

Kracker Krumps Odds Bits Salvaged at Random

"Uncle Claude," writing in The Claude News, gives some of the woes of a newspaper editor.

Although his views are a little magnified and off-center, in our opinion, we regarded his article as somewhat humorous. Believe we'll pass it on to you:

"Could never understand the psychological make-up of weekly editors. Any of them could probably double their money in any other field, but they keep plugging along on borrowed time and money. They are kidding no one but themselves, but man, do they kid themselves.

"Linotype operators draw down $2.25 an hour, work 40 hours a week, enjoy sickness and retirement benefits, two weeks paid vacation, work in air conditioned plants and perform only one job, punch a keyboard. (Here he probably meant union operators in larger plants.)

"The editor's life is much simpler. He is editor, publisher, stereotyper, press feeder, mechanic, linotype operator, floor man, advertising salesman, job printer, reporter, editorial writer, philosopher, kicking dog for the community and some times a husband and father.

"If he gets down early in the morning, people think he's greedy and eager. If he comes down late they call him lazy.

"If he works all night, which he usually does, they accuse him of tom-cattling around, and if he attempts to visit his home once a week, they accuse his wife of running around with a strange man.

"He doesn't have many children because the only thing he knows is how to put the paper to bed.

"He makes double contributions to all worthy causes, once in cash and once to a half dozen times through the columns of his paper, but he is accused of being tight when the cash contribution doesn't equal at least half of all other such contributions and he isn't being inconsiderate if he doesn't give at least three columns (and two days time in writing them) about the favorite charity in question.

"If he makes mistakes in the paper, he's not very bright and if he misspells a proper name, like Krattorely (the i was left out of that one because it failed to fall on the machine) he has another enemy and a lost subscriber who will borrow the paper from his neighbor. He can't get sick because no one else in town can run the paper, and if he takes a vacation he will invariably visit another shop and shop talk until the wee hours.

"When he gets home he finds a half dozen canceled ad contracts because business is slow and besides "That cute little calendar salesman just sold us 5,000 of the most gorgeous calendars on the market. They didn't cost but 25c each." or "I gave that letterhead job to a fellow passing through. He seemed like a nice guy, and you oughta hear this joke he told me."

"Last week I asked the boys why they did it and they looked at me like I was the one that was crazy. So I just took out my whittling stick and whistled off to my west forty. The green bugs, drouth, dust storms and Republican administration don't seem half as bad as they once did. Besides I don't have to eat The Claude News when I get hungry.

The writer must have been rubbed the wrong way that day. Personally, we stay in the weekly editor's office for two reasons—we like it, and we wouldn't know what else to do.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By W. J. Bryan, Knox County Agent

I have had a good many inquiries about the possibilities of growing Sesame in Knox County and for this reason I have scheduled a meeting for Thursday, February 4th at 7:30 p. m. at the Munday Grade School to discuss Sesame production.

Mr. Robert L. Parker manager of the Secure Seed Growers Association will be there to answer any questions that you might have about the crop and also show a movie. The movie covers all the steps in Sesame production.

Sesame is new as a commercial crop in Texas, but shows promise as a cash crop. It is an oil seed crop, producing a bout 50% oil of the highest kind. The meal left is considered one of the best livestock supplements being 53% protein.

Farmers who raised sesame last year cleared from $50 to $85 per acre, but there is no assurance the price will remain as high in the future.

Sesame was grown in Baylor County last year with very good results, and may be a good crop for us in the future, the main problem now is harvesting.

I would like for any of you who are interested in finding out more about the crop to attend the meeting, February 4th, and ask Mr. Parker any questions that you have in mind.

Three Knox County 4-H'ers will go to Fort Worth this week to show their animals in the Stock Show.

Samuel Garrett of Munday will show his Hereford steer. This will be the second showing for him. He was Champion Hereford Steers at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair in September.

Charles Todd of Truscott will show his Hampshire sheep flock, consisting of 12 breeding sheep and 2 fat lambs. Charles also showed his sheep at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, winning Champion ram and several ribbons.

