Christmas is just around the corner!

And with that fact facing us, members of the American Legion and the Munday Volunteer Fire Department have already started a move to spread a little happiness among less fortunate people during the holidays.

It is their plan, as it was last year, to prepare goodfellow boxes of Christmas gifts for those people whose Christmas would otherwise be rather dreary.

At a time when happiness and good cheer are prevalent among practically all the people, these two organizations want to assure the unfortunates that they are also remembered at Christmas time.

So they have placed the goodfellow jars in a number of stores about the town.

The purpose of these jars are to collect pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters, and money of other denominations for the purpose of defraying expense of preparing suitable Christmas baskets for these people.

Then, too, the Legionnaires and firemen have placed goodfellow boxes in still other stores of the town.

These boxes are to serve the purpose of collecting your gifts, which will be sorted and placed in the Christmas baskets according to the various needs.

When you are making your Christmas purchases, you are requested to also purchase something else to be placed in the goodfellow boxes.

In these boxes, you may place purchases of food or clothing, candy or fruits, or just whatever your benevolent spirit "leads" you to buy for some family who has not been quite as fortunate as you.

Then the firemen and Legion boys will spend a busy Christmas eve preparing the boxes for such families. We imagine, too, they'd like to have the names of those families who would not have much Christmas, except for the goodfellow deal.

So when you see the boxes or jars, think of the smile you can bring to some little child's face by dropping in something for its Christmas gift. You may never know what child you helped, but those on the distributing end of the goodfellow deal know how those children's face light up when a box is placed in their home.

So that's the story they asked us to tell you—and that they can not put the program over alone, and need your help. We feel that the firemen and Legion boys will have a big job on Christmas eve because Munday people were liberal in their remembrance of the unfortunates.

And as a sort of finale, we're sure the kiddies want Santa Claus to know just what they want for Christmas.

The best way to do this is to write Santa a letter and mail it to him care of the Munday Times. We'll print the letter in our Christmas issue, then forward it on to Santa Claus in time for him to mull over it and get his cargo ready.

But you'll need to hurry! As we said, Christmas is just around the corner, and we'll need those letters by Saturday, December 17, at the latest.

Four Areas Represented At March Of Dimes Meeting In Abilene On Friday

Representatives of four Texas areas attended a March of Dimes pre-campaign meeting last Friday at the Windsor Hotel in Abilene. The purpose of the meeting was to coordinate work between counties in the 1954 fund raising campaign for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The campaign will begin January 2 and continue through January 31.

A goal of 59 cents per capita nationally has been set to raise $75 million needed for patient care, research and education.

Dr. Truett Walton, campaign director for Taylor County, gave the invocation and welcome. Mrs. R. O. Pearson, state advisor on women's activities, Abilene, reviewed the history of the national foundation.

Bo Mingus of Radio Station KRBC, gave a talk on "Radio in the March of Dimes," and Dick Tarpley of the Reporter-News spoke on "The Press in the March of Dimes."

Other speakers were Bob English, West Texas representative of the national foundation, and Mike Hyre, Northwest Texas representative, both of Abilene.

Attending the meeting from Knox County were Mrs. J. C. McGee of Knox City, county campaign director; Mrs. L. A. Parker of Benjamin, community chairman, and Mrs. Arlie Williams of Knox City, community chairman.

Bake Sale To Benefit Fund Of Goodfellows

On Wednesday, December 23, just in time for everything to be fresh and tasty for Christmas, members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department and the American Legion are combining their efforts in sponsoring a gigantic Christmas bake sale.

There's to be lots of pies, cakes and other items of food on sale on that date, and people of this area are invited to buy their Christmas food items there.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to benefit the Goodfellow fund, whereby the fireboys and Legion members will complete their Christmas baskets for the needy families.

"Although we have money jars and boxes for gifts in various stores," they stated, "we always need some extra cash to purchase items for the Christmas boxes, and we believe the bake sale will be successful and supply us with ample funds."

He just recently returned from Washington, and his hearers regarded his statements as authoritative.

College Singers To Give Program At Local Church

A special group of singers from Southwestern Christian College of Terrell, will present a special program at the Munday church of Christ building Monday, December 14, 7:30 p. m. This group has been selected from the larger a cappella chorus of the negro school and consists of quartets, sextets, and other special arrangements. The chorus has attracted favorable attention in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and Louisiana.

The college is fully approved for the training of veterans. Founded in 1950, the Terrell school is directed by a board of trustees composed of both white and negro members. Primarily it seeks to train young people for active church service, while at the same time providing a standard junior college education. Singing is emphasized in all of the activities of the college, and over half of the students of the past year were in the college chorus.

