Munday is no different from any other community in many respects.

It's a community composed of people, mostly good, peace loving Christian people who live with faith and strive to better their community.

It's people have their adversities and good times, their joys and sorrows, their periods of happiness and times of heart-breaking bereavement.

It was a shocked community last Saturday, as one by one its residents began to become informed of the great tragedy of the night before.

Four men, three of them our young high school boys, were involved in one of the worst traffic accidents of recent years.

These boys were just approaching manhood, with all the brightness of a glorious future standing out before them. They were yet to finish high school, then maybe college; possibly some military service; but eventually they would step into places of responsibility and help to make a future America.

The tragic accident took one life instantly. Another young man lived only a few hours when he succumbed to injuries at a Wichita Falls hospital.

The parents of the third youth brought him home from the Knox County Hospital last Tuesday morning, and he is apparently on his way to recovery.

The hearts of everyone in the community are in sympathy to the sorrowing parents and loved ones who are trying to recover from the shock of having the flower of young manhood taken from them so suddenly and so tragically.

It behooves us all to be more diligent, using all safety methods and precautions, seeing that our vehicles are safe for ourselves and for the other fellow. Life is but a fleeting moment at its best.

The wheat harvest is about over. It doesn't last through weeks like it did back yonder during the horse-drawn benders and the old thrasher days.

It used to be something to follow the thrasher through wheat harvest in your local community. All ladies who've experienced it will tell you it used to be something to cook meals for the thrasher crews.

It was something, too, to work on top of a bundle wagon, get her loaded up high, then try to work a skittish mule close enough to the threshing machine to be able to pitch the bundles into the feeder.

As time passed and advancement came, we had the headers. Then you'd head the stuff, pile it into huge ricks to await the coming of the thrasher.

And talk about hot. There's no hotter hot than being a little over waist deep in a header barge, the beards working through your clothing, no breeze getting to your body, and fork-like nobody's business trying to keep the heads worked back to high side.

That all went out with the coming of the combines—and we're glad of that. As yet, there's no better way to harvest wheat than by combine that scatters the straw evenly over the ground again.

The machine age is a good age, but you still can't harvest wheat without some hard work.

Anyways, most farmers report their wheat turning out better than they thought it would. And we're glad of that, too.

Mrs. Grover Sullivan returned to her home in Greenville last Friday after a few days visit with relatives here. She came for the funeral of her brother, Alex Jones.

Two Munday youths lost their lives in a tragic highway accident last Friday night that left this community stunned by the tragedy. One was killed instantly, and another died Saturday afternoon in a Wichita Falls hospital. The accident occurred about three miles west of Munday on Highway 222.

Virgil Weaver, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Weaver of Munday, was killed instantly when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a hay baler which was being pulled by a tractor.

Wensell Norvill, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Norvill, died at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Joe Estill Sharp, 16, the driver of the car, remained in the Knox County Hospital at Knox City Saturday under treatment for a head injury, cuts, bruises and shock, but his condition was not believed to be critical. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sharp.

All three of the boys were students in Munday High School.

Jesus Casillas of Knox City driver of the tractor involved in the accident, was reported in critical condition in Knox County Hospital.

Highway Patrolman George Leedy of Seymour, who investigated the accident, said other motorists who had passed the tractor shortly before the accident occurred told him they saw no tail lights on the hay baler.

Leedy said the 1953 Chevrolet sedan in which the boys were riding and the tractor and hay baler were all demolished.

Funeral for Virgil Lewis Weaver was conducted at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church here, with the pastor, the Rev. H. A. Polnac, officiating. Mahan Funeral Home directed burial in the Johnson Cemetery here.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MARION, ILL. WEEKLY LEADER: "The great principle of democracy can be applied to the religious field . . . Respect for one's neighbors, whether or not he agrees with your strict beliefs in an American principle too often used."

SUNNYSLOPE, ARIZONA, JOURNAL: "The Russians . . . don't believe workmen own automobiles. They would say it's a lie to see our High School boys and girls driving to school in their jalopies. Who has stopped them from getting what they have? Certainly not the United States. No—their leaders are to blame."

SPRINGHILL, LA. PRESS: "James A. Linen, publisher of the Time magazine, speaking to the national radio audience from the Metropolitan Opera House on National Opera Day, said: 'Apparently one of the things we are going to keep with us in our new world is music. One of the most important things that has got to happen if the United States is to maintain its position of leadership in the world is for the rest of the world to give us credit for culture as well as bathtubs.'"