Anna Mary Taylor of Munday will show her Angus steer. This is the first showing for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Warren of Wink were guests in the homes of Mrs. U. S. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Warren over the week end.

Grade School Cage Tourney Will Be Held In Local Gyms January 29-30

Mr. Brown said, "and we invite you to come out and enjoy them." Admission charges will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students for each session.

H. E. Sharp, president of the club, stressed that the Lions Club had taken this action desiring to show their belief in the swimming pool project, and hoping to spur action by other groups so the swimming pool will be constructed as early as possible.

EDUCATION LOCAL RESPONSIBILITY

A worried parent recently wrote Mrs. Oleta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, expressing deep concern over community apathy toward local school problems, especially those of a budgetary nature. In an election involving desperately needed school taxes, the writer observed that, "There were 72 votes cast in our box—in contrast to the several thousand votes cast during the last presidential election. And ours is a neighborhood of young marrieds." Mrs. Hobby, a federal officer, was then asked to do something about the situation.

The answer to a plea of this kind should be painfully clear. Local initiative, local responsibility and local pride are things that cannot be established by fiat nor bought with federal money. Turning to the federal government to solve local problems is a deadly process for people who value freedom. It is suicidal in the case of education. As Mrs. Hobby warns, "Our public schools began in our local communities, they must stay there . . . The Federal government must not interfere in educational matters which rightly belong to the local and State authorities."

KEEP THIS A LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

Writing in Nation's Business, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says that more tax cuts are essential. He adds: "This nation, as the land of opportunity for the young—eager for work and ambitious to better themselves—cannot long endure as under the restrictive taxes which we inherited. They must be further reduced."

The nation has seldom heard so unequivocal a statement from an official in so responsible a position. It should be as welcome as a gust of fresh air in a smoke-filled room. And every American should pledge himself to support the government's present efforts to reduce costs—even though he may feel a temporary pang in his own pocket. Here is a case where the character, courage and patriotism of the American people will be thoroughly tested.

SHOPPING IN FRANCE

A great many of us, for lack of experience, don't adequately realize how lucky we are to live in a country whose economic system is based on free competition, and in which the man who does the best job for his customers is the man who succeeds.

The Saturday Evening Post recently printed an article by Ernest O. Hauser, entitled "The French Are In a Jam", which all Americans could read with profit. Mr. Hauser dealt in some detail with France's economic, social and political problems and upheavals. Among other things, he pointed out that the business philosophy is of the consumer be damned order, and that monopolies and secret ententes "keep prices up where competition would bring them down with a bang." He used French retailing as an example, writing, "In France the customer is always wrong. No supermarkets, no ordering by phone, no delivery service, no bargain basement, no goods. No ads telling you what would be a good buy today. Installment buying is scarcely known. . . . There are few chain stores, a special tax keeps them from flourishing. Nine out of every ten shops are papa and mama affairs, charging whatever price the traffic will bear. . . . Small wonder that the housewife, faced with unattractive displays, unhygienic handling, steep prices and little choice, only has to rifle through the advertising pages of an American magazine to wish herself 3,000 miles away."

Next time you go shopping, remember that—and count your blessings!

SPEAK UP

Has the trend toward socialism in this country been checked? Representative Gwinn of New York recently gave this warning: "There is a very, very slight majority of votes in Congress that stands for freedom as against socialism and communism. Therefore, the groups for the right must organize throughout the entire nation, to inform and to arouse citizens in all walks of life to speak up to their representatives in Washington and to support them with their constituents at home."

"Only thus can the members of Congress be shielded against the demands of the ever-present, highly organized pressure groups, seeking to milk the Treasury!"

SISSETON, S. D., COURIER: "A well equipped farm home nowadays has conveniences and labor saving machinery that residents of cities 50 years ago never dreamed of."

GOD'S LAW OF PARDON FOR A FALLEN CHILD

In Acts the 8th chapter we have the record of a saved man falling from grace and then being told what he must do in order that his sins might be forgiven.