S. W. C. C. has a faculty staff of some ten persons, and has matriculated over 120 students in its short history. Many of the graduates are now enrolled in standard college and universities and others are receiving a terminal third year of work at Southwestern.

Everyone is invited to come and hear these singers. No collection is taken.

Santa Says

"It won't be long now, kiddies, until I'll be coming down your chimney with those Christmas gifts you want. But, it will help me a lot if you'll write me a letter and let me know what you really want and need.

"My helpers are now busy preparing those packs for my long journey, so you know time is growing short. Write those letters to me, now, and send them to The Munday Times. It may be too late after Saturday, December 19."

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

O'Brien Seizes Cage Honors In Tourney Here

The O'Brien quintet defeated the Weinert team here Saturday night, 37 to 34, to seize the championship of Munday's first invitation basketball tournament of the season. Seymour copped the consolation title by downing Goree, 56 to 36.

O'Brien had beaten Throckmorton, 42-38, and Weinert won over Munday, 40-32, in semifinal matches.

Johnson tallied 13 points to lead O'Brien in the championship game, while Childress had nine for Weinert. Other teams in the tourney were Wylie, Vera, Rule, and Knox City. Throckmorton bounced Seymour, 58-50 in a first-round game.

All-Tournament selections were: Fred Lang of Munday, Gothar of O'Brien, Bingham of Goree, Josslet of Weinert and D. J. Davis of Throckmorton.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Donnell and daughter, Connie, of Henrietta visited Mr. and Mrs. Norton Pendergraft and children last Saturday morning. They were returning to Henrietta from Knox City where they had visited a sister of Mrs. Donnell's.

"Trouble over women" was given by county officers as the cause of two knifings during the week end which resulted in the deaths of two men, a Mexican and a Negro.

The Mexican, whose name was given to Sheriff Homer T. Melton as Filemor Salazar of Palabazal Zac, Mexico, was killed almost instantly by a knife wound which penetrated the heart. The killing occurred at 3:10 a. m. Friday.

The Mexican was supposedly stabbed by Jose Morales, who according to reports, took his family and left the area. He had not been apprehended late Monday, north of Munday.

The affray took place on a farm The Negro man, Jerome Willis of Fairfield, died of knife wounds at 3 a. m. Sunday. Again it was stated "trouble over a woman" brought on the knifing. Willis received five knife wounds one of which pierced the heart area.

Buddy Boalt, about 38, of Pecos and Calvert, was arrested by the city officer at Rule after considerable search had been made for him. He was charged with the murder of Willis and was placed in the county jail at Benjamin under $5,000 bond to await action of the grand jury.

THE LOCAL PAPER LEADS

In the comparatively recent past, the local newspaper was about the only place where merchants could advertise their wares. Since then, other important media have come into existence—notably the radio and television. But, despite the inroads these have made on retailer's advertising budgets, the newspaper is still the dominant factor in the field by a wide margin.

That statement is substantiated by a recent survey of the advertising practices of department stores in all sections of the country. It found that the typical store allocated 80 per cent of the advertising dollar to newspapers, nine per cent to television, four per cent to radio, three per cent to direct mail, and four per cent to other media.

The local newspaper offers the surest means of reaching the masses of the people—whether with a news story or an editorial opinion or an advertising message. And that's why merchants place it first when dividing up their advertising appropriations.

Incidentally, one wonders if there are still people who regard advertising as a waste which adds unnecessarily to the cost of goods. Actually advertising acts as a possible factor in holding prices down by creating the widest possible demand for merchandise, and thus holding mass production and mass distribution possible.

THE NEXT GENERATION

It used to be just common practice to teach school children to take pride in the United States and the men and women who made this nation possible.

Thank God millions of them have been so taught but there are other millions who are being taught by various means to be skeptical of our country and its traditions.

An illuminating book by Verne P. Kaub entitled "Communist-Socialist Propaganda in American School", Meador Publishing Co., Boston, presents an amazing picture.

On this question, charges and counter-charges are heard on the radio, in colleges, in newspapers and in the halls of Congress. It is high time to make a searching analysis of the whole situation.

Mr. Kaub's book outlines practices that indicate how our next generation can be indoctrinated with the communist-socialist ideology—how can they bring about the collectivist state, unless guarded against.

FILL 'ER UP' MOSCOW STYLE

It isn't likely that you'll ever be driving your car in Moscow. The communists do not welcome visitors from the free world, nor would most Americans want to go there even if it were possible.

But suppose that were the case—and you found yourself running low on gas and were in urgent need of finding a service station.

First of all, you might run entirely out before you could get your tank refilled. For, while Moscow is one of the great cities of the world in point of population, with some 5,000,000 inhabitants, it has only five—yes, five!—so-called service stations.

