Those two northers that whipped across the area during the past week were mute reminders that winter is no longer just around the corner.

Just like Christmas-it's right on us, now.

Maybe we should take lessons from the animals. Even fur-bearing animals grow a thicker coat of fur in the winter, and the little squirrel stores up his winter's needs before cold weather. . . . .

Christmas is a nice time for everybody, we guess, except post office employees.

While most of us are enjoying the extra mail we get at this particular holiday period, the post office crew is hard worked to get it to us on time.

And we reckon we're a little late in making the suggestion, but we expect Lee Haymes and others at the post office would City. appreciate your mailing your Christmas packages before the last minute.

DON'T LET DEATH TAKE YOUR

"Jingle bells, jingle bells, jingle all the way, Oh what fun it is to ride in a one-horse open sleigh!"

HOLIDAY!

You don't see many one-horse open sleighs at Ch.'s mas time nowadays, but the spirit that prompted the famous song is as strong as ever, Christmas still means happiness and good will

. . . . the spirit of giving and of rejoicing . . . the homey family pleasure of visiting and merry making.

But today things are done with the modern touch. The presents and the merry makers are piled into the family car and whisked away to the family feast in much greater comfort than they were in the days of the one-horse sleigh.

Unfortunately, we can't say that they travel with more safety than they did when Old Dobbin provided the transportation.

The Texas Safety Association states that modern roads and modern touch-control automobiles SHOULD make for safe riding. But the human factor enters in. The speed potential and the ease of operation trick many a driver into recklessness or heedlessness. He steps on the gas, lets his mind dwell on his holiday plans, and is unprepared for a sudden emergency.

That's why so many holiday makers land in the hospital-or worse!

Let's all be sensible about the business of celebrating this year. Let's be determined to stay alert every minute we're at the wheel . . . . keep our minds strictly on the business of driving . . take special precautions whenever the weather warrants . . . . and never drive after drinking! Then death won't take our holiday!

THE DEPRECIATION PROBLEM ON THE FARM

Modern farming is a business, and the farmer must deal with most of the financial problems that are an inescapable part of the operation of any business enterprise.

One of these is depreciation of machinery. Today good mechanical eqiupment is an absolute "must' 'if the farmer is to get maximum production at the lowest cost, and is to conserve and enrich his land not only for his own future use, but for the use of coming generations. That equipment is ruggedly built and has a long life. Even so, it wears out eventually. And before it wears out, it may be made obsolescent by the appearance of new and substantially improved models.

The U. S. Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department has proposed a novel idea. It is called the Farm Machinery Replacent Plan. Under it, the farmer invests an amount equal to his annual machinery depreciation costs in the bonds, and thus methodically builds up a fund to take care of replacement.

The principle back of that idea is a sound one, whether the farmer buys these bonds or decides upon some other method of saving to handle his depercelation needs. A piece of farm equipment represents a substantial outgo-and for farmers as as well as for all the rest of us, it is a lot easier to prepare for a major purchase over a period of time than to have to dig the money up all at once. Most businesses set aside money for deperciation as a matter of routine. The farmer can profitably do the same thing.

WHY DON'T YOU THINK SO?

The apostle Paul stated in Romans 10:17: "So then faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God." Too many times we depend upon our way of thinking in matters of religion. When we say that "I don't think this" or "I think that" we usually mean that I believe this or that. We ask the question then, in the light of the above scripture, Why don't you think so? In other words, if faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God, and Paul says that it does, how do you arrive at your conclusion on matters of religion. For instance: "I don't believe that baptism saves." But why don't you believe or think so? Remember that faith cometh by hearing the word of God. The word of God in 1 Peter 3.21 says, "The like figure where unto even baptism doth also now save us . . . . "It does or it doesn't, the word of God says that it does. So, why don't you think so.

Again, "I think that all you have to do is to have faith, just believe." But the word of God in James 2:24: "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not faith only. We are either justified by faith or we are not. The word of God says that we are not. So, why don't you think

"I think that it is alright to have instrumental music to accompany singing in church worship." If you do then you must have scripture for thinking so. Remember, "So then faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God." There is not the mention of instrumental music in the New Testament, it is the word of God, and that is where we must get our faith.

