Our favorite pastime is sleeping late on Sunday morning. This is one morning we don't have to buck the regular grind and can sleep as late as eight o'clock sometimes.

So it was nearing eight last Sunday, and we had started in to studying about arising to begin to investigate the possibilities of breakfast.

And the telephone rang.

Mrs. Nell Campbell called for the wife, and during the conversation we surmised from hearing one side of it that Nell had a new grandbaby and was on her way to Plainview to see if the situation was well in hand.

So after the wife had relayed the news to us, we both stretched out for a few minutes more of rest, and the telephone rang again.

Usually when one answers, the call is for the other one, so we decided to let her answer this one—then we both practically collided with each other as we headed for the phone.

This call was from Plainview with "Grandpa" Cook on the paying end—we think.

It seems he was only doing the chores that morning because he didn't more than get to tell our Mrs. that he was grandpa until he said "Mary wants to talk to you."

Then the story began to unfold.

I. V. Cook was sure enough a grandpa, because Mary Cook is a grandmother.

And the principal reason for this is that their daughter, Pat, is a mother, and her husband, Charles Hardin, is a father.

The cause of all the excitement and telephoning is a dark haired, curly headed little boy. He arrived at a Plainview hospital at around 4 a. m. Sunday, and his name is Larry Charles Hardin.

Larry Charles made the scales tip way over to seven pounds and 11 ounces, as he grinned as if to be saying, "I'll never weigh that little amount any more."

It seems that everyone concerned is pleased with that curly hair and his father's resemblance.

The phone call left us with another chore to perform, since we were coming to town to get the mail anyway.

Pat's very good chum was interested in the baby, too, so we were delegated to go by and tell Shirley Hill the news.

As we completed the story to wide-eyed Shirley, she looked at her daddy and said: "His got Mother's birthday!" Shirley will be about the first non-relative from Munday way to see this newest Plainview citizen.

Larry Charles is the first grandbaby in the I. V. Cook family—the child of an only child. To Mrs. Campbell he's one of several, but she doesn't have so many grandchildren that she doesn't get excited about another one.

Our guess is that by now Larry Charles is very much at home and a welcomed guest in the Cook household. There he will likely remain until sometime in September.

Then he will go down to some college town—we think it's Waco—to help his daddy get started in law school and, to see that things remain on an even keel during school hours.

He's a big boy with a great big, long future ahead of him—but he's not worrying none. The future holds no fears for a boy of his age and calibre!

Mrs. Earl Plummer returned home last Thursday after a six weeks visit with her daughter in Amarillo.

Mogul Cheer Leaders Attend Special School Held At Northwestern University

The six cheer leaders of Munday High School attended the special school for cheer leaders at Northwestern University, Wichita Falls, recently. Those attending were Sue Norvill, Glenda Guffey, Trivella Butler, Patsy Butler, Margaret Yandell, and Patsy Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pistole accompanied the girls to Wichita Falls on Sunday and went back for them on Friday. Mrs. Pistole is sponsor of the pep squad.

The school was directed by Lawrence Herkimer, who was head cheer leader for S. M. U. everal years. Each day's schedule included tumbling, workshops and lectures. Special attention was given to the study of pep rallies and stunts for assembly programs. Seventeen schools of the area were represented and each group was requested to prepare a skit for a big jamboree on Thursday night. The Munday girls felt very proud of themselves when they were awarded second place for their presentation. They were competing with groups from Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Ardmore, Okla. and several other large schools. First place went to Ardmore.

The girls worked hard and learned a lot, but they also had a good time. They roomed in the university's dormitory and ate at the dining hall. They had several planned entertainments, including a swimming party on Tuesday night.

The girls thoroughly enjoyed their week at the cheer leading school, and are so full of pep and schol spirit that one of them said she was ready for school and football to start now. They are looking forward with great enthusiasm to the first Mogul game and hope that all of Munday will be out for every game to help them back the Moguls all the way.

The Ballot

In this week's issue of the Munday Times is a sample copy of the election ballot which will be handed voters in the Democratic primary election on Saturday, July 24. The only difference in this ballot and the one which people will vote is that candidates for all precinct offices are listed.

Only those precinct offices in the commissioners precinct in which the voter resides will appear on the official ballot.

Absentee voting began on Monday, July 5, and Knox County's ballots were printed in time for this event. The election is expected to draw a strong vote in Knox County.