Phillip was preaching in Samaria, the result of which is shown in the 12th and 13th verses: "But when they believed Phillip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. And Simon ALSO himself BELIEVED, and BEING BAPTIZED, he continued with Phillip."

Later when Peter and John came and laid hands on the new convert they received the Holy Spirit. (Verses 14-7). Simon sought to buy this power. (Vs. 19). Then Peter answered, "Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter; for thy heart is not right before God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perhaps the thought of thy heart be forgiven thee. For I see that thou art in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity." (Verses 21-23).

Was he saved? He was a baptized believer. See Mark 16:16.

Did he fall? Peter said, "That his heart was not right and that he was in the gall of bitterness and the bond of iniquity."

What did Peter tell him to do? Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee."

That is why we do not believe a child of God must be baptized every time he sins. We believe the Bible.

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

The days of vaudeville!

The Orpheum in Memphis was the home of vaudeville, two shows a day, the year round except summer months. Sarah Bernhardt appeared there and quite a different artist! — Chick Sale, who had not yet written "The Specialist." Another star was Eva Tanguay, the "I Don't Care" girl; Fritz Scheff sang "Kiss Me Again" as only she could sing it; then there were Walter Kelley, the "old Virginia judge"; and Swor and Mack, blackface comedians—(Mack later was one of the Two Black Crows of "White-horses-eat-more-than-black-horses" fame.) Ernest Ball, who wrote both words and music of several all-time favorite songs, sat at the piano and sang his own compositions.

Another I recall was James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion of the world. Gentleman Jim was famed for his footwork and scientific boxing and he gave a demonstration as well as relating anecdotes of the ring.

There were performers from South America, Spain, China, Japan—acrobates, jugglers, musicians, song-and-dance-teams and animal acts.

The two favorites of the bill were the one-act play, which was highly dramatic, and the comedian.

And of the comedians, the one I remember best had a line which he uttered in a silly voice, "Hark! I hear the distant cannon's roar." Not funny, you say? Well, but you never heard that fellow give it.

Then there was another—or it might have been the same—who had trouble getting the spotlight. The stage would be plunged into darkness, then the spotlight would wander around and when he gave up trying to get it focused on him and walked over to where it was it would roam away and all the while he would be calling to the electrician, in a pathetic voice, "Spotlight! Spotlight!" Well, regardless of what you think, you should have heard the audience roar.

There were seven acts on the bill, the show lasted two hours and a lad could get a seat in the balcony at a matinee for 15 cents!

Lynn Reynolds left last Monday morning for San Benito where he has accepted employment with a seismograph company there. He is working there with his father, Ernie Reynolds.

A TIME FOR ALERTNESS
Any program as extensive as the recent drouth relief hay shipments to Texas can have mixed results. It can do a lot of good and yet still have some harmful after-effects.

One danger lies in the spread of noxious weeds or plants to areas where they did not exist before. When hay is brought in from distant points, it is inevitable that some foreign plants are mixed with that hay. And they can be a real bother if they get a foothold in Texas fields. There are several precautionary measures a farmer or rancher can use to prevent this spread. When practical, only one area of the pasture or barnyard should be used as a feeding site. This area can be watched closely, and if seeds are present in the hay, it will be a simple matter to eradicate the resulting plant growths.

Caution should also be used when using barnyard fertilizer in the fields. Many undesirable weed seeds pass unharmed through the digestive tracts of livestock and germinate in the ground.

If this fertilizer is used, it should be spread in the designated areas and a close watch kept on it. Any new or unusual plants found in the field is a potential threat to the land.

Studies show that the shipment of agricultural commodities from one state to another is the prime cause of weed and insect spreading. The opportunity is especially ripe in Texas this year.

Although only about 81 counties have received these disaster shipments this winter, the facts are that foreign plants can spread alarmingly in a new area in a very short time.

This coming spring is the time to begin a sharp lookout for strange weeds that might have slipped into the state in drouth relief hay. The farmer who takes the necessary precautions protects not only himself, but also his neighbor, and his state as a whole.

