He really pioneered Hardeman County.

As a young man, he sorta "fell out" with the job of growing cotton. So he decided to "go west" where the plant didn't grow.

He went to Hardeman County, where there wasn't much of Quannah, and the area surrounding was wide expanses of prairie.

There he decided to cast his lot. He found a section of land that was to his liking and was open for homestead, and filed his claim.

That was in 1882. When his claim was proved, after having lived on it for a year, he went back to Fannin County to claim his bride.

They were married and came back to Quannah to start their new life together on the new virgin soil that had become their own. There in a half-dugout they began working and planning their future.

The rough and rugged days of the new West were days that lived in his memory as long as memory remained with him. They were happy days, as well as trying ones; as they reared their family, went on horseback to visit their nearest neighbor several miles away, crossed the swollen Pease River after heavy rain, swimming their horses and holding children in their arms.

He knew the ranchers and ranches by memory, not as they appear now with paved highways running alongside of them, but from the cow trails and ranch roads which marked the countryside.

He was always a man who believed in "tending to his own business" and letting the other fellow look after his. He always felt if he looked after his own properly he didn't have time to "poke" into the other fellow's.

As such a character, he was known, loved and admired by everyone of the pioneer country. His stock raising activities were well known over the area.

He left Hardeman County over 30 years ago, but he often returned and renewed old times with his pioneer friends of former days.

After the passing of his companion in 1945, his life became a lonely existence which was increased by his increasing ill health and inactivity.

But he never complained about his lot—his was a nature to be admired by those of us who often get "down in the dumps" about our misfortunes. Even as a "shut-in", he could gaze out the window and admire the few beauties of Mother Nature that were in his limited surroundings.

As the years passed and the world made progress, his attention could be attracted more quickly by a pretty horse than by a dozen airplanes.

Not because he was our wife's daddy and our father-in-law, but because of his very nature, W. J. Bridge was the type of man who was the root and fiber of early Western civilization.

For two days more than 92½ years he lived; then at 12:05 p. m. Tuesday life left his frail body. We buried him Wednesday at his beloved Quannah, a short distance from where he first set foot on West Texas soil.

But his life will continue to bless his children, his children's children, and scores of other people who knew him as a great and good man.

Agents attending the HD Encampment at Lueders, July 23 and 24, were Miss C. C. Kinsey, Roby, Fisher County; Miss Jimmie Wainwright, Anson, Jones County; and Mrs. Georgia Fae Perkins, Benjamin, Knox County.

"Spiritual Life Crusade" To Begin At Methodist Church On August 12th

Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church, announced this week that his congregation will begin a "Spiritual Life Crusade" on Wednesday, August 12, which will continue through Sunday, August 23, with services each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 8 o'clock.

He has secured the services of Dr. Frank L. Turner, widely known general evangelist of Fort Worth, who will bring the messages and direct the personal evangelistic effort. He will also have Rev. Frank L. Turner, Jr., of Wortham, who will lead the congregational singing and have charge of the youth work.

Dr. Turner was for 15 years a pastor in Central Texas, where he held some of the leading appointments in that conference. In 1938, he was elected president of McMurry College, which position he held for four years. During his administration the school was entirely freed of indebtedness and more than $50,000 worth of assets added to the institution. Under his leadership the college enjoyed unusual progress, both financially and academically.

In 1942, he resigned his position with McMurry to enter the field of evangelism and was appointed general evangelist at the ensuing conference. Since that time, he has conducted 176 campaigns in nine states and 14 annual conferences. These crusades have resulted in well over 2,500 conversions and additions to the church, while other thousands have reconsecrated their lives to Christ at the altar of the church. Everywhere he has labored, there has been a distinct spiritual uplift.

Rev. Frank L. Turner, Jr., was graduated from McMurry in 1943 and entered the ministry in 1944. He has held pastorates in the Central Texas Conference since that time. Under his leadership, the Hillcrest Church in Waco was built and is making fine progress.

For two and one half years, he was director of Wesley Foundation at Tarleton State College, and while there he built and paid for a youth center for religious and recreational activities. His work with college students at Tarleton was outstanding. He is now pastor of the First Methodist Church in Wortham.

New Period For Vehicle Inspections Begins September 15

AUSTIN—The new period, during which Texas motorists will be required to have their auto inspected under the new modified Motor Vehicle Inspection law which was enacted by the recent 53rd Legislature, has been unofficially set for September 15, 1953, through April 15, 1954. It was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Garrison said that the State Public Safety Commission has advised him that they will conform the designation of the new period on August 26, the effective date of the new act.