But suppose you were lucky and reached one of the five stations in time. Smiling attendants wouldn't run out to check your tires, clean your windshield, attend to your battery or any of the other things we take for granted here in America. Indeed, you'd have to fill your own tank, perhaps with gasoline of dubious quality, and all the attendant would do would be to take your ration coupons and your rubles.

It isn't at all remarkable that this should be the case in Moscow. For, under communism and the other totalitarian doctrines, there is no competition and no free enterprise. The state owns and bosses practically everything—and you take what is offered or do without.

The American service station, on the other hand, is the product of the most intense kind of competition—just as is everything else connected with the oil industry. And the result is the best products, the best service, and the lowest prices that human ingenuity can achieve.

SPENDING IS LIKE DRUGS

The Greenville, South Carolina, Piedmont, recently made this somber observation: "The yammering heard in certain quarters over the failure of the Eisenhower administration to balance the national budget is nothing beside the screaming that will go on when spending is cut enough to really balance it."

We have become conditioned to unbridled government spending, much as an addict becomes conditioned to drugs. If that kind of spending goes on long enough it can destroy the richest nation, even as drugs can destroy the strongest individual. It will take character and courage in high places to get rid of the waste in government—and it will take character and courage on the part of the people to accept that bitter but essential medicine.

WHY NOT PICK THE BEST

In criticism of the church and members of the church, too many people pick out the worst hypocrite or backslider and say, "That's the reason I don't go to church or become a member, because I am just as good as he is." That may be altogether true but just how good is that? It seems a shame for one to pattern their life after a renegade.

There are so many honest and upright people who are members of the church or have been members of the church that we can pattern after. For example: the apostle Paul was a member of the Lord's church. Very few would care to say that they were as good as Paul was. He invites us to, "Follow me as I follow after Christ." The apostle was one of the best Christians that I know anything about. Why not pick him and say, I would like to be the kind of Christian he was. Paul became a Christian and lived such a life that at the end he could say, "I am now ready to be offered and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord the righteous judge shall give me in that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing?"

Will you, my friend, be able to say that you have patterned your life after an enemy of the Lord?

Then why not pick the best instead of the worst that Christianity has to offer?

CLEFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

One of the greatest honors ever bestowed on me—I'd like to tell you about it.

Soon after arriving in Eastland County in 1921 to edit the county seat daily, I met Judge Eugene Lankford of Cisco, a courtly gentleman. Like myself, he was born in Arkansas. We became good friends, a friendship that has endured.

There came a letter from him early in 1951 saying, in substance, that 50 years before, he was the youngest member of the Arkansas Senate and had helped to pass the bill to build the present State Capitol.

The graceful old building, which has served since Arkansas was admitted to statehood in 1836, not torn down but was converted into a museum, which it still is, with its memories of the four years that the flag of the Confederacy floated from its summit, of the dark Reconstruction era and the violence which threatened to flare up but did not, when the State's patriots took charge of Arkansas' government and destiny.

But to get back to the letter—Judge Lankford wrote that on the fiftieth anniversary of the passage of the bill to build the present Capitol the legislature was going to hold a session in the old Capitol and the surviving members of the 1901 legislature were invited to return and sit with the present members.

"I cannot go," the letter concluded, "and so because of our long friendship and the fact that Arkansas is also your native state I want you to go in my stead and answer when my name is called."

It will always be one of my deepest regrets that previous commitments made it impossible to accept this offer, so rich with sentiment. Wasn't it a wonderful act of friendship?

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

"COMPARING PEARL HARBOR PRICES"

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7—Monday was the anniversary of "Pearl Harbor Day." Americans recalled this tragic day when the infamous Jap attack took place in various ways.

A group of us at the Fort Worth Stockyards got talking about it and the question came up, "How do livestock prices today, compare with those the week before the Pearl Harbor attack?"

We looked it up and got a surprise. We think the comparison of pre-World War II prices with those paid at Fort Worth Monday will be interesting to you, too!

One thing sure is that you agree "a lot of water has run under the bridge since Dec. 7, 1941!"

At Fort Worth Monday fat steers and yearlings and slaughter cows were about steady in a slow trade. Some tippy fat calves were strong to 50¢ higher. Bulls and stocker and feeder cattle and calves were fully steady.

Comparing prices with Dec. 7, 1941: Good and choice fed steers and yearlings today sold for $16 to $22.25—the same grades 12 years ago sold from $9 to $11.75 at Fort Worth!

Common and slaughter steers and heifers of $10 to $15 Monday sold from $6.50 to $9.

Fat cows at Fort Worth Monday brought $9.50 to $12.50. 12 years ago they drew $6.25 to $7.