ALMA, MICHIGAN, RECORD: "A wholly changed attitude toward the dollar is held by the Eisenhower administration compared with the attitude toward it since 1933. Now the dollar is beginning to assume some importance in its own right, instead of merely serving as a tool to accomplish some purpose of the government."

GOOD VALUE

No one doubts the value and the necessity of farm machinery. All agree that the machine has transformed agriculture almost completely, to the enormous benefit of producer and consumer alike.

But now and then it is argued that the machines cost too much—that the price tags are unreasonably high even in these days of the 50-cent dollar.

A few facts punch deep holes in that argument. Between 1939 and 1950, for instance, the factory prices of farm equipment went up 54 per cent—while the cost of iron and steel rose 76 per cent, and the wages paid labor in farm equipment plants jumped 104 per cent.

And this doesn't take into account the improvements that have been made in the equipment. The machines are far rugged and more efficient than they used to be. Important improvements have inevitably added to their manufacturing cost. Their life is longer. And they do the jobs they are destined for faster and with proportionately lower operating and maintenance expense.

Today's farm machines are cheap measured by their productive ability.

THE MONEY WE SPEND AT RETAIL

An authority on department store and variety store retailing recently stressed the need "for a crusade on expense reduction."

That may seem odd to some customers, who have the idea that the retailer needn't worry too much about expenses, as all he has to do is to tack them on to the selling price of his goods. But, in a free, competitive economy it isn't as simple as that. Last year, for instance, retail business as measured by volume was extremely good. A vast quantity of merchandise was sold and huge sums of money changed hands. But typical dry goods stores averaged a net profit of only 2.3 per cent. It is obvious that when the profit margin is so narrow, every effort must be made to keep overhead costs down.

The merchants aren't complaining—they aren't asking for big profits. But the consuming public should know that only a very small part of each dollar we spend at retail stays with the owners of the stores.

AFTER TWO DECADES

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has stated that the federal budget cannot be balanced in the next fiscal year, despite substantial cuts in appropriations. There will be a deficit, and it probably will be necessary to again increase the legal debt limit.

As the Portland Oregonian said editorially, "It took two decades to get the government and the taxpayers into this mess." We can't get out of it overnight. In the meantime, the Administration must be encouraged in its efforts to reduce costs as rapidly as possible—and the people must have the character and the resolution to accept and applaud the fact that the Santa Claus era seems to be ending. That won't be easy. But it will be infinitely easier than the national bankruptcy that would inevitably result from continued unbridled spending.

THE BARBITURATE DANGER

An article in Today's Health, a publication of the American Medical Association, warns against the excessive or improper use of barbiturates.

Written by Dr. Donald A. Dukelow, the article says that in 1951 more than 688,000 pounds of these drugs were produced—enough to put every man, woman and child in the nation to sleep for 20 days if administered in the usual dosage. It is estimated that more than half of the huge barbiturate production is distributed through illegitimate channels for non-medical purposes.

When used properly, under a physician's supervision, barbiturates are of great value and can prevent much suffering. But, as is true of most habit-forming drugs, improper use can lead to destruction of the victim's personality, crime, and even death.

DIVISION

In the religious world of today there exists a condition that, to every thinking person, is at once appalling. Religious organizations of almost every conceivable brand are found on every hand. There are over 250 different "Faiths" in the United States. That there is some good in some of them will not be denied. Some, however, are dedicated to the overthrow of faith in God, the divinity of Christ and the inspiration of the scriptures. Yet, there are those who think this condition is desirable, so people may have a "church of their choice." As though God didn't have a choice in the matter.

Division is carnal. In 1 Cor. 3:3 the apostle Paul condemns it. "For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying and strife, and DIVISIONS, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?"

Men and women can get along on many proposition with the exception of religion. But having espoused some sectarian doctrine, they have built spite fences around themselves and refuse to have fellowship with any one of another sect. Families are divided and sometimes even husband and wife cannot or will not partake of the "Lord's Supper" together.

Therefore, instead of preaching division, as has been charged by the uninformed, I offer you the one and only way that this condition can be remedied. The only ground upon which all peoples can meet in religious UNITY and HARMONY. The kind of unity for which the Blessed Saviour prayed.

That basis is the Bible and Bible ONLY. It would call for the sacrifice of all our preconceived ideas and "private interpretation" of the scriptures. Leaving our creeds, disciplines of faith, confessions, catechisms, and traditions and take a "Thus saith the Lord" for our every rule of faith and practice. Back to the Bible for it all.

 CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

John Purroy Mitchell, who was mayor of New York City prior to World War I, made a national reputation as an able public official and might have become president had he not lost his life while serving in the air corps.

A few years ago, your columnist spoke at a convention in Little Rock, Ark., the Arkansas Carbonated Bottlers, and in conversation with a Mr. Wagner of Madison, Ill., I learned the circumstances of Mitchell's death. Wagner was in training at the camp where the former New York mayor was serving. He related:

"Mr. Mitchell was a very capable man but was absent-minded and, when he got into an airplane, had to be reminded to fasten his safety-belt. One day he climbed into a single-seater to do some loops but when the plane went into the first loop, he fell out. There had been no one to remind him to fasten his safety-belt."

Absent-mindedness cut short a career which promised much.

he would have the boy read the Louisville Daily Journal to him. The brilliant George D. Prentice was editor. The reading of the newspaper proved invaluable in giving the lad a knowledge of good English. He became a great figure in national life, served as a speaker of the House of Representatives and received a majority of the votes in the Democratic convention for the presidential nomination but fell short of the two-thirds vote then required. He was Champ Clark of Missouri.

Incidentally, Clark wouldn't have gotten far in politics if he hadn't somewhat altered his name: James Beauchamp Clark. He threw away his first name and shortened the middle one. Two other American statesmen who discarded their first names were Stephen Grover Cleveland and Thomas Woodrow Wilson.

No wonder Ambrose Pierce was known as "Bitter" Breece. He wrote such things as "To be positive is to be mistaken at the top of one's voice" and "Learning is the kind of ignorance which marks the studious."

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Beard

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29 — All indications are that the Administration has revised its thinking about what is "must" legislation for this session of Congress. It now seems highly improbable that any amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act will be considered before Congress recesses. I doubt if any of the proposed amendments to this law will reach the floor. It also seems that final action on Hawaiian statehood is becoming less probable each day. There is also now practically no chance that any consideration will be given to Social Security in view of the fact that the Chairman of the Committee that has jurisdiction over this matter in the House has stated that there would be no bills reported out during this session that would affect Social Security. There is a great need for revision of our Social Security laws, particularly in view of the fact that under the present law, in many instances, those that need the benefits least are getting the most and those that have the greatest need are getting the least. However, the House did approve funds for a study of the complete Social Security program by a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee. Still on the program to be considered before Congress adjourns is legislation to admit 240,000 Eastern European refugees, extension of the excess profits tax, reorganization plans of the Agricultural and Defense Departments, and extension of the reciprocal trade program. In addition to this and several other legislative proposals, of course, there are several appropriation bills that will be considered by the House just as soon as they are reported out of the various committees that are now working on them.

This week the House passed the Department of Army Civil Functions Appropriation Bill for 1954. As it passed the House, the bill was $75,000,000 below the Budget estimate and, roughly, $160,000,000 under the appropriations for the current year. As this action indicates, the House has so far been very economy-minded in considering appropriations.

The only Department of the Government that I know of which has some real record of economy is the Department of Agriculture. The Agriculture appropriation in 1953 was 30.4% less than was appropriated for that Department in 1940. During this same period of time the Department of Commerce received 1,370% more. The Labor Department received 543% more. The State Department received 1,146% more, and the Treasury Department appropriation was greater by 203%. Also, since 1939 the Department of Agriculture has reduced its employees by 38.7%. No other Department of our Government has shown any such decrease. There undoubtedly can be more progress made in economy and efficiency in this Department, but I think they should be commended for the progress that has been made during the last thirteen years, and many of the other Departments should certainly follow their lead.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Gowin Davis of Bellevue; Dr. D. C. Eiland and son, Allen, of Munday; Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, Professor A. F. Edwards, Mr. David Robinson, Miss May Harrison, Miss Bertha Taylor, Mrs. William Newell, all of Wichita Falls; and Cpl. Anthony Fenoglio now stationed at the Army Chemical Center in Maryland whose home is Nocona.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—With spring house cleaning and the anti-moth battle under way, housewives all over Texas have been using insecticide sprays. Because most of these are poisonous and some are inflammable, special precautions noted on the labels should be observed, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Common sense safety rules include protection of food, dishes, silverware and cooking utensils from moth, mosquito or fly sprays. If you spill concentrated insecticide solutions on yourself, wash off immediately with soap and water.