So, why do you think so?

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

The death some months ago of Will D. Upshaw brought back memories which I had intended Upshaw was a cripple but he had a marvelous spirit and became a highly popular lecturer. The Sunday School class (made I was president, sponsored a lectime, and so he spoke from a audience with his humor, philosophy and pathos.

It was perhaps a year afterward that I heard him again, this time as an evangelist. In the midst of the sermon, a storm blew up and the old church began to shake and shiver and anxious looks were cast. Upshaw said, "In time of danger, I can't think of a better place to be in than a church." the remark calmed the congergation.

At 18 Upshawfell from a wagon on and sustained a spine injury. For seven years, he was bedfast and all the rest of his life he used crutches-except his very last year, yet, thus handicapped he was elected to four terms to Congress from Georgia, wrote seven books, was the Prohibition Party nominee for president in 1932, became an ordained Baptist preacher at 72 and when he died, at 86, he had fust completed a speaking tour of 22 states and seven foreign countries.

Reviewers on some of the big city papers are getting a little kinder in their treatment of books written by Texans and publised in Texas. For a long time, it was the custom to ignore Texas-produced book or to sneer at the contents and the physical makeup, even going to the length of pointing out a typographical error. But not so if the book was published by a bigname company in the East. For example, in the "Autobiography of William Allen White," (Macmillan), "the ark of the cov-

Protect the Birds!

MANY nature lovers enjoy making winter feeding stations for birds. Even in states where the winter is mild, they like having feeders because they attract a steady clientele of feathered folk. One certain way to discourage birds, even with the finest of feeders, is to permit cats to take over the scene. It may be a neighbor's cat, or a stray; whatever the case, one can make sure that the feeding place for birds is safeguarded against such prowlers.

Depending on the location of the feeder, it's easy to protect the pole or tree by installing a metal guard, like one of those pictured. Some sheet metal for the cylindrical guard will serve, or fix up a tall juice cart. A funnel with the spout removed makes an excellent guard. too.—Illustration courtesy of Family Handyman.

Weekly Health

M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN-"Now that winter is here, our thoughts turn to pork roast dinners or perhaps to waffles and sausage supper. From the standpoint of good nutrition, pork is good to eat. It is rich in protein, fat, and vitamin B, but undercooked or raw pork is also the most common source of a disease called trichinosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today.

Trichinosis is caused by a tiny parasite which is found in the muscular tissue of infected animals. When such meat is eaten, the parasites multiply and enter the blood stream, causing fever, intense pain in the muscles and a high white blood cell count. Symptoms of trichinosis are varied. It may be confused with typhoid fever, food poisoning, colitis, rheumatism, pneumonia, and many other diseases. However, you need not worry about becoming ill with this disease if you cook your pork thoroughly.

According to Dr. Cox, pork that has been thoroughly cooked will not transmit Trinchinellathey die at 137 degrees Faren-20-tfc heit. When pork becomes white and no pink color remains in the center of the cut as well as around the edges, it is safe to Charles Moorhouse, phone eat. Long, slow cooking will do the trick and retain the delicious juices of the pork.

This disease is transmitted in hogs principally by the feeding of uncooked garbage which invariably includes raw pork scraps containing the parasite of trichnosis. It is, therefore, essential for hog raisers and farmers ed in Dallas the first of this to cook all garbage before feed- week ing it to swine. 'Sportsrobe' for Sportsman

FOR the sportsman, a cabinet designed for guns, fishing rods and other paraphernalia is a necessity. The one shown can be made by the amateur craftsman using rdinary tools.

Commodious and well-designed, the "sportsrobe" has ample room for not only guns and fishing rods out for outdoor clothing, golf clubs nd even a youngster's baseball quipment. There is a drawer space at the bottom (22 by 44 inches) for the storage of tackle boxes, horsehoes, a croquet set and other items.

There are shelves that pull out, shelves on the door, and two hat shelves. The back and inside lining of the sides is Masonite "Peg-Board" paneling, with hundreds of perforations into which fit metal fasteners. On these, the sportsman suspends a variety of items he wants to store. The perforations rovide excellent ventilation, too.

