Odds Bits Salvaged
at Random

That "scattered shower" we had prospects of getting Monday afternoon scattered before it got to us.

Had enough that morning to kinda wet the pavement, but most cotton hands remained in the fields.

But the afternoon shower veered to the east, and all we had here was a look at some pretty clouds in that direction.

There's a great gaping hole that makes a conspicuous view from the front of our office.

It's the hole that was made when E. B. Littlefield and his crew moved a portion of their lumber sheds. It's part of their improvement program that will be going on for several weeks longer.

Soon construction will begin on the new station that's to be placed where the lumber yard's office now stands.

We were one of the 190,000 people at the State Fair last Saturday, and part of the over 76,000 that crowded the Cotton Bowl for the football game.

Being in Big D at the time of this annual Texas-O. U. game is a highlight for a country boy. College students, and others, too, kinda let down their hair and take over the town on the night before their game.

Plenty of people ambled around the Cotton Bowl wanting tickets to this game. Many of them didn't get them.

But thanks to the Fair management and the Cotton Bowl Association we weren't one of this number.

There's lots to see at Big D—especially at Fair time.

We didn't see all of it by any means. One could spend two or three days there and then not see all of the exhibits, shows and entertainments.

But we were so whipped to a nub by 11 o'clock Saturday night we didn't care much about seeing any more.

We've been in bigger crowds. One year about 212,000 helped push us around on opening day. But we doubt if we've ever seen so many boxes where fried chicken had been, or kicked so many coke bottles and beer cans as we did Saturday.

At the game, we saw the goal posts torn down and carried off before the game ended. And Texas was passing frantically in an effort to tie up the score.

We wondered what would have happened in Texas had made another touchdown. But Frank X. Tolbert, who is now writing the "Big D" column in Dallas News, said Monday that the grounds superintendent was ready—that people would have waited about thirty seconds for his crew to set up new posts.

Oklahoma must be short of lumber. W. Ernest Sneed, grounds superintendent, estimated that several truck loads of fir timbers have been used for the Texas-O. U. games—and all torn down and carried off to Oklahoma, according to Tolbert.

Tolbert is a new name for us. We kinda got used to Paul Crume writing that Big D column. But Paul was called into the navy, and we guess the chore fell to Tolbert.

We heard Paul talk on column writing at two press meetings. One was at Fort Worth, the other at Midland. One of his statements we'll always remember:

"It's easy to write a column," he said. "The boss just told me to write a column, and I started writing it."

It's not so easy when you're your own boss. Sometimes we wonder why we started writing one of our own volition.

Perhaps you wonder why we can't quit, but what else could we fill this blamed column with?

Enumerators Needed For Agricultural Census In County; To Train In School

James Peacock of Vernon, who is in charge of the agricultural census for Knox, Baylor, and Wilbarger counties, was here last Tuesday to make preparations for the census in Knox County.

He stated that five enumerators are needed to help with the Knox County census. These will be for the communities of Munday, Knox City, Goree, Benjamin and Vera and surrounding areas.

Peacock stated the enumerators will be paid on the piece unit basis, and should be able to make from 8 to $10 per day. The job should last from three to four weeks in the county, he stated.

A short training school to acquaint enumerators with details of the work will begin on Tuesday, October 26, he said.

Applicants for enumerators' jobs are requested to report at the American Legion hall in Knox City at 2 p. m. Friday, October 15.

STATE 4-H DRESS REVIEW TO BE HELD AT STATE FAIR OCTOBER 16th

Texas State Dress Review will be held October 16 in the State Fair Auditorium from 11 a. m. to 12 noon. A talented seamstress who wears well the clothes she makes will be announced winner at the close of the review.

Modeling their dresses will be 58 top representatives selected from district reviews. In the preliminaries, 158 counties held reviews.

Judging will be based on construction of the garment, how well the girl wears the dress, whether the dress is becoming, how well the dress fits, and posture and poise add to the score. Since the 4-H clothing program covers all these fields, more than just sewing skill is necessary for the winner.