Wheat Referendum Brings Questions From The Growers

As July 23 approaches, the date for the wheat referendum, more and more growers are asking questions about the marketing quotas and the referendum, according to Chairman T. H. Jones of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conversation Committee.

Pointing out that county ASC office people and all county and community committeemen have the answers to program operation questions, Chairman Jones gave a quick review of answers he is most frequently called upon to give.

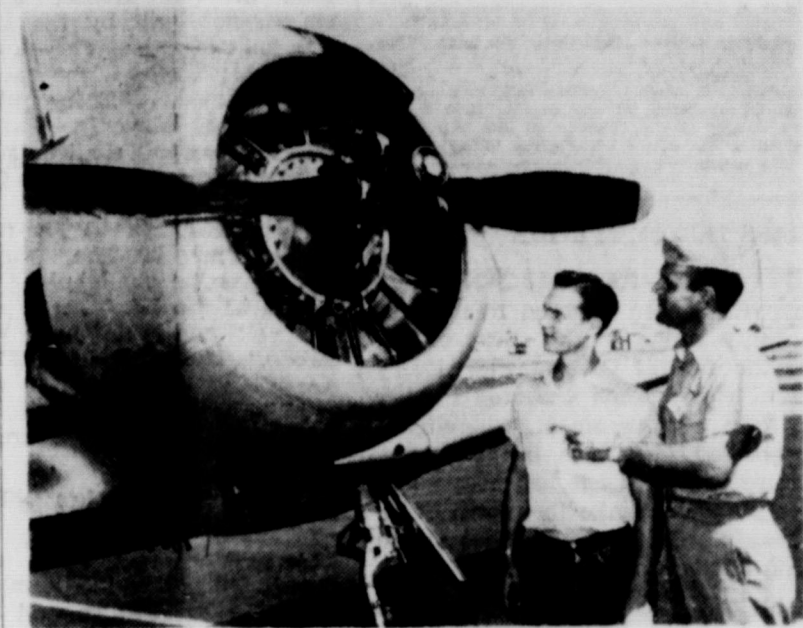

The results of the referendum will determine whether or not marketing quotas, with penalties for overplanting acreage allotments, will be in effect for the 1955 crop. They will also determine the level of price support which will be available. These and other basic questions are being studied carefully by wheat growers.

Some have asked, "Who is eligible to vote?" The answer is, any farmer who would be subject to the quotas. Farms will be subject to the quotas if the wheat to be harvested for grain in 1955 is more than 15 acres.

"If quotas are in effect, what will be the penalty for failure to comply with acreage allotment?" The penalty on excess wheat will be at the rate of 45 percent of the May 1, 1955, parity price.

Another frequently asked question is, "How does the referendum affect 1955 price supports?" The answer is: If two-thirds or more of the farmers who vote favor quotas, the full (Continued on Last Page)

Daughter Writes Dad About Church Event On Tuesday

Dear Dad:

Have some inside information thought might interest you. The kids at the Methodist Church are in need of some do-re-me for their treasury, so have thought up the idea of a Cafeteria Style Meal. The kids and their moms are really buzzing around getting all kinds of good food ready for the big night.

This letter is just to you, Dad, because I knew you would like to surprise Mom with a fun night out. I say fun night out, because there will be games (42 and others) and the nursery will be open with an experienced sitter to watch Junior while he plays. There will be musical entertainment provided by some of the more talented young people.

This is for just everybody, so why not ask Grandma Jones along, too. She has been wanting to see that we have in the basement kitchen of our church and this would be the perfect time to show her. So how about it, dad, sound like fun?

Your loving daughter,

PUDGE
P. S. Leave it to me to forget the most important thing. This is taking place Tuesday night, July 20. The feed will be served any time between 6 and 8:30.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Haskell at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday with burial in Willow Cemetery at Haskell.

Gen. Omar Bradley chats with two servicemen at his home in Beverly Hills, Cal., after accepting national campaign chairmanship of United Defense Fund which finances USO and other national agencies giving health and recreation services to those engaged in national defense. President Eisenhower, UDF's honorary chairman, wrote Gen. Bradley that "having moved from a fighting war to an armed peace, the nation has an even greater need for UDF services than was the case during a fighting war." UDF is financed through Community Chests or United Funds.

ADAPTING TO CHANGE

One of the distinguishing characteristics of American industry is its ability to adjust itself to changes of great magnitude.

