

Kracker Krumb's Odds Bits Salvaged at Random

There'll be quite a lot of activity going on, come the turn of the month.

First off, all qualified voters who are interested will be going to the polls on Saturday, April 3, to elect their school trustees and certain members of the county school board.

Looks like those who paid their poll taxes will get their money's worth this year.

Here in Munday, we'll get to vote three times in less than a week.

Following the trustee election, will be the bond election on Monday, April 5, to determine whether or not the city will be authorized to issue park improvement bonds.

And this is the election which is attracting considerable interest.

For a long period of time people of Munday, especially those who have children, have realized the need of a swimming pool in Munday.

Many parents make numerous trips to neighboring towns during summer to take children swimming. Picnics and swimming parties for the younger set are not possible in Munday because swimming facilities are not available.

Youngsters from our town have been seen, at times, on the highways leading out of Munday, swim suits under their arms, thumbing a ride to the nearest public swimming pool.

These circumstances, and a number of others, have brought on the move for securing a swimming pool for Munday. Various means of financing have been discussed, and some donations have been received for financing a swimming pool.

Then the bond election movement got under way. In a study of Munday's bonded election, it was found that the town could issue bonds without a further raise in taxes, but by just continuing the present tax rates and prolonging the time for bond retirement a little further.

So the election has been called, and Monday, April 5, will find people going to the polls and voting their sentiments.

There may be those who are opposed to a swimming pool, but there are many who are very decidedly in favor of one and who realize this need.

On the night of the bond election date, farmers and those interested will meet at the school auditorium for a barbecue supper and a discussion of the Farm Bureau's pure seed program.

Farm Bureau members want it understood that every person interested, both farmers and business men, are wanted at this meeting. They want you to let them know, however, if you're coming so they'll know just how much food to prepare.

Not long after it rains farmers will begin thinking of planting cotton, and the meeting on Monday night, April 5, might be a good thing to attend.

Then next morning, Tuesday, April 6, voters will again have an opportunity to exercise their right of ballot.

For it's then we elect a mayor and two members of our city council—the governing body of our town. Although there's just one person running for each place on the ballot, we ought to show the boys we're behind them by casting our vote.

Let's vote every opportunity we have. That's the right we pay our $1.75 each year for.

Mrs. J. B. Bowden returned last Wednesday from a two weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Joyce and son in Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bowden in McCamey and Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Albertson in Brownwood.

McMurry Chanters To Present Music Worship Service Here Next Sunday

ABILENE—The Chanters, mixed choral group of McMurry College, will present a music-worship service Sunday, March 28, at 7:00 p. m. in the First Methodist Church of Munday.

The Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the church, formerly served as director of religious activities at McMurry College. Students from Munday who are enrolled at McMurry this year are Lee Bowden, Tommy Gage, Julie Massey, and Wayne Smith.

The Chanters group is composed of about 50 young men and women under direction of Dr. Richard C. von Ende, head of the McMurry College Fine Arts Division. They were organized in 1923, the year in which the Methodist College was first established.

Each year the Chanters make two extended tours throughout Northwest Texas and New Mexico, in addition to many one-day trips to area cities and appearances in Abilene and surrounding communities.

Since their organization, the Chanters have traveled tens of thousands of miles and have appeared before an inestimable number of church organizations, public school assemblies, service clubs, civic organizations and other groups.

They are able to perform the complete worship service (through song) for a church. Another of their specialties is a lively and varied program of music for school assemblies.

Critics have said that "whether singing hymns in a church or light numbers for a school assembly, the Chanters are devoted to their work and able to make each selection come alive in the particular mood for which it was intended."

The Chanters are first and foremost a service group—one whose basic purpose is to serve their fellow men with joyous, inspirational song. In serving others, they also serve McMurry College, interpreting its Christian atmosphere and friendly spirit to its friends, patrons, and prospective students throughout the Southwest.

"The B. E. Smith family—successful farmers, active leaders in community and church, parents, of fine children that are well educated and hard workers—bring together the ideals that make America great and farming a fine way of life."