The old law which aroused much controversial argument during the last session of the Legislature will expire at midnight August 25 and no inspections will be made under its provisions after that date.

Garrison explained that this means that no inspections of any sort will be made between that time and the beginning of the new period on September 15th.

The modified law calls for inspection only of brakes, lighting equipment, horns, rear view mirrors and windshield wipers.

"In view of the fact that the inspection stations throughout the state are already set up and equipped to perform this work," Garrison said, "we feel that the full seven months of the new period will afford motorists ample time to have their vehicles inspected."

He urged, however, that car owners not wait too long lest they get caught in a last minute rush to meet in the inspection deadline.

MASONIC MEET SET

The wheat marketing quota referendum to be held August 14 will be conducted at 7 voting places in Knox County, advises Chairman T. H. Jones of the County Production and Marketing Administration Committee. Polling places will be open from 9:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., and each will be in charge of a local referendum committee of wheat growers appointed by the County PMA Committee.

Chairman Jones urges every eligible wheat grower to vote, since the outcome of the referendum will materially affect the price farmers receive for their 1954 wheat. He points out that if two-thirds or more of those voting favor marketing quotas, wheat loans at 90 per cent of parity will be available to those who plant within their acreage allotments.

If marketing quotas are rejected by the growers, quotas will not be in effect and the support rate on 1954 wheat will drop to 50 per cent of parity for co-operators.

Acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1954 wheat crop regardless of the outcome of the referendum, he explained. If marketing quotas are in effect, those who exceed their allotments must store or dispose of their excess wheat as directed by the Secretary or pay the marketing penalty on the excess wheat. The marketing penalty is 45 per cent of wheat parity as of May 1, 1954.

The officially designated polling place in Knox County are: Benjamin—Court House; Vera—Veterans Building; Goree—City Hall; Munday—City Hall; Sunset—Sunset School; Knox City—PMA Office; Rhineland—Lodge Hall.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE JOHN E. GAITHER PARISH

 With only three families, the task seemed impossible. Two of the families said, "We can never rebuild—we had just as well give up, we are too poor."

Into this breach, and assuming the responsibility almost single handed, of carrying on God's work and rebuilding his church, stepped one man, John E. Gaither.

At an early age he had dedicated his life to God and felt inclined to go into a foreign field, but this being impossible, he had sought in every possible way, to serve his master in his own home field. At eighteen years of age, he had been elected as a teacher of a young man's class in the Sunday school, an office which he held almost continually for forty years. Subsequently he served as deacon, Sunday school superintendent, and finally as ruling elder.

Now, fully grown, with a wife dependent upon him, he is faced with the responsibility of almost single handed building a church, providing a minister, supporting the benevolences and keeping the work going.

To make the problems even more difficult, he had just bought a tract of land and owed $3,000. How to pay $500 a year, plus six per cent interest, was, in those days, problem enough without building a church.

But he and his fine wife prayed earnestly over the problem and the answer came. He remembered the pledge of his youth and believing firmly in the promises of God undertook and built the church which today stands as a monument to the faith which John E. Gaither and his little band had in God's promises.

The little church needed a minister but none was available. As a ruling elder, John E. Gaither had learned to speak for his Lord and Savior, and now to his six long days of work on the farm he added a seventh as minister of the little church.

For more than forty years he led the church as a layman, and then at the age of sixty when most men begin to think of retirement, the Little Rock Presbyterian U. S. A. ordained him to full time work in the ministry and with this, began twenty years of the most challenging and fruitful ministry ever to occur in Clark County.

All through his efforts his wife stood faithfully beside him and God abundantly blessed their labors. "He established the work of their hands upon them." Those were, indeed, the happiest years of their lives.

DOWELL CHAPEL

About forty years ago, a man by the name of R. W. Dowell, bought a small tract of land in Hot Springs County, in the Brown Springs community. He built a house and settled his family there. He also purchased one acre of land near what is known as Brown Springs, and donated this acre as a building site for a Presbyterian church.

On October 19, 1915, a church was organized with seventeen charter members, and named Dowell's Chapel. Services were held for some time under a brush arbor, but on November 20, 1916, the congregation decided to start a building.

They asked the Board of Church Erection for a grant of $500.00 to help in the building program. Soon they had the building so that it could be used and then later added to it as the church was able.

