

Kracker Krumb's Odds Bits Salvaged at Random

An anonymous friend sent us a clipping recently. At least there was no identification to the letter in which the clipping came, but the friend isn't anonymous. If we were given three guesses we'd guess the same person each time.

The clipping was headed "The town's best friend," and it kinda bouyed us up in one of our low moments. Here it is:

"The home-town paper is about the best friend any town ever has. Year in and year out its columns report the achievements, the good times, the gains and the tragedies of the home folks. Each issue does something to cement individuals into a community. The paper drums up trade for the merchants, rejoices when the school teams win, and helps get the crowd out for each neighborhood event. When the advertising columns are well filled and the subscription list grows long, the editor can know that his endeavors are appreciated."

Worldwide tribute was given Tuesday to the memory of a man who did much for the advancement of newspapers over the world.

Tuesday marked the 100th anniversary of the birth of Ottmar Mergenthaler, inventor of the linotype, and elaborate plans are under way in Germany and the United States for celebration throughout the year of this man's achievement.

Baltimore, Md., where Mergenthaler worked at the height of his success in his adopted country, has prepared tribute in its new Mergenthaler Vocational Technical High School building, where 40 vocational courses, including those in graphic arts, will be offered.

In Germany, the famous type-founders, D. Stempel, AG, is honoring him with the creation of a new type face to be named Mergenthaler Antiqua. Its release is scheduled this month.

Mergenthaler's first customer was Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, who is credited with naming the new machine "Linotype."

The first newspaper page to be set partially by linotype appeared in the New York Tribune on July 3, 1886.

"The anniversary is important," we read in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, "because were it not for the linotype, the modern newspaper could not distribute rapidly the vast amount of news that daily pours out to the reader."

Important as this machine is, improvements over the first one demonstrated by Ottmar Mergenthaler have not made them to sell at a dime a dozen by any means. Linotype machine today with all the gadgets needed even for small weekly newspaper work will set the poor editor back to around $8,000.

That's why our old Model 8 keeps on belching out type when salesmen for typesetting machines think it should be retired.

The weather during the past two weeks has been most uncooperative. One day we can come out with our sport shirt and straw hat—next day we dig up our long sleeves, jacket and winter headgear again.

We hadn't stuck our head out Monday until we started ambling off to work in our summer garb. After walking a half block, we did a quick about face and changed to heavier clothing.

Quite a contrast to last Saturday, when we were given a demonstration ride in a new air-conditioned auto—and the refrigerated air felt plumb good.

While walking through his house Tuesday night without the lights turned on, our boss tripped over a rug, fell and twisted his ankle. While he is convalescing in the Knox County Hospital, we employees managed to finish getting out this edition of the Times. Frankly, it's much easier with the boss here.

Twenty-six Tired Seniors, Sponsors Return Monday From Senior Trip

Members of the 1954 senior class, 16 boys and 10 girls, accompanied by Mrs. Grady Phillips, Mrs. Virgil Yost, the room sponsors; E. L. Goolsby and J. H. Bardwell, class sponsor, arose early Friday morning and left at 4 o'clock on their senior trip. Their first stop was San Antonio, where they visited Brackenridge zoo and Witte Museum just after noon. They reached Corpus Christi at 7 p. m., spending the night at Plaza Courts on the waterfront.

Next day they took a boatride 12 miles into the ocean, and many of them went speed boat riding later. Among the places visited were Padre Island, a supervised tour to the U. S. Naval flying field. Beach bathing was the favorite sport during the stay in Corpus.

Leaving at 10 a. m. Sunday, they started the return trip to San Antonio and home. Stopping at Beeville for lunch, they visited Mr. Green, former Munday Mogul coach, before resuming their trip, arriving at San Antonio at 3 p. m.

They soon began sight-seeing again, visiting the famous Buckhorn curio shop and the Alamo. Sunday night, the group went to the Aztec Theatre, then to the amusement park.

Before leaving San Antonio on Monday morning, they indulged in more sight-seeing and shopping. The return trip was by Kerrville.

Back home at 10:30 p. m., the tired seniors departed for their respective homes, all declaring it was a wonderful trip.