Materials for this good-looking sportsrobe" are available at lumer yards. The exterior of the cabinet is Masonite Leatherwood, rich-looking, rugged hardboard that looks like Spanish-grain eather-very masculine. A free plan giving easy directions for making the sportsrobe may be obtained by writing Home Service Bureau, Suite 2039, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Illinois, and requesting Project No.

HAVE YOU TOOK CHRIST OUT OF CHRISTMAS?

Christmas is Christ's Birthday. I wonder if there isn't a multutude of people who rob Christ on his birthday and give it to Santa Claus by thinking and doing everything else rather than about our Savior who was born to die for our sins. The question comes to me-What does our Savior think of the way to observe his birthday? If this were our President's birthday, undoubtedly his picture would be in the paper and everyone would know that our president had a birthday, but as for Christ's birthday we see bright lights, Santa Claus, store windows dressed up pretty, but nothing to remind people that Jesus came into the world to save us. There are some who hate to see Christmas come because they have taken Christ out, and put worldly things in his place. There are those who choose Christmas to get drunk and celebrate and then there are a multitude who thing about nothing except the gifts they receive.

If we don't wake up to our disloyalty to our precious Savior and give thanks to our Heavenly Father, that he has allowed the United States to still be free, then I am afraid we will receive our just reward and lose our freedom. God forgive me and all other christians who have been guilty of robbing Christ of his just glory.

John 3:16, For God so loved the world, that He gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.

John 15:12. This is my commandment, That ye love one another as I have loved you.

How many of you really love one another? How many will prove it by helping the poor and needy this Christmas?

1 John 3:17. But whoso hath this world's goods, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in Him? We can have the happiest Christmas ever if we will let Christ come into our lives and be the center of our homes.

One Who Loves the Lord.

Fashion Wise Nurses Seek Smart Styles

The "Modern Miss" is more fashion conscious than any other generation. Fashion is part of the plan to attract 65,000 young women to the nursing profession in this coming year so that we can maintain our American standards of good nursing.

A nurse can have an extensive wardrobe for her "on duty" hours that is pretty and femi-nine while still neat and profes-sional looking. Plus it can be easy to take care of by including the new Dacron uniform pictured This wrinkle resistant uniform is made of a specially designed striped weave fabric made expressly for White Swan Uniforms, and inexpensively priced. Sizes from 10 to 18.

priced. Sizes from 10 to 18.

The softer, feminine look comes to nurses' uniforms through the use of textured fabrics, lighter weight and sheerer fabrics, miracle fibers and fine finishing details. Details a nurse finds in her street clothes such as embroidery, scallops, tucks, arrows and others are included. But one herbicide, alone, doesn't have all these qualities.

There is no use looking for a single super-herbicide to kill all weeds under all conditions and still not hurt the crops. The main reason is that crop plants and weeds are closely related. The only answer is specialization; a specific chemical for specific purpose.

There are hundreds of chemical compounds and they affect plants in nearly as many different ways. One compound may kill one plant but not affect another; the same compound may be harmless to the leaves but deadly when used as a preemergence treatment.

Because of these facts, it is important to have a screening technique that measures a chemical's all-over activity. Such a technique has been developed by scientists in weed research and the results are made available to the public through federal and state agencies and other sources.

Some 400 new chemicals have been evaluated during the past two years. Several chemicals that show promise are under intensive study. It is always a good idea for the farmer or rancher to consult with county agents

More than one-third of all pedestrians killed in 1952 were aged 65 or older," Col. Tilley

"Of a total of 8,600 pedestrian fatalities in traffic accidents last year, 3,000 were in this age group," he explained.

He said, "that several factirs may be involved in the high traffic fatality rate among older pedestrians.

"Often older people have dim-med eyesight and hearing" he said. "Sometimes they can't see or hear approaching cars as readily as younger people.

"Reflexes are slower and the oldsters can't move as fast to get out of danger" Col. Tilley pointed out.

He observed that injuries to older people more often prove fatal. Broken bones mend more slowly and resistance to disease is lower in those of an advanced fic lights, and be sure to look out in bad weather.