Girls competing are between 14 and 21 years of age, and have at least three years of club work.

Mrs. L. C. Sweatt left last Friday for a visit with her son, Hays Sweatt, and family and to take care of Mrs. Sweatt, who underwent a tonsilectomy recently.

Notes For Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

For quite some time I have been interested in trying to work out some way so that cotton burrs in Knox County could be put back on the soil. I have talked to a number of farmers and gin managers about this and I believe if enough people are interested this can be done.

As you know we are under a quarantine because of the pink bollworm and burrs cannot be removed from the gins unless they are treated to kill the worms, this can be done by hammermilling, double fans and composting at the gins.

Almost all of the soil in Knox County is low in organic matter and the burrs that we see going up in smoke each fall is a very good source of this material. Besides the organic value a ton of burrs contain 20 pounds more nitrogen than barnyard manure, only 1.9 pounds less phosphate and 93 lbs. more potash. A bale of cotton will yield about 500 pounds of gin trash, this would mean about 11,500 tons of this organic material was burned in Knox County last year.

I have just received a report on some of the work that is being done in other places, which I think will be of interest to you.

Most of the gins in the burr programs use either a hammermill or a double fan to process the burrs. They use a truck or trailers to haul the burrs and spread them on the farmer's field. They charge the farmer $1.50 to $3.00 per ton for this service. This way the farmer does not have to handle the burrs while he is busy getting his crop out and the small charge made by the gin will pay for the equipment and the handling of the burrs.

The Lubbock Experiment Station had an increase of 43 pounds of lint cotton per acre over the check plots using 2 tons of burrs per acre.

The Paymaaster cotton breeding farm in Floyd County reported that land receiving 8 tons of burrs per acre yielded 1 1/2 srlnhnyv totantWouog g g gl bales per acre on checks not receiving burrs.

At the Spur Experiment Station cotton burrs increased water penetration from rainfall two to three times greater than where no burrs were applied.

The S. C. S. measured water penetration on sloping land in Lubbock County, after a 2 1/2 inch rain. Water penetration was 12 to 18 inches, but where no burrs were applied was only 6 to 9 inches.

The Oklahoma Experiment Station reports a 24 year test using cotton burrs. The results show that: Three tons of burrs played under every third year increased average annual production of seed cotton 149 pounds per acre or 1/5. Average value of the increased production was $9.82 per acre per year.

Decker Named Winner In 4-H Gilt Show Here

A gilt belonging to Clarence Decker, member of the Rhineland 4-H Club, was selected as champion by Judge Mark Geesling, county agent of Kent County, in the annual Searg gilt show held here last Saturday.

Mr. Geesling stated that he had helped with four gilt shows this fall and that Knox County's boys had the best group of gills he had seen.

According to W. J. Bryan, county agent, other winners in the show are as follows:

Second, S. E. Parks of Knox City; third, Dickie J. Butler of Hefner; fourth, Gerard Kuehler of Rhineland; fifth, Phillip McAfee of Sunset; sixth, Jerry W. Meers of Munday, and seventh, Jimmy J. Jetton of Goree.

Bryan said that he was pleased with the job the boys had done in developing gills and that he expects them to produce some outstanding litters of pigs this spring. All of the gills are registered Durocs.

Decker's gilt and a boar pig for the county program belonging to Vincent Loran of Rhineland will be shown in the district show at Wichita Falls on Saturday, October 23. They will compete with other county champions in the Wichita Falls area.

Fullback Tidwell scored twice, and Quarterback Amerson also accounted for two. The fifth counter was made by William Allred after Whitworth intercepted a Bulldog pass and made tracks for 75 yards before he was downed on the four-yard line.

SAVING THE LAND

People who fly over the United States can learn a lot about good and bad farming. That is the theme of a brief article by Elmer Peterson which appears on the editorial page of the Saturday Evening Post of September 18th.

