

LET'S TALK
LIVESTOCK
BY TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—Good news for swine breeders this week is that Texas State Fair will slate hog classes at their up-coming show Oct. 9-24 in Dallas. Ray Wilson confirmed this to us today, and since he runs the livestock shows at the State Fair, it seems that for youths and for the registered breeders who annually make the show, it will be a good idea to start making plans.

The State Fair of Texas is the second major show to announce the resumption of swine shows. Last month the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth announced swine show plans for 1955.

In many sections of the country, market hogs are called "mortgage lifters" because they are a profitable side-line for farmers. Texas produced hogs should out-sell Cornbelt hogs every day by $1 or more per hundred in the view of Fort Worth

Reason for this is that 75 to 80 percent of the pork consumed in Texas comes from other states.

Since this incoming pork and pork products has the freight necessary to haul it here on top of the other expense, then live hogs raised on the ground in Texas should be worth as much as Cornbelt hogs—plus the freight, etc.

Where the situation is reversed on cattle and sheep, the Southwestern stockman expects his cattle and sheep to sell under Northern prices by roughly the amount of expense it would take to ship them there.

Hog prices were uneven at Fort Worth Monday. Opening 25c higher and closing 25c lower, top hogs drew $26.50 to $27. Sows were steady at $23 down.

Fellow in Fort Worth last week told us that the 680-pound stag he had on the yards at $16 per hundred, brought $6 more per hundred than a trader had offered him for the hog at home. Trouble of coming to market was worth $42 on this one animal.

Lambs and sheep continued to move in sizeable numbers at Fort Worth Monday. About 3,500 head arrived. The market for sheep and lambs continues very favorable.

Strong to 25 or 50c higher prices prevailed. Milk fat lambs topped at $25, best price since June of 1953 at Fort Worth. Shorn fat lambs of the old crop cashed at $20 to $21 when choice, a new high for the season. Shorn feeders at $19.50 also equalled the year's best. Some just average good woolled fat lambs drew $21, indicating that $22 or thereabouts would be paid for choice woolskins.

Old sheep were scarce and strong. Yearlings and two's at $13 to $16.50, old wethers $12 down. Old ewes $7 to $9, stocker ewes $10 to $11. Old bucks $4 to $5.

Cattle trade at Fort Worth was a pretty active affair. Good many spots on cattle and calves were stronger, as the receipts around the 12 major markets were about 25,000 short of the same day last week.

A strong spot was renewed interest in stocker calves and yearlings, which had been very dull last week. Packers apparently needed some cattle and calves and enough shipper trade was on hand to keep things moving.

Good and choice fed cattle $17.50 to $22.25 and plainer kinds $13 to $17.50. Fat cows $11 to $13.50, and canners and cutters $8 to $11.50, some cattle outside those brackets. Bulls $10 to $14.50.

Good and choice fat calves $17 to $20, few to $20.50. Common and medium butcher $13 to $16. Culls $10 to $13. Good and choice stocker calves and yearlings $17 to $19, few to $19.50. Heifers sell around $2 to $3 under their steer mates. Stocker cows $10 to $13.50. Some feeder steers $18.50 down.

Creepfeeding calves looks like good practice this summer, especially if the quality is less than choice. Reason is that packer demand is sure to be good for really choice fat calves, but stocker and feeder demand is the unknown quantity and might be limited as last year.

Dry conditions in the Cornbelt this winter were relieved somewhat by last week's snow storms but most of the area is below normal on subsoil season at this time. In the Western cattle areas, conditions are uniformly deficient in moisture also.

If this situation prevails and the crop for calves this year is as large as predicted, then fat calves at selling time look safest.

Activities of The Colored People

Wonderful services were held at the Church of God in Christ last Sunday throughout the day. Rev. Y. B. Brooks, pastor, was here, accompanied by his wife.

Regular services were held at the Methodist church, climaxed at night by a ninspirational message from the mfw mfwyppppp sage by the pastor.

