Signs On Highway For Motorists And Pedestrians, Too

"Signs of Life" are for pedestrians as well as motorists.

This point was emphasized today by Col. E. B. Tilley, Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, and President of the Texas Safety Association with the Department of Public Safety.

"Many people seem to think that 'Signs of Life'—traffic signs, signals and pavement markings—are placed there for the use of drivers only," he said. "Actually, they are intended to guide and protect the pedestrian as well."

If pedestrians would heed these signs—obey traffic lights at intersections and signals at railroad crossings—a lot of lives would be saved, according to Col. Tilley.

"One out of four traffic victims is a pedestrian," he said, "and more than half the people killed in city traffic are pedestrians."

"Among the factors contributing to these fatalities," Col. Tilley said, "are crossing at intersections against the signal, crossing intersections diagonally, and crossing between intersections."

"Certainly many deaths could be avoided if pedestrians crossed streets at the proper places, and obeyed traffic 'Signs of Life' where they are provided," Col. Tilley pointed out.

"The August slogan of the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety, 'Signs of Life—Know Them, Obey Them!' is an important message for everyone," he said. "Whether walking or driving it applies, and the person who follows it may be saving his own life."

Inside Wash-Up Room

ON THE farm, there usually is a building available for the installation of a wash-up house—a building within another, so to speak.

Glance at the illustration, and the simple construction of such a private room within the barn, machine shed, garage, or back porch will be evident. Actually, all that's needed is a framework of 2 by 4-inch lumber, spaced 4 feet apart to form the boundaries of the wash-up room, and some panels of 1/2" Tempered Presswood.

The panels are easily nailed into place to form the room within a larger one. They are moisture-resistant and will stand considerable abrasion.

A shower may be made from a hoghead barrel and piping, as shown, or by a similar method which could well include heated water.

FOREIGN TRADE IS ESSENTIAL TO PEACE AND PROSPERITY

Farm Bureau is for international cooperation on a sound basis of two-way trade. Farmers must have customers to sell agricultural products, both here and abroad. The production from one out of every ten acres found outlets outside of the United States in 1951. But this market is shrinking. If this market is lost permanently, net farm income will be lowered. Farm Bureau is asking Congress to set up a bi-partisan commission to help solve foreign export problems. Already a number of Farm Bureau recommendations related to foreign trade have been approved by Congress.

A seven-year study of 1000 wearing apparel fabrics shows that cotton fabrics have the best all-around color-fastness of all fabrics tested.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Scientists To Develop New Chemical To Make Weeds Taste Good To Cows

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a passably good idea this week, but we don't look for anything to come of it.

Dear editor:
I know that scientists are pretty busy these days, one set workin on makin the hydrogen bomb more deadly, another set workin on makin it less; others workin on higher octane gasoline to make cars run faster, others workin on ways of slowin motorists down; one group workin on better bomb proof shelters, another on guided missiles that will penetrate the same shelters; but I was wonderin why some scientists don't spend a little more time workin on a problem I have in mind.

I have about given up hopes of the experts workin out a breed of cattle than can thrive on weeds and thistles, but I have not given up the weeds and thistles.

It doesn't seem to make any difference how dry it gets, weeds and thistles keep right on growin. They seem to have a secret of bein home on this earth, regardless of the weather, and I would like to see some scientists work on them.

What I want that scientists to do is figure out a chemical you can spray on weeds and thistles to make them taste good to a cow.

I was talkin to a cattelman the other day and he said he at least had the satisfaction of knowin his cows were paid for, but another one ruined his day by pointin out a paid for cow can be a liability the same as a mortgaged one, on account of they won't last more than a few days without something to eat. With cows worth 6 cents per pound, and hay 1 cent a pound, anybody can figure how small a haystack she has to eat before she's eaten her worth in feed, and two days after she finishes she'll still be as hungry as she was when she started.

So instead of scientists workin weeds to kill em, I'd like to have one you can spray on on the same principle of salad dressin or lettuce, and the cows will go for em.

I don't know what the nutrition count on a weed is, but it gets the same sunshine and grows out of the same earth cultivated plants do and I notice cattle will eat em when they're young and tender. Seems to me there ought to be a chemical maybe left over as a by-product from an atom bomb or a nylon dress which scientists could use to spray on weeds and make em come out as desirable as a green salad. People are always talking about findin new grasses, but

New '54 Chryslers Set New Standards Of Power, Luxury

Gene W. Harrell of Harrell's Motor and Equipment recently returned from Fort Worth, where he attended one of a series of 25 nation-wide meetings being held by the Chrysler Division of Chrysler Corporation, to preview the new 1954 Chrysler.

The new model went on display at Harrell's on Thursday morning, October 29.

"The completely redesigned Chryslers for 1954 introduce new high-horsepower FirePower engines—the most powerful and efficient passenger car engines in America today—plus many major engineering advancements combined with the smartest, most beautiful exteriors and interiors in Chrysler's 29-year history," Harrell said.