As an example, some 50 years ago kerosene was the oil industry's principal product. Gasoline was nothing but a nuisance, and the main problem was to find ways to get rid of it as cheaply as possible. Then came the automobile. By 1910 there were about 500,000 motor vehicles in the country—by 1920 there were more than 9,000,000.

Today over 45,000,000 cars ply our streets and highways, all drinking gas. That once-useless product now flows out of the refineries at the rate of 100,000,000 gallons a day, and close to half of all the crude oil produced is converted into gasoline and lubricants.

The oil industry's success in producing this enormous flood of gas doesn't end the story. Quality, no less than quantity, is a big factor. The gasoline used 30 years ago would "knock" a modern car engine into the repair man's hands in a hurry. Thanks to research, modern gas makes cars run with near-perfection smoothness—and it delivers about 50 per cent more miles to the gallon in addition. And the cost of gas, taxes excluded, is about the same.

Wiser free enterprise, we get the best and the most for the money.

THE FOOD BUSINESS TODAY

The Wall Street Journal recently featured a news article on what is happening in the retail food business. It emphasizes facts that are of wide public interest.

Food sales have been soaring. A new record was established last year and further advance was recorded in the first quarter of this year. But profits are far from record levels, and are generally so small that if they didn't exist at all we would hardly notice the difference. According to the Journal, a sampling of 18 food chains of all sizes showed that 1953 profits amounted to only a fraction over one cent on each dollar of sales.

The paper also points out that the chain systems don't dominate the food business, and are not running the independents to the wall. Indeed, the proportion of the business accounted for by the groups has barely changed in two decades. Way back in 1933, the independents did 63 per cent and the chains 37 per cent. Last year the division was 64 per cent and 36 per cent, respectively.

What the current situation proves is that fair and open competition serves the best interests of all, including the consumer.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

HUMBOLDT, IOWA, REPUBLICAN: "We have, for many years, been opposed to the surrendering of county rights to the state, or of state rights to the federal government. Every such surrender of rights leads one step further to a socialistic form of government, wherein everything is controlled from one central point. This nation has progressed as it has because of the right of the people to make their own decision in all matters. Surrendering of those rights is a surrendering of liberty."

CHISHOLM, MINN., FREE PRESS: "Suppose a half dozen of us are seated around the walls of a very dark room. We are told that somewhere in the open middle space is a chair. Who would find it? Not those of us who sat still and philosophized about where chairs are placed in rooms. The fellow who would locate it is the one who'd get up, then walk and stumble around until he discovered it. Nobody ever found anything while sitting down."

WAKEFIELD, MASS., DAILY ITEM: "The Taft-Hartley law will remain as it is, for this year at least. The vote in Congress recently kept the law from being altered. . . . Despite the cries against it . . . when the chips are down it seems to be acting very much to the advantage of the laboring man."

HILLSBORO, ORE., ARGUS: "A sub-committee, following extensive hearings on the commercial-type activities of the federal government, urged that the federal government get out and keep out of competitive business operation. There is much merit in the suggestion because it is American free enterprise that has given this country and its people so much."

WEST POINT, MISS., DAILY TIMES LEADER: "For many years we have been demanding more from government—and now we are reaping the unsavory harvest. It was never intended that the government should support its citizens. In fact, it is our obligation to support the government."

SARANAC, MICH., ADVERTISER: "The hope of reward—profits—makes men take risks, spurs them to think, plan, work. The hope of profits has helped build our economic system of 4,000,000 business and industrial firms."

NEW HAVEN, MISSOURI, LEADER: "Because enough Americans saved their money and invested it in our factories, our economy and our jobs, our standard of living, our products, are what they are today."

QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE CHURCH

Who Built the Church?
Many are interested in the church about which we can read in the New Testament. They want to know first of all who built the church. The bible says, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." (Psa. 127:1.) And Paul speaks of "the house of God which is the church." (1 Tim. 3:14-15.) Hence, a n y church not built by the Lord was built in vain. The church acceptable to God is the one he has planted. "Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up." (Matt. 15:13.) The God of heaven was to set up the kingdom. (Dan. 2:44.) The man whose name is The Branch . . . even he shall build the temple of the Lord . . . and shall sit and rule upon his throne." etc. (Zech. 6:12-13.) According to this Christ was to build the church. Hence, he said, "I will build my church." (Matt. 16:18.)