Farmers Urged To Plant Excess Acreage In Guar

District Supervisors of the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District are urging every farmer in the area to plant their excess acres to Guar.

Guar is a drought-resistant, soil improving top-rooted summer legume. It is adapted to a wide range of soils, from your tight land to deep sands, but does better on the medium textured sandy soils.

Best results have been found when guar was planted from May 15 to July 1, when a warm seed bed and a warm growing season can be assured.

It is definitely a row crop and it should be planted with regular maize planting equipment. It should be planted in 40 inch rows and cultivated just as you would maize. The recommended rate of seeding is from 4 1/2 per acre and for best results a special guar inoculant is recommended. In this area yields from 300-600 lbs. per acre have been realized on dry land.

There will be a market for the seed. For further information see the local Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Melton of Peaster were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Booe, Sr., over the week end.

It's really "too wet to plow" now.

Rain clouds have opened up with a generous portion of moisture for a great area of Texas, and old Knox County seemed to be right in the middle of the favored spot.

By midnight Monday, the old frogs were appearing on the pavement, apparently seeking higher ground!

Munday had nearly 30 hours of continuous rainfall of varying degrees during Monday and Tuesday. The welcomed moisture started at about 8:30 Monday morning and when the official rain gauge was read, Harvey Hill, who keeps the records, reported .54 of an inch.

But it wasn't over! Rain continued during most of the night and until about noon Tuesday. Again Mr. Hill took the readings and emptied his rain gauge. This time he recorded 2.82 inches making a total for the two days 3.36 inches.

At several points in the town's streets water stood curb deep and over, but it didn't take but a few hours for that drainage ditch to take care of this situation.

The rain adds brighter prospects to the already bright one, giving farmers and ranchmen enough moisture so they can make plans with hopes for a future harvest.

Someone remarked Tuesday: "It's kinda like old times. Years ago, we could always look forward to a wet May."

Bumpas Named Officer State Organization

M. A. Bumpas, Jr., county tax assessor and collector, was named second vice president of the Texas Tax Assessors and Collectors Association at the final session in Houston last week. Other officers are: H. B. Bryan of Lubbock, president; Fred Force of Orange, second vice president, and Roy Law of Cameron, secretary and treasurer.

The Association, meeting in the Rice Hotel, urged that the state legislature should be given power to set state officials' salaries, and supported a constitutional amendment proposal that elected county and state officials be given four-year terms.

The ad valorem tax laws should be rewritten and simplified, as should other laws affecting county tax officials, the association voted in a third resolution.

STATESMANSHIP ON THE PRODUCTION LINE

A visitor to England tells of an interesting experience while looking through the Jaguar Automobile plant in Coventry. When the noon whistle blew a great majority of the workers continued to finish some operation they were on rather than lay down their tools on the instant. In fact several minutes after the whistle quite a number here and there were still putting on finishing touches. Inquiry disclosed that the men were working on a pay schedule plus production bonus. An air of interest and efficiency was apparent.

In our country the production workers of a major Toledo, Ohio automobile manufacturer and their AWU-CIO union deserve commendation on the announcement that they have voted themselves a pay cut in order to bring their company's labor costs into a better competitive position with other automobile manufacturers. It is stated that the almost-unanimous vote may cost the workers as much as 10% of their present pay, part of which they may recover later if a new bonus pay plan can be worked out.

What was observed in England could well result at this plant. It's a healthy sign when labor takes this kind of an interest in management and it is hoped that in this case and others like it that all concerned will win.

WATCH LOCAL SPENDERS

When we think of taxes and government spending, the emphasis is on the federal establishment. Washington collects most of the tax money and is the center of most fiscal arguments.

But do not overlook the growing problem of state government. In 1942, according to Thurman Sensing of the Southern States Industrial Council, total state taxes were less than $4,000,000,000. Last year they passed $10,500,000,000. It is estimated that in 1954 increases in state and local budgets will offset any decrease in federal spending.

It will do little good if federal tax cuts allow us to keep a few more dollars—and then tax collectors on the lower echelons of government take them away. Waste must be outlawed and efficiency pressed on every government level.