Don't expose yourself or members of your family unnecessarily to insecticide dust or spray mists. Provide extra ventilation by opening doors and windows when extensive jobs are being done.

Care should be taken not to spray liquid insecticides into electrical outlets or on exposed electrical connections because of danger of short circuits. Don't apply oil-base sprays near fire, flame or sparks and don't smoke while applying them.

Special precautions should be taken to store insecticides where children will not be able to reach them. Never put into a kitchen cupboard where they might be mistaken for food.

Joe Harris of Clovis, N. M., was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Roberts over the week end.

Mrs. Donald Jolly and son of Muskogee, Okla., spent several days this week in the Lee Haymes home.

How to Convert Attic
WHEN'S an attic not an attic? When it's been transformed into a cozy living quarters or recreation room!

It's quite a simple matter, and economical, too, if you will use a modern remodeling material like Tempered Presdwood. That was the all-wood paneling used to transform the attic in the illustration into the handsome room for a teen-age boy.

Tempered Presdwood is mighty tough—just the durable material needed in an attic recreation area or room for the young man of the house. Also it's good looking without any paint—a rich brown with the wood fibers showing through. Of course, it can be painted, too, and beautifully.

The entire room may be outfitted by the handyman and his son. For instance, in the room shown the end table, cabinets and desk were made of Tempered Presdwood in easy combinations with lumber. This versatile hardboard may be found in any lumber yard.

Miss Maxine Hill, Burns Ashley Married In Church Rites Saturday

The First Baptist Church in Munday was the setting on Saturday, May 30, at 7:30 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Maxine Hill to Burns Ashley. Rev. Huron A. Polnac officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The couple stood under the archway of greenery sprinkled with white daisies and topped with a white wedding bell. Baskets of white gladioli were placed alternately with large palm arrangements in the background. Tapers of white candles near the altar and along the banisters furnished the light.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Claude Hill of Munday. She wore a pearl white slippery satin gown styled with a fitted bodice, with net yoke, appliqued flowers of satin and seed pearls. Her gathered skirt tapered off into a long train. Her fingertip veil was fashioned around a half-hat scattered with tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids atop a white Bible.

For something old, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to the groom's grandmother. Something new was her wedding attire; something borrowed, a veil belonging to Mrs. Pat Hill, and blue garter.

Mrs. Mack Webb was matron of honor. She wore a strapless gown of green net over matching taffeta, with a net stole. Her bouquet was pink daisies set in green taffeta ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. J. R. Hickman and Billie Joe Turmine of Dallas, who wore identical dresses of pink net over matching taffeta with net stoles and matching head pieces. They carried bouquets of white daisies set in green ribbons.

Miss Jamie Haynie and Miss Ina Mae Jones of Munday were bridesmaids dressed in green net and taffeta with machine stoles and headpieces. They carried white daisies set in pink ribbons.

L. D. Ashley of Denton was his son's best man. Groomsmen were Pat Hill and J. R. Hill of Munday, brothers of the bride; Troy Williams of Oklahoma City and Mack Webb of Lubbock.

Patty Hill of Munday and Kathie Wilson of Floydada were flower girls. They wore pink dresses of taffeta and net with matching headpieces.

Cheryle Jamison of Goree and Vick Ashley, brother of the groom were trainbearers.

Charlotte Hannah of Munday accompanied Phill Briggs who sang "Because," "Always," and the "Wedding Prayer."

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hill. Mrs. Pat Hill and Carlyne Jones served from a table covered with a white linen cloth, upon which was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride's mother wore a navy dress with white accessories, and the groom's mother wore a dress of pink lace with white accessories.

Mrs. Ashley is a 1948 graduate of Sunset High School and a 1952 graduate of North Texas State College in Denton. She taught in the Goree schools during the past year.

Mr. Ashley has spent the past two years in the service, and just recently returned from Korea.

After a wedding trip to Carolina, the newlyweds will make their home in Denton.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Yost and C. G. Yost were Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Yost and Charles of Fort Worth and Mrs. Edgar Beecher and Beth of Shallowater.

Billy Clyde Laws came from Fort Worth to attend the Christian-Patterson wedding.

Mrs. Sam Hutchinson, the former Mrs. Ertie Isuind ggg also among the out of town guests for the wedding.

There were a number of guests from Haskell and other places for the wedding, but they will be listed in the account of the wedding.