How Many Churches Did Christ Build?
He said, "I will build my church. Singular in number. (Matt. 16:18.) He also said the gates of hell "shall not prevail against it." (singular in number.) Matt. 16:18. "All nations shall flow into it." (Isa. 2:2-3.) "Christ also loved the church and gave himself for it." (Eph. 5:23. This is singular in number also. Again, "Feed the church of God which he hath purchased with his own blood." (Acts 20:28.) So he loved only one church, and purchased only one church with his blood. Furthermore, the inspired apostle said, "There is one body" and "But one body." (Eph. 4:4; 1 Cor. 12:20; Rom. 12:4-5.) This body is the church. "And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the church, Which is his body." (Eph. 1:22-23. "And he is head of the body, the church." (Col. 1:18.)

What Is Its Foundation?
The church is built upon the "ROCK" the truth of Peter's confession that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. (Matt. 16:16-18.) It is built upon Christ. Paul says, "Other foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." (1 Cor. 3:11.) "Christ is the head corner stone." (Acts 4:11.)

Boyce House Gives You Texas

Have you ever attended an annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce at Snyder? This event is in a class by itself. C. T. McLaughlin, oil man-rancher-civic leader is the guiding spirit. At the recent one, over a thousand persons attended. Slim Willets and his orchestra played and Slim sang the hit parade song he composed. "Don't Let the Stars Get Into Your Eyes." Phil Regan, star of films, radio and TV, sang a half dozen songs and that Irishman really has a silvery voice. The principal address was delivered by 33-year-old Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, the nation's youngest governor, who is a brilliant speaker. Your columnist had the honor of introducing him.

I wonder what happened to Horace Greeley was the greatest editor of his day but he was not satisfied with that distinction; he had political ambitions and sought the nomination for governor of New York. He lost. Afterward, he said to Chauncey M. Depew, "I cannot understand why I should have wanted it; no man can name the last 10 governors."

And Depew said that General Grant (famed for his feuness of words) had a secret ambition: it was to be an orator!

A few miles from Corsicana, the traveler sees a little settlement: three or four service stations, three stores, a gin, a blacksmith shop and a dozen houses. This is Powell.

For a short time, back in the 1920's, "Powell" was the most exciting word in oil. Hundreds of wells were producing something like 200,000 barrels a day. Powell was the turning point in the history of one oil company which grew until it became the biggest producer of petroleum in the United States. There was rush

Record $38,500 Paid for Aberdeen Angus Heifer

CHESTER, N.J.—William G. Mennen (center) of Hideaway Farm, here, pats his new prize heifer, Barbarosa Essar 13—the world's most valuable beef female. Mr. Mennen, president of the famed men's toiletries and baby products firm, recently paid the record price of $38,500, with fellow New Jersey cattleman, Harold Wetterberg (at Mr. Mennen's left), for the heifer. The prize Aberdeen Angus cow is the granddaughter of Barbara of Rosemere 100, the 1933 International Grand Champion. Barbarosa Essar 13 was recently bred to Prince Sunbeam 249, the 1948 International Champion bull. The two gentlemen at left are from the M & L Ranch, Burnet, Texas, where the purchase was made.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikaró

Sometime ago I mentioned the fact that the Congress was considering expanding the present upstream flood control program. Most people in our part of the country are familiar with this program and know how important it is to proper soil and water conservation as well as flood control. A bill dealing with this passed the Senate with what appears to be crippling amendments. The Department of Agriculture has been almost put out of the picture entirely. Another blow to the bill requires that any dam of over 2,000 acre feet of water must be approved by Congress. In addition, any small watershed project will have to be approved by the appropriate State agency. A few states have such agencies, but the great majority of them would have to create a new department to give this approval. In other words, it looks like the bill in its present form would seriously handicap the good start that has already been made on this program. But all of those who have worked on this legislation for a long time and who are intensely interested in it still hope that something yet might be done to maintain the progress that has already been made to make it possible for the program to be expanded in the future.

During this session of Congress, the establishment of an Air Academy to train officers for the Air Force was authorized. Just recently a site for this Academy has been selected near Colorado Springs, Colorado. The Academy will be similar to West Point and Annapolis and will provide a four-year college course along with military training. The first school session at the Academy will begin next year. Like the other Academies, students at the Academy are nominated by members of Congress. Generally speaking, the physical and mental requirements are high to gain admission; however, if any one in the District is interested in making application to attend the new Air Force Academy, I would be glad to hear from them.