This is the description given this Knox County farm family in the April issue of The Progressive Farmer magazine. And it was these qualities that earned them the title of "Master Farm Family" this year.

The Smiths have fought their way up the farming ladder from one old tractor, an old car and just enough money to cash lease a quarter-section of land. Now they have a very fine farm home and farm buildings, 218 acres of good land paid for, and a busy, full life.

Smith has stabilized his farming operations with a ditch irrigation system. He rotates alfalfa over all of his land as a legume crop and also uses it for feed. He has his soil tested and makes use of fertilizers. He has a good cotton insect control program which helps him get a bale to the acre. Cotton and grain sorghums are two good cash crops. He balances his income with cattle and hogs.

Smith has developed a number of labor saving devices around his farm to save time in his busy schedule.

The Smiths are enjoying the comforts of their fine new home. It is equipped with all their dream features. Mrs. Smith not only keeps her home running efficiently but also finds time for yard work, church and community affairs.

COFFEE AND BUTTER

"Let us make it clear immediately and without qualification that the rising price of coffee irks us as much as it does the next man," says the Wall Street Journal. "Nevertheless the furor over coffee does highlight some curious circumstances."

"The prices of other agricultural products are high. We cite the case of butter."

"In part at least the price of coffee goes up because supply is short in relation to demand. But there is no such excuse for the price of butter. Instead production is ample and it continues to rise."

"It has been charged that the short crop is not the only reason for the ascent of coffee prices: There has been muttering about cartel arrangements and manipulation. Well, in relation to butter no one has to be in the dark about those features. The United States Government is running a gigantic butter cartel which openly manipulates to keep the price far above what it should be in a free market."

"Suppose that coffee were a domestic crop instead of an imported crop. Would the senators from the coffee states then be exercised about the present price? Or would they be insisting that the price was just and that any attempt to bring it down would be ruinous to the coffee raisers?"

"EXTRAORDINARILY GOOD"

Many believe that the distribution of physicians in this country is excessively uneven and that a substantial part of the population does not have doctors readily available.

The facts are found in a seven-year study made by a bureau of the American Medical Association. As of a comparatively recent date, every community with more than 5,000 population had at least one physician in active practice, a solid 96 per cent of those with 2,500-5,000 people and 88.3 per cent of those in the 1,000-2,500 population bracket. And only 250,000 Americans—one-sixth of one per cent of our population—live more than 25 miles from a doctor.

These disclosures certainly support the study's conclusion that the distribution of doctors in relation to the people they serve is "extraordinarily good."

"Do we want continued price supports, acreage controls and price regulations, or do we want prices and production to reflect the will of all the people as expressed in their day-to-day buying of food products?"—Joseph B. Hall, The Kroeger Company.

PRAISE FOR COUNTRY PRESS

Lavish praise for the country press recently came from a top government official—Secretary of Commerce Weeks. He said: "When the history of this age . . . is fully described, great credit for maintaining our freedom will go to the American press and particularly the country and suburban newspaper."

"The weekly press is the community's loyal, trustworthy, warmhearted friend. It knows everybody. It goes into every home as a welcome guest. It keeps neighbors acquainted with each other. Its advice is wise and its sympathetic interest is genuine. It fosters civic pride and an enterprising community spirit. It is the stout champion of the moral principles that make America great. And it tells the truth."

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

BEDFORD, IND., DAILY TIMES-MAIL: "Newspapers (in 1953) reached new heights in circulation and advertising, giving them the largest volume in their history in both of these categories. This means that in spite of competition from television, radio and magazines for both the readers' time and the advertisers dollars, newspapers have been given a tremendous vote of confidence."

OLYMPIA, WASH., OLYMPIAN: "It was Thomas Jefferson, himself a farmer, who once said, in effect, that if we allow government to tell us when, where, and what to plant, and when to harvest it, we'll jolly well starve to death."

WACO, TEXAS, MESSENGER: "While most Americans laud the democratic type of government many of them have taken it too lightly. They seem to be cognizant of its many benefits but at the same time seem unmindful of its responsibilities. Everyone wants to be called a member of the team but against the total population only a few are willing to share team responsibilities."