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Cole returned Sunday afternoon from the annual Methodist conference.

Weep not dear mother and father, weep not

'Twill not be long you know Until we'll greet Wensell and Virgil Upon the Golden Shores.

So don't you grieve dear Sue and Shirley And my other brothers and sisters, too You can meet your precious brothers In Heaven some sweet day.

Blest be the tie that binds Our hearts in Christian love And after for each other Flows the sympathizing tear.

We know that they'll be waiting And bidding us to come And join the angelic chorus When our last day's work is done.

So let us all be faithful And meet them over there With our family ties unbroken Free from sorrow and care.

So hard it was to leave them There beneath the sod So cold their forms were lying Their souls have gone to God.

We left to take new vigor To fight the battle of life To live as faithful soldiers And meet them in the sky. —Mrs. Hugh Eubank

Recreation For The Munday Youth

Editor's Note: The following article was submitted for publication by Mrs. J. T. Offutt and is being printed without comment:

"The youth of Munday need a place for recreation. Why can't they have a place for week-day recreation?"

This question has been asked over and over again, but nothing has been done about it.

One of these empty buildings is just waiting for our youth to come and have a good time there.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Favors President Ike Eisenhower's Practice Of Not Telling Anyone His Golf Score

Ediaor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is talking about something he does not know anything about this week again.

Dear editor:
I was out here on my farm yesterday thinkin' about whether I ought to take up golf, just in case I ran into President Eisenhower, and I got to thinkin' about the practice he has established of not tellin' his score, and I want you to know I approve of it.

People talk too much. They ask too many questions. Somebody is always askin' me if I'm through plowin' yet, and as far as I'm concerned it's a personal question, like how much money you got in the bank, and from now on me and Eisenhower are gonna follow the same pattern, with him not tellin' his golf score and me not tellin' the status of my plowin'.

Another question I don't go for is, how much cotton you got planted this year? I got the same amount of cotton planted in 1939, and it's still in the ground as far as I know as it hasn't come up yet. People seem to forget that farmin' and golf in are pretty much the same, you do both for the exercise, and if you don't feel like either one today you can put it off till tomorrow and that's your business, at least that's the way I look at farmin' and I suppose it's the way Eisenhower looks at golfin'. I don't think he looks at the Presidency that way, but that's the advantage of livin' out here over havin' to live in the White House.

Out here, about all the problems I got are domestic problems, but every mornin' when Eisenhower wakes up he's got not only domestic problems but foreign problems, national problems, Republican problems, Democratic problems, tax problems, budget problems, deficit problems, speech-makin' problems, Joe McCarthy problems. I tell you, plowin' has politics beat all to pieces as recreation.

But even if I don't play golf myself, I'd like to suggest that more political leaders in Texas ought to brush up on the game. Nobody knows when one of em is gonna have to go up to Washington to ask for some form of aid or another and it's possible a little golf-playin' ability might be just the thing. Ain't anybody countin' on needin' any help, I don't suppose, but there sure ain't no harm in brushin' up on the game, just in case.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A Little Headwork Saves a Lot of Footwork

"I don't ever aim to give up fishing," Pappy Hayes said one day—"but the older I get the less I like hiking over to Pike's Creek. Guess I'll have to bring the fish nearer to me."

So Pappy got his nephew to bulldoze down about three acres of bottom land. Then he dammed up the little stream there.

He wrote the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in Washington, and got some "blue gills" and bass to stock it—free. Pappy's idea wound up giving him (and us) just about the best fishing pond in the county . . . right in his own back yard.

From where I sit, Pappy may be older than some of us but his mind is active—and open. He's ready to listen to anybody with an idea. That's why he and I can talk on any subject—sometimes about his preference for buttermilk and mine for beer. And though we disagree, we respect each other's opinion. That's neighborliness without a "catch" to it.

Good and choice fat calves were steady but the common, plain and medium in-between sorts sold weak to lower. High quality stockers were steady, but others draggy and plain stockers sold mainly for low grade killers. Demand for stocker cows was very narrow.

FORT WORTH—Swine growers could enjoy a rueful smile Monday as hogs hit the highest peak since November 1948 at Fort Worth. Choice butcher hogs sold at $25.25-25.75. The joy was tempered by the fact that several years of low prices for hogs had thinned down the hog population to where while the price was good, the numbers were few.

