"I hope you don't think I'm 'hep' on the subject," as the old boy says over the radio each morning about the Fort Worth livestock market.

But we have three elections coming up within the next few days in which every qualified voter should cast ballots.

As we said last week, it's the privilege for which you pay your $1.75 poll tax each year, and it's a privilege of which we Americans are justly proud—the right of ballot.

Saturday, there's going to be a school trustee election in each of the common and independent school districts of the county. One or more trustees will be elected.

In Munday, there is no contest, since two are to be elected and only two names appear on the ballot.

But there's one to vote for and one to scratch in the race for county trustee at large. Voters in the school elections here will be furnished two ballots, instead of one.

Over in the Goree school district, voters will have a "scratching" good time, because they can't vote for all the people on the ballot. With two trustees to be elected, there are five names to select these two from.

Saturday is usually followed by Sunday. Then comes Monday, and next Monday is the date for the election to determine if Munday is to have a swimming pool for the youth.

Of course, older people could use the swimming pool, too, but it's primarily the youth who get the most pleasure, recreation and enjoyment out of a swimming pool.

So, on Monday Munday people will be deciding the question of issuance of park bonds, as the ballots will be worded "For the issuance of park bonds," and "Against the issuance of park bonds."

A group favoring a swimming pool—civic clubs and organizations—are running an ad this week in which two questions concerning the pool are answered: Where will it be located? And what will it do to taxes?

Their explanation is that the pool will be located within the city limits of Munday, and not out at the city park. It is understood that the city council will have authority to locate the pool, but it's generally understood since the project was started that the pool would be located within the city limits.

As to taxes, the group explains that the bond issue will not raise them. Of course, the bonds have to be paid off, but they mean that the present rate of taxes won't be raised. Munday's bonded indebtedness will just be extended over a few years longer than if the bonds were not voted.

The other election comes on Tuesday, April 6. In this one we will be electing two members of the City Council—that governing body that tries to keep the town running on an even keel.

This, too, is a no-contest election, since only two names appear on the ballot and two are to be elected, not counting the mayor's race—where only one name appears.

But a big vote of confidence for those boys willing to serve on the City Council wouldn't be a bad idea.

We've always contended that it's a shame for our city councilmen to be elected by so few people, and then so many of us have so many "bellyaches" about the way the town's being run.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Simpson returned last week from a ten day visit with their daughter, Mrs. E. C. Elliott, and family in Globe, Ariz.; his nephew, J. M. Simpson, and family in Masie, Ariz., and his brother, Guy Simpson, and family in Chandler, Arizona.

Buck Tidwell Seeks Office Of Commissioner

Buck Tidwell, well known Knox County farmer, has authorized the Munday Times to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. In making his announcement, Mr. Tidwell said:

"I have lived in this precinct approximately 45 years, and have been engaged in farming during all this time.

"Ninety per cent of the people of this precinct know me and know whether or not I'm qualified for this office, so it's useless for me to try to tell you my qualifications and ability.

"It is my desire to see all the voters in this precinct before election, but in case I do not contact you, let me assure you that your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated."

Plans are going forward for a record attendance at the Farm Bureau's pure seed program meeting at 7:30 p. m. next Monday at the school auditorium. A barbecue supper will be served those who attend, and attendance is urged for everyone interested in growing a better variety of cotton in this area.

Joel Hembre of the State laboratory at Austin will be the principal speaker, explaining advantages of the pure seed program being urged by the Knox County Farm Bureau.

ATTEND P-TA CONGRESS

Mrs. Joe Lane, Mrs. James Carden, as delegates, and Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, as guest, attended the Parent-Teacher Association Congress held in Electra on Friday, March 26th. Mrs. Lane read the unit report for the Munday Parent-Teacher Association.

Russell J. Penick, local farm equipment dealer, was named 1954-55 president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce at the annual banquet last Thursday night. Approximately 300 guests from Munday and 13 surrounding towns attended the banquet.

The slate of new officers is composed of Charles McCauley, vice president; J. Weldon Smith, re-elected treasurer; Mrs. Jimmy Rodgers, re-elected secretary, and W. E. Braly, re-elected representative to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Three new directors are Dorse Collins, Joe Bailey King and McCauley. Retiring directors are Worth Gafford, E. W. Harrell and E. E. King.