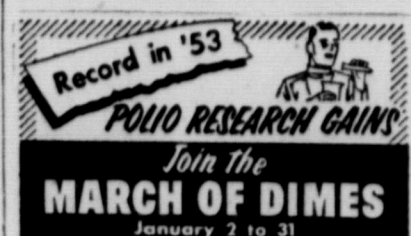

Mr. and Mrs. George Lloyd and daughter, Linda, of Winters were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lamolne Blacklock over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lowrance of Lubbock spent the week end with Mrs. Lowrance's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrison.

John McClaran of Dallas spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Ann McClaran.

GM Builds First U.S. Gas Turbine Car

The XP-21 Firebird, first gas turbine automobile in the United States, has been announced by General Motors. In the cockpit, beneath a plastic bubble, is Test Driver Mauri Rose who put the car through shake-down paces at GM's proving grounds near Milford, Mich., and Phoenix, Ariz. The car's aerodynamic styling has an aircraft motif with a "needle" nose, swept-back delta wings and vertical tail fin.

Because the gas turbine uses large volumes of air, the Firebird has scoops on either side of the driver's cockpit and a large tail cone for exhaust gas. Its kerosene burning engine, mounted at the rear of the driver's seat, consists of two mechanically independent parts, a gasifier section and a power turbine. The power turbine delivers power to the car's rear wheels via a two-speed transmission.

The Firebird is an experiment to determine whether gas turbines will be feasible for ground vehicles.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—"Texans are living longer than ever before," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. A baby born in 1937 had a life expectancy of 59 years. This has increased during the past 17 years until now a baby born in Texas today can reasonably expect to live to the age of 69, or very near the Biblical prophecy of three score and ten.

Many things have contributed to this extension of life, such as early diagnosis, new methods of treatment and medicine, immunization and the intensive public health program conducted by the Texas State Department of Health and local health agencies. This program has stressed education and demonstration.

Dr. Cox points out that the greatest strides in disease prevention has come about in diseases of infancy and childhood. Since 1937 infant mortality has been reduced 54 per cent, diarrhea, enteritis and dysentery 68 per cent, whooping cough 88 per cent, diphtheria 92 per cent, and other childhood diseases. During the past 17 years, tuberculosis deaths have dropped 76 per cent, malaria 99, syphilis 74 per cent, appendicitis 98, pneumonia 72, and typhoid fever 98 per cent. Smallpox has all but disappeared.

Dr. Cox warns against any feeling of complacency or reduction in efforts to prevent disease. Those listed above could, if not guarded against, again become a definite menace to health. Some diseases have increased, especially among those over forty years of age. Two of these are heart disease and cancer whose toll continues to mount. More emphasis must be placed upon them as well as the called degenerative disease because as our population ages, they are becoming more common.

In 235 USO clubs and centers in this country and overseas, American servicemen find the relaxation, entertainment and friendly atmosphere they need. USO is, indeed, their "home away from home."

"This is the clock I work by."

It's a 24-hour clock — and mine is a 24-hour job!

Yes, it's a 24-hour clock — and Reddy Kilowatt is on the job every minute of those 24 hours!

From the time you get up in the morning 'til you flick off the light at night he is there to help you — with the washing, ironing, cooking, cleaning, almost every household chore! And when you go to bed at night Reddy goes steadily on — heating the water, cooling the refrigerator, ready the instant you call on him.

That is real round-the-clock service, isn't it? Yet Reddy's service cost only a few pennies a 24-hour day. What else in your family budget gives you so much for so little money?

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Bcard

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22 —As has been my practice during the sessions of Congress, I will send out each week a statement concerning what has been done in Congress each week. This is the first of such statements, and I hope you will find them to be interesting and of some value in keeping with what is going on here.