Three years later, on September 3, 1918, they decided to finish the church on the outside and paint it. This work was done and the building committee made its report which was accepted in a sessional meeting held January 10, 1919. The records show that they also agreed to meet in Arkadelphia the following Saturday and borrow the deficit and settle all the accounts against the church. The records show that this was $100.00.

Much has been added to the building down through the years through the loyalty and faithfulness of the people so that the community now has a beautiful little edifice in which to worship.

During the first thirty-six years of the Dowell Chapel church, it was served by five supply ministers, R. W. Dowell served eleven years, Robt Taylor four, W. C. McNutt one and a half, Harold Black one and a half, and John E. Gaither eighteen years.

In all these years of service there were many times of joy and many times of sorrow, times of victory and times of seeming defeat, but there is no defeat to those who place their faith and trust in God.

ALPINE

The Alpine Presbyterian Church was organized during a revival meeting held by Rev. William Richardson of Nashville, Tenn., in the Union Tabernacle at Alpine, Arkansas. The date of the organization was August 17, 1910, according to the book of church order, Chapter II, Sec. V. There were eleven charter members, namely H. F. Stewart, Mrs. Emma Stewart, Miss Della Stewart, Cleveland Stewart, Claude Stewart, D. M. Doughty, W. A. Sharpe, Mrs. Clara L. Sharpe, Miss Louise Sharpe, Dr. D. A. Doughty, and Mrs. Norma E. Doughty.

H. F. Stewart was elected elder and Dr. D. A. Doughty deacon. The Union Church building, being free of debt, was formally dedicated. The Alpine Church became a mission point and for twenty-one years was served by Ouachita Presbytery's evangelist, receiving just enough pastoral oversight to make it possible to hold together. Dr. John T. Barr was the first minister. He served three and a half years and during that time received a total salary of $19.35.

In the seventeen years, from 1932 to 1949, the church was supplied by four ministers from the First Presbyterian Church of Arkadelphia, Rev. Robert Ray, Rev. J. H. McCain, Rev. O. G. Henry and Rev. Basil Hicks, all of whom served as long as they were with the Arkadelphia church.

It was under the leadership and supervision of Rev. Hicks that the beautiful and substantial little church in which the congregation now worships, was erected. He donned his overalls and worked side by side with his churchmen and the men of the community until all was finished.

For two years, from April 10, 1949 to June 1951, the church was under the care of Rev. Wilson Keenan and Rev. John E. Gaither, and three ministerial students from Austin Seminary, assisted by some of the ruling elders from the Arkadelphia Church.

The Arkadelphia church is due much credit for sharing their ministers to carry on this important work to such a successful conclusion. JOHN E. GAITHER PARISH In 1951, John E. Gaither, then nearing eighty years of age, and serving all four of these churches, decided to retire.

He recognized that these four outlying churches had for many years been a feeder for the Arkadelphia church, and that the people of these rural churches had more in common with the Arkadelphia church and the Ouachita Presbytery of the U. S. Church than they had with the Northern Church.

Therefore, he proposed to the Little Rock Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. that these four churches be permitted to withdraw from the North-

MANY ROADS TO DALLAS

Sometimes in talking about religion, someone will say, "We are all going to the same place (heaven) but we are traveling different roads. Just as you take one road to Dallas and I take another."

That would be a good illustration except for the fact that there is just ONE road to heaven. No two or a dozen. In Matthew 7:13 and 14, Jesus talks about two ways A broad one and a narrow one. The broad one leads to destruction. Are you, my broad-minded? The narrow roads lead to life. Are you narrow-minded? We must be just as narrow-minded as the road if we are to obtain eternal life.

In John 10:9, Jesus said, "I am THE door, by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out and find pasture." He is not several doors, just THE door.

Again in John 14:6, He said, "I am THE way, the truth and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." That was in answer to the question put by Thomas, "How can we know THE way?"

Isaiah prophesied, "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called THE way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein." Isa 35:8.

The wise one in Proverbs 14:12 said, "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death."

There are many roads to Dallas, just One to Heaven.

MUNDAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

ern Presbyterian Church and join the Southern Presbyterian Church. At the same time, his friends in the Arkadelphia church suggested to the Ouachita Presbytery that these four churches be invited to join this Presbytery.

After considerable negotiation between the two Presbyteries, the three Northern churches, Palestine, Hearn and Dowell's Chapel were given permission to withdraw from the Northern Presbytery and join the Southern Presbytery, provided that each of the churches repay to the Northern Church the funds which had been borrowed many years ago for the erection of the various church buildings.