Where people are concerned, be human, and where you deal with their misery, their economy, their government, be conservative, and don't be afraid to use the word.—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

GASOLINE GREW UP

Is the gasoline you buy today about the same as that of years ago? Is the gas you obtain in Maine the same as that sold in South Carolina? And is the gas you'll put in your car this summer identical with that you'll buy when the cold winds howl next winter?

If you answer yes to any or all of these questions, you are wrong, according to a vivid description of "how gasoline grew up" that appeared recently in a magazine published by one of our leading oil companies.

As far back as 1912, a gasoline shortage was impending, because of the automobile fever that was sweeping the country—more than 2,000 different makes were in production then. The scientists went to work and the result was the thermal cracking process which vastly increased the gasoline yield from a barrel of crude.

About the same time, car drivers were plagued with "pinging" of the engines. Again the laboratories took over. Six years of painstaking research were required before it was learned that a few drops of tetraethyl lead would cure this.

So the progress went, down the years, with the quality of gasoline getting better all the time. And that evolution is still going on.

Finally, refiners generally lower the volatility of their gas in warm weather to prevent vapor lock—and increase it in cold weather for the sake of better starting and warm-up. And gasolines are blended differently in different sections of the country.

All the oil companies are competing to produce still higher qualities of gas, along with other products. You, the consumer, are the gainer.

AN ADMIRAL VIEWS THE MERCHANT MARINE

The Argonaut, of San Francisco, recently published a letter on the merchant marine problem written by Admiral H. E. Yarnell, USN, retired. Here, in part, is what this high authority has to say: "World Wars I and II demonstrated that merchant tonnage was just as necessary for victory as troops, planes, and men-of-war."

"Yet we read in the press of shipyards closing down for lack of work; that the Maritime Academy is to be closed for economy's sake; that the number of merchant seaman has decreased by many thousands in recent months."

"Surely elementary foresight on the part of our government should prevent any further decay of this major arm of our national defense."

BE NOT DECEIVED

—By Ted W. McElroy,

TO BE SAVED YOU MUST ACCEPT CHRIST

"And in none other is there salvation; for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved." (Acts 4:12).

The New Testament teaches you how to accept Christ as follows:

1. You must believe in Christ as the Son of God. "But these are written that you might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life through his name." (John 20:31).

2. You must sincerely repent of your sins. "Except ye repent, ye shall in like manner perish." (Luke 13:3).

"Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins." (Acts 2:38).

3. You must confess Jesus before men. "Every one therefore who shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven." (Matt. 10:32).

"For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Rom. 10:10).

4. You must be baptized. "And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. (Acts 10:48).

This baptism is immersion in water; for fwy mfwyyuyu (This baptism is immersion in water.)

"Or are ye ignorant that all who were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? We were baptized therefore with him through baptism into death; that like Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life." (Rom. 6:3-4).

Note Acts 2:38 above. Baptism of the penitent believer is "unto the remission of sins."

"For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ." (Gal. 3:27.)

A penitent believer in Christ who has been baptized unto the remission of sins has accepted Christ and has the promise of God's Word that he is saved from all past sins.

"And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins calling on his name." (Acts 22:16.)

MUNDAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

BOX 211 — Phone 6151

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

It was more than half a century ago in a frontier town and the funeral of the proprietor of the community's leading gambling establishment was in progress. There being no preacher available, the town's only lawyer delivered the sermon:

"Big Jim here lived in the world of sport—sometimes of hilarity, sometimes worse. He was able, with his money, to brighten the lives of those who knew him. He wasted his money, so the world says. But did it ever occur to you that the men and the women of such class upon whom he wasted it are yet men and women? A little happiness brought into their lives means as much to them as happiness carried into the lives of the straight and good."

"If you can take one ray of sunshine into the night life and thereby create a single hour of happiness, you are a benefactor. "God does not confine His sunbeams to the nourishing of potatoes and corn. His scattering of sunlight is prodigal. He flings the auroral beauties around the cold shoulders of the north. He hangs the quivering picture of the mirage above the palpitating heart of the desert. He scatters the rays like shattered gold upon the bosom of myriad lakes that gem the robe of nature. He spangles the canopy of night with star jewels and silvers the world with the reflected beams from on high. He hangs the gorgeous crimson curtain of the occident across the sleeping room of the sun."