PHOENIX, ARIZ., SUNNYSLOPE JOURNAL: "Let's get back to American principles. Instead of calling names, let our politicians come up with something to keep the wheels of business and industry rolling."

"A great many of the activities of the government and of the people of a country influence the soundness of its money, but it rests most directly upon a sound fiscal and monetary policy."—W. Randolph Burgess, Deputy to the Secretary of the Treasury.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Some time ago an article by a national columnist appeared on the editorial page of an Abilene paper. It concerned itself mainly about juvenile delinquency. Among other things that was said was a charge that the churches are failing to teach moral standards to the young people. But instead of vying with each other in order to gain the favor of the younger generation with parties, dances and so forth. In so doing they have left of preaching the gospel of Christ and have turned to competition with the entertainment world.

It is an insult to the intelligence of young people to intimate that they are incapable of hearing, believing and obeying the gospel. The gospel is so designed that it has an appeal to all ages of every generation.

The fault lies not so much in juvenile delinquency as in parental delinquency. Our children can be no better than they are taught to be by the older generation.

It is the responsibility of the home (parents) to first teach their children their duty to God and fellowmen. Then to furnish the young people with good wholesome entertainment. In practice, however, parents are usually too busy to do this and turn the children over to other organizations for instruction in morals and entertainment.

In shirking their responsibility parents try to throw the whole load of child rearing onto the churches and schools and they in turn trying to take up the slack, leave their given field to entertain and teach basic principles of morality. The proof that this will not work is seen in the crop of juvenile delinquency reaped from the seed sown.

The God-given mission of the church is to preach the gospel of Christ. If it is not pleasing to the ear of some, it is still the duty of the church to preach it. Failing to do this they have no Divine right to exist, and have failed God, the young people and the community.

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

Frank Day is a veteran oil man of Eastand. He has lived in the county all of his life. But, according to the story his friends have been telling, he came mighty close to having to move, recently.

Day made a location on a lease belonging to a friend and assured him, "I guarantee there is oil there—or I'll move out of the county."

The operator started drilling but, before getting very deep, lost the tools in the hole and, rather than have an expensive fishing job, he skidded the derrick six feet and started a new hole. The test proved to be dry so the operator, pretending to be serious, reminded Day of his promise. Frank was equal to the situation, though. He declared, "You didn't drill where I told you."

Dr. James Long, who led a filibustering expedition into Texas when Spain owned the territory, was a very brave man. After he had captured La Bahia (Goliad), he was besieged by the Spaniards and he offered to settle the issue by engaging in combat with any man they would select. The offer was declined.

Mystery surrounds the circumstances of Long's death in Mexico City. However, the historian, Brown, says that when Long was in Texas at the head of his filibustering expedition, one of his men tried to form a conspiracy against him. The man was tried, convicted and executed on Galveston Island. He was the nephew of an influential politician of Mexico and in the City of Mexico where Long made friends rapidly, this man "soon manifested a jealous and hostile spirit." Long was shot to death by a soldier whom Long's friends believed to have been an assassin hired by the politician.

Three Texans, including Ben Milam, hastened from Mexico City to intercept this man, who was on his way to Texas, with the intention of avenging Long's death but the plan was revealed to him and he had the three arrested and thrown in prison in Mexico City where they remained for 10 months before being freed through the intervention of the American envoy.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—Movement of sheep and lambs to market continued at a fairly heavy pace at Fort Worth as the week's trade opened to around 7,500 sheep in the yards.

Woolled fat lambs of good and choice kinds sold from $21 to $22.50, the higher price on some club lambs from Cottle County, and some other choice woolled club lambs from Dickens and Kent counties topped at $23.

Shorn fat lambs of good and choice grades sold from $19 to $21.75. Cull, common and medium shorn slaughter lambs sold from $12 to $18. Stocker and feeder shorn lambs sold from $15 to $20.25 and woolled feeders reached $21.