Winston Blacklock was master of ceremonies, and J. D. Gillespie, outgoing president, gave recognition to officers and directors. Penick introduced out-of-town guests. Dinner music was provided by the Munday High School band and a local quartet composed of Joe Phillips, Bud Phillips, Harold Jackson and Dickie Ponder. Dinner was served by Walter Jetton's Catering Service of Fort Worth.

Blacklock also introduced the guest speaker, Louie B. Throgmorton, humorist and vice president and director of a Dallas insurance firm. The short, gray-haired humorist brought hilarity to the group with his assortment of jokes which poked fun at his home state of Arkansas, football, drive-in theatres which he termed "sparkling lots, where too many people stopped until they finally started showing pictures," and other bits of modern American life.

In a more serious vein he paid tribute to the American business man and his recently adopted technique, "the personal touch."

"The American business man is responsible for making America what it is—partnership unlimited," he declared. He described America as a place with "lots of yonder."

"All we want and expect to achieve is 'out there,' he said. "This nation was established as a risk and in the beginning it was no picnic. But the United States has developed a type of business man unique to the world. The development and miracles we know today can be achieved only when bodies and minds are free. The three supports of every community are its newspapers, banks and chambers of commerce. The Chamber of Commerce is the springboard for community life.

"Life in America is good for the world and the world is good for America but to be good for each other we must be good TO each other. The American business man is discovering a new creed: 'It's humanity that counts,' and thus learning to inject the personal touch, he declared.

Throgmorton emphasized that this new transition is due to the American business man. "If anything happens to him," he said, "God help America!"

The speaker's appearance in Munday was through the courtesy of the Republic National Life Insurance Company of Dallas.

THE SECOND SIGN

The Texas Safety Association says a child's first sign of personal independence usually is learning to feed himself. Most frequently, the second sign is learning to walk.

Often the first faltering steps are taken before the child's first birthday—and all too often in late years, the same feet, grown larger, carry their owner to sudden death in the middle of a street.

Walking, the second sign of independence, learned so early in life, seldom is learned well enough by the 8,600 pedestrians who were killed or the nearly 165,000 pedestrians who were injured by motor vehicles in 1952.

In all these cases the pedestrians walked into danger spots at the wrong time, even though sometimes they may have had the legal right to be there. Of course in some of these cases the motorist could have prevented the accident if he had observed the laws and common sense safety rules of traffic. But it might very well be that all of these pedestrians, if they had been exercising caution to the fullest extent, never would have walked into the danger that suddenly confronted them.

Last year, 8,600 pedestrians literally "walked themselves to death."

About one-third of this number had been walking for a good many years—they were aged 65 or older. On the other hand, more than one-fourth of the total killed had considerably less walking experience, for they were children under the age of 15.

It seems that death is no respecter of any age group of pedestrians. And it also seems that long years of walking experience do not automatically provide protection.

From the time of the second sign—those first faltering infant steps—from that time forward a person may "walk himself to death."

So it seems only logical to start safety education early—from the time of the second sign—and to continue it for a lifetime. Only such training will make the child, and the adult, a skillful and safe walker, and keep him a live pedestrian, says the Texas Safety Association.

"The growth of demand for electric energy reflects, more completely than probably that of any other business or service, the growth of economic and business activity and the scale of living," W. C. Mullendore, President, Southern California Edison Company.

COMPETITION GETS KEENER

The Port Umpqua Courier of Reedsport, Ore., recently had something significant to say about merchandising and salesmanship.

It observed, "The times are just slipping into history when all a merchant had to do was get hold of the merchandise and the customers would fight over who would get it . . . Competition is getting keener all the time . . . The merchants and the salesmen who earn their livelihood in the little towns will have to get on the ball to hold their friends and neighbors. They will have to give the same service, the same bargains and do the same job of selling as their big city cousins. Salesmanship is a good thing for all of us."

This view of a small-town newspaper editor, incidentally, is a pretty accurate reflection of what leaders in the merchandising business have been saying lately at industry conventions and elsewhere. In both chain and independent store groups, the consensus is that there must be better selling—a term that includes both the human salesman, and such inducements as appealing advertising and displays. In most fields, a strong buyer's market exists today, and progressive retailing fully recognizes the fact.

GOOD START

Now and then some good news comes out of Washington, D. C.

For example, during the first seven months of this fiscal year the government spent $1,600,000,000 less than in the comparable period a year before.

That is certainly a start in the right direction—the only direction that can save us from eventual national bankruptcy. May Congress and the Executive branch not only keep up the good work, but greatly accelerate it.