"God makes the coy maid of the morning to step timidly from her boudoir of darkness to climb the steep of the orient, to fling wide the gate of the day and to trip over the landscape, kissing the flowers in her flight. Are these wasted sunbeams?

"I say to you that the man or woman who, by the use of money or power, is able to smooth one wrinkle from the brow of human care or change one sob into song, or to wipe away a tear, and to place in its stead a jewel of joy, is a public benefactor. "And so we say good-bye to Big Jim: he was a friend to man."

PECAN NUT CASEBEARER BEGINS EGG LAYING

Pecan nut casebearers have begun to lay their eggs in the Gulf Coast area, entomologists report. This means the insects soon will be busy in other pecan producing areas. Visible with the unaided eye, the eggs are bluish-white, are deposited on the tips of small pecans and hatch in five to seven days. The young larvae feeds on the buds adjacent to the nuts and then in four or five days returns to the nut cluster, entering the tiny pecan through a small hole at the base of the nut. Correct timing and proper applications are "musts" if adequate kills are to be obtained. To be effective, insecticides must cover the tiny nuts and terminal buds at the time or soon after the eggs hatch. A spray of three pounds of 50 percent DDT in 100 gallons of water is the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's control recommendation. Another treatment calls for two pounds of 15 percent wettable parathion in 100 gallons of water. These applications also control pecan leaf casebearers. County agricultural agents can supply additional information on the control of the insect.

 "The FARMALL House"

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard

Action in the House this week makes possible the United States' participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway Project. The vote approving this measure was 241 to 158 in the House. This brings to an end an effort of some twenty years or more to enact this legislation. The bill that passed the House provides for the creation of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation which can raise money for financing this country's participation in the Project by selling the Treasury Bonds repayable from the Corporation's receipts. The bill also calls for the construction of a twenty-seven foot deep navigation channel with locks and canals which will connect the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean through the St. Lawrence River. Under the bill the United States will expend not more than $105,000,000; however, in my judgment, the eventual cost will be several times this amount. There was a serious question in my mind about whether or not the tremendous expenditure involved in this Project would be justified in the way the Seaway would be built; therefore, I voted against the measure.

Washington is well known as a very popular city as far as conventions are concerned. During the spring and summer months literally hundreds of organizations have their conventions here. The largest on that will be held this year at the National Convention of the American Legion which will be here in Washington August 30th through September 2nd. We are told that over 150,000 people will be here during that time in attendance at this National meeting of the Legion. All of us here in Congress have been asked by the officials of the District of Columbia and the heads of the American Legion to notify all the Legionnaires

SPORTS CONVERTIBLE

This button-front sleeveless cotton is designed by White Stag for the active sports-woman. Buttoned, it's a slim skirted dress, but when it's unbuttoned at bottom the cotton becomes a full-skirted dress ideal for the golfer and other sports enthusiasts.

In our respective Districts who might be planning to attend this convention to make their reservations now in order that they may be properly taken care.

The possibility of an early adjournment of Congress seems daily to become more remote. Where we had originally hoped to be able to adjourn sometime around the 1st of July, it now looks like the earliest possible date of adjournment will be sometime late in August.

Also, this week, the House approved a compromise supplemental appropriation bill which includes $15,000,000 for so-called drought prevention measures. It will reimburse farmers up to $1.25 an acre for deep breaking their land to prevent wind erosion in the dust bowl area.

Recent visitors from home were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Summers and Miss Oree Claypool of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Emma Gauntt and Miss Jane Gauntt of Iowa Park; Miss Jane Flippin of Electra; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reese of Knox City; and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gillum of Electra.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Increasing numbers of cases of a disease called "infectious hepatitis" are being observed in Texas, state health officials say.

Over 800 cases of the debilitating illness have been reported by private physicians so far this year. That's a substantial increase over the number reported for the same time period last year, says Health Department Epidemiologist Dr. Gordon Grace.

Most medical authorities believe the disease is spread by person to person contact through nose and throat discharges. Dr. Grace pointed out. But he said a number of cases have been traced to contaminated food and water.