None of the churches had any funds with which to meet such a demand and there was serious doubt in the minds of some that the churches should repay these funds which were given by the Board of Church Erection to be repaid only in case the building ceased to be used as a place for religious worship.

But Rev. Gaither realized more was at stake than a few hundred dollars and very quietly the money—something like $1500.00—was raised (probably almost entirely from Rev. Gaither's own personal funds) and the Board of Church Erection was paid off, the U. S. A. Churches of Palestine, Hearn and Dowell's Chapel were dissolved and similar churches of the Presbyterian Church U. S. were organized and accepted into Ouachita Presbytery and the church property transferred April 12, 1948.

For years John E. Gaither had been planning for the day when another would take up the work of these country churches and in 1943 he purchased a lot at the West end of Henderson Street in Arkadelphia, built a house upon it and gave (June 13, 1944) it to the Trustees of the Palestine Church as a manse for their minister.

When the Palestine Church joined the Southern Church and become a part of Ouachita Presbytery, it instructed its Trustees to transfer this property to Trustees representing all four churches, Palestine, Hearn, Dowell's Chapel and Alpine, so that all four churches might own and share equally the responsibility of providing a manse for the minister who was to serve all the churches. This was done December 15, 1951.

When the four churches, which by now had come to be commonly known as the John E. Gaither churches, or the John E. Gaither Parish, joined the Ouachita Presbytery there was no minister immediately available to serve them. The problem of ministering to these churches was presented to the Men's Bible Class of the Arkadelphia Church and they voted to provide speakers for all services which these churches were accustomed to have.

For almost two years men from the Arkadelphia Church went regularly to hold services in these outlying churches with the result that not only were each of these churches held together but was brought into a closer fellowship with the other churches and with the Arkadelphia Church. And the laymen who ministered with them were greatly strengthened and blessed.

In 1951, the Rev. James N. Cook was called to serve these churches. An Arkadelphia boy, he attended the Vera Lloyd Home, Arkansas College, and after service in the Army, Austin Seminary. This was his first full time pastorate and he felt especially called to rural work and chose this field in preference to several others. He served the churches from June 1951 until July 1952 when he returned to Texas to serve the church at Belton which he served during his seminary days.

During Rev. Cook's pastorate revivals and daily vacation Bible Schools were held in the various churches and much was done to strengthen the churches and bring them to a closer fellowship with each other and with the work of the Presbytery and Synod. Financial assistance was received from the Arkadelphia Church and the Presbytery's Home Missions, but the churches drove forward to the goal of self sufficiency to which Rev. Gaither had challenged them.

The present pastor is Rev. George Pagan, who came in 1952 from Monticello where he had been superintendent of the Vera Lloyd Home. He is well liked and is doing a fine work.

But, though the ministry has passed to able hands Mr. Gaither has not ceased to work and plan for the future of these churches that carry his name. Often, on Sunday, he can be found at one of the churches either bringing the message, or worshipping with the congregation. And during the week his time is spent largely in planning and working for the material well being of his churches.

"And he shall be like a tree planted by the river of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and what so ever he doeth shall prosper."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Offers To Take Over The 25 Million Idle Acres Worrying Government For 1954

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek may be an expert on what he's talking about, but he has misinterpreted the government's plans, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I was napping out here yesterday afternoon on a couch on the front porch when a fluttering noise woke me up and I slapped at what I thought was a wasp but found it was a newspaper which a puff of wind had dropped over my face and the steady ristin and fillin of the paper as I snored was what was makin the flappin noise, and since I was awake by then and the paper was at hand I lifted it off my face far enough away to get it in focus and still stay stretched out an read where Washington is now worried over what to do with an estimated 25 million idle acres next year if crop controls go into effect.

As I understand it, us farmers have produced so much stuff the Secretary of Agriculture will be required to reduce the number of acres that can be planted to wheat, cotton and maybe other crops next year in order to make the price support program work, and Washington is scratchin its head and ponderin on the problem of what to do with the acres that'll be left idle.

Washington is sure strainin a point to find something to worry about. It just imagines idle acres will bother anybody. Maybe its true at first thought of some idle acres will bother some farmers, too, but out of years of experience I can report if a man has the strength of character we can get used to seein idle acres all around him and in time it ain't no more to worry about than fearin the sun won't come up in the mornin.

In fact, as an expert in handlin idle acres, I will be glad to take over the whole 35 million myself, if Washington can't think of anything else to do with em, and I will guarantee not an acre of it will be planted to wheat, cotton, corn or any other crop the government wants to hold production down on. If holdin dwn production is what it takes to keep agriculture on an even keel, I'm the man they have been lookin for, and I don't mind sayin I feel pretty good about the whole thing. I've been criticized from certain quarters for idle-acre farmin for years, and I'm proud that the government itself has come around to my way of thinkin.

