Do you have smart men I can learn from? . . . Free schooling to train me further? . . . Research and know-how? . . . Money for the finest equipment? . . . Will you recognize and utilize my talents?"

Isn't it a sign of a pretty good job when young men with talent can have a clear road ahead, can learn from people they respect and admire, and can work on projects of national importance?

From where we sit, we've been watching this happen. Teams of people at General Electric—in their twenties most often—are solving problems of jet plane engines, new chemicals, home appliances, guided missiles . . . everything from atomic power to air conditioning. And they're working in responsible jobs, with experts of recognized authority.

Maybe it's because we're growing fast that young men move into new and bigger jobs. Or because we've been lucky enough to hire the type of men who grab responsibility and work hard to achieve success. Whatever single factor or combination it is, young men and success do go together at General Electric.

You can put your confidence in—

Pastor's Life Is Portrayed Tuesday At Men's Club Meet

An old Shakespearian play was found in the Shakespearian Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon and was flown from London to the United States and was presented at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening by an all-American theatre group.

This great play was the life of H. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the Methodist Church. As Gene Harrell read the script, the cast presented various scenes in the life of Rev. Ragle in pantomime.

The first scene showed father Ragle, Charles McCauley, and mother Ragle, Jimmy Harpham with their six months old son, Herbert Doyle, portrayed by John Nixon dressed in diaper and bonnet with red curl protruding and wrapped in a pink blanket.

The next stage was the school boy from grade school through high school which was portrayed by W. R. Moore, Jr., wearing a red wig. The various stages of school life were portrayed by quick changes of costume.

The college role was portrayed by Charles McCauley, who still wore the traditional red wig. This included his campus romance with Miss Catherine Morrison, the present Mrs. Ragle, portrayed by Wes Kirschner, who wore an auburn wig. The reader told episodes as he matured, of receiving his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from Southern Methodist University, as dining room head waiter and other incidents in college life.

After the wedding, Rev. Ragle joined the navy and the next scene showed a young sailor, Jimmy Reeves, coming to his Chaplain, Lt. Ragle, Charles McCauley for consolation. After hearing the hard luck story it showed the Chaplain breaking down and crying on the sailor's shoulder.

The next scene showed Rev. Ragle as he returned as a civilian pastor contending with three small children, two daughters and one son portrayed by W. R. Moore, Jr., and Jimmy Reeves as the daughters and John Nixon as the baby boy. Climax of this scene was the tearing out of locks of red hair when his children became more than he could handle.

The next stage was his success as pastor in the Munday Methodist Church, how he had won the love and respect of his congregation. At this point in the script it prophesied that this would be read in 1953. The rest was prophecy in the future which told he would become a prominent bishop who had received tokens of love from every church he had served. This token was an enormous collection of watches.

The next scene was in heaven with St. Peter, J. Weldon Smith, and Gabriel, Travis Lee, talking and as they talked they could hear voices singing "Happy Birthday." Looking down on earth they could hear all men and their ladies joining in the song. At this point Rev. Ragle's daughters, Sue and Sarah, carried in the three-tiered birthday cake to celebrate the birthdays of Rev. Ragle, Joe Sahadi and Earl McNeill.

All the time the camera lights were on, Billy Cammack was taking pictures in colored film.

The men served their ladies a wonderful supper, which was served outside before time for the play. This was the Methodist Men's ladies' night event at the church.

Activities of The Colored People

Last Sunday afternoon every one present at West Beulah Baptist Church was inspired by the sermon delivered by Rev. Polnac. The day's service was concluded by a Mother's Day program that night.

Despite threatening weather, our auditorium was crowded as the Primary department rendered their program. The final program will be Wednesday night.

We rang the bell a little ahead of time last Friday afternoon so that 76 children might enjoy the delicious sandwiches and cookies brought them by Mrs. Wayne Patterson, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Sharp. We thank them very much.

We must not forget to once again thank our white friends for the magazines, set of encyclopedia and other useful reading material donated us this year. To Mrs. Lucile Davis we express our appreciation for the magazines, games and useful primary material donated us last week. We have already filed them away for use next year.

We want to thank our parents for the grand support they gave us this year. We do thank all who donated on the five gallons of ice cream for our May Day picnic.

We are very happy over the electric wall clock bought for the school by the 5th, 6th and 7th grade pupils.

Mrs. Ada McKinney and children of Lubbock were visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, last Sunday.

This is Welcome Week under the Humble sign in your neighborhood

This week the Humble dealer in your neighborhood invites you and your family to drive in and get acquainted.