In addition the new FirePower V-8's and new, colorful styling, outstanding engineering features designed for luxurious performance include the new PowerLite fully automatic transmission—fully proved by use in 1953 Imperials—a new Airtemp air conditioning unit, full time power steering and power brakes, new anti-roll front suspension and new "solid feel" ride, all of which add up to a new high in driver control.

"These cars, I am sure, will set the new standards for automotive excellence," Harrell said. "They are the most luxurious cars Chrysler has ever produced and incorporate improvements which assure Chrysler having 'America's First Family of Fine Cars.'"

I'd rather figure out a way to use the stuff we already got.

I just noticed one of my cows finished off 15 cents worth of hay.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's the Principal of the Thing!

Every autumn our High School has a contest to see who can get the most ads for The Recorder—the school magazine. The winner becomes honorary Principal for a day.

Skip Roberts won last week, and his first (and only) official act as "Principal" of the school was to announce in a loud, clear voice: "I hereby declare today a school holiday!"

Knowing Miss Gilbert, the real principal, it was no surprise to me that she laughed as hard as anybody else... and said to go right ahead.

From where I sit, it's no wonder our youngsters think Miss Gilbert's such a wonderful person (even though they know they'll have to make up this day). Her tolerance, her friendly way with people of all ages reflect in everything she does. For instance, at my house Miss Gilbert prefers tea but always respects my preference for a glass of beer. As a real person... in any community, Miss Gilbert belongs at "the head of the class."

FORT WORTH—The belief that the essential peak of cattle movement had passed was further enhanced by the lighter runs of cattle and calves around the major marketing circle Monday.

This factor, coupled with rains over much of the Southwest, was enough to spring a stirring rally in prices that wretched the faces of cowmen with smiles all over the stockyards here.

While the advance was uneven and some sales showed more climb than others, the general picture was one of climbing prices. Sales 50c to $1 per hundred above last week's close were the rule.

Some spots were up considerably more. As an example there were 113 small calves of 202 pounds at Fort Worth Monday shipped from the Kokernot Ranch at Alpine. These calves drew $20. Mates to them a week ago sold at $15.50 with a trim. While the general advance was not so pronounced as this case, it was typical of the way the stocker trade came to life on the heels of the rain.

Reports of rain from sections of the winter wheat grazing areas could be expected to revive speculative interest in cows, calves and yearlings suitable for such pastures. Some open weather could bring up the green stuff in jig time.

While the runup in prices was most noteworthy on the cattle and calves, other species shared the better tone.

Hogs drew steady to 75 cents higher prices, small butchers and shippers setting a fast pace and buying most of the top hogs 50c to 75c above last week's close.

In the sheep barn, slaughter lambs and slaughter yearlings were strong to 50c or more higher. Some spots were $1 or more above the close last week, the kind and condition considered. Feeder lambs drew strong prices. Old ewes were strong to 50c up.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $17 to $22, and common and medium sorts sold from $10 to $16, some shelly kinds below $10. Fat cows drew $9.50 to $12, and canners and cutters sold from $6 to $9.50. Bulls sold from $7 to $13.

Good and choice fat calves sold from $13 to $17, with some outstanding heavies of around 600 pounds to $18 to $20. Common and medium slaughter calves drew $9 to $13, with culls at $7 to $8.

Good and choice stocker calves sold mostly from $14 to $18, with a few lightweights to $20. Stocker cows drew $7 to $12.50. Stocker and feeder steers and yearlings sold from $10 to $16.

Good and choice butcher hogs sold at $22 to $22.25 on weights of 190 to 240 pounds and other good hogs sold from $20 to $21.75. Sows cashed at $19 to $21.

Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $15.50 to $17, and good shorn lambs sold at $16.50 down. Stocker and feeder lambs cashed at $10 to $13. Medium and lower grade lambs cashed at $8 to $15.

Old ewes sold from $5 to $5.75, some solid-mouthed ewes to $6.50. Yearling muttons sold from $10 to $14, old wethers drew $6 to $8. Old bucks sold at $2 to $2.50.

While stockmen are jubilant over the rains and the improved market, we'll bet that none of them breathed a bigger sigh of relief than Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The pressure has been building up on him hour by hour and the Cattlecade organized by the Farmers' Union was a climax that was highly unpleasant for Benson.

Some observers feel that Benson will either have to back down from his previous opposition to high supports or resign in short order. Some Washington observers feel like his tenure of office has only a matter of weeks to run.

However, personal friends say that Benson is not the type to become dismayed and quit under fire. Certainly right now he is getting the test of a life time.

Texas Cattle Prices May Dip To Lower Level

Texas livestock producers face the coming winter with a forecast that cattle prices will remain low compared with a year ago during the next few months and may dip even lower.

Despite this outlook, says John G. McHaney, assistant extension economist, reduced cattle inventories should stabilize the market during the next few years.

Prices of Texas cattle markets dropped 56 percent between April 1951 and July 1953. At mid-year producers were receiving 82 percent of parity compared with 152 percent in April 1951, the all time high. Cattle prices are today more in line with other agricultural products than they were several years ago, McHaney says.