Jungman Family Reunion Held At Cameron July 26

The 16th annual Jungman family reunion was held in the Catholic Community Hall in Cameron, Texas, Sunday, July 26. A most delicious basket dinner was served by the members that reside in that vicinity. After lunch Adolph G. Jungman showed a moving picture taken at the last year's reunion at Munday, Texas, which was very much enjoyed by all. The day was spent by talking over present and past times, telling jokes on one another and playing 8-handed 84 with two complete sets of dominoes, which provided lots of fun.

At the business meeting meeting it was decided to have a few more pages printed for the Jungman History Book, and to bring the history up to date by adding all the names of parties marrying into the family, the babies born, and deaths occurring since 1950, the dates are to be given for all. The following parties were elected to get up this information: Johnnie Fuchs of Buckholts for the Fuch family; Herbert Jungman for the Jungman family; Walter Jungman for all members of the family in Knox County, and Adolph Jungman for all the rest of the members. It was agreed that this is to be completed in 60 days.

At officer election all the old officers were re-elected by acclamation. Adolph of Pep, chairman; Herbert of Rogers, vice-chairman; and Walter Jungman of Munday, secretary. All are Jungmans.

In counting over the registration list we find that 93 members had registered. From the nine remaining children of the late John J. and Ida Jungman, only four were present, namely: Arthur from Knox City, Adolph from Pep, Walter and Herman from Munday, the three latter's wives also attended. The oldest member attending the reunion was Mrs. Anna Fuchs of near Buckholts, Texas. She is the only surviving sister of the deceased Ida Jungman, also celebrated her 87th birthday last March 30. The reunion is to be held at Pep, the last Thursday in July, 1954.

In the evening lunch was again spread before we adjourned, but it was impossible for us to eat at all, and some had to be taken back home. Those Millam and Bell county folks have a splendid prospect for good crops and certainly didn't hesitate to provide food for the lunch.

Tuesday, July 28, the writer and his wife, Annie, and eight members of our near Cameron motored down to Corpus Christi, where we all visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Youngman's, and the following day the group enjoyed a fishing trip on a fishing boat, on the bay at Corpus, which was quite a thrill to all of us, as this was our first experience of this sort of fishing and the fish seemed to be rather hungry, and so provided us with ample fish for several meals. This was a reunion and a fishing trip that will never be forgotten by those who attended.

—A. G. JUNGMAN,
President of the Jungman Family Reunion.

Brief Articles On The Draft Law And Regulations

VI

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short articles on the draft law and its rules and regulations.)

Any young man registered with a draft board had better be on the alert about any expected additions to his family. If his wife is expecting their first child, it is to his interest to tell the board about it immediately.

As long as he has only a wife to support, he's as eligible for a hitch in the Army as a single man. When he has a child in his family, or one has been conceived and not yet born, the law provides for his deferment, provided he tells the board about it before he is ordered for induction.

Draft regulations require that a man with an unborn child could be deferred if he files with his board, prior to the time his induction order is mailed, certificate of a licensed physician that a child has been conceived.

If he does not take this highly necessary step and the draft board sends him an order to report for induction, then the draft board has no authority to defer him on the basis of the unborn child. Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, points out.

Neither does the state draft headquarters or the national draft headquarters have authority to interfere with his induction under such circumstances. Draft regulations would have to be amended to permit consideration of his deferment solely because of the unborn child.

Afterward, the law requires a man to report birth of children into his family, just as it requires him to provide the local board at all times with his latest change of address.

Mrs. A. H. Word of Knox City was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Nora Broach, over the week end.

Bonnie Workman of Lubbock visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Branch, over the week end.

Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Powell visited friends here last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter of Dallas were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bullington and other friends.

A. H. Mitchell was a business visitor in Quannah last Tuesday.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa has introduced a bill to raise the personal exemption for income tax payers to $1,000 a year. This makes sense. No one can live on the present exemption of $600, except perhaps a hermit in the Ozark mountains.

A friend comments that daily newspapers are rapidly becoming medical journals except for the unfavorable difference that the papers come out every day while the medical journals are just once a month. I got to noticing and it does seem that the columns of the big dailies are filled with accounts of babies born with a heart outside their bodies, play-by-play description of operations to remove 62-pound goiters and other items of a similarly appetizing nature. If the trend keeps on, a person can't get into a big daily unless he has two heads.