There has been a lot said in the last few days about the possibility of Red China gaining admission to the United Nations. It seems disgraceful to me if they should be successful in this, for it would be an admission on the part of the U. N. that a country could literally shoot its way into membership in the Organization. Just a short time ago, Red China actually was at war with the United States and the United Nations in Korea. It seems ridiculous to think that before the peace in that war has ever been written, that they could gain admission into the group that they were actually fighting.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prothro and children, Kay and Joe, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. White, all of Wichita Falls. I also enjoyed visiting with a group from Denton who were in Washington this week.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT ON LEGISLATORS BY TEXAS MANUFACTURERS ASS'N.

POSITION OF MEMBERS OF THE 53rd LEGISLATURE BY THE TEXAS MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION, is the issue selected by which the legislators were catalogued and "ranked". These gentlemen know how to pick their men and by selecting taxes, old age assistance, gas pipe line taxes, teachers pay raise, legislative resolutions and rule changes, they were able to definitely separate the sheep from the goats. They put their "brand of approval" on the legislators who had served them well, by giving them the big percentage. IF THE AVERAGE VOTERS ARE SMART, they will "mark these TMA henchmen for slaughter" in the 1954 primary election.

The above is an extract reprint from the "STATE OBSERVER" which is printed in Austin, Texas, in the November 2, 1953 issue.

This issue lists the names of 149 members of the House of Representatives, and how they voted. Some voted 100% for the people who elected them; some for the corporations. Our Representative, John Kimbrough, the record shows, voted 38 times for the Corporations, and 2 times for the people who elected him, a percentage of 95% for the Corporations. John Kimbrough voted consistently against Teachers pay raise.

STATEMENT BY E. J. (Ed) CLOUD

To the Constituency of the 83rd State Legislative District: The Fifty-fourth Texas Legislature will be confronted with some of the most important problems that have come before the State Legislature in many years. These measures or problems will be economic, industrial, highway improvements, conservation, educational and social which will effect we Texans for several generations. There is to be a period of readjustment. It is conceded by all thinking people that the various problems should be approached with sane, deliberate and careful considerations in which biases and prejudices should be eliminated as far as possible. It is, therefore, very essential that the different legislative posts be filled with men and women who are aware of the needs of Texas. These men and women should be Patriots who are willing to gladly devote their time and talents for the good of the public. It is necessary that the electors select as their representatives men and women who have had experience and who know the needs of the various districts as well as the needs of the State as a whole. It is necessary that the representatives be people of fair judgment, in all controversial subjects, the representatives should carefully consider all angles and avoid "snap" judgments. They should consider the needs of the various groups and state tax supported institutions; and at the same time, they should consider the source from which the revenue is to come. It should be held in mind that the power to tax is a means to promote, but at the same time it could be used as a power to destroy.

Personally, I may say that I have lived in the district fifty-four years with the exception of a time I was a Private in the U.

S. Army during World War I, and of the time I was teaching out of the district; but my legal residence was in the 83rd district. I was actively identified with local banking institutions for fourteen years, nine years of which I spent in an executive position. For the past eight years I served as mayor of Rule. I invite your investigation as to how the business affairs were conducted during that period.

For a number of years I have been actively engaged in farming. I should welcome any inquiry that you may wish to make relative to my ability to get along with people whether it be in the school room, in business, in church activities, in municipal affairs or with my associates in farming.

If you see fit to nominate me (which in our district is practically the equivalent to election) for the legislative post of the 83rd District, I pledge you fairness, consideration, honesty, alertness, industry and a Patriotic interest in the affairs of the district as well as of the State as a whole.

If you select me as your representative, I shall consider the office as being a public trust; I will give careful and courteous consideration to any problems or petitions that you may bring to me. I shall consider that the office belongs to you and that, I, as your elected representative should follow your known wishes and desires as far as it is possible to do.

Permit me to say that it has been a pleasure on my part to have met most of you personally, and I regret it has been impossible to have met all of you.

May I say furthermore, that when we are casting our votes on July 24th, let us all have in mind the best interests of the 83rd district and of Texas. Thank you for your consideration.

organic phosphate insecticide. Chances are the clerk will sell you a bottle or package without fuss or bother.

What's wrong with that? Just that organic phosphates happen to be among the most deadly of chemical compounds, for humans as well as insects.

Last year a Texas rancher accidentally killed 48 cows by spraying them with the potent insecticide. He wanted to kill other insect parasites, and didn't realize the chemical was highly toxic for all warm-blooded animals.

A six-year-old Oregon boy found a bottle of TEPP, one of the organic phosphate insecticides, in a field near his home. Workmen presumably had left it after spraying an orchard. The curious lad spilled a cupful on his pants and was dead in less than 24 hours.