Favorable grain and roughage supplies caused the nations' producers to add about 4 million head to inventories during 1950. The following year price ceilings served as a stimulus for cattle-men to hold on to their beef animals and 5.5 million more animals were on farms by the end of 1951. That year cattle slaughter hit its lowest ebb in 10 years. Calf slaughter dropped to the lowest point in 18 years.

Record cattle numbers followed by the unprecedented drought has been responsible for increased marketings and, thus, lower prices paid to producers.

The weather holds a direct bearing on the price outlook in the future, McHaney says. With the exception of seasonal fluctuations, the market should level off and prices should become stabilized unless drought conditions and other weather factors necessitate expedited marketing, he points out.

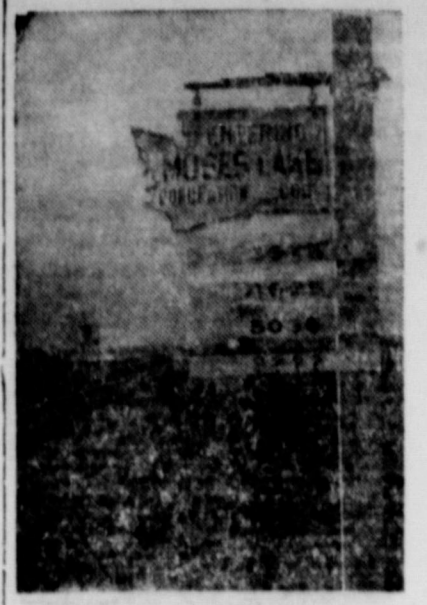

If the demand for beef weakens, cattle prices will further decline. Also, concludes McHaney, any downward trend in pork and lamb prices in the years ahead will lower cattle prices.

DISEASE DOLLAR LOSSES

An uncontrolled livestock disease can be just as destructive as an uncontrolled forest fire. Livestock diseases have been smoldering since long before the domestication of the animal. In these days of concentrated meat animal production, the threat of livestock disease grows more alarming—taking a big bite out of the grower's profits.

The extent of this problem can be illustrated by a partial list of a few of the better known livestock diseases and their corresponding dollar loss. Brucellosis, a disease which affects both animal and man, costs the industry in excess of $86 million annually. Mastitis presents an estimated yearly bill of $100 million and hog cholera costs livestock agriculture approximately $50 million. Not even conservative loss estimates have been attempted with such diseases as anthrax, foot and mouth, pneumonia, shipping fever, swine erysipelas, X-disease, black leg, atrophic rhinitis, anaplasmosis and ketosis, to name a few. If we could determine it accurately, the loss would be staggering.

One agriculturist has hazarded a guess, Dr. L. M. Hutchins, of Purdue University, said, "Based on animal population figures and average values per head, animal agriculture failed to realize a potential gross income of $2,791,000,000 in 1951 as a result of death losses alone." These figures point up the value of strict sanitation measures on the farm. Good sanitation is the first step in breaking the disease chain. Today's antibiotics, potent drugs, vaccines, and improved feed supplements have accomplished a great deal. However, they have a steep uphill battle if they are not used in conjunction with a sound farm sanitation program.

A sound disease-preventive program should not be regarded as an expensive burden. Rather, it is an investment like that of a fence for livestock. This sanitary fence is a necessity for keeping diseases out and livestock in good health.

The Texas Department of Agriculture at Austin has prepared a chart of recommended disinfectants for combatting prevalent diseases which affect livestock. A copy will be mailed upon request.

IT MIGHT BE YOUR CHILD

One of the largest transportation systems in the world has recently gone back into operation—the fleet of Texas school buses. From now until next June, over 6,700 school buses will carry over one-third of a million school children to and from school every day.

It is quite a job to carry all those children every day—it is an even greater job to carry them safely. Yes, that bus driver has a great deal of responsibility, but did you know that you are partly responsible for their safety, too! You are, if you drive a motor vehicle on our streets and highways!

The Texas Safety Association says that traffic accident statistics for 1951 show that some of our motorists in the State forgot their obligation, because there were 153 accidents which involved a school bus. These accidents claimed 4 lives and brought pain and serious injury into the lives of 55 others. Some motorists forgot and the children paid for that forgetfulness.

The Uniform Motor Vehicle Act, which consists of most of our State traffic laws, makes the drivers of the other vehicles on the highway partly responsible for interfering with the safe loading and unloading of children riding the bus.

This is a portion of the law: "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of a business or residence district upon meeting or overtaking from either direction on school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children." Why not read it again and be sure that you know it thoroughly!

The major portion of those school bus accidents for 1951 involved a violation of that section of the law—the motorist failed to stop! The loss of money will be the least thought in your mind if you have to look down at the torn, distorted body of a school child who was killed because of your negligence.

The Texas Safety Association asks that you join them in a concerted, state-wide effort to remind Texas motorists that it is up to them to do their share in protecting our school children