75. Canners and cutters sold for $3 to $6.25, then, and this week sold from $6 to $10.

Bulls at $5.75 to $7.60 then, sold at $7 to $12.50 this week.

On Monday good and choice slaughter calves sold at $14 to $20, a load at the latter figure from Graham. Twelve years ago on the first Pearl Harbor day their value was $9.50 to $11.75. Cull to medium slaughter calves this week drew $8 to $13.50, and then they sold from $6 to $9.50.

Good and choice stocker and feeder steers and yearlings a dozen years ago sold at $8.50 to $10.75 and tippy steer calves reached $12.

On Monday at Fort Worth similar steers and yearlings drew $14 to $18, and calves reached $19. Stocker cows the first week of December 1941 sold from $5.25 to $7.50, this week from $8 to $13.

Heifers and stocker heifer calves presently sell around $2 under steers, and at that time averaged $1 or $1.25 less.

Hogs had the best market in weeks at Fort Worth Monday and topped at $24.50, or 50¢ higher. During the original "Pearl Harbor Week", top hogs ranged from $8.50 to 9.35.

Sows sold Monday at Fort Worth at $20 to $22.

Sheep and lambs sold at steady prices at Fort Worth Monday and good and choice fat woolled lambs sold at $18 to $19, and good and choice shorn lambs sold from $17 to $17.50. A dozen years ago comparable lambs sold here at $9 to $10.50.

Slaughter yearlings sold here Monday at $10 to $14, compared with yearlings at $8 to $9.50 12 years ago.

On Monday slaughter ewes drew $6 to $7, and breeder ewes sold for $7 to $10. Old wethers cashed at $7 to $10, and old bucks drew $3 to $4.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Searcy and Misses Margaret and Debra Clowdis visited relatives in Abilene last Sunday.

Mabank, Texas 4-H'er Sectional Winner in Soil Conservation

Don Tommy Elledge

Chicago — For outstanding achievement in his 4-H Club project on Soil and Water Conservation, 17-year-old Tommy Elledge, Rt. 2, Mabank, Texas, has been named one of the 16 top sectional winners in the 1953 National Soil and Water Conservation program.

As a leading soil saver, Tommy won an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago November 29 to December 3 and he also automatically becomes eligible to compete for one of the eight national $300 college scholarships. The awards are given each year by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

Encouraged by his mother, Tommy has been active in soil and water conservation work on their 210-acre farm for the last six years. He began in 1948 by applying fertilizer. He continued his fertilizer program in 1949 and set out 3,000 pine trees. He began mowing the farm pastures in 1950, fertilized 10 acres and planted 2,750 trees.

In 1951, Tommy protected five acres of land with terraces and grassed waterways (dug a pond, stocked two lakes with fish and planted food in each lake. Seeing the increased yield that

'Working Walls' in Garage

MOST garages are used for miscellaneous storage, as well as for housing the family automobile. They're customary depositories for window screens and storm windows, garden tools, bicycles, wagons and a host of other things that have to be stored some place.

A way has been discovered, however, to free the garage corners and rafters of their clutter. Simply go to a lumber dealer and obtain some perforated hardboard panels and metal hangers; they're called Masonite "Peg-Board" panels and fixtures. Nail them right over the wall studs, put in the metal hangers where you want them, and start hanging tools, garden equipment—even the lawnmower and hose!

The appearance of the garage will be improved, and the "working walls" will hold a variety of objects in a handy location which isn't in the way.

There are many places in the home for Masonite "Peg-Board" panels and hangers. They make an ideal location for tools; just hang a panel over the workbench. Line a closet with the perforated hardboard and you'll see how useful the "working walls" can be. More than 60 fixtures which are instantly interchangeable, are available.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Up In Arms Over Dallas Mayor's Plan To Get Rid Of Johnson Grass By Supporting SMU

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is riled up this week, his letter reveals. He'll get over it.

Dear editor:
I generally take a calm attitude toward most things, from high taxes to atom bombs, from trustee elections to Presidential elections, but this week I don't mind sayin' I'm up in arms and frowthin at the mouth.

I was out here yesterday enjoyin' the afternoon sunshine and watchin' my cows graze as peacefully as though there would never be another norther when I decided to look over a copy of the Dallas News which I got home with from town because some shoes I'd had half-soleed was wrapped up in it.

I was readin' along as peacefully as my cows was grazin' when I ran into a statement by no less a man than the mayor of Dallas. It ruined my day.

According to this statement, Dallas is rashly some money to help finance Southern Methodist University and the mayor was urg'n the folks to shell out.

"What would Dallas be like without SMU?" the Mayor asked. "Why, it would set our city back more than half a century," he answered.

"The culture and atmosphere derived from the university are what we need to build the great Southwestern city we are tryin' to build."