Looking down you can see two very different landscape features. One looks like a tree with many branches. In rainy seasons these features become watercourses which create gullies, carry away good soil, and increase flood hazards. They are the result of excessive pasturing and other destructive farming practices.

The other feature, Mr. Peterson writes, "is made up of a series of strips which are almost invariably curved, producing a crazy-quilt pattern of billowy lines and wavy panels. This is . . . 'farming on the contour,' and the pattern usually is made up of terraces, strips of contrasting vegetation and other devices . . . It is the soil conservationist's system for stopping water where it falls . . . so that it doesn't start gullies and produce floods."

This kind of farming, obviously, makes for successful and profitable operations today—and in addition, save our priceless croplands for future generations. Every farmer can practice it—modern farm equipment has made possible soil conservation just as it has made possible more efficient production. The machine, in other words, can be the savior of the land.

WE CAN'T BUY PROSPERITY

In an editorial on the federal budget question, the Wall Street Journal observes that government can't buy prosperity, and adds: "All the government can buy with its manufactured credit money is an inflationary spree like the one we just recovered from."

We should be frequently reminded of that fact. During the inflationary spiral, the great majority of us confused symptoms with causes. We blamed business, labor, and everything but the principal cause of inflation—which is reckless spending and ever-increasing deficits with no real attempt to effect a cure.

If inflation comes again, it will come from the same cause.

Experience, as it relates to farm and home accidents, is an expensive teacher. The cost of an arm, leg or life itself is a high price to pay for a lesson in safety and can never be justified by the returns.

BUILDING A COMMUNITY

The men who run retail stores are always community builders and all-around good citizens. The reason for this can be found in the constructive business attitude which is an integral part of successful retail management. J. C. Penney, one of the country's leading merchants and head of the great chain store system which bears his name, recently made some remarks which illustrate this attitude. Cut-throat competition is out of date and has been for 50 years, he says. "If a man does a good job his competitor needn't worry him. A merchant who approaches business with the idea of serving the public well has nothing to fear from competition, however much of it there may be. In business as elsewhere we are our own pacemakers . . . .

"There is no better friend to any merchant than a fair competitor . . . who profits most because he serves best. It is in service that the real competition occurs.

"Always remember that you are building not just a business but a community."

With this kind of thinking being voiced by leaders in retailing, it's no wonder that local merchants generally are good people to have around. And it provides the best kind of guarantee that the consumer is going to get the utmost in courtesy, service, convenience and quality at the lowest possible price.

GETTING GOVERNMENT OUT OF BUSINESS

Everyone who believes in free enterprise should be cheered by a statement Secretary of Commerce Weeks made the other day. "We're trying to get government out business, every possible way. We have quite a number of industry councils, and one of the things we keep asking these businessmen is this: 'Where is government competing with you?' Then, when we get an answer, we try to do something about it."

This is the kind of policy that will keep this country strong, free and secure.

Last year, Red Cross workers at military posts and hospitals helped 109,000 servicemen each month, and $8,044,000 in financial assistance was provided during the year.

Cotton insects last year destroyed more than $62 million worth of lint and cottonseed in Texas. The total for the nation was approximately $216 million.

IS RELIGIOUS DIVISION SINFUL?

The church in the New Testament which Christ promised to build, and did build, is very important. It is designed in the New Testament as "My church." (Matt. 16:18.) "The church." (Acts 2:47.) "Church of God." Acts 20:28. 1 Cor. 15:9.) Is some time referred to as "The body." (Col. 1:18.) or "The kingdom of his dear Son." (Col. 1:13.) In a general sense it is spoken of as "The churches of Christ." (Rom. 16:16.) It is a divine, spiritual institution. With Christ as its founder, head, king, saviour, and its foundation. (Matt. 16:18; Col. 1:18; Col. 1:13; Eph. 5:23; Matt. 21:42; Acts 4:11-12, Eph. 2:20.) It is blood bought. (Acts 20:28.) The church is one in every sense of the word. Every term or figure used by inspired writers to designate it represented it as being one. It is composed of baptized penitent believers. (Mk. 16:14-16; Acts 2:38.)