Conscious of the same thing happening in Texas, State Health Officer Henry A. Holle would like to make it hard for part-time home gardeners to buy the compounds.

"Used as chemists intended, organic phosphates are a great help in fighting agricultural pests," says the health official. "Used indiscriminately without protective clothing, they're lethal."

Organic phosphates were developed in Germany after the last war. They are the chemists' answer to demands from agricultural men for a real bug killer to combat hordes of insects which do billions of dollars of damage to crops annually.

In the hands of professionals, trained in precautions to be taken in using them, chances of accidents are slight. But in recent years, bottles and packages have appeared on retail shelves for home gardening use. Since then, incidents of human poisoning have increased.

The three most important types are tetraethylpyrophosphate (TEPP), hexaethyleterophosphate (HEEP), and parathion. All are sold under various trade names.

Most manufacturers spell out in bold black or red letters the fact that the contents are highly hazardous for humans, and recommend wearing respirators, rubber gloves, coveralls, and a rubber cap or hat when using the sprays. But warning labels don't always help.

Dr. Holle thinks legislation regulating sale of organic phosphates for home use would help.

But without legislation, he says, it's up to users to read warning labels and believe what they read.

CASE HISTORY OF A DROUGHT COUNTY

Scorching hot weather and diminishing soil moisture in Central Texas may result in another drought disaster relief program for Texas this year.

Farmer groups in Central and Southern counties are petitioning state and federal authorities for aid. Many of them claim the situation is more critical than in 1953, although some sections have been benefited by recent rains.

A meeting between business men and farmers in Hamilton County recently give a typical picture of what many of our rural families are up against. Hamilton is a crop and livestock county in upper Central Texas. Its urban population amounts to only about 29 per cent, the rest is rural.

Rainfall in the last year varies from two to seven inches compared to a normal amount of about 31 inches. At the meeting, the men present expressed the opinion that conditions are worse now than they were at the same period last year. Some said it was worse than any time in history. Each person present gave examples of his own plight and urged quick action on some kind of relief program.

One farmer-businessman said he had 300 acres on which he was running 20 cows now. He is feeding from last year, even though, in the most severe winters, ordinary feeding procedure stops about April 1. His ground tanks are dry and he made only 10 to 12 bushels of oats on his farmland this year where a normal yield is 40 bushels.

A second farmer-rancher who is considered to have the best land in Hamilton County has been feeding all year. His grass is about one-fourth gone and he made only two bushels of barley per acre on 50 acres.

Another rancher with only 25 head of cattle now, said he needs to have feed but cannot afford to buy it. His pasture is half normal but he did make fifty bushels of oats on 12 acres.

The effect of drought on business was expressed by an insurance man. He said that for the first time in his memory, farmers were dropping their automobile, property and life insurance. He has been in Hamilton County 25 years.

Hamilton County is not an isolated example. It is no worse off than several other counties in the drought area, and probably no better than many of them.

What's New with Cows?

Catching up on my reading, I noticed three news items you might like to know about.

First, a farmer whose milk had a trace of garlic flavor is feeding his cows chlorophyll to sweeten their breaths.

Next, a college agricultural station has trained a herd to get milked when they are called by number. Seems 75 out of 80 cows learned their numbers in a few days. Guess the "dumb" five couldn't count that high. Final item—cows are getting "nose-printed" for identification.

From where I sit, I hope there is as much progress being made with humans... especially in regard to tolerance. Whether it's a choice of a political party, a basketball team, or a favorite beverage, let's learn to live and let live more. You may ask for a soft drink after a hard day's work—I'll choose a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not try to "cow" the other fellow into our way of thinking!

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—Mrs. Pauline Scaling Martin topped the feeder calf trade at Fort Worth Monday with a load of 503-pound steer calves that brought $20 per hundred. The calves were fancy quality and carried enough flesh to attract either feeder or packer bids.

It is likely that these calves, when finished, will again top the Fort Worth market since they were bought by Judge F. W. Fischer of Dallas, who operates the famous "push button" feedlot near Gainesville in Cook County. Judge Fischer makes a habit of topping the market with his choice fed cattle at regular intervals.

His feedlots are built and serviced by overhead conveyors for grain and feed in such a way that one man can feed nearly 2,000 cattle by doing very little more than pushing a few buttons. The feed travels mechanically from granary to grinder to feed troughs and there is hardly a stick of wood in the set-up, most of it being concrete and steel construction.