Well, up to there, what he said suited me all right. I'm in favor of all institutions of higher learning. There's a period in lots of young people's lives and most professors' when college is about the only handy place for em at the time.

But the Dallas mayor kept on talkin'.

"When you wonder about how much to give in this drive," he continued, "just envision a pasture of Johnson grass. That's what was out there before they built SMU."

That's what burns me up. What's wrong with Johnson grass? And further more, that's the first time I ever heard of anybody recommendin' supportin' a university because it got rid of Johnson grass. There ought to be some other reason for supportin' a university, and some way of gettin' rid of Johnson grass.

In fact, if the mayor is gonna set out to eradicate Johnson grass by bulldin' universities on it, he's gonna wind up with more universities on his hands than he knows what to do with. Up to now, there ain't been a university anywhere with the brains to figure out an easy way to get rid of Johnson grass, outside I guess of smotherin' it to death with buildings.

I wish to inform the Dallas mayor I got lots of Johnson grass out here on my farm, but it never occurred to me to attack it with a university.

The mayor has gone too far. There's room in Texas for SMU and Johnson grass, too. I hope Dallas puts its SMU drive over, but I can tell em now it's one of the most impractical ways I know to get rid of Johnson grass.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

MORE LIGHT . . . MORE EGGS . . .

Laying hens need 12 to 14 hours of light daily to maintain top egg production, says W. J. Moore, extension poultry husbandman.

While the layers aren't especially concerned with the situation, Moore explains that light influences a secretion from the pituitary gland. This glandular stimulus makes the birds consume more feed and water. The result is extra eggs and a profit from the lighting system.

One 40-watt bulb for each 200 square feet of floor space is sufficient, Moore says. Shallow reflectors make the lights more effective. Commence using light now, he adds, and increase the lighting period as the days become shorter. Perches, feeding hoppers and watering troughs should also be lighted.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Wins Landscaping Award

For greatly improving her family's homestead surroundings, Martha Branum, 14, Brownwood, has been named State winner in the 1953 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds program.

A keen interest in landscaping and persistent efforts to overcome the obstacles of irrigation and fertilizing were well rewarded when Martha converted a barren clay yard into attractive landscaping.

She planted 35 different species of shrubs, flower beds and carpet grass, and kept them flourishing by pruning, spraying and mulching. She also learned how to make cuttings successfully.

Mrs. Charles R. Wiegman of Chicago rewarded Martha's efforts with a handsome 19-jewel wrist watch, appropriately inscribed.

Gets Frozen Foods Award

A 19-jewel wrist watch was presented to Ruth Ann Heider, 16, Orange Grove, who won State honors in the 4-H Frozen Foods program for Club boys and girls. The watch was provided by the International Harvester Co.

In qualifying, she learned skills in preparing and packaging frozen foods, how to use freezing equipment economically and the types of foods best adapted to freezing.

During the five years of her frozen foods project Ruth Ann has frozen 161 cartons of vegetables, 224 cartons of fruit and 1,081 pounds of meat. During 1953 she put up peaches, cauliflower, pinto beans, steaks, bacon, sausage, butter, grape juice and pecans.

Ruth Ann Heider is the types of foods best adapted to freezing.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Gets Meat Animal Award

The State award for all-around accomplishment in the 4-H Meat Animal program in 1953 went to Charles Hood, 17, Lometa.

Learning the best methods of feeding and management, he raised 26 steers, 61 hogs and 29 regular cattle. He harvested 1,600 of broomcorn and 321 bales of hay. Last year he was president of Lometa 4-H Club. The first time he won the grand champion of the county show was in 1950. He has won many awards on his calves and hogs.

Charles lives on a 648-acre farm with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hood, and is active in church and community affairs.

In recognition of his accomplishments, Thomas E. Wilson provided the 17-jewel pocket watch award.

LOUISIANA TO HOLD COTTON FESTIVAL

Louisiana will hold its first annual Cotton Festival next Labor Day.

The formation of the Louisiana Cotton Festival Association, sponsored by the Louisiana V. F. W., the American Legion, and their auxiliaries, was announced recently at Ville Platte, La.

The Cotton Festival will serve a dual purpose. In addition to the festivities and entertainment programs, it will serve as a stimulus to the state's cotton production and consumption, association leaders pointed out.