Infectious hepatitis literally means "infectious inflammation of the liver." It is a virus infection which occurs sporadically all year long, but which subsides somewhat during the summer months.

Grace said that there are no experimental animals on which tests can be conducted, and the virus cannot be "cultured" or grown in a laboratory. Older people, he said, are apparently immune. Sub-clinical cases—people who have the virus but are not sick—are not uncommon.

The disease is characterized by a flu-like onset, accompanied by a low-grade fever of 99-101 degrees for two or three days. The liver area is tender, and the patient has little appetite.

Later, the skin turns yellow, fever returns, and the liver area is sore and tender. Walking increases pain because the inflamed liver is thus aggravated.

Gamma globulin in the proper dosage gives a temporary immunity, Grace said. The blood fraction is made available through the State Department of Health to private physicians who administer it to family contacts of patients and to institutional cases.

An outbreak in a community usually lasts two or three months, Dr. Grace commented.

He said the best individual and community defense against the weakening condition is scrupulous personal hygiene and good environmental sanitation.

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper... new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

NO TELLING WHAT A GOOD RAIN CAN DO!

FORT WORTH—When the trading got under way at Fort Worth Monday the buyers of slaughter cattle were bidding sharply lower. They had seen that whopping run of over 103,000 cattle and over 9,300 calves—about 22,000 more cattle than the 12 major markets had reported a week ago.

About this time, it began raining hard and then harder. This did not change the lower bids until word began coming in from West Texas, Oklahoma and East Texas that heavy rains were tumbling down in those parts of the territory covered by the Fort Worth livestock market.

By midmorning, the gloomy skies had a silver lining. The buyers were practically stepping on each other's heels trying to "get in" somewhere where they could pay stronger prices. Instead of a lower market, all cattle and calves drew strong prices.

It was one of the quickest recoveries—caused by a rain—that anyone had seen in a long, long time.

Best fed steers and yearlings drew $20 to $24 and fat cows drew $11.50 to $15, with canners and cutters $8 to $11.50. Bulls $10 to $15.

Good fat calves $18 to $22, and stocker calves and yearlings $17 to $21.

BIG SHEEP RUN, YET A STRONG MARKET!

With an estimated 18,000 sheep and lambs on hand at Fort Worth Monday, there were some fears that a break in prices was due. However, trading started off on the opening gong in snappy fashion and it was soon apparent why.

New York sources reported dressed lamb was $1 to $3 per hundred higher than Friday's close. This added to the $3 to $5 that lamb gained last week—made it obvious why lambs were in strong demand.

With packers and order buyers active in the trade, milk fat Spring lambs sold from $22 to $26, when good to choice. There were some wet fleeces to be considered in the trading as some of the later arrivals got soaked by the rains.

However, some of the choice lambs were marked down to $25, instead of the $26 they would have brought if dry—were not penalized much if any. It is safe to say that a lamb in full fleece will hold from 6 to 8 or more pounds of water in his wool. At 25¢ a pound that is not hurting.

Medium and lower grade lambs mostly $12 to $20, and feeders $17 down. Shorn fat lambs of good and choice kinds drew $19 to $21.50, the latter figure paid for some heavies. O. C. Williamson, McCulloch County, had some clipped lambs at 107 pounds at $21.50. Jacob Mohr, McCulloch County, had some shorn lambs at 100 pounds at $21.50, also.

Medium and low grade clipppers sold from $10 to $18. Stockers and feeders sold from $13 to $17. Some two-year-old bucks sold from $12 to $15, and old

J. O. Bowden was a business visitor in Hamlin last Friday. He was accompanied by his grandson, Barry Bowden.

New Style From Paris

At the Paris opening of Hubert de Givenchy, brilliant young French designer, this graceful style was hailed as a "revolutionary shirtwaist dress" because of its new, unexpectedly soft look. The styling emphasizes the suppleness and drapability of the fabric, a soft surah of "Orlon" acrylic fiber and silk. Use of the Du Pont fiber makes the dress washable, according to Givenchy.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Seale, Carole and Charlie, of Dallas spent the week end with Mrs. Seale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Parker.

wethers at $9 to $12. Slaughter ewes $5 to $6. Old buks $4 to $5.