And now television comes along with a telecast of a Caesarian birth. This would hardly come under the heading of a new development in the field of medical science as it derives its name from Caesar who flourished even before the movies that are being shown on TV were made.

I have read all my life about infant prodigies—Mozart, who was composing music at 5, I believe it was; John Stuart Mill, who could read Greek, and Thomas B. McCauley who could quote Latin at the same age of 5, or thereabouts. And now I know an infant prodigy myself. (No, Herman, I don't mean I'm the infant prodigy; read that sentence over and pay attention.)

Stephen Howell is not yet 3 and he can recite "The Night Before Christmas", with much animation. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Howell of Fort Worth and Vega. His father was a great tackle some years ago and Stephen has already announced that he is going to be a lineman. Interviewed by your columnist, young Howell was asked, "Are you going to T. C. U.?" His instant answer was, "You bet! Daddy went there." And only two years and ten months old!

Abel Martin, the Indian philosopher, declared that no matter how a dun is addressed, it always reaches us.

Melvin Strickland, Leonard Moore and Bill Dixon are attending a two weeks school of television in Abilene. This school is sponsored by the Philco people.

Miss Ima Jones visited in Eunice, N. M., over the week end.

Mrs. E. O. McClellan and son are visiting her mother in Memphis, Tenn., this week.

FORT WORTH—The headline of the week pertaining to farming and ranching appeared in the Groesbeck Journal, to our notion. It certainly covers the situation in many and many sections of the Cotton Belt. It reads: "Everything But Atomic Bomb Being Used to Save Cotton"

The collapse of hog prices all over the country in past few weeks has been a graphic example of the manner in which the consumer controls the price of meat. Pork supplies are currently 15 percent below a year ago. On the basis of short supplies, prices rocketed into sharply higher levels met consumer resistance, and dropped by 25 percent in the month of July.

Earlier predictions that hogs might hit $30 before Summer was over seem to have gone by the boards for good. Folks just won't pay those kind of pork prices.

The American Meat Institute says the wholesale meat price index is now 16% below the August 1, 1952 level.

At Fort Worth Monday hog prices tumbled again, by 75c-$1.00 per hundred. Heavier and lighter weights were $1 to $2 off and sows shared the bigger drop. Top hogs drew $23.00-23.25; lighter and heavier weights sold for $20.00-22.00.

Cows and bulls were strong to 50 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday. Steers and yearlings were slow and weak. Killing calves were steady to weak. Stockers and feeders ruled 50 cents or more lower. Good fed steers and yearlings $18.00-20.00, choice to $22.50. Plain and medium grassers $10.00-17.00. Fat cows $9.50-12.50; canners and cutters $6.00-9.50. Bulls $8.00-13.00.

Boy Scout Jack Klug, 13, believed to be first recipient of merit badge in railroading, Scouting's newest merit award, was congratulated at National Jamboree in California by Fred G. Gurley of Chicago, president of Santa Fe Railway. The youth's father, J. A. Klug, is manager of Santa Fe's Harvey House at Barstow, Calif., and his two grandfathers—John Klug and O. B. Boulton, both of La Junta, Colo.—are veteran conductors on Santa Fe's La Junta-Dodge City (Kan.) run.

Good and choice fat calves $16.00-19.00; common and medium $12.00-15.00; culs $8.00-11.00. Stocker steer calves $13.00-19.50; steer yearlings $18.50 down. Stocker cows $10.00-16.00.

Slaughter sheep and lambs were steady at Fort Worth Monday. Stockers and feeders were dull, weak to lower. Good and choice fat lambs $20.00-22.00 and common and medium offerings drew $12.00-19.00, culs from $8.00-12.00. Feeder lambs drew $13.00-15.00.

Slaughter ewes sold from $4.00-8.00; some solid mouthed stocker ewes $7.00-10.00. Old wethers drew $6.00-10.00. Slaughter yearlings $12.00-17.00. Two-year-olds $10.00-12.00.

NOTES

By Mrs. Georgia Faye Perkins,
Home Demonstration Agent

What is more interesting than a good news story about people, and what they are doing? A part of an agent's responsibilities and that of club reporters is to write for the newspaper.

Last week I attended a training meeting of the writing of better news stories and photography. Miss Frances Arnold, Assistant Editor, Extension Service, College Station, Texas, gave this training to Home Demonstration agents in District 3.