THE THIRD CONCEPT

It was recently said: "Mass production and mass distribution are two modern phenomena on which American prosperity is founded. But to exploit these two concepts for the maximum benefit of the maximum number of people, a third concept must be added—mass investment."

In other words, industry can no longer rely on a relatively few people to finance expansion and progress. The needed money must come from millions of typical Americans who believe in the economic system and its future. And, most important of all, this is the way to bring about true economic democracy.

SEVEN (NOTS) OF BAPTISM

Baptism is NOT merely a physical act—but a gesture of the heart. (Rom. 6:17).

"But thanks to God, that whereas we were servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching whereunto ye were delivered."

Baptism is NOT a church ordinance—But a command of the gospel. (Mk. 16:16). "He that believeth and is baptised shall be saved, but he that disbelieveth shall be condemned."

Baptism is NOT a christening ordinance—But a condition of remission. (Acts 2:38). "Repent and be baptised every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins."

Baptism is NOT a Christian duty—but a condition of becoming a Christian. (Gal. 3:27). "For as many of you as were baptised into Christ did put on Christ." (Rom. 6:1-18; 1 Pet. 3:21.)

Baptism is NOT sprinkling—but a burial in water and a resurrection. (Col. 2:12). "Having been buried with him in baptism, wherein ye were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised Him from the dead." (Rom. 6:4).

Baptism is NOT a work of man's righteousness—but a command of God's righteousness. (Titus 3:5). "Not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit."

Eloquent indeed is Francis R. Deering in "This Is Houston":

NEED FOR WATER CONSERVATION ACTION

Water conservation is an acre-by-acre, farm-by-farm proposition.

No half-way measures are going to solve the water problem which now plagues Texas. The recent scourge of dust has been a nuisance over the eastern half of our state but it speaks of tragedy to our soil in West Texas.

These storms are just the beginning. Worse is yet to come unless we get water and soil saving projects underway on a state-wide basis immediately.

Dams will be useful in this program but they, alone, are not the final answer. Although we waste 85 per cent of our annual water supply by downstream floods and field runoffs, we need more than dams to hold back the tide.

The practice of every known water and soil conservation measure on the farm level is the first step. Then we need some practical laws which would help control underground and surface supplies in the critical areas of the state. This would help assure a fair distribution of what we have.

In building dams, three types may be necessary; small check dams in the upper tributaries, larger storage dams to furnish municipal water and irrigation, and huge dual-purpose storage and power dams on the major rivers.

All these steps should be considered in seeking a solution. But it would be futile to consider the steps separately. If only the large dams were built, they would soon be clogged with upstream silt due to the lack of other conservation methods.

Our future water supply will determine whether we continue our industrial development in Texas or succumb to economic stagnation.

At least one major industry locates in the Dallas-Fort Worth or Houston areas every day—and a minor industry every hour. But for every one industry we gain, two others turn down Texas as a possible site because of the lack of water.

We must take action on our water problem.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — "Hypervitaminosis is a long word meaning too many vitamins," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The diseased condition probably was derived from the tendency of some persons to think if a little bit does good a lot will do better. This is not the case in taking vitamins or medicines whether prescribed by a physician or taken on one's own initiative. Millions of dollars are spent yearly in synthetic vitamin preparations by persons who mistakenly believe they will counteract careless eating habits or cure numerous ailments. Unless prescribed by a physician for a specific need, synthetic vitamin purchases are usually a waste of money.

Nutritionists have long urged that, except when prescribed by a physician, vitamins be secured from the grocery store in the form of green, leafy, and yellow vegetables and dairy products. This is the more beneficial and economical way of assuring an adequate intake of these necessary substances.

It has been established that Vitamin A and B, taken in excessive amounts are harmful. Other excessive uses of vitamins have resulted in cases of vitamin toxicity. Excessive intake may be as dangerous as deficient intake. Take vitamins only when prescribed by a physician and only in the amount ordered by him.

Senior Class Honored With Spanish Fiesta At Local Church On Friday

Honoring the 1954 graduating class of Munday High School and their sponsors, the Wesleyan Service Guild gave a Spanish Fiesta on Friday evening, March 26, in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church.

The hall was decorated in gay Spanish colors, and cacti and potted plants in the windows carried out the theme. Large and beautiful hats of sombrero type were on the walls. Serapes and charm strings were added to the decorations.