New crop milk fed lambs of good and choice kinds sold from $23 to $25, and the medium and lower grades sold from $16 to $22. Yearling and two-year-old wethers sold from $15 to $17.50, and aged wethers cashed at $10 to $14. A few slaughter ewes sold from $7 to $9.

The apparent scarcity of lambs for current marketing has led some observers to express the view that some of the fleshy lambs would do well with a quick turn in the feed lot here in the Southwest.

Reasoning behind this is the fact that the next liberal offering of fat lambs is due to come from the Southeastern area and the big movement of the Tennessee and Kentucky lambs will not be felt until late May or early June in the view of present conditions.

Cattle trade was again featured by highly sensitive reaction to supply and demand. Fed steers and yearlings were steady to 25 or 50 cents lower, and some of the medium kinds of lighter yearlings were fully 50c off and instances more. Many of these apparently had a wheat or oat pasture background and they were relatively numerous.

Cows were largely steady, though some buyers talked lower and bought a few that way. Bulls were steady. Slaughter calves got away about like last week, some of the not-so-good heavies inclined lower with light yearlings of the same caliber. Stocker trade was again featured by narrow outlets for most kinds. Choice quality got good action at steady prices, and the others were inclined to trail along with the slaughter market, and sell at or near their packer values.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $22 and some club steers drew $19 to $25.75. Medium and lower grade butcher cattle sold from $12 to $17. Fat cows drew $10.50 to $13, with some better than 900-pound Brahman cows with an obviously high yielding ability to recommend them, topped at $14.50, and were on the heiferette type. Cannerns and cutters sold from $7 to $10.50. Bulls drew $10 to $14.50, with odds above and below that range.

Good and choice slaughter calves drew $16 to $19, with some of the best heavies to $20 and $20.50. Common and medium kinds drew $13 to $16, and cull sorts sold at $10 to $13.

Stocker steer calves and steer yearlings of good and choice quality sold from $16.50 to $19, and a load of choice around 500-lb. yearlings from L. M. Staley, Jr., of Montague County, cashed at $19.50. Stocker cows drew $10 to $13, a few above and below those marks.

Hogs sold steady to 25c higher. Top hogs at $26 to $26.25. Sows were $1 higher at $21 to $23.

Interesting bit of news is the announcement of a new catalytic process of breaking down the particles of lard and making lard more stable and enabling packers to blend it into a superior shortening.

It is said that the new lard retains all of the food values and the superior shortening values, too. Smith & Cookes developed the process.

Be rather funny if after all these years as the "stepchild" of the packing industry, that lard were to pass into a Cinderella product.

You know that happened with paraffin, for years the petroleum industry was plagued with paraffin since nobody could use as many candles as there was paraffin. Came the day, however, when wax paper, waxed milk cartons and waxed products of dozens of kinds were demanded by the housewives and lowly paraffin became a hero.

Could be lard has the same kind of future, and if so some of these experiments with "meat type hogs" could look pretty silky.

Some of the leaders in the swine industry have maintained all along that the "meat types" were a backward step. The "new look" in lard may prove this theory.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thate of Burkett visited in the home of Minister and Mrs. Clifford Wilson the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hobert visited relatives in San Angelo and Sterling City over the week end.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

You Might Call it a "Gravy Train"

Was reading the other day about a Maharaja in India who has a miniature electric train all made of silver. Now, maybe that's not unusual for a prince, but this fellow had it running around on an enormous dining table in the royal palace.

The twelve cars on the train are loaded with different kinds of fruits, nuts, and beverages. And the train stops automatically in front of each plate so the person sitting there can choose what he wants.

From where I sit, the Maharaja is really going to extremes to impress his guests. Around this part of the world, hospitality certainly doesn't need all those fancy trimmings.

You don't have to spend a lot of money or go to a lot of work when folks drop in. Just offer them what you have—coffee, tea, a temperate glass of beer—and let them make their own choice. They'll feel they're getting a royal welcome!