Most hog breeders are frantically trying to re-stock since a short time ago it was announced that the hog population was smaller than the numbers of cattle on the nation's farms. The ideal relationship is generally conceded to be 20 percent more hogs than cattle in the country.

Sows and pigs were steady, sows mostly $20 to $22 and feeder pigs from $21 down.

Cattle buyers were highly selective. The fed heaves were scarce and good and choice dry-

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

By Senator "Cotton" George Moffett

The 53rd session of the Texas Legislature adjourned on May 27th after being in session 135 days. It was the shortest regular session in ten years. Nearly 1300 bills were introduced in the two branches. They covered a wide variety of subjects. Naturally, a good many of these bills never passed.

In a democratic form of government any member has a right to introduce a bill on any subject of his choice, but a favorable vote of the majority of the members of each branch of the Legislature is required before any particular bill may be placed on the Governor's desk. This is often hard to secure.

Expressions from the people about proposed laws were more numerous at this session than any other which I have attended. It was not unusual for a member of the Senate to get above 50 letters in a single day. The people saw fit to express various beliefs and opinions and generally the members were glad to have the benefit of such information. Because of the variety of opinions expressed upon proposed legislation, it was not possible to secure the passage of many of the bills introduced. Their sponsors will have to await the time with patience until another session when a more favorable attitude may prevail.

At this time, I desire to call attention to a special bill providing for the registration of out of state trucks which I introduced and which may be of considerable importance to those who employ out of state truckers during wheat harvest. This bill was signed by the Governor about a month ago and provides for a special 30 day license for out of state wheat trucks who desire to transport wheat from the field to the elevator in this State. The old law expired and a new one was necessary. However, the old law provided for a 60 day license and it was thought a 30 day license would fit the conditions better. I am glad to have been of some assistance in this matter. The new law is permanent and will be helpful in the future when our part of the State produces a heavy wheat crop, thus calling for hundreds of wheat trucks from other states to help handle the Texas crop. In the absence of a law providing for this special thirty day license, these out of state trucks would have to register in Texas for the full twelve months if they hauled for hire here. Not many would care to purchase a twelve months' license and thus a shortage of wheat truck transportation would develop. The new law fills the gap.

I will discuss other bills in a later issue.

Trailer Bed Extension

AROUND the farm, hauling is a constant problem. Sometimes the two-wheel auto trailer is the right size, but other times it's too small.

The illustration shows a way of doubling the capacity of a trailer by constructing a demountable box, which simply fits on top of the trailer bed.

Using scrap lumber, form two rectangular frameworks the size of the trailer box. Cover the sides with Masonite quarter-inch tempered Presdwood, a tough material that will stand lots of abuse.

Now nail, as shown, four two-by-fours to the inner framework. These will then fit into some iron strapping that should be bolted into the trailer. Then the trailer-in-a-trailer is complete. When not needed, it is easily removed and stored.

RECORD-BREAKING GAS MILEAGE

for the driving YOU do!

This year's Chevrolet brings you the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And it's the kind of everyday economy that saves you money wherever and however you drive!

Inch along through heavy traffic. Roll up the miles in steady highway cruising. Long trips or short errands, byroads or boulevards, you get far more miles per gallon in this great new Chevrolet.

New high-compression power is the reason. Both the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models—and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine in gearshift models—deliver more power on less gasoline. Acceleration and hill-climbing ability are greater, fuel consumption is lower!

This is the kind of economy that counts the most—important gasoline savings for the driving you do, together with lower over-all costs of upkeep. And along with it, you enjoy all the other advantages that only the new Chevrolet offers you. Come in and see for yourself!

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only.

Seeing Eye to Eye

The problem of getting children to wear their glasses is made easier with this high-fashion take-off. Little sister now can sport exactly the same combination plastic-metal eyewear that's so popular with mother, thanks to Shuron Optical Company's newly introduced Browline Junior frame for children in the eight to 12 age bracket. This eye apparel for youngsters gives them that "grown-up" feeling and knowledge they're part of the fashion parade.

POULTRY POINTERS

Few farms are complete without at least some chickens—both fryers and layers. Even though commercial flocks may not be practical, the extra pennies earned in egg production or the money saved in raising meat for the frying pan really add up in a year's time.

In order to successfully raise chickens for home consumption, or for the market, it is important to look after the "little things" as well as the bigger problems. It may pay dividends to spend a few minutes checking on these profit leaks:

Hang up those empty feed sacks or pile them neatly on a rack. This is the best way to keep used bags in good condition. A few pains in opening sacks so as not to tear them will pay off. Don't allow birds to waste feed. Use feeders that prevent waste and fill them 1/2 to 2/3 full.