He wants to show you the kind of welcome you can expect every time you stop for service under the Humble sign.

He wants you to find out for yourself the superior quality of Humble products.

He wants to show you how clean his station is, and how well equipped.

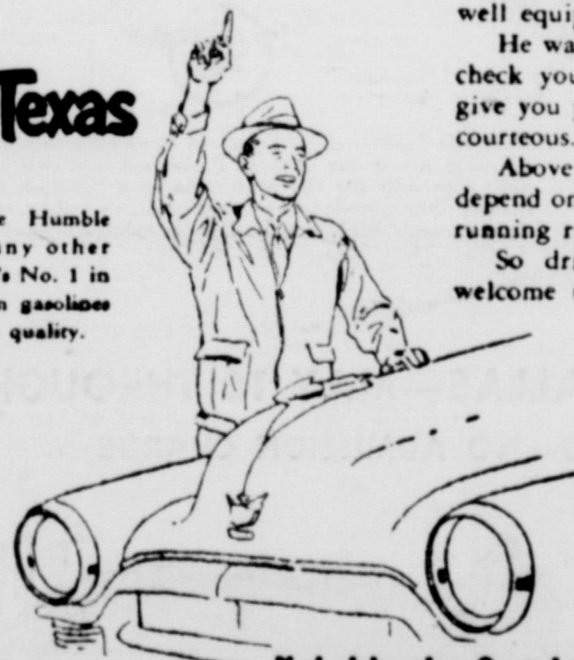

He wants to clean your windshield and sweep your floorboards; check your oil, your radiator, battery water, tires; he wants to give you personal proof that Humble service is complete, prompt, courteous.

Above all, he wants you to know that he is a neighbor you can depend on, that his station is equipped and staffed to keep your car running right and looking good.

So drive in, neighbor, and get acquainted—you're always welcome under the Humble sign.

No. 1 in Texas

More Texans use Humble Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline. It's No. 1 in sales among premium gasolines because it's No. 1 in quality.

Neighborly Service for Texans!

Are you planning to make your vacation trip in your car? Let your neighbor under the Humble sign introduce you to Humble Touring Service. This fine service provides you with clearly marked road maps to and from your destination, a trip log and other helpful information. Tell Humble Touring Service where you want to go—they do the rest.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

When was the last time you had your oil changed?

If your oil is 1000 to 1500 miles old, let your neighbor under the Humble sign drain your crankcase and refill it with either of two great oils: Esso Uniflo if your car is new and uses SAE 20 oil or lower; Esso Extra if your car uses SAE 30 or higher.

Ban Is Placed On GI Hitch-Hiking

AUSTIN—There'll be no more hitch-hiking by GIs as the result of a new safety drive by the Department of Defense, the Texas Division of the American Automobile Association has been advised.

In one of its latest moves to reduce the traffic toll involving military personnel, the Army, Navy and Air Force have issued policy directives banning military personnel from thumbing rides on public highways.

The ban does not apply to military personnel awaiting free rides at designated "pick up" stations, nor does it prevent them from accepting rides offered voluntarily by civilians but it does put a stop to out-and-out hitch-hiking.

The Defense Department gave no statistics, but it was pointed out that the traffic toll involving military personnel was sufficiently grave to bring on concerted action by the Services in an effort to improve the situation.

Among other measures, passes now issued to soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines read from "noon to noon" instead of midnight to midnight. At some post, week-end or three-day passes will not be issued unless the serviceman shows a bus, train or plane ticket to his designation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Mitchell and Becky visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Kunkel in Margate last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beaty of Corpus Christi were week end guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beaty.

FIGHTS FOR PREFERENTIAL PRIMARY

State Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, in his office at Austin, looks at some of the thousands of letters, telegrams and petitions received from the people of Texas backing him in his proposal to let the people, through a preferential primary, choose the nominees for president and vice president instead of the present convention system used by both major political parties. His bill has passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives.

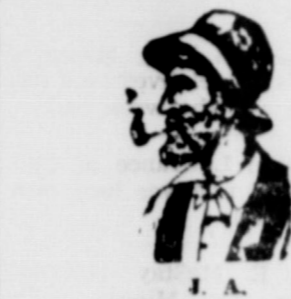

Knox Prairie Philosopher Favors The New Idea In Warfare Of Offering Reward For Enemy Planes Turned In

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek must think he's a military strategist, the way his letter sounds this week.