The judge said "I'm giving a good price here for some real good cattle." That is the kind he likes. He has bought feeders from the Reynolds Cattle Company for the past several years and he also raises some feeders on his own ranch.

COW PRICES ARE SHARPLY LOWERED

Canners and cutters drew weak to mostly 50 cents lower prices at Fort Worth Monday and fat cows sold around 50 cents to $1 or more lower. The decline completely wiped out last week's advances and some besides. Bulls ruled steady. Fat steers and yearlings were fully steady to strong when good and choice and plainer grassers were weaker.

Stockers and feeders were mostly steady, some spots higher and some lower in the uneven trade. A good many out-of-town and out-of-state buyers were on the yards and a good many of them were active in looking for stocker and feeder calves and yearlings. Slaughter calves were steady to weak, spots 25 to 50 cents off.

HOGS HOLD STEADY MONDAY TOP $24.50

Butcher hogs of good and choice kinds sold at $24.50 at Fort Worth Monday; steady with the previous close. The less attractive kinds sold from $22 to $24.25. Sows were steady to 50 cents above the previous week's close at $15 to $19.

Northern market centers reported prices more stable Monday day after the bad collapse of late last week when they hog prices dropped mostly $1 to $2 per hundred or more.

LAMBS STEADY TOP $21; YEARLINGS UP

Good and choice fat lambs topped at $17 to $21 at Fort Worth Monday, steady with the advances of the previous week. Yearling wethers were 50 cents to 75 cents higher, and sold from $10 to $12.75 when fat. Old ewes again were slow and weak, selling mainly from $4 to $4.50. Feeder and stocker lambs cashed at $12 to $15.

Wesleyan Service Guild Meets In Bardwell Home

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church met last Monday night in the home of Mrs. J. W. Bardwell.

Mrs. Erin McGraw was in charge of the program, with interesting topics on "Students in Today's World," being given by Mrs. Joe Bailey King, Mrs. H. R. Hicks and Mrs. E. R. Ponder. The president, Mrs. Weldon Smith, was in charge of the business meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mes. Levi Bowden, Joe Bailey King, J. C. Harpham, Erin McGraw, A. H. Mitchell, H. R. Hicks, O. H. Spann, E. R. Ponder, Doyle Ragle, Lee Haymes, John C. Spann, Aaron Edgar, P. W. Massey, J. H. Bardwell, C. P. Baker, Weldon Smith and Misses Ruth Baker and Florence Gaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Doris Wardlaw and children of Houston are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wardlaw, this week.

Miss Sharon Cannon of Phoenix, Ariz., spent the past week here with her grandmother, Mrs. G. M. Roden. Guests in the home over the week end were two other granddaughters, Misses Jeanette Roden of Seymour and Carla Booe of Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lee and children, Melissa and Jimmy, visited relatives in Wichita Falls over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morrow spent their vacation in Ruidoso, New Mexico, last week.

Stanley Watson of Sacramento, Calif., came in last week for a three weeks visit with his cousin, James David Galthier.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Spotz and family of Cleveland, Ohio, visited her brother, Earl Hughes, and family last Friday. They were enroute home from a vacation trip.

Approximately 70 cents of every Red Cross disaster relief dollar is spent for rehabilitation aid in the local community, and is given on the basis of need to victims who cannot finance their own rehabilitation without hardship.

Methodist WSCS Meets Monday For Social Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. J. C. Borden for the regular monthly business and social meeting. Mrs. Maude Merrell, program leader, gave an inspiring devotional. The program topic was "Women in the Rural Community." Those contributing interesting, and very educational subjects to the topic were Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle, Mrs. S. E. McStay and Mrs. E. W. Harrell.

Following the program and business meeting, a very lovely refreshment plate was served by the hostess, Mrs. J. C. Borden, and co-hostess, Mrs. J. C. Rice, to the following members: Mesdames J. H. MORE MONEY for SCHOOLS

During Governor Allan Shivers' administration more money has been spent for schools than ever before.

The result? — better schools, more and higher paid teachers, and better guidance for your children. Since Allan Shivers became our governor, school funds have increased from 145 million to 211 million dollars per year. Teachers get $1,000 a year more. Your child receives individual attention from 15,000 teachers.

This educational climb is your child's guarantee of a profitable and happy future. For you it means assurance about his growing-up years. It means a better Texas for everyone.