HOG HIGHER, BIG FALL CROP SEEN—

Butcher hogs were steady to 25 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday with top butchers at $26.75 to $27. Less desirable kinds sold from $24 to $26.50. Sows were around 50 cents lower at $23.

Latest release by the USDA says that hog production on Spring pigs appears substantially above the intentions reported some months ago. They expect Fall meetings to be well above the earlier estimates.

Favorable corn-hog ratio is expected to continue, however, and the report says that while the seasonal drop in hog prices this Fall may be bigger than normal—it will be so because the April prices were at a record high.

Edwin Hill's little friends helped him celebrate his 8th birthday with a party on Saturday, May 8, at his home, 811 Grandview in Dallas.

Games and contests were enjoyed, and after Edwin had opened his gifts, pictures were made of the group with the pretty birthday cake. Punch and cake were served to the following: Carol and Robert Zakarian, Elaine Savage, David and Charles Haley, Patsy Condon, Paul Munson, Rickey Casady, Therese Roach, Weldon and Laverne Holloway, Dick Anderson, Barbara Louise and Billy Spawn, Johnnie Ramsey, Meredith Taylor and the honoree.

Sending gifts were his aunt, Mrs. Ralph Weeks of Munday, and his cousin, Virginia Raye Hargrove of Aiken.

Edwin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hill, are former residents of Munday.

Munday Study Club Closes Work With Recent Meetings

"Women of the Bible" were in the spotlight at a recent meeting of the Munday Study Club.

Mrs. J. O. Bowden, director of the program and hostess for the day, introduced Mrs. Huron A. Polnac and Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle, who presented the program. Mrs. Polnac presented "Little known women of the Bible" and Mrs. Ragle "well known women of the Bible."

Hymns were sung by the group, being led by Mrs. J. B. King, with Lynda Gayl King at the piano.

The club closed this year's activities recently with each member answering the roll call with a brief resume of "My Favorite Program of the Year." The consensus of opinion was that a favorite was hard to select because there had been many exceptionally good programs. The entire program for the year was acclaimed outstanding.

Mrs. Dwight Key was congratulated for her splendid work in planning the year's study of famous contemporary women. Mrs. Paul Pruitt conducted the installation ceremony and made an inspiring presentation of the following officers:

Mrs. Tom Bullington, president; first vice president, Mrs. Dwight Key; Mrs. Charles McCauley, second vice president; Mrs. J. B. King, recording secretary; Mrs. A. A. Smith, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Levi Bowden, treasurer; Mrs. Lennie Kuehler, assistant; Mrs. Clyde Taylor, librarian.

Annual reports of officers were given, and Mrs. Bullington announced the committee membership for next year. The goal for the year will be improvement of the club house.

A PERMANENT DISASTER FUND NEEDED

Two knotty problems confronting Texas agriculture rate top priority on the agenda of state affairs.

Some rain has fallen over the state but we are still experiencing a drought "hangover", and we have no comprehensive water conservation program.

The situation is commanding a lot of attention—both on the state and national levels. A great deal of money has been spent on drought relief and more will be used. But so far, all measures have been on a temporary basis.

Any temporary relief measures should be followed by a permanent program set up to offer immediate aid in times of natural disasters. We should not be lulled into a false sense of security just because an obstacle has been overcome on a short-term basis.

The Texas Legislature should provide for a permanent emergency fund to be used for direct disaster relief. This money would be used for agricultural relief on a direct grant or loan basis for those wiped out by natural disasters—and these disasters occur with historic regularity.

Such a fund, provided by the state, would prevent the necessity for asking Washington for aid when the state is in trouble. As far as it is possible, state problems should be solved by the state.

There are many critics to such a plan. They claim too much tax money already is being spent for services to agriculture. However, no state activity is more important than the preservation of our farm economy.

If additional taxes are not in order for an agricultural relief fund, then careful pruning of the present budget and consolidation of some of our state agencies could provide part of the needed money for such a program.

Money spent in this manner would not be a "dole" to farmers. Distributed on a loan basis, it would be returned with interest. When direct grants are made, it would make possible the continuation of a farm activity which puts many millions of dollars into channels of trade each year.