Formal Opening Of Country Club Is Gala Affair

A gala affair was held at the Munday Country Club last Thursday evening when directors and their wives hosted the formal opening of the newly decorated club building.

Upon arrival, members were served a refreshment plate of cookies and punch and looked over the prettily decorated building, complete with tile floor and drapes. Much credit for the beauty of the surroundings was given the decorations committee, composed of Mrs. Joe Brown King, chairman; and Mmes. Charles McCauley, Bruce Burnett, Dorse Collins and Gene Harrell.

After an interesting "getting acquainted" game, the members settled down to their favorite game of dominoes, eighty-four, bridge or canasta until time to "break up" and go home. So enthusiastic were members over this first social event that others are planned at regular intervals.

Some sixty-five guests registered, including the following: James Yandell, Troy Lindsey,

Each part told how we might help our young people, change their obstacles into opportunities, and create a setting for a lifetime in their christian education beginning at home. Quotations from one of President Eisenhower's talks were used building up the central idea that "we must create an awareness of God in our youth, our homes. God brought refuge, courage, peace of mind to young soldiers in foxholes. There there were no aethiests.

Famous Texas Women Studied At Study Club Meet

The spotlight was thrown on famous Texas women when the Munday Study Club met on Friday, March 12, at the club house. Mrs. Weldon Smith introduced Mrs. Dwight Key and Mrs. Chan Hughes, who presented the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Key gave a very interesting talk on Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, a Texas woman who has risen from obscurity to one of the highest positions in the United States than any woman has ever held.

Mrs. Hughes, an outstanding interpreter of poetry, gave an inspiring group of poems written by Texas poets.

Following the program, items made by the members of the club were auctioned to members and their guests.

Royal Service Program Given By Baptist W. M. U.

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church met last Monday for an all-day Royal Service Program and luncheon. The theme of the day was "A Sinful World; A Sufficient Savior."

Each part told how we might help our young people, change their obstacles into opportunities, and create a setting for a lifetime in their christian education beginning at home. Quotations from one of President Eisenhower's talks were used building up the central idea that "we must create an awareness of God in our youth, our homes. God brought refuge, courage, peace of mind to young soldiers in foxholes. There there were no aethiests.

If we are confused by the age we are living in, we, too can obtain peace of mind that only Jesus can bring. So our goal must be to have a correction on a national scale, develop interest among unfortunate children from non-christian homes, show them faith in God by the way we live our lives, for only growing parents are worthy of guiding growing children.

Those taking part in the program were Mmes. A. L. Smith, Gene Thompson, Lloyd Patterson, Alvin Reid, Fred Lain and Clyde Taylor. Mrs. Huron A. Polnac, W. M. U. president, presided.

LONE STAR Future

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

FUTURE DEMANDS ON OUR WATER SUPPLY

Water is our most precious mineral. It is an indispensable part of living. But in terms of present and future needs, it is growing alarmingly scarce.

The demand for water increases with each passing year. Water consumption records are set at an all-time high one month, only to be broken and surpassed the next month. It is a sobering fact we are using our available supply much more quickly than it is being replaced by nature.

According to W. P. Webb, author of "More Water for Texas", the population is doubling every half-century. If the consumption of water per capita remains uniform, the demand will double in the same period.

Actually, Webb points out, as the standard of living rises, as people move from the rural areas to the urban ones, consumption of water per capita will increase enormously.

For example, Texas in 1953 was consuming 34 times as much water as it did in 1890, although the population has increased only 3.2 fold. Texans are consuming 2.5 times the amount in 1950 that they did in 1940, though the population in that

Fashions Hit the Road

FASHION SHOWS staged for mixed farm audiences and factory workers figure importantly in the unique merchandising methods of an Allentown, Pennsylvania, department store. Owner Max Hess, Jr., attributes record sales to this truck-borne pitch for business.

PATRONS ARE hardly limited to those impressed at shows. Tots accompany parents, enjoy kiddy car races while mom and dad shop.

SMART BRIDAL salon in Allentown store is typical of numerous services offered. Store sales top all others in U. S. communities under 200,000.