A visit was made to the W. L. Johnson home, Foard City community. Mrs. Johnson is a clothing demonstrator and was busy making fall clothes for her family. The agents snapped pictures of she and her daughter, Kay, while constructing the garments and wearing them.

Mrs. Johnson said, "I'm so happy that I can sew for Kay and myself, because we can have more clothes on less money."

Fournier joined the show when it played Omaha recently. The temporary job marked a big step forward in his rehabilitation, while the driving kit he demonstrated holds hope for many handicapped persons.

Congressman Frank Ikard

News From The

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31

The closing days of any session of Congress are always the most hectic ones. As everyone knows, the House and Senate do not always have to go to Conference Committees, composed of members from both the House and Senate, where the differences of both houses of Congress are reconciled. After this is done, the representatives of the respective bodies report back on the compromise bills and then the compromises are either approved or rejected. This practice means that actually final action on most legislation is taken during the last week or ten days of the session, which leads to the necessity of working from early morning until late in the night. After these long hours, men's patience tire, tempers sometimes flare, and often ill-advised action is taken. Some means should be devised to take the pressure off in the closing days of the session. Nearly every year a number of the older members of the Congress die because of exhaustion and heart attacks brought on by these hec-

The passing of Senator Robert A. Taft means that a truly great American has left the American scene. Even though you might not have agreed with Taft's philosophies, no one can question the fact that he possessed a great mind and a firm, dedicated conviction to the principles for which he stood. He was a man of great moral strength and patriotic zeal. Those who differed with him most on political questions had the highest respect and admiration for him as a man of great integrity and high principle. He was the real Congressional leader for the present Administration. It has been said that he was its balance wheel and held it together. Republicans and Democrats alike will miss Senator Taft on Capitol Hill, and his place will be almost impossible to fill.

It seems ironical in a way that in the last day or two of this session, the Congress should be asked to consider raising the national debt limit to 290 billion dollars, and on the same day be asked to approve legislation which will make available 14 billion dollars, plus, for the foreign aid program. The national debt now stands roughly at 272 billion dollars, which is greater than the national debts of all the other countries in the world combined. Prorating this national debt in the same proportion as Texas paid internal revenue into the Federal treasury last year, Texas' share of this national debt is nine billion seventy-five million dollars. From the information given us by the Treasury department and Senator Harry Byrd who knows as much as anyone in Congress about our fiscal affairs, we could have operated the Government the rest of this year and not exceeded the present limit of the debt and could have maintained a cushion of about three billion 200 million dollars. Therefore, I felt that the limit should not be raised because of these facts that show we could safely operate government without the raise and, secondly, if raised, it would certainly be an invitation for additional borrowing which would further jeopardize our credit and dilute the value of our money.

Above everything else, we must maintain the good health of the economy of this country. This is probably the most important question facing all of us today, for if our economy fails, then every other problem that we discuss becomes relatively unimportant.

I expect to be in the District as soon as possible and between now and the first of next year I expect to be in every town, community and county in the District. My office is in Room 206 of the Post Office Building in Wichita Falls and will be open every week day except Saturday. I will discontinue these weekly columns until Congress reconvenes in January. I hope they have been a source of some information and benefit to its readers.

Visitors from home this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bowen and children, from Boyd, Miss Shirley Cates, from Lewisville, Mrs. Cecil Roberts and son, Kenneth, from Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Kate Donnell, Tommy, Jane and Charles and Mrs. Ernest Cherry, all of Azle, spent several days last week visiting Mrs. Donnell's brothers, John and Oscar Spann, and their families. Charles Donnell remained for a two weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Winchester and Miss Jo Ann Winchester visited in Fort Worth several days this week.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Summer with its abundance of low calorie fruits and vegetables is a good time to shed those extra pounds put on during the winter months. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states:

People do not need as many starchy foods which produce energy in warm weather as they do in the winter, he said, because in the summer the warmth which starchy foods give to the body is not needed.

"Green leafy and yellow vegetable all types of fruit which are plentiful during the summer months provide an excellent, low cost diet for the person who is overweight," Dr. Cox said. "Many of these foods can be eaten raw and are very nutritious this way provided the food is carefully washed to remove all dirt and insecticides which may be present."

Dr. Cox stressed the importance of properly storing food during the summer. He explained that certain foods such as cold cuts, cream desserts, potato salad, and sandwich spreads have a tendency to spoil quickly during hot weather. Foods of this type should be kept in the refrigerator until just before they are served.