An appreciative group of parents from Goree and Munday enjoyed the program at the school last Wednesday night observing public school week. Highlights of the program were six soldier songs played by the rhythm band, directed by Miss Clay, and a talk comparing the present school with the school of 1931 by Mrs. Wellington. After the program, refreshments were served by the girls of the school, and the parents then visited each oom whereeach a mfwylupfwyp d room where each teacher explained to teach their boys and girls.

Our school appreciates so very much the glasses and magazines given us last week by Mrs. G. R. Elland and the magazines this week by Mrs. S. A. Bowden.

HANDY INSECT CONTROL GUIDE JUST OFF THE PRESS

COLLEGE STATION — Insect pests frequently attack ornamental plants around the home and in many instances insecticides are the only means of control.

The 1954 Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants in Texas, a handy guide for home owners on insecticides and their uses, is just off the press and is now available.

Compiled by Neal M. Randolph and F. M. Fuller, Jr., extension entomologists, the new 1954 guide lists control methods and insecticide doses for more than 50 common insect pests.

In addition to containing instructions on mailing insect specimens to Texas A. & M. College for identification, the bulletin tells how to store and handle household and bulk insecticides.

It also gives a brief outline of the three type poisons—stomach, contact and fumigant—and how each works.

Additionally, the bulletin contains a useful dilution chart for mixing sprays at home. For example, two teaspoons of 50 percent wettable DDT added to one gallon of water makes a handy spray.

Copies of the bulletin, C-341, Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants in Texas, 1954, are available from any county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

PLASTICS CAUGHT ON IN LAND OF COTTON

Plastics seem to have caught on in the cotton-growing industry.

Latest case of the use of Geon vinyl plastics to improve the industry's products and methods is as a coating for 9-ft.-long cotton fabric bags which are dragged between rows of plants and filled by cotton pickers.

B. F. Goodrich Chemical Company which developed the plastic resin says tests with bags loaded with 65 pounds of cotton showed that a coated bag could be dragged 21 miles at 4 miles per hour before the bottom wore through. An uncoated bag lasted only 7 1/2 miles under the same condition, the company says.

James Amerson, who is attending NTSC in Denton, spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Amerson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stubblefield had their son, Hilton, as a guest over the week end. Hilton is attending N. T. S. C. in Denton.

COTTON EXPORT OUTLOOK

The year 1954 will again see the United States in the position of a residual supplier of cotton to the world.

In other words, the demand for our cotton will be limited until other exporting countries have largely sold out.

The present outlook holds no cause for undue alarm, however. Indications are that the total cotton exported this year will not be less than last season's million bales—and possibly somewhat more.

Last year, other cotton producing nations shipped about 8½ million bales. The export total of all countries, including the United States, was 11.5 million bales. These other countries also are expecting to ship about as much in 1954.

One factor which will help this year is that the textile trade in most foreign countries is measurably better than it was a year ago. The demand for imported cotton is expected to pick up. If this improvement holds throughout the coming season, the consumption of imported cotton in foreign cotton should exceed that of 1953.

Cotton production in the U. S. is limited through acreage allotments this year. Although a shortage definitely is not expected to develop, this limited production should help strengthen the demand for cotton and prevent the necessity of storing much of the crop.

We should not regard a surplus of cotton as a drug on the market. Instead, it is to our advantage to have an adequate reserve on hand in the event of an emergency. Cotton is a versatile crop which furnishes a host of necessities during war and peace. Also, more new products are being made every day which use cotton as a base material.

Under the existing program of crop price assurances, there is a fairly stable outlook for our cotton farmers this year. Their product should meet with a good demand.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

THE GLENN MILLER STORY

"The Glenn Miller Story," Universal-International's Technicolor production of the great bandleader's life-story playing at the Roxy Theatre Saturday night, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Of the top 27 speaking roles in the picture only three are fictional—a pawn shop operator, a girl singer and an Army officer. Producer Aaron Rosenberg, who gathered together almost all of the actual personalities who shared in the 20 last years of Miller's career, says:

"We used three fictional characters only because we couldn't run down the identification of these people. Actually, they do represent real-life persons."