This week the President presented his budget to the Congress. It provides for spending during the next fiscal year the sum of 65 billion 6 hundred million dollars. It is estimated that during that period the Government's income will be 62 billion 700 million dollars which will leave a deficit of almost 3 billion dollars. Briefly, the budget as submitted to Congress may be broken down as follows: National security items, including the military, atomic development, and military foreign aid will use 68% of the total budget, or 44 billion 900 million dollars. The other 32% will be used to service the public debt and to provide for the Government's budget activities within this country. It should be borne in mind that this budget message is only the recommendations of the Bureau and the President to the Congress and do not mean that the Federal expenditures will be made exactly as outlined in the budget message. I think, however, that we can pretty safely assume that Government expenditures will not exceed the President's recommendations and, if anything, possibly will be a little less than he recommended.

This week Congress acted on a bill that will increase the total acres to be planted in cotton in this country from 17,910,488 acres to 21,379,342 acres. Under this bill, the state of Texas will be allotted 8,719,178 acres, as against 7,376,858 acres that had previously been allotted under the old law. The bill also provides that the State Committee, may, if it sees fit, allot these additional acres to the farmers direct, or it may make the allotments direct to the counties and then the County P. M. A. Committees may allot the acreage directly to the farmers, on one of two formulas that are set out in the act. This bill is not as good a cotton bill as we should have had but I do feel that it is substantially better than the old law. I am hopeful that under this new law some of the inequities of the old law may be done away with. The President has also recommended a general revision of the income tax laws. Some of the revisions he recommended are that a greater amount of medical expense should be deducted from income taxes; that a parent should be able to claim a child as a dependent regardless of the child's earnings, if he is under 18 years of age, or so long as he is in fact supported by his parents; that working mothers should be allowed to deduct from their income the actual cost of caring for small children while the mothers are at work outside the home; that farmers should be able to deduct soil conservation expense from their taxable income so long as it does not exceed 25% of their gross income. These, of course, are not all of the recommendations that have been made, but are some of these I feel are most likely to be adopted by the Congress.

It will probably be another two or three weeks before much important legislation gets on the floor of the House because of the fact that the committees are now doing their work. It will be that long before these committees can complete their hearings and be ready to report their bills out. One of these committees is the Government Operations Committee, of which I am a member. We have met several times during the last ten days and have a heavy schedule planned for the next few weeks.

Visitors from home this week who came by the office, were: Mr. Ray Nichols of Vernon, Mr. Lee McCulley of Wichita Falls, Dr. Pauline Mack and Dr. John A. Guinn, both of Denton.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bill Pierce and children of Midland and Miss Charlotte Williams of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough returned home last Tuesday from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duke and Joan in Dallas and with Mr. Yarbrough's sister in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Tuggle and daughter, Sandy, of Wayside visited her sister, Mrs. Dee Mullikin, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tuggle, over the week end.

FORT WORTH — Fed steers and yearlings were slow and bids were weak to sharply lower at Fort Worth Monday. Some fed steers and yearlings were fully 50 cents off, and some of the lighter weight yearlings, mixed lots and heifers were under heavier pressure and carried bids up to $1 lower past the noon hour.

Cows were fully steady. Bulls brought firm prices. Stocker and feeder trade was active and prices mostly steady quality and condition considered. Slaughter calves eased lower, and average prices were substantially under those at the close last week, and about in line with mid-week values a week ago.

Butcher hogs sold mostly 25 higher, with choice hogs topping at $26.75 to $27. Sows were steady to 50 cents lower, some sales off more.

Slaughter lambs drew steady to 50 cents lower prices. The larger share of the decline was suffered by the medium to fairly good kinds of lambs, and the top grades were largely steady. Feeder lambs were steady when carrying along enough wool to ship to Northern points, however, the fresh and recently shorn lambs in feeder condition were usually selling into slaughter channels, or at very near their slaughter values. Yearlings and older sheep were in small numbers and drew fully steady prices.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $17 to $23, most sales from $21 down. Slaughter steers and yearlings of common to medium kinds sold from $10 to $17. Stocker and feeder steers and yearlings of medium, good and choice kinds sold from $14 to $20.

Butcher and beef cows sold from $10.50 to $13.50 and canners and cutters sold for $7 to $10.50. Some shelly lightweight emaciated canner cows down to $6. Stocker cows ranged from $9 to $14, some young cows in load lots at the higher figure. Bulls scored $9 to $14.