"By using common sense in choosing and serving the proper kinds of food, you'll feel better and have much more enjoyable summer," Dr. Cox concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Spann, Jr. and daughter, Cindy, of Seawater visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cloudis, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spann of Stephenville were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spann and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann.

Kiplinger Reviews 30 Years, Sees Better World Ahead

WASHINGTON — W. M. Kiplinger marked 30 years of reporting world events and predicting trends for a highly-restricted list of subscribers with a forecast that "the world will be better" in the next three decades.

In a special 30th anniversary issue of his Kiplinger Washington Letter, written "partly for fun, partly for thoughtfulness," he said, too, "we cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up."

The Ohio-born, former newspaper reporter, who originated the method of dispensing business, economic and governmental news, condensed into a weekly, four-page, privately-circulated letter, reviewed events since 1923, and then, with a "look to the future," said: "Out of our experience as observers comes a conviction, which is this: the world will be better. Improvement is the basic law of life."

"We cannot stop the improvement, but we can hold it back or speed it up. To speed it up requires more than noble wishes and pious good intentions. It takes hard knowledge, brains, intelligence, judgment, savvy, wisdom. Both the worldly sort and the spirit sort—both are highly essential—because working and living, as everyone knows, is not just materialistic."

Kiplinger was 32 and relatively unknown when he started typing out weekly analyses of Washington developments with emphasis on predictions of the future economic significance of those developments. With a second-hand typewriter, a borrowed $1,000, "Subscribers, none. Hopes, frail," he struggled to prove that the information he could furnish would be valuable to businessmen.

It took about five years to convince more than his three original staff members that he was right; that the Kiplinger Washington Letter was destined to become a distinctive force in American journalism. The struggle for bare survival emerged into an even harder fight—against scores of imitations.

Today, built around that original typewriter which Kiplinger still uses, is a staff of 250, housed in a modern ten-story office building and a printing plant, and each sharing in the earnings of the Kiplinger Washington Agency. The Letter is delivered every Monday morning to business and professional men and women, teachers and students, housewives and political leaders in every state and 56 foreign countries.

In his review of the past 30 years Kiplinger says the present "is merely a piece of the past and the future," and continues:

"Now look back and ponder on the material advances of the past. How the average man is better off . . . than 30 years ago or less. Wages and other forms of pay have more than tripled in 30 years. Living cost prices have less-than-doubled . . . so there's a margin."

"Note the new things: Sound movies, color movies, radio and TV, refrigerators, freezers, washers, cleaners, and other household gadgets, air conditioners, airplanes big and fast, tough metals, new chemicals, plastics, man-made fabrics, electronics, radar, new drugs, psychiatry, new farm machines, modern architecture, 3-D movies, and the atom at work."

"Changes in ways of thinking: Growth of ideas akin to socialism. The New Deal era. Big government. Paternalism. Laws to spread income. Weakening of reliance on private and individual effort (perhaps temporary). Ascent of labor . . . union members in 1923, 3.6 million . . . now 16 million." All this adds up, says Kiplinger, to a better world ahead.

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

CATTLE PROSPECTS

Texas farmers and ranchmen, surveying their parched, brown earth and gaunt cattle, can very easily get a distorted picture of their future prospects. The situation is bad—but not hopeless.

Cattle owners must carefully consider their long-range plans. If you rush stock to the market which could be held, you may be cutting your income unnecessarily.

A larger part of our cattle backlog has been wiped out through quick marketing than many persons realize. Over 3 1/2 million more cattle and calves were slaughtered during the first six months of 1953 than at any time last year. In many cases, even the foundation herds of cattlemen have been cut drastically or eliminated entirely.

There is always the danger of going too far. Although the extremely favorable prices of the last few years may not return such measures are being put into effect which should add some strength to the market and encourage conservation of our foundation herds.

Some relief is on the way in the form of drought hay purchases, reduced railroad fares for transportation of necessary fodder, and loans, Cottonseed pellets and meal is expected to sell to needy stock farmers at emergency prices of $35 a ton, corn at $1 a bushel, wheat at $1.10 and oats at 50 cents.

In addition, all efforts are towards quick and effective sale of beef through consumer advertising campaigns, government purchases and foreign exports. It seems likely that supplies of beef will continue high the next few years but that there will be very little increase in herd sizes. The long range effect is expected to help stabilize the market.

The stocker's chief problem will be in determining what part of his herd to sell and what to keep for continued production. Growers in the hard-hit areas should try to hold on to as many cattle as it is economically feasible to feed. Those with good pastures, principally in East Texas, may find this a good time to buy a few more head, depending on the size and condition of their range.