In the long run, the economy of our state would benefit the most.

part-by-part proof...

Plymouth

is your "best buy" in the lowest-price field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.

Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few!

Front Wheel Brakes

Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.

Seat Springs

Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.

Piston Rings

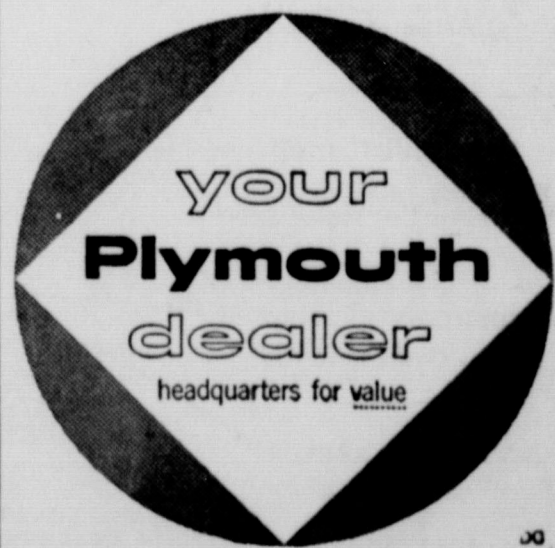

Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output. Increased oil economy, too!

Micronic Oil Filter

Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

Go for a drive in America's "best-buy" low-price car!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out With A Preposterous Solution For Putting End To Water Problem

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is proposing one of the most unworkable plans we've ever heard of, as you'll see from reading his letter this week.

Dear editor:

I have been noticing in nearly every newspaper that turns up out here on my Johnson grass farm where nearly every candidate, regardless of the office, has come out forthrightly for more water for Texas.

One candidate I know bitterly accuses his opponent of havin done nothing about the drouth.

"Here we've had a drouth for five years and he hasn't done a thing about it except talk," the candidate said.

While up to now I didn't know there was anything else you could do about it except talk, in fact, a drouth has always struck me as sort of like a depression, all any politician has ever figured out to do about it is deplore it. I am glad to find out more candidates are incorporating the water situation in their platfoms. It's a healthy sign. It ain't that they can do anything about it, it's just that when a man's miserable he likes to have sympathy, and a politician who hasn't learned to find out what the people are disturbed about and come out against it, hasn't learned the first thing in vote-getting.

I notice some of the politicians are pointing out that the main trouble with the water situation in Texas is that we don't keep enough of the water that falls on the state, most of it runs off into the ocean, and lots of people are proposing we build more dams, and I'm in favor of it, although I'll admit that if there were fifty dams in all directions from my place, each one backing up a thousand acres of water, and still it didn't rain on my farm and I didn't own any of that lake water, I'd be just as dry in a drouth as I ever was. I haven't seen the plant yet that could survive just off whiffs of water blowin in a from a lake five miles away.

If you ask me, I think the politicians are falling to get at the bottom of the problem.

The reason we don't have enough water in Texas is that all the streams in the state run the wrong way.

You picture a situation where when it rains all the water would head out on the land instead of down the creek to the ocean, and you'll begin to see the light.

There's where our trouble is.

If the Texas Legislature will successfully attack this problem from this angle, we may start gettin somewhere, but until the situation is remedied and the earth is tilted so all the streams will start emptying water upstream instead of down, we're gonna have a drouth ever time it goes three months without a rain.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The "Write" Prescription

Noticed three half-finished letters lying on the counter down at Jones' Drug Store last week. "Writing three at once, Doc?" I asked.

"No," Doc said, "you are—and you and the rest of the town. Those are for the boys from our town who are at the National Guard encampment."

"Everyone who comes in adds a line or two, and when a couple of pages are filled, I mail them. That way the boys hear from folks who might not write otherwise. They sure do enjoy it."

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX COUNTY:

As most of you know, I "lucked" out over the deadline in the race for district clerk with no opponent on the ticket. I'm very much obliged for that.

Several friends have told me that to make a house-to-house canvass would be even silly. But I want to see just as many of you as possible, anyway, and would appreciate every vote in the county. I'll try to make a hand if I get the job.

Respectfully,
A. E. (Buck) PROPPS. 1tc