IN ADDITION to giving portability to the firm's fashion shows, motor trucks provide vital link between store and its Lehigh Valley customers. Delivery scene with housewife, driver and International truck shows important role played in merchandising operation.

ALAN LADD GIVES GO-AHEAD TO SCENE-STEALERS IN MOVIE

Movie character actors who steal scenes from right under the noses of leading men don't worry Alan Ladd in the least. Scene stealers, says the taciturn star, help make a better movie. In Universal-International's technical adventure "Saskatchewan," at the Roxy Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Ladd's co-star, Shelley Winters, and two of the feature players, J. Carroll Naish and Robert Douglas are considered among Hollywood's best at walking off with film-footage.

Now that he has virtual carte blanche in picking his supporting cast, the popular actor says it's a rule with him to grab at least a couple of good scene-stealers for each picture.

"It keeps us all on our toes," he explains. "When you have a bunch of competent performers trying to outdo each other, you are bound to have a good picture." Ladd believes that Naish, who portrays a French-Canadian guide in "Saskatchewan," is a natural-born scene-stealer because of his command of dialects. And he points to Douglas, cast in the picture as a martinet officer of the Royal Canadian Northwest Mounted Police, as an actor who has never yet had to resort to nose-scratching or cuff-shooting to walk off with a scene.

"Saskatchewan," produced by Aaron Rosenberg, was photographed in its entirety in the Canadian Rockies, one of the most ambitious "location" schedules in Universal-International history. Directed by Raoul Walsh, the picture also features Hugh O'Brian, Richard Long, Jay Silverheels, Antonio Moreno, Lowell Gilmore and Anthony Caruso in its large supporting cast. Gil Doud wrote the story and screenplay.

Mrs. Lou Etta Cox of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds of Wichita Falls were week end guests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hardy.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN — "Immunization is superior to all other means of communicable disease control because immunity becomes part of oneself and is always there as a defense against certain diseases."

This is the statement of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who adds: "Immunization is the best and most effective means of protection against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox, whooping cough and typhoid fever." According to Dr. Cox the ages that are best for immunization of children are: for diphtheria and tetanus, 9 to 12 months; Schick test, six months later, re-immunize if immunity has not been established; smallpox, 6 to 12 months. Tetanus or lockjaw is not common; however, when it does occur it is usually fatal. The tetanus germ gets into cuts, scratches, abrasions and particularly deep wounds, so that it has always been an important problem of public health as well as military medicine.

Other ways to fight disease are through good sanitation measures. The provision of safe water supplies, the pasteurization of milk, the supervision of food and other precautions have in many communities reduced typhoid fever to a minimum. Isolation and quarantine have their place and are extremely valuable, but none of the has the quality of immunity, of being a part of oneself, and consequently always available.

Mrs. R. L. Ratliff left Tuesday for Dallas for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Ratliff and Tommy and Charles Ratliff, who is attending S. M. U.

"There's no tractor to compare with it"

These are words of WD-45 Tractor owners.

From coast to coast, farmers who own the WD-45 are praising the performance of this great new tractor. And there's no doubt about the reasons for such high praise — it's performance . . . and price!

The new POWER-CRATER engine gives you the power you've always wanted. This mighty power plant plus AUTOMATIC TRACTION BOOSTER lets the WD-45 pull three bottoms almost effortlessly through fields often considered impossible to plow.

And conveniences, like SNAP-COUPLER, POWER-SHIFT wheels, and TWO-CLUTCH POWER CONTROL add up to a tractor that's unmatched in features and performance . . .

One demonstration will prove it. And the price will save you hundreds of dollars. Let us show you.