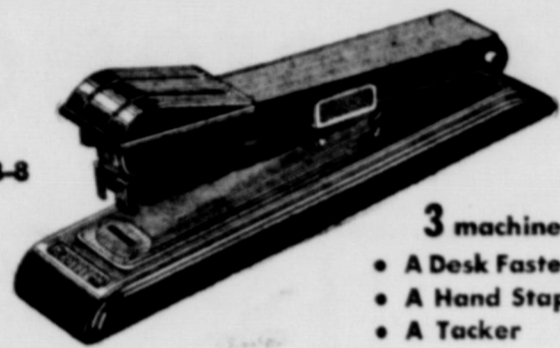

Cotton is Louisiana's greatest crop, they note. One of the association spokesmen points out, "Cotton is not only rooted deep in our history and culture, but it is the greatest booster of business the state possesses. It is the cotton farmer, at the time of harvest, who primes the pump of commerce."

The festival will emphasize particularly the one-variety cotton production of the Evangeline Parish area.

Fabric warmth depends on construction, thickness, and finish, rather than fiber. After extensive research, the Army replaced heavy woolen overcoats with light-weight, wind-resistant cottons for cold weather service in the field.

CANTALOUPE VARIETY READY FOR RELEASE

Rio-Gold, a new disease resistant cantaloupe which is described as having an excellent flavor, is now available to growers.

Developed at the Lower Rio Grande Valley Experiment Station in 1950, the variety has several characteristics superior to Rio-Sweet. G. H. Godfrey, plant pathologist at the Weslaco station, says Rio-Gold has an attractive, deep tender flesh with an excellent flavor and a high sugar content. The vines are highly resistant to downy mildew and fairly resistant to powdery mildew and aphids.

Rio-Gold was first recognized as a distinctive strain late in the spring of 1950 when found on a vine that bore bright, well-netted melons of high quality.

Trail plantings at various locations brought favorable response in appearance and eating quality, Godfreys says.

Limited quantities of Rio-Gold seed for trial plantings and seed increase are available from Foundation Seed Section, Department of Agronomy, Texas A. & M. College, College Station, Texas.

Scientists have found ways to make cotton into cloth without spinning and weaving. These "non-woven" cottons can be used for napkins, diapers, tea bags, and other items inexpensive enough to be thrown away after one or two uses.

Hold's Christmas Tree

The season's first ice storm taught me a lesson—one I'd like to pass on to you. With that storm, old TV mast came tumbling down, something we'd never dreamed of. But now we know better than to be satisfied with any antenna—we shopped around before buying a new one.

Did you know that there are half a dozen different kinds of TV masts available—that they all look alike when new? But after a few months on your roof-top, the differences show up (as we discovered).

Our TV dealer, Mr. Johnston, told us that a well-engineered mast has to be strong and rigid enough to withstand wind, rain, hail, ice, snow. It must be corrosion proof because a rusty mast is weakened, and rust will stain the roof or siding of your house.

Because we rely completely on Mr. Johnston's dependable judgment, we took his advice on the type of mast to buy. He's putting up one that's made of electric welded steel, 1 1/2" in diameter, coated inside and out with plastic. It's called Perma-Tube and it's corrosion proof. The steel itself is 16 gage (1/16" thick). This, Mr. Johnston explained, is a specially developed grade of steel that is twice as strong as grades commonly used.

With our new TV mast, I knew we won't have to worry about bad weather—and we're so glad we shopped around. After all, in these days of high prices, none of us can afford to buy inferior merchandise that needs constant replacing—can we?

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Indigestion is so common that many persons hardly give it a thought. So-called indigestion may be caused by trouble in the digestive tract itself or somewhere else in the body. The reason trouble elsewhere in the body may cause indigestion is that the digestive tract, and especially the stomach, is very sensitive to disturbances in other parts of the body. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns not to doctor yourself because indigestion can be due to so many causes that you are apt to be wrong, and delay in seeing your doctor may be serious.

Indigestion appears in various ways. There is the kind that hits suddenly and violently, with pain, nausea or vomiting and takes the "stareh" out of you. Then there is the kind that creeps up on you, manifesting itself in a feeling of fullness after eating, that lump in your middle, or maybe a burning sensation or gnawing feeling a few hours after eating. Other symptoms are excessive gas, constipation, diarrhea and a sour bad PREVENT injuries when using a screw driver by maintaining and handling it properly! These tips were issued by the National Safety Council, and they're worth a thought by every home craftsman.

1. Never use screw drivers with split or splintered handles.
2. Always use a screw driver that fits the screw.
3. Dress the point if it is worn, bent or broken.
4. Use an awl, auger, drill, or driven nail to start each screw. On rough work use a hammer.
5. Place the work on a flat surface; do not hold it in your hand.
6. For electrical work, use screw drivers with insulated handles.

Howard Barnett, who is employed in Stamford, spent the week end with his family here.

Mrs. M. E. Heald and daughter of Dickens visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sams, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steadman and children of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Redwine, over the week end.