IS DIVISION UNSCRIP-TURAL OR SINFUL?

Christ prayed for unity. (Jno. 17:20-21.) Paul said,

"That there should be no schism (division) in the body." (1 Cor. 12:25.) "Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause division and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly. (Rom. 16:17-18.) The inspired apostle frowned upon division. From this we learn, that who cause division contrary to the doctrine of Christ, are to be marked and avoided. This being so, division is unscriptural and sinful.

Religious division is sinful, and unchristian because the Holy Spirit calls it carnality. (1 Cor. 3:1-7.) Paul said, because of their party names they were carnal. (1 Cor. 3:4.) The same inspired apostle said, "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: For it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." (Rom. 8:6-7.) Read also, 1 Cor. 1:10-13.)

MUNDAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

BOX 211 — Phone 6151
 PAYNE HATTOX, Evangelist

This is the story of a historic bell. Harry Putnam of the Cuero Record is the authority.

The bell originally was used on the steamer Reliance to sound the hours and to herald the approach of the little vessel into the harbor. It was in the summer of 1865 that the Reliance glided into the port of Indianola, then a thriving city on the Gulf Coast of Texas. That night, fire broke out aboard the ship and it was destroyed, the bell going down with the charred hull.

Lutherans of Indianola obtained permission from the ship's owners to try to salvage the bell which was done, and it was placed in the steeple of the Lutheran Church.

In 1864, three Union gunboats bombarded Indianola and captured the city. Supplies were seized and soldiers climbed into the belfry and tossed the bell to the ground. Then it was carried to the beach to be shipped north to be made into bullets. But that night, members of the congregation, after obtaining permission from their pastor, slipped down to the beach, loaded the bell on a wheelbarrow, pushed it to a wagon and, after a journey, buried the bell under the sand.

A terrible storm swept down on Indianola in 1886, and the survivors decided to move inland and Indianola was abandoned. Many went to Cuero and, when the Lutheran congregation built a church and there was not enough money to buy a bell, George Wasserman told of helping to bury the bell 25 years before and offered to act as guide in its recovery. He led a party to the spot and the bell was dug up and found to be only slightly tarnished.

It was placed in the steeple of St. Mark's Church where it remained until 1894 when a member presented the church with a larger bell and then the old one was used by the Cuero volunteer fire department. But new equipment was installed in 1913 and the bell was consigned to the scrap-heap.

Here it was discovered some years later by Joe Pannen, a member of the congregation. At his suggestion, it was returned to the church and the old bell now hangs in the steeple of a handsome edifice—St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rayburn of Wichita Falls were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Raybourn.

Farmers Home Administration Leading Operations Reach An All-Time High

Farmers Home Administration lending operations reached an all-time high in fiscal 1954, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today.

Loans made and insured by the agency totaled $292,452,800, an increase of about 28 per cent over the $228,701,000 advanced in fiscal 1953, the year ending June 30, 1953. The 1953 total had been the largest amount loaned in any one year by the Farmers Home Administration or its predecessor agencies.

Approximately 131,000 farm families received loans from the agency during fiscal 1954 compared to about 108,000 in fiscal 1953. Including farmers who already had loans, some 243,000 families worked their farms during 1954 with Farmers Home Administration credit.

About two-thirds of the money advanced during 1954 was used by the small farmers to improve their farms and farming operations. About one-third of the funds loaned were used by cattlemen and other farmers who had been hard hit by the drought and needed emergency credit to continue their operations. No loans of any type were made to farmers whose credit needs could be met by banks or other lenders.