Dear editor:
I saw a copy of a newspaper which fell out of a small whirlwind out here the other afternoon along with four pieces of wrapping paper and several unpaid bills where the United States Army over in Korea is offering $50,000 for any enemy flier who delivers a Russian-built jet plane to the Allies.

This struck me as a good idea and I wonder why it wasn't thought up earlier. I don't have any idea how many Russian planes we'll get this way, but it sounds like a bargain and I would like to see this new style of war carried even further.

Why not offer say $10,000 for every enemy tank delivered to us, and come on down the scale $5,000 for every platoon, $100 for every rifle, hand grenade $6 a piece, canteens two-bits, etc.

I don't know whether our money would hold out, but if I had to do any of the fighting myself I'd prefer to try to use money instead of bullets.

Of course, I don't think we ought to rely on this method altogether, we ought to keep on makin our own weapons just in case, but it sounds like a pretty good idea. Naturally, we may run into some pretty canny types of enemies, and it may come a time when one will circle around overhead and try to horse-trade a little, offerin to turn in his plane for $60,000 instead of $50,000 on account of radio, heater, and white sidewall tires, but Americans if they're good at anything are good at horse-tradin and I figure we can hold our own in this kind of a deal.

Also, we don't want em turn in any worn-out models, any oil burners, slick-tired jobs with leaky radiators and a dead battery, but I figure we can handle that too by commissionin a few used-car dealers to protect our interests. I can name a few I know that'd know how to take care of the firm, so to speak. Knowin how to swap horses used to be a profession, but it has yielded to car dealers, who know how to spot a spavined automobile at 200 yards. I got an old model out here I've been holdin for the market to go up, but it's in the same shape as a Jersey steer I been holdin for two years. Could have gotten $90 for him a year ago, could have gotten $70 for him six months ago, a feller offered me $42 for him last week. Wish you would ask Secretary Benson if I should hold him a while longer or sell before the price goes down some more. I already got to the point where I know my judgment is worth less.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Cotton Improvement Groups To Receive Classing Service

Application forms for group membership in the 1953 Smith-Doxey program are being mailed to Mr. W. C. Pallmeyer, Knox County Agricultural Agent, H. J. Matejowsky, of the Abilene Cotton Classing Office said today. Farmers who wish to join Cotton Improvement Groups and avail themselves of free classing and market quotation service shouldn't waste any time, Matejowsky stated. They should join a group before they plant their cotton.

After they're in a group, the elected group leader will make one application, with the assistance of the County Agent or local ginmer, covering all members. He will send it to the Abilene Cotton Classing Office.

Under the Smith-Doxey Act, Matejowsky explained, a group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton, which adopts a single variety, files an application, arranges for sampling, and meets certain other requirements, is eligible to take part. No fees are involved. Members get their cotton classed free by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the local Classing Office.

After classing, a green card on each bale is returned to the farmer. This, plus the market news service, gives him a definite advantage in trading for he knows exactly what he's selling and how much it's worth. Also, Matejowsky added, he can even sell his cotton by presenting his green card to the buyer for examination, in place of an actual sample.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

The Texas State Department of Health, after consideration by the Crippled Children's Advisory Committee, has been approved as sponsoring agency for a 5-state regional congenital heart disease center to be operated with funds provided by the Children's Bureau, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, State Health Officer George W. Cox has announced.

Details of the program were outlined in a report from the Children's Bureau and the Dallas County Medical Society, many of whose members make up the staff of the Children's Medical Center in Dallas, where treatment will be given children admitted under terms of the program.

Five states—Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas—have been combined into a single region for convenience. Applications for admission of children to the Medical Center in Dallas will be accepted from all five states.

Children's Bureau officials said the Children's Medical Center in Dallas was selected as the treatment and diagnostic site for the five-state region because it has facilities for medical and surgical care for children with all types of heart disease, because of its geographical location in respect to the other states involved, and because the Dallas County Medical Society gave its approval and support to the program.

Upon approval of an admission application, the child will be admitted to care. The bills, including board and room for the parent while the child is in Dallas, will be paid with funds provided by the Children's Bureau. Parents financially able to pay part of the cost are expected to do so, the plan states.

The plan pointed to the need for the program by declaring that congenital heart defects in children in southern states account for approximately 50 per cent of all cardiac lesions.

Dr. Cox's announcement said objectives of the program were to "provide a mechanism whereby children in this area may have access to existing diagnostic and treatment facilities for congenital cardiac diseases, and to augment training facilities whereby young physicians may become intimately acquainted with the various aspects of this type of disease."