Those three were the pawn shop owner where Miller actually hocked his trombone before getting his big chance with Ben Pollack's band in 1925 a girl singer whose lackadaisical style spoiled the debut of Miller's celebrated "Moonlight Serenade," and the officer in the Army dispatcher's office at Orly Field, France, who first revealed that Major Glenn Miller was missing on that ill-fated military flight across the English Channel December, 1944.

James Stewart, the popular choice of Miller fans for the title role, plays Glenn Miller, with June Allyson co-starring as his wife, Helen. Charles Drake portrays Don Haynes, Miller's manager, and Henry Morgan acts the role of Chummy MacGregor, Miller's piano-playing pal. The real-life Haynes assisted on the script and MacGregor acted as technical advisor. Ben Pollack, the band leader, Gene Krupa, Louis Armstrong, Frances Langford, The Archie Savage Dancers and The Modernaires make appearances in the picture themselves.

Real-life Glenn Miller effects used in "The Glenn Miller Story" include an exact copy of Miller's rimless eyeglasses, the maestro's own trombone and the Miller Orchestra music stands.

GMC HYDRA-MATIC TRUCKS

THIS new '54 GMC light-duty wasn't born just to win beauty contests.

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Two-tone color scheme. Harmonizing, supple-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant reading.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. 125 horsepower says that this beauty can heft a top load with ease and dash.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And its wide, deep box holds at least 8 cubic feet more than the roomy '53 model. That tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

Finally, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to the luxury-minded: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all its own selling!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Scores The Political Expert For Worrying Over A Possible Candidate Shortage

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has now taken to worrying over other people's worries, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I was out here the other afternoon watching a couple of baby calves play around, there's nothing happier than a frisky calf on a warm sunny afternoon this time of year, unless it's a politician who has just been no-billed, and I pulled a paper out of my pocket I'd been carrying around for several days and straightened out the wrinkles and spread it out on the ground and stretched out and looked it over.

Over on the editorial page I ran into an article by a political expert who reported there is considerable worry among the Republicans in some states in trying to find a candidate to run against the Democrats, particularly in states that are Democratic strongholds.

Personally, I believe the expert was having a hard time that day to find something to write about.

I have never seen an office somebody wasn't willing to run for or a piece of land somebody wasn't willing to work or a man some woman wasn't willing to marry. I don't care how hard the race might be and how little the pay, or how sorry the land or the man either, there's always somebody willing to give it a try.

Coffee may be scarce, as well as uranium and plutonium, but I don't believe there will ever come at time when there's a scarcity of candidates or workable land out or when a bachelor can't get married.

Of course you understand there is some land that ought to lay out, the same as there are some offices, but hope in the Spring will never play out, and neither will the supply of candidates.

I have worked land that ought to lay out, but I've also voted for candidates that should have, too, and while it's true you don't get any more out of a piece of land than you put into it, at least that is the saying although I doubt it it's true or I wouldn't be livin', the same is not necessarily true with a candidate. I've known lots of officeholders who got a lot more out of an office than they put in it, and on occasion more

Holds Hammer Head Tight

THERE are various ways of fastening a hammer head securely to the handle, but the method illustrated, which was shown in American Builder, "bible" of the building trades industry, is unusually effective.

First drill a quarter-inch hole in the handle at C. Now saw a slot through the top of the handle—D. Shape the handle so it fits the hammer head snugly.

By driving home a No. 10 or No. 12 screw at E, the handle end spreads and holds the hammer head tightly. If the wood dries and becomes loose, simply remove the wood screw and replace it with a number 12 or 14 wood screw.

than the law intended. That political expert ought to rest his mind. Whenever there's a vacancy on a ballot, candidates flow into it like air into a vacuum.

With all the things we got to worry about, worrying about not finding somebody to run for any office ought to come last.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.