Loans to help small farmers buy equipment, fertilizer, seed and pay other costs of improving their farm and home operations totaled $147,354,700. Loans totaling $35,606,600 were advanced from appropriated funds to help small farmers buy, enlarge, or improve their farms and farm buildings during the year. Another $9,530,800 in real estate credits was advanced for similar purposes by private lenders and insured through the insured mortgage program.

Farm water facilities and irrigation system loans, limited until the end of the 1954 fiscal year to the 17 western states but soon to be available throughout the country, totaled $6,600,000. In the future, this program will include loans for both water and soil conservation purposes.

The $93,460,700 advanced to meet emergency needs and permit farmers to continue normal operations included $35,165,000 in special livestock loans, a program that was established in July, 1953.

OIL IS AT YOUR SERVICE

The products of the petroleum industry are literally everywhere. Every hour of the day, oil or natural gas serves you and virtually every other American. Oil is indispensable to our way of life; it makes the United States a better, safer country to live in.

You may wake in the morning in a room warmed by a furnace burning fuel oil or natural gas.

You drive to work, and your car burns gasoline, uses petroleum oils and greases for lubricants, rolls on tires of synthetic rubber which had their beginning in an oil refinery.

The plant where you work may depend on oil or natural gas as the source of its power. The oil and gas industry supplies 65% of the nation's energy requirements.

Meanwhile, if you live in Texas, your children are attending schools to the support of which the oil industry pays heavy production and ad valorem taxes. And your U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force plan the national defense with confidence that the oil industry has developed the proven reserves that can fuel their machines of war. Oil also supplies munitions — TNT for instance.

Finally, the lady of the house may prepare dinner on a stove fueled with natural gas, and you may go to bed in pajamas laundered with a petroleum detergent, after reading a newspaper printed with ink made from oil, in a room decorated with a paint manufactured from petroleum.

... And that's only a beginning.

The products of the petroleum industry, oil and natural gas, head the list of our most useful resources. A progressive, competitive oil industry, encouraged in the future as in the past, will undertake the further development that will keep them there.

AGRICULTURAL CENSUS BEGINS THIS MONTH

When a stranger walks up to your farm this month, act kindly, sir, he may be a census taker.

The Bureau of the Census this month begins its 1954 Census of Agriculture and each Texas farmer will answer about 100 questions regarding their land, crops, live stock, farming methods, expenses, labor and equipment.

Robert W. Burgess, bureau director, reports it will require 30,000 enumerators to check the more than 5,000,000 farms and ranches in the United States. And it will all be done during October and November.

After the enumeration is complete, the Bureau will total the figures and release them. It keeps individual farm's and farmer's secrets by releasing only totals for a county or larger areas.

The census taking commenced October 4 in the High Plains counties and in the citrus belt of extreme south Texas. Enumerators will begin asking questions on the Edwards Plateau October 18 and on the Rio Grande Plains October 25. The canvass of east, central and far west Texas farms will start November 3.

The 1954 census will collect information from every farmer in the United States, make it available as totals to the public—and keep secrets of individual farms and farmers at the same time," Burgess says. Since 1920, an agricultural census has been taken every five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Floyd and sons of Wichita Falls were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown and daughters spent Sunday with their parents in Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hill visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nichols and children in Tatum, N. M., several days this week.

ELIMINATE ANIMAL LOSSES

The number of chicks and pullets, calves and heifers, pigs and shoats, sheep and lambs that the average Texas farmer loses annually costs him the price of a new car.

In addition to these death losses, there is a staggering waste of feed and labor involved. Because of diseased or inadequately fed livestock, thousands of eggs are never laid and tons of meat and milk is never produced.

Proper feeding and management are the most important factors in producing for a profit. Most Texas farmers realize we are just not getting out of poultry and livestock what is bred into them. Yet, many other farmers are content to be just average in their results.

Here is a graphic example of waste in hog breeding:

The average hog raiser breeds 12 sows. Only 11 farrow and of the 100 pigs farrowed, the farmer markets only 56, mostly because of premature deaths.