Dorse Collins and John Nixon, dressed in sombrero and serapes, were seated in front of large cactus plants, which added their note of color and atmosphere. The table cloths carried motifs of burros, Mexicans at their siestas, and sombreros.

Hostesses in beautiful Spanish dresses and mantillo were at their many posts of duties, welcoming the seniors and their sponsors upon arrival. The guests were ushered into the church parlor, where cocktails of tomato juice were served, and there the guests were dressed in accessories typical of the Spanish customs.

On entering the dining hall, each guest procured his plate of most delectable Spanish food and was seated at the table.

Following the welcome, given by Mrs. Lee Haymes, Guild president, much food was consumed while the hostesses replenished the plates. The menu consisted of enchiladas, frijoles, tossed salad, green onions, pickles, garlic bread, cakes and pralines.

At the close of the meal, Mrs. Doyle Ragle introduced a trio from the Indian Band of McMurry College, Abilene. The versatile entertainers were Margaret Grisham, Lowell Bynum and Servando Trevino. Margaret played the accordion, and Servando the marimbo and piano.

After many encores, the group was then entertained by trying to sing a few songs in Spanish, led by Lowell Bynum. The closing number, the "pinata," climaxed the program. After several tries at breaking the "pinata," a senior finally succeeded, and there was much scrambling for the goodies.

The evening's entertainment closed with many "thank you's" for a lovely evening by the following: Supt. and Mrs. W. C. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Goolsby, and members of the senior class.

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

At the beginning of this session of Congress, it was stated by the Speaker of the House and others here in Washington that this session would come to an end around July 1st. If this were true, we would now be about half through. So far, the House, as far as major legislation is concerned, has only passed the tax bills. Yet to be considered are most of the appropriations among which are included some that are out to be highly controversial such as the appropriations for foreign aid and the defense program. Congress also has yet to consider several basic programs of the government such as the revision of the social security laws that the President has recommended and the writing of a new agricultural program. The Committee on Agriculture in the House is now holding hearings on new agricultural legislation, and it now appears that it will probably be at least two or three weeks before these hearings are concluded, and probably a month or six weeks before their final reports are made and the bills written. At this time, of course, no one knows exactly what the recommendations of the Agriculture Committee will be. In view of the fact that so few of the really major pieces of legislation have been acted on and so much remains to be done, it seems highly probable that this session of Congress will go far beyond the deadline of July 1st, or that if we do recess around July 1st, that there will be a fall session.

The National Cherry Blossom Festival is being held here March 30th through April 3rd. This is an annual spring festival that is built around the blooming of the cherry trees around the Tidal Basin here in Washington. The beauty of these blossoms is really spectacular. The program includes the usual things that go with a festival of this type such as parades, floats, princesses, and queens. One interesting feature will be the presentation of a twenty-ton granite lantern by the Japanese Ambassador to our Government as a symbol of the everlasting friendship between the Japanese people and this country. The course of human events takes many odd turns. Who would have thought, a few years ago, that here in the Capital we would be receiving anything to symbolize the everlasting friendship between our country and Japan? I hope that nothing occurs in the future that will ever again disrupt the friendship between the United States and Japan.

Rev. Richard Irvin, who was formerly pastor of the Asbury Methodist Church in Denton, and who is now with the General Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church, Director of Special Projects Department, in Washington, offered a very beautiful prayer to open the session of the House on Tuesday of this week. Rev. Irvin, who is relatively a new-comer to Washington, has made many friends on Capitol Hill.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK

BY TED GOULDY

SHEEP, HOGS ABOVE 1953 LEVELS, CATTLE ARE LOWER

On the basis of current prices at Fort Worth, sheep and lambs are selling from $1 to $1.50 per hundred above a year ago, and best fat lambs are $2 to $3 ahead of the closing days of March, 1953.

Hogs are $5 to $6.50 above the same time a year ago, and top hogs at the long end of the advance, with sows $5 above a year ago at this time.

Slaughter steers and yearlings average about 50c below a year ago, but most cows sell today $1 to $2 under the last week in March, 1953. Calves and stocker classes are as much as $3 below last year at this time, some stocker cows $3 to $5 under 1953 prices at this time. Bulls are $3 under a year ago.

CATTLE STEADY TO WEAKER ON MONDAY

The cattle and calf trade at Fort Worth Monday was again hit or miss affair with the stocker outlets limited to the better quality steer calves and steer yearlings, and little activity on stocker cows. Plainer stockers generally sold at their butcher values.