IN KNOX COUNTY

$331,501.06 was spent for your child's education during the last fiscal year. He got better teachers with higher salaries and an administration that had more educational aid.

The money went for other—but mighty important—things, too, like school buses and cafeterias with hot noontime lunches. It meant more vocational help for your child. It went for many things, all necessary for a better education for him.

Texas comes first with Allan Shivers

Wall Desk for Farmer
 AS A businessman, the farmer will find it convenient to keep some of his records, such as milk and egg production, right at the scene—in the barn or poultry house. The barn wall desk, as illustrated, is a convenient one, since it folds out of the way when not in use.

Use scrap lumber to form the framework of the two sections. For the top and bottom, use Masonite Preswood. Dividers may be the same material. A hook and eye keep the business portion of the desk fastened to the wall section when folded.
 A piece of 1/2" Preswood inserted between the two sections will provide a convenient writing surface and serve also to keep the contents of the lower half from spilling when the desk is in its used position.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Explains Why People Are Not Listening To The Candidates Like They Formerly Did

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek tries to explain the lack of interest in politics this week. Don't know whether he succeeds or not.

Dear editor:

Some of my neighbors and me were talking the other afternoon about politics, or I better put it the lack of politics.

Nobody, it seems has gotten very steamed up over politics this year and here the election is right on us. It used to be along about this time all you could hear was politics and when four or five people got together, a hot argument always developed, with maybe a little fist-fighting on the side. But nowadays not only can you fail to get up any arguments, you can't even get out a crowd at a political speakin, and the few that do turn up just sit there ain't nothin more discour-out much show of response, and their ain't nothin more discour-agin than a candidate fillin his arms and meltin down his collar, with nobody listenin.

My neighbors were offering all kinds of explanations for this lukewarm interest in politics, one of em said it wa the fault of the voters, they just was fallin down on their job of makin democracy work; another said it was the fault of radio and hel-evision, they offered too much competition.

I do not gree with any of these. The fault lies mostly with the candidates, and it's not that the candidates aren't as good as they ever was it's just that they have used up all the adjectives against each other. There ain't nothin original left to call an oppon-ent.

Time was, when, if a candidate promised to take the skin off his opponent, a big crowd would turn out to hear him pour it on, and some really colorful speakin resulted, but after a few years of it, after candidates have called each other about all there is to call a man, the novelty wears off. When candidates have succeeded in describing each other down to a certain point, there ain't nothin left to say, there ain't no more skin left to take off, and consequently people lose interest.

Where the candidates made their mistake years ago was in bein too generous in the use of adjectives. If everybody calls everybody a loose-jointed liar and a horse thief, there just ain't no shock vaule left, and voters switch on "I Love Lucy." They should have rationed em, usin up just a few words each year, so the supply would have lasted at least through the 20th century. But here the century is only a little past half gone and they're at the botton of the barrel. Seems like a great lack of foresight, to me. When is the election this year anyway?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson were Misses June and Joan Hutchinson and Misses Paula and Sue Hediger of Lawton, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Ratliff and son, Tommy, of Dallas visited relatives and friends here the latter part of last week.

NEWEST HEAVYWEIGHT SLUGGER

Shown publicly for the first time at the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant, here is the long-secret T-43, newest, heaviest, and most powerfully armed of Uncle Sam's land battleships. The armored giant was designed by engineers of Army Ordnance and Chrysler Corporation and has been in production at the Delaware plant for the past three years, although many of its details are still classified. For its Sunday punch, the T-43 mounts a 120mm cannon, plus .50 caliber and .30 caliber machine guns. Hull and turret are each cast from a single piece, with contours sloped to deflect enemy fire. The biggest tank ever put into production by the United States, the T-43 is claimed to be more than a match for any tank that could be put in the field against it.

level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop—apparently somewhere from 90 to 75 percent of parity—will be available for those who comply with their wheat and other acreage allotments. If less than two-thirds favor quotas, price support will be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments. No price support is available for those who fail to comply with acreage allotments, with or without the marketing quotas.

In answer to another frequently-asked question, Chairman Jones states briefly how the farm allotment is determined. First the national acreage allotment is apportioned among the counties, according to the acreage seeded to wheat during the latest 10-year period, adjusted for weather trends and other factors. This year the national acreage allotment is 55 million acres, the level specified by law under present supply conditions. Allotments are determined for farms according to past wheat acreage, tillage acres on each farm, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. Farmers in doubt about their eligibility to vote in the referendum, or any program question, should see their county ASC office.