On a two litter a year system, each sow is marketing only 11 pigs a year at this rate. Actually, a hog raiser should expect to market 17-18 pigs per sow, weighing 200-225 when 5 1/2 months old.

Similar losses occur in poultry and livestock. About 1 out of every 5 calves dropped, dies before it is six months old. Some 10 per cent of the chicks and 15 per cent of the poulters will not live for 56 days.

Eliminating loss is a key to badly needed profits. The farmer in Texas has been hard-hit by drought and insects for four years. He cannot afford to suffer unnecessary livestock deaths in addition.

The knowledge and practice of good feeding and management programs will help reduce these deaths. High production per hen, per cow and per sow is no longer a goal in Texas—it is a necessity if you intend to make money farming.

Miss Jamie Haynie and Miss Peggy Armstrong were week end guests of Miss Sue Clark in Dallas.

Mrs. J. D. Crockett visited her daughter and family in Forth Worth several days during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Thornton of Amarillo visited friends here last Saturday.

STOCKER DEMAND HOLDS CATTLE TRADE INTEREST
FORT WORTH—Stocker and feeder buyers again set the pace in the cattle trade Monday at Fort Worth as they apparently had many firm orders in hand and calves and cattle began moving to the scales, soon after the siren's wail signalled the start of trading at 8:00 o'clock. Most of the slaughter buyers indicated they had orders to trim away part of the $1 to $2 per hundred advances of the previous week, but accomplished little along this line. Again it was obvious that packers needed some numbers, too, and soon the trade was in full swing with prices averaging steady with the close of the previous week.

Numerous sales that reflected the full advance in the market were chalked up. Kennedy Farms, Williamson County, marketed a load of 428-lb. calves at $20.25; O. L. Matlock, Archer County, had a package of 504-lb. calves at $19 and some 728-lb yearlings at $18. W. C. Porter, Nacogdoches County, had two loads of calves with heifers at $14 and steers at $15.50, that weighed near 380 lbs. E. R. Priedaux, Archer County, had a load of 439-lb. calves at $19.75 and J. L. Priedaux, Archer County, had some $17 calves at 470 lbs. Spring Creek Ranch, Kent County, sold a load of steer calves at 472 lbs. at $19.75 and a load of 348 lb. heifers at $15. Seven J. Stock Farm, Houston County, had a load of calves at 395 lbs. at $18.25; Ray Scott, Jack County, sold some heifer calves at 452 lbs. at $19. Tom Knowles, Leon County, had some around 300 lb. calves at $14.50. C. P. Davis, Point, had 10 calves at 451 lbs. at $18.50. Loy Van Wrinkle, Clay County, had a load of 458-lb. yearlings at $18.50; D. W. Strain, Parker County, had some 431 lb. calves at $18.

Cow sales included young cows from Sam Klutts, Hill County, at 1045 lbs. at $15; E. B. Smith, Dallas County, had a load of cows which included seven head at 1,131 lbs. at $12, and five head at 921 lbs. at $9. Scaling & Company, Tarrant County, had a load of cleanup cows at $8, $9.25 and $11.25. C. J. Shumake Farm, Wichita County, sold some 1,242 cows at $12, some at 1,167 lbs. at $11 and odds at $8 to $10. John Baird of Red River County had some 771 lb. cows at $11.

HOG PRICES RECOVER
 Top hogs scored $19.50 to $20 at Fort Worth Monday, a gain of around 50 cents a hundred over the low close of the previous week. Hogs closed last week at $19.50 and down, equalling the lowest point of the year. Forest Pohler, Runnels County, had a top load that scaled 212 pounds at $20, and C. H. Buckles, Louisiana, had a load of butchers weighing 172 lbs. at $19.50.

The arrivals of hogs reported by the major markets Monday were about 10,000 head of the same date a year ago, and about level with the previous week despite heavy rains and some floods in the Midwest.