M. B. Gillentine of Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Gillentine, over the week end.

Miss Ornithene Barnett had as her guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Tom Porter of Seymour and Mrs. John Dutton and Mrs. Nute Smith of Knox City.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Q. I am continually finding dirty fingerprints on my kitchen cabinets and doors. I have tried cleaning painted woodwork with ordinary cleansers but the paint comes off as well. Isn't there some product which will clean woodwork without removing the finish?

A. Yes there is. Ordinary baking soda is magic in removing sticky paw marks from painted woodwork. Baking soda is non-abrasive so it can't mar the finish. Just sprinkle a little soda on a damp sponge and rub over the spot, rinse and dry. — presto, the dirt vanishes! For larger areas, a solution of baking soda and warm water— 2 tablespoons soda to one quart water— will do the trick.

Church services were also held at the Church of God in Christ last Sunday, Elder Brooks, pastor.

Mrs. Beatrice Tucker and Mrs. Addie Lee Smith gave a birthday party honoring Samuel Robinson last Wednesday night. Several friends of the honoree enjoyed the delicious refreshments of cake and ice cream.

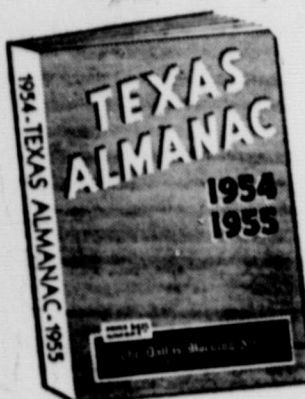

One of the highlights of our P.T. A. this year was the Fellowship dinner held last Tuesday night at the school. Preston Sherrad was maste of ceremony for the occasion. Local talent drawn from parents and teachers provided the inspiring program. Over forty parents and friends enjoyed the delicious chicken dinner. A free-will offering of $15.45 was realized. To our parents and friends who helped make this a happy occasion, we owe so much. Miss A. D. Clay is P.T. A. sponsor.

We thank Mrs. Mae Bowden for the magazines donated our school last week.

DECEMBER FOOD LIST

The December "plentiful foods" list recently released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture gives us a sneak preview of how the holiday dinner table may look.

Pecans and raisins for that fruit cake, peanuts for a side-dish appetizer and fresh fruits such as grapefruit and winter pears are available in abundance at reasonable prices. The meat course can be supplemented by potato dishes from one of the biggest crops in the past three years.

For that pre-holiday food fare, the popular year-round favorites of beef, frozen fish and dairy products are selling at comparatively low prices. And dinner preparations will be aided by a number of food fats and oils which are plentiful and cheap right now.

Potatoes head the supply list due to unusually large production in Maine and the Red River Valley. Growers and sellers rate them of good quality, ideally suited for home storage.

Pecans are being harvested in Georgia and Alabama, both native and paper shell varieties, and the prices are right. The Texas crop is light, however, and the paper shells are scarce which might be reflected in the price tag.

A lot of onions are going to market from the major Eastern producing areas. This year's crop is expected to be the third largest on record. Texas grapefruit is coming again from the Rio Grande Valley—about one million boxes of it—and a total of 44.4 million boxes will be offered for sale this season.

Winter pear supplies are above the average for the past five years and should rate a special spot in your meal planning and holiday fruit bowls. Record levels of dairy products are available for Christmas baking needs.

Supplies of grass-fed cattle are tapering off this month but intermediate and lower grade beef will be plentiful. Economy cuts of beef worthy of attention from the penny-wise housewife, and so are the many available varieties of frozen fish.

This year's crop of honey is excellent and abundant. Texas cabbage shouldn't be overlooked in bargain hunting, either.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

STAR PRINT FOR STAR

It's playtime for pretty Virginia Mayo, Warner Bros. movie star. At California desert resort, the blonde beauty chooses a comfortable cotton playsuit by Rose Marie Reid for her leisure hours. The one-piece suit with an off-the-shoulder neckline is designed in a star-print cotton.

SPROTT TAKES HIGH POSITION

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said retirement of F. M. Cowsert as Director of Law Enforcement for the Commission brings another veteran official into the important position. He is E. M. Sprott who has been Warden Supervisor for the vast East Texas area with headquarters at Lufkin. Sprott joined the force November 12, 1936.

Likewise, another veteran member of the Law Enforcement Division will be moved up to take Sprott's old assignment. He is Warden H. A. Ellis of Karnack, who has been with the Commission staff since 1937.

Cowsert, who will take a position as regional supervisor, has just finished thirty years with the Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Robertson of Dallas were week end guests in the home of her sister, Mrs. Sargen Lowe, and family.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hardy and children were business visitors in Stamford last Sunday.