Make a practice to wipe off light bulbs and reflectors in the pens over so often. It is surprising how much light is lost simply because bulbs and reflectors are filmed over.

Check up on the favorite laying haunts of chickens. Eggs are lost because birds don't lay them in the nests. Dark corners, under the nests and roosts, should be wired off so birds just can't lay in those hard to get at places where eggs are either broken or get dirty.

Work out a plan to cull and sell loafers if you are trying for good egg production. Non-laying birds are lost to the market because the farmer didn't get rid of them while they were in good condition.

A good poultryman is first of all a good manager. No matter how big or how small an operation he has, mass production can never substitute for good management.

The Department of Agriculture publishes a poultry and egg bulletin each day in Austin. A written request will bring this service to you free of charge. The request should be addressed to: Market News Service, Texas Department of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

Graduates Of '48 Meet In Reunion Here On Sunday

After five years, eighteen members of the class of '48 met for their first reunion in the Munday school auditorium on Sunday, May 31, where they had dinner buffet style. The auditorium was decorated with a variety of yard flowers and a large sign saying "Welcome Home."

After a short business meeting and election of officers for the class, Charles Hardin as president and Gene Brown as secretary and treasurer, the class entertained themselves by filling in the five years with their experiences and what they were doing at the present time. They decided to hold a reunion every two years.

Members who attended the reunion were Carolyn Bowden Russell and husband of Vernon; Gloria Smith Benner, husband and son, LaRue Johnson, Louise Armstrong Tuggle, Lynn Ford and wife, Velma Ford Melton, Charles Hardin, Gene Brown, wife and daughter, Joe Nell Mullican Moon, Geraldine Boggs Walling, Virginia Yates Burnison and husband, all of Munday; Dorris Wayne Phillips Anderson and son, Levelland; Thelma Ford Reddell and husband, Florene Mitchell Reese and two daughters of Knox City; Joy Guffey Ford and husband of Red Springs, Clifton Swain and wife of Seymour, Marquette Fitzgerald Ward and daughter of Post, Lloyd Reed of Oil Center, N. Make Your Farm Equipment Ready For Summer Months

Temperatures over much of the state during the past few days are a pretty good indication that summer weather is here to stay. And according to W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Extension Service, it means getting things in shape around the farm for the hot weather season.

First the equipment used during the winter should be cleaned, oiled and made ready for the inactive period. This would include checking the filter in the furnace and oiling the fan and motor bearings. Other heating equipment should be cleaned and stored for the summer.

Buildings should be checked inside and out for damage from winter weather. Window frames, window screens, sills, the condition of the putty, paint finish, weather stripping and inside and out boards should be checked for rot or other damage. Porches, stairs and siding should get special attention, says Allen. Blistered and stained walls are usually good evidence that repairs are needed now. Hot weather, points out the specialist, may make the faulty conditions worse and more difficult to repair.

Now is the time, says the engineer, to get the cooling equipment in top shape. Electric motors should be cleaned and oiled and all wiring checked. New filter pads may be needed on the evaporative cooler and water lines and valves should also be checked. If a cooling system is to be installed, better get the job done now in order to beat the heat.

State Accepts Big 3 National Award Programs For 1953

The big 3 of the National 4-H Awards Programs — Achievement, Citizenship and Leadership—offering 18 college scholarships valued at $5,100, have been accepted by the State Extension Service for the current year.

In each program the highest rating boy and girl are also awarded all-expense trips to both the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in November, 1953, and to Washington, D. C., for National 4-H Club Week in March, 1954.

The award donors are Achievement, Ford Motor Co.; Citizenship, In honor of Thos. E. Van son, and Leadership, Edward Foss Wilson. The six Washington trips are provided by the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

Other incentives for all-around Achievement in 4-H activities are 16 trips to the Chicago Congress, miniature statues for two State winners and four medals for county winners. The Leadership program provides 8 trips to the Congress, gold watches to two State winners and two medals for county winners.

County Extension Agents will furnish complete information on these programs.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Parks and son and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tompkins and daughter of Sunray, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Tompkins and children of Dallas and Rev. and Mrs. Paul Nelson and son of Abilene were guests of Mr. Clyde Nelson over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Phillips and sons of Phoenix, Ariz., are spending a week's vacation in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Press Phillips.