Fed steers and yearlings were steady, and cows and bulls were little changed. The narrow stocker outlet was a depressing note in the trade.

Good and choice fed steers drew $18 to $22.50 and plain to medium butcher sorts sold from $13 to $17. Fat cows drew $10.50 to $13, and canners and cutters cashed at $7 to $10.50. Bulls drew $10 to $15.

Good and choice fat calves drew $16 to $20, and common and medium offerings sold from $13 to $16, with cull kinds from $10 to $13.

Good and choice stocker steer calves and steer yearlings drew $16 to $19, and heifer calves and heifer yearlings brought 2 to $3 less than comparable quality steers. A few replacement cows drew $10 to $12.50, and dealers reported stocker cows trade was stymied by the dry weather.

Some rain in Corn Belt areas, and some rain in Kansas and Oklahoma Flint Hills and Osage sections was reported last week. However, the stock water situation was still unrelieved in Kansas. Subnormal moisture continues to be general in most big livestock states, with the Great Plains in particular in bad shape. The wheat crop is reported hanging by a slim thread.

SHORN LAMBS HIT NEW HIGH AT $23.00

Shorn old crop fat lambs hit a new top at $23 at Fort Worth Monday and the run of 15,000 head on the yards was also the largest of the season so far. Spring lambs again topped at $27, equalling the year's best.

Trade was slowed somewhat by higher asking prices and by the time required to sort the run and grade the various classes for selling. However, feeder buyers, order buyers and the local packers apparently felt the need for supplies and by the time the dust settled, prices were steady across the board.

Good and choice milk fat lambs $24 to $27, and cull, common and medium milk lambs (including some milk-less ones) sold from $15 to $23. Shorn fat lambs of good and choice grades sold from $20 to $23, while cull, common and medium shorn lambs sold from $12 to $19.

Stocker and feeder shorn lambs sold from $16 to $20.50, some lambs at the top price carrying a good percentage of fat lambs. Yearlings and two's sold from $14 to $18.50, and old wethers drew $11 to $14. Slaughter ewes bulked at $7 to 9.50. Old bucks $4 to $6.

The sheep trade at Fort Worth Monday saw packers working on both feeder, as well as fat types of lambs. Many of these are being shipped to Corn Belt feedlots by the packers for further finishing. This apparently stems from the feeling on their part that fat lambs will be in short supply for at least another 45 days, perhaps longer.

HOGS UP 50c

Hogs were strong to 50c higher at Fort Worth Monday and topped at $27 to $27.25. Choice hogs of 180 to 285 pounds drew the top. Sows at $21 to $24 were on the strong side. Some big weights sold to $23 and above.

"Basement Improvement"

NOW available in book stores, The Complete Book of Basement Improvement fills a need in handicraft literature. This well-illustrated book contains detailed instructions on building a playroom, office or study, workshop and hobby room, laundry and utility room, rumpus room, staircases, closets, bookcases, cupboards, wardrobes and other built-ins.

The author, a leading handicraft expert, gives basic information on the construction of various basement installations, including walls, ceiling, floor covering, laundry chute with ventilation by means of Masonite perforated Presdwood, a child's slide adjacent to the basement stairs, a combination ping-pong table and model railroading roadbed, a desk wall unit, a pottery bench, a bar, and numerous other built-ins.

Heralded as the average man's answer to the problem of how to make the basement livable and functional, Basement Improvement gives the reader data on the newest building materials applicable to basement projects, as well as the established standbys such as Masonite Presdwood and other wallboards.

Activities of The Colored People

Preaching services were held at West Beulah Baptist Church last week, conducted by Rev. A. C. Bennett, pastor of the Church of God in Christ of Abilene and Knox City. These services were under the auspices of the Mission department. Sunday, the week's activities were climaxed by a program in the afternoon, featuring an interesting talk by Mrs. Fannie M. Johnson. Mrs. Lola Jones had charge of the program.

The Y. P. W. W. joint meeting of the Church of God in Christ was held here last Sunday afternoon. Representatives from several churches were present. An inspiring message was brought by Rev. R. J. Walker of Stamford.

Mrs. Aline Ross was called last week to Amarillo to attend the funeral of her nephew.

The children of the primary department presented an interesting program centered around Spring in our assembly last Friday.