Good and choice fat calves drew mostly $15.50 to $18.50, a few outstanding individuals to $19. Common and medium slaughter calves cleared at $11 to $15, and culls sold for $9 to $11. Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $16 to $19.50, and medium grades sold around $14 to $15.

FORETHOUGHT IMPORTANT IN PLANTING SHRUBS

A little forethought when planting shrubs will save considerable future work when it comes to pruning, watering and general care, says Sadie Hatfield, extension homestead improvement specialist.

In reminding shrub enthusiasts it's time to plant new shrubs about the home grounds and transplant old ones, Miss Hatfield says low growing ornamentals blend well and are especially desirable around low modern homes.

When planted at least three feet from walls and six to ten feet apart, growing shrubs will not rub nearby structures or crowd one another making excessive pruning necessary.

It's a good idea, too, says the specialist to purchase only those shrubs adapted to your particular area. This means plants hardy in your soil and climate. An East Texas Red Bud planted in the western portion of the state, for example, will produce yellow leaves, bloom very little and, generally, will have an unthrifty appearance.

Much at least 25 square feet of soil when setting out new shrubs, Miss Hatfield continues. Also, two to four inches of humus-decayed grass, leaves or vegetable refuse from the kitchen—worked into the soil will help conserve moisture.

Well trained shrubs are an asset and help enhance the beauty of any farm or home. Miss Hatfield says among the low growing shrubs adapted in many areas are mandina, pfitzer juniper, and other dwarf junipers, abelia, coral-berry, summer flowering jasmine, winter flowering jasmine, mahonia or Oregon-grape, blue spiraea or blue beard, flowering almond and spiraea vanhouttei.

NEW GRAIN VARIETIES ALAMO OATS, FRISCO WHEAT ANNOUNCED

The development of high-yielding Frisco wheat and rust-resistant Alamo oats by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture is a long step forward in the search of improved strains of small grain varieties.

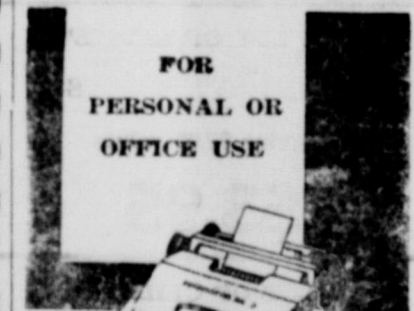

Alamo is among the first commercial oat varieties available in the U. S. which is resistant to all common races of stem rust. It was released to seed growers in the fall of 1953 and will be available for farm planting this fall.

Because it is less hardy than present varieties, Alamo is recommended for fall seeding in the southern half of the state and for spring seeding in the northern section. Its early maturity and disease resistance make it highly desirable for spring planting.

Frisco, a new soft red winter wheat, is now available to growers in central Texas. The new wheat strain is highly resistant to most leaf and stem rusts, has an early maturity date and has given outstanding yields in comparison with present commercial varieties. However, owing to its susceptibility to race 15-B of stem rust, it is recommended only in north-central Texas. Seed will be available from certified seed growers after the 1954 harvest.

Developed from a cross of Red May—a variety grown in north-central Texas for more than 100 years and instrumental in the development of early milling industry in that area—Frisco has milling and baking characteristics similar to Red May. Slated for family flour production, it will provide a more satisfactory variety for this purpose than Red May.

This progress on increasing yields of small grains and reducing the threat of virulent rusts will pay dividends to industry and markedly improve the grain and pasture potentials of Texas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Up With An Unusual Plan For Getting Accurate Check Up On Public Opinion

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a novel idea this week, but he won't get anywhere with it. There's a bug under the chip.

Dear editor:

There is a matter which has been bothering me lately.

I've been noticed in lots of newspapers which turn up out here. I've started off the new year with a backlog of an average of four newspapers a day, who said times were gonna get tighter, that people have developed a habit of wirin the White House when somebody makes an important address affectin the whole country.