The Munday Times

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

For some time there has been growing dissatisfaction with our program of foreign economic aid. This program has undoubtedly been of some benefit as far as immediate results were concerned; however, it has had more than its share of the extravagances and busts. It cannot be kept as a long range program for the simple reason that we cannot afford it. In addition to this, it fails to meet our need for many reasons, the most important of which are that: (1) in many instances it is based on the premises that friendship can be purchased; (2) it does not take into consideration that the conflict in which we are engaged with the Soviets is a conflict for the minds of men and over a way of life that may last for two or three generations, and (3) it puts our representatives abroad in the position of telling the people of other countries that their way of doing things is wrong and that they should follow the American example which many times is impossible to sell to the people of other countries. If we are to ultimately win this conflict, we must find some way to permanently instill in the hearts and souls of the people of the world the ideas that have made this country great. We must somehow let them know the feeling of free men, the effectiveness of free institutions, and the happiness of an individual who possesses freedom of mind and body. We could accomplish this very desirable result in a way that would be more effective in the long run and be a whole lot less costly to us, by selecting outstanding young people in the countries of the world and let them come to the colleges and universities in this country. We could bring them to the smaller colleges and universities in the South, Southwest and Midwest where they could learn firsthand the advantage of the Democratic way of life and where they could study our great institutions. By selecting outstanding young people who had qualities of leadership in the fields of medicine, law, science, farming, business, and labor, we could be assured that when they returned home their country would have enlightened leadership that was devoted to the cause of free men.

Garner uses collection of "fizzles" to emphasize philosophy that "failures are best teachers."

It is interesting to know that the Russians are at this time educating thousands of the Indonesians in Russia and her satellites. With this in mind, it becomes clear that the Communists do not need to defeat the French in Indochina by military aggression this year or the next, but by educating the future leaders of that country and by sending them home to assume positions of leadership, they can eventually wear France and her Allies down. The number of young people from Indochina being educated in this country are less than one hundred; so you can readily see how badly outnumbered we will be over the long run.

A program such as this would also have the advantage of very effectively destroying the Communist line of propaganda for a person that had spent a year or two in this country studying and had come to know Americans and their ways, could, when he returned home, better than anyone else, refute the idea that we were a warlike country bent on aggression or that everyone in this country except a very few were economic slaves. The cost of this program would be a mere fraction of what we are now spending around the world to combat Communism.

The Supreme Court refused to permit Alabama and Rhode Island to file their suits challenging the States' rights to the tidelands. This apparently rings down the final curtain on the dispute over the tidelands.

Nine Lives Lost In February In Traffic Accidents; Losses Are Heavy

Capt. K. B. Hallmark, Jr., has announced that 65 accidents in the month of February cost the people of his North Texas District nine lives, $39,000 in property damage, in addition to sending 25 people to hospitals for injuries in those accidents.

In this district of the Texas Highway Patrol, where there were only six fatal accidents, but they resulted in the death of nine people, with Wichita County leading the district with one fatal accident in which there were three deaths.

Wilbarger County followed a close second with two people dead in one fatal accident and two people injured in the same accident.

Wichita County was also high in property damage with a total of $9,290, followed closely by Wilbarger County with $8,475. The Wichita district showed a large improvement last month over January in both property damage and personal injury accidents, in that only 25 people were injured in February, compared to 45 in January. There were only 66 total accidents, compared with 100 in January, but the ground was lost in fatal accidents and seven people were killed. The district spent almost $30,000 less on property damage during February, and also spent $40,000 less in February of 1954 than in the same month last year.

Again speeding violations led the district as the number one traffic violation, according to Hallmark, who said his 17 patrolmen arrested 251 and warned 582 for the speeding offense. Improper passing was second with 25 people arrested and 65 warned for this violation. He points out that the three leading violations on a state-wide basis are speeding, drinking drivers, and wrong side of the road, or passing violations.

The 17 patrolmen contacted a total of 2,209 violators, of which only 465 were arrested, and 1,744 were warned. Of the warnings 532 were for violation of the inspection law.

Captain Hallmark warns that of the total of 95,363 vehicles registered in his district, only 40,277 have been inspected, leaving about 58 per cent to be inspected between now and April 15. He urges all who have not had their cars and trucks inspected to do so now to avoid the last minute rush and avoid being penalized. His men will arrest violators after the April 15th deadline, and violators can be fined from $100 to $200 for that offense.