Miss Patsy Morrow of Abilene spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. Freddie Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Edgar were business visitors in Wichita Falls last Saturday and also visited a while in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jungman were business visitors in Dallas the first of this week.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Case of "Moostaken" Identity

Slim Smith never had a chance to use his moose call until a trip north this year. Visited him yesterday to see what he'd bagged. "First day out," he told me, "I picked up a trail. I sounded the call and waited. Then I heard a moose call. Sure enough, something came crashing through the brush. But it was another guy with his moose call. Boy, did I get my finger off the trigger in a hurry!"

"My last day there I picked up another trail. This time I got me a real moose. But you can bet I took a good look before I did any shooting!"

From where I sit, we could all learn a little from Slim's experience. Most of us are guilty sometime or other of being too quick on the trigger. Like the fellow who would deny me the right to an occasional glass of beer with my dinner. I say that kind of "aim" is way off!

Mrs. Clyde Taylor Gives Account Of P.-T. A. Convention In San Antonio

"Safeguarding Our Freedoms"—theme of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers for 1953-54—was the keynote of the State Convention (46th annual event of its kind) in San Antonio. The historical landmarks of the city reminding the delegates of Colonel Travis and his immortal words, "Never surrender or retreat" and the heroic action of such valiant men as Bonham, Crockett and Bowie defending the Alamo, made an indelible impression upon our minds that our freedom is a wonderful heritage bought with sublime courage and sacrifice of blood and lives. We owe a debt for that heritage! To pay that debt every citizen has a duty to safeguard that freedom—How? Through responsible citizenship.

Through panels, lectures and demonstrations we were told and shown how to face up to our responsibility as citizens and as parents. Mrs. Newton P. Leonard, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, emphasized the fact that any age has failed to preserve the nation's heritage if it has failed to do its best for the education of its youth. Then, almost as if she were pointing her finger at the individual, she struck out with the thought that it is not communism that will undermine our freedom, but our greatest enemy today is individual apathy, individual indifference, individual irresponsibility, realizing that she was probing the heart of the local areas. Mrs. Leonard urged us to go home and combat this enemy and through P.T.A. efforts "develop the background for a world peace through concern and interest for children" and I had the feeling that she did not mean interest in my own children—but all children.

W. A. Early, president of the National Education Association, requested the aid of parents to perpetuate democracy through our public schools. He stated that 400,000 teachers have left the schools in the past few years. This is appalling in view of the rapid increase in school population. Mr. Early stated "the pocket nerve in the body, but parents must realize their responsibility for schools"; and stressed this fact to parents, "school teachers should never have to mention money or salaries. That is your job for it is to benefit your children". Mr. Early gave a pertinent warning when he said, "There are some who don't believe in public education and want an ignorant peasantry they can control. Such people do all they can to discredit public education."

The address of the Honorable Robert D. Murphy, assistant secretary of state, was the principal feature of the entire convention program. He was pinch hitting for President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who had been invited to appear. He spoke in defense of the United Nations as he pointed out citizenship responsibility in world affairs, declaring that Unesco, a branch service of the United Nations, had been cleared of charges of advocating super government, interference in American school system, and atheistic bias. He maintained that the strength of the United States was dependent upon membership, our actions (in Korea) could have caused imperialistic accusations. Defense of the U. N. included the statement that the U. S. participation cost the average American citizen only $1.00 per year.

CORDUROY CASUAL

The address of Mr. Murphy, emphasizing reasoning and influence as better tools than material aid for spreading democracy, was significant because it touched upon the controversial issue that was given so much newspaper publicity during the convention.

The controversy which caused reporters to describe one session as "stormy", another as "quiet on the surface", was the inclusion in the 1953-54 P.T.A. platform of and aim to support the United Nations in an effort to instill in our children an understanding, and respect for, all people.

As people went away from the convention, the feeling was general that the controversy, the unprecedented nomination of a candidate from the floor, and the vote which faced the candidate on the nominating ticket 5-1 were more than evidence that the P.T.A. is a democratic organization—its members, as a whole, being able to think clearly on vital issues.

To me, the most vital thought to be gleaned from the convention came from Mrs. Leonard when she said, "Education is big business and its biggest problem is learning to live with our fellow man", and that begins at home and is dependent on our faith in God.

(Signed) Mrs. Clyde Taylor, Representative and voting delegate of the Munday P.T.A.

There are at least five reasons why planting seed should be treated. Seed borne diseases are controlled; the seed are protected in the soil; stands are improved; yields are increased and quality of the crop is improved.

Soil that is unprotected from winter rains may suffer from erosion. The blanket of green will retard run-off and permit more water to soak into the soil. This is in addition to the value of the cover crop for grazing and soil building. For the sake of the soil, give it cover.