For example, say Sen. Joe McCarty makes a speech, or President Eisenhower reports on the state of the union and outlines his plans for new legislation, people immediately start wirin the White House their reactions.

Now this puts a big load on the President, in fact, not long ago at one time he was 3,000 telegrams behind in his counting and with the world in the delicate shape it is and domestic problems too crowdin in on him the President just doesn't have time to be countin telegrams.

Therefore I have a plan to relieve him of this burden. Instead of wirin the White House followin one of these speeches, why can't the public notify me?

Of course, you understand I don't have any telegraphic equipment out here on my Johnson grass farm, don't even have a telephone, and frankly there wouldn't be any point in havin Western Union messenger boys runnin back and forth out here, trampin down the grass and worryin with opening and closing the wire gap.

Also, letters wouldn't be satisfactory either, I've got other things to do the same as the President, people's handwritin is terrible, the mail carrier already has enough stuff to carry, and my mail box is leanin at such an angle now a Sunday copy of most newspapers would topple it to the ground and I have no plans for doin anything about it.

So, I have hit on a plan to give instantaneous reports on the people's reactions to speeches. If President Eisenhower is willin to have me relieve him of the burden, I will arrange with the bank in town to open up two accounts for me, one called the Yea account, the other the Nay account.

Then when some major address is made on a national hook-up, everybody in favor of the speech, wire one dollar to the yea account; everybody opposed, wire a dollar to the nay account.

Then to find out how public sentiment is runnin, all I'll have to do is check with the bank and see what the balances are in the two accounts. All banks now have electric addin machines and it won't be much trouble for them to keep the totals right up to the minute, and all this doubt and worry over how the public is reactin will be eliminated.

If you think this program has any merit, I will appreciate you gettin hold of our Congressman and have him call by the White House and relieve the President of this burdensome job.

Also, if you know of any controversial matters which would attract nationwide reaction, I hope you will bring them to the fore and line up somebody to speak on them. I will remain entirely neutral in the matter.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Auto Inspection Stickers Must Be On By April 15th

Captain K. B. Hallmark, commanding officer of District 16 of the Texas Highway Patrol, with headquarters at Wichita Falls, announced today that highway patrolmen will begin issuing tickets to persons who operate an auto on the streets and highways after April 15 without a current inspection sticker.

The Patrol Captain said that the men in his command have all received orders to that effect as the result of a directive issued at Austin by Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Hallmark said that Garrison's order was made following definite instructions from the State Public Safety Commission that enforcement of the modified motor vehicle inspection law which was enacted by the last legislature would definitely begin following the April 15 inspection deadline.

Captain Hallmark also pointed out that local and county police officers are empowered to enforce the inspection law.

According to the Patrol Commander, only about 24.8 per cent of the cars in the 12 county area have been inspected to date. This means, he said, that car owners who have not yet had their vehicles checked will run the risk of being caught in a last minute "log jam" at the inspection stations if they delay longer in complying with the law. "Our patrolmen will continue to issue warnings to motorists whose cars do not bear a current inspection sticker through April 15," Captain Hallmark said in a prepared statement for the press and radio. "After that date, offenders will face court action."

VETERANS MAY PAY OFF G. I. MORTGAGES

Veterans holding GI mortgages can make extra payments to their lenders at any time or can pay off the entire loan without a penalty charge, Veterans Administration announced today in response to numerous inquiries. Robert W. Sisson, manager of VA's Regional Office, said that the minimum extra payment a veteran may make is at least the amount of one month's payment, or a flat $100. He added:

"Veterans, who make extra payments, may have the extra principal reapplied later to the regular payments, if the lender agrees, to keep his loan from going into default should the veteran later become hard-pressed for money."

More than 1,400 West Texas veterans have already repaid their GI home loans in full since the beginning of the GI loan program in 1944.

Nationally, about 460,000 loans, or about one out of every seven loans guaranteed by VA, have been repaid in full. The original principal amount of these loans is nearly $2.5 billion.