We certainly appreciate the dishes donated our school by Mrs. Tom Phillips, and the magazines donated us by Mrs. Oates Golden.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Gets Upset Over Nebraska Editor Reporting A Tornado Welcomed In His Town

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek must have his mind on tornadoes, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
A pretty high wind was blowing out here on my farm the other day and I was standing by the side of the barn with a dip net seeing how many newspapers I could catch as they blew past and after I'd gotten all I figured I needed, never like to see a man make a pig of himself, with fish or newspapers either, I got in out of the wind and started reading.

Over on an inside page of one paper I ran into an article that knocked me over, even if I was out of the wind.

According to this article, a tornado hit a town up in Nebraska a while back and blew down a lot of buildings and after it was over the editor of the local newspaper out there said it was a good thing, it should have happened 20 years earlier, now the town could get some modern buildings.

I want you to know I do not take such an attitude, and I hope the idea will not spread.

My barn, for example, is not what you'd call modernistic. It ain't exactly upright, it may lean a little to the east, the roof may leak in some places, but I wouldn't be interested in encouraging a tornado to attend to it. It doesn't take a cow long to find out where the dry spots are in a barn, and I figure a barn which has leaned for twenty years can go on leaning a few years more. Or take my house. It ain't what you'd call any style of architecture in particular, and I guess there are some people who might call it an eyesore, but I can sleep as sound in it as I could in a 20-room mansion and frequently there are times when I get more sleep in it than Eisenhower does in the White House. I'll admit the front gate sags, but not any more than the shoulders of lots of men who have worked their heads off to get bronze hinges on their gates. As for me, I got sense enough to put my shoulders ahead of my gate.

Understand, I'm not opposed to progress, I like to see new buildings go up, new homes, etc., but I don't want anybody, either a tornado or the government, telling me when I ought to do something about my own premises. Even a few well-placed bombs might result in eventual progress, but I doubt if there's anybody in favor of one fallin' in his vicinity.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pruitt and sons and Mrs. Dee Clough visited Miss Peggy Clough in Arlington and relatives in Fort Worth and Dallas over the week end.

How Well Do You Know Coffee?

Coffee trees bear white flowers which resemble orange blossoms and have a heavy, jasmine-like fragrance. A coffee farm in full flower is a scene of breath-taking beauty.

Because ideal coffee growing climate is between 65 and 75 degrees, the plants are extremely sensitive to frost. They also need plenty of solar and moderate sunshine. Last July, millions of trees were destroyed by freakishly low temperatures in Brazil.

Yields 1 lb.

It takes the entire crop of one coffee tree to produce a single pound of roasted coffee!

The fruit of the coffee tree is called a "cherry" and resembles our edible cherry. It takes 5 years before the tree matures. If then bears about 2000 cherries, each of which must be hand-picked.

FILM BATTLE FOR "HONDO" TOO REAL, LAYS "INJUNS" LOW

Over-enthusiastic Indians clashed in a movie battle with a group of Hollywood stunt men in "Hondo," the John Wayne starrer, and each team sent three casualties to the bench.

Powder burns were suffered on the shoulder by Fred Krone; Charles Hayward got a deeply gashed right leg in a spill from his horse; and Frank McGrath was gouged in the chest with a spear.

The Indians, playing Indians, received fall injuries, bruises, and conked nogging. John Wayne, the star, and John Farrow, the director, were delighted with the scene but had to put a restraining order for future battle tangles.

"Hondo," a Wayne-Fellows production for Warner Bros., comes to the Roxy Theatre on Sunday and Monday in 3-D and Warner-Color.

Farmers May Get Land Measured Before Seeding

Knox County cotton growers can arrange for official measurement of their 1954 cotton-acreage allotments prior to planting time, the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced this week.

To get the pre-measurement service, which is being provided on a cost basis, a cotton farmer must file a written request with the county SAC office prior to April 26, 1954, says Mr. Jones, committee chairman. The rate to be charged for the service in Knox County has been established.

NEW DIRECTORS—Pictured above are the three new directors of the Munday Chamber of Commerce who were elected for three-year terms and announced at the annual meeting Thursday night. They are, left to right, Joe Bailey King, Charles McCauley and Dorse Collins.

"The pre-measurement is purely optional," says Mr. Jones, "and is offered as a service to growers who prefer to have an official measurement to use as a planting guide."

The chairman explains that all cotton acreage in the county will be measured as soon as possible after the cotton "comes up" to determine compliance with the acreage allotment-marketing quota program. When compliance is checked, the farm will be considered to be within the farm acreage allotment if the crop is planted with the pre-measured area.