In contacting 2,209 violators in February the 12 patrol cars were driven over 60,000 miles, and patrolmen encountered many different tasks in attempting to serve the people of North Texas.

For example: One patrolman came to his sergeant with the problem of what to do, as he had arrested a midget driving a regular sized car while intoxicated. The patrolman wanted to know if he should charge the midget with being "half drunk," as he was only half size.

Although his men are working many hours, both day and night, in attempting to assist the traveling public and make the highways safe for you and your families, Hallmark says that accidents are on the increase in 1954. He points out that his district has had almost as many people killed in traffic accidents during the first two months of 1954 as were killed in six months last year. Sixteen people have been killed in the Wichita Falls district in the first two months of this year, while only 18 people were killed in the first six months of 1953.

In February, 1953, there were three property damage accidents in Knox County with a loss of 1,110, and no fatal injury. In February, 1954, there were three people injured, and two property damage accidents with a loss of $1,660.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pettus and Mrs. Mollie Barton of Wichita Falls spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weeks. They were enroute to Winters to visit their son, Leonel Pettus and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cude have returned from a vacation trip to San Antonio, where they visited their son, Charles Cude, and Mrs. Cude's sister, Mrs. Irene King.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Works Out Plan To Keep Texas The Biggest State And Let Alaska In The Union

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has entered the field of statecraft, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I have been readin lately about the plans Congress has for bringing Hawaii and Alaska into the Union as states, and naturally this has caused considerable confusion, not only among the flag makers but people generally.

I don't know about Hawaii, but there is one thing about Alaska which Texans naturally gag on, and that is, Alaska is bigger than Texas and allowin her to come in would play thunder with certain inalienable rights of this state.

In the first place, we're already livin in a world of doubt and suspicion, where people don't know what they can believe about other people and other nations, and where would it leave the youth of this land if, after years of painstaking effort to teach them that Texas is the largest state in the Union, they suddenly found it wasn't true? A man who couldn't believe Texas is the largest state in the

United States would be shorn of one of the fundamental truths of life.

On the other hand, the people of Alaska, made up of Americans anyway, have a right to send Congressmen to Washington to be shot at the same time as any other state, and there's considerable argument in favor of bringin em in. The more Congressmen there are, the better odds each one has of being missed.

But Washington seems to be bogged down with the problem, and consequently I have been giving the matter some serious thought and I believe I have the solution.

Let's let Alaska come on in, but under certain stipulations.

For example, figure her ice and snow at only 10 per cent of regular land, which will keep Texas in the clear as the biggest state.

If that don't work, let her in only half at a time, with one state called North Alaska, the other South Alaska. That's make it easier to balance the stars in the new flag.

If that don't work, get a Constitutional amendment declaring Texas is the largest state, regardless of how much more land is taken into the Union, or let Alaska come in as extra tidelands for those states that have none.

We simply cannot allow the confusion which would result in the minds of people all over the world if the text books had to be re-written saying Texas is the second largest state in the Union.

Second largest? The very words chill the blood of a Texan. It's like sayin the United States is the second best nation in the world.

Congress had better adopt my plan immediately. There are some truths a man should be able to put his hands on and hold to forever.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Moore and daughters, Mrs. Frank Meers and Miss Mary Taylor were Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. Lee Faulkner in Bellevue.

It is slightly more than twenty years since Dr. Lewis first went to China and in that time has lived and worked in several different cities. His first assignment was in Shunteh in North China where he was in charge of the Presbyterian mission hospital, and conducted clinics in neighboring villages. To medical work he added Bible classes for boys and in the Normal School and an active part in church activities.

After Pearl Harbor, Dr. Lewis spent a number of months in a concentration camp, and was then repatriated in 1943. He returned to Peking in 1946 and divided his time between Peking and the Paoting hospitals. After a brief period in Shanghai and Hongkong at the time the Communists were establishing themselves in Peking, Dr. Lewis returned to the north, and continued his work there until he returned to the United States in the fall of 1952.

Dr. Lewis is from California, and is a graduate of Occidental College. He holds a master's degree from the University of California.