The big Spring pig crop is apparently moving into markets in the Midwest in larger and larger numbers as the season progresses.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants To Know Just What Comic Books Some Of The Big Moguls Of History Read

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek gets around to discussing the comics this week, but we're not sure what point he makes.

Dear editor:

I have been listenin to the discussions and readin about em, these discussions on comic books, and while I'm not an authority on this type of literature as very few of em turn up out here and the newspapers I get hold of arrive too irregularly for a man to keep up with the comics and there ain't nothin more puzzlin than to come in late on a comic series and find somebody bleedin to death and not be able to figure out what's funny about it, but I have been goin over the situation in my mind and have come to the conclusion that if comic books have the power to make delinquents out people, somebody sure ought to investigate the comics the present generation read when it was young.

Anybody could draw a comic book that'd result in the kind of war-like world we got on our hands now must have been the champion delinquent-maker of all time.

Goin further back, I don't know who drew the comic books Julius Caesar read, but he must have been awful.

Comin further up, who drew Hitler's funnies? Stalin's? By the way, them Chinese funnies must have been pretty devastatin too.

Gettin out on another plane, who drew the comic books all these housing authority officials read when they was young? I don't want to name any names, but occasionally a Congressman turns up givin evidence a few comic books must have slipped through to him when he was growin up, and nearly every state legislature in the country produces a few characters who obviously got hold of some comic books when they was in the formative stage.

When you stop to think about it, this world from the start of history certainly would have been a different and more peaceful place if the comic book manufacturers hadn't been at work.

Understand, speakin seriously, I'm not in favor of feedin children on a diet of horror comics, but while we're keepin them out of touch with the comics, we'd better shut em off from the daily news, too, because it's frequently full of horror also. In fact, maybe most children would come out a lot better if they didn't have to come in contact with adults at all.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mrs. Dale Williams and children of Plainview were week end guests of her mother, Mrs. Lucille Stodghill. Her husband visited on Sunday and she and the children returned home with him.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"In the last forty years great strides have been made in applied and preventive medicine. Never have mass controls for the prevention of disease and medical and surgical treatment for illnesses been so highly developed as today. Unfortunately, however, the significance of this forward movement is not yet generally appreciated by the average individual. Though science, by way of the family physician, stands ready to preserve individual health, personal indifference, self-diagnosis and self-treatment represent barriers to the helpfulness available in the doctor's office," states Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

"Unfortunately, the vast majority of people still consider their doctor merely an emergency aid. So long as they are well or are not conscious of any physical impairment, they imagine a physician's services are not required. Moreover, there are many who, even though ill, permit themselves or their friends to diagnose the trouble and prescribe some bottled or tablet medicine for the supposed condition. For this group interest in the family doctor only becomes acute when the self-prescribed remedies fail to cope with the situation. It can be frankly said that thousands upon thousands of men and women become desperately ill or lose their lives because of the misconception of the doctor's limitations or because of an unjustified self-reliance to meet sickness conditions themselves.

"The family physician cannot fulfill his whole duty to the public until his dual function is appreciated and the services for which he is so eminently qualified to perform are promptly applied. It must be understood that personal health is just that. It cannot be entirely delegated to public health doctors, sanitary engineers and research laboratory workers. And personal health means first, the prevention of disease or its early discovery; and second, the cure of an existing illness.

"Until the physician is considered as a conservator of personal health as well as an agent to combat disease, many of the discoveries and advanced knowledge in medical science will fall pathetically to render full and due service.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fetsch accompanied by her sister, Mrs. F. E. Seale of Lamesa, visited relatives in Muenster last week.

SUN, SAND, SURF!

Sun, sand, and surf are uppermost in this young lady's thoughts. She is dressed for the seashore in an eye-catching swimsuit of Wrinkled plaid cotton by Dan River. The snugly draped bodice and long moulded torso are figure flattering. The shoulder straps remove for even tanning. Cotton swim suits are more popular this summer than ever before, the National Cotton Council reports.
